"The board assumes as the basis of this decision," award says, "continuance in full effect and force of the rules, working conducts and agreements in force under the authority of the U. S. Railroad Administration. The intent of this decision is that named increases, except as otherwise stated, shall be added to rates of compensation established by administration." Increase is approximately sixty per cent. of a billion dollar increase sought by railroad workers.

$251,000,000 INCREASE FOR CANADIAN RAILWAY MEN

(Special to The Examiner)

OTTAWA, July 20. — The wage award of the U.S. Railway Labor Board applied to Canada will boost the wages paid by all Canadian railways $251,000,000 as compared with $109,000,000 in 1916 increase of 130 per cent. The cost of supplies has also increased at a rapid rate so that the railways of Canada this year face an expenditure of $417,000,000 for wages and supplies as compared with $176,000,000 in 1916 . In 1914 the average wage of the railway employees of Canada was $700. In 1919 on the national system of railways it was $1,477. This will be still further increased by applying the new award.

Aggravates Rate Question.

The question of increased rates to meet the new conditions will now become a live one. It is realized, of course, that the C.P.R. will have less difficulty in paying the higher wages than the Government-owned roads and on this principal the Canadian Pacific was to have paid as a tax to the Government some $7,000,000 of the additional receipts which accrued to it by reason of the 1918 raise in rates. It is understood ,however, that this sum has been all eaten up by betterments which the C. P. R. required to make following the period of non-replacement during the war.

BROTHERHOOD COUNCIL IN SESSION TO-DAY

CHICAGO, July 20. — The first grand council for more than a year, of executives, general chairmen and general committeemen of the 16 railroad brotherhoods opened in Chicago yesterday to pass upon the wage award of the Railway Labor Board. The Board's decision it has been announced, will be made public to-morrow.

Although the Board has no legal jurisdiction over Canada its decision will in fact be operative in the Dominion as the Canadian Pacific is reported to have undertaken to incorporate the findings of the United States Board in an agreement with the Canadian brotherhood. Vice-President Hay of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks of Winnipeg, is among those attending to-day's meeting.

Approximately 1,000 union officials are expected to be present when the council takes final action on the award and more than half that number already have reached Chicago. Preliminary meetings were held yesterday by early arrivals but no statements were given out as to what work had been done.

May Be Referendum.

According to union rules all questions of a wage increase must be submitted to a referendum vote of the entire membership of the unions, but it was pointed out that the call for the grand council stated the purpose of the gathering to be "to consider and pass finally upon the award made by the Board." Under these circumstances it was not known whether the Board's award would be submitted to a referendum or whether final action would be taken by the union chiefs in session here.

UPSET FROM CANOE AND DROWNED NEAR T.A.S. PARK

ARCHIE TEFEND OF DETROIT WAS ON HOLIDAY HERE AT HOME OFMR. JOHN MALANE—SANK BEFORE TWO COMPANIONS REACHED HIM.

SECOND VICTIM THIS YEAR

The Otonabee claimed its second victim of this season yesterday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock, when Archie Tefend, of Detroit, was upset out of the canoe he was paddling across the river from the T.A.S. Park and sank before help could reach him.

Was Visiting Here.

The unfortunate victim was 21 years of age and a draughtsman with the Ford Motor Co., Detroit. He was visiting with his friend, Charles Downey, also of Detroit, at Mrs. John Malane's, 448 Roger street. Mrs. Malane is an aunt of Charles Downey. The boys were on their vacation, having taken the boat trip by the Great Lakes and Thousand Islands last Friday, coming to Peterboro to visit Fred Malane, who knew Tefend. Downey has visited in the city previously, but this was Tefend's first trip to Peterboro.

Could Swim Fairly Well.

Tefend told the Malanes that he had handled a canoe a little although he knew more about a row boat, and that he could swim fairly well. The boys had not been down the river before in a canoe, but on Saturday they took the steamer to Gore's Landing.

Yesterday afternoon, about one o'clock Ray Malane, the second son, a young man of 17 or 18, and his two American friends, left home to paddle down the river in Malane's canoe.

Went Paddling Alone.

They stopped at the T.A.S. Park where they left the boat. Malane and Downey then went in swimming but Tefend was disinclined, and jumped in the canoe and said he would go for a paddle. The boys saw him paddling across to the other side, just across from the club house, and as they were busy undressing did not pay any further attention to him until they heard a sound like a paddle slapping the water. When they looked up they saw Tefend struggling in the weed bed on the east side of the river and hanging on to a paddle.

Tried to Save Him.

Ray Malane jumped in at once and started to swim across. Tefend was striking out towards Malane and had covered about 30 feet of the distance between them. Malane then yelled at Tefend to swim in the other direction and the latter turned around. Malane at this time was swimming fast, doing the crawl stroke, but on looking for his friend found that he had disappeared beneath the water.

A Launch Handy.

A launch was tied up at the wharf, but could not be got to the scene of the drowning in time to rescue the young man. Another launch coming down the river was also unable to reach Tefend.

Dragging the River.

A crowd soon collected, drag hooks were secured from Rye's boathouse, and dragging the river for the body began without delay, men from a dredge at work near by lending assistance. The river here is very weedy and dragging is difficult. Search for the body continued until midnight, without avail, and is continuing to-day.

Believed Heart Weak.

It is believed by John Downey that Tefend's heart weakened, for he had heard him say he hadn't a strong heart.

His Mother Dead.

Tefend was a member of the Knights of Columbus. His mother is dead and he is survived by his father and two brothers in Detroit. His father and he lived with his brother, Ben. Tefend, 207 Avalon avenue, Highland Park, Michigan. They were notified last night, but up till noon today no word had been received from them.

Body Found.

The body of Archie Tefend of Detroit, was recovered at 1.45 o'clock to-day by the searching party across the river from the T.A.S. Park practically at the spot where he was last seen.

No word has yet been received from his father or from his brother. Coroner Dr. Greer could not be secured by the police and Dr. McPherson went out to examine the body.

FARM HAND PROVES TITLE TO FORTUNE

Million Dollar Estate in Scotland Left to Him.

BOYLSTON, Mass., July 20.—David Nicoll Cant, a farm hand employed for nine years by F. C. Stark, has been identified by a Boston law firm, as one of the heirs to a $1,000,000 estate in Dundee, Scotland, for whom search has been made for years, and Mr. Cant will leave Boylston within a month to claim his inheritance.

Cant, who has had no communication with his relatives in Scotland for nearly fifteen years, was found through a newspaper advertisement, just as the courts in Scotland were about to declare him legally dead.

He left Dundee twenty years ago and has worked since as a farm hand at an average wage of $22 a month. He had no trouble in proving his identity as the youngest son of James Scott Cant, who left an estate estimated at $1,000,000 to $2,000,000.

DOWNEY'S DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL

SUCH IS VERDICT OF CORONER'S JURY AT INQUEST IN LINDSAY TO-DAY.

The inquest into the death of Charles Downey of Downeyville, who was killed at Omemee on Thursday on a railway crossing, was resumed in Lindsay to-day under Coroner Dr. F. Blanchard. Twelve witnesses were examined ,and the verdict of the jury was that death was accidental, the G. T.R. being exonerated from all blame.

TWO BY-LAWS BEFORE LAKEFIELD VOTERS

At the regular monthly meeting of the Lakefield Town Council held on Monday evening, upon the request of Mr. J. A. Porter, President of the Board of Trade, that a fixed assessment be given to the Canadian Cement Company for $52,000 for ten years, it was decided to submit a by-law fixing the assessment of the company at the present figure for a term of ten years and to grant them the right of way for a track across Concession street to join their properties.

Lumber Mill.

Another by-law will fix the assessment on the Duignan mill property at $3,000 for five years and grant the company the right to run across Concession street north of Queen street to enable them to switch on their property, also to authorize the corporation to repair the pier in the bay.

"OUTLAWS" TO VOTE ON NEW WAGE DECISION

(Canadian Press.)

CHICAGO, July 20. — The new railroad unions which called the series of strikes this afternoon after their members had broken away from recognized brotherhoods, will submit the board's decision to a referendum vote of their membership, John Grunau, President of Chicago Yardmen's Association, announced to-day.

Turk May Not Sign

GRAND VIZIER DETERMINED TO ACCEPT PEACE BUT TURKISH CABINET MAY RESIGN.

WAR WILL SUPERVENE

(Canadian Press)

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 20. — Skeik-ul-Islam in the Turkish Cabinet has resigned his office because of his unwillingness to approve the signing of the Peace Treaty. Other cabinet resignations are expected and for some reason. The Grand Vizier, however is determined to sign at any cost it seems.

TRAFFIC DISRUPTED

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 20.—Railway traffic has been interrupted by fighting betwen Greeks and Turks In the region of Adrianople the Oriental express on it way to Paris was held up here while an express train on the same service on its way from Paris and due here to-night has been held up east of Adrianople. The mail train which started for Adrianople this morning was stopped at Cherkeskoi about sixty miles northwest of Constantinople.

URGES BOYCOTT

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 19.—A circular has been posted on the dead walls of Stamboul urging a boycott against the powers forcing the Treaty upon Turkey. It exhorts all Mussulmans to arm themselves with pistols, clubs and hatchets and drive out "the weak leaders who yield to the demands of foreigner who are seeking to diminish Moslem power."

SAY TURKS TO REFUSE

LONDON, July 19.—Telegraphing from Constantinople to the Daily Telegraph, Percival Landon says it now seems inevitable that the Turks will refuse to sign the Peace Terms.

"This may be done," he adds, "either by a direct refusal or by resignation of Ministry, and even abdication of the Sultan. In either case a state of war will immediately supervene and situation will be one of some difficulty, as the military authority will be at once substituted for the existing high commission regime, and —what is more serious—the whole apparatus of negotiation will be suspended. In a moment every German subject would become an enemy with the means of offence which have not been paralleled during the great war.

READY TO MOVE ARMY

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 19.—The British and Greeks are preparing to clear the Scutari peninsula of all Nationalists and establish a line from Ismid to Chilen on the Black Sea which will control the bandit raids against Bosphorus towns and check communications between Angora and Constantinople through the Scutari peninsula mountains.

General Ironsides of the British force probably will command the troops. His headquarters will be Ismid. Two British divisions already are available. These will be increased to an army corps. Two Greek regiments will be used.

Turkish Nationalists continue to raid Greek villages on the south shore of the Gulf of Ismid. The Greek patriarch reports that Eudadjik, a Greek village with a population of 2,000 near Karamorsal, was virtually wiped out July 15. The Greeks were shut inside the church which was set on fire. The patriarch reports that there are only 150 Greeks alive in the village.

The Entente is preparing for a campaign for the extermination of bandits. They will issue a warning that all villages which shelter or assist the Nationalist will be shelled or burned. British torpedo boat destroyers have shelled and ruined Riva, a Nationalis tstronghold on the Black Sea near the entrance to the Bosphorus, and are carrying out spasmodic bombardments elsewhere against the Nationalists on the Scutari peninsula who are shortly to be attacked by land forces from the East.

Failure by the French troops to display the Greek flag at a review on July 14 and failure by the French to salute the flag when passing the Greek Consulate resulted in a protest by the Greeks. The French General Nayral de Bourgon, in reply apologized for the oversight.

BIG EXPLOSION IN MUNITIONS DUMP

German Villagers Flee Fearing Ignition of Gas Shells.

LONDON, July 19.—A big explosion has occurred in the Sarre region of Germany, caused by aerial bombs, according to a wireless despatch from Berlin. The inhabitants of the vicinity are reported to be fleeeing, as th explosion of gas shells is anticipated.

The wireless despatch says:

"As the result of the spontaneous ignition of some rockets, which caused an explosion of a dozen aerial bombs, a tremendous explosion has occurred in a munitions dump in a former German military park in the Sarre region

"The inhabitants of the neighboring villages are fleeing, as the explosion of a large number of gas shells is expected. Two hundred railway carriages are being held in readiness in order to evacuate the threatened districts."

ARABS SURROUND BRITISH GARRISON

TROOPS ORDERED FROM INDIA TO PUT DOWN REVOLT.

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, July 20.—Large reinforcements for the British troops have been ordered from India to Mesopotamia to cope with an Arab revolt there, it was announced in the House of Commons today, by Winston Churchill, Secretary of War. Mr. Churchill said there was no reason for anxiety regarding the position. The British garrison at Romeika was holding out, he added, and was being supplied by air.

MINIMUM FINE OF $100 RAISED NOW TO $200

WILL COST MORE FOR BREACH OF INLAND REVENUE ACT.

No longer will offenders under the Inland Revenue Act be allowed to get away with a minimum fine of $100. Mr. W. H. Buller, local collector of Inland Revenue, has reecived word from the department at Ottawa that the minimum fine has been raised to $200 dating from the first of July.

On Thursday last a still was seized at Bobcaygeon and the proprietor of the moonshine establishment escaped with a fine of $100 and costs each. The magistrate was then unaware of the amendment to the Act, as was Mr. Buller and so the two men charged may well thank their lucky stars for escaping a fine which would have cost them eac hone hundred more if the change had been known at the time.

THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT GIVES WARNING THAT TRADE PARLEY WILL BE ENDED IF ADVANCE INTO POLAND CONTINUES.

SOVIETS SARCASTIC

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, July 20.—The British Government's reply to the note of the Soviet Minister Tchitcherin, regarding an armistice with Poland will be despatched to-night. It intimates that if the Russians advance further into Poland all negotiations for trade between Great Britain and Russia will be broken.

MILLERAND GRATIFIED

(Canadian Press)

PARIS, July 20—Referring to Premier Lloyd George's ultimatum to Soviet Russia that if the armistice proposal were not accepted Great Britain and her Allies would defend Poland with all their forces and in every way, Premier Millerand told Chamber of Deputies to-day, "France will keep her word, as I am sure Great Britain will be faithful to hers"

The Premier reminded the deputies that General Wrangel the anti-Bolshevik commander in South Russia, had achieved striking successes against the Bolsheviki and had installed a Government that recognized the obligation of the preceding Russian Government and had won the sympathy of population by agrarian reform.

LONDON, July 20.—The reply of the Russian Soviet Government to the British note concerning an armistice with Poland rejects in substance the British peace proposals, according to The London Times, which to-day publishes a summary of the Soviet answer.

British Not Impartial.

The Bolheviki decline to come to London for the suggested Peace Conference, according to The Times, because they say Great Britain is not impartial. They also object to the admission to the conference of delegates from the Baltic States, saying Russia already has made peace with them.

As to Poland ,the Bolshevik Government points out that the proposed armistice line is unfair to Poland, and that with direct negotiations the Bolsheviki are prepared to grant Poland a much more favorable frontier.

Demand Wrangel's Surrender.

The Bolshevik reply refuses flatly to entertain any conditions regarding the forces of General Wrangel and the refugees in South Russia, and demands the unconditional surrender of these.

The tone of the reply is sarcastic, says The Times, which declares it is aimed at driving a wedge between Poland and the allies by stimulating Polish dissatisfaction with the British proposal.

The Times adds that it believes the reply will make it more difficult for Great Britain to enter into trade relations with Russia.

STORY OF BOMBS IN CORK IS OFFICIALLY DENIED

DUBLIN, July 19.—Official denial was made to-night of a report that two motor lorries loaded with soldiers had been bombed in the streets of Cork and that a number of soldiers had beeen injured.

YESTERDAY'S ACCIDENT.

Yesterday's drowning accident in the Otonabee, the second fatality of the season, is another tragic warning that the canoe is a craft that requires careful handling. The victim, a young man from Detroit, was doubtless not an expert paddler and his knowledge of the crankiness of a canoe was perhaps elementary. As has been pointed out in these columns on other occasions, the boat which takes its name from this city is safe enough in the hands of those who recognize that there are certain limits beyond which it is not safe to go, and who know that it is dangerous to change places in a canoe or to attempt to stand up in the craft, or to paddle in the stern with the bow swinging clear of the water. These facts are full of peril and should be avoided by every canoeist. The trouble with the canoe is that handling it looks easy and there are many newcomers to Peterboro who are eager to try their skill; an experienced that is not always safe.

Leading By Mile

SNAMROCK RACING AGAINST TIME TO FINISH WITHIN LIMIT —RESOLUTE FAR ASTERN.

WINDS FAVOURABLE

ABOARD THE U.S. DESTROYER GOLDSBOROUGH, July 20. — (Via Wireless to the United Press). —Hauled along by a little fore-stay sail, Shamrock IV., challenger for the America's Cup, to-day established a lead of several hundred yards early in the second race of her series with the Resolute.

This triangular sail was set on a main stay leading from the end of the bowsprit to a block about two-thirds of the distance from the cross-trees. It was full all of the time and proved a wonderful reaching sail, especially with a number one jib top sail out ahead.

Might Not Finish in Time.

The Shamrock was thirty-eight seconds ahead in crossing the starting line but due to difficulty with her sails, was passed by the American boat. The Resolute hit a soft spot and the challenger fooled out ahead, establishing a good lead as she headed for the first mark. When the Shamrock rounded the first turn she was 600 yards ahead of the Resolute. The breeze from the west seemed to be picking up when the yachts finished the first ten miles of the thirty-mile course. However, unless it increased greatly, there were grave doubts that the race would be completed within the six-hour limit.

Three Minutes Ahead.

The Resolute turned the first mark at 2.32.41. Shamrock's lead at the first mark in elapsed time was three minutes and thirty-five seconds. If she can keep gaining in proportion on the other two legs, she will overcome her handicap and win. The elapsed time to the first mark was: Shamrock 2.12.40, Resolute, 2.16.15.

The wind breezed up more to the northwest as the yachts turned. Resolute substituted a number two jib top sail for her ballooner. Shamrock clung to number one until a mile away when she shifted to a smaller sail. Both were able to almost lay the course to the second mark. Shamrock was leading at 2.40 p.m. and had set a baby jib top sail.

Shamrock a Milo in Lead.

Shamrock had covered half the distance at 3.15, when half of the time limit had expired and had increased her lead to a full mile. Shamrock was nosing along while Resolute was rolling about.

Shamrock kept her lead and at 3.30 was a mile and a quarter ahead and nearing the second mark. The race became one against time for the Shamrock, with two hours and forty-five minutes in which to finish the race. Astern, the Resolute was just moving.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NOTHING TO GAIN BY MARTIAL LAW IN IRELAND

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, July 20.— Bonar Law, leader of the Government in the House, stated last night that the government was getting the Irish question better in hand . He said that nothing would be gained by the introduction of martial law, but the government was considering what additional powers could usefully be secured by new legislation. By this statement it is presumed he meant abolition of trial by jury.

Dated, Peterboro, July 6, 1920.
S. R. ARMSTRONG,
td6 13 20-17-1426 City Clerk.

ANTICIPATION.

(Richard Scrace.)

I've put blue curtains at her bed,
Her own brass bowl is full of ferns;
Out on the hearth a small fire burns;
A linen cloth with hemstitch wrought,
Down in the marketplace I bought
A white geranium all in flower
In one sweet tantalizing hour
I'll send her smile, and touch her cheek,
She'll hold me in close, but will not speak
I've put blue curtains at her bed.

TALE OF A MIGHTY WARSHIP.

And the Wreck of Her Armor Plated Turret and Twelve Inch Gun.

Captain Haddock, who succeeded Captain Smith of the Titanic as commodore of the White Star line, was made commander of Great Britain's dummy fleet. The dummy fleet was an auxiliary that had an important duty in the North sea in the early days of the great world war.

The fleet consisted of converted merchantmen. In most cases the conversion was superficial. The vessels included liners, tramps and fast channel steamers. Papier mache made an important substitution for armor plate and armament which helped the deception. Guns of all kinds were mounted, the big ones, however, being more awe inspiring at a distance than effective as weapons.

With this armament the dummy fleet kept up a steady patrol and at a distance deceived many a German observer into reporting the presence of warships.

Admiral Haddock's flagship looked an imposing vessel in her "low visibility gray," with twelve inch guns fore and aft. Naval discipline in the dummy fleet was an innovation that had not worked into the souls of the erstwhile merchant mariners; otherwise this story might have had a sadder sequel in a court martial.

One of the tars was having his "time off." The air was good, the sea was calm, and he sought to beguile the hours with a comfortable smoke on the promenade deck (she was a converted liner). He sat on the stern rail dangling his legs. His teeth lost the grip on his pipe. The pipe fell. The tar made a wild grasp into space. He, too, fell and crashed through the armor plated turret and smashed one of the twelve inch guns.

A Cheerful Mind.

"A merry heart doeth good like a medicine." The correctness of this latter statement is seen in the fact that it is much easier for a person to recover from an attack of illness if he is cheerful and hopeful than when he is either indifferent as to his recovery or despairs of it. This is also altogether aside from the strength of purpose which often helps one to throw off an illness by sheer force of will.

Just as the bodily health is improved by cheerfulness so the mental condition is equally benefited by it.

FARMERS GROWING ANXIOUS FOR SUNSHINE TO RIPEN THE CROPS

TOWNSHIPS NEAR THE CITTY ALL REPORT OATS TO BE EXCELLENT WHEAT IS SATISFACTORY AND CORN IS MAKING RAPID GROWTH.

RAIN DELAYS HAYING

Throughout the district general satisfaction is expressed by the farmers at the favourable outlook for bountiful crops. While some of the crops are not as good as they might be taking them all in all from present indications the agriculturists agree that they are pretty fair and they can't complain that Nature has not smiled generously upon them. The cold spring followed by the long drough nearly finished some of the grains but they have pulled ahead and except the fall and spring wheat are in fine shape.

"The outlook for the crop is pretty slick," said Reeve John McIntosh of North Monaghan to-day." Some of the fall wheat will be cut this week but next week would see the most of the farmer at it. The wheat was just a fair crop," he stated. The oats were a good crop. Corn is coming along nicely as is the alsike and peas. The rain has tied the haying all up he said and some of the farmers are only about half through. The timothy was better than the clover hay he believed for the dry spell nearly gave the clover a death blow. "They're far ahead of last year he added and the farmers are pretty well satisfied."

W. B. Anderson of North Monaghan said that as far as he knew the crops were good. The oats he claimed were miles ahead of last year and surely looked like a bumper crop Questioned on the potato outlook he said they were good but the bugs had been bad the last couple of weeks.

Cavan Needs Sun.

J. O. Bell of Cavan stated that they looked good out that way but a couple of weeks of warm weather is needed to ripen up the harvest and bring along the ensilage crop. No fall wheat had been cut out there yet he said but was ripening. It could only be called a fair crop and the spring wheat was about the same bumper crop of oats is assured if conditions continue favourable.

"Is there much smut," he was asked "I haven't detected any in mine he replied.

The wet weather spoiled considerable hay and had interfered with the cutting of the crop seriously he said.

Haying Delayed in Smith.

Alex. Scott of Smith was of the opinian that the wheat was a nice crop. The spring wheat was a good crop and promised a good yield he stated. Not a great deal of fall wheat had been killed out he declared. Some farmers out that way have not started their haying due to the wet weather. Taking the hay in general he contended that it was considerably a better crop than what they looked for at the first of the season. The oats promise well and Mr. Scott did not have any smut on his he said, because he had "picked them" and he did not think there was much smut in Smith. Alsike is a fair crop but is inclined to be on the short side due to the prolonged drought. The straw is all of good length he said, not too long but just about right.

Another well known Smith farmer, Edward Archer of the 4th line, said the crops were pretty good. The wheat was all right but hay is a little light. Oats are heavy. Out in Emily he added he saw some pretty badly smutted fields but in Smith he had not heard any complaints. Rye is coming on and will be ready to cut in a few weeks. Two weeks will see the wheat cutting in full swing he believed. Field peas will be ready for the mower then.

Otonabee Reports.

Aross the river the wheat crop does not appear to be as good as west of the city. "The fall wheat is not extra good," said Timothy Garvey of Otonabee. Much of it he declared was killed in the winter and what survived found it hard struggling through the long dry spell and this was also true of the spring wheat which is a poor crop out that way. "The oats promise to be good, the corn is doing good and the peas will be a bumper crop."

Oat are a good crop down in Otonabee George Hall said. The wheat is not a very heavy crop and the hay has been pretty light on account of the cold spring and hot dry weather. The timothy was a little better than the clover he claimed. Down that way the haying is nearly over. "The corn is coming along good."

STORY OF MAN WHO BEAT THE MOSQUITO

The greatest obstacle which had to be overcome before the Panama Canal could be built was the mosquito. Not the comparatively harmless insect we know in Canada, but the dreaded malarial mosquito, the scourge of Central America.

When the French began building the canal under that famous engineer, De Lesseps, who had already constructed the Suez Canal, tropical diseases, chief of which was malaria, carried off fully one-fourth of the workers, and the French were eventually obliged to give up the task, vanquished not so much by the engineering problems, as by the mosquito.

The man who finally defeated the mosquito, and so made the construction of the canal possible, was Major-General William Crawford Gorgas, K.C.M.G., whose death has just been announced in London, England.

Born in Mobile, Alabama, the son of a Confederate general, in October, 1845, Gorgas was educated at the University of the South and later at Bellevue Hospital in New York City. He entered the United States Army Medical Corps, and served in Florida, Texas, and elsewhere.

Major-General Gorgas made an especial study of the diseases and disease-carriers of Central and South America, and finally evolved a plan by which the malarial mosquito which infested the Isthmus of Panama was defeated, and he also was instrumental in ridding other Central American district sof the pest. In 1914, when he gave up his work at the Panama, the deaths among the workers had been reduced from 25 per hundred to 5 per thousand anually.

King George V. conferred the decoration of Knight Commander of the Order of St. Michael and St. George upon General Gorgas in recognition of his work in making possible the construction of the Panama Canal, while the French Government conferred the Legion of Honour upon him.

Major-General Gorgas also did very good work for Britain. He went to South Africa in 1913, and established sanitary conditions on the Rand, as a result of which he was highly honoured by the medical profession in London, and Oxford University conferred the degree of Doctor of Science upon him.

While in London preparing to go to West Africa for the British Government, General Gorgas suffered a stroke of aponlexy and died after a brief illness. His body will be taken to the United States on a transport.

CITIZENS SUBSCRIBING FOR A NEW HOTEL

KINGSTON, —Citizens of Kingston are baund that Kingston will have a new hotel, which is more sorely needed here than anything else. The city council and Board of Trade are handling a $600,000 scheme, the city to guarantee bonds to the extent of $400,000 when $200,000 cash has been subscribed. After a short canvass the sum of $120,000 has been subscribed, and it is expected that before the end of the month the remaining $80,000 will be secured and the hotel proposition made a certainty.

We Have Everything a Baby Wears

The C.P.R. and its Veterans

With a total of 12,230 returned soldiers given employment up to June 30th, the C. P. R. has achieved a record which its officials consider the best record in the history of the Company. When any C. P. R. man sailed for voluntary service overseas, he carried with him not only credit for six months pay, but also the promise of a position awaiting his return, of equal value to the one he left. That promise was more than kept, for the C. P. R. scale of pay was raised during the war to correspond with the increased cost of living, and re-employment in the same position in most cases meant re-employment at a higher wage or salary.

Moreover, not only was the door thrown wide open to C. P. R. returned man, but for all new openings preference has been given to returned men in general—so that whereas the Company's moral obligation covered only the seven thousand who applied for re-instatement, its actual record has been the employment of over eighteen thousand ex-service men—or more than twenty per cent. of the total payroll. The actual figures up to June 30th, 1920, are as follows:—

Total reported as joining the Army	11,902
Dead	1,100
Wounded	2,085
Re-employed in the service	7,008
Other soldiers given employment	11,332
Total soldiers given employment	12,230

Army service naturally upset the old order of life, and a percentage of those who might have come back to railway service in Canada drifted elsewhere. Of the various types of railway employee, the trainman and enginemen appear to have remained most true to their old love, as the following figures show:—

	Enlisted.	Killed or Died on Active Service.	Re-employed.
Trains and Enginemen	1,880	201	1,338
Shopmen	2,737	274	1,513
Clerical	3,077	280	1,320
Miscellaneous	2,360	313	1,789
Maintenance of Way Employees	503	32	248
Total	11,862	1,100	7,008

If the "Veteran" Army of the C. P. R. were ever to parade together, it would make a brave showing of medals and decorations. Of the C. P. R. men re-employed, 270 or over 5% won special distinction of this nature, including two V.C.'s; 2 C.M.G.'s; 17 D.S.O.'s; 3 with bar to D.S.O.'s; 3 D.S.C.'s; 54 M.C.'s; 47 D.C.M.'s; 180 M.M.'s; 13 with bar to M.M.'s; 17 M.S.M.'s; 13 Croix de Guerre, and one Legion of Honour. Particulars of some of these follows:—

THE PURCHASING COMMISSION.

Little has been heard from members of Parliament in regard to the recent order-in-council transforming the War Purchasing Commission into a permanent commission to handle the buying of all government supplies, but the press throughout the country has unhesitatingly approved the step, as a means of effecting a great saving and of eliminating many of the abuses of the old system. It may be that the commendation of the press will have its effect upon the members whose hostility to a Purchasing Commission has been displayed on more than one occasion. It will be a splendid thing for the country if this should prove to be the case, for unfortunately the members of Parliament who see in the Commission the end of their last shield of patronage, have a weapon in their hands with which to negative the order-in-council if they feel disposed to continue their opposition into the next session. They have simply to refuse to vote supplies for the Commission and the latter will be forced to suspend operations. Undoubtedly there are many of the members who would like to follow this course, but if they are reading the newspapers and keeping an attentive ear upon what their constituents are saying, they will have little trouble in deciding that the people as a whole welcome the elimination of patronage lists and the placing of the important matter of government supplies in the hands of a capable body, whose sole object will be to eliminate waste and by business methods to buy as cheaply as possible.

THE COST OF GOVERNMENT.

Canadians know to their cost that their country suffers from too much and too expensive government. In spite of the general realization of that fact it is nevertheless surprising to find from a recent bulletin issued by the Citizens' Research Institute of Canada that representative Canadian families contribute directly or indirectly to the most of government—Municipal, Provincial and Federal—from about $190 to approximately $450 each year. In other words the members of the family have to work from nineteen to forty-five days to discharge their obligations to their civic provincial and national governments. "Is it not time, therefore," asks the bulletin, "for the citizen to consider seriously what his work buys in government service."

Are we getting full value for our money? Does the family which pays out $450 every year towards the cost of government receive 100 per cent. returns for the investment. The Research Institute is throwing some light upon these questions by the investigations that have been made. The other day the Examiner referred to some of the interesting features of the report for 1917. A similar bulletin for 1918 has now been issued and it bristles with important facts and figures. British Columbia, for instance, led all the other provinces of the Dominion in 1918 in the total per capita revenue and in the total per capita expenditure, with Alberta second in both of these departments. The difference in expenditures on various branches of government activity is shown by the fact that while legislation and general 'government' cost British Columbia $3.03 per capita, Prince Edward Island escaped with an expenditure of only 55 cents for the same purpose. In the matter of eduation British Columbia was again far in the lead of the other provinces, paying $2.93 per head of population, although it is pointed out that the variations in provincial expenditures for education can be accounted for to some extent at least, by differences in policies with regard to payments to municipalities and teachers. In no important item of revenue or expenditure did Ontario lead in 1918.

A number of cities have been considered by the Institute with a view to studying the cost of municipal government, and it has been found that:

Those cities for which comparative figures are available show an average increase in cost of government of $8.15 per capita in 1918 over 1917. A considerable portion of such increase can, of course, be attributed to the per capita rise in the cost of National Government.

In 1918, every Province in Canada, except Manitoba, showed a per capita increase in the cost of Provincial Government over that for 1917. Prince Edward Island showed the least increase, with 2c. per capita, while British Columbia showed the greatest, with $2.13 per capita.

All the cities for which the Institute had comparative data, except Winnipeg and London, had an increase in per capita cost of municipal government in 1918, over the previous year. Toronto had the greatest per capita increase, $6.89. Regina was second with $3.36 and Victoria third largest $3.21.

A SUGGESTED REMEDY.

Newspapers throughout the country recently have been calling attention to the fact that within a very short time we may look for famine prices on wheat, corn, potatoes and all other staples of life; that the farm will fail to yield unless something drastic is accomplished immediately in the way of producing an effective factor that will put a stoppage to the exodus of the country youth citywards. "The question of 'what is to be done?' is fundamental in its simplicity, but astoundingly difficult to answer," states a Chicago daily.

Prof. T. C. Atkeson of the National Grange is authority for the statement that only one per cent. of the boys who left the farms of the United States to join in its war service have returned to again take up production from the soil. The other ninety-nine per cent. according to his research and investigation, have chosen as a means of their livelihood the industrial and commercial life which the city offers.

It was upon these men, who were available at one time at planting and harvesting time, that the farmer depended for the making and gathering of his crops. Without them there can be no planting of seed,—therefore the impossibility of resulting food products. "What is to be done?" is truly a question which demands the attention of the best minds of both Canada and the United States.

Hundreds of boys who, until they enlisted in the service of their country, had never before left their home towns. Visiting many of the larger cities in America and Europe, it was not long before they realized that the larger cities offered them many things in the way of amusement and recreation, places of entertainment to go to in the evening,—something entirely lacking in their own home towns. In fact, they frequently remarked that immediately upon their discharge from the service it was their intention to establish themselves in the larger cities and there take advantage of the greater opportunities open to them. As a consequence, when they returned and the glory of their reception and home-coming had worn away, they sought the larger communities and have since settled permanently there.

It is definitely agreed and accepted that a certain amount of exercise and recreation is essential in furnishing the necessary relaxation after a strenuous day at the office or factory. We have establishments where such may be secured in the larger cities. Why is something not done along this line for people in the smaller cities, towns and villages, giving the farm youth a place to go in the evening other than the cross-road general store? His daily work is far more strenuous than that of his city brethren, and it would seem that for this reason he is proportionately more in need of a medium a "safety-valve," to relieve the tension and ease things up a bit. Perhaps if such a medium be established, farm hands would be more plentiful, at least more so than they have been during the past few years.

John M. McLeod, of Columbus, Ohio, hase wisely said: "Play is the safety valve of the Nation." The officials of our larger corporations are realizing, more and more each day, the necessity of recreation for their employes. Many of these men of big business have installed devices in their plants where the employes can play at basketball, indoor golf, billiards, bowling, gymnastics, etc. Why not a community centre wherein these sports and games may be enjoyed by the farmer, his family and his help? It is something that is well worth study. The situation faced by the farmers of the country is a critical one, demanding earnest thought. It is of so serious a character that any movement that may alleviate the distress caused by a lack of farm labor must impress itself upon the thinking men as something to be considered. Contentment with one's environment is one of the chief factors in making for increased production, be it of the farm or the factory. The establishment of recreation centres might furnish the very means to establish and develop this contentment. If such were to be the case, a long step forward would have been taken in answering the perplexing and all important question of "What is to be done?"

HINTS ON HOUSEHOLD EFFICIENCY

During the first month you may use more current than you will when you become familiar with the operation. Therefore your first month's electric bill will be larger, and should not be considered as the average monthly cost of operating the range.

All burners have three heats: "ful," "medium" and "low." "Full" gives maximum heat; "medium" half of "full"; "low" quarter of "ful."

If a master switch, which disconnects the whole range, is installed in the kitchen, it should be thrown to "off" position whenever the range is not in use. This will eliminate the possibility of accidentally leaving a burner turned on. Irrespective of a master switch, be sure every burner is turned "off" when you are through cooking.

Do not overheat oven! The oven should never be heated to a higher degree than the thermometer will register, as it is unnecessary and injurious. Keep the oven clean, sweet and free from rust by always leaving the door open for a short time after cooking. Also go over the interior once or twice a month with an oiled cloth. (Use lard or olive oil.) The oven of your electric range should have the same care and attention that you give to your sewing machine. By periodically oiling the oven you will prevent rust. In other words, proper care will add many years to the life of the range.

Do not remove burners from the range for any reason other than repairs.

The economical way to prepare a meal is to have one burner on "full." Place the vegetables on this burner in turn. When each one reaches the boiling point transfer it to an unused burner, which should be turned to "low." This method saves electricity which would otherwise be used in bringing the several burners up to their maximum heat.

SONS OF NIGHT

Many of us do not consider the sparkling fiery stars as suns of night. Nevertheless, these stars shine upon our little earth by night in their remoteness exactly as our own shines upon our world by day in his comparative nearness. We should therefore, be interested in these suns of night, particularly in the more brilliant suns, those of the first magnitude.

At the present season, when the clocks are announcing the hour of nine, there are six first magnitude suns, all of which are especially noticeable. Altair is low in the east. Antares is rather low in the southeast. Vega is about half-way from the northeastern-eastern horizon to the zenith. Spica not quite half way from the southern horizon to the zenith and Arcturus not far from the zenith southwardly.

These six first magnitude suns are in the order of their brightness:—Vega, Arcturus, Altair, Spica, Antares and Regulus; in the order of their distances: Altair, Vega, Arcturus, Regulus, Antares and Spicea. Respecting their constellations, Vega is situated in Lyra, Arcturus in Boores, Altair in Aquila, Spico in Virgo, Antares in Scorpio and Regulus in Leo. And with respect to colors: Vega is blue, Arcturus is yellow, Altair pale yellow, Spica white, Antares red and Regulus white.

Amid the darkened dome of night these six magnitude suns are shining upon our little planet in silence and majesty. Invisible themselves within the abysses of the universe, their rays illumine imperceptibly the restful shadows of terrestial night.

DETERMINE ADVISABILITY OF RADIAL PURCHASE

TORONTO, July 14.—It is announced to-day that the following will compose the Ontario Government's Commission to investigate conditions and determine the advisability of proceeding with the Ontario Hydro-Electric radial purchase and extension scheme.

Justice Sutherland, Toronto; W. A. Amos, Palmerston, Vice President of United Farmers of Ontario; Thomas A. Russell, Toronto, prominent manufacturer; A. F. MacCallum Engineer Ottawa; and Fred Bancroft, Toronto, representative of Labor men.

HAPPINESS IS A MIGHTY TOWER.

Happiness is a mighty tower
Builded on the rock of life
High above the waves of strife
And the shifting ocean's power.

These the stones that form its base:
Justice, Love and Confidence;
Candor, void of vain pretense,
And Joy that smiles with childhood's face.

Wealth is idle matched with these;
Drossy sands are pomp and pelf;
In the quarry of yourself
Sleeps the stone to match Time's seas.

Build within for deathless power—
Happiness is a mighty tower!
—John Jerome Rooney.

SAVED GIRL'S LIFE LOST VALUABLE RING

LONDON, July 14.—Some men are born lucky, but S. F. Real, 402 Dundas street, is apparently not one of those fortunate individuals. In fact his latest experience proves him anything but lucky.

Dashing out into the water up to his waist at Port Stanley on Saturday he rescued 4-year-old Molly Rees, of Toronto from drowning after she had been swept beyond her depth. On returning to dry land Mr. Real immediately got busy removing some of the surplus lake water from his clothes. In doing so he shook his arms strenuously, with the result that a valuable gold ring which he was wearing flew off and is still missing. It bears a Masonic emblem and other designs. He is still hoping that it will be recovered.

"Yes, madam, this is the grade of Imperial Polarine specified for your car by the Imperial Polarine Chart of Recommendations, and you will always find Imperial Premier Gasoline of uniform high quality. My customers have learned that operating costs are kept at a minimum through using Imperial Polarine exclusively."

Reduced Operating Costs

IMPERIAL Polarine reduces automobile operating costs in many ways. By providing a piston-to-cylinder seal which assures maximum power. It helps to save friction waste in every moving part, keeps the engine running smoothly and out of the repair shop and minimizes depreciation.

Imperial Polarine prevents friction by coating every wearing surface with a heat and wear-resisting oil film. It seals all the power in the piston chamber. Imperial Polarine gives correct lubrication to every part of your car.

One of the three grades described below is specially suited to your motor. Look for the Imperial Polarine Chart of Recommendations when you buy oil and learn which grade to use.

Imperial Polarine is sold in sealed gallon and four-gallon cans, 12½-gallon steel kegs, steel half-barrels and barrels, by dealers everywhere. There is an appreciable saving in buying half-barrels and barrels.

VIRTUOUS WIVES

By OWEN JOHNSON

"My, what a frown!" said Irma, over her coffe cup. "Bad news?"

"Bills," said Amy blankly. To those obnoxious words "duty" and "conscience," she had added a third specter in a sort of unwelcome trinity. "He's in a fearful temper about them."

"Is that all?" said Irma, with a laugh. "All husbands grumble at bills. It's quite an art in knowing when to present them."

"I'm horribly worried," said Amy penitently. "You know there's the Versailles fete. Have you any idea what such things cost?"

"Don't worry, my dear," said Irma consolingly. "It's not a question of money. You know what they say in the Street—You don't? They say Andrew's cleaned up a million in Osaba Mining this year. No, my dear; I don't think it's money."

"But what, then?"

Mrs. Dellabarre stirred her cup, mediating; then she raised her eyelashes slowly, and a faint smile touched the corners of her lips as she looked at her friend.

"When a husband is jealous, he begins by complaining of the bills."

"Andrew jealous!" said Amy, astounded. "Why should Andrew be jealous?"

"Well, you have had quite a following."

"Of course, but he—he is proud of that."

She had had more than the usual amount of attention and admirers, more than Gladys Challoner, even. There were a dozen youngsters of the "crocodile" class who worshiped her mutely, and blissfully ran her errands. There were several foreigners who made love to her covertly, and a dozen other men who flirted with her in a conventional way; but, so far, she could face her conscience—for she was certain she had a conscience—and truthfully proclaim that no one man had been promoted from the ranks or acquired the right to believe that she did more than gratefully tolerate his attentions. As a matter of fact, she assured herself (and the answer seemed crushing) that to be forced to devote herself to any one man would bore her to death.

"Irma, how absurd!" she said with the rising inflection. "No, no; that's one thing I'm not worried about. I may be thoughtless and extravagant—I suppose I am—but I haven't given him the slightest cause for jealousy—not the slightest." She hesitated, glanced at the letter again, and said, "Well, now, have I?"

"The Count de Faucouleur?"

"A foreigner, and besides—" She started to confide, but bit her lip. "Well, who else?"

"Frank Payson."

"Ridiculous!"

"Britton."

"Irma!"

"Then, of course, there's always Tody."

"And Jap and Charlie Pardee and Phil and Harry," she interrupted impatiently, "and the whole kindergarten; Irma, you don't call them men!"

"I know and you know, but does Andrew know?"

"But, my dear," said Amy, in helpless virtue, "it's just because I am surrounded by a lot of foolish, harmless boys that Andrew should feel safe."

"And you have never had any trouble with them?" said Irma, watching her. "Now—honestly?"

Mrs. Forrester opened her clear blue eyes in unaffected amazement. "Never! How funny to ask that! They know my principles. They wouldn't dare! The only time"—she stopped, and then continued—"the only time I had to do—well, a little disciplining, was with de Faucouleur, and that was really no trouble at all."

"Ah, I was sure of it! Do tell me all."

"There's nothing much to tell. After I met him at Gladys's, he started in to make violent love to me—as a foreigner will do, you know—and—well, I made him understand—oh, very kindly—that I was devoted to my husband. Itold him that American women were splendid pals and loved a spree but tha tthey were not women of light morals; he might find exceptions, but, for the most part, despite a little harmless flirting, we intended to remain virtuous wives." Two years before she had smiled over the same characterization by Irma, but no troubling memory returned to disturb her righteous gravity. "He understood—oh, at once! He was very nice about it. He apologized for having—well, for having made a mistake. Now he is one of my most devoted friends, and I know he respects me for my honesty. Yes; I'm very proud of the way I handled him," she added, with a toss of her head.

"Foreigners don't always understand our point of view," said Irma meditatively. Then, as she was blessed with a sense of humor, she added, "nor some Americans."

"You can't help men falling in love with you," continued Amy, still studying the letter. "That's their own affair. But I play fair. No; I certainly have nothing to reproach myself with on that score."

She picked up the letter and examined the way in which her husband had signed himself, "Affectionately," which had been abbreviated to a rapid "Aff." She found it depressingly mechanical, matter-of-fact, businesslike, and lacking the true savor of romance. She had grown more beautiful in a dramatic way, all her charms under r control directed by a sure instinct for values, but when her face relaxed into repose, there was a difference. The unconscious pleasing that had once hovered there like the fresh fragrance of a flower was gone. Instead, there was a driven wakefulness, an interrupted excitement of the emotions, and an impatience for the next sensation.

"Mr. Dawson and Mr. Laracy," said Gregory, entering.

"Oh, the boys? Send them up," she said eagerly.

Dawson and Laracy had come to escort them to the dressmaker's, where their manly criticisms would be invaluable.

CHAPTER III.

They formed an animated and noisy group in the gray-lung salons of Franceline's, who at that time enjoyed the custom of fashion because she had the genius to perceive that her clients preferred to pay five hundred dollars for a dress which she could sell them with profit for half that sum. Ahead was a little raised stage with subdued footlights. From time to time, the silver-gray folds at the back parted. A graceful model emerged, posed like a preening peacock, descended the steps, and floated slowly among the spectators with mincing steps, her arms extended with feathery languor, her head pillowed against imaginary cushions a vacant smile painted on an exquisite face. Franceline herself, as an extraordinary concession, stood in critical inspection, explaining to the group, detailing descriptions, encouraging the flippant criticisms of Dawson and Laracy, flattering their judgment, ever watchful for the first covetous glance in the eyes of the women. Tody and Jap, thus skilfully directed, passed from criticism to enthusiastic appreciation. From time to time the glance of a model Betty or Priscilla or Lois—rested on them in discreet recognition.

"I say, let's have another look at that Callot negligee," said Tody, who knew the Paris dressmakers en connoisseur, and could name a model as unerringly as an expert distinguishes the parentage of a painting. "Irma, you must have it! It's the line you like. I let's see it again. I mean the one the tall blond girl's got on. What's her name?"

"Hypocrite!" said Irma, under her breath. "As though you weren't old friends!"

Amy, who had still a great ignorance of the ways of young men of fashion, looked around in frowning incredulity.

"Why, Tody you don't mean—"

"Amy, you are innocent!" said Irma, shrugging her shoulders. "Tonight they may be all dining together and imitating us."

Tody, who knew Amy better, protested his innocence so volubly that she began to have doubts. The suggestion pained her. She did not like to think of Tody and Jap, whom she admitted to her intimacy, frequenting the company of such dangerous sirens. She resolved at the first opportunity to learn the truth and deliver the lesson. For, above all things, she intended to exert a good influence. But the return of Priscilla in the Callot negligee drove such virtuous intentions from her mind. She coveted the gown because she knew Irma wanted it and was hesitating at the price.

"Yes; it's too dainty for words," said Irma, with a sigh. "If I had seen it a month ago—"

"It's just arrived — the newest thing," said Franceline quickly. "And what is one more negligee to Mrs. Dellabarre?"

"Now, Franceline, you know perfectly well that I've had three negligees here this spring," said Mrs. Dellabarre, in a voice which carried to the farthest group, "and that's quite enough. Don't tempt me. Take it away—this instant!"

Amy had set her heart on its possession from the moment she had seen the desire in Irma's eyes, and the moment of indecision made her tremble. She had come firmly determined to remain a spectator, steeled to resist the craving for beautiful things which had become a daily necessity in her existence. Since she must economize, she had resolved to begin at once. Her resolution held while the dainty, exquisite treasure passed her once; she resisted when a second time Priscilla, who had her own coloring, floated by, but when a last time, summoned by Tody, the model approached, she held out no longer. From behind Iram's back she sent Madame Franceline an imperious signal which that astute leader of unspoken thoughts at once comprehended.

"There's a newer style coming over next week," she said, with a signal to the model to retire, "which I think will interest you more, Mrs. Dellabarre."

Amy felt very guilty. At her first attempt to economize, she had stumbled.

"Oh, dear, I wish I wasn't feeling so poor," she said artfully. "I must have some things, but I don't know when I can pay you!"

Franceline was full of sympathy.

"Mrs. Forrester, you know I never send in bills until it's convenient—there won't be any trouble about that." And she added solicitously, "You mustn't deprive yourself—for a trifle like that."

Amy Forrester drew a sigh of relief. The bill—and it was a large one—could go over into the fall. All her spirits returned. She felt she had accomplished something—something concrete.

"Me for the panier every time," said Jap, smiling appreciatively at a dark-haired little model who came up on tiptoes, dainty as a Watteau shepherdess.

Tody Dawson disagreed immediately, and the conversation became heated.

"Panier nothing! That's nothing but a lot of side-saddles stuck on. Wake up, Jap; wake up! The art of being well clothed is all in the descending line."

"You're for the wet bathing suit."

"Certainly. The human figure is beautiful—why distort it? Interpret it. I'm for things that wind and cling. All this other stuff is just a lot of icing on the cake, the bump on the log. It's grotesque; sure it is—artificial!"

"It depends on who's inside the panier," said Jap, with an appreciative look at the black-haired Betty, who turned slowly before them. "It all comes down to this: there ought to be two styles, one for the dumplings and one for the string bean."

"Speaking of dumplings," said Tody, rising with a welcoming smile. Kitty Lightbody came rolling in, her china eyes sparkling with excitement.

"My dear, am I late?" she exclaimed, making for Amy. "I suppose I am—hello, boys!—but Lulu kept me to show me it— My dear, have you seen it?"

"Seen what?" said Amy, vaguely alarmed.

"This week's Tattle-tale! My dear, you haven't! You'll be furious."

"Hush, Kitty; don't shout so!" said Amy, glancing about the room uneasily. "What do you mean? Is there something about me in it?"

"Something! I should say there was, and a nasty slap, too," said Kitty, in her reverberating voice.

"At me?" said Amy, her heart sinking before the dread specter of publicity. "But why? What? I don't understand."

CHOICE RECIPES

TOMATO CURRY

4 large tomatoes
1 onion
1 tart apple
1-2 cupful of rice
1 tablespoonful of butter.
1 teaspoonful of lemon juice.
1-2 teaspoonful of curry powder.
1-2 teaspoonful of salt.

Scald the tomatoes, skin them and cut into quarters. Fry the chopped onion and chopped apple in butter for five minutes then cover with hot water and add all the other ingredients except the rice. Let simmer for 10 minutes, add rice and cook until the moisture is absorbed.

DEVILED TOMATOES

6 large ripe tomatoes
2 hard-boiled eggs.
2 raw eggs.
3 tablespoonfuls of melted butter
3 tablespoonfuls of vinegar.
1 tablespoonful of powdered sugar
1 teaspoonful of prepared mustard salt.

Rub the boiled egg yolks with butter and seasoning and heat with vinegar until it boils. Then stir in beaten eggs until the mixture thickens. Let stand in hot water while the tomatoes are boiled. They should be cut in thick slices. Lay on a hot platter and pour the egg sauce over.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

TENTH ANNIVERSARY OF CREAMERY BUSINESS FROM WHICH PETERBORO MILK PRODUCTS LTD. DEVELOPED

STARTED WITH TWO MEN AND A GIRL ON ITS PAY ROLL, HAS GROWN INTO AN IMPORTANT INDUSTRY WITH TRADE CONNECTIONS ABROAD—THIS YEAR'S OPERATIONS WILL EXCEED THE HALF MILLION MARK.

TEN YEARS OF EXPANSION.

To-day, Tuesday, July 20th, 1920, is the tenth anniversary of the establishment of that business now incorporated as Peterborough Milk Products Limited, a local industry which has grown from modest pretensions into an expansive industrial concern, some of whose products are in considerable demand, not only in Canada but also across the seas.

Ten years ago to-day Mr. G. A. Gillespie took over from the late Mr. Peter Downham the small business then known as the Peterborough Creamery, which the latter gentleman had conducted for some four years in a small white 25 x 40 ft. brick building. These premises were situated on the present site of Peterborough Milk Products Limited, 377 Aylmer street, and in those humble, but compact quarters, Mr. Gillespie started operations with two men and a girl in the production of butter only. The pay roll at that time was $45 a week.

Ice Cream Annex.

In the following winter, however, Mr. Gillespie, encouraged by the success of his venture, and recognizing the ever-growing demand for ice cream, decided to expand in that direction. He accordingly erected an ice storage and ice cream department at the rear of his premises. And in this brick annex of 25 x 50 feet is now manufactured by experts, under approved sanitary conditions, that Made-in-Peterborough ice cream first put on the market in the summer of 1911, and the call for which is at present taxing the fatcory's capacity.

Better Milk.

Two years later, in 1913, when the De Laval Company located here, Mr. Gillespie, seeing the need for, and community benefit to be derived from, a better and purer milk supply, installed at considerable expenditure clarifying and pasteurizing plants, with a view to entering the milk and cream delivery business on a large scale. It is here interesting to note that the Peterborough Creamery's first day's delivery of clarified and pasteurized milk totalled but 13 quarts. The public, however, through medical and sanitary authorities' endorsation of clarifying and pasteurizing, quickly learned that no milk can be relied upon as being free from disease germs unless so treated, and the daily ouput of milk and cream purified and rendered absolutely safe for human consumption by this creamery has now reached huge proportions.

Plant Again Enlarged.

Since its inception this business has kept apace with Peterborough's growth, and in 1914 further enlargements to the building and plant were found necessary. The adjoining land to the south was therefore purchased, the origianl building raised a second story and extended to its present dimensions of 110 x 70 feet, and further clarifying and pasturizing machinery added.

G. A. GILLESPIE,
President and Managing Director of Peterborough Milk Products Limited.

Incorporated Company.

In 1917, recognizing opportunity for extending the scope of his operations by the addition of increased capital, Mr. Gillespie organized a company and secured its incorporation under the name of Peterborough Milk Products Ltd., with a capitalization of $250,000, and with Mr. Gillespie as President and Managing Director.

The company then took into consideration the addition of their present condensed milk plant, which was installed and in operation by March, 1918. This end of the business was also a success from the start, condensed (canned) milk being in popular and growing demand, not only in Canada, but abroad.

Advertising Peterborough.

"Meadowvale" Condensed Milk, manufactured by Peterborough Milk Products Limited, is now one of those Canadian products advertising Canada and this city in other countries. It stands second to none in the markets of the British Isles, and British West Indies, and catches the eye in France, South Africa, India and other Colonies. In Great Britain and France especially, is condensed milk very generously used; and the fact that Peterborough canned milk is advertised in those markets and is handled daily in a large proportion of British and French homes, keeping ever before those people the name of Peterborough and "Meadowvale" should be appreciated by this community. This in truth, is one of our forceful means of publicity, which incidentally attracts the attention of capitalists and others to Peterborough as an important Canadian centre. Such publicity has often led to increased trade connection for many a city, and at times induced inquiries which have resulted in the acquisition of new industries.

Interesting Comparisons.

Ten years ago the business from which Peterborough Milk Products Limited evolved, had a yearly output amounting to $30,000; in 1919 its business transactions totalled $440,000; and this year's operations promises to run considerably over the half million mark.

In 1910 two men and a girl were employed; these days the premises present a busy hive of industry, where the hum of intricate machinery arrests the attention of passers-by. Scarcely an hour in the day but what raw products are being received only to be speedily converted into palatable commodities either for consumption at home or abroad. And the most approved sanitary methods obtains throughout in the production of butter, ice cream, bottled milk and cream, and "Meadowvale" condensed milk. The bare hand touches nothing that is edible, machinery being resorted to for each operation. But above all, every drop of milk and cream which passes through this industry is clarified and pasteurized—to clarify means to cleanse, pasteurizing is death to all germs liable to convey disease—and this is the only milk clarifying and pasteurizing plant in Peterborough City. Too much emphasis cannot be laid on the importance of this method of treating milk, than which there is no other fluid for consumption so liable to contain germs dangerous to the human system. All doctors agree on this; therefore, apart from any business considerations, the establishment of a twentieth century milk-purifying plant here confers a boon on the community by offering the fullest measure of health-conservation in dairy products of every-day use.

Seventeen Rigs.

On this 20th day of July, 1920, the Peterborough Milk Products Limited is using no less than eight big motor trucks for drawing in milk from many miles around Peterborough, and nine horse conveyances for the delivery of milk and cream after it has been purified. Their buttter trade is large and expanding, while the condensed milk department promises to call for considerable expansion in the near future. The whole plant and equipment is the last word in modernization and efficiency, an industry, in fact, which reflects credit not only on its originator, but also on Peterborough, the home of its birth.

Alderman and Member.

It might not be out of place here to refer to the fact that Mr. G. A. Gillespie, despite that close and energetic attention demanded of him by a continually expanding business, has devoted considerable time to public affairs in this city and province. He has served on the Aldermanic Board and in the Ontario Legislature, and is on his tenth business birthday an active member of Peterborough's Board of Trade. In brief, he is one of our local industrial men, always willing to shoulder a share of the community's public responsibilities, and to co-operate in the advancement of his home city's general interests.

It's Easy Now to Curl Hair to Stay Curled

To curl the hair to stay curled, nothing equals the simple silmerine method. If a little liquid silmerine be applied with a clean tooth brush before doing up the hair, the loveliest wavy effect imaginable will be in evidence in three hours, and this will last a long time, regardles of temperature or humidity.

This harmless method is not to be compared with curling by means of a hot iron because, instead of injuring the hair, it is really beneficial. A few ounces of liquid silmerine, which may be procured at any drug store, will last for months. The best way is to divide the hair into strands and moisten each of them from root to tip. The curliness will look perfectly "natural," and the hair will be beautifully glossy, yet without the least greasiness or stickiness.

WALTER FLOWERS IS EASTERN SALESMAN

REPRESENTS PETERBORO CEREAL COMPANY IN MARITIME PROVINCES.

The local Football Association, as well as other sporting fraternities, will be losers of a very prominent figure in sport in the person of Walter Flowers, who has been the local salesman here with the Peterborough Cereal Co., since his return from overseas, and being successful in this capacity he will represent that progressive firm in the maritime provinces. He was an all round athlete, being a sprinter of no mean ability. Besides running several championships here before the war, he also won the Canadian Army Championship at Barriefield camp before going to England in early 1915, and also at Folkestone, Eng., before going to France, there beating Hector Phillips, who is representing Canada in the Olympic games this summer. He was a member of the local O.H.A. teams in 1913-14, playing goal for those teams. He was one of the best basketball players the local Y.M.C.A. turned out, and he became more prominent recently in the Peterborough Football Association, which has just terminated, by his brilliant playing in goal. The Peterborough Athletic Association loses a good man in Walter, and while we regret his loss as a member of this association, we wish him every success in his new capacity, and if he is as successful in his new field as he has been square in sport, he is assured of a good future. He carries with him the good wishes of all who knew him.

STEAMER STONEY LAKE FOR LINDSAY EXCURSIONS.

Lindsay Post: Next Tuesday marks the first trip of the season of the steamer Stoney Lake into local waters. Coming up on Tuesday July 20th, with an excursion from Peterborough, she will on the same night, run the first band moonlight of the season. The next morning, Wednesday, July 21st, she will leave here at 7.30 on the always much-talked-about trip to Peterborough by water and return by rail.

A number of excursions are booked by this steamer, and she will be seen here almost every week.

36 Women In The 'Pen'

During his trip east, says the St. Thomas Times-Journal, Mayor Brinkham was in Kingston for a few hours and called on Capt. John Ponsford, warden of the Penitentiary.

Capt. Ponsford had his force of guards and employees well organised, and is running the big institution in exemplary style, Mayor Brinkham reports. The prison is well filled with offenders, there being no fewer than thirty-six women prisoners.

FOCH TO BE HONORARY MEMBER OF KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

BOSTON. — Announcement that Marshal Foch would be made an honorary member of the Knights of Columbus on his unveiling of the statue of Lafayette, the order's gift to France, at Metz on Aug. 21, was made here to-day by Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty of Philadelphia.

Mr. Flaherty, who attended a meeting of officers of the order preliminary to the supreme convention, said that he would personally induct the Marshal and that this would be the first time that any resident of Europe had been taken into the American order. Perso-

RED HEADED POLICEMEN ARE A. CHERNIKOFF'S PET AVERSION

DENIES, HE WAS SPEEDING AT 25 MILES AN HOUR ON SIMCOE STREET—P. C. THOMAS TIMED HIM, SHOWING 25 MILES AN HOUR.

A. Chernikoff has a grudge against British justice and certain members of the Peterboro police force, especially P. C. Thomas who was responsible for Cherinkoff being hailed into this morning' Police Court on a charge of speeding. Chernioff says that Thomas, who has red hair, is one of a type of red haired constables of whom he is always scared.

P. C. Thomas stated that on Tuesday last Chernikoff was driving east on Simcoe street between Aylmer and George streets, at a speed of about 25 mile an hour. Thomas timed him and stated that he was only 22 seconds in going from Aylmer to George a distance of 201 yards. His speed was so great that when he reached George Street and turned south the momentum of the car carried it across to the east side of Gearge street and endangered a pedestrian crossing from the Allen Theatre.

Chernioff was then given an opportunity to cross-examine the witness but his enthusiasm carried him away from his original purpose of cross-examination and he proceeded to give evidence, whereupon he was promptly quashed as a cross-examiner and placed in the witness box.

Crawling Along at 15 Miles.

Chernikoff stated that he was not driving at a speed greater than 15 miles an hour. If he had been the car would have tipped over when he made the turn. This he demonstrated with appropriate gestures. When asked how many seconds he thought it took him to go from Aylmer street to George treet he stated that he was not "educated as far as that." He alway kept one eye on the speedometer, he stated.

He was sure that P. C. Thomas had something against him. Asked by Chief Thompson if he always kept watch on the speedometer he replied in the affirmative.

"I never watch the speedometer when I'm driving" said the Chief.

"But you don't need to be afraid of the constables, dey know your face," replied Chernikoff.

Chernioff then bewailed the grudge which P. C. Thomas had against him.

He was sure Thomas' purpose was to relieve hi[illegible] of money.

"Dat's a any waye to make money," he said.

"Not the way you make it," said the Chief.

"Perhaps his way is funnier", remarked the Magistrate.

In regard to Thomas' evidence all he had to say was: " 'Scuse me, your honor, dat's full of stories I always was scared of dose red headed p'licemen."

The case was adjourned until tomorrow to allow Chernikoff to secure witnesses.

NORMA MOORE WINS FIRST A.C.A.M. HERE

ASSOCIATE OF THE CANADIAN ACADEMY OF MUSIC—PUPIL OF MRS. GREENSLADE.

To Miss Norma Moore, daughter of Mr. Wallace Moore, and a piano pupil of Mrs. W. A. Greenslade, 196 Dalhousie street, has fallen the distinction of being the first person in the city to obtain the title of A.C.A.M. Miss Moore's musical attainments have been watched with keenest interest by musical Peterborough and the latest laurels won by her have justified the expectations of the city. The title was awarded to only three students of the piano this year, the other two winners residing in Toronto and Lindsay.

Other Pupils' Success.

Other pupils of Mrs. W. A. Greenslade who were successful in the Academy of Music examinations conducted locally by Mr. W. Forsythe, were Herbert Read, Preparatory School examinations, honours; Helen Turner, Preparatory School regular examination, first class honors; Grant Braund, Progressive examination regular, first class honors; Norma Moore, first history and form, first-class honors.

MISS LONERGAN'S PUPILS PASSED EXAMINATIONS

The following pupils of Miss Mary Lonergan were successful in the examinations of the Canadian Academy of Music:

Progressive Piano—Honors, Mary Timm, Clara Allen.

Preparatory Piano—First class honors, Dorothy Clarke, Jean Ingram.

Honors— Elsie Bennett and Mary Hayes.

How You Can Remove Every Trace of Hair

(Toliet Talks.)

A stiff paste made with some powdered delatone and water and spread on a hairy surface about 2 minutes will, when removed, take every trace of hair with it. The skin should then be washed to free it from the remaining delatone. No harm can result from this treatment, but be sure it is delatone you get and you will not be disappointed. Mix fresh as wanted.

LIGHTNING STRUCK FARM HOUSE IN VICTORIA

During the electric storm Sunday night lightning struck the farm residence of Mr. Alex. Horn, on the eastern boundary of Lindsay. The bolt struck the roof, damaged two or three rafters and a portion of the sheet roof. It then passed out on the elctric light wires and damaged the transformer.

Fortunately no person was hurt, and the damage to the house can be easily repaired.

To Ward Off Summer Complexion Ills

To keep the face smooth, white and beautiful all summer, there's nothing quite so good as ordinary mercolized wax. Discolored or freckled skin, so common at this season, is gently, gradually absorbed by the wax and replaced by the newer, fresher skin beneath. The face exhibits no trace of the wax, which is applied at bedtime and washed off mornings. Greasy creams, powders and rouges, on the other hand, are apt to appear more conspicuous than usual these days of excessive perspiration. Just get an ounce of mercolized wax at any drug store and use it like cold cream. This will help any skin at once and in a week or so the complexion will look remarkably clear, young and healthy.

UNION WORKERS TO WAR ON PROFITEERS

PLAN TO ESTABLISH SHOPS AND FACTORIES ON CO-OPERATIVE PRINCIPLE.

(Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 20.—Profiteering in the women's garment industry will be fought with union owned shop, factories and stores by the International Ladies' Garment Worker's Union.

This became known here to-day when officials of the union announced that it has a committee at worklaying the foundation for the first group of union-owned facories, which are expeced to be in operation by next Spring.

Pay Good Wages.

These factories are to be established, according to Benjamin Schlesinger, international president, to demonstrate that the workers can be paid first class wages, work less hours and enjoy better working conditions than they are now getting and reap a "reasonable profit" from thtir product and still sell it considerable under the regular market price.

The union proposes to sell its output to consumers through their own stores.

Group of Six Factories

The first group of six factories will be established in New York, together with a number of union stores, union officials said. Others will be located in Chicago and Philadelphia.

Apple funds for the factories have been provided by the international union, Mr. Schlesinger said, and later as more money is needed "union shop and factory assessments" will be levied to finance the project until it is put on a paying basis.

"We expect to be turning out medium and high price garments for the Spring trade," A. Baroff, secretary of the union said. "The first factories will probably employ about 1,000 workers to be selected by the union." They will pay higher wages than are paid by employers in the garment industry and a seven-hour work day will be in effect, he added. The workers now work an eight hour day with a half holiday on Saturday.

Restaurants and Stores

The local unions of the Ladies' Garments workers, according to Mr. Baroff are also taking steps on their own initiative to defeat the high cost of living by establishing cooperative restaurants and stores. A number of stores have ben started in New York and a restaurant is being operated by unions in Philadelphia, he said.

RASPBERRIES NOT OFFERING FREELY

LOCAL PRICES OF IMPORTED FRUITS STILL SKY HIGH.

Due to the damp weather, which has retarded ripening and picking, raspberries have not been offered on the local market very freely, although the crop is good. What have been brought in are selling at 35 cents a box, and are mostly of the cultivated variety. In the back country wild raspberries are being sold at 25 cents a quart. Gooseberries are plentiful and are selling to-day at 20 cents a quart. Currants, both black and red, are selling at 30 cents a quart.

The first home grown tomatoes have been placed on the local market, and are selling at 35 cents a pound, with every indication of an immediate drop in price.

High prices still obtain for imported fruit by reason of the heavy freight rate, and bananas are selling at 50 and 60 cents a dozen. Lemons are very plentiful and selling at from 27 to 40 cents a dozen. Watermelons are selling at $2.

So far only a few baskets of huckleberries have been brought to the city, and there is a very poor prospect for much of a crop.

SUGAR ADVANCES $2.

All Canadian Refineries But One Quoting at $24 Per Cwt.

(Canadian Press.)

MONTREAL, July 20.—The Board of Trade issues bulletin announcing an increase in the price of sugar per hundred pounds of from $21 to $24. All Canadian refineries except St. Lawrence Sugar Refinery have joined in the increase.

HAS NEW OLDSMOBILE.

W. E. Conway Buys First Car From Edgar Burnham.

Mr. W. E. Conway is sporting a brand new Oldsmobile car, the first to be sold in Peterborough by Mr. Edgar Burnham since taking over the agency. As a sample of service the sale was unusual in this season of car scarcity. The order was given on Thursday, and the car driven up from Oshawa and delivered on Friday, the next day. Mr. Conway is an extremely well satisfied customer and states that he bought the Oldsmobile because he considers it excellent car value. It is a handsome seven-passenger, 8-cylinder touring car, finished in dark green, and attracts a lot of attention on the street.

DOESN'T SEEM FAIR.

"Ten dollars a day is rather high pay, even for plumbers."

"So it is, and to make matters worse, their memories don't seem to be any better than they were under the old scale."

"How's that?"

"They still forget their tools."

THE J. C. TURNBULL CO. LTD.

PRESENTATION TO THOS. CARPENTER

COLONIAL WEAVING CO. EMPLOYEES GAVE HIM CLUB BAG.

Yesterday afternoon the staff and employees of the Colonial Weaving Company gathered in the office of the factory and presented Mr. Thomas Carpenter, who for the past seven years had been designer with the Company and is leaving in a few days to accept the managership of a similar plant in London, England, with a handsome solid leather suit case and box of smokers material. The presentaiton was accompanied by the following address, read by Mr. W. W. Coulthard:

"Learning with deep regret that you are about to leave the Colonial Weaving Company to take a position in England, we the Company and employees take this occasion to wish you every success and happiness in your new home across the sea.

The relations which have existed between you and your fellow workers have always been characterized by the most kindly feelings and we shall continue though parted to hold a warm place for you in our minds.

We beg you to accept this slight token of our regard and to reiterate that our best wishes shall always be with you and your family.

On behalf of your old friends—
W. W. Coulthard, Sec'y-Treas.
A. E. Jenkins.
James M. Heffernan.

Mr. Carpenter in a brief reply thanked his friends for their kindness and assured the assembly that his kindliest thoughts will always be with those with whom he has been so closely associated during seven years.

FOUR LITTLE GIRLS HELP SERBIAN RELIEF

The following letter from 4 little girls shows the spirit which if general would very quickly attain our objective.

S. & S Club
July 14, 1920.

Dear Sir,—We are the four girls of the Sunshine and Smiles Club and we enclose small amount for the Siberian Relief Fund.

Yours sincerely,
Members of the S.A.S.

Why not other classes, club and individuals send in their subscriptions at once to their bankers or the Examiner and the money could follow at your convenience.

Two University girls are going out to canvass their friends and others to-day. Call up Mr. Campbell, 924J, morning, noon and night and he will furnish you material.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

To the Editor of the Examiner.—

Sir,—Let us put all transgressors and their works in goal and if that will not stop them let us burn them at the stake as the inquisition did. All this talk about regeneration is twaddle. One stroke of the axe is worth all the sermon between Dan and Beersheba. The means of sin is all that may be misused or used to our hurt. What is there that may not be misused? Let us put everything out of existence then if necessary suppression not regeneration is our motto. Jesus wept over Jerusalem. Others burned it. Weeping and praying is no good nowadays. Get the axe.

ROCKAWAY

CHOICE RECIPES

A lish that is only gradually coming into the popularity it deserve is fried tomato. Ripe, red toamtoes are best best for this purpose, and the light frying or "sauteing" develops the peculiar rich tomato flavor, making it is delicious breakfast or luncheon dish.

FRIED TOMATOES

Slice ripe, large tomatoes into thick sections. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and fine cornmeal, then fry in smoking hot fat until brown on both sides.

Or dip the slices of tomatoes in flour to which salt and pepper have been added, then in beaten egg and in flour again, and lightly fry in a butter substitute until golden brown.

TOMATO TOAST

Cut ripe tomatoes into cubes, carefully keping any juice that drips from them. Heat the juice, add to a white sauce made of blended butter and flour and milk. Place slices of toast on a platter, pour this hot sauce over it and tip with cubes of the cold tomato.

SCALLOPED TOMATOES

6 large, ripe tomatoes.
1 onion.
2 slices of fat, salt pork.
Sugar, salt, pepper.
Breadcrumbs.

Place a layer of sliced tomatoes in the bottom of a buttered baking dish. Sprinkle with a little of the chopped pork and onion and seasoning and crumbs. Repeat the layer of tomatoes and other ingredients, and have the top layer crumbs, dotted with bits of butter. Cover and bake for 30 minutes, then uncover and let brown

Scalloped Spinach. — Boil two quarts of spinach in half a cup of water until tender. Chop without draining and add a beaten egg, a cup of bread and crumbs and the seasoning. Turn into a baking dish, cover with buttered bread crumbs and bake brown

Chocolate Cake—Add two squares of choclate to two tablespoons of melted fat. When cool add two cups of flour, three teaspoons of baking powder, a cup of corn syrup, one beaten egg, a cup of water and a little vanilla. Bake in small cakes.

Buckwheat Muffins.—Mix a cup of buckwheat flour, four tablespoons of cornstarch, a little salt, two teaspoons of baking powder, a teaspoon of soda, a cup of milk, a tablespoon of molasses, two tablespoons of melted shortening, and a tablespoon of flour. Beat and bake in a moderate oven.

Italian Soup.—Break into small pieces enough macaroni to make two cups. Boil with a cup of tomatoes, three cups of water and half an onion. When the macaroni is tender, season and serve without straining.

BISHOP SAYS CHURCH NEVER MORE UNDIVIDED

A special cable from London in The Toronto Globe to-day says: After three months' vacation in Europe the Bishop of Peterborough, Ontario, and Dr. J. V. Gallivin, Peterborough, have arrived here, and will return home at the end of the month by the Empress of France. The Bishop told the Cross-Atlantic News Service that his tour included Rome, where he had the privilege of an audience with the Pope. The Church of Rome, he said, was never more undivided, and the peace and tranquility of the Vatican were emblematic of the general atmosphere.

During the last fiscal year the imports entered at the ports of Nova Scotia for consumption in that Province and other parts of Canada had a value of $27,863,220; at the ports of New Brunswick, $22,327,177; and, at ports of Prince Edward Island, $917,857, making a total importation for home consumption through the ports of the Maratime Provinces of $51,108,254.

USED HIS FIST IN SELLING BOOKS

AN ALTERCATION BETWEEN BOOK AGENT AND WOMAN LANDS FORMER BEFORE MAGISTRATE.

Four young book agents had their lunch in the police station this noon, as a result of one of their number becoming too enthusiastic in the pursuit of salesmanship and handing Mrs. F. Vinette, of Auburn, a gentle punch this morning after she declined to purchase any of his wares and had attempted to forcibly eject him.

The prompt arrest of the agent, Sherlock of Toronto, by Detective Newhall, shortly before noon, demonstrated the advantage of having a police car.

Free Defence.

Sherlock's three friends accompanied him to the station in order to keep him from becoming lonesome or dejected, and one of them, an Osgoode Hall law student, offered his services as counsel for the defence.

After a long search for Magistrate Dumble, in which the police department's car was called into service, Sherlock was hailed into police court, where he pleaded guilty after he had found that a plea of not guilty would mean that the cells would be his abode until the prosecution could subpoena witnesses to-morrow. He stated that he would do anything to get the case over with at once.

He was fined $20 and costs of $4.10.

These book agents, who are mostly 'Varsity boys working during the summer vaaction, left the court with a chastened air.

MILLS ELECTED BY ACCLAMCTION

MINISTER OF MINES RETURNED WITHOUT OPPOSITION AT FORT WILLIAM.

(Canadian Press.)

FORT WILLIAM, July 20.—Hon. Harry Mills, Ontario Minister of Mines, was declared elected by acclamation to a seat in the Provincial House for this constituency, rendered vacant by his elevation to Cabinet rank.

There was no opposition and Returning Officer Brown, at the close of nominations proceedings at two o'clock, declared Mills elected by acclamation.

SUGAR EXPORTS TO DETROIT

GOING BY TRUCK LOADS FROM WINDSOR BORDER.

WINDSOR, Ont., July 20.—The Detroit and Windsor Ferry Company report that during the past few days their boats have carried sugar from Windsor to Detroit in truck load quantities.

That the Canadian embargo has been lifted and that sugar is much higher in the States is said to be responsible for the heavy importation by the Americans. Sugar seems comparatively plentiful in Windsor. The prevailing price is $22.00 per hundredweight.

More than two weeks ago two large St. Bernard dogs, pets of virtually every child in the neighborhood, disappeared from the home of their master, William Tanner, in Hatboro, Penn. They have just been found in the bushes on a farm half a mile way, the younger dog held prisoner in a steel muskrat trap. A pile of bones and scraps of refuse was lying near the trap, and it appears that the trapped dog's mother had been bringing food to it for a fortnight.

BENEFIT FOOTBALL GAME ON THURSDAY EVENING FOR SMOKE

TWO TEAMS CHOSEN—G. W. V. A. BAND AND PIPE BAND PROMISED TO ATTEND—VETS HELD SOCIAL EVENING—OTHER ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The Football Executive met last evening in Mr. Fred Sutcliffe's Barber Shope to choose the two teams to play in the game arranged on behalf of Albert Smoke, the Long Distance runner. The following players were chosen as follows: President's Team, W. Jones (Vets) goal; H. Gamble and A. Bishop (Vets) backs; Herb Frost, (Cal.), S. McMillan, Capt. (Cal.) and R. McDowall (Cal.) half-backs; R. Hannah, (Cal.) J. Long (De Laval), J. Chambers (Can. Woollens), J. Lindsay (De Laval) and I. Bartley (C. G. E.). forwards. Vice-President's Team, C. Griffine. (Vets) goal; J. Cridland and I. Hillman (Can. Woollens) backs; J. Peel (Vets), H. Turner Capt., (C.G.E.), H. Burrows, halfbacks; J. Curtiss (Vets), C. Hotston (C.G.E.), M. Shaw (Cal.), H. Norman (Vets) and J. Sharman forwards. Reserves—A. Parkins (C.G.E.) half-back, A. Edwards (Vets) forward and R. Willshaw (back.)

The President's Team will play in the De Laval colours and Vice-President's Team the G.W.V.A. colours. Linesmen for the game will be Mr. J. Haw and J. Coombs. At the request of the Association Mr. Alex. McKinley will referee.

Previous to the start of the game the G.W.V.A. band and Pipe Band will render a few selections. Then punctual at 6.30 the kick-off will take place at the Exhibition Ground. The price of admission will be 25c. (including war tax) and ladies are admitted free.

FREE KICKS.

To-morrow Evening the Football Executive will meet in G. W. V. A. Hall at 7.30 prompt. President Cook requests the representatives to be punctual and get the business transacted. The question of affiliation will be considered also the Cup-ties proposition.

Since the end of the season the Great War Veterans have been busy signing up players for next season. They have 20 players' signatures and if all goes well they anticipate running a second eleven team.

In all probability C. Griffine, last season's goalkeeper for the Vets, will be seen in between the goal posts for the Comrades Team in the Fall.

A very successful social function was held last evening in G.W.V.A. Rooms by the Vets' Football Executive and players. A dainty repast was served up to which every member did justice. The rest of the evening was spent in a free-and-easy manner that brought forth a great amount of hilarity. Arthur Edwards pronounced it a great success.

On Friday evening of last week the Canadian General Team and Executive held a meeting in the Montreal House. There was a large attendance present. Secretary Clark gave an account of the season's work and ended up in a good financial position. A new executive was appointed that excluded Mr. Jack Clark, Mr. Everall and J. Lane, who requested that new men take their places. They will still abide with the name C.G.E.

According to reports the De Laval team is busy negotiating with some new football players for next season so as to make the game more interesting.

Jack Cridland intends having the same players with him next season and are keeping themselves fit with playing friendly games with other teams. Sam Calladine was talking about retiring. He lost his first penalty kick last week to James Shaw Caledonians.

The Football Executive desires all Football Teams to register at once with Secretary Bates. It is announced that Canadian Packing Co. are contemplating running a team next season.

Last week Mr. Baldray of the new C.G.E. Executive secured a mascot for the team in a Barred-rock chicken at the Exhibition Grounds. He said it could crow alright.

The Great War Veterans are arranging home and home games with the champions of the Oshawa Football League. The Lake-shore team won the League without losing a game.

Arthur Edwards, the inside left of the Vets and the local cartoonist, has not drawn any cartoons of late, perhaps owing to receiving a kick on the jaw-bone from Leach in the last game against the C.G.E. It is a wonder the blow did not kill the ninety-six pounder instead of giving him a beautiful black eye.

When questioned if the Machine Gunners would run a team next season, Capt. Fraser said, "Certainly and are going to have all local players." The Gunners will require to send a representative to Local Association.

All C.G.E. football players are requested to meet for practice at the Exhibition Grounds on Wednesday evening at 6.30 sharp. Bring jerseys.

To-morrow (Wednesday) evening an Exhibition Football Game will be played at Nicholls Oval between the Comrades and the Canadian Woollens. Kick-off at 6.30 prompt. The Comrades Team is as follows: C. Griffine goal, R. Leach and A. Nicholls backs, V. Hopkins, H. Joliffe, and C. Houghton half-backs, W. Warman, H. Knowles, B. Martin, W. Williams, and A. Lea forwards. Reserves I. Haw and H. Watkins. Canadian Woollen Team: Sam Calladine goal, J. Cridland and J. Hillman backs, A. Baldwin, I. Jackson and A. Styles half-backs, C. Thorpe, H. Jones, J. Chambers, J. Hodson and C. Clarke. Reserve, T. Jones.

The Caledonians will practice tonight at Exhibition Grounds at 6.30 prompt.

The well-known full back of C.G.E. McDonald will in all probability be seen in Caledonian colours this fall.

PETERBORO MUST BE BEAT

SUCH IS THE LINDSAY SLOGAN FOR TO-MORROW'S CENTRAL LEAGUE GAME.

The Lindsay Warder says:—

A game betwen Lindsay and Peterboro has always attracted a large crowd of fans, because such a contest has always been primed with enthusiasm and keen rivalry. The old spirit has not been allowed to die out, but rather has been fanned to fever heat.

These two teams will meet in a Central League game Wednesday afternoon, and as it is a half holiday there should be a large attendance of fans.

Peterboro has one of the classiest teams in the League and are headed for the pennant. Because of Belleville's win last week, the Petes have just about got to win this game in order to keep pace with the Belleville nine.

Jake Solomon will be on hand with a string of players and is making a desperate effort to have every man on the job and in form. It is expected that "Lornie" Rose will do the twirling and tha t"Hap" Harrison will cover the first base.

Lindsay will do its best to defeat its old time rivals and Managers Anderson and Bakogearge can be counted on to do their best to give the fans a real good game. The players are embued with the idea that Peterboro must be beat.

Norma Talmadge possesses the unique and enviable record of being consistently the biggest attraction at Marcus Loew's big metropolitan playhouse, the New York Theatre. When her first Select Picture, "The Moth," was exhibited there, it broke the standing record for attendance. When her next picture, "The Secret of the Storm Country," set an even higher mark, the management conducted an investigation into its books, and discovered that this star held the absolutely unique distinction of having set five separate attendance records there, which records have been unassailed until a subsequent production of her own broke them and set a new mark.

The facts are that "Panthea," starring Norma Talmadge, set a house record at the New York Theatre which lasted until "Poppy" was shown. This figure, in turn, remained unapproached until "The Moth" swept it away, only to be similarly surpassed in turn by "The Secret of the Storm Country." "Ghosts of Yesterday" followed and dealt a like fate to this last mark; and there is no doubt that when the patrons of the New York Theatre learn the date for the showing of "By Right of Purchase," they will flock to this playhouse in even greater numbers than ever, before. Such consistent success denotes highest merit.

See "By Right of Purchase" here at the Allen Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday and learn the reason for Norma Talmadge's ever-increasing poplarity.

NEGOTIATED A HOLE IN ONE

MR. JOSEPH WEARING PERFORMS RARE FEAT ON LOCAL LINKS.

Mr. Joseph Wearing achieved the golfer's dream the other day on the local links when he succeeded in negotiating the fifth hole in one stroke. Only once before in the history of golf in Peterboro has a player been successful in making a hole in one. Mr. Paul Trebilcock doing the trick some years ago on the first hole of the local course.

PHILLIPS KNOWN HERE.

Canada's Olympic Representative in Two Events.

"Hec" Phillips of the Toronto West End Y.M.C.A., who has been selected as Canada's represenative in the Olympic 400 metre and 800 metre races is well known to many persons in Peterborough. He was formerly employed at the local branch of the Bank of Commerce. At the trial contests in Montreal on Saturday he set up a new Canadian mark for 800 metres, his time being 1.57 1-5, three-fifths of a second better than the record made in 1918 by Irving Parkes, of Toronto.

HIGH TAXES IN CALGARY.

A Kingston gentleman who owns property in Calgary assessed at $1,600, was thunderstruck when he received his tax notice showing a total tax on the property of no less than $95.12—or almost 6%. He is highly indignant and declares this to be civic profiteering at the expense of the tax payer. His opinion is that the government should step in and prevent such profiteering.

SMOKE'S FEET BLISTERED BY GRAVEL CAUSE OF HIS DEFEAT

ART JOHNSTON SAYS CHEMONG RUNNER CAN L VE JIMMY DELLOW BEHIND ANY DAY—SMOKE FINISHED FRESH BUT LAME.

"Smoke can beat Dellow any day," said Arthur Johnston, who followed the Chemong marathoner in the Canadian Olympic trial race in Hamilton yesterday. Without depreciating from Dellow's fine performance, Mr. Johnston said he has no doubt of the ability of Albert Smoke, who was seriously handicapped yesterday by a sore foot that began to blister about the ninth mile.

Runners broke into a stretch of road that had been newly tarred and the fine gravel stuck to Smoke's socks which were rolled down in his usual way, gradually working down until the soles of his running shoes were full of it.

After a few miles the rubbing became painful and blisters as big as 50 cents made running excruciating. Smoke never whimpered though and when he was through was as fresh as ever, but his feet were in a distressing condition.

"I don't know how he ever ran," said Mr. Johnston. Out of each shoe, he said, he poured half a cup of gravel.

Everyone except the Toronto crowd was for Smoke. The interference by the cars was bad, Johnston stated, and half a dozen times the Indian had to get off the road. Smoke couldn't see Scholes for the cars.

Mr. Johnston is going to try to start a race here between Dellow and Smoke soon, and if some prize would be donated he feels sure he could manage to stage one that would show what Smoke can do.

Won Royal Connaught Cup.

Smoke brought home the fourth prize, a handsome silver trophy donated by the Royal Connaught Hotel, Hamilton, and suitably enscribed. The cup is on display at the Windsor Hotel. The Mail and Empire reporter covered the race from A. T. Johnston's car.

The beauty of the C. C. M. is more than surface deep. There are three coats of brilliant, waterproof enamel over a coat of anti-rust. That means an enamel that will stand wear and weather.

The smooth, highly-polished nickelling is over rust-proof copper. That's why C. C. M. nickelling retains its bright appearance and wears so long.

You don't always spin along smooth pavements. Sometimes you have to bump over ruts and cobble stones. So the C. C. M. frame has the long, strong "Fishmouth" reinforcement at the joints. This makes a powerful frame with a large margin of safety.

Women Give Enthusiastic Welcome to Beauty of New Patterns in Simmons Beds

Now in the Stores—the First Metal Beds Ever Designed in Harmony with Interior Decoration Today. Old-established House of Simmons Limited, Strengthens its Commanding Position as Leading Producers of Metal Beds

NO woman who sees these beautiful beds will wonder at the way they are being received.

Every day goes further to confirm the initiative of Simmons Limited in producing metal bed designs based on the sound principles of line, form and composition—such as the "Colonial," illustrated above.

This Simmons idea of putting real design into metal beds is just the latest example of initiative that has expanded Simmons Limited from one small plant twenty-five years ago to one of the great Canadian industries today.

It was Simmons Limited that first thought of sleep in relation to metal beds.

That led to the Simmons Patented Pressed Steel Corner Lock—the lock that holds the bed together firm, like one piece of metal—the lock that prevents squeak and rattle and makes the bed noiseless, inviting relaxation and deep repose.

They have consistently advocated the Twin Bed principle.

They have invented Springs, too, that yield evenly to the contours of the body—always resilient and elastic.

For example—

"Waldorf" Box Spring—Composed of finest oil-tempered double cone spirals, mounted on a frame of seasoned hardwood and upholstered with heavy layers of white cotton felt. Covered with attractive ticking. Finished with roll edge. A spring that really does give freely to all the contours of the body, yet supports the spine in any sleeping position.

Now this latest achievement—good design in metal beds—involves also the invention of a truly seamless tubing.

You know how it is with the old-fashioned metal beds. The tubing always has a seam running the full length of the tube. It is likely to be rough—does not take the enamel nicely.

When you see these new Simmons Beds, notice especially the tubing—its exquisite finish, free from seam and roughness—and how beautifully it takes the enamel.

YOU will find them in the leading stores—and with them some very charming Brass Beds and Children's Cribs—built for sleep, by Simmons Limited.

Prices of Simmons Beds are little, if any, higher than those of ordinary beds. If you have any trouble finding them we shall be glad to send you the names of Simmons merchants near your home.

THE HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

TO THE BOYS.

You'll never discover new lands my boys,
If you always follow the beaten track.
You'll never stand firm on the mountain height
If you're always halting and gazing back.
Strike out for yourself, but be sure the path
Is not grit with the weeds of sin,
That no sharp edged rocks of some deadly vice
Or pitfall of folly be found therein.

Choose the path of honor and virtue, boys,
And let no one tempt you to swerve aside;
Its guide boards — temperance, purity, truth,
Who follows their guidance few dangers betide
There may not be wealth and fame at the end.
But wealth and fame do not constitute bliss.
A pure, perfect manhood, and noble life—
There's nothing worth striving for, boys, but this.

It's an old, old saying that nothing is so bad but that it could be worse. However, it's a good thought to bear constantly in mind.

Too many girls are the pink of perfection as far as their grooming is concerned before marriage, but after the knot is tied they seem to think that any old dress will do. Queer logic they use.

These so-called reformers should learn that if they would keep quiet and set an example of happy, attractive morality and unselfishness, they would be much more successful than with their present aggressive and disagreeable meddling.

Sometimes we hear a growl or a grumble because some loved one demands too much time and attention. Don't grow impatient or feel that the burden is too heavy. Some day you will be so glad and thankful for every little thing you did to make the lief of that loved one happier and easier.

The henpecked husband has been the subject for many a joke but he is a pitiful creature nevertheless. The outside of the house is the only side which really belongs to him. But sorry a creature as he is, his wife is even more to be pitied. She has turned her life and her home into a vinegar press and is surprised that her husband whom she caught with honey cannot be held with vinegar. If it is not too late let her stop now and realize that if this constant scolding continues she can never hope to create the sunny, cheerful fireside that men love better than all the world beside and the memory of which children cling to as long as life lasts.

The time many people give to worry over the depravity of the world, might better be given to self examination and meditation. You cannot live another's life but you can live your own and live it well. Resolve to do and be what you want others to do and be. It is more important to be than to do, remember, if you do something worth while you are sure to be something worth while.

A temper is not a trait to be cultivated, but there are different kinds of temper and some are more agreeable to live with than others. Better a thousand times a quick fiery temper that spits out its grievances, and is over in ten minutes, even though the ten minutes may be tempestuous, than one that sulks and nurses its grievance for days. Half the time a sulky person has nothing to sulk over and if he would let people know what is the matter with him he would find this out.

How few people are contented with their lot. The carpenter wants to be anything but a carpenter, and the mason anything but a mason, and the editor anything but an editor and everyone would be happy if he were something else. The violet wants to be a sunflower and the apple orchards throw down their blossoms because they are not tall cedars. Parents have the worst children that ever were born, and each one has the greatest misfortune, and everything is upside down, or going to be.

Now, gentle reader, you will never make any advance through such a spirit. You cannot fret yourself up but you can fret yourself down. can fretyou can fret yourself down. We brought nothing into the world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out. If we live the right kind of lives, whatever our circumstances may now be, we are going to have a glorious vacation. As in summer we put off our garments and go down into the cool sea to bathe, so we put off our garments of flesh and step into the cool garden of eternity.

To win, to earn and enjoy the fruits of victory, you must play fair.

It is an old truth, but it needs preaching every sunrise, so many do not know it, or, knowing it, do not heed it. If they could only be made to understand, if they could only see things in their true colors, if they could only peer into the hearts of many millionaires, they would order their lives more rationally and enjoy life more thoroughly.

To win out you must play the game every time.

Don't fool yourself that So-and-So has everything he wants. Do you imagine that he doesn't know how you and other people regard him? And do not think for a moment that he enjoys being looked at askance, or that he wouldn't exchange most of hise ill-gotten gains to stand high with you and other people—and to stand high with himself.

The things that count are the things that last. Playing the game lasts.

KANSAS HAS NEW INDUSTRIAL LAW

UNLAWFUL FOR EITHER LABOUR OR CAPITAL TO SUSPEND PRODUCTION.

TOPEKA, — "Kansas Industrial court law", said Governor Allen, "founded on the fundamental principle that the safety of the public is supreme. It applies with equal force to capital or to labor when either takes a course dangerous to the safety of the health of the people. It is not intended to deprive any man of the right to quit work, or any capitalist of legitimate business rights, but will deprive capital of the power to prey upon public necessity, and the professional labor agitator of his occupation of exploiting labor controversies.

"It had its origin in the Kansas coal strike last winter. There was a dispute over a wage scale and the men quit work. The mine owners made no effort to operate; the territory was 100% unionized, and the union leaders said production would never be allowed until their demand of a 60% increase and a 6-hour day, 5 days a week, was granted. This was in the winter. Both parties had provided themselves with coal in anticipation of the struggle while supply available to the public was not sufficient for two weeks when the strike began. The public suffering in homes and hospitals seemed to count for nothing. Even a large hospital in the center of the coal district was cut off from coal in zero weather. When an attempt to operate a small pit for the use of his hospital was made the men who were union miners, were ordered to quit. The union officials were told that unless fuel was provided there would be death among the sick in the hospital. But their reply was no, a pound should be mined even for the helpless inmates of the hospital.

"Something similar to this was seen in the milk strike in Chicago where, under orders of the union officials, ambulances carrying milk to the hospitals were stopped, the milk cans taken out and emptied.

"At this stage, when public suffering and death was imminent, the State intervened, not for the purpose of helping or human either side to the controversy, but to insure the safety of the people. The State took possession of the mines, and supplied the people with fuel. Perhaps this is the first time a State has refused to recognize the claim that a strike or a lockout in an industry dealing with a necessary of life is a purely private quarrel in which the public has nothing to say no matter how much it may be hurt.

"Heretofore there has been no way provided for a just solution of labor troubles. Always strikes and lockouts have been settled on a temporary basis, in which the third party has had no voice. To provide against any more of this kind of warfare at the expense of the people of Kansas, this industrial court law was enacted.

"It is a principle of law that a business affected with a public interest is subject to State regulation. Railroads and public utilities are regulated in the public interest. Our civilization has become so complex that an interference with the production of food, fuel or clothing may cause public suffering and danger greater than would be by cessation of the service of a public utility. In order to prevent the people from suffering a lack of food, fuel clothing or other necessaries of life organized labor as well as organized capital must be prevented from arbitrarily preventing their production or carriage to market.

"The law declares these industries vital to human life to be impressed with a public interest. Among other things it makes it unlawful for any person or association (labor or capital to suspend production or shipment of necessaries, or limit the same in order to effect prices, and provides for a continuity of production or transportation when controversy threatens between employer and employee.

"The right of collective bargaining is not denied; the right of negotiations between employer and employee is not denied. But when these fail and the public is menaced by a class war, the State should, and by this law it will, intervene and say that neither capital nor labor shall limit production or transportation of the necessaries of life and endanger the public health. The safety of the people—all the people—is supreme to that of any single interest, or group of interests."

ELECTRICAL TERMS ALL SHOULD KNOW

HOUSEWIFE OFTEN CONFUSED AS TO THEIR CORRECT APPLICATION.

(1) The term plug as employed with reference to lighting circuits is the connecting device at the end of a lamp cord, by means of which the cord and attached appliances are electrically connected with a lamp socket or wall receptacle to complete the circuit to the lamp.

(2) Socket is used to designate the device into which a lamp or plug is screwed to complete the circuit, and the word is qualified as lamp or wall socket.

(3) Receptacle refers to a type of wall socket placed in baseboards or in walls, usually flushed with the wall and fitted with a cover. It may or may not be of the screwed type but into which a plug designed to fit it can be placed and the attached cord and lamp or other appliances connected to the circuit.

(4) Outlet designates the place in the general wiring where lamp fixtures, sockets, receptacles or switches are placed and connected.

(5) Switch, a general term, denoting a device for making or breaking an electric current, is usually qualified by its particular application as lamp switch, which is a part of a lamp socket; wall switch, used for controlling lamps from an adjacent wall; knife switch, employed to connect or disconnect the entire house wiring etc.

(6) Fuse, a metal strip or wire that melts at a low temperature, is inserted in the circuit permanently to protect apparatus or guard against overheated wire. When the current from any cause exceeds the prescribed limit for the appliance of wires, the fuse melts and thus disrupts the circuit.

None of these terms may be used interchangeably. The layman should study them carefully to master the proper application.

WARNER DRUG CO., LTD.

THIN, NERVOUS PEOPLE NEED BITRO-PHOSPHATE

Weak, thin people—men or women—are nearly always nervous wrecks; thus conclusively proving that thinness, weakness, debility and neurasthenia are almost invariably due to nerve starvation. Feed your nerves and all these symptoms due to nerve starvation will disappear.

Eminent specialists state that one of the best things for the nerves is an organic phosphate known among druggists as Bitro-Phosphate, a five-grain tablet of which should be taken with each meal. Being a genuine nerve builder and not a stimulant or habit-forming drug, Bitro-Phosphate can be safely taken by the weakest and most delicate sufferer, and the results following its use are often simply astonishing.

By strengthening the nerves, weak, tired people regain energy and vigor; thinness and angularity give way to plumpness and curves; sleep returns to the sleepless; confidence and cheerfulness replace debility and gloom; dull eyes become bright, and pale, sunken cheeks regain the pink glow of health.

CAUTION.— Bitro-Phosphate, the use of which is inexpensive, also wonderfully promotes the assimilation of food, so much so, that many people report marked gains of weight in a few weeks. Those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh, should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

PREDICTS "PLUCKING

It's not from any desire to spoil any scholar's holiday or because we wish to be a prophet of woe, but we just cannot help telling what the University Lady Who is Marking Papers remarked this week.

"I cannot help thinking," said she "that there will be more matriculation students plucked this year than usual. No, it's not because the examination papers were any harder than usual, it's just because students to-day aren't giving as much time to study as they once did. They're having too good a time and too much money to spend. Why, I've been appalled at some of the allowances some of our girls have these days! Study seems the last thing many of them go to school for now. Is it any wonder we are not turning out the brilliant men we once did? There's one sub that used to sicken me last winter. I know a brilliant and successful man in this town who, when a boy used to trudge from his farm home to a school some miles away. To-day he lives but a short distance from the college buildings, yet his automobile brings his young son to school every morning. I suppose his father will be shocked some day to find his son's as soft and useless as he is hard and fit!"

HOW DRY I AM.

To see a real, honest to goodness down in the mouth, envious bunch of peole one should go to Swift Current and stand around the corner of Central Avenue and Cheadle Street when the drays are delivering a car load of real Scotch to the Hudson Bay warehouse there. We know 'cause we saw them, and we felt as bad as any of them, but what beats us is that they do not require an armed escort for each dray load.—Morse News.

THREE HUNDRED MILLION BUSHELS CROP ESTIMATE

CALGARY, July 19.—Three hundred million bushels is the estimate at present placed upon the wheat crop of the three western provinces by J. M. Cameron, general superintendent of the Alberta division of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who returned to Calgary Monday morning after a close inspection of some portions of the province.

Alberta's quota, he said, would be somewhere about seventy million bushels.

BIG REVENUE FROM THE LUXURY TAX

EXPECTED TO YIELD 100 MILLION A YEAR—INCOME TAX GREATLY INCREASED.

OTTAWA, July 19.—While no official figures will be available till early in August, the receipts from the operation of the new Budget, it is learned at the Finance Department, are most encouraging. When the Budget was delivered it was not possible to make any accurate estimate, though from the total turnover in Canadian trade some idea was had of the revenue from the sale tax. What would come from the luxury taxes was more problematical.

Big New Revenue.

By some the total new revenue was estimated at $100,000,000 a year, and it is understood that the receipts so far fully justify this conclusion. While the trades affected are believed to be pretty generally conforming to the law, there are delinquents, and the results cannot properly be sized up until they are got after. It is intended to apply the law very vigorously.

Big Income Tax Receipts.

In the current financial statement distinction is drawn for the first time between active and non-active assets. Non-active assets, including railways, to the amount of $250,000,000 have been struck off in computing the net debt, which is now placed at two billion three hundred millions. There is also a special column for war tax revenue duly itemized. In the first three months of the fiscal year the business profits tax has produced 8 1-2 millions, the income tax 4 1-2 millions and other war taxes over 6 millions. The increase in income taxes is remarkable. In the corresponding period of last year it produced only $130,448.

LAKEFIELD LEADERS OF EAST PETERBORO LEAGUE

BILL MORRISON'S TEAM WON EXCITING GAME FROM KEENE LAST NIGHT—BIG CROWD ROOTED AS RUNS CAME OVER THE PLATE.

To the acompaniment of feminine shrieks, wild hurrahs, and all the other frills that go to make baseball the premier summer pastime, Lakefield and Keene East Peterborough League teams battled at Lakefield last evening, Bill Morrison's lads coming through with a victory by the score of 10 to 6. They are now league leaders.

Big League trimmings were in order throughout the game, with Alex. Kay, umpire-in-chief, and Jake Solomon giving decisions at the bases. Ward Patterson, vice-president of the O.B.A.A., and Max Swanston, the Peterborough Central League backstop, saw the game, and the O.B.A.A. official was hugely pleased with the performance of the teams in the newest acquisition to the ranks of amateur baseball.

Keene arrived at the ball grounds minus the regular first baseman, and the line-up had to be changed. This weakened their defence. Hugh Renwick and Paudash, who played the bag, were unlucky enough to get some difficult chances, and failure to handle them helped the Lakefield team along the paths. Otherwise, the Keen lads were just as good as the Northerners. George and Joe Odette were a strong battery, the formr getting nine strike-outs and keeping the hits well scattered.

Dick Lush, twirling for Lakefield, played a prominent part in the victory. Only in the fourth did he falter, when he was touched for four singles to which he added a hit by pitcher and a pass. He recorded the longest hit of the game, hitting the first ball pitched to him in the third far beyond the reach of Ambrose Dorris in left field, and he was playing deep. He stopped at second base. Lakefield got the only extra base wallops, "Hop" Manning also getting a double in the sixth.

Left-fielder Erskine featured the fielding performances with a grand catch of Hall's hard fly in the fourth.

Keene had a strong contingent of rooters, who made the most of every play against Lakefield, in an effort to encourage their favourites. The visitors, the player, included, took their defeat in true sportsmanlike manner.

First Innings.

J. Odette leading off for Keene was retired at first on a speedy grounder to Manning. Fletcher also grounded and was thrown out by Moore. Manning made another nice play on Nelson's grounder, retiring the side.

For Lakefield J. Hull sent up an infield fly which Paudash accepted. Erskine and Fitzgerald fanned, and the Keene rooters had a field day.

Second Innings.

Hugh Renwick struck out. Paudash lined down first, but Fitzgerald got the ball and beat the runner to the bag. Harry Renwick missed three.

The pitcher threw out Adams. Moore made the first hit of the game, a single over short. He made second on an error at first base, following the return of the ball Manning flew out to Hall and Nelson grounded out.

Third Innings.

Manning allowed George Odette's grass cutter to go through, and Hall shot a single through the box and second base. With Dorris batting Odette tried to steal third and was nipped on a nice throw by Adams. Dorris was hit. J. Odette was passed filling the bases. Fletcher dropped a hit into middlefield, scoring Hall. Nelshort hit. After an attempt to get Odette was thrown out at third by Fitzgerald after Hugh Renwick had made a bag on Moore's error. Paudash hit in Fletcher and Nelson. Harry Renwick stopped the fun by fanning. Four runs.

Lakefield got them all back and one to spare. Charlton fanned, but Lush doubled, going to third on a passed ball, and scoring on Hull's single. Hull made second and third, and came home on Erskine's hit through short. Fitzgerald missed three, but Odette had to throw him out. Adams also fanned. Odette dropped the third strike and threw badly to first, allowing Adams to make the bag, and Erskine to score. A wild throw by Paudash on Moore's grounder allowed Adams to score. Manning was safe when Fletcher mussed up his grounder, and Moore crossed the plate. Manning was thrown out at second by the pitcher. Five runs.

Fourth Innings.

George Odette grounded out, and Erskine captured Hall's fly. Dorris hit into centre and made second on Hall's throw. J. Odette beat out a short hit. After an attempt to get Odette at second, the ball was returned to the plate badly and Dorris scored. Fletcher was thrown out by Lush. One run.

Pollard was sent to right field, Paudash to first, Harry Renwick to second, and Hugh Renwick to short. Nelson starting the fourth for Lakefield hit down first base line. The Umps called it a fair ball and the base-umpire called the runner safe, after Paudash had gone down on all fours in an attempt to get the ball. "A fouk," said Paudash to Nelson, and the latter walked away to the Lakefield bench. He was called out by Umpire Solomon, and the Keene rooters had a big laugh. Charlton fanned, Lush was safe on Hugh Renwick's error. Hull singled, but no runs developed as Erskine was thrown out at first.

Fifth Innings.

Nelson hit down third for a base and stole second. Harry Renwick fanned. Nelson made third on Adams' error and scored on Paudash's single into right. Adams threw out Paudash at second. Hugh Renwick fanned. One run.

Fitzgerald struck out. Adams scored on a wild pitch. George Odette failed to get Manning's high fly. Nelson was passed. Charlton hit through first, scoring Manning, and Nelson made home on a wild throw to the plate. Keene worked the hidden ball trick on Charlton for an out after Lush's fly had been dropped by Hall. Three runs.

Sixth Innings.

George Odette flew out to second. Hall singled. A wild pitch helped him along, but he failed to get home, as Lush fanned Dorris and J. Odette.

Hull singled down first, made second and third, and scored on Paudash's error, off Erskine's grounder. Fitzgerald fanned. Adams was thrown out when Hall dropped Moore's fly. Erskine scored. Manning doubled. Nelson fanned. Two runs.

Seventh Innings.

Pollard gave Lush a battle, but finally struck out. Nelson beat out a bunt down third and stole second. He tried to make third, but Adams sniped him with an acurate peg. Harry Renwick ended the game by the strike-out route.

NEW PULP MILL.

It is just within the probabilities that Calabogie will have a pulp mill in the very near future. There are hundreds of acres of raw material in the vicinity, and Senator O'Brien is very active in pushing the mill proposition. The villagers are very enthusiastic and they will subscribe to the stock.

Alkali In Shampoos Bad For Washing Hair

Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

SMALL FORESTAY SAIL GREAT HELP TO CHALLENGER

(Canadian Press)

SANDY HOOK, July 30. — Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger, Shamrock IV sailed over starting line ahead of the Resolute in to-day's race for America's cup and breezed away on the first ten mile leg and reach out to sea.

Although crossing the line first the Lipton craft had trouble with its ballooner which would not break out. The British sailors worked feverishly to clear the fouled sail. The Resolute sailed past the Shamrock twenty minutes after the start. It appeared to observers that sail handling on the challenger had been bungled. Resolute gradually increased her lead and at one o'clock Shamrock was half mile astern but somewhat to weather. Shamrock passed Resolute again at one ten.

Stretches Gap to Half Mile

At one thirty a southwester seemed to be working out toward yachts and taking first breath of it at 1.45 Shamock increased her lead to nearly half mile, first mark at that time being about four miles to leeward. At 2 p.m. Resolute had gained again cutting down Shamrock's lead to quarter of a mile.

At two with mark to leeward, three miles away, Resolute gybed to starboard and headed for it. Shamrock had overstood mark in effort to pick up new breeze and she lost quarter mile by move. Shamrock headed for mark two minutes later, she led Resolute by six hundred yards when rounding first mark.

The wind breezed up more to north wet as the yachts turned the first mark at 2.40. Shamrock was forging ahead again and had set a baby jib top-sail. At three the yachts had sailed about three miles of the second leg with Shamrock leading by fully half mile. Both boats were able to lay down their course for second mark and it seemed as if they would be able to do same on third leg.

Yachting experts concede Shamrock has chance to win within time limit.

Several excursion boats loaded with spectator evidently concluded that the yachts could not finish within time limit for a number of them put back to New York. A feature of second hour of the race was the work of Shamrock's little forestry sail which hauled her by Resolute and at one time gave her lead of half mile. The time to first mark was Shamrock 2.12.40 and Resolute's 2.16.15.

To-day's race is really the resailing of Saturday's which was called off when both yachts drifted helplessly in a calm. It is over a triangular course. Shamrock intended to use a large club topsail in the race to-day and as a result was required to give Resolute a time allowance of 7 min. 10 sec., or 21 seconds more than the previous allowance.

3.30—Shamrock mile and quarter ahead at 3.30 p.m.

At three fifteen — Half the time limit and the half course covered, Shamrock leading by nearly a mile.

Race exciting at 4.30 p.m. Shamrock ghosting along and nearing the second mark with nearly three hour to finish the race; Resolute just moving about mile astern.

MANY COME TO CANADA

C.P.R. SAYS THAT IMMIGRANTS ARE OF BETTER TYPE THAN USUAL.

MONTREAL, July 19.—The publicity department of the C.P.R. states that the great European invasion Canada has been experiencing since shipping was released is very general and drawing immigrants from a large area. Every continental country of all yand neutral is contributing its quota to this persistent stream. Every steamer sailing from European ports for the Dominion is filled to capacity and the class of the new Canadian settler was never higher nor of a better type. The Canadian ocean services alone handled 26,126 passengers in April and May, and of this total 15,350 avowed the intention of settling in the Dominion. A party of 65 husky Hollanders went through to Alberta where they are taking farms. Majority of them were accompanied by their families and the party represented capital to the extent of $80,000 which is being put into western land. The Hollanders are all expert farmers.

COST OF LIVING IS STILL RISING

OTTAWA, July 19.—(Can. Press). —The cost of living is still rising. Returns made to the labor department show that the weekly family budget of staple foods averaged $16.92 at the middle of June, as compared with $16.66 in May and $7.35 in June, 1914. The index number of wholesale prices fell considerably, however. For June it was 349.3, as compared with 385.6 for May, 284.1 for June, 1919, and 135.3 for June, 1914.

PREPARING FOR TWO YEARS

WHY SOUTH AFRICA WON SO MANY PRIZES AT BISLEY.

LONDON, July 19.— Mancnester despatch says, reason for so many prizes going to South Africa in the Bisley matches is that for two years they have been preparing for this event and for the Olympic. At the final gathering of Canadian teams, Major Elmitt spoke highly of the younger teams, especially Lieut. Jno. Chandler and Pte. J. Irvine, whose longest range lifted Canada to second place in the McKinnon Cup competition.

CUPID A BUSY CHERUB THE LAST SIX MONTHS

134 COUPLES MARRIED IN PETERBORO—$670 TAKEN IN FEES.

Taking $5 as the sum, one of the local clergy states is a fair average of the fee paid on such occasions, $670 was realized by the clergymen of the different denominations in the city for the 134 wedding services performed during the past half year. The fee basis was struck after considering the many who pay the officiating clergyman $5, the few $10 and the frequent $1 and such an instance as when recently a local pastor, anticipating leaving a substantial fee for the pastor he was relieving, having performed a marriage ceremony, was cordially thanked and the fee apparently considered an undesirable extra.

Methodists Ahead.

Cupid directed his activities during the above mentioned time principally towards the Methodists, who led in the number of weddings with a total of 42. This was run a close second by the Presbyterians, who had 33, the Church of England comes next with 26, the Roman Catholic Church 18, the Baptist Church 8, the Salvation Army 6, and the Re-organized Church of Jesus Christ of Later Day Saints 1.

The Greatest Number.

To Rev. A. J. Thomas fell the distinction of preforming the greatest number of marriage services, he having 17 to his credit. Rev. A. W. MacKenzie was but one behind, Rev. R. B. Grobb 12, Rev. Robert Pogue officiated at 11, Archdeacon Davidson at 10, Rev. J. F. Chapman 9, Rev. F. E. Malott 8, Rev. C. J. Phelan 7, Rev. G. E. Ross 7, Adjutant Bunton and Rev. J. R. Webb tied at 6, Rev. Walter White performed 5, Rev. Father Cote 3, Dean McColl 2, Rev. Dongald Brown 2, Father Costello, Rev. Rowand, Rev. B. J. Greatrix and Rev. Cruikshanks 1 each.

The Smiths Lead.

The great family of Smith lead in numbers for weddings, three of them having been led to the altar.

OBITUARY

MRS. G. W. HALL.

Jemima Chambers, wife of Mr. G. W. Hall, 314 Dalhousie street, died last night at the family residence after an illness of about five years' duration. Deceased, who was born in Cambray forty-eight years ago, had resided in this city for the past twelve years, and had during her residence been a faithful and devoted member of Knox church. She leaves of the immediate family three daughters, Keturah, Mrs. Roland Bestard, and Ella, and one son Clarence, all residing in the city. Four brothers and three sisters also survive, namely: William Chambers of Cambray, Harry of Lindsay, John of Lindsay, and Elder G. A. Chambers of Arnprior, Mrs. John Beach of Lindsay, Mrs. Edward Stevens of Toronto and Mrs. George Hughes of Kinmount.

The funeral will take place from the family residence to the Little Lake cemetery on Wednesday afternoon, at 2.30, Rev. J. A. MacKenzie officiating.

REVOLTING CRUELTY TO NIECE BY HER UNCLE

GIRL LASHED WITH WHIP BECAUSE SHE TOOK PIECE OF BREAD.

TORONTO, July 20.—A vicious-looking whip and a pair of handcuffs were produced at yesterday's Police Court as silent witnesses in the case of William H. Farr, accused of revolting cruelty towards his six-year-old orphan niece, Alice Budd, who resided at the Farr home at 50 Ivy Ave.

Only evidence sufficient to send Farr for trial was submitted, and the story outlined was to the effect that following a week's existence on bread and water the little girl tried to help herself to a small pice of bread, and for this was lashed with the whip by Farr, who afterwards shackled the mite to the cellar stair and went off to enjoy himself at a picnic.

The girl managed to free herself from the handcuffs, and when Farr returned home late at night detectives were not only waiting to arrest him, but to protect him from the vengeance of the neighbours.

It was stated that the girl's body bore numerous scars which suggested that she had been the victim of severe lashings with the whip.

Magistrate Denison refused to grant Farr bail.

WEDDING BELLS

ROBINSON—SPIERS.

At the village of Lang, Ont., the marriage of Miss Lillian Spiers took place at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Spiers, the groom being Mr. Charles Wilfred Robinson, of Toronto. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. E. Honey, of Keene, in the presence of numerous relatives. The bride was attired in white georgette, wearing also a pearl necklace, and carrying Columbia roses. Little Bettie McClure added charm as flower girl. Following the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served. The bride was the recipient of many handsome and useful presents. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson left in the evening for a brief honeymoon trip to Michigan, whence they will return to reside in Toronto.

Resolute Passes Shamrock in Early Stage of To-day's Race

NOT EXCITED BY FORTUNE

HIRED MAN WHO HAS INHERITED TWO MILLION DOLLAR ESTATE WILL FINISH THE HAYING.

SETS TOWN TALKING

BOSTON, July 21.— David Nicoll Cant, 37 years old and a bachelor, working for a farmer in Boylston, Mass., who has been notified that he shares in the $2,000,000 estate left by his father in Scotland, is just about the coolest and most collected individual in Boylston. All the rest of the town is so excited about David's million dollar windfall that it can think and talk about little else.

But David has been in this country some twenty years, nine of which he has put in farming, so he is not easily excited. All Boylston looked to David to pack up and start for Scotland immediately. But David couldn't see it that way. He had hired out to Farmer Stark ,and if ever his boss needed a hired man it is just now, when labor is so scarce and high priced, with one of the biggest hay crops in years waiting to be gathered.

David declared he will see his boss through the haying season, anyway, and perhaps longer. He feels sure that the fortune in Scotland will not lose anything by a little waiting. Once the crops are gathered and Mr. Stark says it is O.K., David will pack up and start for the homeland, there to meet his three sisters and two brothers.

David's father, who was a wholesale liquor dealer, died seven years ago and from that date the family has been trying to locate David. When David left home with his chum it was to seek work in America. The chum landed a job on a farm and worked Dave in. Dave did not like the place, so drifted about, finally landing with Farmer Stark nine years ago, where he has since been working for his $30 per month and board and room.

As to matrimony he has no definite plans. Having lived thirty-seven years without a mate he is inclined to think he can travel the rest of his journey that way, although he admits that the possession of a comfotrable fortune and homeland sights and scenes may change his point of view.

Seeing Dave in his farm duds hustling in the hay, then milking cows and doing the chores, one would never dream he could ever give it up. He goes about his work as though it was the one object in his life. He is rated so highly on the Stark farm that they have doubts of ever being able to fill his shoes.

A. V. SHADGETT,

ARGENTINE COARSE WOOL UNSALEABLE

200,000,000 Pounds on Hand and More in Sight.

BUENOS AIRES, July 5.—The cessation of the demand for coarse grades of wool for army uniforms and the refusal of the average people, in spite of the high cost of living, to buy clothing made of the coarse grades, has left Argentina with more than 200,000,000 pounds of almost unsalable wool on its hands, according to a local manufacturer of woollen cloth, interviewed by La Nacion.

This huge quantity will be increased during the shearing season in July and August. As the production of wool in this country is growing year by year, the problem of selling the coarser grades is considered very serious. One reason for the situation is that formerly Argentine sheep breeders had thought more of the meat than the wool, with the result that their stock became mixed and the consequent wool coarse and not uniform.

Fined for Speeding

A. CHERNIKOFF ORDERED TO PAY $23.10 INTO COURT—TRIED TO BARGAIN WITH CHIEF FOR $5 FINE.

WITNESS FAILED HIM

A Chernikoff is, to use the vernacular, out of luck. His witness, Louis Loew, who was to have appeared this morning in Police Court to corroborate Chernikoff's story that he was not driving his car at a rate greater than 15 miles an hour on Tuesday, the 13th, and thus save Chernikoff from what he considers the grasping hands of P. C. Thomas, who, so Chernikoff says," has a grudge against him," has gone on his honeymoon.

Mr. Chernikoff realised that all was lost and did not trouble to put in an appearance in Court, though he proposed to Chief Thompson that if the fine could be reduced to $5.00 he would plead guilty. The Chief declared, however, that he could give no cut rates.

As a result, the Court found Chernikoff guilty of speeding, and set the cost of the joy-ride at $23.10, to be paid in five days, or in default of payment, thirty days in jail.

Chernikoff may now be more "scared of red-headed p'licemen," as he declared in Court yesterday, and P. C. Thomas might do well to have his beat changed.

In reference to the Police Court report in yesterday's Examiner, Mr. A. Chernikoff states that so far as British justice is concerned, as applied to himself, he is glad to be able to say that he has enjoyed more privileges in America than elsewhere, and that there is no more loyal subject of British law than himself.

RECORD OF POLICE COURT INCREASING

NINE MORE CASES SINCE JUNE 1ST THAN IN SAME PERIOD LAST YEAR.

An increase in the number of Police Court convictions is shown by the police records for the period of 50 days from June 1st to July 20th of this year and last. Excepting convictions under the Military Service Act, which is now inoperative, and convictions by the Canadian Pacific Railway for trespassing and theft from railway cars during the campaign of C.P.R. detectives in this district last summer, the records show an increase in ordinary convictions of 9, last year's records showing 67 ordinary convictions for this period and this year's 76.

Following are the figures:

June 1st to July 20th, 1919.

Ordinary convictions	67
Breach of Military Service Act	27
Trespass on C.P.R.	8
Theft from C.P.R.	12
Total	114

June 1st to July 20th, 1920.

Ordinary convictions	76
Increase in ordinary convictions	9

Increase in Breaches of Temperance Act.

Breaches of the Ontario Temperance Act have increased 50 per cent. over last year. For this period last year there were 12 convictions for breach of the O.T.A.; this year there were 19.

July Shows Increases Over June Already.

Though only 20 days of July have passed this month already shows an increase in convictions over June of 4. Last month there were 6 convictions; this month there have already been 40.

LABOUR AND U.F.O. MEET

PRELIMINARY SURVEY OF LOCAL RIDING WITH EYES ON SEAT VACATED BY MR. BURNHAM.

REPRESENTATIVE MEETING

Equal numbers of farmers and labour men assembled in the Trades and Labour Hall last night for a conference upon the political situation in West Peterborough. All the townships in this riding were represented, except Ennismore, and several of those who were present stated that the spirit of the meeting was strongly in favour of another combination of rural and city forces in a drive to capture the local Federal seat. It was believed that Ennismore would fall in line with the other townships and would make a showing similar to that in the last provincial elections.

A South Monaghan farmer was particularly keen for political action to secure the vacancy created by the resignation of Mr. J. H. Burnham, and it was generally felt that a campaign under the U.F.O.-Labour direction would be successful. Labour men pointed out that in this riding the farmers were considered to be less organised than in many other constituencies, but the assurance was given in reply that the rural sections were more united here than might be generally realised, and that during the last six months organisation had been widely extended.

No action was taken last night. Opinions were freely exchanged, and it was decided to call another meeting for next Tuesday night, when it was expected that the new movement will take definite form, and that plans will be outlined for a vigorous campaign.

REAL ESTATE TAKES ANOTHER SPLURGE

BUSINESS LAST WEEK SHOWED A DECIDED IMPROVEMENT.

An impetus has been given to the real estate turnover in this city in the last few weeks due to the cessation of the C.G.E. strike and the influx into Peterboro of many new families. More people are buying houses than during the past two or three months when it was "flat".

Propective house purchasers are urged by the real estate men to buy now for with the new families that will come into town when the Raybestos Co., Alladin Co., and others concerns get under way, houses will be as scarce as "hen's teeth."

One local real estate concern reports a sale of approximately $20,000 worth of houses last week made up of one $9,000 house two $3,500 and one $2,600 residence.

Another dealer has five families seeking houses. Houses are low in Peterboro they find and until the price goes higher to a point where it will be profitable to build houses there will be little building. People want to buy a house for next to nothing dealers say, and they want the price regulated by the cost of materials when it was built instead of the price to-day. For example a resident of Peterboro built two houses in 1917 for $3,300 apiece. Now the highest price paid for any lumber in the house excluding that for hardwood floors which was $85, was $26 a thousand. To-day this same lumber ranges from $60 to $65 a thousand and hardwood flooring costs around $300. This house would now cost $8,000 but you can't get that, for it, they say. One dealer stated he had numerous seven and eight roomed houses now at $5,000 and $6,000 and the present is the time to buy for the price is bound to advance and next year the same house will sell for $7,000 and $8,000.

The boom that started in Peterboro in the spring a dealer pointed out was not strong enough to push the price of houses high enough to make building absolutely necessary or profitable such as had been the case in Toronto and Oshawa and he believed there would be little building unless a real boom began or the price of lumber and building materials fell.

There were very few houses to rent he said and few apartments and every flat or suite of rooms in the city would be filled this winter.

TWO GIRLS DROWN AT MOUNT FOREST

Reta Cook, Aged 15, Tried to Save Child.

MOUNT FOREST, July 20.—A double drowning accident occurred here this afternoon. The victims were Dorothy Maxwell, aged four years and Reta Cook, aged 15 years. While crossing a foot bridge over the river, Dorothy Maxwell fell in and Reta Cook hastened to the rescue, but the current proved too strong and over-powered her. A third little girl went in after them, but the water being so deep and swift, she was of no assistance and scrambled back to shore.

DR. SUTTON URGES MOTHERS AT CLINIC TO AVOID BOOTS AND STOCKINGS THAT DEFORM LITTLE FEET.

DISSEMINATE KNOWLEDGE

At the meeting of the Well Babies' Clinic held yesterday afternoon at the Great War Veterans' Hall, Dr. N. H. Sutton gave an interesting address to the large representation of mothers, impressing especially upon the assembly the vital necessity of attending to childish deformities and irregularities in earliest infancy. He dealt articularly with the ill-fitting shoe and stocking evil, pointing out the many and varied deformities resulting.

In opening his address, Dr. Sutton outlined the aim of the Clinic—to see that all babies become and continue well. He impressed the audience with the fact that there is no distinction at the Clinic, it being open to all mothers, irrespective of what walk of life they may represent. Dealing with the vital necessity of mothers attending the Clinic, he explained the force it might become in teaching them the skilled and proper care of infants. He said that his most sanguinary hopes of the efficiency of the organisation would be ratified if mutual co-operation of doctors, ladies' committee, and mothers could be secured.

Clearing House.

Speaking of the endless splendid hints which may be picked up from all manner of sources on the care and rearing of children, Dr. Sutton said that one object of the Clinic is to establish a sort of clearing house for the interchange of knowledge.

All Wanted.

"We want the average mother with the average baby," he said, "the mother with the wonderfully healthy baby, wonderfully healthy ofttimes by the grace of God, and not because the mother knows about a baby, the mother with the sickly baby, sickly sometimes because of hereditary tendencies, sickly sometimes because of one or more unavoidable diseases, epidemic or otherwise, sometimse from faulty care, the result of lack of knowledge of what to do or the result of a plentiful stock of wrong knowledge. And," he continued, "we want the young mother or the mother of many who doesn't know whether baby is as well as he ought to be, and whether there is anything to be worried over in his case.

"Lastly, we want all the babies, that the knowledge of one shall be the knowledge of all, so that as nearly as may be the health of all may be maintained at the proper standard, so that the record of all shall be kept."

$60 TO $80 MONTH FOR FARM HELP

BUT LOCAL MEN FIGHT SHY OF AGRICULTURAL LABOUR.

In one day one hundred men could be.. cbmfortably.. established upon farms near Peterborough with wages of from $60 to $85 a month by the Employment Buseau if such men could be secured. Mr. H. Robinson stated to-day that there is practically no excuse for any man to be idle at the present time, with the boundless opportunities offered by farm and construction work now being carried on, and apparently only the very unfit are out of work for any length of time.

All Over Canada.

Shortage of farm help has undoubtedly affected the entire Dominion, and the local employment agency has been surfeited with insistent demands for help from every province. In many districts five hundred men could be immediately placed, all at good wages.

Mr. Robinson said that for some inexplicable reason men fight shy of agricultural pursuits, while almost any other demands on labor may be filled fairly readily.

ORDER COAL TO CANADA

REGULATIONS INTENDED TO AVERT SHORTAGE—PUT BIG TASK ON RAILWAYS.

PRIORITY GIVEN

WASHINGTON, July 20.—New emergency orders were issued to-day by the United States Interstate Commerce Commission, giving priority in the movement of the Winter stock of soft coal to the Northwestern States and Canada.

More than a score of railroads serving mines in Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee, were directed by the commission not only to give preference in the movement of coal for the territory at the head of the Great Lakes, but also to give preference in the supply of cars for such shipments.

Coal operators within the district served by the railroads will be required to fulfil the wants of the northwest before filling orders for other sections, the commission directing the railroads to place an embargo on such latter movement, if it should be attempted by the coal men.

Order May Stand Till Nov. 1.

No date is fixed for the expiration of the orders, which may stand unchanged until the close of navigation on the Great Lakes about November 1st. The northwest, comprising upper Michigan, Minnesota, and Montana, is estimated by coal men to be about 22,000,000 tons short of its winter requirements and to move this quantity would require the daily dumping of more than 4,000 cars at Lake Erie ports, a movement which is believed would set a new record for coal handling there.

The new orders do not set aside but merely supplement previous ones of the commission requiring a sixty-day preference in the supply of open top equipment for the use of the soft coal mines east of the Mississippi.

Announcement of the orders by the commission followed conferences held late last week by coal operations and railroad executives to work out the plans for speeding up the coal movement to the northwest. The plan for priority of movement was submitted to the commission yesterday by a committee of operators and railroad men.

As reasons for its action the commission declared that a shortage of railway equipment and congestion to traffic, aggravated by the labor troubles had created a condition requiring immediate action.

HASTINGS INSISTENT SECURES TROPHIES

ARRANGEMENTS UNDER WAY TO SUITABLY PLACE MACHINE GUNS AND MORTAR.

HASTINGS, July 21.—On November 23rd, 1918, J. H. Hess, Reeve of Hastings, made application to the Department of Militia for some trophies for the municipality. The reply to this letter was not very encouraging. In April, 1919, when the movement for a monument was started he again wrote the department, requesting some trophies for the monument and this time received word that his application would be considered, and requesting a statement of the amount of money contributed to the war, also the number who had enlisted from this vicinity.

On Thursday last the trophies arrived, and consisted of two machine guns and a trench mortar.

It has, as yet, not been decided just when these trophies will be placed in position, but doubtless it will be as soon as suitable arrangements can be made.

SEEKING FINANCIAL AID FOR NEW BRIDGE

CIVIC DEPUTATION INTERVIEW HON. BRIGGS THIS MORNING AND ASK FOR PROVINCIAL GRANT.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, July 21.—A deputation from Peterborough, headed by Mayor McIntyre and T. Tooms, the Local Member, waited upon Hon. Briggs to-day to ask assistance from the Provincial government in the erection of the Hunter street bridge within the City of Peterborough, the cost of which is estimated at $350,000.

The Minister informed the deputation that he could not give a decision in this matter to-day, for inasmuch as the bridge in question was entirely within the municipality he would require to look into the request very carefully.

CAMEL FIGHT ADDS VARIETY TO PARADE

Hoofs and Teeth Accounts for One Being Killed--Attendant Hurt.

MUSKEGON, Mich., July 20.—Several thousand women and children were thrown into a panic when two camels fought until one was killed during the Barnes Circus street parade here to-day. Spectators dashed for safety as the animals fought with hoofs and teeth. Grant Robertson, their trainer, was thrown from one of the animals, and is in a hospital with a broken leg and other injuries. Attendants attacked the animals with clubs, but were unable to stop the fight.

Resolute Leading

SHAMROCK GOT AWAY WELL BUT DEFENDER WORE DOWN HER LEAD AFTER FIRST HOUR.

WIND VERY LIGHT

WILL VISIT TORONTO.

(Canadian Press.)

SANDY HOOK, July 21. — It was announced this afternoon that Sir Thomas Lipton will visit Toronto as soon as the race series finishes. A fete has been arranged in his honor by the Royal Canadian Yacht Club.

SANDY HOOK, July 21.— It was decided to commence the third race for America's Cup at one o'clock, and the preparatory signal was blown at 12.45 for the start. The wind was very light but the yachts seem to pick it up and move fairly fast.

Shamrock Crossed First.

SANDY HOOK, July 21.— With two victories to her credit, Shamrock IV, in to-day's race for America's Cup, defended by the Resolute, Shamrock crossed the starting line nineteen seconds ahead of the American boat, with the skipper making no effort to gain a weather berth. The Resolute worked out about hundred yards but the Shamrock was well ahead and footing faster.

Resolute Sprints.

At 1.40 Shamrock was well out ahead of the Resolute and it seemed as if she would cross the defender's bow if she went about in starboard tack. However, when the yachts came about the Shamrock, which had been ghosting along surprising well, lost the lead, and at 1.58 Resolute was too hundred yards ahead.

Resolute was leading by quarter of a mile at 2.15.

Wind Stiffening.

Resolute gained slightly on every side as the sloops hugged the Jersey shore. The wind was gradually increasing and there was every prospect that the yachts could cover the course within the time limit if it held. Resolute was leading by three-quarters of a mile at 2.45. Wind had increased to nearly ten knots and the sloops lee rails were awash.

Two Minutes Ahead.

Resolute rounded the half way mark two minutes ahead of the Shamrock.

Leads by 00 Yards.

At 4.15 p.m. six miles from finish Resolute leads Shamrock by 300 yards.

BOATS CARRY LITTLE LIQUOR TO THE STATES

REPORTED CONSIGNMENTS TO VISITORS SEEM MYTHICAL.

The much prophesied exodus from the land of the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act to Canadian summer resorts has come, but the accompanying consignments of wet goods from Montreal to the American summer visitors in this district seems mythical.

Captain F. C. Young, of the Stoney Lake Navigation Company, when interviewed this forenoon, stated that very little liquor was being carried by the boats to Stoney Lake. On his almost daily trips to the lakes he seldom saw cases of liquor, he said.

He stated that as most of the American summer colony were quartered at the summer hotels, it would be impossible for them to receive consignments of wet goods, the summer hotels not being classified under the Ontario Temperance Act as private residences.

ALARMED AT CRIME WAVE

SINN FEIN LEADERS SAID TO BE FRIGHTENED BY TREND OF REPUBLICAN MOVEMENT.

DISCUSS SETTLEMENT

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, July 21.—Sinn Fein and the British government are prepared to discuss, if they are not already discussing, a basis of probable settlement of the Irish question, according to a statement recorded by the Daily Mail's Dublin correspondent, who says Irish political circles where this report is current are usually well informed about important moves at Westminster. Both Sinn Fein and Labor leaders in Dublin are very busy, adds the correspondent and important statements are expected to be made at Thursday's debate in the House of Commons.

The alarming increase of crime in Ireland, the correspondent says, is frightening responsible leaders of the Irish Republican party, many of whom appear to be inclined to listen to any generous offer from Downing street. But it is understood the Home Rule Bill now being considered by Parliament must first be shelved before the leaders will enter into negotiations.

MEETINGS PROHIBITED.

Right of Assembly Abrogated in the City of Cork.

(Canadian Press.)

CORK, July 21.— A sensation was created here to-day by the issuance of a proclamation by Major-General Strickland, commander in Southern Ireland, prohibiting meetings, assemblies and processions in a three mile limit of the general post office. This proclamation will become effective to-night. It affects many important local fixtures including city regatta.

GOVERNMENT ACTS IN THOROLD CASE

SENDS DETECTIVE TO INVESTIGATE MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE OF GIRL CHILDREN.

ST. CATHARINES, July 21. — A Government detective arrived in Thorold yesterday to work on the mystery of the disappearance of Catherine Beechman and Margaret Boucock, but last night there were no new developments in the case.

The detective will interrogate David McNeil in Welland Jail, who is held in connection with the Boucock girl's disappearance. It is possible there may be a statement from McNeil when he appears before the Magistrate on Friday.

The authorities are investigating every lead which might bring something to light.

WAS AMBIGUOUS.

Soviet's Reply Intended for Home Consumption, Premier Says.

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, July 20.—Premier Lloyd George addressing the House of Commons to-day said that Soviet answer to the Allies regarding peace with Poland was incoherent ambiguous and propaganda largely intended for home consumption. So far as he could understand, however, Soviet indicated its willingness to negotiate direct with Poland.

LONDON WOMAN PICKED RIGHT UP FROM START

MRS. ELIZABETH GRAY WAS AMAZED AT THE WAY TANLAC OVERCAME HER TROUBLE—SLEEPS LIKE A CHILD ALL NIGHT NOW.

According to the testimony of the multiplied thousands who have used it, there is nothing more invigorating than Tanlac to persons suffering from the after-effects of influenza, la grippe, typhoid, pneumonia, or a serious operation, or who are in a run-down condition. Another striking instance of this is the case of Mrs. Elizabeth Gray, of 12 Elmwood Ave., London, Ont., Canada, who made the following statement:

"For two years I was in a very bad state of health and my appetite was so poor that I had no interest whatever in mealtimes. I was constipated most of the time, and suffered from the most dreadful headaches, which so affected my nerves that I could not stand the children around me. At such times too I would have spells of dizziness when I would nearly topple over. I had rheumatism badly in my knees and ankles which pained me so badly that sometimes when down town I could hardly get home. I was very weak and it was only by frequently resting that I was able to do the housework. I just felt tired and languid all the time and it was misery to try and get around, and I was really desperate to know what to do.

"I had read so much in the London papers of the great good that people were deriving from Tanlac that I decided to try it too, and I must confess that I was amazed at the good results which I got from even the first bottle. I began to pick up right from the start and soon had an appetite such as I had not known for years. I was able to take good nourishing food and I put on flesh rapidly. I am never troubled with headaches or dizziness now. The rheumatism seems to have left me entirely, so that I haven't an ache or a pain left in my body. I sleep like a child all night, and get up in the mornings feeling fully rested and strong enough for any task. Tanlac is a most wonderful medicine and I am delighted to have the chance to recommend it."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowlers Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle and Sons. (Advt.)

ROLLS-ROYCE IN U. S. A.

Men Come Over From England to Turn Out Cars at Springfield Branch.

NEW YORK. — Claude Johnson, managing director of the parent Rolls-Royce Co., who has been in this country for the past three weeks in connection with the starting of operations at the American branch at Springfield, Mass, sailed for England on the Imperator. Mr. Johnson said:

"We started machining operations at Springfield, which means we shall turn out cars by the end of the year. Already a large number of experts—the pick of the Derby works, men whom we selected during the war for their experience and ability to make aero engine parts in this country—have settled in Springfield. Other mechanics are following. Although the car is built in America by British mechanics, under British supervision, the fact we accentuate is that it is not a British or American chassis, but a Rolls-Royce with all parts interchangeable with those made at the Rolls-Royce factory in England."

BLACK TROOPS OCCUPY CAPITAL OF TURKEY

(Canadian Press.)

CONSTTANTINOPLE, July 20.—Black troops, many of them Senegalese, have been used by the French in their joint occupation of this city. The Senegalese wear bright green uniforms and red fezzes. Their faces are decorated with scares across the cheeks and about the eyes. They usually wear large rings in the ears and many of them have straggly beards cut to a point on the chin. Although the Senegalese are Moslems, they get on badly with the Turks, especially in the interior, where much of the feeling against the French is traceable to the black troops.

A member of the Turkish foreign office staff, who was educated at several European universities, and has lived allover the world, recently approached a group of Senegalese soldiers near the Sublime Porte, and engaged them in conversation, addressing them in French.

"Just why did you come over here?" he asked.

"We come to bring civilization to the Turks," the leader of the group retorted haughtily.

JERUSALEM TO-DAY IS A CITY OF DISUNIONS

JERUSALEM, July 20.—The office of governor of Jerusalem once occupied by Pontius Pilate, is now held by Colonel Ronald Storrs, a graduate of Cambridge University and son of the Dean of Rochester College, Eng.

His task is one to test the administrative ability of any man. Jerusalem is a city of disunions, where, whatever may come of the future, for the moment Zionists and Arabs are passionately divided and to steer a just path between them and induce them to join him on that path is thankless work.

It is to that task, however, that he chiefly devotes himself. Twice a week he has meetings of his favorite pro-Jerusalem society, where French, Italians, British, Americans, Rabbis, Zionists, Leaders, commercial men of standing and others who are in any way prominent in the life of the city are brought together and in the course of debate, led to see that they have in common a single citizenship. His motto as governor is "unify and be friends."

Colonel Storrs was one of the prime movers in the establishment of an independent Arab kingdom. He is 38 years old.

After the nomination is made, Palmad may be mad enough to go after the profiteers.—Fargo Courier News.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

WEDNESDAY, JULY 21ST, 1920.

A SPLENDID SPIRIT.

The sporting organizations of Peterborough are to be congratulated upon the splendid spirit they are showing in raising funds with which to pay the expenses of Albert Smoke, this district's sole representative on the Canadian Olympic team. The Peterborough Football Association has arranged a splendid programme for Thursday evening at which there will be a game between the President and Vice-President's team, and the G.W.V.A. band and the Pipe Band hae generously donated their services. The baseball authorities have been no less eager to help. The City Baseball League cleared the way for a benefit game on Saturday by postponing the usual Saturday programme and the Peterborough Central League Club promptly arranged a game with Deloro, the Trent Valley League leaders, the owners of Riverside park assisting by offering the grounds free of charge. This is co-operation of the proper kind, and the spirit shown in connection with the Smoke Olympic fund augurs well for the success of the newly organized Athletic Association. An institution of this kind controlling all branches of sport would make community efforts of the kind now being carried out a very simple matter.

JUDGES AND COMMISSIONS.

There has been some criticism in connection with Mr. Justice Sutherland's acting as chairman of the commission appointed by the Drury government to investigate the Hydro radial question. Judge Sutherland, however, has no other choice but to act when called upon, and he alone of all the members of the commission, will receive no remuneration for his services. This is a rather peculiar state of affairs and is brought about by legislation passed at the last session of the Federal government, by which it is no longer optional on the part of judges whether or not they will serve on such inquiries when called upon to do so. The wisdom of such legislation is open to question. The judges' proper place is in court and they should be left as far as possible to deal with legal matters, it being unwise to load them up with other interests that will interfere with their particular duties. There are few if any complication in the work of commissions such as the one under discussion that require the presence of a judge and they should as far as possible be relieved of these duties. Further judges could suit themselves as to whether or not they would serve, but under the new clause in the Act they have no choice. It is mandatory upon them to act if their services are demanded.

YESTERDAY'S RACE.

The interest that is being taken in the yacht race for the America's Cup, even in an inland city like Peterborough, is somewhat surprising. Yesterday afternoon and last evening there were almost constant queries as to the result of yesterday's race from people who would not know the difference between a racing sloop and a ferry boat and yet were keenly anxious to know who had won and wildly delighted because the Shamrock had beaten the Defender. The personality of Sir Thomas Lipton himself and the romantic prospects of his final triumph after twenty-one years of game effort, must have a great deal to di with the popular interest in the race, and to this was the sympathy felt for Capt. Burton, the Shamrock's skipper, whose handling of the challenger in the first two trials had been severely criticized by American yachting experts. There was a feeling that much of this criticism had been unfair and unmerited and there seems to be a universal desire on the part of Canadians to see Capt. Burton vindicate himself by bringing the cup home in front of the American fleet. That he succeeded in doing so and at the same time won admiration for his tactics and seamanship is a matter for gratification, and the popular result is a triumph for Capt. Burton as well as for the gallant crew of the Shamrock.

IMMIGRATION.

Immigration into Canada, which dwindled almost to the vanishing point during the war, is increasing to its normal proportions, and the prediction that the Dominion would receive a large increase in population as a result of an influx of Europeans following the coming of peace seems well on its way to fulfillment. The growth in immigration is welcome, provided the newcomers are of the type that can readily be assimilated and that will adopt the ways and customs of the country. Fortunately those who are arriving now are of this class and their reception should be a hearty one. Canada needs settlers of the proper calibre, cannot have too many of them in fact, and there is a very general feeling that more than usual care should be exercised to see that only those of the right type are admitted. The old theory that numbers counted and that it did not matter what class of immigrants were dumped into Canada, so long as there were enough of them, has been shattered by the war, which proved that some of those whom the Dominion had taken under its wing were not worthy of the trust placed in them. It would be much better for Canada to get along with her present population than to have our western provinces and our cities in the east invaded by hordes of undesirables, unwilling to yield to the influence of Canadian ideals and clinging to their old institutions and habits. The mistakes of the past in this respect should not be repeated and more attention must be paid to the standard of immigration. As the Montreal star puts it: "It is far better to have fifty good citizens than five hundred indifferent or bad ones."

UNDER MOB RULE.

Mob rule is supposed to be a dangerous form of government. Politicians fatten on the fear of it; electors are stampeded by the cry of it. It is bad medicine. And yet Canada is under mob rule. There is a mob of two hundred and thirty-four men at Ottawa, and that mob is the thing that makes our law and absorbs our taxes. On the whole, it is not such a bad government as one might expect from a mob. The worst trouble with it is that it is expensive. A country should only tolerate an expensive thing when it is necessary and when it is the best sort of thing that can be got for the money. Canada's parliament of two hundred and thirty-five men is not necessary, and it would be possible to find a workable substitute which would function for less money. The only result of having such a large convention to make our laws and argue about our national status is waste of time and money. The results would be exactly the same, or, perhaps, a little more intelligent, if only half the number had the making of them. One hundred men at Ottawa could easily accomplish all the work now done by the two hundred and thirty-four. They could do it in less time. There is no essential reason that there should be some member in the House who knows every crossroad store and every railway siding. The Dominion parliament is supposed to deal with big things. There are departments and sub-departments, and engineers and sub-engineers and architects and sub-architects, all paid to know the best places for wharves and bridges, and canals, and post offices. Yet the people of Canaad seem to be content that there should be a couple of hundred men at Ottawa at a salary of twenty-five hundred, plus anything else they vote themselves, engaged for the most part in digging up scandal against the village postmaster, or trying to get an experimental farm where no such article is justified. If Canada had a parliament of law-makers instead of a parliament of district boosters the saving to the country would be enormous, and, perhaps, under those circumstances the people would tolerate a salary of four thousand a year for each such representative. A smaller parliament would result in more efficient government. — Turner's Weekly.

WORK RESUMED ON WELLAND SHIP CANAL

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., July 21.—Work was resumed on the Welland ship canal to-day, and it will probably take four or five years to complete the big undertaking. Only about a quarter of sections one, two and three were finished when the work was stopped by the Government about a year ago, owing to labor troubles.

WESTERN CROPS NOT UNIFORMLY GOOD

SOME DISTRICTS BADLY NEED RAIN —OTHERS HAVE HAD SUFFICIENT.

(Canadian Press.)

WINNIPEG, July 21.—The weekly crop report of the Canadian National Railway issued under date of July 19, reflects the fact that precipitation in the West during the past month has been largely of a local nature. Some districts report conditions excellent some fair and some that rain is badly required to make the yields better than 50 per cent. of normal.

In all the Red Deer settlements moisture is needed at once to maintain necessary growth and to help fill the grain which is rapidly heading out. Morris reports that late sown grain in that district is gone and that flax is turning yellow.

All through southern and southwestern Manitoba conditions are generally favourable and good yields are promised. Only three or four localities report that rain is desirable in this area. Wheat is from 50 to 80 per cent. headed out.

From Portage la Prairie to Dauphin and Swan River and Canora, Sask., reports are of a satisfactory nature. Rain would be beneficial but no set backs have occurred as yet. Oakville east of Portage, reported an exceedingly heavy rop of wheat with prospect of harvesting beginning at the end of this month. In the Neepawa section crops are light but immediate rains would make improvement. South of Neepawa, Carberry reports heavy crops and the farmers are smiling at the prospect for real bumper yields.

Russell and Yorkton send in favorable reports in their districts with two or three localities stating that rains would be of benefit at this juncture.

From North Battleford to Edmonton, from Edmonton north to Athabasca, south to Calgary and along the Goose Lake line from Drumheller to Delisle reports are of a uniformly satisfactory nature, some sections looking for a repetition of the 1915 yields.

Saskatoon, Sask., July 20.—Within a radius of 25 miles of Saskatoon there has been so little rain that it is unlikely that the district will produce more than seed. The larger part of the area is injured beyond recovery.

THIEVES MAKE HAUL OF 8,500 CIGARETTES.

LONDON, Ont., July 21. — The third robbery within three weeks in the premises of George E. Coleman & Co.'s. cigar manufacturers and wholesale tobacconists, 342 Ridout Street, was perpetrated some time between 1 and 3 o'clock on Monday morning. The burglars secured more than 8,500 cigarettes, valued at $150. Entrance was gained through the front door of the store, and it is believed a key was used.

In the last two robberies the thieves broke windows to gain entrance into the factory.

Mr. Coleman stated that all the windows are covered with heavy wire screening, and this may be the reason for the burglars making their entrance through the front door.

TEA

"Oh, no names mentioned. It's not so bad as all that," said Mrs. Lightbody hastily, at sight of her friend's pale stare. "We're all exposed to it. Haven't I been torn to pieces Well, I should say I had! It's outrageous Haven't I been torn to pieces? Well, such papers are allowed to exist," said Kitty, who read it religiously. "Trouble is, people always believe what they want."

Amy got up heavily, her cheeks burning before the curious glances which Kitty's volubility had centred on her. "I think I'll go," she said dully.

"I'll come too," said Irma, with a withering glance at Kitty Lightbody. "Really, Kitty, how can you be so stupid?"

"Suppose I am a fool," said that simple lady, with laboured contriteness, "but I was so excited."

They hastened down to the car, stopped at the nearest news-stand and bought a copy. To Amy's unquiet imagination, even the little, weazened news-dealer who served her seemed to divine the awful truth. She opened it with a faltering hand and found the passage.

"One of the most destructive of our young matrons is Mrs. Andrew B. Forrester, whose coming Versailles fete is expected to be quite the hit of the season. Amy is nothing if not discreet, as many of our gilded youth have found to their discomfiture. The number of scalps at her twenty-two-inch belt is said to have gone into the third dozen. Mr. Forrester is kept busy in Mexico."

"Oh, is that all?" said Irma, with a disappointed laugh.

"All!" echoed Amy weakly.

The malicious little paragraph danced before her eyes. She sank back. It was her first experience with the pointing finger of public curiosity. She felt overwhelmed, bruised, soiled.

"Irma, isn't it awful?" she said, in a whisper. "What shall I do?"

"Do? Laugh at it!"

"Laugh ? How can you say that? I feel like sinking into the ground."

"Don't be absurd!" said Mrs. Dellabarre, amazed. "Every one has to face such things. Have you any idea who could have done it?"

"I? Of course not."

"The worst is, it might be any one. After all, my dear, there is nothing so terrible."

"Terrible?" It makes me out a professional—I don't know what—a professional coquette, a vulgar flirt taking advantage of her husband's absence." Irma Dellabarre looked at her silently. "I'm ill over it. I simply can't come to dinner to-night. I just couldn't face people!"

"Don't be a goose! That would make talk. Oh, there'll be worse than this, but when you've seen your name in print a dozen times, you won't mind it at all."

"It's terrible!"

"But it's over in twenty-four hours. Oh, it's not agreeable at first. But you must grin and bear it." Husbands take such exaggerated views. Lucky Andrew's away! Why, you foolish child!" she exclaimed, suddenly perceiving Amy in tears. "Here, this won't do!" She leaned forward, seized the speaking tube and cried, "Bingham, drive round the park."

At the end of an hour Amy had somewhat regained her calm. She had an engagement at Lazare's for tea. She protested she would never go, that she couldn't go, but Irma laughed her into it. Nevertheless, her entry through the crowded room was the most painful thing she had ever done in her life. She felt her face go red.

Every group whispered her name as she passed, and mocking eyes grew about her like daisies in a field. Yet half an hour later she found that her breath came painlessly and she was able to jest over the incident with Laracy, saying:

"Look out; there is still room on my belt!"

Inwardly there remained certain qualms. The dinner that night bored her, the theatre bored her, and when they gathered at the inevitable dance-club at midnight, she pretended a headache to explain her sombre mood, which was so unusual as to be remarked. For her success lay not alone in the rare distinction of her beauty, but in that she was young in pleasure. Her capacity was genuine and insatiable. When she was of the party, she communicated to all her radiant spirits, her tiptoe excitement, her ardent gaiety, and this spontaneous quality of enjoyment, amid the counterfeit youth and labouring pleasure, was rare enough to make her a valuable acquisition.

By two o'clock, she could stand it no longer.

"Tody, be a dear boy; call my car and take me home," she said.

"By George, I'll cowhide the cad who published that!" said Dawson wildly, somewhat overexcited. "I will, too, if you say the word."

"It isn't that," she said glibly. "That's too ridiculous to worry about. All the same, you are a nice boy to say that. Get my car now and don't say anything. I'll slip away."

In the car, her doubts returned uneasily. She drew back into her corner, her chin against her palm, a little frown on her forehead, quite oblivious of Tody, who was rattling on with loosened tongue.

"Have I really done anything wrong?" she asked herself. "I don't think so. Didn't Andrew himself tell me to play all I wanted?"

She had played, and that was all, as all her friends were doing, and much less than some she knew. They made the pretence of being virtuous wives, but many laid themselves open to gossip — notably Gladys Challoner. She herself had attracted certain men deliberately, one or two for the pleasure of infuriating Gladys or Irma, but she had lain down her laws and permitted not the slightest deviation.

"I can't help men being devoted to me," she repeated stubbornly. "That's their look-out. I play fair. No one could have been more honest, more careful than I have. Men respect me."

She had worked herself up to this state of moral complacency when abruptly, out of a clear sky, she heard through the maze of her own thoughts Tody Dawson calling her name, and the next moment she realised that he had caught up her hand and kissed it. At first she was too amazed to move.

"Tody!"

"Amy, Amy—haven't you known it—haven't you seen—? Good God, I can't hide it any longer!" he cried wildly, still clutching her hand.

She understood. She sat up, looking at him in cold anger.

"Tody Dawson, how dare you do such a thing?"

Frightened at her tone, he dropped her hand and began to stammer out confused, incoherent protestations.

"Amy, don't be too hard on me—if you knew, if—"

"Tody Dawson, be quiet!"

She seized the tube and brought the car to a stop.

"Now, get out!"

He caught one glimpse of her stern face, and obeyed with clumsy haste. The silk hat he wore crashed against the door and toppled off. He recovered it awkwardly and backed out on to the sidewalk, terrified at what he had done. She saw him standing in the rain, a ridiculous picture, hugging the crushed hat, on which drops had begun to glisten.

"Now drive on."

She had acted swiftly, without reflection, without thought of what Bingham would read into this brusque humiliating dismissal.

"Perhaps it was a mistake to take him so seriously," she thought, instantly apprehensive — the Count de Faucoleur had done as much. "I should have shamed him by laughing at him."

What had doubled her anger had been the malicious conjunction of circumstances. Was there some right to criticism of her conduct? She went to bed, a prey to nervous, racing doubts, saying to herself again and again:

"But what do I do that men can make such mistakes?"

IV.

Her anger had dwindled to annoyance at the ridiculous side of the adventure, and her annoyance to unease, by the time Dawson had been announced. She hesitated before refusing to see him, for she realised that there must be some readjustment or the broil would become public, and conclusions would be drawn which would be disagreeable, especially after the public reference she had received. Nevertheless, he should have telephoned before claiming admittance at such an hour. She excused herself without explanation.

When Morley returned with his note, she took it eagerly, frowning yet relieved, for she sought a way to close the incident. She tried the edges, to make sure they had not been tampered with, composed her expression, and read the jerky scrawl.

"You must see me. I'm miserable; I must explain, or I don't know what I'll do."

Further down, as an afterthought, was added:

"You can say it's about the costumes for the Versailles fete."

"But that's true, we must decide," she thought immediately. "How could I have forgotten that?"

The Versailles fete which she had planned was quite the most important event of her whole life. There were a hundred details to settle, decorations, costumes, music, lighting, but above all there was the minuet of honour, which was to dance with Dawson, Gladys Challoner, and young Pardee.

"I simply can't give that up" she said miserably, and this last eventuality seemed to her the crowning burden of her successive misfortunes. "How silly of Tody to spoil everything by acting like that! What am I to do? And everything is announced."

The more she considered the scrawled note, the more the question of the ball emerged from the background and dominated the situation. There was absolutely no possibility of replacing Tody Dawson, who danced like an angel, according to modern conceptions of a celestial paradise.

"Yes; I must see him. I must see him if only to find out what I have done that he could misinterpret. Yes, that's it," she said, relieved at having acquired a nobler reason than her own personal need. "I must know—in order not to make another mistake."

She turned to Morley.

"Tell Mr. Dawson I can see him for ten minutes."

"Downstairs, madam?"

She reflected. There was a morning room off her apartments which would not be exposed to busy eats.

"No, in the little gold salon."

When Dawson came stumbling in, head hung and plucking at his glove, she was waiting by the piano.

"No; leave the door open," she said, as Morley started to close it. For a door that is closed is a door with excellent ea

LITTLE MARKET FOR WOOL.

Offering as Low as 25 Cents Pound, Was 75 Cents.

DALLAS, Texas, July 21. — More than 2,000,000 pounds of wool are being held in storage warehouses throughout the state waiting for the re-opening of the market in September, when it is hoped better prices will prevail, according to C. O. Moser, Dallas county agricultural agent.

Mr. Moser says there is at present little market for wool and extraordinary low prices are being offered, some bidders offering as low as 25 cents per pound. Wool prices have previously ranged from 70 to 75 cents.

MOTHER OF 22 CHILDREN.

COLUMBUS, O., July 21. — The mother of 22 children, including six pairs of twins and one set of quadruplets, Mrs. Mary Durrington, 39, is dead at her home here following the birth of a stillborn child. Only five of her 22 children survive.

TURKISH POLICE NEVER SURPRISE EVIL-DOERS

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 20.—Turkish policemen make no attempt to surprise evil doers but give warning of their approach by striking on the pavement at regular intervals with long heavy sticks tipped with steel, to the great disgust of sleepless foreigners. It was formerly the custom of the night watchmen to shout loudly in Turkish that all was well every time they pounded on the pavement. But the Allies forbade the shouting, and since the armistice the night policemen, most of whom are very old men, content themselves with hammering the pavement. The Turkish population objected strongly to having the hammering discontinued, as it is supposed to be the only means of guaranteeing that the policemen will patrol their beats.

KANGAROO HUNT BY AUTO FOR THE PRINCE

(Canadian Press.)

MELBOURNE, Australia, July 19. —A kangaroo hunt by automobile is one of the entertainments planned for the Prince of Wales when he visits the country districts of Australia. The hunt will take place upon the sheep station (ranch) of Lee Falkiner at Boora, New South Wales. Mr. Falkiner said here lately: "The kangaroo drive in which the Prince will take part will be neither child's play nor cold-blooded murder but as fine a sport as is to be had in the Commonwealth.

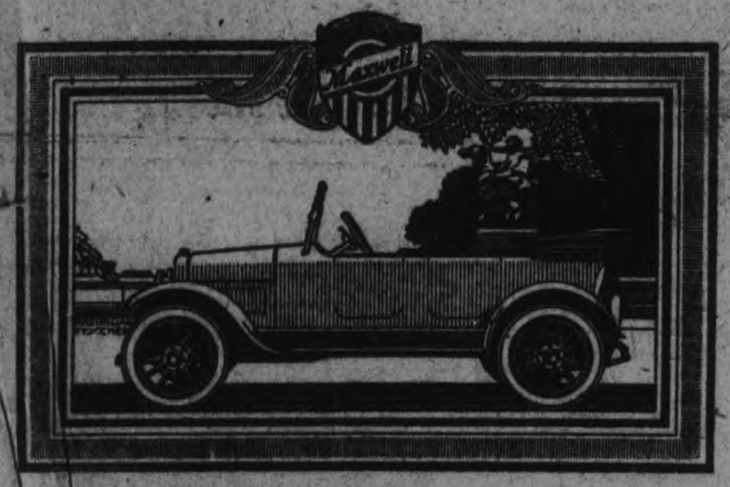
Gilbert K. Chesterton, the English author, who has time and time again championed "the cause of Ireland," is now touring the Holy Lands along the route followed by the British army on its way to Jerusalem. It has been suggested that he should return to England by the way of the United States, and it is now thought that he will do so.



The Thrift of a MAXWELL comes from its special steels

Nearly 400,00 owners know well how thrifty a Maxwell really is.

Men in the trade in selling other cars often use the expression "as thrifty as Maxwell."

Special steels are the underlying cause of Maxwell's thrift.

These are steels made to Maxwell's own formulae, after years of tests, analysis and study which make possible the ideal construction of great strength and light weight.

They give a Maxwell the ability to stand wear, strain, twists and jolts that other cars much larger and heavier would have difficulty to resist.

But they make a Maxwell light. They eliminate useless weight; they ease the burden of the engine, and thus gas, oil and tires render long mileage results.

Hence, the ever-growing respect and admiration for Maxwell the world over; and its consequent fast growing numbers. Nearly 400,000 in use to-day; a year hence 500,000.

KRASSIN SKEPTICAL OF WORLD-REVOLUTION

IS ALL FOR RUSSIAN BURGEOIS IGNORES SOCIALISM.

(Associate Press)

LONDON, July 20.—Leonid Borisovitch Krassin, who came into the public's attention when he came to London this summer as head of a commission to negotiate the reopening of trade relations between Soviet Russia and the outside world, has been one of the few "moderates" to be given a place of responsibility in the Soviet Government machinery and has been characterized as a "bourgeois Bolshevist."

An Expelled Student.

For engaging in a students' demonstration, Krassin was expelled from the Petrograd Technological Institute. Subsequently he engaged in a number of plots against the Czarist regime, but continued to advance in his profession, that of an electrical engineer.

Following the Bolshevist coup of October, 1917, Krassin was offered a seat in the ministry which he declined as he thought Lenine's adventure too risky and his theories too sweeping. But his relations with Lenine were cordial, and he accompanied Lenine and Trotzky when they went to Brest-Litovsk to negotiate the treaty with Germany.

Is a Turn-Coat.

When it became apparent that the Bolshevist Government would last, Krassin threw in his lot with it and became Commissary of Food in the Red Army.

A "bourgeois Bolshevist," Krassin is said to have little or no belief in the theories and aims of the Soviet Government. For the time at least, however, he was convinced that nothing was to be gained by resistance to the control of the workers. He came to an understanding with the workmen in his own factory, giving shape to the Soviet experiment.

For Bourgeois Peace.

During his tenure of four Ministerial offices he has worked imperceptibly for the restoration of the plain bourgeois methods of commerce. To him the nationalization of commerce was one of the most stupid of Lenine's blunders. As for the world revolution, he is an entire skeptic, and is all for a bourgeois peace. He would lead Russian Sovietism into the normal ways of democracy. "Who believes in Socialism in Russia?" he is reported to have asked. "Not I, nor Lenine."

SMUGGLING LIQUOR TO STATES IS EASY TASK

THE "HOOTCH" ROUTE ATTRACTING ATTENTION OF N.Y. PAPERS.

(By Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, July 21.—The "hootch route" from Canada to the United States is attracting considerable attention in the New York newspapers of late. One indignant correspondent tells The World what he thinks of conditions in border towns on the Canadian side of the boundary, which, he declares, are now attracting thousands of thirsty souls from the Land of the Eighteenth Amendment.

The Trick Easy.

Writing from Rouse's Point, N.Y., this gentlemen says:

"As a travelling salesman I became interested in watching the operations of the wet element in obviating the provisions of the 18th Amendment, and afterwards was appalled by the ease with which it was accomplished. When I reached the enterprising and well-grooned village of Champlain, I saw how easily the booze-fighter's thirst was assuaged without apparently violating any law at all.

"The Canadian line is the north boundary of that village (a short mile from the Post Office). There is a roadhouse just over the line fully stocked with all the wet goods known to the trade. On the day of my investigation (which was Sunday, by the way), thirty-seven automobiles were parked close up to the international boundary and others were coming and going constantly. I found United States customs officers patrolling the frontier but absolutely helpless in suppressing the traffic, for no one essayed to bring parcels across which might be seized. Each returning autoist had cached his cargo where nothing short of a surgical operation could reach it. In the procession were cars from towns over a hundred miles distant. I am informed that this performance is continuous but particularly strong on Sundays.

No Remedy Suggested.

"The better class of people in these border towns are incensed at these conditions but no one is able to suggest remedy. They would gladly return to the old system of a legalized and regulated traffic with stringent provisions for controlling the business."

ROYAL CHILDREN ARE DEMOCRATIC

FILLED WITH DESIRES TO PUT WORLD TO RIGHTS AFTER WAR.

(Canadian Press.)

ROME, July 20.—The children of the Italian royal family are rapidly growing up and begin to form the centre of young people belonging to the aristocratic families of the nation, who are full of enthusiastic patriotism and desires to put the world to rights after the sad years of the war.

The eldest Princess Yolanda is just 19 and has inherited much of the splendid dark beauty of her mother, Queen Elena. Princess Mafalda, who is only 17 is a gentle child with great charm of manner, who resembles rather the Princesses of the House of Savoy.

Brought Up Wisely.

They have all been brought up most wisely, living a healthy open-air life in the castles belonging to the royal family in their native Piedmont, or in the beautiful hunting lodge of Castle Perziano about 20 miles from Rome on the shores of the Mediterranean here, especially in their childhood, they laid in stores of health and happy memories for their future life.

The Heir Apparent.

Prince Humbert, the heir apparent, has shot up into a fine looking boy of nearly 16, who is devoted to every kind of sport, in the intervals of the somewhat severe mental training which he is undergoing to fit him for his future position.

Princess Yolanda, who considers herself now quite a grown up young lady, delights to accompany her father for motor expeditions in the Campagna and lately went with him to spend some hours of serious study of the latest excavations at Ostia, the port of Rome in ancient imperal days, which, perhaps, even better than Pompeii, gives an idea of how people lived in a seaside provincial town 1,600 or 1,700 years ago.

Latest Discoveries.

Among the latest discoveries has been that of houses of two or three stories, evidently let out in separate apartments, just like the houses in Rome to-day, while others seem to have been lodging houses where a single owner let two or three rooms to several families, so that life must have been very much like what it is now.

SCANDINAVIANS ARE FAST PILING UP WEALTH

Great Fortunes in Shipping and Banking—Rent Laws That Protect the Tenant—Room Allowance in New Houses.

NEW YORK, — Alfred Johnson, treasurer of Funch, Edye & Co., arriving on the Swedish-American liner Drottningholm, discussing conditions in Scandinavia, said:

"I was particularly impressed by the apparent wealth of the people, especially in Christiania. The greatest fortunes have been made in shipping and banking circles. Scandinavian banks are expanding and opening branches in other countries. The shipping situation has improved greatly in Sweden .The shipping strikes have been settled in most cases and congestion in harbors are being cleared. Ships leaving now are being manned by sailors instead of volunteer citizens.

"One thing of interest is the attitude of the Swedish Government compelling steamship companies receiving heavy insurance settlements for ships lost during the war to invest that money in new tonnage or surrender the large profits to the government. This has caused steamship companies to place orders for ships in other countries, some of it coming to America.

"The housing problem in Sweden and Norway is similar to America. According to rent laws in Christiania, the tenant cannot be removed from the premises so long as rent is paid. The amount of increase is left with a rent commission. Increases for old tenants are about 15 p.c. over 1914, while in some cases it reaches 100 p.c. Those building new houses are permitted one room for each member of the family and two extra rooms areallowed.

"The rate of exchange prevents the development of commerce to any degree with America. Some manufactured goods are being received from Germany, but in small quantities."

GERMAN METAL THIEVES DESPOILING MONUMENTS

BRESLAU, Germany, July 20. — Unable to check the despoiling by metal thieves of monuments in the public parks, the police have decided to remove to places of safe-keeping all bronze statuary which can be easily transported. Among the statues of great men placed under "protective arrest" are those of Germany's nature poet Eichendorff and the composer of war songs Koerner.

A huge statue of Diana has been mutilated, the vandals having wrenched off her spear. They tried without success to cut off her arms. Many brass and bronze inscription tablets have [illegible]

Hold – and Buy More !

Every barometer by which investment values are appraised points to a strengthening tendency in the Victory Loan Market. The Minister of Finance announces there will be no increase in the supply of these bonds. There has, however, been an increase in the income tax. These two factors alone add substantially to the value of Canadian Victory Bonds. Every owner should make the strongest effort to retain his present holdings. Also, he should do his utmost to buy more at present prices. We recommend:

To those with incomes exceeding $5,000 a year:

Another Merry Half-Day Sale at The Cressman Store

THREE HOURS ONLY——————9 a.m. to 12 noon

These Merry Half-Day Sales and the July Clearance Sale go hand in hand. Every Tuesday we go about the store and gather all the odd lines and other merchandise that we consider should bid us farewell. Then we mark them down to prices that makes rapid selling a certainty. If you note the items below we are sure you will appreciate the reductions.

The Redfern Store Presents Two Splendid Specials

$20 and $22.50 Voile Dresses $14.95

There is an assortment of many beautiful styles in this assemblage. The Voile is the good old English quality, and the patterns are mostly the large designs that are so much in vogue this season. We advise an early selection, as we anticipate rapid selling on this line.

Ladies' $1.39 Cotton Night Gowns $1.00

They are made of a good quality Cotton and prettily trimmed with Lace and Ribbon. It is almost impossible for us to purchase a Gown at this price, much less sell them for such a low figure.

THIRTY-SIX IN THE LOT AND ALL ARE THIS SEASON'S

It is dress clearance time and the price we have placed on this lot is one that will see to it that every garment will pass from our stock. There is a great variety of patterns, styles and colours. For rush selling on Thursday Morning, only, the price will be $6.45.

Ladies' $6.75 to $10 Sweater Coats $4.50

These coats are desirable not only because of their beauty, but because of their usefulness. You have choice of rose, green and gold. They are woven of pure wool and one style has a detachable collar. Some are slightly soiled, but all are worth much more than our Merry Half Day Price.

Ladies' $5.95 and $6.50 Bathing Suits $4.75

The materials employed in the making are lustre and mercerized cotton. The color range includes Navy or Black, trimmed with Paddy Green, Coral or White.

$2.29 House Dresses $1.69

The material is Print, and some of the models have long sleeves and others short. This price is possible because they are broken lines, and in some instances there is just one of a kind. The colours are mostly Blues and Greys.

$1.69 Black Taffetine Underskirts $1.19

These Skirts are a fashionable width, and have a seven-inch accordion-pleated frill. The Taffetine is an English quality.

Ladies' $48 to $57 Silk Suits $24.95

There are five in the lot—the balance of our stock. The colors are black, navy and King's blue. The sizes are 18, 36 and 38. The selling price for Thursday does not more than cover the price of the silk alone.

Children's $2.25 to $5 Straw Hats $1

If you are the first Shopper for this line To-morrow Morning, you will find Sixteen in the assortment. Some are two-toned—Navy and Rose, Rose and Sand, and Sand and Paddy. There is a selection of plain colours.

(Children's Dept., 2nd Floor)

Five Hundred Yards 35c White Cotton 23c yard

Away less than to-day's actual wholesale cost for this splendid quality full bleach Cotton. It has a fine Cambric finish, and is 35 inches wide. At this price we must limit the quantity to not more than Twenty Yards to one buyer and no 'phone orders.

Extra Large Jacquard Bath Towels 95c each

This is a new shipment of these splendid Towels. They would be excellent value at $1.25 each. They are White, with Pink and Blue Jacquard patterns, and the size is 21 x 45 inches, and the ends are hemmed.

FINGER PRINTS ON MOTOR CLUE TO BRUTAL MURDER

POLICE CLAIM CONFESSION OBTAINED IN MURDER OF COUPLE —A GRIM STORY.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Finger prints left by two men led to the solution on Monday of the mysterious killing of Edith L. Janny, clerk in a Perth Amboy hotel cigar stand, and Edward Kupfer, a cigar salesmen, whose bodies were found on the morning of August 21, 1918, riddled with bullets on the roadway near Rahway, N. J. Walter L. Hatfield, Prosecutor of Union County, announced at Elizabeth that he had obtained confessions from Charles Pertrand and Howard M. Lamble, prisoners at Auburn, that they shot the two to rob them.

With only fingermarks as clews the search for the murderers had been continued for almost two years. On the night before the murder Miss Jenny and Kupfer left in an automobile for a drive to Siedler's Beach. On the way home after midnight the automobile was stopped by two men, who asked for a ride. Kupfer consented. In the morning the bodies were found by the roadside and the car abandoned.

From an Automobile

Chief of Detectives Galatian, of Union County, obtained fingerprints from the automobile, the copies were sent to all the prisons. According to Mr. Hatfield the fingerprints led to questioning of Pertrand and Lamble. Pertrand was sentenced in New York City last January for carrying concealed weapons. Lamble, alias George Brandon, was convicted for stealing an automobile seven days after the Rahway Murder.

In the alleged confessions the prisoners said they were walking towards Rahway for the purpose of robbing employees of the du Pont Powder Works, who were working on night shifts. Finding the men left the works in groups, according to Mr. Hatfield, the pair decided to hold up an automobile.

In the first machine that came along were Kupfer and Miss Janny. The substance of the confessions, as given out by the prosecutor, is as follows:

"The men asked for a ride into Rahway. Kupfer, who had been driving slowly, stooped and took the men aboard. Bertrand, who said he was a chauffeur, sat in the front seat with Kupfer and Miss Janny. Lamble sat in the rear.

"The car had gone but a short distance when Pertrand pulled out a gun and demanded Kupfer's money. Kupfer refused and attempted to shove Pertrand from the car. This enraged the men. They began shooting.

"The men describe how they tossed the bodies out of the car. They continued into Wood avenue, Linden, where they abandoned the car. They latter hailed a truck and reached Elizabeth, where they took a train for New York."

Prosecutor Hatfield said he would seek to obtain the release of Pertrand and Lamble by applying for clemency He will then take them to Union County to stand trial for the murder. Mr. Hatfield said the confession covers five typewritten pages.

One of the men was removed to Sing Sing before he confessed. After he had signed a statement implicating the other, the other man attached his signature.

DARING HOLD-UP NEAR PONTYPOOL

AGED STOREKEEPER AT LOTUS ROBBED IN BROAD DAYLIGHT —VICTIM OF THIEVES TWICE.

PONTYPOOL, July 21.—Samuel L. McCabe, 70 years old, a pioneer storekeeper of Lotus, six miles from here, was the victim of a daring highway robbery. Three well-dressed men arrived in the village in a high-powered car early in the afternoon, and as fishing visitors are numerous they did not attract any attention. One of the men, while getting biscuits in the store happened to see the payment of money on a twine deal, and returned two hours later, ostensibly for more biscuits. As Mr. McCabe handed out the change he found himself facing a revolver. At the words "Hands up," being deaf, he asked the stranger to repeat the words, but the answer was a revolver shot. A struggle ensued, but after three shots Mr. McCabe was driven into the rear of the store, while $45.00 was taken from the open till.

The three men then made off in the car, which had been kept running by one man. They were seen going through Silverton and Blackstock, but the news of the hold-up did not get there in time to effect any capture.

Robberies are becoming quite frequent here. This is the second time Mr. McCabe has been robbed. Recently thieves stole all the tires off a new automobile.

Mr. James E. Beacock, postmaster of Myrtle Station, discovered a man in the office after midnight and fired at him, and the post office at Pontypool was broken into, but apparently nothing was taken.

In a ton of water from the Atlantic there are 31 pounds of salt against 187 pounds in the same quantity from the Dead Sea.

Gifts to Women Who Use Jiffy Jell

Jiffy-Jell users should write to the makers for a list of aluminum molds. Molds, spoons and measuring cups are supplied to users free.

Jiffy-Jell is the one dessert which has the fruit flavors in vials. A bottle of condensed fruit-juice essence comes in the package. So a Jiffy-Jell dessert is a real-fruit dainty. The flavor is not artificial. The sweetening is sugar, not saccharine. Women who once try it will always get it. Your grocer has ten flavors. Try pineapple and loganberry first.

cording to evidence given in the case which found its way into the court at Ogoode Hall here, had bought the farm for $9,225 of which $2,225 was in cash and the remainder covered by mortgage.

Mr. Justice Lennox found that there had been flase representations associated with the sale, and made an order rescinding the deal and enjoining Calder to return to Kennedy the $10,000 cash paid by the latter, and to pay interest on the money from the date of the deal in April last.

In giving judgment, Mr. Justice Lennox said:

"It is only one of the many instances of the easy acquition of British money by the adroit action of a person who ought to have some sympathy with a man who comes to Canada to confront new conditions, as in this case."

DEMAND RELEASE OF JAMES LARKIN

DUBLIN LABOUR ALSO ATTEMPTS DIRECT INFLUENCE ON U.S. GOVERNMENT.

(Canadian Press)

DUBLIN, July 21. — A general strike was called in Dublin to-day in pursuance of the movement to secure the release of James Larkin who is serving sentence in New York on conviction of criminal anarchy. The order was not generally obeyed but extreme labor men expressed the determination to bring the workers out and were reported to be forcing the withdrawal of laborers from buildings at the city market. Armed men caused workers to cease tasks while vehicles were stopped and attacked on streets.

Labor here is divided on the question of the strike even Liberty Hall chiefs regarding as futile it is said, such a method of applying pressure to the United States Government. A procession was planned for this afternoon to demonstrate in force outside United States Consul and fears were expressed of attacks on trains.

THREE DROWNED IN ST. FRANCIS RIVER

EAST ANGUS, Que., July 20. — Three young men, farmers residing about three miles from here lost their lives in the St. Frances River Sunday where they were swimming. Two brothers, Ernest and Philemon Loggval, were bathing in company with Alfred Pichette and a fourth boy named Beaudoin. It appears from the story of the last named, the sole survivor, that the three men, either of whom could swim jumped into the water together at a point called the "Pool" thinking the river was not deep there. They disappeared from view and never came up.

REPORT OF FARM CONDITIONS

The following is a summary of the weekly reports made by the Agricultural Representative to the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Fall wheat cutting began last week in some of the south-western counties, and by the end of the present week harvesting will be general over a large portion of the Province. Elgin and Norfolk report serious injury to the crop from Hessian fly in the western parts of those counties. Late sown wheat did best in this connection.

The harvesting of fall wheat will overlap haying in many quarters, as the showery weather of the last two or three weeks interfered considerably with the cutting, curing and storing of clover and other hay crops.

Barley and oats are referred to as looking most promising, both for straw and grain. Spring wheat is described as doing only fairly.

Hay is roughly estimated as giving at least a three-fourths yield; but the second growth never made a better start, and a good later cut is looked for.

Corn is now growing rapidly, and good returns are expected.

Tobacco has made great growth in Norfolk, some leaves measuring 24 inches in length and 18 inches across, with 18 inches of stalk.

Potatoes are referred to by several representative as promising generous yields, and, where hoed, all root crops are in more or less good condition. Showery weather made the fields unusually rank with weeds, and also prevented early hoeing.

Buckwheat is also looking well, and more of it is being grown.

Lincoln reports a heavy drop of Elberta peaches, but says that there will be sufficient left on the trees to produce a good yield of first-class fruit. Reine Claude plums have also dropped heavily.

Middlesex states that much injury has been done to raspberry plantations by the cane-borer.

Victoria reports that grasshoppers are just now very numerous in the ranching country in the township of Somerville.

Cattle are in good general condition, and are selling at from 9 to 16 cents a lb. Veal calves are bringing from 13 to 16 cents a lb. Manitoulin says that up to $90 is being paid for two year old cattle.

Milk production has been well sustained owing to the exrellent condition of the grass. Peel remarks that while the milk flow has been keeping up well, butter-fat tests have been responsible for several 'shut-offs' during the week.

Bacon hogs are being marketed at from $19 to $20 a cwt., but do not appear to be in such numbers as in recent years.

The demand for farm labor is increasing now that grain cutting has joined with the belated harvesting of hay.

CHERRIES BY THE TON EXPORTED TO NEW YORK

ST. CATHARINES, July 21.—Cherries literally by the ton are being shipped from this district to the canning factories of New York State. One truck was so heavily laden with cherries that the authorities at the Queenston Bridge insisted that the driver unload part of it and make two trips across. The fruit was being forwarded from the local cold storage plant to Middleport, N.Y.

There is great danger of quantities of cherries going to waste. Purchasers willing to pick their own cherries purchased them at the orchards for a song last week.

LOCAL CHEESE SOLD AT LOWEST PRICE OF THE SEASON TO-DAY

1137 BOXES BOUGHT BY W. S. COOK OF BELLEVILLE AT 27 9-16 CENTS A POUND—BIDDING WAS SLOW AND BUYERS FEWER THAN USUAL.

The Peterboro factories disposed of 1137 boxes of cheese at to-day's cheese board to W. S. Cook and Sons Belleville; James Cook was unable to attend but telephoned John Coughlin salesman for Ormonde to bid for him and Coughlin got the board at 27 9-16 the lowest price paid this year. The first board got 29 3-16 and 29 1-4 the second dropped 28 7-16 and the third went at 28 7-8 while to-day's board the fourth slid down to 27 9-16 over a cent below that of two weeks ago.

The three other buyers besides Mr. Coughlin were G. A. Gillespie of the Peterboro Milk Products Co., William Weir of Otonabee for the Ingersoll Packing Co., T. Thompson of the A. A. Ayres Co. Montreal.

The cheese boarded follows:—

Warminister	95
Selwyn	100
Villiers	100
Warsaw	130
Westwood	150
Ormonde	185
Young's Point	92
Lang	21
North Dummer	55
Stoney Creek	39
Norwood	177
Killarney	72
Total	1137

G. A. Gillespie opened the bidding at 27 cent, Weir raised 1-16 and Thompson 1-8; Weir added 1-16 and Gillespie went to 1-4 Weir bid 5-16 and Cook came in with 3-8. Gillespie raised 1-8 and Weir bid 1-2. Bidding was very slow due to the few buyers Finally Cook got the board at 29 9-16 The board adjourned for two weeks.

A SQUARE MEAL IN THACKERAY'S DAY

PRESENT DAY HEAVY EATERS ARE STARVELINGS BY COMPARISON.

We of this day and generation are supposed to be retty heavy eaters, especially of meats. But we would appear to be "pikers" by comparison with those who lived and fed themselves in the reign of good Queen Anne.

For instance, Thackeray, in his English Humorists, writes of a dinner which began at 3 in the afternoon—court hours for that function. The eight guests started on a sirloin of beef; fish, a shoulder of veal and a tongue. After this first course, just in the way of an appetizer, came almond pudding, fritters, chickens, black pudding and soup. And the elegant mistress of the house, finding a skewer on the dish placed it on her plate with the direction that it should be carried down to the kitchen and dressed for the cook's own dinner.

Wine and small beer were drunk throughout the course. After which tea, costing in those days 30 shillings the pound— $6, and that when five shillings went immeasurably further than one of our dollars goes to-day.

Then came a third course—a hot venison pastry, a hare, a rabbit, some pigeons, partridges, a goose and a ham, beer and wine being freely imbibed the while. After the goose the gentleman took each a dram of brandy "which was very good for the wholesomes." And next came a great tankard full of October ale, of which the host first quaffed his fill—for the period, indeed, of a long breath and an enormouse expansion of the torso; after which it was passed from hand to hand and from mouth to mouth. Then a generous supply of cheese completed the dinner so far.

The cloth being taken away, a bottle of burgundy was set down, of which the ladies were invited to partake before they went to their tea. The gentlemen promised to join them in an hour; fresh bottles were brought, the "dead men" (empty bottles) were removed, and clean glasses were ordered. When the gentlemen did join the ladies, they all sat and played at cards until 3 of the morning, when the chairs and the flambeau came, and that noble and tolerably well-nourished company went to bed.

PRESENTATION TO REV. W. J. M'COLL

PURSE OF MONEY AND APPRECIATIVE ADDRESS FROM NORWOOD ROAD PARISHONERS.

The high esteem and respect in which Right Reverend Monsignor McColl, of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Ashburnham, is held by his parishioners was fully exemplified last night when the reverend gentleman was surprised at the home of Mr. Wm. Devlin, R. R. No. 7, Norwood Road, by the gift of a purse of money.

The presentation was made by Miss Anastasia Fitzgeraid, accompanied by the following address read by Mr. James Hogan:

"Right Reverend Monsignor:

"Desirous of expressing our appreciation of the honour recently conferred on your by His Holiness, we assemble this evening to offer our congratulations.

"It seems fitting, after your long illness, that God should be pleased to return you to the work of this parish, just when He was about to bestow on you this new dignity, thus making our happiness two-fold.

"While we always appreciated you as the most devoted of pastors, one who never wearied of giving his valued services to his flock, it was during your enforced absence that we learned your true worth.

"We trust you will soon regain your former health and vigour, and our earnest hope is that you may be spared for many more years of labour in farthering the good work in the Immaculate Conception parish, the foundation of which you have already so firmly laid.

"Permit us, in token of our gratitude, to offer you this small gift with our heartiest congratulations and good wishes.

"Signed on behalf of your rural parishioners of Norwood Road.

"ED FITZGERALD,
"WM. DEVLIN."

Rev. Monsignor McColl replied in fitting terms to the kind words of appreciation embodied in the above address, and for the tangible recognition of those services he at all times takes pleasure in administering to the members of his charge.

Quite a Surprise.

The parish of the Church of the Immaculate Conception is an extensive one, covering many miles in East Peterborough, and last night's presentation and address came exclusively from the church's parishioners of the Norwood Road. Rev. Monsignor McColl has been ill for two or three months, and only recently resumed his duties. Last evening Mr. Devlin called on the reverend gentleman and invited him to spend an hour or two at his home on the Norwood Road, to which he drove him. On reaching the house the pastor was quite taken back at the large gathering of parishioners awaiting him, and more than surprised at the real purpose of this occasion.

LIGHTNING SETS FIRE TO OIL TANKS

THOUSANDS OF BARRELS BURNING —RESIDENTS FLEE.

(Canadian Press.)

BALTIMORE, Md., July 21.—Since noon today when lightning struck two large tanks containing thousands of barrels of crude and light oil at the plant of the United States Asphalt Refining Company, Wagner's Point, south of this city, firemen have been fighting desperately to save surrounding property.

At ten o'clock tonight the flames were shooting a hundred feet in the air and blazing oil was running in the roadways. Two blocks of two-storey buildings, the homes of workmen, and many more are in danger. The burning oil is also flowing toward the Texas Oil Company's plant adjoining.

All hope of extinguishing the burning oil was abandoned this afternoon as the water supply was inadequate and the firemen were directed to exert all their efforts to saving the dwelling houses.

Hundreds of families, residents of Fairfield and Wagner's Point, became frantic with fear and moved all their household belongings to the streets. The aggregate losses to the companies is estimated at $700,000. The two tanks were struck by lightning almost simultaneously. The second tank exploded and the force of the shock was so great that the roof was hurled into the street.

STILL RECRUITING IN OLD SCOTLAND

MRS. PAUL SARIOTIS FOUND PRICES EXTREMELY HIGH AND SOCIAL UNREST.

Socialism is rampant in Scotland, said Mrs. Paul Sariotis, who recently returned from a three months' visit to her former home there. Canadians scarcely know the meaning of Socialism, compared with the demonstrations that are almost daily occurrences in Glasgow and other cities. Class antagonism is being stirred up and exploited, and in some quarters there is a pronounced sympathy for the Sinn Feiners, whose delegates arrive to spread their propaganda.

Canadian conditions are being misrepresented throughout Scotland, Mrs. Sariotis said. Papers and agitators endeavour to impress the people with the belief that the entire Dominion is on the verge of a nation-wide railway strike, and that Canada and the United States are standing solidly together for a big upheaval.

Prices in the Old Country are exorbitant, and those who think they are paying big prices here for clothing, food, etc., would be astounded at what is asked in Scotland. Everything has gone up a hundred per cent. at least. Butter has advanced, until it is a luxury, and meat is not only high in price, but almost unobtainable. During the three weeks of Mrs. Sariotis' visit to Scotland, no meat other than Australian mutton was to be had.

Exorbitant Prices.

Recruiting Overseas.

Mrs. Sariotis was much surprised at the comparative little publicity which is being given to the Turkish-Greecian situation, and said that the overseas papers are full of what is happening. Men and recruits are being constantly advertised for for service, with the destination kept secret. There is, however, a very great response being made. Troops are being sent from Scotland to Ireland al...

JOACHIM VICTIM OF SHELL SHOCK?

DEAD PRINCE SAID TO HAVE SUFFERED MENTAL ABERATIONS.

BERLIN, July 21.—Berlin is debating whether the cause of the ruination of Prince Joachim, the youngest son of the ex-Kaiser, who committed suicide, was excessive fondness for rum or insanity brought on following a shell shock received in the war.

The funeral of the young prince, who, of late, had kept the city agog with his capricious tricks of having waitresses carry him up the stairs of fashionable hotels, was held quietly today. Only members of the immediate family from Potsdam were there. Even the former Empress, who is said to have been more fond of Joachim than any of her sons, did not attend the ceremonies.

Curse of Drink.

Stories that appear to be well founded are found in the papers today, explaining that young Joachim was the victim of the curse of drink that ran through the whole Hohenzollern family. Close friends of the family say, however, that the young prince went off on a tangent following the terrific shock to his nerves received when a shell exploded near him. That was in 1915, and these friends say, up to that time he had been a model young officer. They ridiculed the under-currents that rumor that there was insanity in the family.

Whatever the facts in the case are, the young prince certainly had startled Berlin on repeated occasions both before and after the fall of his imperial father. There are many reports of his debauches in small hotels and quarrels with waiters. In whites he was only saved from violence by his family position.

His exploits in having an Amazon waitress carry him upstairs occurred in the Hotel Kohlhof auf dem Koenigstuhl. The elevators that night were not working.

Other Family Troubles.

Joachim's domestic troubles were not the only ones in the Hohenzollern family. There are rumors that due to the curse of drink, the wife of Prince August Wilhelm has secured a divorce and Prince Eitel Friedrich is now living apart from his wife.

Joachim, according to the National Zeitung, after taking leave of his three-year-old son, shot himself through the chest about Friday midnight. The sound of the firing was not heard, and servants found him in the early hours of Saturday lying in front of his bed unconscious. He was removed to a hospital, and regained consciousness, and was able to ... to Eitel. But the doctors saw that there was no hope. He rapidly grew worse and died at one o'clock Sunday morning.

Some reports are to the effect that Joachim suffered from the belief that he would be driven from his home by the Republican Government. The action for divorce brought by his wife who left him a year ago, also preyed on his mind.

Prince Eitel Friedrich, who is in charge of the body of his brother, was to leave for Holland to visit his mother, the former Empress Augusta Victoria, whose condition of health is reported to be worse. Eitel Friedrich, however, postponed his departure.

WINNIPEG UNIONS WAGE WAR ON O.B.U.

FIGHT TO A FINISH FOR CANADIAN CONTROL—COUNTRY IS WATCHING.

WINNIPEG.— Labor unions here which stood united, just one year ago, in the greatest industrial battle Canada ever witnessed, are engaged today in internecine strife.

"War to the finish" between the One Big Union, composed of the Radical labor elements that seceded from the Trades and Labor Council when the general strike collapsed and the reorganized Council, composed of the Conservatives, who adhere to the International Trades Union movement, has been declared one year, almost to the day, since the so-called "revolution of 1919" came to an end.

Before next winter, it is expected, one or the other of the divisions will have succumbed, and the question of whether Radicalism or Conservatism is to control the labor movement of Western Canada will have been answered, once and for all.

Declares War.

Formal "declaration of war" has been made by the Trades and Labor Council in the form of an announcement that International orators and organizers are to be sent into every O. B. U. camp in the west "to expose the fallacy of the One Big Union theory, and to win back to the council the few unions that have been misled into seceding." The challenge has been accepted by the Central Council of the One Big Union, which replied that the "war declaration" simply is "a big bluff, to distract attention from the huge gaps in the ranks of the Internationalists caused by desertions to the O. B. U."

A "war committee," headed by W. H. Hoop, Trades Council Organizer, has been appointed by the International Organization. Its counterpart in the O. B. U. camp is the Workers' Defence Committee, created originally to raise funds for the defence of the strike leaders who are now in prison, but now the propaganda division of the Radicals' union. Frank Woodward, Secretary, is the O. B. U. Commander-in-Chief in the war of extermination.

On the platform, at regular union meetings and at mass meetings called especially for the purpose, the war of debate is being waged. At O.B.U. meetings the International speakers are subjected to considerable heckling as are the O.B.U speakers at International meetings, but on the whole the rank and file of both factions are disposed to give their rivals a fair hearing, so the war may be fought out on its merits.

The principal argument raised by the O.B.U. speakers against the Internationals recalls the principal argument used against the reciprocity proposal, in the Federal Election Campaign of 1911, because of their similarity. The cry of the anti-reciprocity debaters was, "No trade or truck with the Yankees." The cry of the O.B.U. organisers is, "No domination by the Yankees." Their argument is that there is no reason why Canadian labour should be subject to the orders of International Unions, officered almost entirely by Americans and dominated by the American local unions.

The argument of the Trades and Labor Council debaters is that the Labor movement must be International to be strong enough to deal with organization of employers, which are international. They answer the O.B.U. speakers by quoting the statement made by Samuel Gompers President of the American Federation of Labor, in Montreal recently, showing that Canadian unions received from International Headquarters more money than they paid in as International dues.

To assist in carrying the "war" to a successful conclusion, the Trades and Labor Council has called upon the Dominion Trades Congress for funds and for speakers. Assurance that both will be forthcoming has been received from Tom Moore, President of the Congress.

The battle is being watched with intense interest, not only by the Winnipeg public, but by people throughout the West, because upon the result depends to a large extent the industrial future of this Western Empire.

AN ATTEMPT TO FORM COMMUNIST PARTY

ENGLISH SOCIALISTS HOLDING UNITY CONFERENCES FOR SEVERAL MONTHS.

(Associate Press)

LONDON, July 20.—An attempt will be made to form a Communist party in England August 1, at a national convention of "left wing" socialist and industrial organizations. Socialist bodies of the extreme left have been holding "unity conferences" intermittently for several months with that end in view.

The invitations to the convention point out that three points are considered cardinal by the promoters, the dictatorship of the proletariat, the soviet system, and adhesion to the Third International.

Who Promoters Are.

The direct promoters of the convention are the British Socialist party, the anti-war majority section of which was once the Social Democratic party; the Workers' Socialist Federation, composed of Miss Sylvia Pankhurst's followers; and the Communist Unity group of the Socialist Labor party. The Socialist Labor party has not signified its intention to participate in the convention.

A great deal of discussion has arisen over the attitude the powerful Labor party may take toward the convention. The British Socialist party is affiliated with the Labor party, but the Workers' Socialist Federation and the Communist Unity group have refused to be connected with it, and the Labor party itself so far has made no official pronouncement concerning the proposed convention.

Success Doubtful.

There is a difference of opinion among the political groups as to whether the convention will succeed in forming a Communist party with a following sufficiently large to give it any considerable influence, but it is considered virtually certain that as a result of the convention there will be a big readjustment and re-grouping of socialist bodies to correspond to irreconcilable differences of policy.

LIEUT. ROWAND LEFT AN ESTATE OF $10,425

TORONTO, July 30.—By a will made on the day of his death, Lieut. Elmer McL. Rowand, son of Rev. Wm. L. H. Rowand, formerly of Peterboro, returned soldier, left to his wife his house and one half of the residue of his estate of $10,425. His father, mother, and brother, each receive one-sixth of the residue. His father also receives one share in the University Park Syndicate, Buffalo. Deceased was a barrister-at-law. Both the father and mother renounced their interest in the estate except the interest in Buffalo Park Syndicate.

Luscious LANTIC Brown—toothsome with the power, the stimulation of the tropical sunlight, and the glamour of the tropical atmosphere! The clever LANTIC refiners have preserved its health-giving properties for your enjoyment. So learn how to keep it luscious.

Like all delicate flavours or aromas, the natural LANTIC tang is most elusive; it lingers only as long as the moisture in the sugar. When LANTIC Brown dries out, its chiefest charm departs.

So keep it moist and fresh! Luscious!

LANTIC Brown must be kept in just the opposite way from LANTIC "Fine" Granulated (which should be stored in a warm dry place). Keep in a cellar or cool pantry. In stone jars, with a moist cloth under the lid, LANTIC Brown will stay "luscious."

But all brown sugars are not LANTIC. If it isn't luscious when you get it, it isn't LANTIC Brown! Once you have caught the fragrance, you'll never mistake the sugar.

THRILLING INTEREST PACKED INTO LAST LEG OF YESTERDAY'S RACE

RESOLUTE, CATCHING A FRESH BREEZE, DASHED AFTER LIPTON'S CHALLENGER, BUT SHE FAILED TO CUT DOWN THE LONG LEAD.

NO BREEZE THIS MORNING.

(Canadian Press.)

SANDY HOOK, July 21.— With no breeze from any quarter at eight o'clock this morning, there was little prospect for a race between Cup Challenger Shamrock IV and Defender Resolute in America's Cup contest.

(Canadian Press.)

SANDY HOOK, July 21. — The thrills were all saved for the last 12 miles of the thirty mile triangular race for America's Cup yesterday. Both yachts had lazied along in a vagrant breeze Shamrock steadily drawing away from her glistening white pursuer until the challenger came within about two miles of second mark. There she caught a freshening north-wester and spurted up, breaking out her balloon jib top sail and spinaker as she rounded the stake for a wing and wing run home before the breeze. Resolute was still floundering along in near calm more than a mile from the stake.

Suddenly the breeze struck her and the trim little craft, heeling over until her decks were awash, darted forward in pursuit. She seemed fairly to leap through the sea, flinging white spray high as she tore along. She gained the mark in an incredibly short time and swinging close to the buoy broke out her ballooner and strained forward like a thoroughbred on the home stretch. But the tricky breeze, which had appeared to favor the Shamrock from the start, had given the challenger too great a lead to be overcome and she swept across the finish line at Albrose channel lighthouse nine minutes and 27 seconds ahead of the Resolute, victory by two minutes and 26 seconds after the handicap imposed because of her greater sail area had been deduted.

"BABE" GOT HIS 32ND.

Got One Homer in Excess of His Own 1919 Record.

NEW YORK, July 20.—Babe Ruth made his thirty-second home run of the season in the first game of the Yanks-White Sox double-header here this afternoon. There were two men out and no one on base at the time. Faber was twirling for the Sox. Babe broke his own previous home run record yesterday with two home run swats.

HAMILTON AFTER "PRO" HOCKEY FRANCHISE, WITH FAST TEAM

HAMILTON, July 20.— The fact that hockey moguls of this city have already applied for a berth in the National Hockey Association and further that overtures have been made to Sprague Cleghorn the great Ottawa defence man to manage the team, now appears as though the dream of hockey fans of this city is to be realized at last. Work has already been started on the new rink and by the time the snow flies the new plant should be finished.

Following the announcement that the local men had applied for a franchise in the professional circuit comes the story to the effect that Cleghorn the Montreal boy who has been starring with the champion Ottawas for the past two seasons, will be asked to take charge of the local team. However, before anything is definitely settled the blonde defence man, will first have to obtain his release from the Stanley Cup holders. He has been a tower of strength to the Senators and there is no doubt that they would be loathe to let him go. It is also rumored that Joe Matte who broke into professional company with the St. Patricks of Toronto last season will be found with the Hamilton team should they be sucessful in hooking on in the big circuit.

Cleghorn Requests Release.

When questioned regarding the foregoing despatch an officer of the Ottawa Hockey Club informed The Journal last night, that Cleghorn was in Ottawa over the week-end and intimated that he had other plans in view and would like to obtain his release. He did not state just what he intended doing and made no reference to the offer he is supposed to have received from the Ambitious City.

Tom Duggan the Montreal man announced some time ago that he intends breaking into professional hockey with another Montreal team and that he too is casting sheeps eyes in Cleghorn's direction. Cleghorn is originally a Montreal boy and is very popular in his home city.

"Regarding Cleghorn's case" said the Ottawa official "we consider him one of our best men but our policy has always been to give the players a chance to better themselves whenever possible, and if he does not want to play with Otawa he will in all probability be given his release."

The other members of the champion Ottawas are all in the city with the exception of Frank Neighbor and Sprague Cleghorn. The crack centre ice man is selling insurance in his home town, Pembroke, while Cleghorn is in Montreal.

George Boucher, Jack Darragh, Jack Mackell, Clint Benedict, Morley Bruce, Harry Broadbent and Cy Denneny are all employed here.

SPORTING NEWS, VIEWS AND GOSSIP

SPORTING COMMENT

With Ty Cobb back in the line-up the Detroit Tigers should be able to recover some of their lost ground.

"Babe" Ruth has averaged a dozen home runs for each of the seven years that he has worn an American League uniform.

William T. Tilden, the first American to win the world's lawn tennis championship, has been playing the game since he was seven years old.

Lon McDonald, the veteran harness driver, has won his share of the races in the Grand Circuit thus far and looks to be in for a successful season.

St. Louis baseball fans are elated over the prospect of going through the remainder of the season with both their teams fighting in the first division.

The Catholic University at Washington is to have a great stadium similar to that at Harvard. It is to cost about one million dollars and the entire expense is to be borne by the alumni of the university.

Eddie Moore, Clarence Pitt, and Howard Lindmore, three players who have been making an excellent showing with the Oklahoma City Western League team this season, are said to be slated for tryouts in the big show next year.

For the coming national rowing regatta at Worcester a new method of indicating to the contestants their positions at the starting point has been worked out and will, it is believed, prevent confusion and delays in starting the races.

Central League clubs pooled their receipts for the July 4 games, and the division gave each club over $700. Grand Rapids, in particular, has been showing greater interest in the new league than it ever did in the old Central or Western League days.

Both the United States and Canada will be represented in the Olympic rifle-shooting competitions to be held near Antwerp during the last week of July. In order to bring home the bacon the Americans will have to defeat the best marksmen of more than a dozen countries, entered in the competitions, including Great Britain, Holland, Denmark, Belgium, Sweden, Switzerland, Italy, Norway, Finland, Portugal, Brazil, and South Africa.

WM. HAMILTON TEAM WON CLOSE GAME FROM THE C.G.E.

A game between the C.G.E. Armature Winders and Wm. Hamilton Co. teams was played last night at Riverside Park, and resulted in a score of 1 to 0 in favor of Hamiltons. This game was one of the best seen on local grounds, this season, the play being snappy and both pitchers working with honors about even. Game by innings:

First Innings.

C.G.E.—Rutherford popped to LeBar. Hunter popped to Murphy. Frost struck out.

Hamiltons—Murphy struck out. Moore out, Frost to Starr. Gibbs struck out.

Second Innings.

C.G.E.—Guerins out, Callaghan to Gibbs. Fry singled slow bounder to LeBar. Fry beat throw to first, went to second on a wild pitch. Fry out, caught off second, Callaghan to Murphy. Starr safe, error by Callaghan. Vincent singled to left. Huff flew out to Smith, the C.G.E. losing their only chance to score.

Hamiltons—Callaghan lined to Hunter. Loucks struck out. O'Heron out, Frost to Starr.

Third Innings.

C.G.E.—Powell struck out. Rutherford also struck out. Hunter out, Lebarr to Gibbs.

Hamiltons—Smith struck out. Kennedy safe on error by Rutherford, stole second and third. Lebar hit by pitched ball. Murphy scratched a hit through short, scoring Kennedy, LeBar going to third and Murphy second. Moore hit one at Starr who fumbled it but got him at first. LeBar making no attempt to score. Gibbs struck out.

Fourth Innings.

C.G.E.—Frost singled, Guerin struck out. Frost to second on passed ball. Fry hit to Callaghan who got Frost between second and third, Callaghan to Moore to Murphy. Fry safe at first. Starr fouled to Callaghan who made a hard catch of a low foul ball.

Hamiltons—Callaghan fouled to Fry. Loucks out. Frost to Starr. O'Heron base on balls, stole second, out stealing third.

Fifth Innings.

C.G.E.—Vincent singled, ball taking bad bound past Lebar, out stealing second. Huff grounded out to Gibbs. Powell out, Callaghan to Gibbs.

Hamiltons—Smith struck out. Kennedy safe on error by Starr and went to second, caught between second and third, Huff to Fry to Rutherford to Starr. First Baseman Starr getting the put-out at second. LeBar struck out.

Sixth Innings.

C.G.E.—Rutherford struck out. Hunter flew to Smith. Frost out, LeBar to Gibbs.

Hamiltons—Murphy struck out. Moore out, Starr, unassisted. Gibbs single to right, only clean hit of the game. Callaghan out to Hunter who made nice one-handed catch.

Seventh Innings.

C.G.E.—Guerin out, Lebar to Gibbs. Fry popped to Callaghan. Starr out, LeBar to Gibbs.

Umpire—Heenan.

INDIA HAS THREE MARATHON RUNNERS

PITTSBURG, July 21. — At least three natives of India will be among the competitors when the starting gun is fired for the Marathon Race in the Olympic Games at Antwerp. The three, who sail soon for England and Belgium, are P. D. Odlahay (Belgaum, Bombay Presidency), N. D. Kaikali (Saltara, Bombay), and B. V. Dattur (Sangli State, Poona).

These are not the first Indians to compete in International events. In the inter-theatre of war cross-country championship of last year, a number of them were entered, and one of them won, while another finished third.

The extraordinary thing about the race was that the Indians ran barefooted. It is said that their form was a revelation.

AT THE ALLEN

Norma Talmadge's latest Select Picture is "By Right of Purchase," directed by Charles Miller, which will be the feature attraction at the Allen Theatre to-day only. In the words of a prominent reviewer on "The New York Review": "Miss Talmadge goes on apace. No other picture star has made such rapid upward strides as this beautiful and talented girl has in the past twelve months." And she is progressing all the time; each picture surpasses its predecessors—that is the open secret of the tremendous popularity of this Select Star.

"By Right of Purchase" is a highly dramatic photoplay of metropolitan society life in which the heroine, Margot Hughes, marries Chadwick Himes solely for his money, despite her infatuation with Dick Derwent, a handsome profligate. Himes loves her passionately, but it takes many months and much suffering before Margot works out her salvation, and finds that she truly loves the man to whom she thought she belonged only by right of purchase. A stirring photodrama with a punch, and replete with heart interest.

TWO BIG EVENTS TO AID SMOKE

FOOTBALL AND EXHIBITION RUN ON THURSDAY—BALL GAME SATURDAY.

At the meeting of the executive of the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association yesterday afternoon it was decided to accept the offer of Jake Solomon and Gordon Matthews to put on an exhibition benefit baseball game for Albert Smoke, between the Peterborough Central Ontario League team and the Delora Mines team on Saturday afternoon.

The arrangements regarding ticket sellers are completed and the necessaries which Smoke will require were considered. It was thought that with proper equipmnt Smoke would have won the race at Hamilton. As a result an effort will be made to secure such for him. Several offers from experienced runners to act as trainer for Smoke have been received but were not acted upon.

This morning the following 4 local runners had been picked to run in the relay against Smoke on Phursday: Charles Thorpe, Jack Green, Louis Rice, and James Rice. Several other runners who are eligible are being considered.

A complete statement of receipts and disbursements in connection with the Smoke benefit will be published in the papers.

The Frenchmen in France may not have taken to baseball, but the Frenchmen in Louisiana seem to take to the game like a duck does to water. Fully one-half of all the players in the Louisiana State League bear good old French names and are there with the "parle vous francais" stuff.

$100 FOR SERBIAN RELIEF.

Mrs. Jas. Kendry Provides for Care of Another Boy.

Through the subscription of $100.00 Mrs. James Kendry has adopted a Serbian orphan, the sum covering his expenses for 10 years. Mrs. Kendry's original choice was a girl, but on second consideration, realizing that a boy would want a partner when presented with a farm and thereby two would be provided for, decided upon a boy as her adopted child.

Smaller sums than Mrs. Kendry's generous donation continue to arrive and the canvassers in charge of the Serbian Relief Fund urge all who wish to subscribe to this worthy object to speed up in making their gift.

COMPLETE VICTORY FOR THE SHAMROCK

JUSTIFIED SEAMANSHIP OF CAPTAIN BURTON—LIPTON DELIGHTED.

(Canadian Press.)

ON BOARD YACHT VICTORIA, July 20.—It is generally admitted that to-day's race was a triumph for the Shamrock. She won a fair and square race from start to finish without flukes or accidents, and the victory is a tribute both to Skipper Burton and Designer Nicholson.

The yacht behaved magnificently throughout, and after passing the first mark the result was never in doubt, always provided that the wind held sufficiently to allow Shamrock to finish within the time limit. She led throughout except for a few minutes at the start, and Resolute never looked like catching up.

The progress of the race was watched with the most intense interest on board th yacht. All aboard, British and Americans alike, fervently hoped that Sir Thomas Lipton would win, and a burst of cheering, accompanied by the wild tooting of steam whistles on all sides from the dozen of excursion craft following in the wake of the racers, saluted Shamrock as she turned each mark far ahead of her rival.

It was undoubtedly a popular victory, and none was so honestly pleased as Sir Thomas himself, not only because it was a further step in actually winning the cup, but also because the victory completely justified the seamanship of Burton, the Shamrock's skipper. The baronet had been much perturbed by exaggerated newspaper reports published in New York papers alleging in the most downright fashion that Burton was being superseded owing to bad handling of the challenger in last week's racing.

Such statements, he declared to-day, were a distortion of the truth, and he declared that he rejoiced because his skipper had given such a splendid exhibition to-day of his sailing talent.

Finish Most Exciting.

The finish of the race was most exciting. Shamrock had had to concede a 7 minute 1 second handicap, and after she had crossed the line the spectators on the Victoria lined the rail, watches in hand, anxiously watching the defender speeding up from the rear in a last desperate effort to beat the challenger on time. It was a close thing, and when Designer Nicholson from the bridge shouted out that the seven minutes had expired, and it was seen that Resolute was still short from the finish, enthusiasm broke all bounds.

Sir Thomas on the bridge was surrounded by a swarm of his intimates shaking hands and clapping him on the back, while the other passengers on the deck below gave vent to their feelings in a series of cheers, singing, shouting, and dancing, while the excursionists on the decks of steamers in the vicinity, no less pleased, megaphoned congratulations to the winner.

"Where will you keep the cup?" shouted one enthusiast.

"He's all right, is Tommy," bawled another.

Much speechmaking followed.

Comodore Jarvis, of Toronto, was with Sir Thomas following the progress of the race.

WINDSOR TO SELL COAL AT COST NEXT WINTER.

WINDSOR, July 21. — Believing that it was "good business" to provide coal at cost for householders, notwithstanding a loss of $1,500, the Industrial Committee of Windsor City Council will again be in the fuel business during the coming winter, according to Alderman P. J. England, chairman of the committee.

Already there are more than 5,000 tons of hard coal at the yards. This will be sold at cost, plus the expense of unloading and delivering.

BOARD OF HEALTH DEFINES AREA IN RIVER PROHIBITED TO BATHERS

SWIMMING WITHIN TWO AND THREE-QUARTER MILES OF WATERWORKS INTAKE PIPE POLLUTES PETERBORO'S DRINKING WATER—DRAINAGE FROM LAKEFIELD ALSO A MENACE—HEAVY PENALTY FOR NON-OBSERVANCE OF THIS NOTICE.

Under and by virtue of 9-10 George V Chapter 71 and Chapter 81, s.5, the Provincial Board of Health after an examination made by an officer appointed for the purpose fixes and defines the following area, namely; that part of the Otonabee River between the Peterborough Waterworks Pumping Station and Lock No. 22 (Lock No. 5 P. L. Div.) a distance of two and three quarter miles more or less, as the area within which no person shall bathe or swim, such area being the source of supply of the waterworks for the City of Peterborough.

Signed John W. McCullough, Chief Officer and Secretary and A. H. Wright, Chairman.

This order from the Provincial Board of Health dated at Toronto, July 14th., has been made following the inspection made by A. E. Berry, Assitant Sanitary Engineer of the Provincial Board of Health, and has been deemed necessary by the swimming that has been indulged in above the Waterworks, more or less threatening contamination of the city's water supply. The new law, giving the Board of Health power to make it not permissable to bathe in water less than 3 miles above an intake pipe was passed by the recent session of the Provincial House. An officer to patrol the forbidden area will be secured and offenders dealt with vigorously.

Situation Serious.

The city's supply of water is in a serious condition as it is without the added danger of greater pollution through swimming near the intake pipe. The water is now being chlorinated heavily, 11 pounds to a million gallons of water and while there is no great danger, unless typhoid breaks out still every precaution must be taken. Therefore Mr. R. L. Dobbin, superintendent of the Waterworks, advises boiling all water until notified to the contrary.

Engineer's Report.

The Engineer A. E. Berry's report to the Provincial Board of Health follows. Mr. Berry's inspection was made in the request of Mr. Dobbin the last week in June.

"Gentlemen,—I have the honor to submit my report of a sanitary survey made of the Peterborough water supply June 17th. The chief purpose of the inspection was to consider boundaries for the prevention of bathing in the river above the city's water intake.

"The municipal water supply for Peterborough is drawn from the Otonabee river at a point some distance above the residential section of the city. The river receives pollution from several sources. The lands adjacent to the shores above the intake are used largely for pasture. In addition to this the drainage from a number of residences near the water's edge is carried into the stream. The city is in possession of several acres of land on the western side of the river above the pumphouse ,and it is proposed to use this for future extensions to the system."

Sewage Menace.

Mr. Berry also reported against the sewage from several houses that is discharged into the river.

"Furthermore," he said, "the drainage from the village of Lakefield enters the river about eight miles above Peterborough's water intake. During the navigation season excursion boats use the river extensively above Nassau ,and all their wastes are discharged without treatment.

"The above stream pollution is further increased by bathing in the river above the pumphouse. The road runs close to the banks in many places, and makes access to the river for bathing very convenient. Because of the short distance from the city most of the bathing takes place between the pumphouse and a point a short distance above Nassau. Consequently restrictions based on this area tend to remove the greater part of bathing in the river above Peterborough.

Pollution High.

"A liquid chlorinating apparatus has been in operation for a number of years. Owing to the heavy pollution and high organic contents of the river a very large amount of chlorine is necessary. The waterworks officials are using every effort to provide a safe water and have their own laboratory for making daily tests. A filtration system is badly needed, and has been under consideration for some time.

"In conclusion I respectfully submit the following recommendations:

(1) That bathing be prohibited on the Otonabee river between the Peterborough waterworks pumping station and Lock No. 22 (Lock No. 5 P. L. Div.) as indicated on the attached plan; a distance of approximately 2 3-4 miles.

(2) That a water filtration system be put in operation as soon as possible.

PRISON FARM FOR THE AUTO THIEVES ARRESTED HERE

SENTENCED AT TRENTON ON SATURDAY—RECORDS DISCLOSED

The three young motor car thieves who were arrested here on Saturday, July 10, for the theft of a car in Trenton were yesterday, after a week's remand, brought before Police Magistrate O'Rourke in Trenton and sentenced to terms at the Burwash Industrial Farm. Wesley Willis, Alias Walter Hall, and George F. Godfrey, alias Frank Harris, each got 18 months, and Edward Lewis, 12 months.

On Saturday morning, July 10, at 4 o'clock, they broke into several garages around Trenton but did not find things to their liking until they broke into the garage of W. H. Finkle of the Trenton Creamery on King street. But when they were taking his car out it stalled. The nursemaid, hearing the noise, awakened Mrs. Finkle, who aroused her husband, and he rushed down and reached the street in time to see his car disappearing in the distance.

On the alarm being given, Chief of Police Wm. Bain sent out warnings to all cities and towns in the Midland district.

About 7.30 o'clock that evening three strangers in a car on Dublin stree there excited the suspicion of a resident who telephoned the police. P.C. Young and P.C. Carey at once went to the scene in the police car and found the three sleeping in the bushes. Their car had been mishandled near the top of Dublin street hill and had rushd backward to the bottom, where it had smashed into a cement wall, breaking an axle and demolishing a wheel. The car completely answered the description of the stolen car and P.C. Young and P.C. Carey had the handcuffs on the trio almost before they had awakened.

They were taken back to Trenton on the evening of the 12th by the Trenton chief of police. The train was so crowded with Orangement that the chief had to take his prisoners in the baggage car.

The prisoners gave the names of Walter Hall, Frank Harris and Edward Lewis. One had 10 cents, another 2 cents, and the third no money at all.

On Tuesday they appeared before Police Magistrate T. A. O'Rourke, who remanded them for one week. Yesterday they elected summary trial before the Magistrate, and pleaded guilty.

The finger-print records of two reveal a history of crime. Walter Hall's real name is Wesley Willis. He was born in Brantford nineteen years ago. In 1918, in St. Thomas, he was sentenced on conviction of theft to from three to twenty-four months in Burwash Industrial Farm. George F. Godfrey is the real name of the self-styled Frank Harris. He was born eighteen years ago in Pittsburg, Pa. Three convictions are against him for theft, shopbreaking and escape from custody, the last for a term of 24 months. Edward Lewis is a young giant, 6 feet 2½ inches tall. He was born in Duluth, Minn., nineteen years ago. There being no previous convictions recorded against him, he goes to Burwash for 12 months.

QUARANTINE IS OFTEN IGNORED

PLACARDS HAVE LITTLE RESTRICTIVE EFFECT ON MANY FAMILIES.

The measles quarantine in Peterborough is too often ignored. The placards on the quarantined houses seem to be regarded in the light of a decoration and the inmates may be seen strolling down-town on a shopping expedition or riding about the streets in their cars. It has been remarked that in view of the paper shortage it would be as well to do away with the formality of placarding houses where the inmates have measles and thus save paper, money and the Health Department's time.

Evidently the laxity of quarantine has exposed most of the citizens who are not immunized by previous affliction from the disease, for the number of houses placarded daily is decreasing. There were no houses quarantined to-day and yesterday there were only two.

There is one case of small-pox in East City, but the small-pox seems to have subsided.

"Flu" Makes the Hair Come Out

Specialist Offers Simple Home Recipe to Stop Loss of Hair and Make It Grow Again.

People who had the "Flu" this past Winter and who now find their hair comingout badly, will be interested in the suggestion of a well known Hair Specialist who say: "Anyone can easily and inexpensively make at home a recipe which, in my opinion, is unequalled for stopping loss of hair and making hair grow out again thick, glossy and luxuriant.

You get from any druggist 6 oz. of Bay Rum, 2 oz .of Lavona (de Composee) and one-half drachm of Menthol Crystals. Mix together and allow to stand over night before using. Rub thoroughly into the scalp with the finger tips or a stiff brush.

This prescription is perfectly harmless, acts quickly and neither dries out the hair nor makes it greasy. But ladies using it should be careful not to get it on the face or where hair is not desired.

LAKEFIELD CRIMEAN WAR VETERAN DEAD

William Smith, one of the few remaining veterans of the Crimean War, died on Sunday last in Lakefield, aged 86 years. He served as a corporal in the 62nd Regiment, three and a half years, and was twice wounded. His wife, a sister and brother survive.

The funeral was held on Sunday to Ray's Cemetery, six veterans of the late war acting as pall-bearers. The service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Jull, and at the graveside by Captain Rev. James Rollins.

An interesting fact in connection with the death of the late Mr. Smith is that he and the late Thomas Doman enlisted in the same regiment in the same town in the Old Country, and after receiving their discharge from their regiment never met one another until twelve years ago, when Mr. Smith came to Lakefield to reside, when he lost no time in finding Doman, bought a house next to him, and resided beside him, the two passing many an hour in recounting their experiences in the Crimea.

INCINERATOR EMPLOYEE IN DANGER OF LOCKJAW

Was Severely Cut Handling Broken Glass in Garbage.

As a result of some citizen putting broken glass in the garbage, an employee at the incinerator was severely cut in handling garbage last week and it is feared that tetanus (lock jaw may set in. Sanitary Inspector Stapleton stated to-day that the practice of putting broken glass in with the garbage was too common and if not stopped at once would prove exceedingly dangerous. Glass should be put in a separate container.

The Sanitary Inspector also stated that unless the warning issued some time ago regarding the placing of garbage is standard, fly proof containers was obeyed, measures would be taken to enforce it.

Garbage should be thoroughly drained before being placed in the container.

USE AND NOT ABUSE OF HORNS DESIRABLE

"Toot, Listen and Toot Again" is Plan Advised—Excessive Horning a Nuisance.

It is advisable before passing an intersection of streets, says Motor Life Magazine, to signal, listen for a reply and then signal again. Some such plan—whichever seems feasible to the particular driver—should be instrumental in lessening the number of accidents that are the direct result of wrong horning. The driver technically known as the "road hog" is less likely to be the victim of a crossing accident of this sort, because the other fellow is bound to hear him coming.

But the excessive horner is a general nuisance everywhere. He annoys the patrons of the theatre, the church congregation, the patients in the hospital and a thousand and one persons who are perfectly well aware that he has a horn. They want him to use it, not abuse it at their dicomfort. He could be just as safe at crossings—and could hog the right of way just as successfully—by trying the "short toot, listen and toot again" method.

LEMON JUICE FOR FRECKLES

Girls! Make beauty lotion for a few cents—Try It!

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly-fragrant lotion into the face neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and rosy-white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless and never irritates.

THE SPARK FROM HEAVEN.

Give me that thought: So may I live my while,
The cheap viscissitudes of life disdain,
And little reck me what is great and small!
The thought that does such healing power contain
As I may need, whatever may befall.
The thought that can beguile
My spirit, her it on from day to day
Unfettered as the breeze that stirs at morn,
As eagle out above the vast uphorne—
Sure-voyaged as the planet on its way.

—Charles Twining.

BOLSHEVIK ARE IN SIGHT OF POLAND

PADEREWSKI PLEADS WITH ALLIES FOR AID.

WARSAW, July 21.—The Bolsheviki on the northern front are in sight of Poland, proper. North of Grodno, and just east of the Niemen River, according to Monday night's official statement, the Bolsheviki have assembled the masses of troops and are attacking along the Vilna Railroad in their drive on Grodno.

Activity is reported along the entire front, and the Bolsheviki have been repulsed in several places.

In some places it is estimated they are making an average daily advance of nine to twenty miles.

TRAWLER FLEET OFF FOR BRITAIN

HALIFAX, July 21.—Amid the sounding of whistles and practically unobserved, a fleet of miniature craft, steamed slowly out of Halifax harbor bound to the North of Scotland via the Azores. Included in the fleet were 4 trawlers and 21 drifters, the advance guard of the hundred which will cross the Atlantic this year, having been purchased from Canada by the Mother Country. Each of the trawlers carried a crew of ten men, while on the drifters were 8 men. These men came out from England.

For over a month the twenty give ships which left this morning were being made ready for the trip across the Atlantic. They left port in the convoy system and will cross the Atlantic in the same manner. The four trawlers appeared as "mother ships" for the smaller craft. They were soon out of sight in the fog.

The spectacle of them proceeding down the harbor brought back memories of war days when convoys went from Halifax regularly and some times as many as thirty or more heavily laden cargo ships would leave in a few hours.

Some of the drifters had their sails hoisted. All presented a favorable appearance and looked to be well fitted for the trip. At the Azores they will take on more coal and then resume the trip to Scotland.

It is expected that about eighty more of these ships will be sent across before the winter. A number of men are now here preparing another fleet and more are expected to arrive. The authorities are finding it difficult to secure passage to Canada for the crews.

ANOTHER FORGED CHEQUE.

FOUR PARTIES IN N.S. NOMINATIONS

CONTESTS IN EVERY COUNTY—NINETY-EIGHT CANDIDATES IN THE FIELD.

HALIFAX, N.S., July 21.—Yesterday was nomination day for the provincial elections in Nova Scotia on July 27 and there will be contests in every county.

The Liberals have candidates in every county except Colchester, where Liberal and Conservative farmers are opposing the straight Conservatives.

The Conservatives have no candidates in Digby, Annapolis, Antigonish and Guysboro counties, and only one candidate in Pictou, Yarmouth and Hunts. In these counties the farmers are oppsing the Liberals.

Altogether there are in the field 40 Liberals, 31 Conservatives, 12 Labor, and 15 farmers, or a total of 98 candidates.

CATCH OF WHITE FISH IS ORDERED REDUCED

Consumption of Government Fish Not Keeping up With Supply

Although the Ontario Government Fish Sales Branch is limited this year to Lake Nipigon and Nipissing for its supply, it has been necessary to order a cut in production. Mr. McDonald, Deputy Minister of Game and Fisheries, stated yesterday that he had reduced the daily catch of whitefish to a ton a day, owing to the falling off in consumption. The Department takes this course rather than dispose of the surplus catch by export to the United States.

No restriction has been placed on the catch of lake trout, for which there is comparatively good demand. The Sales Branch, in meeting the call for trout, is handicapped by the fact that it must depend entirely on Lake Nipissing, and this year, of course, no fish is being requisitioned from the commencial fishermen in the other lakes.

9 DEAD, SCORES WOUNDED IN BELFAST STREET RIOTS

SANGUINARY ENCOUNTERS BETWEEN MOBS AND MILITARY — MACHINE GUNS WERE USED AGAINST RIOTERS—EVEN FIRE BRIGADE CALLED OUT.

AMBULANCES BUSY

(Canadian Press.)

BELFAST, July 23.—Brother Michael Morgan, a Redemptorist, was shot dead last night in Clonard monastery, Falls road, during the course of a serious engagement between rioters and troops. Two others were killed, Dony and Wm. Godenry. The belief is held that Brother Morgan was a victim of stray bullets.

Late last night there was a renewed outbreak of rioting on the Kashmir road, one of the most dangerous districts. Attacks against the military were of a formidable character and many persons were injured by stones and other missiles. The rioters grew increasingly menacing and after a warning the troops fired, with the result that three persons were killed and fully a dozen wounded, some of them seriously. Jones Conn was shot through a lung and was operated on immediately at the hospital. Up to 11 p.m. nine persons had been killed and scores wounded.

SOLDIERS TURNED MACHINE GUNS AGAINST RIOTERS

BELFAST, July 23.—Firing continued in early hours this morning, soldiers being compelled to use machine guns against the rioters. Three Unionists were shot dead by Sinn Feiners and another man's head blown off. A man helping to carry the body of one of the dead men into a house was shot dead. Soldiers with fixed bayonets patrolled the streets throughout yesterday and many demonstrations which might have led to serious results were thus interrupted. Looting prevailed. Disorder broke out at eight last night and troops hurried to the scene and fired on the mob, wounding many, who were removed to hospitals or their homes. Reinforcements arrived on the scene an hour later and there was a final burst of firing. Ambulances hurried to the spot from every quarters of the city, followed by the fire brigade, in the belief that the casualty list would be heavy.

BELFAST "NORMAL" TO-DAY.

No loss of life has been reported.

A LINDSAY LAD SAVED BOY'S LIFE

PLUCKY RESCUE FROM THE UPPER SCUGOG RIVER.

LINDSAY, July 23.—A young lad by the name of Ranson or Lawrenson had a narrow escape from drowning Wednesday evening while in the vicinity of the old Cereal Mills. He was watching other boys in swimming and in some manner lost his balance and toppled into the deep water.

Not being able to swim, the young fellow was in grave danger of being drowned. However, the presence of mind and quick action of Fred Blackwell saved his life. He jumped into the water and succeeded in bringing him to the surface and to safety.

Blackwell is a member of the Boy Scouts, and is receiving congratulations on having made such a splendid rescue.

BREEZE LIVELIER FOR TO-DAY'S RACE

SHAMROCK'S HANDICAP IS 6 MINUTES, 40 SECONDS.

(Canadian Press)

SANDY HOOK, July 23.—With the tally of two to one in favor of the Irish challenger, Shamrock, the race for America's Cup to-day was expected to prove a thriller by the yachting enthusiasts here. In drydock yesterday "Tom" Lipton's green hulled sloop was given a thorough overhauling and provided with a new topmast and topsail. Following these alterations the New York Yacht Club announced that pending remeasurement the race to-day would be run with a handicap of six minutes and forty seconds in favor of the Resolute. Both yachts were pronounced by their skippers fit for what may prove the deciding battle. Marine observers expressed the opinion that a lively breeze might be expected. Shamrock to-day will have twenty miles of reaching the point of sailing in which she has shown superiority over Resolute.

SANDY HOOK, July 23.—Eight-knot southwesterly breeze was blowing at eight this morning and with the passing to sea of an all night rainstorm, prospects for America's Cup race to-day were good.

Street Railway Work On George St. Costs $30,000

REPORT ON PETERBORO EXTENSIONS WILL BE FORWARDED BY HYDRO-ELECTRIC COMMISSION NEXT WEEK—ESTIMATED COST ALMOST PROHIBITIVE.

That the great delay in presenting the long promised Hydro-Electric Commission report on street railway extensions in Peterborough was due to the fear of the Commission that the unprecedented cost of construction would cause the Council to refuse its sanction to further extensions at present, was the statement made by F. A. Gaby, chief engineer of the Hydro-Electric Commission, to Ald. H. Gainey, chairman of the Railways committee of the City Council, in Toronto on Wednesday.

The new heavy line which has been laid from the C.P.R. station to Romaine street to form a part of the proposed pavement extension, has cost $30,000, Mr. Gaby said.

The report on extensions has been prepared, however, and will be presented at a meeting of th Hydro-Electric Commission to be held in Toronto on Tuesday. It is expected that the report will be forwarded to Peterborough by Thursday.

It is generaly understood that the action of the Drury government regarding Hydro radials has been a factor in the delay of this report.

The extensions under consideration in Peterborough, however, do not include any more heavy reinforced tracks for paved streets, and consequently would not nearly approach in cost the new line on south George street.

RESOLUTE HALF MILE AHEAD ON SECOND LEG OF TO-DAY'S CRUISE

YACHTS HAD COVERED THIRTEEN MILES UP TO THAT TIME—WIND STIFFENS AFTER 2 O'CLOCK—AMERICAN BOAT OVER STARTING LINE FIRST.

(Canadian Press.)

SANDY HOOK, July 23.—Fog delayed the start of the fourth international yacht race to-day until one o'clock ,when the Resolute dashed first across the line in the race which she must win to prevent Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock IV. from capturing the priceless pewter trophy.

According to official time, the defender crossed the line 25 seconds ahead of the Irish boat.

It was Shamrock to-day that hung back and allowed Resolute to set the pace. Both yachts crossed on the starboard tack, and Resolute at once began to gain.

At 1.15 Resolute was 200 yards to windward and Shamrock almost becalmed. Both sloops broke out big jib topsails.

There was a big roll to the sea, and the yachts pounded as they moved away, causing them to spill some of the wind from their sails.

Working inshore, Resolute pinched out further and further, to weather, while Shamrock sought to overcome her rival's advantage by forereaching.

Wind Changed.

At 1.20 the wind, after increasing to eight knots, went back into the south-south-west, making it dead ahead to the first turn, with Resolute a half-mile to windward, and going faster than the Shamrock.

Wind Disappointing.

At two o'clock Shamrock had cut down some of her rival's quarter-mile lead ,but Resolute was still some distance to the weather.

The sloops stood well inshore to gain the advantage of the tide. The wind was just strong enough to drive them through the ground swells.

At 1.45 Captain Burton evidently had given up trying to force the Herresshoff sloo and was beginning to push Shamrock out along the edge of the wind. The skippers apparently did not find the wind they expected along the Jersey shore, but they had the advantage of the tide, and kept running in towards Seabright.

At 2.30 Resolute was a quarter of a mile ahead.

Resolute turned second mark at 3.49 and Shamrock at 3.27.16.

Resolute rounded first mark with an official lead of one minute and forty-eight seconds, which with her time and handicap put her eight minutes and twenty-eight seconds to the good. The wind was rapidly increasing and at three o'clock was fifteen knots and the yachts for the first time in the regata were leaning board ward.

Face Work By Crew.

In starting the second leg Resolute took out her baby jib top sail in one minute and broke out a reaching jib one minute after rounding the point. Shamrock took nearly three minutes in holding her reaching jib top sail and starting after the Resolute. At 3.20 the yachts were within two miles of second turn Resolute leading by nearly hali mile.

At 3.50 p.m. Resolute leads by quarter mile. Yachts are four miles from the lightship and have run into a squall.

Resolute Turned in the Lead.

Resolute turned the first mark two minutes three seconds ahead of Shamrock.

Resolute crossed Shamrock's bows at 2.07, and then came about on the starboard tack, planked squarely on the challenger's quarter.

After this manoeuvre the press boat reported Resolute about 700 yards ahead.

The off-shore wind seemed brisker, and the yachts took on speed, their lee rails awash.

On an off-shore tack, Burton employed an old English trick of railing along under started sheets for the purpose of forereaching. It was doubtful if Shamrock footed any faster than her rival.

Wind Now 12 Knots.

At 2.45 the yachts had sailed three miles of the second leg, and Resolute was leading by half a mile.

The wind increased to 12 knots.

Resolute wins after spectacular race.

OWEN SOUND PRISONER ESCAPES FROM MOTOR CAR

OWEN SOUND, July 23.—While being taken to the county jail Thursday George Hutton, escaped from Deputy Chief John Thompson and has not yet been caught. Hutton is a young man 20 years of age, who has already served two terms for house-breaking and theft. He answered a smilar charge yesterday with regard to the Creeper and Griffin robbery a week ago, and was remanded to jail for a week. While on his way there he leaped from the automobile and showed his heels to such good effect that he has not been found yet.

ALDERMEN ARE SILENT ABOUT SUNDAY CARS

DEPUTATION DECLINED TO COMMUNICATE RESULT OF INTERVIEW IN TORONTO.

City Solictor Widdifield, when interviewed by The Examiner to-day, declared that in his opinion the Sunday street cars by-law could not be submitted to the people on July 30th or at any other time this year. The Ontario Railways Act, he contends, could not be construed in any way to permit of such a vote being taken before January 1st.

Asked if there had not been an amendment to the Act at the recent session of the Legislature, Mr. Widdifield pointed out that wherever the measure read "50,000 of a population," it had been amended to apply to municipalities of "15,000" and over. But while this gives cities of Peterborough's size the privilege of Sunday street cars should such be the people's wish, as expressed at the polls, the Act still distinctly reads that "a by-law must be submitted at the annual municipal elections," which, so far as Peterborough is concerned, fall on January 1st of each year.

This Act further provides, said the solicitor, that the City Council must decide before December 1st to submit the Sunday street car question, and shall not later than the 15th of December have given notice of such decision by publicly advertising same for at least one week in each issue of some daily newspapers published in the municipality. Then, before the question can be submitted as to whether or not the ratepayers are in favour of Sunday street cars, the lieutenant-governor-in-Council must declare that the population of Peterborough is 15,000 or over.

In the face of these facts Mr. Widdifield cannot see on what grounds the city could submit a by-law before next January. He had not been in communication with Attorney-general Raney, he said, but had given Council a copy of the Act and some of them were disposed to not agree with him, declaring they could submit a by-law this year.

Members of the Council's deputation, who waited on Attorney-general Rainey in Toronto on Thursday, are very reticent as to the probable result of their interview, preferring to give no opinion one way or the other.

VISITED "HAZEL BRAE."

..W. W. Hind Smith on Visit to the Barnardo Homes.

W. W. Hind Smith, one of the directors of the Dr. Barnardo Homes, visited the Girls' Home, "Hazel Brae," in Peterborough this week. Mr. Smith has taken a great interest in the work of this organisation for many years. With his fortune he has been able to bring dozens of girls and boys to Canada, many of whom now occupy a prominent position in the community in which they live.

During his visit here he did not disclose any of the future plans of the organisation, and no changes in the staff are expected.

ACCEPT THE AWARD BUT UNDER PROTEST

Railway Brotherhoods Renew Their Case Before Board.

CHICAGO, July 22.—Acceptance under protest of the United States Railway Labour Board's wage decision was decided upon at an executive conference here to-night by all of the sixteen recognised raillroad unions except one; ti was announced, following the meeting, by Timothy Shea, Grand Chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

The one exception was the Brotherhood of Railway Telegraphers, which referred the award to its membership, together with a strike proposition. The fifteen other organisations decided they would renew their case before the Labour Board .

FORMER LINDSAY MAN ASPHYXIATED

IN GENERAL HOSPITAL, TORONTO SUFFERING FROM GAS POISONING.

TORONTO, July 23.—T. J. Collins, of Lindsay, Ont., was removed from his room in the Daly House, Front and Simcoe streets, on Wednesday night and taken to the General Hospital. He is suffering from gas poisoning, caused through inhaling escaping gas from a jet which he had blown out on retiring to rest. His condition is not regarded as serious.

Friends Notified.

Few particulars are to hand, but Night Constable Parkes, of Lindsay, received word from the Toronto police that Mr. Collins had been discovered in a state of suffocation.

It appears that Mr. Collins, who some time ago lived on the farm now occupied by Mr. Sam Endicott, but who has been residing in Rochester recently, had been visiting his brother, Mr. Charles Collins, in West Ops during the past week. Tuesday morning he left for Toronto spend a day or two with friends.

SOCIALISTS WITH CABINET

(Canadian Press.)

WARSAW, July 23.—Poland has sent armistice proposals direct to the Soviet Government at Moscow.

After these proposals had been despatched at two o'clock this afternoon by the National Defence Council, a new Coalition Cabinet was formed under M. Witos. The new Cabinet has the support of the Socialist Party.

SOVIETS CAPTURE DOBNO.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, July 23.—The capture by Soviet troops of the fortress of Dubno, one of the Volhynian group of fortifications defending the south-eastern Polish border, is anpounced in Thursday's official statement from Moscow, received by wireless to-day.

SAYS CRISIS HOVERING.

LONDON, July 23.—Commenting on Lloyd-George's speech before the House of Commons, the Northcliffe newspapers yesterday declared the Premier had been too optimistic in his statements regarding the Russian-Polish situation.

The Daily Express said a crisis of first importance was facing Great Britain.

The Daily News believed the Polish situation was critical, and to be dealt with immediately.

The Mail said: Lenine should remember that economic blockade can be imposed on Russia again within a few hours. The arm of Great Britain is long.

BOLSHEVIK PLAN TO ROOT OUT FARMERS.

WARSAW, July 22.—The plans of the Soviet Russian Government for controiling Poland's population in connection with the offensive aimed at conquering the Polish Republic were made more than a month ago, according to Russian newspapers reaching Warsaw dated 11th June. On this date The Izvestia, the official organ of the Central Committee of the Moscow Soviet, published the following:

"Recent events on various Polish fronts and our advance into the very heart of Poland's population impel us to give our party workers instructions about the character of their work in establishing and strengthening the Soviet powers in Poland. It is absolutely necessary to undertake a most ruthless struggle against the entire Polish population and to take measures for their complete extermination as a nation.

Mass Terror Against Peasants.

"(1) It is absolutely necessary, therefore, first to inaugurate mass terror against the propertied peasants, rooting them out entirely, and to undertake ruthless terror toward Poles who, generally, may undertake any direct or indirect part whatever in the struggle against the Soviet powers.

"(2) Confiscate grain and send the grain to fixed points. This refers not only to grain, but to all agricultural products.

"(3) Undertake all measures to assist the colonisation of the poorer population.

"(4) Place the Jews and other persons of foreign birth on a footing of equality with Poles regarding land and in all other respects.

Complete Disarmament.

"(5) Effect complete disarmament, shooting anyone in whose possession is found even a cartridge after the period fixed for disarmament.

"(6) Leave armoured detachments in villages and districts until order is established.

"(7) All commissaries are instructed to act with the maximum of vigour to carry out these instructions without deviation."

FORM BUFFER STATE.

HONOLULU, July 22.—Negotiations have been completed between Japan and Asiatic Russia regarding the creation of a buffer State in Siberia, a Government memorandum issued in Tokio to-day announced, according to Tokio cables received here.

Asiatic Russia has agreed to preserve peace, to maintain friendly relations with Japan, and abolish Communism, while Japan has agreed to withdraw her troops from the buffer territory and the European Bolshevik armies are to be barred from the

FAMOUS TUNNELS

The Simplon Is the Greatest and Costliest of Them All.

LONGEST HOLE EVER BORED.

This Road Through the Alps Is More Than Twelve Miles In Length and Its Cost Exceeded Fifteen Millions—Our Own Hoosac Tunnel.

The costliest as well as the biggest railroad tunnel in the world is the long hole burrowed below the Alps between Brigue, Switzerland, and Iselle, Italy.

This tremendous tunnel, the Simplon, is 12 miles 537 yards in length and cost more than $15,000,000. Several millions more will be spent in completing the second chamber. Work was begun on it in 1898, and traffic began to move through in 1906.

The Simplon is about three miles longer than the St. Gothard and the Loetschberg tunnels and more than four miles longer than the Mont Cenis, the three next longest of the world's railway tunnels.

The Mont Cenis was the first of these big bores. It was completed in 1871 and at once diverted passenger and freight transportation away from Switzerland, as it furnished a direct route to Italy from southeastern France.

The Swiss determined to win back their lost traffic, and in 1871 work was started on the St. Gothard, which was not finished until eleven years later. The St. Gothard is about nine and one-third miles in length and cost $11,500,000.

In its toll of lives it was the costliest of all. Faulty ventilation, the terrific heat and the lack of care in keeping down the dust caused the deaths of 800 laborers. This tunnel is wholly in Swiss territory, and eight years ago it was bought from the owners by the government.

The Simplon, located about halfway between the Mont Cenis and the St. Gothard, is a double tunnel, although only one chamber has been wholly excavated. The other will be enlarged and put into service when the first becomes overtaxed. Better arrangements for ventilation kept the death roll down to sixty, twenty-five cubic feet of fresh air being supplied to the laborers for every one blown into the St. Gothard.

The difficulties conquered were tremendous. The Simplon is not only the longest, but the lowest of the Alpine tunnels, and the rock temperature sometimes reached 133 degrees.

When the workmen from the Swiss side reached the center of the great bore they were halted by an enormous spring of hot water. Then the Italians were stopped, and for some time it looked as though the whole work might have to be abandoned. But the engineers refused to be daunted, although six months were required to dig out the last 300 yards of the tunnel.

So slight were the errors made in the digging that the headings from either side met with deviations of but eight inches internally and three and one-half inches vertically. The total length of the tunnel was thirty-six inches less than had been calculated. Trains are pulled through the tunnel in eighteen minutes, at the rate of forty-two miles an hour, by powerful electric locomotives.

The Loetschberg is the latest of the big Swiss tunnels. This is about the same length as the St. Gothard and is also wholly in Swiss territory, being located to the north of the Simplon. It is a part of the Bernese Alps railway, which has thirty-four tunnels in its forty-eight miles between Thun and Brigue.

The Simplon will apparently remain the biggest of railway tunnels until a submarine one is driven under the English channel or perhaps under Bering sea. At present the longest projected mountain tunnel in Europe is a French undertaking, which is planned to pass directly under Mont Blanc, the highest mountain in Europe, and to form another highway between France and Italy. But this tunnel will be only a little over eleven miles long, so that it will be merely second in rank if it is carried out.

The Hoosac tunnel, in western Massachusetts, was the first really big tunnel in the United States. Begun in 1855, it was not finished until 1876. Air drills and nitroglycerin were used in this work for the first time on a big scale in any American engineering work. The Hoosac tunnel is four and three-quarters miles in length.

Geologist's Thermometer.

Quartz is the geologist's thermometer, for it is formed between narrow ranges of temperature. If the materials from which nature makes it are subjected to more than so much heat they take on an entirely different character from quartz. The same is true if they are subjected to less than a certain amount of heat.

None Worth While.

"There is one thing I am rather worried about in this suburban club business."

"What is that, my dear?"

"Do you know if they serve cakes with these golf teas?"

An Improvement.

"He left his home all for her."

"Why so?"

"Well, you see, hers was the better home.

To double your troubles and lessen your friends talk about them.—Youth's Companion.

No Gloves For Her.

Flatbush—And are Mr. and Mrs. Carnisee working hand and glove together now? Bensonhurst—Oh, no; she handles him without gloves.

One of the mistakes in the conduct of human life is to suppose that other men's opinions are to make us happy. —Burton.

SPEED IN BASEBALL.

What an Infield Double Play Means in Time and Action.

Making first base, though more dramatic to watch, is an uneventful expedition compared with the trip to second. It takes a fast man to negotiate the journey in 3 3-5 seconds. No thrown ball goes over 300 feet, and if a batted ball travels beyond the safe limits of a single throw it must be relayed by the fielders. While you are watching the outfielder scamper after the ball the relay line is being swiftly formed in the infield. There could be no such quick and accurate fielding of deep outfield hits if the outfielder taking the ball did not know that behind him was ranged his line of relays ready to take the ball the instant he could turn and throw it.

To make a double play in the infield the shortstop, for example, must field a ball that has been batted about 125 feet. He passes the ball from ten to twenty-five feet to the second baseman, who must then throw it ninety feet to first. All this while the batter is running ninety feet, a trick that, as we have seen, it takes a snappy runner to turn in 3 3-5 seconds. It's a close call and a case of utilizing the fraction of a second, but with sharp fielding the margin is all on the side of the fielders. The double play is the menace ever threatening the runner on first.

Fruit Acids as Mouth Cleansers.

Unless the teeth are very badly damaged or eroded the acids of fruit, such as that contained in grapes, oranges, lemons or apples, will be found to be a satisfactory mouth wash. The advice of a dentist should be sought, however, to determine the condition of the teeth and to decide whether an alkaline or acid wash is preferable for the individual case. But there is no question, according to the Popular Science Monthly, as to the efficacy of the food acids in removing quickly and entirely the mucous films that are the first stages of dental decay.

An apple eaten in the evening will cleanse the teeth mechanically and chemically and if followed by vigorous brushing will protect them from bacteria during the night.

Automatic Cooking Boxes.

Automatic cooking boxes were in general use among the Hebrews nearly 2,000 years ago. The Greek and Roman writers frequently refer to them. In his edition of "Juvenile," for example, Friedlander cites a commentator who refers to "the Jews who a day before the Sabbath put their viands hot into the cooking boxes, the pots being covered with napkins and wrapped about with hay, so that they may have warm food on the Sabbath."

His Sermon.

"I used to worry about what I put into a sermon," said the minister.

"Yes?"

"But when I found that what people discussed was mainly the length of it I put about fifteen minutes into it and let it go at that.

A HALF-HOLIDAY OUTING

A PLEASANT TRIP DOWN THE OTONABEE RIVER TO RICE LAKE.

A very pleasant half-holiday outing was that experienced by the voyagers on board the "Stoney Lake" yesterday afternoon. The weekly half holiday afternoon being bright and sunny tempted many to board the well known steamer and voyage to Gore's Landing on Rice Lake, and back. The boat was comfortably filled; enough being on board to make it lively, yet not crowded. The weather was just perfect for a steamboat trip. A bright sun shining through a cloudless sky, tempered by a pleasant westerly breeze, made it all that could be desired. Upwards of an hour was allowed on shore at Gore's Landing and at 6 o'clock the warning whistles were sounded and the homeward voyage began terminating a few minutes after nine.

The attention given by Captain Scollard and the various officers of the crew towards their passengers tended largely to the increased pleasure of the trip.

Evidently capital is to be the only internationalist with a recognised standing.

ONTARIO HAS NO COAL SURPLUS NOW

SWEPT CLEAN THIS YEAR AND NEEDS 12,000,000 TONS OF BITUMINOUS.

TORONTO, July 23.—The emergency orders of the Interstate Commerce Commission giving priority in the movement of winter stock coal to Canada would seem to prove the serious scarcity with which this country is faced, according to coal experts in Toronto.

All over the States, practically, there is a continual clamour in regard to the scarcity of coal. Factories and industries have been threatened by no fuel in many of the big cities. Yet movements to Canada have been given priority in face of the shortage at home.

What We Need.

"This can be explained," stated Fuel Controller Harrington, "when you consider the serious shortage of bituminous coal in Canada. Ontario's needs this year will amount to twelve million tons to keep industries running. For the whole of Canada during the first three months of the year, there were only 2,478,510 tons of coal coming in from the States. If that rate is kept up, which we may assume will be done, barring any lay-off or tie-up of the railways, there would be something like 7,435,530 tons coming into Canada for the whole year.

"Ontario uses the largest part of this, but for her needs alone that leaves a shortage of some 4,000,000 tons. We cannot expect that shortage to be made up, even with the most advantageous conditions. If it is it will be miraculous.

Time Limit.

"Besides this we must consider that we can only get the coal up until November. Our shortage is demonstrated by the fact that the Interstate Commerce Commission is leaving the other parts of the United States, which can be supplied in the winter, and ruling for a supply now to the North-Western States and Canada."

None to Start With.

In practically every other year Ontario started off with more or less of a surplus from the year before. This year the country started out practically swept clean of all bituminous coal.

As far as coal receipts here by water are concerned, the fuel controller states that some 18,000 tons have been brought in from New York ports since June, but this is only a mere "drop in the bucket."

PREMIER APPEALS FOR MORE TOLERANCE.

Hon. Arthur Meighen Makes First Speech Since His Appointment.

(Canadian Press.)

MONTREAL, July 22.—Hon. Arthur Meighen, Prime Minister of Canada, delivering his first public speech since his new appointment, made an appeal to the Board of Trade yesterday morning to all Canadians to be tolerant of each other's viewpoint and to work together to bring the Dominion successfully through the difficult times ahead. The Prime Minister arrived at Windsor Street Station from Ottawa at 12.30 in the afternoon, and immediately motored to the Board of Trade, where a number of leading business men had gathered to welcome him. After lunching at the St. James Club, the Prime Minister made an inspection of the Montreal harbour.

No Montreal Support.

It is no secret that, when the recent contest for the Premiership was on, the support of Mr. Meighen from Montreal was almost negligible, the favourite being Sir Thomas White. Sir Thomas declined, however. Mr. Meighen was chosen, and there is a desire to conciliate those who were disappointed, some of whom are ready to be conciliated.

Then there arises the question of French representation in the Cabinet. At present there is not a French Minister in the House, and only one—Senator Blondin—in Parliament. St. Antoine will be vacant some of these days by the retirement of Sir Herbert Ames, and this may furnish an initial opening.

The idea in the minds of the Government is that Quebec is inclined to protection, and is the one province which the agrarian movement has not invaded. Supporters of the new party think the protectionist and anti-radical sentiment down there needs to be cultivated.

FARMERS TO OPEN ST. THOMAS STORE

Purchase Property in East Talbot St. For Co-operative Enterprise.

ST. THOMAS.—The purchase of valuable store property in East Talbot street by representatives of the United Farmers' Co-operative Co., Ltd., is reported to have been consummated yesterday. The opening of the new U. F. O. store is expected within a few weeks. The property is centrally located in the growing part of the city. The sale of stock, which was conducted among the farmers of this district and members of the Independent Labor party of St. Thomas was most successful, it is reported, the allotment being over-subscribed.

POLES ANSWERING CALL BY THOUSANDS

Over Half Million Have Already Responded to the Demand for Troops.

WARSAW.—It is estimated that more than a half million responded to the call of the Polish National Council of Defence for troops. The war spirit is dominating Warsaw newspapers. The people generally believe that an armistice would not necessarily mean peace.

Processions of short-trousered students and uniformed recruits to-day marched beside clerks and middle-aged men from the shops and fields. The marchers went through the streets singing patriotic songs and headed by military bands, women tossing flowers profusely. Military mass was celebrated with thousands unable to enter the church where the ceremony was held. Society women spoke from tables, automobiles and street corners, selling war loan bonds. The newspapers appeared in full pages of pictures urging recruiting.

Robotnik, the Socialist leader, issued a long appeal calling upon the working men to join the colors and serve at the front. While contending for a just peace, Robotnik declared that Poland's independence was endangered by invaders at the country's gates.

During the demonstrations, airplanes flew over the city, dropping pamphlets, which stated that there was no news of acceptance of the armistice and that Warsaw was continuing preparations for war.

JOHN H. PACKER, well-known electrical engineer, of Liberty, Mo., who says that to look at him to-day no one would ever take him to be the same man he was before Tanlac restored his health. Has gained forty-four pounds.

"For two years previous to the time I began taking Tanlac, I lived principally on a raw-egg diet. During this time I was laid up in the hospital for five months and practically no hope was held out for my recovery. I don't suppose any man had a worse case of stomach trouble than I did; in fact, they said I could not live.

"Tanlac did not seem to help me much at first, and I had almost made up my mind to give it up, but if I had given it up it would have been the mistake of my life. I stuck to it for a fair test and am thankful that I did for after finishing my fourth bottle, my appetite was better and I noticed myself improving.

"This encouraged me to keep on taking it, and in two months I was able to eat a good square meal and digest it as good as anybody. Then it wasn't long until I got so I could go back to my work and at the time I had finished my last bottle, I found I had actually gained forty-four pounds in weight.

"To look at me to-day no one would ever take me to be the same man I was when I began taking Tanlac."

The above remarkable statement was made recently by John H. Packer, well-known electrical engineer of Liberty, Missouri.

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Wayne Drug Co., Ltd.; in Havelock by A. C. Denike; in Lakefield, by the Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowler's Corners, by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott; in Westwood, by G. Pringle and Son.

THE HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

MOTHER'S WAY.

"Oft within a humble dwelling,
As the shadows fall,
While the sunlight touches softly
One sweet face upon the wall,
The lonely loved ones gather,
And in hushed and tender tone,
Ask each other's full forgiveness
For the wrongs that each has done.

As I wondered why this custom
At the closing of the day,
'Tis because, they sweetly answered,
'It was once our mother's way.

If our home be bright and cheery
It holds a welcome true
Opening wide its door of greeting
To the many—not the few;
If we share our Father's bounty,
With the needy day by day,
'Tis because our hearts 'remember,
This was ever mother's way."
Sometimes when our hearts grow weary,
Or our task seems very long,
When our burdens look too heavy,
And we deem the right all wrong,
Then we gain a new, fresh courage
As once more we rise to say,
Let us do our duty bravely,
This was our dear mother's way."

We live in a superficial age, and we hurry along in a happy-go-lucky way, ignorant or heedless of the capacities of our minds and bodies.

The precocious youth, the boy or girl of average intelligence or the dunce, should alikke study his own strength, his weakness, his likes, his dislikes, his bent. "Know thyself," was spoken of old at Delphi, and, though the oracle has long been mute, the words are of eternal significance. No better advice was ever given to man. Philosophy finds its highest province in the study of our own natures. Knowledge thus gained, and that alone, will teach the round boy to avoid the square holes. No man ever makes an ill figure who understands his own talents, nor a good figure, also mistook them.

Grieving for those who are gone is always a selfish grief. It is not sorrow for them that we feel but sorrow for our own loss. At such times it is difficult to think rationally but we should try to realize that grief only harms the living and cannot possibly help in any way.

The great majority of men and women think they would be happier in some other place doing some other work. To almost everyone the day of choice comes. What career? What shall my life's work be? If instinct and heart ask for carpentry, be a carpenter; if for medicine, be a physician. With a firm choice and an earnest work a young man or woman cannot help but succeed. But if there is no instinct, of if it be weak or faint one should choose contiguously along the line of his best adaptability or opportunity. No one need doubt that the world has use for him, but great honor and fortune are not for all. True success lies in acting your part well and this everyone can do. Better be a first rate hod carrier than a second rate anything.

It is the habit of some people to laugh at the terror which is experienced by others during a heavy electrical storm. This is both cruel and wicked, since the victim is no more to blame for it than for the color of his eyes and hair—in fact, like them it is often hereditary.

Such persons should be soothed and talked to in a sensible way. Especially is this true of children who sometimes suffer more than words can tell from a fear which may seem very foolish to "grown up". Deal gently with them. It is the only way to eradicate their fears; ridicule and harshness will only confirm them. The child "afraid of the dark" should never be forced to encounter it unattended until he has gained sufficient confidence in himself to shake off the horror. Idiocy has often been the result of contrary treatment. Let both parents and teachers then, be thoughtful in these regards.

HAVE CONFIDENCE IN YOUR DRUGGIST

There are so many preparations recommended as a tonic and laxative that the public are often in doubt which preparation to try.

When you are suffering from constipation, biliousness or sick headache ask your druggist if Dr. Norvall's Stomach and Tonic Tablets will relieve these ailments and he will tell you they have no equal and if they should fail to help you return the bottle and he will refund your money.

We could publish hundreds of testimonials from well known residents of this city but as the druggists are selling many different preparations they should be able to advise you of the results they get from recommending Dr. Norvall's Stomach and Tonic Tablets. 25 cts. per box, 3 for $1.00, trial size 20 cts.

ST. CATHARINES GOT JUST ONE WHIZZ BANG

Dissatisfied With Its Allotment of War Trophies.

ST. CATHARINES.—If you look closely when you are passing the City Hall you may notice over near the police building a German field gun. It arrived yesterday from the Director of War Trophies, Ottawa.

It is a gun known in the war zone as a "Whizz-bang," and was captured by the 4th Battalion of Canadians.

Mayor Lovelace is not at all satisfied with the trophy. In his estimation a city that did so nobly in the way of sending men and materials to the war, is entitled to a more imposing looking trophy than this one, and he has asked Mr. Chaplin, M.P., to take the matter up with the powers that be at Ottawa to see if something better cannot be secured.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

FRIDAY, JULY 23RD, 1920.

A CAMOUFLAGE COMMISSION.

If any further evidence wa snecessary to show that the Meighen government has not the slightest intention of apealing to the country at the present time it is furnished by the announcement from Ottawa that a commission, probably to be composed of members of the cabinet, is to be appointed to investigate tariff problems. The appointment of such a commission is expected by the government to appease for the time being the many people who are clamouring for tariff reform. It gives the administration a chance to disarm its critics and furnishes an answer for those who have been asking the question, "What about the tariff" That it will be followed by any real reforms is not to be expected, but it will serve the purpose for which it was created, of giving the government a breathing spell. And anything that helps to retain the government in office will, it may be sure, be utilized. The necessity for a census will be the next excuse used, and meanwhile the government seeks to find an issue upon which it can safely trust its fortunes with the electors.

SUNDAY CARS.

The difference of opinion between City Widdifield and Attorney-General Raney as to the earliest date at which a by-law can be brought before the electors to provide for the Sunday operation of street cars should be cleared up at once and the measure submitted to the people as soon as possible. It is evident that public opinion is very strongly in favour of Sunday cars Within the past few days such representative bodies as the Board of Trade and Labour Council have unanimously passed resolutions in favour of Sunday service and the members of the City Council to a man share their opinion. The people, it is apparent, are only awaiting their opportunity to legalize the operation of cars on Sunday and it is to be hoped that any red tape that is interfering with the submitting of the by-law will be speedily eliminated. The Hydro Electric Commission is prepared to supply the service as soon as the by-law is passed and there is no logical reason why the people should be deprived of what they want, when the Legislature has made it possible for the ratepayers to authorize Suunday cars. It was at the initiative of the local Council that the necessary legislation was passed and in view of that fact Peterborough should be the first city in Ontario to take advantage of the amended act. The sooner the better seems to be the opinion of the public.

BOIL THE WATER.

So far as the Examiner has been able to learn there are many householders who are not obeying the frequently repeated warning to boil the city water, before using it as a beverage. It cannot be too strongly urged upon these careless individuals that they are running grave risks in ignoring the advice of the authorities, for while there is no occasion for a panic over the situation the fact remains that the city water at the present time is not safe to drink as it is taken from the tap. It is agreed that never has the water been polluted with organic matter to such an extent as at present and while the officials are exercising every precaution and taking every step within their power, using chlorine more freely than ever before, to purify the water, yet in its present state it is inviting a typhoid fever epidemic to use it for drinking purposes before adopting the simple, safeguard of first boiling the water. This is an inconveniece of course, but a very minor one compared to the peril and annoyance of an epidemic, and every family should see that the warning of the authorities is heeded and acted upon. A general compliance with the request will reduce the danger of an outbreak of illness to a minimum. The matter has been called to the attention of the citizens frequently during the past couple of weeks and would not have been again referred to in these columns were it not that the seriousness of the situation rendered it a matter of duty that an another effort should be made to impress upon the people of Peterborough that the warning "Boil the water" is not a mere fad on the part of an over zealous official, but is inspired by a realization that there is grave danger of an epidemic unless precautions are taken.

A FREE-FOR-ALL.

The situation in regard to the local by-election rendered necessary by the resignation of Mr. J. H. Burnham is growing daily more interesting. While Mr Burnham is the only candidate, to announce himself there are already manoeuvres under way that indicate the largest field of starters in the political history of West Peterborough. Efforts are being made to effect a union of the Farmers and Labour for the purpose of selecting a joint standard bearer, but surface indications at least would tend to the belief that the prospects of such an alliance being consumated are not of the brightest. The farmers, still tingling with the joyful sensation of victory in the Provincial arena are keen to try their luck in the Federal House, and it is said that the only basis upon which they will consent to join forces with the Independent Labour party is that the candidate selected to represent both interests shall be a farmer. On the other hand the Labour forces claim, with considerable justice, that West Peterborough is more of an urban than a rural constituency and that therefore the candidate should be a city worker. If both factions adhere to their present stand the probabilities are that instead of a joint candidate there will be both Farmer and Labour representatives in the field. There is a tendency on the part of both to angle for the support of the Great War Veterans, but so far their more or less coy advances have been received very coolly by the official body of returned soldiers who are going merrily ahead with plans for entering a candidate of their own. The G.W.V.A. executive meets next week to consider the selection of a candidate and afterward the question will be referred to the whole association.

Without either of the old parties, it looks as if there will be at least four aspirants for the $4,000 a year berth at Ottawa. These will represent the Farmers, Labour and the Great War Veterans and Mr. Burnham's own party of one. The Citizens' Liberty League, the Single Tax Association and other bodies have not yet been heard from. They should not miss the opportunity.

AUSTRALIAN GOVERNORS.

There are several points in which the constitution of the Commonwealth of Australia and that of the Dominion of Canada differ materially. In Australia, the doctrine of State rights—in Canada we would call it Provincial rights—is pressed much further than here. In the distribution of legislative powers the unspecified things—the residue they may be called—are by the Australian constitution given to the States, while in Canada they are given to the central government. But perhaps the most striking point of difference is in relation to the appointment of the Governors, of the States of Australia and the Provinces of Canada. In this Dominion the appointment of the Lieutenant-Governors is in the hands of the Ottawa government, and local men are usually chosen. In Australia the Government of the Commonwealth has no such power. The Governors of the States of Australia, like the Governor-General of the Commonwealth, are appointed by the Imperial Government. Up to this time the Governors chosen have been men from the public life of the mother country; in some instances from the Imperial civil service and in others from the House of Lords and the House of Commons.

Some people in the Australian States, in which there is more or less radical opinion, chafe under this system and have been seeking a change. It does not appear that they have desider the Canadian system which, if adopted, would give them Australian Governors, appointed by the Commonwealth Government. It would appear that those who oppose the present system are content to have the appointments made in London, but they demand that one of their own citizens be chosen.

Mr. Theodore, the Premier of the Queensland Government — a Labor Government—who is now in England, has taken exception to the proposal of the Imperial Government to appoint Sir Matthew Nathan, an old civil service man, to the Governor of that State. It is not surprising that the British Government are unwilling to meet the Queensland request. They will reasonably feel that if they are are to have the responsibility of making the appointment they should have a free hand in making the selection. Probably a proposal to adopt the Canadian system would have a better chance of obtaining favor at the Colonial Office, through that branch of the Imperial authority may find it quite agreeable to be able to honor or reward a friend by giving him a comfortable colonial governorship, and for that reason the present system may be preferred by that Office. To give up the right of free choice, to be obliged to make a selection from local men of whom they know nothing, and yet to be held resonsible for the conduct of the official, will certainly not be agreeable to Colonial Office authorities.

Lord Milner, the present Colonial Secretary, seems to have side-stepped the question by telling Mr. Theodore that such an important change of Colonial Office practice should not be made at the instance of one of the Australian States, but that the voice of all should be heard. Mr. Theodore, admitting the force of this argument, proposes to win the authorities of all the other States to the Queensland view. In the meantime, Sir Matthew Nathan goes out to fill the Queensland Governorship. His relations with his Cabinet under these circumstances may not be of the most pleasant character.

Perhaps the other Australian States may not be as anxious as Queensland to have local men in their Government House.—Journal of Commerce.

OCTOBER DATE SET FOR LIQUOR'S DOOM

Vote in All Provinces on Same Day, Though Ontario Baptists Protest.

OTTAWA, July 22.—While October 25 has been set as the date for the holding of plebiscites under the amended Scott Act in Alberta and Saskatchewan, no dates have yet been set for the prohibition referenda in Ontario, Manitoba, Nova Scotia and Yukon, from which Provinces petitions have been received. The Government desires to hold all the plebiscites on the same date if possible, so that the preliminaries may be arranged uniformly, and the machinery put in motion simultaneously.

Prohibition forces, however, are divided in their opinion on the subject, some holding that succeeding plebiscites will have a cumulative effect. In Ontario, the Baptists object to October 25 as the date, pointing out that their convention takes place at that time.

It is considered probable, however, that, excepting in the case of the Yukon, all will be held on the same date.

WHERE HAS IT GONE?

It is doubtful whether any country prospered more during the war than Japan. It is said that more Japanese became millionaires during that period than any other nation produced. Silk, her principal export, advanced from 900 yen a bale to above 5,000 yen. Prices of other exports advanced in nearly the same proportion.

Advices from Tokyo state that concerns which derived dividends for first half of year are now unable to obtain funds to meet these requirements. A 50,000,000 yen issue of French bonds had to be borne by syndicate banks, and in order to raise temporary funds Imperial Bank of Japan issued 10,000,000 yen securities which was subscriber by Division of Deposit, Department of Finance.

Unlike India, Japan never horded her money to any great extent, and Wall Street is asking "What has become of her great war wealth?"—Wall Street Journal.

THE LATE MRS. ROBINSON

The death of Sarah Ann Lawson, relict of the late John Robinson, occurred on Tuesday, July 13th., after a lingering illness. Deceased who was 90 years old, was born in Yorkshire England, and came to Canada with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Lawson, 80 years ago last May, settling on the "Ruben Grant" farm 3 miles west of Port Hope. They resided at Crooked Creek, South of Kendal for 11 years, and then came to Zion Line and lived there until her marriage to her late husband, John Robinson about 61 years ago, who predeceased her by 16 years. To their union six children were born all of whom survive their parents. They are; Thos. R. of Millbrook; Chris W. of Cleveland, Ohio, Mrs. Jos. Pressley of Hamilton, Mrs. Jas. Moore and Mrs. Jas. Christoe of Peterboro, to all of whom we join in extending sincere sympathy.

A Methodist in religion; a sincere Christian, a kindly neighbour, she won many warm friends who will sincerely regret her passing. She had resided with her son, Thomas for nearly 30 years. The funeral on Thursday, July 15th., to Zion Cemetery, was attended by many sorrowing friends and relatives. Rev. S. L. Tucker conducting the services at the house and grave. The bearers were:—Messrs Jas. and Sam Hamilton, R. H. Hubbeard, M. Brock, F. Patton and Wm. Jones.

THE FUNERAL OF THE LATE MISS ARMSTRONG

The funeral of the late Miss Armstrong took place on July 15, 1920, at 3.30 p.m. from the residence of her nephew, Mr. Stanley Armstrong to Fallis Cemetery, Manvers for interment, the services being conducted by the Methodist Pastor Rev. A. McLauchlin of Pohtypool, deceased having been a consistent member of the Methodist Church for over half a century.

The bearers were:—Messrs. W. H. Wood, Wm. Johnston, James Thompson, Alex. Potts, T. H. Aikin, M. Oakes.

Emigrating from Ireland with her parents, about 75 years ago, they settled in Manvers, where deceased lady spent most of her life of service, caring for her aged parents, until they entered into rest. She later, on the death of his wife, went to live with her brother, Robert, and gave his three children, Stanley, Mable, (Mrs. Thos. Fallis) and Cora, all the affection and care that even mother love could provide and who mourn for her as for a mother. She was the last of her family. Her sister, Mrs. Jas. Thompson of Bethany, Mrs. Banker of Toronto, Mrs. Wm. Williams of Millbrook, and Mrs. Tracey of Miami, Man., having crossed the bar several years since, and her brothers James in early manhood, and Robert, two years since.

Teach the Children to Save

Habits are acquired early in life. Children, who are taught the value of money and the habit of saving, grow up into good business men and capable women.

The easiest way to teach children to save, is to start a Savings Account for each child ($1.00 each is sufficient). After a child has saved another dollar to make an additional deposit, he or she will have a better appreciation of just what a dollar stands for, and how much work and self-denial it represents.

VIRTUOUS WIVES

V.

For a moment, before the unexpected vision of the master of the house, Dawson had an impulse to retreat blindly, in the desperate need to steady his nerves. Then he came down slowly, extending his hand, a hasty explanation on his lips.

"How do, Mr. Forrester?"

"Oh, how are you?" said Forrester, who gave him a short look, an abrupt handshake, and began to struggle out of his coat.

"We've been practising the steps for the minuet. Amy's going to be stunning."

"The what?"

"The minuet—the Versailles fete, you knbw."

"Ah, yes."

"We're counting on your being there."

"Kind of you."

Dawson felt that Forrester noticed his embarrassment, and that being an intimate of the household demanded that he should say something more.

"How are things in Mexico?"

"What?"

"Conditions all right in Mexico?" he continued, shifting to the other foot.

"About the same."

"Staying long?"

"Don't know."

"Amy'll be surprised."

Forrester gave no answer. To Dawson the door seemed miles away. He swallowed hard, mumbled something and departed, cursing the impulse which had made him tell an unnecessary lie.

Amy was content with herself. It seemed to her that even Andrew, had he been present, would have been proud of her. She knew that she was unwilling to punish herself by losing the boy's devotion, but she had handled the situation so firmly, if with kindness, that he could have no doubt of her loyalty. Moreover, she had gained in his eyes, and the memory of the new adoration she had seen on his face gave her a spiritual satisfaction which she thoroughly believed she deserved. As for the effect on Tody—at this moment in her life she was sceptical of the great passion of love which novelists harped upon and newspapers dressed up in sensational colours. To her, it was a question of propinquity, a comfortable sensation such as the emotion that made her seek strength from her husband; a logical thing, born of respect and admiration rather than of any uncontrollable passion. She had never known its fever, its anguish of desire, its obsessing spectre, and she doubted its existence.

"It was the only sensible way to handle him—the dignified way," she repeated, glancing about the room. His card had fallen by the sofa. She picked it up, smiling, and was about to tear it up, when Morley rushed in.

"Beg pardon, madam, but Mr. Forrester is downstairs."

"Mr. Forrester!" she said, vaguely alarmed by the sense of precipitation in the maid's entrance.

"Yes, madam. I was passing in the hall and I heard his voice talking to Mr. Dawson. I'm certain of it!"

Below, the outer door slammed. She remembered suddenly that Morley was watching her, and angrily aroused herself.

"There must be some mistake—go and see," she said abruptly.

The maid departed. She was alone. Tody's card in her fingers. She noticed it, and started to hide it in the front of her negligee.

"No, no—I have done nothing wrong—why should I feel like this?" she said impatiently, her ear strained to catch the slightest sound. The next moment she heard the powerful fall of her husband's step on the stairs.

At the first glance into his face, she saw that he was angry as she had never known him to be before.

"Why, Andrew, it isn't possible!" she cried, going to him with outstretched hands.

"I was called up rather suddenly," he began, then his glance fell on her negligee, and he stopped short. The face, already set in nervous irritation, became all at once hard, concentrated, and bitter. Before this look she recoiled as though he had stepped out from behind a mask. In a prophetic flash she saw what he might become if he should cease to love her, and, seized with horror, she cried, warding him from her:

"Oh, Andrew, don't look at me like that!"

He continued to look at her. His [illegible] blazed and the colour went out of his face. He turned, closed the door and said:

"Let [illegible] Dawson in the [illegible] too overcome with [illegible] heart to comprehend." She nodded, her [illegible] pounded as [illegible] I have a [illegible] to find [illegible] said, her [illegible] negligee [illegible] about [illegible] incense. [illegible] men at such [illegible] salon, I object [illegible] dressing gown."

[illegible] startled back [illegible] senses. An- [illegible] her modesty [illegible] her cheeks [illegible] h. "You [illegible] no; that [illegible] stood staring [illegible] pale like lean [illegible] I understand you to [illegible] have not been dancing [illegible] Mr. Dawson?"

[illegible] drew himself up and faced him with a flash of anger.

"Can [illegible] that?"

"That is rather more serious, then," he seemed to hear himself saying. Something roared in his temples; a rush of water closing over him. "Mr. Dawson himself, five minutes ago, told me that he had been rehearsing the minuet, and was to dance with him."

"He said [illegible] that!" she cried, aghast.

"Exactly that." He waited, torn by all the blinding forces of jealousy, his eyes never leaving her face. After a moment he said imperiously, "Well?"

She could not assemble her wits. She felt trapped, beating out her wings against a cage, convicted by appearances.

"But this is awful!" she thought, shrinking before the ugliness of the situation. "He'll believe anything of me, and I am innocent!"

"Well?" she heard his voice repeat.

She glanced down at the card which was crumpled by the action of her fingers—her fingers that were moist with perspiration—and she said slowly,

"If Mr. Dawson said such a thing he told a lie, and a very stupid lie."

The silence seemed endless before she heard him breathe a deep breath.

"That I believe," he said carefully. "At least you have not forgotten your dignity and mine to that extent. Now, may I ask why Mr. Dawson should have felt it necessary to explain his presence here with a lie?"

"A lie'?" she repeated weakly, feeling the forces of circumstance closing again about her.

"Exactly—a lie."

Before she could meet this new danger, the telephone bell rang. Glad of the opportunity to delay, she made him a sign and took up the receiver. It was Harry Fortescue, of the "Young Guard," as Irma termed them. Nothing could have been more inopportune.

"Impossible, Harry," she said irritably, "I'm lunching with Irma and Gladys. Some other time. I'm in a rush now."

She put down the receiver, but hardly had she taken a step before the bell rang again. This time, it was young Pardee, who was to dance in the minuet—Pardee whose manner toward her of late had aroused Mrs. Challoner's combative instincts.

"Lunching with Gladys at Lazare's," she said hurriedly. "Run in and see us there, and we'll make an appointment. In an awful rush now, Charlie—can't talk to you."

These interruptions from young men whom he did not know and whom Amy already addressed by their first name were not calculated to calm Forrester's irritation.

"If your social duties will allow you," he started to say, with cold, calculated phrase, but his anger boiling up, he burst out, "Well, come now; what have you to say?"

She had regained her poise. After all, it was quite simple. She would tell him the truth—everything as it had happened.

"I should have told you," she said, frowning at the effort this simple operation suddenly required. "I have had an unpleasant experience with Tody Dawson, but I have handled it in the proper way as you would have wished me." She hesitated, and then continued resolutely: "Last night, in the car, when he was taking me home, the boy forgot himself. I don't know why—he may have had too much to drink—" She hesitated, and recoiling before the whole truth, said, "He tried to take my hand."

"In love with you, of course."

"I don't know—he imagined he was, perhaps," she said reluctantly, angry at herself that she had palliated the offense.

"What did you do?"

"I stopped the car at once." With the instinct of a woman to appease a man who is jealous by the spectacle of his rival's humiliation, she added: "It was raining. I made him get out and I left him there, in the rain. This morning he came around and begged me to see him. I thought it was better to treat him as a boy to end the incident. I saw him and made him understand my loyalty to you. He is heartily ashamed, quite miserable, and I am sure that he has now only the profoundest respect for me, your wife." She extended her hand abruptly, and offered the card.

"This is his card."

He took a long moment to read it, and then tore it slowly to pieces with unsteady fingers.

"Good God!" he said, leaning suddenly against the table. In the last terrible moments he had feared everything.

She comprehended the torments of jealousy in his cry and forgave him on the instant.

"He loves me like that!"

She was ready to fling herself in his arms, to cling to him and be done with words. She hesitated. He had been totally wrong, she was ready to forgive, but it was only right that he should make the first advance. And her heart swollen, longing to be in his arms, she waited for the word she was certain would come.

"Well, we don't have to face that yet," he said heavily; then he stopped, looked at her quickly and said, frowning, "You say you taught him to respect you?"

"Absolutely."

"And yet he goes out and tells me a lie?"

"Yes; but—"

"Come, now; I'm not going to believe that. There is more than you have told me."

Her face betrayed her. Why had she withheld the whole truth, if only not to lose in his eyes? He saw her confusion and all the happy horde of doubts shrieked once more about him. He put his hands to his throat and then looked away from her.

"Amy, I must know. On your word of honor, is what you have told me the truth?" He hesitated, and added in almost a whisper, as though he too shrank before the test, "All the truth?"

She felt cold to her finger-tips, and in the palms of her hands the perspiration rose.

"It is dreadful—I am going to lie; I must lie, there is no other way out," she said to herself, even while calmly and deliberately she answered:

"Why, of course, Andrew—absolutely all."

"This young cub means nothing to you?"

"Oh, that—I swear it to you!"

"There is one way to find out," he said quietly. He stepped to the door and rang the bell. Morley appeared. "Send Gregory here."

"What are you going to do," she cried.

"That is my affair."

"Andrew, you are in my house, before my servants—you won't do anything to humiliate me before them?"

(To Be Continued.)

CHOICE RECIPES

Pickled Gherkins.

100 gherkins
1 cupful of salt
2 tablespoonfuls of mixed whole spices
1 saltspoonful of alum
Boiling vinegar

Wash the cucumbers, sprinkle with salt and cover with boiling water. Let stand for 24 hours, then drain. Fill the preserve crock with cucumbers, add the spices, alum and boiling vinegar to fill the jar. Seal and let stand for one week, when it will be ready for use.

Green Tomato Pickle.

1 peck of green tomatoes
1 cupful of salt
2 -12 pounds of brown sugar
3 quarts of vinegar
2 quarts of water
2 tablespoonfuls of cinnamon
2 tablespoonfuls of allspice
2 tablespoonfuls of mustard seed
2 tablespoonfuls of ginger
2 tablespoonfuls of mustard
2 tablespoonfuls of cloves

Springle the sliced tomatoes with salt and let them stand over night. In the morning drain and boil with two quarts of water and one quart of vinegar for 15 minutes. Then drain again. Mix with the other ingredients and boil for 15 minutes. Pack in crocks and seal.

Sweet Piccalilli.

3 quarts of green tomatoes
3 quarts of ripe tomatoes
2 red peppers
3 onions
2 quarts of vinegar
1-2 cupful of salt
4 cupfuls of sugar
1 teaspoonful of cinnamon
1-2 teaspoonful of clove
4 tablespoonfulls of white mustard seed

The quickest method is to run the tomatoes through a coarse food chopper. Sprinkle with salt and let stand over night. In the morning drain and cook with the other ingredients for 45 minutes.

Chow Chow.

2 quarts of small white onions
3 quarts of cucumbers
3 heads of celery
2 heads of cauliflower
4 green peppers
3 quarts of vinegar
2 cupfuls of sugar
1-2 cupful of flour
2 cupfuls of dry mustard
1 teaspoonful of turmeric
1-2 teaspoonful of curry powder
1 cupful of salt

Run the various vegetables through a food chopper, using the coarse knife, sprinkle with the salt and let them stand for 24 hours. Heat in this brine until the boiling point is reached then remove from stove and let drain quite dry. Rug together the various dry ingredients and gradually mix with boiling vinegar. Pour over the chopped vegetables, place in crocks and seal.

Pepper Pickle.

6 green peppers
6 red peppers
6 onions
1 small cabbage
1 quart of vinegar
1 cupful of brown sugar
2 tablespoonfuls of salt
2 tablespoonfuls of mustard seed

Remove the seeds from the pepper. Place in a cheese cloth bag and scald with boiling water, then drain dry. Heat the vinegar with spices and pour over the vegetables, then bring to boiling point.

Like tomatoes, cucumbers can be fried, stewed and baked as well as eaten in the raw. Cucumbers are a vegetable, not merely a salad, and when fried or stuffed they rivel eggplant in the delicacy of their flavor.

Cucumber Saute.

2 cucumbers
Flour, salt, pepper

Peel two large cucumbers and cut in half crosswise then slice about one-third-inch thick. Soak in salted water for an hour, then drain, but do not dry. Dip in flour, sprinkle with salt and pepper and saute in hot fat until brown. If preferred, dip in flour or beaten egg and flour and fry.

Cucumber Fritters.

4 large cucumbers
4 eggs
1 teaspoonful of butter
1 cupful of flour
1 teaspoonful of baking powder
Salt, pepper

Peel and grate the cucumbers and strain off the juice. Mix with beaten egg, seasonings, butter and flour. Beat well and drop by tablespoonfuls in deep, hot fat and cook until brown. Drain on soft paper.

Cucumber Sauce (for Fish).

1 cucumber
1-2 cupful of butter
1 tablespoonful of flour
1-2 cupful of milk
1 teaspoonful of cold water
Salt, pepper

Peel and dice the cucumbers and place in a saucepan with a little melted butter. Add a dash of salt and pepper, cover and let simmer until tender. Make a sauce by melting the butter, blending with flour and stirring in milk slowly. Boil a few minutes, add a teaspoonful of cool water and stir into cucumbers.

Stuffed Cucumbers.

Scoop out the centers of halved cucumbers. Chop this pulp and mix with finely chopped meat rice or tomatoes with breadcrumbs or any other stuffing preferred. Season with salt and pepper and a few drops of onion juice. Replace the mixture in the cucumber cavities. Bake in a buttered baking dish, or place in a pan containing a little stock, cover and simmer until tender.

Cucumber Salad.

Peel a cucumber and cut into inch lengths. Remove the pulp and chop adding seasoning, onion juice and some cooking peas. Refill the cucumber centers and serve as a salad on lettuce leaves, or as an accompaniment to a fish. Use French dressing.

Suggestion for a Rich Salad.

1 1-2 cupfuls of chopped cucumber pulp
1 cupful of chopped celery
1-2 cupful of walnut meats
1 tablespoonful of chopped green peppers
2 large tomatoes

Mix together the cucumber pulp, chopped celery, nuts and green pepper. Add the mayonaise dressing and mound on individual salads. Top with a thick slice of tomato.

Cucumber and Tomato Jelly.

1 pound of tomatoes
1 pound of cucumbers
1 tablespoonful of gelatine
Slice of onion
1 teaspoonful of vinegar
Salt, pepper

Stew the tomatoes and cucumbers until tender and force through a sieve. Cook this pulp with seasonings, add the softened gelatine, and stir until dissolved. Pour into a mould and serve garnished with slices of cucumber and tomatoes.

STOLE AWAY FROM CAMP TO SEE WIFE

AFRAID OF EXECUTION, AMERICAN SOLDIER HID IN CARS TWO YEARS.

Carl Amerine, drafted soldier of Hocking County, Ohio, who stole away from Camp Sherman in August 1918, to see his wife and family and then hid for two years in a cave in the hills because he feared he would be shot for desertion, has been given an honorable discharge with $110 in back pay, says Stars and Stripes.

Had it not been for a friendly lawyer, F. N. Redfern, in the little town of Adelphi, near Amerine's home, the frightened man from the hills might still be living in his cave home. The attorney assured the young man that he would not be shot and persuaded him to surender himself to the military authorities.

Amerine agreed and a short time ago went to Camp Sherman, accompanied by Redfern and his father, who fought in the Union Army in the Civil War. Military authorities were deeply moved when they heard the story. Amerine was immediately placed on parole and set to work while camp officials investigated his case. Now he has ben allowed to go back to his wife and baby.

Interesting as Fiction.

Amerine was born in a small log hut set up among the rocky hills of Hocking County, one of the wildest in the State. Dense forests shut it off from the rest of the world and the nearest place of any importance is Adelphi, fifteen miles away. Carl's mother died when he was only a year old and thereafter his father, 42 years his senior, was both father and mother to him.

The boy was sent to a little country school for a short time, but his education had to be stopped so that he might earn a living for himself and family. He never learned to read or write. He was married when only 20 years old.

Then the war extended to the isolated hill cabin and Carl was summoned before the draft board and sent to Camp Sherman early in the summer of 1918. The life there was something wholly new to the man from the hills, who had never been among very many persons before in his life. His shyness and reticence kept him from making friends. He became lonesome and homesick and finally one evening stole away to see his family.

Driven Wild With Fear.

When friends, equally as ignorant of the ways of the world as he, heard of his leaving camp they said: "You'll be shot as a deserter." He was reminded that just such a thing happened to a an from that neighborhood during the Civil War.

Driven nearly wild by fear, Amerine fled to the hills and lived in a cave which was his home for nearly two years. His wife carried food to him except at times when it was feared soldiers hunting for the deserter might see her. Then the young man had to live on fruit and berries, or rabbits, which he chanced to trap. He became afraid of all persons except his wife.

Last winter and the winter before he suffered greatly from cold, for his clothes were torn to tatters and he had only these and one thin blanket to keep him warm. Finally one of Carl's brothers carried the story to the attorney at Adelphi. The latter became interested in the case and after weeks of effort at last persuaded the young man to give himself up to the authorities.

"I'm sorry I ran away," Amerine said, at Camp Sherman, "but I'm glad it's over now. I've done the right thing."

MARKET CLERK WILL TAKE TOLL EVERY DAY

Expects the Motor Public to be Considerate.

On and after to-morrow F. Mahood, the market clerk, will charge toll on cars left on the market every day in the week. Till now he has only charged toll on Wednesday and Saturday mornings. The toll will be as usual. Mr. Mahood has kept the market square cleaned up, but has received no remuneration for his work except on the two mornings and he feels sure the public will consider this when asked to pay toll.

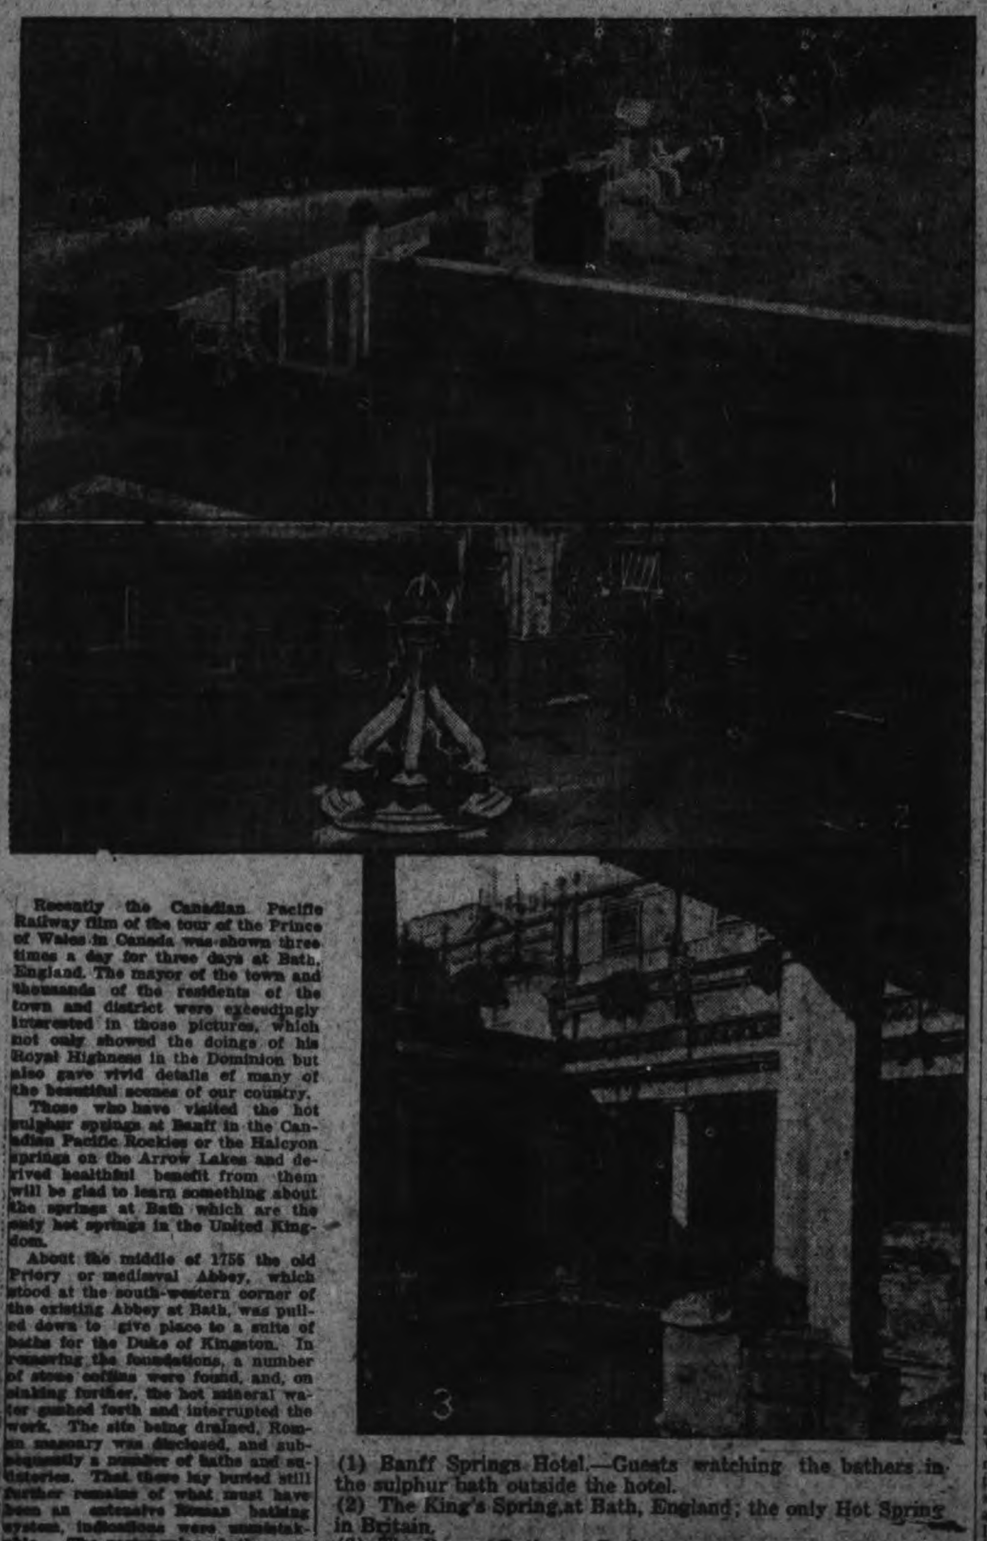
Hot Springs at Banff and Bath



Recently the Canadian Pacific Railway film of the tour of the Prince of Wales in Canada was shown three times a day for three days at Bath, England. The mayor of the town and thousands of the residents of the town and district were exceedingly interested in those pictures, which not only showed the doings of his Royal Highness in the Dominion but also gave vivid details of many of the beautiful scenes of our country.

Those who have visited the hot sulphur springs at Banff in the Canadian Pacific Rockies or the Halcyon springs on the Arrow Lakes and derived healthful benefit from them will be glad to learn something about the springs at Bath which are the only hot springs in the United Kingdom.

About the middle of 1755 the old Priory or mediaeval Abbey, which stood at the south-western corner of the existing Abbey at Bath, was pulled down to give place to a suite of baths for the Duke of Kingston. In removing the foundations, a number of stone coffins were found, and, on sinking further, the hot mineral water gushed forth and interrupted the work. The site being drained, Roman masonry was disclosed, and subsequently a number of baths and subsidiaries. That there lay buried still further remains of what must have been an extensive Roman bathing system, indications were unmistakable. The rectangular bath, now commonly known as the Lucas bath, was uncovered, and at either end of it a semi-circular deep bath, entered by seven steps. The subsidiaries lay on the eastern side, together with a number of square baths and other apartments which apparently bathers used preparatory to entering the hot chambers. Some of these rooms were paved with flag stones, others were beautifully treated with various colored tesserae.

Excavations were not then pursued; other buildings were quickly erected over the site, and during the next hundred years no attention was given to the place.

It was the year 1878 that marked the most important epoch in the rediscovery of the baths. Engineering works were at that time undertaken to remedy a leakage from the principal spring, and it was discovered that from this leakage the Kingston Baths, then in private hands, derived the whole of their supply. Interruptions ensued, but the Corporation enforced their rights in respect to the water escaping from the King's spring, and the draining of the site and other necessary works proceeded. It was then perceived that the foundations of a number of the modern houses rested upon what was little better than a morass, and Major Davis, to whose unwearied zeal and skilful excavation the city is so much indebted, found, after further exploration and careful tunnelling, that he had at last alighted upon the hidden treasures. Difficult and costly as was the subsequent work of uncovering these remains, the late Major Davis set himself with indomitable perseverance to push it forward. The facts that the baths were some 20 feet below the street level and that continuance of the excavations necessarily involved the demolition of much valuable property were serious considerations which all had their effect in retarding progress.

Later on public interest increased and the houses were removed, the immense deposits of other ages carted away and the large area of Roman structures revealed. About 1878 when the great rectangular bath was opened up portions of the culvert of the outfall drain were discovered. In 1883 the hypocaust on the western side of the circular bath was discovered. In 1885 the circular bath itself; in 1886 the latrines and circular hypocaust; in 1887 the bath beneath the basement of the modern baths, and in 1896 another rectangular bath was excavated.

That the builders of these baths were attracted into the valley by the hot springs about the middle of the first century, certainly not very long after the Romans first occupied Britain, we have fairly conclusive evidence. A coin of Claudius was found in such a position as to suggest to some authorities the theory that it might have been specially placed to commemorate the foundation of the baths. At any rate from the stones and altars dug up from time to time (one stone bears reference to a definite date A.D. 77-8), and the characteristics of a few of the sculptured remains, some vigorous occupation of Bath can be ascribed, with tolerable accuracy, to the last 30 or 40 years of the first century.

territory, the memorandum was quoted as saying.

Civilians Leaving Warsaw.

BERLIN, July 22.—The civil population of Warsaw has begun evacuation of the Polish capital, according to reports reaching here to-day. The Polish front wing has apparently crumpled and the Bolshevik troops were reported pursuing the retreating Poles at a rate of 25 kilometres daily.

MENACE TO WARSAW HAS BECOME SERIOUS

WARSAW, July 22.—The menace to the Polish capital is becoming serious through the defeat of the left wing of the Polish army. Since the attacks of the Bolsheviki against Vilna, on July 14, the Polish left or northern wing has been compelled to hasten its retreat and the Bolsheviki have been following it with a daily advance, averaging 15 miles. In three weeks the Poles have retired from the Beresina River to the Niemn and the Vistula, a distance of more than 180 miles, and the distance between the Niemen and the Vistula, which flows through Warsaw, is less than that, being about 150 miles.

LOCAL MARKETS

Oleomargarine is being so little used by the public at the present time that some of the grocers have discontinued handling it. What is on the market is retailing at 30 and 40 cents. New potatoes took the promised drop to-day and are selling freely at 80 and 85 cents a peck. Eggs have advanced several cents.

SAYS DIVORCE NOT BINDING IN QUEBEC

QUESTION RAISED IN CASE TRIED—JUDGMENT IN FEW DAYS.

MONTREAL, July 23.—The question as to whether a decree of divorce, granted by federal authorities at Ottawa applies in the Province of Quebec, was raised in the practice division of the Superior Court, on a motion by L. O. Tolage, attorney for J. David, asking the court to relieve David from a provisional order of the Superior Court that he pay an alimentary pension of $40 a month to his wife pending final judgment on her petition for a judicial separation. It was stated that after the wife's petition was inscribed and after the court's provisional order for pension was granted, the husband entered proceedings for a divorce and at the last session of Parliament the Senate committee granted the husband a decree. Counsel for David filed this decree with the record and argued that as the marriage of the parties had been dissolved the Superior Court's provisional order compelling the husband to support his wife must now halt.

Counsel for the wife contended that the decree had been granted in the absence of and without opportunity of a defence by his client. He declared further that the court could not take cognizance of the divorce decree in the light of the civil law of Quebec, which provides that in this province, "marriage can only be dissolved by the natural death of the parties." Counsel maintained that under the civil law there could be no interference with the order granting the wife an alimentary pension pending final judgment on her action against her husband.

Mr. Justice Loranger indicated that the question was a very important one and promised judgment in the course of a few days.

PIPE BAND'S FIRST PUBLIC APPEARANCE

For the first time Peterborough ritizens had the pleasure of hearing the Caledonian Club's pipe band last evening at the Exhibition grounds, and after the game the band played up into George and Charlotte streets. Two months ago Pipe Major Thom secured a number of men who were anxious to form a pipe band and demonstrated he had the talent when he made his first public appearance. In a few months' time he anticipates giving Peterborough a kiltie band that will be a credit to it.

RAYBESTOS COMPANY EXPECTS TO BEGIN OPERATIONS AUGUST 1ST

INSTALLING MACHINERY AS QUICKLY AS POSSIBLE AND EXTENDING FACTORY BUILDING—EXECUTIVES HERE.

WILL ENLARGE PLANT

Within six or seven years we expect to cover the Lundy property with buildings, besides expropriating the Henry Hope factory, if the expropriation by-law is caried," stated Robert Abbott, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Raybestos Company, when interviewed yesterday.

The company has already spent about $40,000 in altering the old Lundy Tool and Shovel factory and expects to begin operations there before August 1st. It is hoped that shipping will commence by August 15th.

Considerable machinery has already been installed and with the arrival and installation of the oil burning boilers the plant will be ready to begin operations according to its contract with the city tweny-five men will be employed at the start, but with the arrival and installation of new machinery the force will be increased.

As far as possible the Company will attempt to hire all its workers locally and train them as operators by experts from their American plant.

A Canadian Company.

The Canadian Raybestos Company is a Canadian Company and only three of its executives will be transferred from the American parent organization. All machinery and material which it has been possible to buy in Canada have been bought here and all contracts for the alteration and equipment of the plant have been let to Peterboro firms. The company is capitalized in Canada at $250,000.

It is likely that considerable export trade will be handled from here on account of Imperial trade preference.

Saisfied With Peterboro

Both Mr. Abbot and Mr. E. F. Kelley, superintendent, expressed themselves as being well satisfied with conuditions here so far as they have an opportunity of observing them, though the housing situation naturally presented itself as a drawback.

Asked the probable date of the opening of the Henry Hope plant, should they expropriate it, they stated that that was as yet indefinite.

The work here at present is in charge of E. F. Kelley, plant superintendent, who has been here for the past 4 or 5 weeks and Robert Abbot, secretary-treasurer, who arrived last week.

DAISIES ARE TABOO ON QUEBEC FARMS

FARMER IS PENALIZED FOR NOT DESTROYING THE FLOWERS ON HIS LAND.

(Canadian Press)

MONTREAL, July 21.—A peculiar case was argued before Judge Cusson in the police Police Court to-day, when, under article 7353, of the revised statutes of the Province of Quebec, E. Bachand, farmer and ex-Mayor of St. Phillip, County Laprairie, brought action against D. Longlin, who owns a continguous farm, to compel the latter to remove the daisies growing on his land. Farmer Wills testified that daisies are allowed if nothing is grown. Longlin contended that he had done a great deal to remove the daisies, and his counsel argued that the law was impossible of fulfilment, stating further that condemnation of his client would mean numerous law suits among the other residents of the district.

Judge Cusson, in giving a decision, remarked that while he knew little of agriculture he believed it impossible to destroy the daisies, but that he was obliged to give his decision according to the law. He therefore adjudged Longlin guilty and penalized him to the extent of the costs of the court. The article under which the action was brought reads: "Any person may by special notice require any owner, occupant, or holder of any land, or common, not in seed, to cut and destroy, between the first of June and the first of November, the daisies, thistles, chicory, celandine, and other noxious weeds or plants considered as such, grown on said land or common."

Why Physicians Recommend Magnesia For Dyspeptics

"Take a little magnesia after meals" is now a favorite dyspepsia prescription among thousands. The reason for this lies in the fact that practically ninety per cent. of all stomach trouble is due to acid which irritates and inflames the delicate mucous membrane lining of the stomach and makes natural digestion impossible Medicines, drugs and diets all fail simply because they do not remove the acid ,the cause of all the trouble The value of magnesia, which is neither a medicine nor a drug in the ordinary meaning of these words, lies in the fact that it neutralizes the acid. Of the many forms of magnesia such as the oxides carbonates, milks and fluids, the best is undoubtedly Bisurated Magnesia, a teaspoonful or four tablets of which in a little hot water afeer meals, instantly neutralizes the acid, stops the fermentation of the food and thus insures painless, natural digestion. Pure Bisurated Magnesia can be obtained from any reliable druggist and stomach sufferers should give it a trial.

RESIDENCE OF R. M. WADDELL IS MOST COMPLETE

(From "Saturday Night.")

The home of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Waddell, is situated amidst beautiful surroundings in sixteen acres of grounds on the outskirts of Peterborough, Ont.

The building is of solid brick, with white stucco covering and soft green tile roof. The house is finished simply throughout so as to be easily cleaned and is fitted with every modern labour-saving device and convenience.

The living-room, thirty-two feet long, is finished in quarter-cut oak, forest green in color, the wrought iron and tile fireplace and spacious seated alcove help to make the room very cosy and attractive. The dining room is panelled nine feet high in mahogany, with moss green tile fireplace. The library has arched ceiling with black walnut panelling up to spring of arch, the fireplace fitted with several small cabinets for smokers' use, etc., and has book cases on either side with leaded glass doors. The halls throughout the house, including dado and stairs, have circassian walnut finish.

The kitchen has white tiled walls seven feet high all around and is floored with rubber tiling; next to the sink is an electric dish washer, across the electric range, then a built-in refrigerator, all tiled in and dressers with tiled base. The laundry is very complete, having tubs standing clear of walls with electric washing machine, drying racks, flat ironer, etc. A complete dairy is also on the premises with electric churn, cream separator, tester, cooler, sink, etc.

Intercommunicating house phones connect the various apartments. The house is heated with hot water and is equipped with heat controlling device which enables the occupants to regulate the degree of heat in every room. A vacuum cleaning machine is located in basement and is piped to every section of the house. Both spring and soft water are conveyed to all parts of the building by means of pneumatic pressure tanks in basement. The main bath rooms have both floors and walls tiled, also porcelain fixtures and built in tile fittings. The heating and water system are so arranged that the servants' quarters can be entirely shut off, then other sections, until just sufficient of the house can be used to accommodate only a small family. At the rear of the house is an ice house, insulated with compressed cork, wood house, garage and stable.

RECENT SIGNS OF BRITISH NORMALCY

LABOUR'S REPUDIATION OF BOLSHEVISM—ATTACK ON NATIONAL OWNERSHIP AND REJECTION OF REDCOATS FOR MILITARY.

LONODN.— The four outstanding events of the recent past in Great Britain, have been the repudiation of Bolshevism at the Labor Convention the wreckage of the transport ministry; the attack on national ownership by Sir Eric Geddes and Philip Snowden; and the defeat of Churchill's proposal to restore the red uniforms of the British army.

These events show that the British people have had enough of Bolshevism and Bureaucracy; and that they are steadying back to the normal duties of trade and comerce. The fever of war is coming to an end and a period of convalescence has set in.

The defeat of Bolshevism at the labor conference was dramatic and decisive. There were 1200 delegates at this conference—the brain of the trade unions. There were several delegates who has been to Russia and who told in plain, blunt speech the story of misery and starvation under the Lenine regime.

"A Russian workman's meal'" said Tom Shaw, "is a half of a herring and a pint of boiled bird seed."

Here was an understandable argument. The British workman drew back in suspicion from a revolution that would deprive him of his bacon and eggs and white bread and beer. He cast it from him by a vote of 13 to 1.

Direct action, too, was voted down in this labor convention. "We refuse to order our men to down tools at the suggestion of every political agitaor, said J. H. Thomas, the leader of the railway men.

The labor convention, as a matter of course, voted in favor of nationalization of land, gas ,water, electricity, railways, houses, insurance and banking. One delegate proposed the national ownership of breweries and distilleries, but he was voted down 5 to 1. The delegates had bitter memories of government beer and they wanted no more of it. Appetite conquered theory—they voted for the capitalistic ownership of the liquor trade.

Want Them in the Empire

Also, while they voted in favor of no coercion in India and Ireland, they refused to advise those discontented countries to set up independent republics. On the contrary, they unanimously carried a patriotic hope that both India and Ireland would continue to remain as parts of the British Empire.

There was wild talk at the labor convention—yes, but the solid British labor leaders stopped short of wild action. As well try to set fire to an asbestos quarry as to make rebels out of these workmen. Ramsay Macdonald expressed the British view best when he said —"It is all very well to talk about revolution in the security of our own fireside; but our duty in England is to bring about a real revolution without an accompaniment of blood and fire."

As for the wreckage of the transport ministry, if it is not completely wrecked, it is at least on the rocks This is a new ministry—only 16 months old. It was organized as every one believes to eventually take over the railways but it has been dwarfed into a mere bureau of auditors.

Sir Eric Geddes is at the head of it and he is not a parliamentarian. While he was making a defence of his ministry in the House of Commons, up springs the smallest member — a wee M.P. called Bonn. In a flash he tripped up Sir Eric on a point of order—a trifle of parliamentary procedure. Down went Sir Eric like Humpty Dumpty, to the general joy of the M.P.'s. It was a fair tackle and a heavy fall.

Incidentally, during his defence, Sir Eric Geddes amazed his co-ministers by making a sudden attack on government ownership.

"No important improvement or invention," he said, "has ever come out of a state railroad. All the evidece that I have seen, shows that state management is costly, that it becomes clogged with red tape."

Mr. Philip Snowden, too, a pacifist labor leader, astonished the labor convention by an attack on government ownership. He had been a member of a state control board and his eyes had been opened as to the actual procedure of a bureaucracy.

"Military Gewgaws"

As to Mr. Churchill's defeat on the matter of red uniforms, that was sudden and complete. Two weeks ago he announced flippantly that the red coats were to be restored, and that he had placed orders for $15,000,000 of red cloh and gold braid. Yesterday he told Parliament that these orders had been cancelled—that he would put red uniforms only on the Household Cavalry and the Guards. This backdown was caused by a nation-wide protest against spending $15,600,000 on "military gewgaws" It is too soon after the war to glorify militarism. Too many people know what war is and they want no more of it.

THE LIFE OF THE LIVER

Whether life is worth living or not depends upon the liver. Cut out meats and other foods that clog the liver, drink lots of pure water, eat Shredded Wheat and fresh, green vegetables. Shredded Wheat contains all the vitamines and all the tissue-building elements in the whole wheat prepared in a digestible form. Two of these crisp little loaves of baked whole wheat with hot milk or cream make a nourishing, satisfying meal at a cost of a few cents.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

Warsaw Correspondence

WARSAW, July 21.—Mr. and Mrs. James Allan and Mrs. Alex. Donald, Campbellford, motored up and spent a couple of days last week with friends at Warsaw.

Miss I. M. Coleman, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. David Miller, returned to Toronto on Monday.

Mr. Vernon Selkirk spent the week-end at home. His course in Peterborough has been extended two months.

Mr. Wellington Middleton is taking a business course in Winnipeg.

Miss Margaret Purchase, of Toronto, is spending her holidays with her friend, Miss Edith Tucker.

Rev. Hugh Brown, former pastor of the Presbyterian congregations here, motored down from Toronto on Saturday, and will spend about ten days visiting old friends. Rev. Peter Currie is spending a couple of weeks visiting among those of his former charge. He is paying special attention to those who are unable to get out, the old and the young. The others he expects to see at the different services and social gatherings.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh MacDonald, of Norwood, spent Sunday with friends near the village.

Miss Doris Lane, Peterborough, is spending her holidays with her aunt, Mrs. Wallace Anderson.

Mr. Alec McIlvena, Peterborough, came to Warsaw on Saturday evening.

Miss Elsie Tucker is in Peterborough for a few days.

Mr. George Lonsberry will make weekly trips to Lakefield on Wednesdays after this. Last Saturday he lost a $20.00-bill. He thinks he gave it to someone instead of a $2.00-bill.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Lee, of Winnipeg, are visiting relatives near Warsaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Payne arrived home from their honeymoon trip to Edmonton and other points, on Monday evening.

Word has come to-day that Miss Maye MacDonald has passed the entrance examinations.

Crop Prospects Good.

Haying is pretty well on. Some fall wheat is cut. Grain prospects so far are good. Several parties went back huckleberrying last week. A good many are going in search of both huckleberries and raspberries.

The farmers are already beginning to plan for the power for corn-cutting, etc.

Funeral of Joseph Crowe.

Despite the rain last Wednesday, the funeral of the late Joseph Crowe was very largely attended. The services at the house were conducted by Rev. John Knox, Rev. Dr. Archbold, and Rev. Peter Currie. The pallbearers were six Orangemen—Messrs. Joseph and Henry Moore, John and Hugh Little, and Herbert and Jacob Batten.

Mr. Crowe had been a member of the North Dummer Orange Lodge, and was also a Forester. A large number of both these orders attended, and the funeral was conducted with Orange ceremony. After the clergy had taken their part in the service at the grave, the Orangemen held their service. The rain cleared just before the cortege started for the cemetery, and there was no more until some time after the people had dispersed.

In the Churches.

There were the regular Sunday School and preaching services in the Baptist Church last Sunday. Rev. Mr. Vose preaching at Warsaw and at Indian River. The Methodists had their regular services, Rev. Mr. Knox conducting the preaching services at Warsaw and other appointments.

Rev. Dr. Archbold conducted service in the Anglican Church.

Addressed Sunday School.

Rev. Peter Currie addressed the Presbyterian Sunday School on Sabbath morning. He dwelt on some of the changes in Sabbath School work that had taken place in the ten years since he was minister here. Mr. Currie conducted the preaching services at Warsaw and Cotesloe. In the morning his text was, "Solomon, my son, is young and tender."—I. Chron. 22, 5. He brought out several strong points. David had been minded to build the Temple, but never got at it, and was an old man before he started to make the preparations. He considered Solomon young and tender when he was about 45 years of age. He did not realise Solomon was a man; also he had failed to teach Solomon responsibility. He spoke of people spending much for themselves and little for God's work, of people having high ideals; even if they fail they must surely rise higher than those who do not try.

At the close of his address he spoke very feelingly of some whom he had known, especially of an elder, who is now gone to his reward, as a true, noble follower of Christ.

The Presbyterian Ladies' Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. Stewart Miller on Thursday afternoon of next week.

Inducted to Pastorate.

Tuesday, 20th July, was a red-letter day for the Presbyterian charges of Warsaw and Cotesloe. Rev. Gerard Graham was inducted to the pastorate of these two churches. The day was all that could be wished. Members of the Presbytery met at 3 p.m. The church was filled. Interested farmers left their haying to come. After singing the doxology, Rev. Thompson, clerk of the Peterborough Presbytery, gave out the 100th Psalm selection. Then he read the 118th Psalm. Rev. Hugh Brown followed in prayer. Mrs. Charles Foster sang "He Knows." Rev. Anderson, of Port Hope, was to have preached the sermon, but was unable to be present, and Rev. Thompson, of Hastings, preached from Psalm 118 24, a sermon helpful to both pastor and to people. Rev. Dr. Lee, of Millbrook, moderator of the Presbytery, asked Rev. Jull, of Lakefield, interim moderator to relate the steps leading up to the calling of Rev. Gerard Graham.

Mr. Graham answered the questions asked by the Moderator, as laid down in the ritual. There was the dedicatory prayer, led by Dr. Lee, then the right hand of fellowship, given by the other Presbyterian ministers and elders present.

Rev. Pogue addressed the newly inducted minister. It was a duty he never liked to perform, as he felt the one whom he addressed knew what he should do as well as he, but he reminded him that there was no calling in which, if one had not a conscience, there was such a temptation to shirk. Among other things, he said, a minister should study his Bible critically and devotionally. The more he had to do the greater need for personal devotion. He should visit among his people as much as possible, but with sick visiting and other calls, few ministers could visit more than twice in a year, and always to remember he was there to preach the gospel of Christ.

Rev. Jull addressed the people and warned them that unless they held up the hands of their minster he could not do his best work. He needed their attendance, sympathy and prayers, also that his salary be paid regularly.

The hymn, "Oh Happy Day" was sung, after which the ordination of Mr. Skene of Havelock took place. He was asked the questions asked by the church on such occasions and answered in a clear, firm voice. The Moderator gave a short address, while all the ministers present stood around the candidate as he knelt. All placed their right hands on his head, and the Moderator offered a very solemn prayer, dedicating him to the ministry of Christ. He too received the right hand of fellowship from the members of Presbytery present. Ere Rev. Skene took his seat D. Lee gave him a very earnest address, reminding him of the great work to which he had just been ordained. He was to preach the gospel of Christ. He was to uphold the dignity of religion of the Presbyterian church, to spend much time in prayer and study the Bible.

A hymn was sung and Rev. John Knox of the Methodist church pronounced the benediction.

Dr. Lee wore his gown and it added dignity to the occasion. Mr. Skene wore his college hood. Members of Cotessloe choir assisted the Warsaw choir.

Several people, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tedford, Miss Edith Tedford and Mrs. Porter, from Norwood, were present.

A number of people from Lakefield, including friends of Mr. Jull, also Mr. and Mrs. Sam Charlton, Mrs. Ingraham and Mrs. Robert Charlton were present.

Three motors full came up from Havelock to see their minister ordained.

Rev. John Knox, Methodist pastor of Warsaw circuit, and Rev. Clare of Colborne circuit, formerly of Warsaw, were present.

Mr. Graham's brother, also a minister, attended. Revs. Hugh Brown and Peter Currie, former minister, took their places with the ministers of the Presbytery. Most of the Warsaw and Cotessloe elders and some from other places were there too.

After the services, supper was served in the town hall. This aided the finances and gave the people a chance for a social gathering.

Q. E. D.

Mr. and Mrs. Todd were debating whether the movie they had just seen was a new or old production.

"The leading woman wore two or three gowns that are very much in vogue," Mrs. Todd reminded her husband.

He remained firm, however.

"There wasn't any excitement when the cocktails were served," he said.—Life.

ENGLAND FACES A BRILLIANT FUTURE

SIR JOHN FERGUSON SAYS IT NEEDS MORE MEN LIKE LLOYD GEORGE.

NEW YORK.—Sir John Ferguson, joint general manager Lloyds Bank, Ltd., who is now in this country, said in an interview that everyone in England looked to Lloyd George to save the country in peace as he did in war. "The Prime Minister," he said, "has the entire confidence of the financial and commercial world and is trusted as few great politicians have been, wholeheartedly and with enthusiasm.

"England stands on the threshhold of a brilliant future full of possibilities greater than the most optimistic ever dreamed of ,but it is absolutely imperative if the most is to be made of the opportunity that officers of state should be more than mere politicians. They must be men of affairs with the practical knowledge of the requirements of a great commercial community and in entire sympathy with the aims of the people. Given half a dozen men with the outstanding ability and vision of the Prime Minister, and a few years would see the national debt disappear.

"As a fighter, the Prime Minister has no equal on the political stage at the present day, and when overburdened by the cares and responsibilities of his office, he turns to lash some political misquito with a sarcasm that leaves it limp, one wonders can this be the charming personality whose friendship is sought after by its many admirers.

"I have not been officially connected, except in a voluntary way, with Lord Inverforth, who did great work as Surveyor General of Supply at the War Office and now as Minister of Munitions, a work which is adding to his fame as one of the great merchant rinces of England.

"I have lately been assisting the Minister of Health with the finance of his great housing scheme, which from first to ast will require about one thousand millions sterling.

"I lunched with Lloyd George the day before I left and I know he has absolutely made up his mind as to what he will do in settlement with the Germans including disarmament, coal delivery and other demands. He knows what England wants and the people are willing to leave everything in his hands."

DURHAM FARMERS CHOSE T. A. REID

HAD MAJORITY OF ONLY THREE OVER MELVILLE STAPLES.

ORONO, July 21.—T. A. Reid, farmer, of Clarke township, will be the U.F.O. standard bearer for Durham county at the next Federal election. His nomination was made unanimous at a crowded convention held here yesterday after the third ballot.

Mr. Reid is the son of W. H. Reid, who for many years represented West Durham in the Conservative interests in the Provincial Legislature. He is president of the Kendall U.F.O. Club and farms the 400 acres formerly owned by his father in Clarke township. He married Miss Elliott of Kendall, and has two sons.

There were ten nominations: Melville Staples, T. A. Reid, T. A. Kelly, Lieut.-Col. L. T. McLaughlin, Matheson, Hall, A. A. Powers president UF. Co-operative Co.), M. J. Holman, W. L. Smith (late editor of the Farmers' Sun), Frank Allen and John Baker. Mr Kelly withdrew.

The first ballot resulted as follows: Reid 62, Staples 56, McLaughlin 37, Holman 35, Powers 33, Allen 9, Smith 5, Baker 1.

On the second ballot Reid obtained 82 votes, Staples 74, Holman 42, and McLaughlin 36.

The final ballot gave Reid 118 against 115 for Staples.

Candidate's Nomination Speech.

"We to-day are represented by a lawyer residing in Ottawa," said Mr. Reid in his nomination speech. "It would be just as unfair for anyone in Clarke township to represent the citizens of Ottawa." He had not sought the nomination, he declared, and promised, if returned to Parliament, to work as hard at Ottawa as he did on his farm. "The war has opened farmers' eyes to look beyond petty politics. Thank God the risipg party is not so prejudiced in regard to party politics as our forefathers were."

The convention lasted five hours. A warm discussion took place at the outset as to whether the voting should be confined to members of farmers' clubs. It transpired there were no clubs in some parts of the country, and it was eventually decided to allow all sympathizers with the movement to cast ballots.

A breeze occurred when Mr. Staples charged Col. McLaughlin with having approached certain people in question of the nomination and complained of the manner in which the local press had put the colonel's claims to election before the constituency. "You all know what I refer to," he said. While congratulating him on his overseas record he submitted that "that kind of thing must not go on in the U.F.O." Staples claimed he had been wounded overseas and had been a prisoner for four months.

JUNKERS GATHER AT JOACHIM'S FUNERAL

HINDENBURG, LUDENDORFF AND OTHER PRUSSIANS THERE.

POTSDAM.—Hundreds of members of the old German imperial regime were present at funeral services for Prince Joachim held at a little Evangelical church here. Among those who stood with bowed heads as three preachers recited rites for the dead, were Generals von Hindenburg, Ludendorff, Mehrbach and Odenburg, Prince and Princess Eitel Eriederich, Princess Augustus Wilhelm and Albert of Schleswig represented German royalty at the ceremony.

Scores of Prussian officers, bedecked in Iron Crosses and other Hohenzollern military insignia were present. Princess Marie of Ashalt, the dead prince's divorced wife, was not at the services. The ceremony lasted more than an hour. When it was concluded the casket remained in the church under heavy guard. It will later be placed in the mausoleum of Frederick the Great nearby.

Townspeople Sympathetic.

While the services were in progress, townswomen gathered outside the church by the hundreds. Many shed tears for the grief of the Prince's mother. It was evident the village wives had little sympathy for the prince, who was considered a ne'er-do-well. All sympathetic feeling was for the former German empress.

Members of the old German royalty arrived in taxis. Some came on foot, however, and there was painful evidence of a shabby gentility. It might have been any little country village in America, except for the presence of hundreds of "pitkelhaubes," the spiked German helmets, and here and there the tall, sinister head dress of the Deaths Head Huzzars. Many of the officers were of the stiff, monocled Prussian type, who paid no heed to the crowds of townspeople outside the church.

As von Hindenburg was entering his automobile to leave, he was given a tremendous ovation. A tiny mite of a girl stepped up to the bulky Prussian army head and presented him with a bouquet.

TO SUBDIVIDE PARK.

WINNIPEG, July 22.—River Park, one of Winnipeg's out-door play grounds, is to be subdivided and placed on the market in the Fall. The Park is owned by the Winnipeg Electric Railway and fronts on the Red River.

HENRY FORD HAS NEW AUTOMOBILE

MOTOR IS A FEATURE ELIMINATING ALL VIBRATION.

DETROIT.—A new automobile bearing the hallmark of Henry Ford has just been perfected; a machine which is almost ready to be used as the pattern for millions like it to supplant the well known Ford motor car. Announcement of the new type automobile followed the payment of $35,000,000 made by Ford recently to clear up the $60,000,000 commercial note issue arranged by the company a year ago.

One of the biggest differences between the new car and the present Ford is in the motor, in which Ford has aimed to do away with every particle of vibration. Body of the car will be entirely of metal, no wood entering into its construction at any point.

In a workshop close to the Ford mansion in Dearborn the work of perfecting the new Ford car has gone forward for months and experiments have reached the point where the introduction of the new model is a matter of only a short time.

The new model automobile was one of the ideals of Henry Ford when he started to obtain control of the entire Ford Motor Co. stock within the Ford family.

The Ford ideal is a threefold plan and to bring it to fruition the motor magnate has plunged into his enormous deals which have given him control of his own lumber, coal mines, steel blast furnaces and even a railroad.

Ford's aim, as confided to those closest to him in his enterprise, is to perfect and scatter to every corner of the world three articles—a tractor, a truck, and a passenger automobile. In recent years he has been tirelessly experimenting to make his ideal a practical fact.

LABOR COST INCREASE.

LONDON, July 22.—Labor cost of British coal at pit mouth now 25s. 2d. compared with 6s. 10d. in 1913, according to British mine operators. British outputting at rate of 240,000,000 tons a year compared with 287,000,000 tons in 1913, says Journal of Commerce cable.

THE REED.

I bore no purple grape.
No honey for the bee—
Who dreamt I was the shape
Of melody?

He broke me from the root;
He wrought upon me long;
Behold for I bear fruit—
The fruit of song!

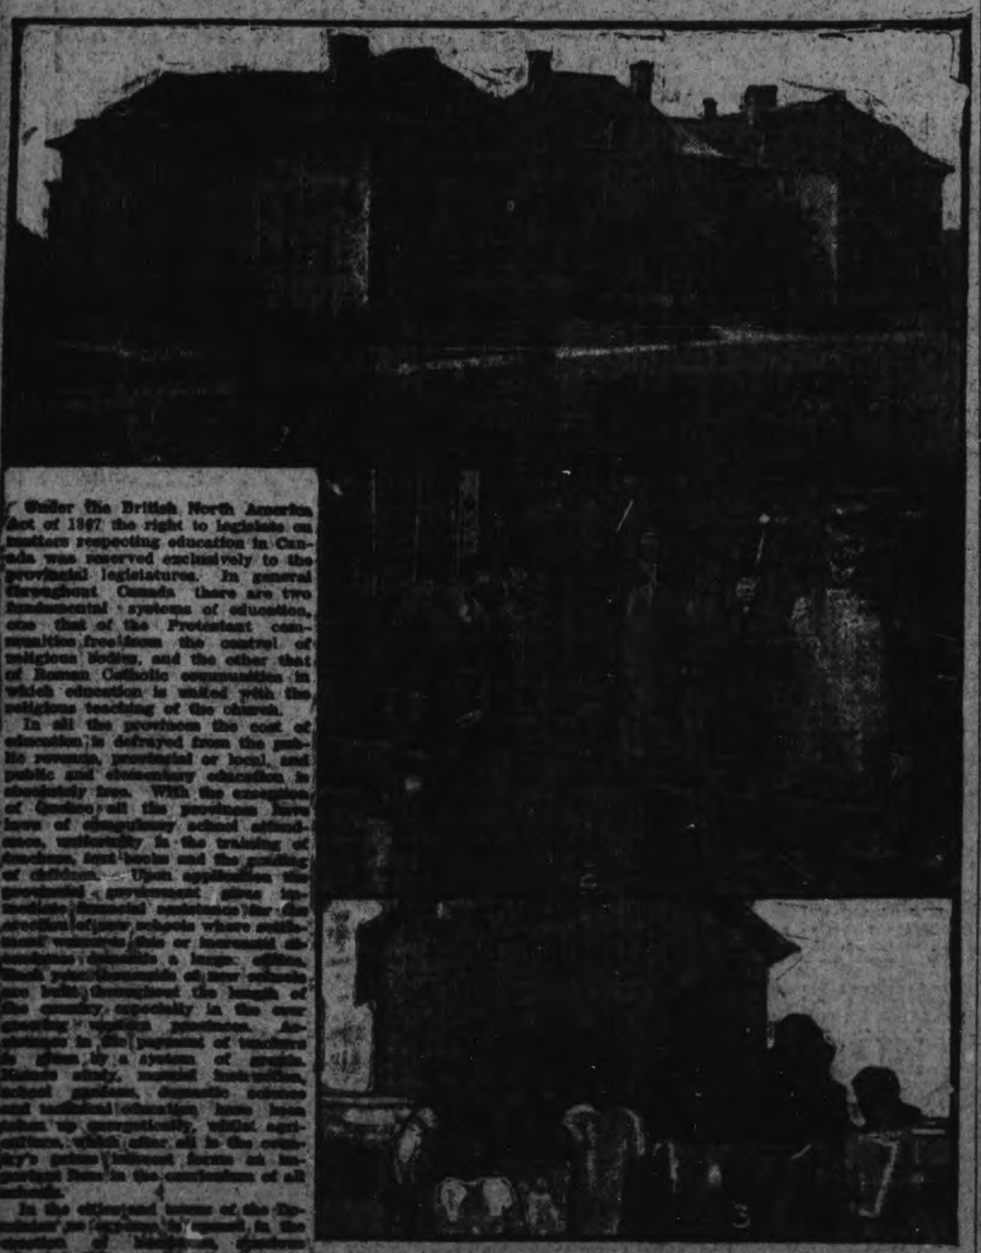
Education in Canada



Under the British North American Act of 1867 the right to legislate on matters respecting education in Canada was reserved exclusively to the provincial legislatures. In general throughout Canada there are two fundamental systems of education, one that of the Protestant communities free from the control of religious bodies, and the other that of Roman Catholic communities in which education is united with the religious teaching of the church.

In all the provinces the cost of education is defrayed from the public revenues, provincial or local, and public and elementary education is absolutely free. With the exception of Quebec all the provinces have laws of compulsory school attendance, universality in the training of teachers, text books and the grading of children. Upon application the provincial government gives financial assistance for the erection of new schools where sufficient children, six or more of school age, reside a long distance, usually four thousand of more schools are built throughout the length of the country, especially in the ever growing western provinces. Assistance in the payment of teachers is given by a system of grants. Manual study, manual instruction, school gardens, domestic science and technical education have been taken up energetically, whilst agriculture, which after all is the country's prime interest forms an important item in the curriculum of all schools.

CANADA SECOND BEST CUSTOMER

BUYS MORE FROM UNITED STATES THAN ALL COUNTRIES COMBINED, EXCEPTING ENGLAND.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Canada is the second best customer the United States now has, according to figures being compiled by Federal officials, being only exceeded by England in the purchase of merchandise.

Canadians buy $800,000,000 worth of merchandise in this country every year, more than all of the countries of South America, Africa, Asia and Oceania combined. During the war Canadian purchases in the United States increased to an unprecedented extent. They became so large that Canada developed an adverse trade balance. The direct result is the present discount on the Canadian dollar in this country.

In years prior to the war Canadian exports had so nearly balanced her imports from the United States that the rate of exchange was at no time sufficiently serious to interfere with business between the two countries. But when the discount on the Canadian dollar, and at the same time the premium on the American dollar in Canada, rapidly rose from approximately 2 per cent. to as high as 12½ per cent. commerce began to show the effects of the changed conditions.

Even under conditions which existed before the war the Canadian importer of American merchandise paid a heavy customs duty which averaged 35 per cent. ad valorem. During the war the duty was increased by a 7½ per cent. war tariff. The importer in Canada was thus called to pay on an average of 42½ per cent. on the wholesale value of the goods from the United States. When added to this tax was imposed the burden created by the exchange situation, the problem became serious for the American manufacturer who continued to supply Canadian customers from an American plant.

While in most cases it had been possible to do business with Canada despite a 35 per cent. tariff, when it became necessary to provide the equivalent of a tax of 52 per cent. of the wholesale value of a product in the United States a solution was sought.

During the last year more than 200 American manufacturers erected or leased plants in Canada. Long before the war rendered commercial relations between Canada and this country more difficult, 250 American manufacturers had built plants there and established purely Canadian business to escape the tariff and to take advantage of the preferential tariff treatment given by other parts of the British Empire to goods originating within the boundaries of the Dominion.

ORPHANAGE SOCIAL LARGELY ATTENDED

MUSICAL PROGRAMME AND OTHER ENTERTAINMENT FEATURES.

Perfect weather and a natural inclination to help in so worthy a cause resulted in the lawn social given last evening on the beautiful grounds of St Vincent's Orphanage in aid of the orphans, being exceedingly well attended. The Ladies' Aid Sewing Society, under whose auspices the affair was given, were more than repaid for their untiring endeavours in making the affair the success it proved to be, in the enjoyment they afforded, not only the visitors, but the fifty little motherless children at he home.

The Booths.

The prettily decorated booths were arranged about the grounds close to the house and at the refreshment booth Mrs. Thomas McGrath, Mrs. D. Donahue, Miss Nevin, Mrs. Shaver and Mrs. J. Dwyer were in charge. At the ice cream booth where hundreds of cones, etc., were sold during the entertainment, Mrs. J. J. Lynch, Mrs. T. Grant, Miss Agnes Grant, Mrs. Fred McFadden and Miss Gertrude McFadden were in charge. Miss Annie Simons, Miss Eileen Coughlin and Miss Madeline Rutherford had charge of the candy booth and Mrs. J. A. Sharpe and Miss J. McCarthy of the smokes and soft drinks. Each booth was equally well patronized and a very substantial amount of money was realized. Mr. and Mrs. T. McQuillan and Mr. Frank Farren had charge of the gate.

Musical Programme.

During the evening a splendid programme was given by the Salvation Army Band and recitations by Miss Kathleen Baker, of Lindsay, heartily encored. Drills by the children, trained by Miss Rutherford and Miss Deannard, were also a pleasing feature.

For Forty Years.

The members of the Ladies' Aid of St. Peter's, which organization was formed forty years ago, have worked untiringly in mending and sewing for the little children of the Orphanage and have done much in lightening the many and endless tasks Naturally falling upon the Reverend Mother and the sisters of St. Joseph in their duties of mothering the little ones. The present members of the society are: Mrs. Justus Dunn (president), Mrs. J. F. Crowley (secretary), Mrs. T. McGrath (treasurer), Mrs. John Coughlin, Mrs. Thos. McQuillan, Mrs. Dan Donahue, Mrs. J. J. Lynch, Mrs. K. Grant, Mrs. A. Sharp, Mrs. Shaver, Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. M. McFadden, Mrs. Thos. LaPlant, Mrs. Joe White, Mrs. George Ball, Mrs. John Moloney, Mrs. Jno. Dwyer, Miss M. A. Nevin, Miss Joe McCarthy, Miss K. Sheehy and Mrs. T. Lane.

OF INTEREST TO MEN

The Regent Tailors Co. recently purchased one of the largest stocks of fine woollens at a most unexpected price, and are turning a portion of their deal over for the benefit of their Peterborough patrons. It seems that backward conditions have caused the cloth dealers to become overloaded with fine suitings, and they made a tempting offer to the Regent Co. for part of their overload.

Peterborough is fortunate in being selected to receive a share of this sensational buying. The manager of the local branch at 326 George Street, Arcade Block, has been instructed to make such concessions in prices on Saturday for merhant-tailored ordered suits as will save men a pocket full of hard cash.

A single example will prove the truth of this sensational cloth deal: Suits ordered on Saturday and all next week will be custom-tailored and made up to order for $27.00. Similar suits have been selling regularly all summer for $41.00 and $44.00—thus effecting a saving of from $14.00 to $17.00 oon the suit. If this isn't an illuminating sporting chance for good dressers, well, prices can't draw, that's all. Read the Regent advertisement elsewhere.

REMARKABLE HEALING CASE NOW CONFIRMED.

Confirmation of the remarkable healing of Rev. E. C. Burch after two visits from Mr. James Moore Hickson is contained in a paragraph in the Canadian Churchman. Mr. Burch had ben a patient in a local hospital for some time, and his case was regarded as very serious, he having been unable to move since entering the hospital. "We are informed from his home," says the Churchman, "that Mr. Burch has been able to get out of bed into his chair unaided. He has shaved himself and has several times sat up and taken his meals. They are hoping that further change for the better will soon come." Mr. Burch graduated from Wycliffe College, Toronto, in 1907, and was curate at Holy Trinity, Winnipeg, the Pro-Cathedral, Prince Rupert, and locum tenens at Balmy Beach, Toronto, and Swansea."

AGED 100, HAS LIVED UNDER FIVE SOVEREIGNS

WM. GRIEVES STEWART GETS CIVIC ADDRESS.

RENFREW, July 23.—At the last council meeting Mayor Moss read an address which was presented to William Graves, Stewart street, who on the twelfth instant reached the age of 100 years. The address was signed by H. W. Moss, Mayor, and Councillors C. J. Murphy and W. P. Anthun. Mr. Graves was born in Newton Barry, Ireland, on July 12, 1820. He has lived under five British Sovereigns, George IV., William IV., Victoria, Edward VII. and the present King—George III. died on January 29, 1820, or a little over five months before Mr. Graves was born. He came to Canada in 1841 and settled first in the township of Lanark, and worked on a farm. He had an education above the average and soon found himself called upon to teach school in Admaston district having obtained the necessary certificate from George Brown, who at that time was superintendent of schools for the district. For six months' service he was paid $100 and was boarded free among the farmers. Soon however the ratepayers found it impossible to pay a salary in cash and he was asked to take wheat. This he could not see his way to accept and he drifted into other pursuits. He was married twice, first to Miss Christine McGregor, of Carleton Place, by whom he had six children. She died in 1860 and in 1862 he married Miss Elizabeth Ann James, of Douglas, by whom he had other six children. Mr. Graves is still in excellent health and enjoying life despite the weight of a century of years.

GRASSHOPPERS DO DAMAGE LOCALLY

ATTACK FIELD CROPS IN HARVEY AND EMILY TOWNSHIPS.

Swarms of grasshoppers have appeared in the country around Peterborough, particularly in the northern districts and have assailed the hay and grain crops. In Emily and Harvey townships they are reported to have done considerable damage. A traveller through Harvey the other days stated that he saw a large section of an oat field that had the heads cut off the grain. The grasshoppers rose in clouds from another field of hay that a farmer was cutting and the whole field swayed as if a strong wind was blowing when they clung to the stocks. Closer examination revealed that they ate the leaves off the oats before they cut off the heads.

These locusts are of a small variety and while farmers say that there are large numbers of them they treat the prospect of any serious damage lightly, stating that the species were too small to do any harm.

The little green pests may be seen in large numbers around the city and in the down town sections they have been flopping around the streets, alighting on persons or any other place that proves convenient.

The farmers say that if they had come when the drought was on, the situation would have been serious, but the wet weather if it continues, will prevent them from any active operations.

CAMPERS ROBBED

LINDSAY, July 22.—A number of young men from Hamilton, who are camped on the shores of the bay near T. J. Tilly's summer home, Snug Harbor, were the victims of sneak thieves on Wednesday. The party was out on the lake for a fish, and on their return found that sneak thieves had invaded their camp and had stolen their supplies. This is the second theft reported this week at a summer camp in that locality.

DOCTOR GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

INDETERMINATE SENTENCE OF FROM 3 TO 15 YEARS IMPOSED.

NEW YORK.—After repeated postponements, Dr. Julius Hammer of 1,468 Washington Avenue, the Bronx, came before Judge Louis D. Gibbs in the Bronx County Court yesterday and was sentenced to from three and a half years to fifteen years, Judge Gibbs denouncing "the insidious and uncalled-for propaganda which had been conducted in the doctor's behalf."

The sentence was for manslaughter the charge growing out of an alleged unnecessary operation, a curettage, by Dr. Hammer on July 11, 1919, which caused the death ten days later of Mrs. Marie Oganesoff of 239 Riverside Drive. As soon as a Bronx County jury found the physician guilty of manslaughter, a group of his colleagues began agitation to save him, asserting that his conviction was a "blow at the medical profession," and that the lives of thousands of women were endangered through the reluctance of doctors to court the fate of Dr. Hammer.

In his remarks yesterday Judge Gibbs made it clear that proper operations where the life of mother or child was in jeopardy was provided for in the law, and that doctors were in no danger in such cases. The Bronx County Medical Society a week ago repudiated efforts to save Dr. Haminer, saying it was in accord with Judge Gibbs in his interpretation of the statute.

New Trial Denied.

As soon as sentence was imposed William J. Fallon, counsel for the doctor, asked for a new trial on the ground of new evidence. This was denied. Mr. Fallon then sought an application to stay execution of sentence. Judge Gibbs acceded, setting July 26 as the date for the doctor to begin his term. Mr. Fallon announced he would apply for a certificate of reasonable doubt.

Law for Woman's Protection.

The Judge referred to the text of the petition to the effect that thousands of women were in danger because of fear implanted in doctors by the conviction of Dr. Hammer, and continued:

"The law has to draw the line somewhere with reference to these operations, and is there any decent man who has a true regard for laws of man and God and for the protection of the human race who would in any manner broaden that statute? That law is on the statute books for the protection of the women of the State, to protect them against themselves and to bring down the heavy hand of the law upon the vultures of the medical profession who very often operate illegally as a road toward making money. That class of men in the medical profession must be discouraged and the law upheld.

"Your sentence, in view of all the circumstances, much as I regret to impose it, will have to be a sentence of a character that will send the word to the medical profession that operations of this kind can only be performed under such circumstances as are indicated and justified by the law and that the misguided, foolish women will be protected against physicians of that character.

"As far as I am concerned in this case, I believe the verdict a just one. It was the only verdict that could be found on the evidence. You received at the hands of this court as fair a trial as one man could give another."

Defends Jury System.

Just before he closed his remarks Judge Gibbs said of criticism against the jury system:

"The genius of the jury system and its effectiveness and the thing that makes it the strong preserver of all our repuations is the fact that jurors are drawn from no special trade, have no special occupation, that they are not especially brilliant or especially skillful, but that they are drawn from the community.

"The idea some doctors seem to have—that in order to try a doctor you must have twelve doctors or twelve medical experts—is inconsistent and diametrically opposed to the spirit of our institutions. Any man in this community, however high his position may be, or however low, is entitled to a jury of twelve average men, no more and no less."

Dr. Hammer heard the sentence with no show of emotion.

AMERICA'S GREAT NEED.

Teaching That Will Lead to Contentment and Stability.

No steam boiler is safe without its provision against overpressure. A perfectly even application of its power to the work it is doing is not possible. All through mechanics runs this same necessity of safeguarding against the surplus of force which must be generated to accomplish the work which the machine is set to do. The safety valve for steam power and the fuse for electric circuits are mechanical essentials.

Sanity, national as well as individual, demands balance. It demands men and women who unite with special practical efficiency in producing an equal skill and wisdom in using products. The most vitally important question of our immediate future is not what wealth and leisure can we achieve as an average for our people, but what shall we do with the wealth and leisure which as an average we do secure.

It is assumed in our educational thought that with more money and leisure will come more contentment and stability. These will only come to a people prepared to secure and understand them. Unless our schools give their pupils this preparation we shall some day need a cataclysm to show us the eternal fitness of things.

MEANING OF HORSEPOWER.

And How a Person In Lifting Weight May Expend That Force.

It has been estimated that to lift 550 pounds one foot in one second requires what is known as one horsepower. Similarly a horsepower is able to raise twice that weight one foot in twice the time or one-half foot in just that time. Moreover, it can raise half 550 pounds one foot in half a second or two feet in a second, and so on. Therefore, if you lift one-quarter of that weight, 137½ pounds, four feet in one second you are exerting a horsepower.

Accordingly, when a person who weighs 137½ pounds runs upstairs at the rate of four feet a second he is exerting the equivalent of a horsepower. For a man weighing twice that much, 275 pounds, it would be necessary to climb at the rate of only two feet a second to exert a horsepower.

It is possible to do much more. As a matter of fact, a horse often exerts many times a horsepower. The average horse can draw a wagon up a hill where a ten horsepower engine with the same load would fail. A horsepower does not represent the greatest momentary strength of the average horse, but is a measure of the power which he can exert continuously."

Washington's Tomb.

At the late date of 1827 a wish expressed by General Washington in his will was obeyed. He had called attention to his selection of a spot for a new tomb for himself and family and those of the family already buried in the old vault. The old tomb was disadvantageously situated on the side of a hill which was subject to landslides. For the new vault he specified not only the spot, but also dimensions and materials. According to these, his own plans, a tomb was built, and his and Mrs. Washington's bodies were transferred to it, along with the remains in the old vault of other members of the family. The latter were buried together within the vault, out of sight, while the bodies of General and Mrs. Washington are in stone coffins above the ground, within plain view between the slender bars of a grated iron doorway. It is for this reason that the most illustrious of our dead has so simple a mausoleum—obedience to his wish.

Neighborhood Society.

"Oh, mother," cried Mabel, who had never visited in the country, "I have just had a letter from my schoolmate inviting me to spend two weeks on her father's farm!"

Mabel's mother looked up languidly. "Yes, dear," she remarked, "and what does she say about the society in the neighborhood? Does she mention any one?"

"No," answered Mabel thoughtfully, "but I've heard her mention the Holsteins and Guernseys."

"Oh, well," said her mother, "I presume they are pleasant people."

Story of a Lion.

One of Sir Charles Wakefield's predecessors in office, while in the Arabian desert, came face to face with a lion of parts. Down on his knees went the worldly knight in fervent prayer. The lion understood—or did not—and retreated supperless. Thereupon the pilgrim came home and gave £200 to the Church of St. Katherine Cree, Leadenhall street, where the lion sermon is still preached on each anniversary of the escape, Oct. 16.—London Chronicle.

Volubility.

Mabel (studying her lesson)—Papa, what is the definition of "volubility?" Mabel's Father—My child, volubility is a distinguishing feature of your mother when on account of urgent business affairs I don't happen to reach home until after 2 o'clock in the morning.

Wives for Colonists.

In 1621 on August 21 a cargo consisting of marriageable women was consigned at London to the colony of Virginia. The market price of these ladies, eleven maids and one widow, was set at 120 pounds of the best leaf tobacco for each maid. No reduction in price was mentioned for the widow.

WONDERFUL SUIT OFFER!

"ONE MAN'S MISFORTUNE IS ANOTHER MAN'S FORTUNE"

A few days ago we were offered about $100,000 worth of magnificent woollens at about half their real value. The firm offering them to us had to have money at once, and so were willing to sacrifice a part of their stock to secure it quick. Backward conditions were responsible for this unfortunate condition, but what was this firm's loss may be YOUR GAIN if you so desire and act at once. We bought the entire lot and have decided to give the public the full benefit of the purchase by offering Suits to Order AT ACTUALLY LESS THAN THE REAL VALUE OF THE CLOTH. All these materials go on sale to-morrow morning—you have your choice at the one price—

Regular Values Up To $50.00

We fully realize that we could make a lot of money by storing these clothes until next season instead of selling them now, because prices next spring will be from 50 to 60 per cent higher than they are to-day. But we prefer to keep our tailoring shops busy, and in order to do so we give you this wonderful opportunity to secure a suit to order of extra fine materials—all wool tweeds and worsteds—at the ridiculously low price of $27.00. Those who would secure the best of the materials should come early. No more can be obtained at the price after this stock is sold.

Every Garment Finely Tailored and Guaranteed To Fit

Every suit will be tailored strictly to your individual measure and in any of the English or American styles, chosen from the latest fashion plates. We guarantee every garment to be perfect in workmanship and to fit to your complete satisfaction.

ONLY GOOD HORSES SUIT THE BELGIANS

Partial confirmation from German sources of reports recently received from France telling of the poor quality of the cattle being delivered to France and Belgium by the German Government under the modified terms of the Peace Treaty is found in a Berlin dispatch of June 2, printed in the Frankfurter Zeitung giving details of the progress being made in turning over the livestock question. In the course of a complaint regarding the extraordinarily high standards being set by the French and Belgian officials supervising the acceptance of the animals it is said:

"The condition of the German cattle has been so reduced through the war-time policy of getting out everything possible at the least expense—as is sufficiently evidenced by the light weight of cattle for slaughtering and the very low production of milk still obtaining—that in many districts it is absolutely impossible to furnish the quality demanded by France and Belgium. Particular complaints have been made to the German Government regarding the Belgian demands for horses. Out of lots of horses from the best breeding regions of the Rhineland the Belgian commissions have rejected 27 per cent., 49 per cent. and 58 per cent., and in Dortmund one lot of 239 horses was rejected in its entirety."

Despite these handicaps, however, the report said that great progress was being made in delivering the livestock and that, although the French and Belgian commission had not arrived in Germany until the end of March, the number of animals accepted by June 1 was as follows: Horses—to France 6,784 of the 30,500 called for by the agreement, to Belgium 2,673 of 10,200; cows—to France 40,492 of 92,000, to Belgium 42,338 of 92,000; sheep—to France 65,916 of 100,931, to Belgium 28,923 of 35,269; goats—to France 7,681 of 10,000, to Belgium 5,760 of 10,000; poultry—to Belgium 28,331 of 33,000.

The speeding up in deliveries during May is largely attributed to the big increase in the prices paid by the German Government to its farmers and breeders for the livestock needed. This rise, which the Deutsche Tageszeitung jubilantly ascribed to the activities of Deputy Dr. Roesicks, President of the Agrarian League, brought the price of one and one-half year old fillies up to 14,000 marks, of those two and one-half years old to 18,000, and of mares in their prime to 23,000. The price of 36,000 marks for stallions remained unchanged. Milch cows and young cattle were raised to 2,520 marks, sheep to 800 and goats to 650 marks. Rams remained at the old rate. The new rates were made retroactive, so that the breeders who had already supplied some animals also benefited by the advance. At the present rate of exchange a German mark equals about 2 3-4 cents.

BENEFIT SPORTS RECEIPTS $147.50

At a well attended meeting of the Executive of the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association, with the Presiden, Dr. A. W. MacPherson in the chair, a final report was made of the Benefit Sports put on by the Association at the Exhibition Grounds through the generosity of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition.

It is particularly pleasing to note the considerable number of citizens who turned out and supported the object of the Association, to assist Albert Smoke to equip himself for the Olympic Race in Antwerp Belgium at which he represents Peterborough.

The total gate receipts were $147.50 Previous to the Benefit Sports put on last evening, the following subscriptions were received by the Association to assist to defray the expenses of Albert Smoke o S. Catherines and Hamilton, totalling $55.00:

C. H. Rogers	$5.00
R. Denne	$5.00
R. M. Glover	$5.00
L. Fraser	$5.00
J. H. Callander	$5.00
C. G. Graham	$5.00
E. Worth	$5.00
Louis Yeates	$5.00
Peter P. Westbye	$5.00
Thomas Barrie	$5.00
Ald. N. E. Phelan	$5.00

The valuable assistance rendered by all in contributing so well or so materially to the success of the evening was very much appreciated by the Executive.

28 SKELETONS IN FARM IF FATHER

Daughter, in Frenzy of Hatred, Promises to Locate Bodies.

STEELE, N.D., July 23.—In a frenzy of hatred for her father, Mrs. Frances Sheldon, 17, today reiterated charges that twenty-six skeletons will be found buried on his farm. The father, James C. Clayton, 60, and his son Roy went to trial here, today, charged with statutory offences against Mrs. Sheldon and her sister, Laura.

Mrs. Sheldon swore her father had killed Ed. Lietzke, an insurance man. Digging squads, led by court officials, visited the Clayton farm without results, the woman said she had been threatened with death is she divulged the hiding places of the body and those of twenty-five other persons whose sudden disappearance never was accounted for. She said she would locate the bodies when the statutory case against her father had been concluded.

GIRL FEARED SPANKING AND TRIES TO END HER LIFE.

Jumps From Fourth Floor to the Ground Below.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Fear of a "spanking" and the other troubles that can come into the life of a little 11-year-old girl, who acts as mother to three children, led Angeline Scire to jump from a fourth floor fire escape in an effort to end her life.

Fear that her effort would be successful was felt to-day at the Governeur Hospital, where she was in a critical condition.

BOHUNKS DEFEATED LINDSAY'S SELECT.

The champions of the City League at Lindsay encountered more opposition from the Bohunks' Peterborough aggregation last night than they did in the Scugogville town league. The Bohunks romped around the bases seven times, and allege that they would have beaten Lindsay 7 to 1 only for a few errors on their part. As it was, the score was 7 to 4. Doughty's pitching opened the eyes of the crowd of fans that turned out. He was in no small way responsible for the victory. Next week they play in Port Hope. They lined up as follows: A. Doughty p, E. Dugan c, R. White 1b, J. Ecobichon 2b, J. Thornbeck ss, F. Herbison 3b, J. Galvin, H. Smith, John Jones in the field.

POSSE SEARCHING FOR THE MURDERER OF CHILD.

POTTERVILLE, Mich., July 23.—Two hundred Eaton farmers and roadmen armed with guns and pitchforks, are searching the woods near Potterville for a man who attacked and later murdered a thirteen-year-old girl yesterday afternoon. The victim of the crime is Beatrice Heckos, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heckos, who live on a farm two miles south of Potterville.

The girl was strangled to death and her head beaten with a large rock.

The man, a stranger in the community, attacked her in a lane two blocks from her home, as she was carrying drinking water to her brother, working in a field a few rods distant.

The first knowledge of the deed came to the boy when he saw a man running south toward the nearby woods. He found his sister dead, her throat marked with ugly cuts, and her head beaten. A large rock weighing some 15 pounds was near the body.

BUSINESS HOUSES MERGE.

KITCHENER, Int., July 22.—Persistent rumor has it here that the W., G. & R. Shirt Co. have amalgamated with the Cluett, Peabody Company. S. J. Williams, president of the local concern, admitted that amalgamation negotiations were practically completed, but stated that no authoritive announcement could be made until the directors authorize a definite statement.

FEISAL GOT 80,000,000 FRANCS FROM FRENCH

PARIS, July 23.—Emir Feisal, "King of Syria," with whom the French are on the verge of war, has been making his preparations with French money. Under the impression that Feisal was their friend, the French subventioned him, having paid him a total of 80,000,000 francs before they changed their mind. This money was paid by the French Foreign Office. The official reason for its payment was that it was intended to feed hungry people in Syria.

Used it on Army.

But when the Emir got it he used it to put his army in condition to support what he calls the rights of his country against what the French call the rights of their protectorate. Without going into the merits of that controversy, one might as well give the Emir credit for "putting over" the double cross.

At the French Foreign Office it was admitted today that the money had been paid to Emir Feisal, but not much more was to be learned about it.

French officials say that they have knowledge of any reply by the Emir to Gen. Gouraud's ultimatum. London newspapers carried despatches saying Feisal replied that he would recognize the French protectorate in Syria, but the League of Nations, and not Gouraud, must lay down the limits.

May Be Smoothed Out.

But although Paris has not news of Feisal's reply, they have no news of the beginning of serious operations by Gouraud, and so, taking the two negative indications, together, the general impression is that the situation may smooth itself out better than was expected.

FARMER STOP DYKE.

VANCOUVER, B.C., July 22.—(By Canadian Press.—Through the efforts of the farmers at Matsqui, B.C., the forty-foot break in the dyke has been stopped up and the inrushing waters of the flooded Fraser held back from 10,000 acres of choice lands.

At Nicomen Island the flood caused serious damages, covering 4,000 acres of fruit land. The loss is placed at $200,000.

DAMAGE BY SINN FEINERS IS OVER $10,000,000

LONDON, July 23.—The cost of the property destroyed by Sinn Feiners in Ireland was estimated at $10,000,000 in the House of Commons to-night by Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland.

FIREMEN LOSE LIVES.

PHILAELPDHIA, July 22.— (By Associated Press.—Two firemen lost their lives and ten others were injured to-day in a fire that destroyed a five-storey building occupied by Franz and LaRue, Inc., rug and carpet dealers.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

HAMILTON, Ont., JJuly 22.—(By Canadian Press.) — Edward Jones, while on the street in a violent thunderstorm here yesterday, was struck by lightning. He was rendered unconscious and was burned about the body, but may recover.

HER IDEA.

Hostess— "Won't you sing us another song before you go?"

Jones—"Well, it's getting very late and I shouldn't like to annoy your neighbours."

Hostess— "Oh, don't mind that; they have a brute of a dog that barks every night and I should be very glad to take my revenge."

A SORRY FARMER.

A couple of weeks ago a farmer living near Marlbank, refused $6 a bag for a quantity of old potatoes. Last week the same farmer could not find purchasers for the same potatoes at $1 a bag.

CITY SIDEWALK WORK IS HELD UP

CEMENT SHORT AND CITY WILL WAIT TILL SUFFICIENT SUPPLY ASSURED.

The local supply of cement has been very scarce all year, and of late it has been a difficult matter to get even a few bags at any one time, a local dealer informed the Examiner to-day. All year this dealer has tried to secure a decent sized consignment, but invariably had to rest content with nowhere near enough to meet his customers' demands. On July 13th he considered himself fortunate in securing a shipment of 750 bags which were all quickly disposed of ,and his books are now filled with orders for cement which he canot fill. He is consequently accepting no more orders.

Being Shipped Abroad.

It is said that most of the production of Canadian plants is going to the United States and England.

Affects City's Work.

When asked how this shortage would affect the city's sidewalk building programme ,the City Engineer said they would not go ahead with any sidewalk construction until a sufficient supply of cement was assured them.

The price of cement has increased 25 cents a barrel recently.

Rumored Relief.

It is rumoured that the Canada Cement Co. at Lakefield may open up in the near future, but no definite steps have yet been taken in this direction. The siding at Drummond's Station, where they secured their blue clay, has been taken up and all machinery removed. Rumours around there say that the company intends rebuilding the siding and starting operations soon, after being inoperative since 1914.

The next place of meeting will be Ottawa.

FATAL ACCIDENT IN ELEVATOR SHAFT

(Special to the Examiner)

TORONTO, July 23.—As a result of an elevator accident at 9.35 a.m. at the Canadian General Electric Office King street west, Miss Marie Bennett, 94 Baldwin avenue, was killed almost instantly. Doubt exists at the exact cause of the accident. Sergt. Guthrie handled the case, told Examiner his vision of the accident.

"The elevator was at the basement and the girl, having been down there, was going to the elevator. The elevator had started but the door was not closed. The girl made an attempt to get in and did so. She was not in far enough however, and her head struck the first floor. She dropped from the first floor to the basement. Only a month ago Miss Bennett graduated from St. Joseph's College in her 16th year. Miss Bennett was employed in the mailing section of the advertising department. She was a member of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church and was the eldest daughter in the family.

BUILDING STRIKE SETTLED.

HAMILTON, Ont., July 22.—(By Canadian Press.)—The newly formed Industrial Council has succeeded in settling the strike of 500 building laborers, who have been demanding 65 cents an hour, and who returned to work yesterday on the understanding that their demand would be submitted to arbitration.

SEQUEL IN TORONTO TO ROMANCE OF MONS

MADEMOISELLE VERVIERS EN ROUTE TO WED SOLDIER HER HOME SHELTERED.

TORONTO, July 23.—Weeping bitterly at the Union Station last night was Mademoiselle Verviers from Mons, Belgium. The cause of her distress was the fact that she had missed connections for Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan, was unable to explain her misfortune to the officials around the depot, and they in turn could not make her understand that other trains will follow to the station marked on her ticket. She showed her railway ticket and just pointed to the words "Moose Jaw," which to a Belgian tongue seems to fall within the category of unpronounceable words.

At Moose Jaw is awaiting her ex-trooper, Jack Bond, formerly of a famous British cavalry regiment who was wounded in the street fighting in Mons when the "Contemptibles" passed through that city in 1914 on their famous retreat. He was carried by citizens of that town into the house of the parents of Mademoiselle Verviers and was hidden for four months in the cellar of her home while the Germans occupied the city.

After his recovery he decided to rejoin his regiment, which was by that time far away, and he was successful after a thrilling and daring break through the German lines.

Since the signing of the armistice Trooper Bond returned to Mons and there made arrangements for Mademoiselle to join him later in Canada. The young lady was visibly relieved when taken care of by the ladies of the Travellers' Aid and quickly found someone who talked to the weeping girl and explained to her that the delay would be only for a short time, when she would see her fiance on the prairies.

Funeral of Mrs. Rogers.

The funeral of Mary Donaldson, relict of Orlando Rogers, took place on Thursday afternoon from her late residence on King street. The deceased lary had been in failing health for more than a year so her death was not entirely unexpected. She had been a resident of the village for about thirty-five years and was well known. She leaves two daughters ot mourn her loss Mrs. E. Hawthorne of Warsaw and Miss Sarah at home. Two daughters Miss Kate and Mrs. Maud Halloran predeceased her. Mr. Floyd Rogers is a grandson.

"Well, that is certainly as poor a place to demonstrate aquatic inability as any I can imagine," continued the absent-minded professor, continuing to stroll along.

OSHAWA FOOTBALL CHAMPIONS WILL BE HERE SATURDAY

On Saturday afternoon at Nicholls Oval at 2.30 the Peterborough champions (G.W.V.A.) and Oshawa champions of the respectful Football Leagues will play a game of Football.

The Oshawa team have a very creditable record in their league. They have won all the games played during the season and the goal average for is very large while the goals against is very small which indicates the strength of the visitors.

The G.W.V.A. team for to-morrow will be: W. Jones, goal; H. Gamble and A. Bishop, backs; H. Burrows, P. D. Ryan and J. Peel, half-backs; S. Curtiss, T. Monks, H. Norman, A. Edwards, J. Sharman, forwards.

There will be no charge for admission, but it is expected the public will respond heartily when the collection is taken to defray the expenses.

LOU MARSH COINS NEW LIPTON TITLE

"GRAND VIZIER OF YOUNG HYSON" CLEVER ALLUSION TO TEA KING.

Shamrock must win to-day's race, writes Lou Marsh to the Toronto Star.

"Resolute has shown superiority going to windward every time they have met under equal conditions. Shamrock is faster going before the wind on a dead run. Friday's race is over a triangular course, and if the wind is not fickle, should give the racing boats a ten-mile beat to windward and a ten-mile run and a reach, or two reaches. Shamrock showed yesterday that she can beat Resolute as much in a free run as Resolute can spot her going an equal distance to windward. Granted that, then the problem is, can she beat Resolute 7.30 on a 10-mile reach? It's a tough proposition, but she might do it. If the wind shifts and makes it ten miles to windward and two reaches in light air, Shamrock has a mighty good chance to win and end a sensational series.

Must Win To-morrow

If she doesn't win to-morrow she'll never beat Resolute in a windward and leeward race unless she has a lot of luck, and her crew handles canvas a mighty sight faster and cleaner than they have yet handled it. However, luck has been a heavy factor in this sensational series of wind slants like she did Tuesday, or Resolute may get laryngitis of the throat like she did the first race. She is sweetly frail, the Resolute craft, but Tom Lipton doesn't want to take the cup home with one fair square win and two breakdowns.

Win or lose, the Grand Vizier of Young Hyson has made a million friends in America, and if he doesn't win he at least has the satisfaction of tilting that old cup farther than it has been tilted in 60 years"

POLICE COURT DREW A BLANK THIS MORNING

There was an empty docket for police court this morning and the court room looked uncommonly deserted, considering the land office business which has been transcated there of late. Not even a drunk, brought in to dry for the night, was there to add the new usual business-like air.

A LARGE CROWD PRESENT AT FOOTBALL GAME FOR SMOKE

TWO TEAMS WELL BALANCED—HANNAH SCORED THE ONLY GOAL—BOTH GOAL-KEEPERS GOOD—THE PRESIDENT'S TEAM WON ONE GOAL TO NOTHING.

THE FOOT RACE

Under the auspices of the Peterboro Athletic Association a football game was played last evening at the exhibition Grounds by two picked teams chosen by the Football Executive representing the Presidents and Vice-Presidents. S. Curtiss (Vets) reported himself sick and Edwards (Vets) filled his position. At the last minutes Gash (C.G.E.) was requested to play in Bishop's place. A large attendance was present when the teams lined up as follows:

Presidents—W. Jones (G.W.V.A.), goal; H. Gamble (Vets) and Gash (C.G.E.), backs; H. Frost (Cal.), McMillan (Cals) and R. M. Dowall (Cals), half-backs; Hannah (Cals), J. Long (De Laval), Chambers (Can. Woollens), J. Lindsay (De Laval) and T. Bartley, forwards.

Vice-Presidents—C. Griffin (Comrades), goal; J. Cridland and J. Hillman (Can. Woollens), backs; H. Burrows (Vets), H. Turner (C.G.E.) and J. Peel (Vets), half-backs; A Edwards (G.W.V.A.), C. Hotston (C. G. E.), M. Shaw (Cals), H. Norman and J Sherman (Vets), forwards

Referee—Mr. Alex. McKinley.

The Game.

Rev. Father Phalen kicked off the ball and Presidents were the first to attack on the right through Hannah, who lashed the ball across to Bartley. He passed out to McMillan, who punted over the bar. From the kick Sharman tore down the wing to baffle Gamble easily and just in the nick of time McDowall cleared to touch. On a visit, led by Chambers and Lindsay, the ball was shot out to the left wing for Cridland to misjudge it. Ted Bartley running close in missed an opportunity to score through a boy touching the ball before being out of play. At the other end Sharman was called up for offsides. A foul against Chambers was cleared by Gamble to Hannah, who made a bee line to Griffine's goal by passing nicely to Chambers. The centre forward tested Griffine and the ball went out to Hannah again, who struck the side of the upright with a rocket shot. Even play ensued for a while until Norman on an individual run tested Jones with a fast drive. Each side was penalized for illegal tactics. Nice combination by Hotston and Edwards rewarded them a fruitless corner. The kick was well placed by the outside right for every man to have a try at goal that ended with Norman putting over the cross-bar. Play went from end to end and during a visit on Griffine's goal Chambers run in to about five yards. He slipped the ball out to Bartley, who had ample time to steady himself, but his parting shot was weak. A few minutes afterwards Hannah and Hillman had a tussel in the corner with the midget getting the better of the tall fellow and swinging the ball across to Lindsay, who had a shot at goal. Griffine cleared nicely to centre field, and Hannah, getting a long drive from about twenty yards out, served with a shot into the corner of the upright. Right from the centre, Wag run straight for goal that made Jones save in spectacular fashion. McMillan punted down to left wing where Jack Cridland missed his kick. Bartley, with an open goal in front, put past at his leisure. Just before half time Matt. Shaw made Jones look smart to clear. Half time—Presidents 1, Vice-Presidents 0.

Half Time.

Twice in succession Jones had to save from the severe attack of Hotston and Edwards. Gamble cleared to Hannah, who lashed across a beauty to Bartley and from a well-placed pass from the outside left, Hannah missed the cross-bar by inches. Quick as a flash Sharman travelled down upon Gamble to mix it up a little in the corner for the iron horse to win out, but the left winger retaliated by giving Jones all he could do to clear. The game was very fast as was demonstrated by McDowall on the left wing, who beat Cridland on the run to strike the upright twice in succession. A foul against McMillan was kicked past by Sharman. Lindsay tested Griffine from close range and a few minutes later Hannah was checked by Hillman in the corner. The full back punted down Hotston, who carried the play into the corner flag and slipping Gash nicely he lifted the ball over to Matt. Shaw, who headed into Jones' hands. Lindsay and Hotston had a try to defeat Jones, who cleared easily, but he was just about caught napping by the long shot from Long. Clay was transferred to the other end through the efforts of McDowall. He tackled Cridland in the goal area to get a corner that was unproductive. Peel gave away three corner kicks and from one of them taken by Frost the ball went to McDowall at the far end of the goal post. He tried to penetrate the defence, but his shot was stopped by Griffine on the goal line to go for a corner kick that brought nothing. From mid-field Matt. Shaw carried the ball right through the whole defence until he met Jones, who fell upon the ball for Referee McKinley to award a foul. Try as hard as they like the Vice-Presidents (Sid Whatley) team could not get a goal through his rootin', while President Cook was all smiles at his team's success that ended in favour of President's team one goal to nothing.

Musical Programme.

Before the game the Peterboro Caledonian Pipe Band, under Pipe-Major Thom, rendered a number of selections, and during the second half of the football game, played "Scotland, the Brave." Previous to the foot race the G.W.V.A. Band, under Band-master Hughes, played a number of selections and finished up with some popular airs.

The Race.

At half-time the crowd of spectators were requested to go on the grand-stand to witness the race by Albert Smoke, who left the city this morning to report in Montreal. From the start Smoke was paced by Leonard Frazer for first half mile and covered it in 2 minutes and 30 seconds. The second runner, Rice, a good half-miler, went off like a shot and covered the half-mile in 2 minutes and 17 seconds. The third man, Green, took the race easy, with Smoke gaining on him a little on the straight. Charles Thorpe covered the next mile at his pleasure and kept the Indian company during the greater part of the mile until the finish when Thorpe finished splendidly. The last half mile was covered by Martin with Smoke keeping in touch with him until the finish with nothing of a lead upon the Indian. The distance was covered in 15 minutes and 10 second.

After the race the crowd gave Smoke three hearty cheers and wished him every success.

PETES ALL IN GAME AND ALL THE TIME, SAYS LINDSAY PRESS REPORT

The Lindsay Warder speaking of Wednesday's game says:—Jake Solomon's heavy hitting Peterboro aggregation of ball tossers outplayed the Greybirds yesterday afternoon at the agricultural park, wining a Central League fixture by the score of 10 to 5. For seven complete innings the score was a ten to one shot, but an eighth innings rally brought the Greybirds up four notches. The visitors had the speed and luck of the Resolute, with the speed and stamina of the Shamrock, and Solomon's Pets had team work play down to perfection. They were all in the game, and all the time. The Greybirds went into the race with their team disorganized and the continued absence of Catcher Logan forced Shipper Anderson to shift his men. Dick McElroy played the second game of the season and was played at first, while Ashton was brought in from centre to second. Wettlaufer going to short and McMahon to the field. Ashton played a tidy game. In fact the Greys did no do so bad, but as Sir Thomas Lipton would say, "there were a few fumbles that will have to be cut out before the next game, or there will be a change. However, it's all for the good of the sport."

And the Greys did play well except for the fumbles, which were costly. They gathered eight safe hits off Rose who by the way is one of the handiest pitchers in the League Rose wastes very few balls—nobody walks and nobody is hit. If he cannot work a batter for the corners, he puts the ball over the plate and lets the the fielders do the worrying, and after all a pitched who can make the hitters pop flies, or hit wobbly grounders is quite as effective as the support. Rose had good support. The visitors accepted every chance faultlessly with one exception, when Cherret dropped a liner. Rose fanned 12.

"Hap." Harrison is an elongated chap and a real ballplayer. He can pitch, play first and hit three-baggers. What more can you expect?

QUEEN MARY PLAYGROUNDS LEADING

One-half of the inter-playground schedule has been completed with Queen Mary eleven points in the lead. The standing of the grounds is:—Queen Mary, 130 points; Central, 119; King Edward, 117, and Queen Alexandra, 102. Queen Alexandra is the newest ground opened and is doing creditable work.

Summary by weeks.—

July 8th—Queen Mary, 47; Queen Alexandra, 24; King Edward, 42; Central, 38.

This was Queen Alexandra's first meet and they were handicapped from lack of numbers.

July 22—Queen Mary, 41; Central, 39; Queen Alexandra, 40; King Edward, 40.

Queen Mary is up to old-time form and will cling to the lead for the remainder of the race. Central has been turning out splendid teams but has found it up-hill work when visiting other grounds. Central has two home field days this half and hopes to climb rapidly. King Edward is hot on the heels of Central, and if the boys are as good this half as the girls were last at capturing points, it will be an exciting finish. Queen Alexandra has already graduated from being a good loser, and if they continue to climb as they have been doing they may run away with the pennant. It is a great race. Watch it!

Rest of Schedule.

The second half of the schedule is:—

July 28—Queen Alexandra at Queen Mary, King Edward at Central.

Boys' events—Baseball game, potato relay race, running and catching, shoe race. Girls' events—Baseball game, potato relay, running and catching, dodge ball.

August 4th—Boys'—Chariot race, obstacle race, base running relay, baseball game. Girls'—To be announced later.

August 4—Queen Mary at King Edward, Central at Queen Alexandra.

August 11—King Edward at Queen Alexandra, Queen Mary at Central.

Boys'—Baseball game, three-legged race, horse and rider race, throw to second. Girls'—To be announced later.

August 18—Swimming meet at Lake street.

Boys'—Junior, under 13; senior, over 12; senior, backward; junior, backward; towing, plunge for distance, diving. Girls'—Senior, junior, senior, backward; junior, backward; diving.

During the last week that the playground will be open there will be a pennant presented. On this same field day awards will be presented to the best playgrounders on each ground. These are judged from their record throughout the season of attendance, behaviour, games, handwork, swimming, etc.

Watch this paper for further reports of the individual contest and the inter-playground contest.

AT THE ALLEN

"Jes' Call Me Jim," Will Rogers' latest Goldwyn starring vehicle, adapted from the famous novel, "Seven Oaks," by J. G. Holland, is peculiarly suited to Mr. Rogers' personality and talent. In it he plays the role of Jim Fenton, a happy-go-lucky hunter and trapper.

The situations are tense and imbued with all the dramatic qualities of the sort that hold the interest of an audienhe from the beginning to the end of the picture.

Jim Fenton is in love with Miss Butterworth, a milliner and he believes her to be in love with an insane inventor, Paul Benedict, languishing in a filthy workhouse. He promises to rescue Paul and incidentally discovers that Belcher, the most influental man in town, has robbed the poor inventor of a machine from which he has made his fortune. With the help of Mike Conlin, a friend and trapper, Jim determines to force a confession from Belcher. They get him to Mike's house and arouse his fears until he is all too eage to make the confession they demand.

The story was adapted from the famous novel, "Seven Oaks," by J. G. Holland, directed by Clarence Badger, photographed by Marcel Le Picard and may be seen at the Allen Theatre for two days, commencing to-day.

STAPLE FROM WIRE FENCE DESTROYS SIGHT OF EYE

PORT HOPE, July 23.—Mr. Walter Beatty Osaca, met with a very painful and unfortunate accident. He was engaged pulling staples from a wire fence. Taking hold of a wire with both hands Mr. Beatty gave it a sudden hard pull, when the staple flew and struck him with great force in the ball of the right eye. Dr. C. Beatty was called and everything possible was done to relieve the pain, but the doctor is satisfied that the sight has been destroyed.

Mrs. Mary Anastasia Wilson, who was the chief of the kitchen of the late Queen Victoria, was made a "lieutenant-commander" as head of the United States Navy Cooking School. She went from creole New Orleans to Paris, where the Prince of Wales (later King Edward VII.) discovered her. She became the intimate of the Queen, whose domestic habits often brought her into the kitchen.

A COCKY BUNCH, THIS DELORO TEAM WHICH IS TO PLAY HERE TO-MORROW

This Deloro team which will meet the Peterboro Central League team at Riverside Park to-morrow afternoon in a benefit game for the Smoke Olympic Fund is just about the cockiest collection of ball tossers in Eastern Ontario. They have not lost a game this season and when a few weeks ago they won a decision over the Petes at Deloro with Kirn Rose and Harrison all working three innings against them, the management had to buy new hats for the whole outfit. And they are coming up to-morrow with the intention of repeating the dose. The Petes however who did not take the first game very seribusly have the idea that the Refiners will find a vast difference beteen Trent Valley League ball and the Central League article and Manager Solomon will trot out a strong team against the visitors "Hap" Harrison is slated to do the pitching with Swanston behind the bat while Deloro will pin their faith to Leal and Evans. Mr. Allex. Kay will umpire the game which is called for 3 o'clock sharp and which will attract a big crowd of fans.

COUSINS AND THEIR AUNTS WERE THERE.

Lady Ferguson, the upper figure, is the wife of Sir John Ferguson, both of whom are now visiting in the United States. The young lady with the marine glasses is Miss Nan Jarvis, of Toronto. They are shown viewing Wednesday's yacht race from the Victoria.

COBB READY TO RETIRE, SAY DETROIT ADVICES

Probability That He May Quit Before End of Season.

DETROIT, Mich., July 22.—Detroit baseball critics continue to persistently declare that Tyrus Raymond Cobb will retire from baseball at the end of the season. It is said that Cobb's injured knee will decrease his speed to such an extent that he will voluntarily withdraw from the pastime. Cobb will be thirty-four years of age next December, and he has been a member of the Detroit Tigers since 1904. He was purchased from Augusta Club for $700, and two years later became one of American League's star hitters.

For fifteen consecutive campaigns Cobb has batted better than .300, and two years ago the Detroit club announced that he wasn't for sale at any price. The Georgia Peach will do down in baseball history as the most scientific batsmen that ever played in the major league. He has drawn a salary of $20,000 annually since 1914, and is one of the wealthiest players in the profession.

ALL IS SERENE AGAIN AND KNOTTY RETURNS

Things Are Smoothed Over at Brantford and Lee Takes Charge Again.

BRANTFORD, July 22.—Geo. Lee, the pilot of the Brantford Red Sox, rejoined the team to-day. Knotty came back to Brantford and was waited upon by practically the whole team and asked to reconsider his determination to quit. The management also requested him to get over it. It was Lee's interest in the Brantford Club which led him to change his mind, as there were five players who boldly threatened that they would also quit the team if Lee retired.

Knotty figured it out that his resignation was not intended to hurt the Red Sox, as he had acted in a manner to his way of thinking, which would probably benefit the team for the drive to come. The action of the players, showing that harmony has always existed among the members of the club, really affected the pilot and he was glad this morning to announce that he would be out there again.

WARM SEND-OFF TO PETERBORO RUNNER

COUNCIL, BOARD OF TRADE AND ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION AT THE STATION.

The Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association, the civic authorities, the Board of Trade, and local sporting circles represented at the impromptu send-off to Albert Smoke, the Chemong member of the Canadian Olympic team at the C.P.R. station to-day at noon.

Dr. A. W. McPherson, president of the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association, Mayor McIntyre, Ald. Frank Whitehouse, representing the Board of Trade, all made short speeches of farewell to Smoke and wished him luck. Dan Whetung told several interesting stories of Smoke's early career. As the train pulled out the crowd gave three hearty cheers and a tiger for Smoke.

Some of those present to see Smoke off were: Mayor McIntyre, Ald. Copping, Ald. Jones, Ald. Hamilton, Ald. Phelan, Ald. Whitehouse, Ald. Morrison, City Clerk Armstrong, Rev. C. J. Phelan, Dr. McPherson, J. E. Sullivan, R. M. Blover, Leon Frazer, R. Denne, Edgar Worth, Charles Thorpe, who came second against Smoke three times in succession in the Examiner road race, Jake Solomon and Dan Whetung.

CRESSMAN'S WON FROM HASTINGS

HALF HOLIDAY TRIP PROVIDED INTERESTING GAME.

The Cressman Co. ball team motored to Hastings yesterday and recorded a victory in an interesting game with a picked team from the Hastings Town League, the score being 15 to 4. Cressmans hit the ball hard in the second innings and secured a lead that made them favorites throughout the remainder of the battle.

Hastings used three twirlers, S. Stevenson for two innings, S. Scriver for four innings, and E. Tait, who pitched the eighth innings. Ground conditions made hard hit balls difficult to handle, and Hastings fielders getting the most work to do, had a busy afternoon in their efforts to land put-outs. Stevenson and N. Scriver handled the ball well, the latter accepting twelve of fourteen(chances at first base. Gossien caught a splendid game for the homesters.

Leith Bartley fanned nine and restricted Hastings to six hits, all of them scattered. Cobb at third and DeGraw at first were the busy basemen with sixteen chances. Widdifield came out of retirement to enjoy the afternoon's trip, and working with the big mit, handled Bartley's shoots well, having ten put-outs, one a hard foul fly.

The Hastings rooters were enthusiastic and friendly, and gave the visiting team a good reception. The manager of the Enterprise Amusement Co. issued tickets to the winning team for the night performance.

The teams:

Hastings—N. Scriver 1b.; S. Scriver, p. s.s.; S. Stevenson, s.s., p., l.f.; W. Tait, 3b., c.f.; W. Sciver, r.f.; Gossein, c.; E. Tait, c.f., s.s., p.; Lemoire, 3b., c.f.; Richardson, 2b.

Cressmans—DeGraw, 1b.; Bartley, p.; Cobb, 3b.; Widdifield, c.; Graham, c.f.; Rutherford, l.f.; Hunter, s.s.; Whitlow, r.f.; Sage, 2b.

Score by innings:

Hastings	001102000—4
Cressmans	25005201x—15

REEVE COUGHLIN'S TEAM WON GAME

The Douro team mixed things up a bit in their game with Keene yesterday afternoon at Douro, by defeating the visitors by the score of 15 to 14. Cranley twirled for Douro and Paudash for Keene. Keene made a big attempt to turn defeat into victory in their last of the seventh, but The defeat sends Keene to third place, and blasts their hopes of the East Peterborough League championship.

The League standing is:—

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Lakefield	6	1	.857
Norwood	4	2	.667
Keene	4	3	.556
Douro	1	5	.167
Nassau	1	5	.167

THROWING THE DART.

Venice and Cork, For Different Reasons, Observe This Old Custom.

In widely differing communities—Venice and Cork—there obtains a curious ceremony, that of throwing the dart.

In the first case this is an ancient custom signifying the marriage of the Adriatic. Every year since 1177, on Ascension day, Venice has been made the bride of the sea, and the throwing of the dart is a picturesque feature of a picturesque ceremony.

Equally interesting are the circumstances attaching to the similar function on the first Thursday of September in Cork harbor, Ireland. By virtue of a clause in the city charter the mayor of Cork is constituted admiral of the port. Every three years he must evidence his jurisdiction by throwing a dart into the sea.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the mayor, the town council, all the civic officers and the band of the Cork civil artillery embark on a vessel and proceed to a point between Poor head and Cork head, which is held to be the maritime boundary of the borough. The mayor dons his official robes and, attended by the mace and sword bearer, the city treasurer and the town clerk, likewise wearing their official robes, goes to the prow of the vessel and launches into the sea a dart made of mahogany tipped and winged with bronze, in this way asserting his authority as lord high admiral of the port.

VENOMOUS SEA SNAKES.

Gaudy Colored Serpents of the Indian and Pacific Oceans.

Innumerable sea snakes, most of which are highly venomous, infest the waters of the Indian ocean and the western Pacific.

Nearly all of them differ from the land serpents by the laterally flattened and oarlike shape of the tail and also by the scales of the under surface of the body. When cast ashore accidentally the majority are quite helpless and soon die, for they are unadapted for getting about on land. Three species, however, differ from the majority of the sea snakes. One of the most common kind is a three foot snake that lives in the waters from the Bay of Bengal to Oceania. This species easily crawls on land and sometimes makes journeys of a considerable distance inland.

Most of the sea snakes have brilliant colorings. They feed on fish and other marine creatures and are extraordinarily active. In length they vary from about two feet to as much as ten or twelve feet. Sea snakes also differ from land snakes in the shortness of the tongue. In their natural element they thrust only the extreme tip of this organ through two small notches in the closed mouth. They have comparatively small nostrils, placed on top of the snout and furnished with a valve that opens to admit air and that closes to exclude water when the reptile is beneath the surface.

Silent Wisdom.

Keep still. When trouble is brewing, keep still. Even when slander is getting on his legs, keep still. When your feelings are hurt, keep still—till you recover from your excitement at any rate. Things look differently through an unagitated eye.

Dr. Burton relates how once in a commotion he wrote a letter and sent it and wished he had not. "In my later years," he said, "I had another commotion and wrote a long letter, but life had rubbed a little sense into me, and I kept that letter in my pocket against the day when I could look it over without agitation and without tears. I was glad I did. Less and less it seemed necessary to send it. I was not sure it would do any hurt, but in my doubtfulness I leaned to reticence, and eventually it was destroyed." Time works wonders. Wait till you can speak calmly, and then you will not need to speak, maybe.

Children's Prattle.

At times it cannot be denied the questions of children become irksome, but who would wish a child to ask no questions? Julius Sturm tells in one of his pretty fairy tales how a grandfather, driven into impatience by the constant questionings of his grandchild, exclaimed, "I wish your tongue were out of joint!" But when unexpectedly his wish was fulfilled and the child became dumb how he joyfully exchanged one of the two years which an angel had prophesied he was yet to live for the privilege of hearing the little one's prattle again!

A Bad Case.

The cynical man was staring through the window at the chesty man swinging down the street. "Does Chesty know anything?" asked his companion.

"Know anything!" said the cynical man. "He doesn't even suspect anything."

Wasted Energy.

It is none of our business, but it does seem that a porch climber wastes a lot of energy when he might just as well get in by a window on the first floor.

Love.

Love is the most powerful of spells. Every other species of sorcery must yield to it. There is but one power against which it is helpless. What is that? It is not fire; it is not water; it is not air; it is not the earth with all its metals. It is time

Men Experienced in Clothes Values Favor Semi-ready Suits

Men who have been buying clothes for years have always found Semi-ready foremost in quality, style, wearing service and value. Each generation passes the good word along to the next. That's why Semi-ready are equally proficient in styles for men and young men. That's why we show so many fine models for men of all ages in Tweeds, Serges, Worsteds and Palm Beach Suits.

We are entirely satisfied to accept very moderate prices all the year round. It seems to us to be a false policy to charge high prices at the beginning of a season in order to announce "sensational cuts" and "discounts" later on. If a dealer's prices are fair at all times, he is building a permanent business which is not affected by waves of price-cutting.

The Riders of the Plains

(1) A Royal Canadian Mounted Policeman rides well.
(2) A fully equipped Mounted Policeman.
(3) A Mounted Policeman in winter uniform.

The noble traditions and fascinating uniform of the Royal North-West Mounted Police are exclusively our own in Canada and it is fitting, in its re-organization, that it should be named the "Royal Canadian Mounted Police." The existence of tribes of wild Indians, the quarrels of the interior and the vast body of settlers coming in, led the late Sir John A. MacDonald to take possession of the great land by establishing the police in 1873. The aim was to have detachments of well armed and disciplined men, judiciously posted throughout central posts.

The first force consisted of 16 officers, 201 men and 244 horses. The troops travelled by way of Chicago to Fargo and marched across the plains. In 1874, three hundred police set out from Fort Garry for the junction of the Bow and Belly river and a portion was detached to Edmonton. An old trading centre, Fort Whoopup, near the present city of Lethbridge, was first reached. The second centre was an Old Man's river and Fort McLeod was established. The police found plenty of work with the whiskey traders and soon gained the respect of the settlers and even the Indians, for their fair treatment.

In 1874, a fort was established at Calgary. Colonel Jarvis with 40 men, had charge of Fort Edmonton, where a Hudson Bay fort had been established since 1795. In 1876, Fort Saskatchewan was built, twenty-six miles from Edmonton. There were 13 forts established by 1881. In 1882, a fort was built at "Pile of Bones," now Regina. The government buildings were soon erected and in 1883, it was made the head quarter of the force for Canada with Commissioner Perry in charge.

From 1874 until 1879, there was not a man molested or killed until Constable Greybourne was murdered by one of the Blood Indians. With the disappearance of the buffalo, there was almost famine among the Indians and the police had a great work in feeding many thousands. The Indians killed the settlers' cattle and so great did the evil become that many of the settlers moved across the boundary.

Early last year, the police force had fallen to about 500 men as the result of drafts for the various theatres of war. Enlistments since have brought it up and included is Dominion Police Force. Operations were extended to include British Columbia and various Eastern provinces. The latest post to be established is Barnard Harbor on Coronation Gulf. This copper mine district is important because of large developments. Herschel Island, guarding the Arctic board, is the most northerly patrol.

The air ship and airplane may be used in the long patrol of Canada's Northern Hinterland. The furthest patrol could be covered in 15 hours and it took the Klondyke gold seekers eighteen months.

His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales is now honorary commandant of the force which will be brought up to a strength of 2,500 men. The men of the force are usually men of superior education. They have always been of great physique, Parthian riders, unequalled scouts, accustomed to hardships and rough fare and schooled in all the arts of diplomacy. It has been truly said that "there is one thing on this planet longer than the equator and that is the arm of British justice, and the mounted police are the man who enforce it."—C. G.

KING OF SIAM SETS TORCH TO MOTHER

BANGKOK. — Maha Vajiravudh, King of Siam, personally put the torch to the pyre in which were the remains of the queen-mother, Sowayi Pongsi, who died last October.

It is remembered here that the King also applied the torch at the cremation of his father, King Chulalongkorn, in 1911.

The ceremony connected with the cremation of a royal personage in Siam is strange and impressive.

In the middle of a great open space is a high pyre of chosen, scented woods, guarded by soldiers says the London Daily Mail. On the pyre rests a magnificent casket, covered with gold in which are the dead personage's remains. Around the pyre a great crowd waits, quietly, thoughtfully, as is always the way on such a solemn occasion.

Everybody in Bangkok is there. Everybody is dressed in white, for the time of mourning is over. The people wear black for the dead until the day of cremation.

The King drives up escorted by his guards and followed by all the members of the Royal Family. His Majesty alights and the ceremony begins. Still the Buddhist priests pray on in words that most of the people do not understand.

The casket, which has been lifted on to the pyre by a crane, remains there guarded until the King's arrival. His coming is the signal for all the people to stand up. When the King sits down they follow his example—like so many automata. At last he rises by himself. An officer hands him a lighted torch. This he applies to the foot of the pyre, and the actual cremation is begun.

Next morning the King and the Royal Family go back to find the charred pyre still surrounded by the guards.

SKATING RINK MUST WAIT.

Kingston, Ont., July 22.—Athletic board of control of Queen's University announces its inability to erect a skating rink this summer owing to the fact that the bridge committees which have put in tenders are unable owing to transportation and material difficulties to guarantee the completion of the steel work until October 30. This means that it would be doubtful if carpenter and work of other trades could be done in time for the season's skating in 1920-21. It is the intention of the board of control to proceed with the erection of the new rink next spring.

RETURNING THANKS

The members of St. Peters Ladies Aid return their sincere thanks to all those who so splendidly responded to their appeal for refreshments for the lawn social at St. Vincent's Orphanage, and to those who attended in such large numbers.

They also extend their sincere thanks to the Salvation Army Band for their excellent programme of music, which was very favorably commented upon.

KINGSTON WOMAN ALL NIGHT ON LAKE IN GALE.

KINGSTON, July 23.—News was received here yesterday of the narrow escape from death of Mr. and Mrs. George Blakemore, formerly of Kingston, who, with a party of Waukegan, Wis., friends, were caught in a terrific gale on Lake Michigan last Sunday night in Mr. Blakemore's sailing yacht Mokali.

They had to run all night before the gale. The sail of the yacht was torn to shreds, and the rigging and the superstructure was smashed to pieces. The party was picked up by a life-saving crew and taken to Chicago.

Mrs. Blakemore was taken to hospital suffering from exposure and shock. Mr. Blakemore was formerly a photographer in Toronto, and his wife was Miss Jessie Hermiston, of Kingston.

OBITUARY

WM. ROWE

Wm. Rowe, an uncle of Mr. R. M. Beach of this city died in Toronto on July 20th aged 88 years. Deceased who had resided nearly all his life in Brockville, was reputed to have been the oldest surviving member of the I.O.O.F. in Canada he having joined Brock Lodge, Brockville, the oldest lodge in Ontario in 1857. He was the only surviving member of the old defiance No. 3 Volunteer Fire Company which in 1860 upon the occasion of the visit to Canada of King Edward (then the Prince of Wales), went to Montreal and in the water throwing competition won the two silver trumpets which are still displayed in the Central Fire Station at Brockville. From the I.O.O.F. Grand Lodge of Ontario he was in receipt of a diamond studded 50 year jewel and from his own subordinate lodge he received a gold medal in recognition of his long service. As a cornet player he was on duty with the band which received the first Grand Trunk Railway train to reach Brockville from Montreal in 1856.

A. R. ARMOUR.

The death occurred July 16, 1920, in Utica, N.Y., of Andrew Robinson Armour after a few days' illness. The deceased was born in Peterborough 60 years ago and went to Utica to live some time ago, where he resided until his death.

The late Mr. Armour was highly esteemed by all who knew him, both in Peterborough and in Utica, N.Y., and his death will be severely regretted.

He is survived by a sorrowing widow and one daughter, Blanche, four brothers, William of Detroit, Mich., John of New York, George L. of Peterborough, and Alexander of New York, also three sisters, Mrs. Wm. Lyons of Peterborough, Mrs. Thos. Kemp of Lindsay, and Mrs. Robt. Hart of New York.

The funeral took place on Monday afternoon from the family residence, 1004 Columbia street, to the Utica cemetery.

ADRIANOPLE IS REPORTED ABLAZE

(Canadian Press.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 23. — Airplanes report Adrianople is burning.

ATHENS, July 22 — An official communication issued by the Greek army in Thrace, made public to-day, says:

"Tuesday the enemy began to shell our bridgeheads from their defences at Luleburgas at 1.15 p.m., and at the same time opened fire on the Maritza road and the railroad bridge. Our artillery replied on the enemy positions at Luleburgas. A Greek airplane flew over the enemy's position but observed no troop movements. It returned after having dropped bombs on enemy batteries engaged in the bombardment which continued until 6.30 p.m. The Maritza bridges are intact.

"In the Karagach section the enemy began an action by infantry and a heavy artillery fire against our lines and the town of Karagach at 6.10 p.m."

WEDDING BELLS

STABLER—CROWE.

A quiet marriage was solemnized July 22nd, 1920 at 626 George street by Rev. S. Crookshanks, when Jennie Crowe became the wife of Henry C. Stabler, both of Peterborough. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Routley. They will reside in the city at 800 George street.

SAWERS—McMASTER.

Major Basil Sawers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Sawers, formerly of this city and now of Vancouver, was married in Holy Trinity church, London, England, on June 22 to Miss Hilda Virginia McMaster, daughter of Mr. Donald McMaster, K. C., a member of the Imperial Parliament for Surrey.

Major Sawers, who is a nephew of Mr. Gus Sawers of this city, received his earlier education in Peterborough and later became a mining engineer. He won considerable distinction in the late war, having won the Military Cross and two bars. He was one of three brothers, all of whom volunteered for service at the beginning of the war. One brother, Owen, was reported missing in 1915 and has never, since been heard of. The other, Captain Norman Sawers, was also a winner of the Military Cross. Since his return to Canada, Major Sawers has been engaged in mining engineering work in the interior of British Columbia.

Bride Has War Record.

The bride also has a good record of war services. She worked for four years in the Oxford General Hospital and became a member of the Territorial Nursing Service. She also worked for some time at the Y.M.C.A. Beaver Hut in the Strand, an institution well known to all Canadian soldiers. She was born in Montreal but was educated in England and has spent the greater part of her life here.

Major and Mrs. Sawers will spend a honeymoon on the Thames, returning to Canada by the Empress of France to reside at Comox street, Vancouver.

Guests at the wedding included Lady Strathcona, Sir Arthur and Lady Shirley Benn, Lady Drummont, Sir Gilbert Parker, Lieut. Col. Hamilton Gault, Lady Alexander Kennedy and Lady Mortimer Davis.

CANADA IS FOURTH IN THE TRAPSHOOTING.

ANTWERP, July 22. — Canada stood in fourth place at the close of the first day's team match in the Olympic trap-shooting competition, with a score of 351 out of a possible of 420.

The United States led to-day with 383, and the other scores were: Belgium 361, Sweden 355, Great Britain 343.

Holland, France, and Norway were eliminated after 300 targets had been shot.

The Canadians went in with the following team: Vance, Hamilton, Oliver, MacLaren, Beattie, and Montgomery. The finals of the team shoot will be held to-morrow, with the individual competition on Saturday.

Soviet to Confer on Armistice

NOTIFY ARMY COMMAND AND POLES OF READINESS TO NEGOTIATE AT ONCE—HAVE ADVANCED FURTHER.

CROSS THE NIEMEN

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, July 24.—The Soviet Government of Russia to-day notified Poland that the Soviet Army Command had been ordered to begin immediately negotiations far armistice in wireless despatch from Moscow to-day.

LONDON, July 24.—Private cables from Warsaw this morning say there is a strong report that Moscow has replied to Poland's representative for an armistice as follows: "We have directed our field command to arrange an immediate armistice with Poland".

Little Resistance Offered

WARSAW, July 24.—Having Grod no within their lines, the Bolsheviki have spread the tip of their right wing across the Niemen and into Poland proper. Driving down upon the Sokoloa region from the north the Reds have sent patrols towards East Prussia and are meeting with little if apy resistance.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, July 24.—The message, signed by Vassileff and Khvostchinsky for the chief headquarters staff and the Revolutionary Military Council, was sent to the higher military command in Warsaw marked "very urgent," and saying: "Supreme command of the Red Army has received the order of the Soviet Government to enter into negotiations with the Polish military command on questions of armistice and peace between Russia and Poland. The supreme command will send a representative furnished with full powers to a place which will be indicated to you, who will inform you of place and date when the Polish representatives were invited to attend."

EUROPE'S TROUBLES REACT ON MARKET

FOREIGN EXCHANGE GENERALLY WEAK—REVERSALS FOR MOTOR STOCKS.

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, July 24.— The stock market continued under professional guidance this week, shorts making further inroads against quoted values, mainly as a result of fresh complications in foreign situation. Latest conditions in Central Europe with special reference to Russo-Polish affairs, precipitated a general weakness in the foreign exchange market, rate for bills on London falling to the lowest price in over three months. Sympathetic declines were recorded by remittances to almost every continental European centre.

Domestic aspects of the financial and industrial situation were not materially allied, athough speculative interests professed to derive some encouragement from wage award of railway Labor Board and the likelihood of early action by Interstate Commerce Commission on the application of railway exercises for higher freight rates. Credit contraction made further headway, local money market being again bare of time funds, but call money was in free sound at average rate of 8 per cent. Interior banks continued to strengthen their resources against coming crop demands with resultant withdrawal of reserves at this centre. Rumours of over-production in automobile trade and affiliated branches met with reversals in the market.

BELL PHONE EXTENSIONS

$20,000 TO BE SPENT ON NEW UNDERGROUND WIRE CONDUIT —KEEPING APACE WITH CITY'S GROWTH.

PLANS FOR THE FUTURE

That the Bell Telephone is optimistic as to Peterborough's future is shown by the fact that they have started to lay an underground conduit on Aylmer street from Charlotte street, south to Townsend street, and on George street, from the C.P.R. station to Lansdowne street.

This work will augment the local construction for the month, as the estimated cost is $20,000.

Looking Ahead.

When asked for a reason for going to this expense without being requested to do so by the authorities, it was explained that the company, in order to keep abreast with the growth of the city and constantly give their subscribers the benefit of the best possible facilities for service, construction is always carried on in accordace with a development plan of fifteen years hence.

Keep Up to Date.

This plan is revised from time to time and kept up to date, and is not only of benefit to the company, but proves a great source of convenience to the civic authorities, particularly the Fire Department in plotting out future extensions to the fire alarm system to meet the city's growth.

Although the above is not considered a large job, nevertheless it will require 39,358 ft. or 7.45 miles of single duct.

Growth Steady.

While the growth of the local exchange has never been phenomenal like the city itself it has been steady. To-day there are 32,200 local stations, and Peterborough is the long distance toll centre for all the surrounding district, the toll lines all terminating on the Peterborough switchboard, which gives a direct benefit to the Peterborough subscribers. For instance there are six direct lines between Peterborough and Toronto alone, not to speak of the alternate routings.

To operate the local exchange requires a permanent staff of 88 people, composed of 45 girls and 43 men.

CHAUTAUQUA TICKETS SELLING RAPIDLY

The sale of season tickets for the summer Chautauqua opened this week, and there is every prospect of the full number being sold before the opening day.

These tickets which entitle the holder to six evenings, and five afternoon performances, cost $2.50, plus 25c. war tax.

Children's tickets, which admit children to junior Chautauqua for six mornings, also to afternoon or evening entertainments, are $1.25 each, plus 10c. war tax.

As single admission tickets for afternoon performances are 50c., and for evening, 75c. plus war tax each time, the advantage of the season ticket is easily seen.

These tickets are for sale at the following stores: McDermid & Jury's, Payne's, Kent's, Madill's, Lynch's, Webber's.

They can also be obtained from members of the committee, or by telephoning 1095J, 515J, or 692.

Copies of Chautauqua News, containing all information as to artists, speakers, date, etc, are available in a number of shops, and advertising matter is in shop windows on George and Charlotte streets.

EUROPEAN AIR SERVICE FOR DOMINION EXPRESS CO.

Announcement is made by Mr. J. R. Martin, Manager of the Foreign Department of the Dominion Express Company, that the Company, in conjunction with Aircraft Transport and Travel Ltd., has inaugurated a Continental Aerial Service, twice daily from London to Paris and triweekly between London and Amsterdam.

Parcels for Canada from Paris can leave Paris a day before the steamer leaves Liverpool, thus saving a lot of time. The service furnished by the Dominion Express Company in conjunction with Aircraft Transport and Travel Ltd., is greatly appreciated by business men, not only for the rapidity with which passengers can thereby reach Paris, but also for the excellent parcel service provided.

FREIGHT HANDLERS SATISFIED WITH RAILWAY BOARD AWARD

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, July 24.—Declaring that the "small wages paid to railway employees had affected the general efficiency in the last year or so," Secretary James E. Miller, of the International Brotherhood of Freight Handlers and Station Employees told The Examiner to-day that the local Brotherhood would accept the recent award of the American Railway Board.

"So far as the Canadian situation is concerned," said Mr. Miller, "I can say now that nearly all the conditions we asked the companies have been agreed to. When it came to wages, however, the companies requested the Brotherhoods to leave the matter until such time as the award had been made in the United States. The award gives our men an increase of from $25.00 to $26.00 a month, and a 48-hour arrangement for each week," announced the Secretary of the Freight Handlers.

"So far is our Brotherhood is concerned, we consider it fair and satisfactory, and it will be accepted because it is approximately what we have been asking for."

"DEFEAT BRIDGE BY-LAW"

ALL THE MONEY GONE AND NO WRITTEN GUARANTEE NOW OF COST TO FINISH THE BRIDGE—REASONS FOR VOTING AGAINST THE $100,000 BY-LAW ON FRIDAY, JULY 30TH, AND REMEDY PROPOSED BY MR. R. R. HALL.

These are some of the many reasons why the Hunter Street Bridge By-law should be defeated. It is better to have a Black Friday for Engineer Barber, than needlessly to increase our tax bills for twenty years through his mistaken estimates.

ALL MONEY GONE—NO BRIDGE.

1. Engineer Barber estimated that the Hunter Street Bridge and approaches could be erected for $260,000, and now we find $273,000 has already been spent, and still there is not the sign of a bridge across the river—even the approaches are not completed.

2. The electors only authorized the Council to expend $260,000 to build and complete the Hunter Street Bridge, and now we find, under Engineer Barber, the Council have been manoeuvred into expending $13,000 more than was authorized by the electors.

3. Engineer Barber and the Council were warned before work was begun, that the Barber Bridge and Monument, as originally designed, could not be built and completed for $260,000. The Engineer thereupon changed his plans by narrowing the width of the Bridge and its approaches, and yet with still more warning, and with narrower approaches, all the $260,000 has been spent, and the Bridge across the river is still to be constructed.

BREACHES OF TRUST.

4. Engineer Barber must know that it is a breach of trust for a Council to incur any debt that is not authorised by law, and the debt that is now being incurred in continuing the work is neither authorised by law nor by the electors, and it is a gross breach of trust to have it incurred. Yes! And work is being done, the by-law does not even authorise.

5. The Council has no power to either borrow from the city's bankers or to tax the ratepayers for the money they are illegally expending. Indeed, any banker is assuming a great risk in lending money to the Council to assist in the commission of a breach of trust or an illegal act.

DEFIES BARBER TO GUARANTEE COST.

6. Not even Engineer Barber and the Russell-Townsend Co. will now guarantee in writing that this Bridge can be completed for $100,000. I defy them to put such a guarantee in writing, acceptable to the City Solicitor or to any other independent reputable solicitors.

7. If such a guarantee, properly drawn, is not deposited with the City Clerk by Engineer Barber and the Russell-Townsend Co. two days before polling day, then the ratepayers may be assured that $100,000 will not complete the Bridge, and the By-law should be defeated and denounced as a humbug.

8. Every person wants a Bridge, but the electors want to know what it will cost to complete and be assured if the present plans are carried out there will be another call for another $100,000, and probably still another.

VOTE AGAINST HUMBUG.

9. It is the plain duty of the electors to vote against this $100,000 By-law, because by so doing they mark their stamp of disapproval on a policy of blundering and humbug, whose authors seek, through vain conceit, to erect the greatest monument in the world at the expense of every taxpayer in this city.

OTHER PUBLIC WORKS NEGLECTED.

10. Every dollar unnecessarily spent in this Barber Monument means that other public works will be neglected. There are three apparent examples: Outside of our main streets, our Electric City is more poorly lighted than an ordinary country village far removed from water power. Our streets are full of holes and ruts, strangely like a corduroy road through a country swamp. Our sewage is dumped into the river, regardless of the law that makes it a criminal offence, and of the health of the community.

11. A vote against this By-law will mean a vote of want of confidence in Engineer Barber, and a vote for the By-law will mean that the electors rejoice to see their taxes go on merrily rolling up.

12. The Barber Bridge is an experiment in a country subjected to extremes of heat and cold. If it falls, then there is a dam across the river, loss of life, destruction of property, loss and damage claims, a new bridge, more expense, more taxes.

WHAT IS THE REMEDY?

(a) Vote against the $100,000 By-law next Friday.
(b) Cancel the contracts with Engineer Barber and Russell-Townsend Co. The funds voted to pay them are all spent, and there are no funds available to pay them any more for damages or otherwise for an alleged breach of contract that some aldermen pretend to fear.
(c) Engage a new Engineer. Let him immediately prepare plans, specifications, and estimates to complete the Bridge—a steel bridge, or a concrete arch, whichever is the more serviceable, safer, and economical. It may mean a few weeks' delay, but it will mean a speedier and more economic completion.
(d) Let the new Engineer then tell the taxpayers what it will cost to complete the Bridge by skilled contractors, and then I believe the electors will vote the necessary money to immediately complete the Bridge in a business-like way, and will know in advance what it's completion will cost.

CONFESSION OF MURDER

ARNOLD LOVE SAID TO HAVE ADMITTED GUILT OF CRIME FOR WHICH HIS FATHER WAS HANGED.

POLICE SKEPTICAL

(Canadian Press)

OWEN SOUND, July 24.—That he had murdered his mother, for which crime his father, Henry Love, was convicted and hanged here on May 27, 1913, is said to be the confession made by 22-year-old Arnold Love, who is in custody in Toronto. An awakened conscience, resulting from his attendance at a series of revival meetings held by an evangelist at Priceville village, is said to have prompted the confession. First young Love is said to have confessed his revolting crime to a minister, who advised his going to Toronto. In Toronto he is said to have confessed to some one in the Attorney-General's Department in the presence of two witnesses, both of Grey County.

Following the alleged confession to Rev Mr. Sharpe, the evangelist, and Rev. Mr. McCarden, Methodist minister of Priceville, the boy came to Toronto, accompanied by the two ministers.

Authorities Dubious.

TORONTO, July 24.—It is understood that the statement made by Arnold Love is not thoroughly credited by the attorney-general's office, which is investigating the whole matter. Pending the result of these investigations, the boy is being kept under close supervision. It is stated that there are some doubts as to the soundness of the young man's mind, while the evidence on which the father, Henry Love, was convicted was largely circumstantial. He made a statement on the scaffold which was taken as tantamount to confession.

THE EVANGELIST'S STORY OF LOVE'S CONFESSION

(Special to The Examiner)

TORONTO, July 24.—Rev. G. N. Sharpe, the evangelist, to whom Arnold Love made the startling confession that he murdered his mother seven years ago and permitted his father to hang for the crime, was at the Iroquois Hotel, Toronto, this morning, and told the sensational story of the confession. It is a story without precedent in the annals of Canadian criminal history.

The murder was committed seven years ago near Flesherton in Grey County, when young Arnold Love was a boy of fifteen. Carried away by religious fervor, he now makes the startling admission that he is the person who killed his mother.

"Her blood is on my hands," he told the evangelist.

"On the last night of the revival meetings a young man called me up," said Mr. Sharpe. "He said he had come to the meeting and was converted and talked about wanting to make a confession.

"I said, 'Well, perhaps you should and perhaps you should not. There are some things which should and others which should not be confessed.' I said if you have wronged anybody you ought to make it right. I did not coax it out of him at all."

"But," he said, "well, I have been an awful sinner, Mr. Sharpe, and I want you to pray for me."

I did not know then the young man's name or anything about him. He said: "I feel my own mother's blood lies on me."

I asked in what way. "Well," he said, "I guess I struck the fatal blow and killed my mother."

That was about all he said to me that night. I had an interview with him several days after. He said he felt that he would like to come right out and confess and give himself up. I then came down to Toronto, a week ago last Tuesday, and had an interview with the attorney-general without any names.

Reported to be Love.

The prevailing impression around Love's home is that the young man came down to Toronto this week, made his confession, and placed himself in the hands of Detective Greer, and that subsequently he was brought back to the Owen Sound jail by Detective Stringer. A report is also circulated that Mr. H. H. Dewart, K.C., has been requested to look after Love's interests, following, representations by Rev. J. McCarten, pastor of the Priceville Methodist Church, and Rev. Mr. Sharpe. Love, the self-confessed murderer, is reported to be quite sane but somewhat under-developed mentally and had never been to Toronto, nor had never ridden in a street car or an elevator.

25,000 Illinois Miners Idle, Diminishing Coal Production Serious

REINFORCEMENTS SENT TO BELFAST

INCENDIARISM ONE OF WORST PHASES OF DISASTROUS RIOTING.

(Special to The Examiner.)

LONDON, July 24.—Following an eight-hour Cabinet meeting, it was reported to-day that the Government had decided to send heavy reinforcements to Belfast to stop the rioting there.

It was understood that the military authorities would be given full authority to deal with the situation.

Reports reaching here indicated that Belfast was still in turmoil. It was feared the list of casualties would be increased to-day.

Incendiarism is one of the worst phases of the trouble, as many persons were made homeless by the burning of their homes.

Three attempts were made to burn the telephone exchange at Belfast. The police were said to have raided the town of Leaf, wrecking the Town Hall and several houses.

STRIKES FOR HIGHER WAGES ARE UNAUTHORIZED—UNION OFFICIALS POWERLESS TO PREVENT THEM—APPEAL TO WILSON.

OTHER MINES ON MONDAY

CHICAGO, July 24.—Nearly half the coal mines in Illinois are closed down as a result of unauthorised strikes which have rendered at least 25,000 miners idle. Coal production is sadly crippled and President Wilson has been appealed to by the operators in the hope that he may find some means of relieving the situation. The strikers are day labour employees who have staged sporadic strikes for two or three weeks. They are asking wage increases of $1.50 to $2.50 a day.

President Frank Farrington, of the Mine Workers' Union, expressed the fear that all the mines in Illinois would be closed down by Monday. He said union officials had been powerless to prevent the walkout.

A committee of operators, composed of Dr. F. C. Honnold, E. C. Searles, Herman C. Perry, F. S. Phahler, and H. C. Adams, made their plea to President Wilson through Secretary Tumulty. The members visited Secretary Tumulty because they were not sure with whom the miners' wage question should be discussed.

Operators Friendly.

The operators have been following the Government contract with the mine workers, the contract being made by the Bituminous Wage Commission to run until 1923. According to reports, the operators are not disinclined to grant a higher wage, but feel the Government should initiate any action.

Reports reaching Belleville, Ill., state that about twenty shafts are affected in Franklin County, including the large Middle Fork Mine at Benton. Four are idle at Collinsville, One at Prairieville, and one at Edwardsville. Some mines in other sections of the southern half of the State are reported to be working with barely enough men to keep the shafts operating.

At Springfield, Mr. Farrington, in declaring his belief that all the mines in the State would be closed by Monday, said he had received reports that between 25,000 and 30,000 mine workers were already idle.

THREE YEARS AT JOB NOTHING DONE YET

LOOKS AS THOUGH DOWNIE CREEK NUISANCE MAY BE REMEDIED AT LAST.

Ald. Jones drew the Board of Works' attention last night to the unsafe condition of the creek south of McDonald street, adjacent to Wm. Hamilton Co.'s factory. Some covering planks are broken, leaving an aperture through which any person might fall into the creek.

This creek (or drain) has concrete sides and bottom, and the City engineer reports that it would cost considerable to do the work there actually needed. It runs through the Wm. Hamilton property, and doubt exists as to who really now owns this drain, which was constructed by the late Wm. Hamilton Co. years ago. There is no real public right-of-way at this spot, which is merely a short cut to the factory premises.

On motion of Ald. Hamilton this matter was left with City Engineer Parsons to fix the covering in the best way he can.

An Old Question.

The Mayor was insistent that steps be taken to prevent the periodical flooding by Downie street creek of properties adjacent thereto.

Ald. Jones—"We have been going to do this for three years now and its high time some effective action was taken."

The major portion of this creek runs through private property to which the city must have access before accomplishing much improvement. The authorities have a right-of-way from two or three property owners, and there is now on file from Police Magistrate Dumble an agreement under which the city can make improvements to the creek where it runs through his property. This proposition was sent to the City Solicitor.

The Board of Works seems determined to clean out thoroughly this creek, and end effectively if possible a long-standing nuisance.

LIQUOR SALES DECLNE

British Columbia Cities Show Effect of Prohibition Amendments.

(Canadian Press.)

VICTORIA, B.C., July 24.—The effect of the amendments to the British Columbia Prohibition act have had upon the sale of liquor at various official vending stores is reflected in returns for the month of June given out by the prohibition commissioner, which shows a decided drop.

During the month sales in Vancouver amounted to $12,557, as compared with $114,225 for the preceding month. In Victoria liquor to the value of $4,244 was sold by the vendor in honoring medical prescriptions as against $26,705 in May. Similar results are shown in other towns and cities of the province.

HEALTH AND HOUSE SCREENS

One Effective Way to Foil the Flies and Mosquitoes.

It is a duty to protect the health of the home and to fight any peril that may menace it. You may have doubts or become discouraged when it comes to cleaning up and keeping so clean that you won't have flies, or when you try to keep them down by poisoning or trapping, but there's one means of protecting yourself against flies that is safe and effective. This is thorough screening. Doors, windows and porches, upstairs and downstairs, should be thoroughly screened in summer for the comfort of the home and the health of the family. Mosquitoes are a health menace as well as flies, and thorough screening protects against both.

A few years ago screening was considered almost as ineffective as a means of protecting against flies as poisoning, disinfecting and a few feeble efforts at cleaning up. None of these methods prohibited flies. They apparently continued to come in their usual large number. But the trouble was we did not know how to properly use screens. Then only the kitchen and dining room doors and windows were screened, while the doors and windows of the other part of the house were left unprotected.

Later we found that not only all the openings to the house must have screens in them, but that they must fit and be made so fly tight that no fly could enter. This was found more effective. But not until the porches were screened, particularly the back porch, where most of the food was handled, did we come to know the real safety and comfort that lay behind screened doors, windows and porches.—Exchange.

A ROMANCE OF TRADE.

The Start and Rise of the Famous Krupp Gun Works.

The famous cannon foundry of Krupp, at Essen, was established in 1811 by Frederick Krupp, who abandoned a successful grocery business at the instigation of two brothers named Von Kechel in order to devote himself to the manufacture of cast steel.

The process was then unknown in Germany, and the article itself went under the name of "English steel" because it was imported from England. Krupp had money, and the Kechels had of pretended to have technical knowledge. The firm started its operations in an old water power mill at Altenessen. The experiments of the Von Kechels were unsuccessful. For nearly two years they did their best, but all their efforts to produce "English steel" failed. In the end Krupp decided to get rid of them after having spent one-half of his fortune in experiments and took over the management of the work himself.

For a long time he had no luck, and it was only after some years of disappointment and labor that a satisfactory metal was produced. It was under his son Alfred that the business first really began to flourish. Its exhibit at the London exposition of 1851 revealed to the world that a little known German firm was producing iron and steel that could not be bettered by the industry of any other country. Orders from the Prussian government followed, and the name and fortune of the firm were made.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

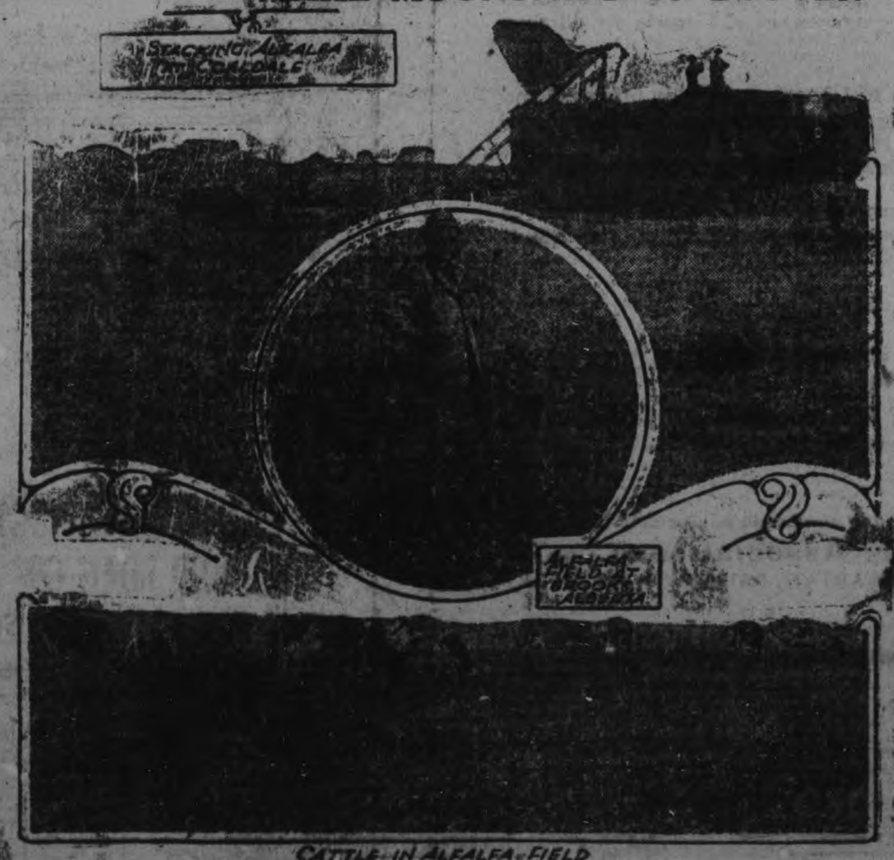
GRASSES OF CANADIAN PRAIRIES MAKE MOUNTAINS OF BUTTER



CATTLE IN ALFALFA FIELD

Alberta in 1920 is contributing its share to the butter output of Canada. Last year [illegible] million pounds of butter [illegible] into the butter-making products. The quality of this butter was unquestionable as testified by the fact that Alberta captured all the first three prizes for butter at the recent National Dairy Congress exhibition held at Winnipeg. Alberta's butter output increased during the past four years almost 40% in volume and over 125% in value.

There are 50 co-operative creameries in the province, all community owned and operated, and 12 privately owned and operated. In addition to these there are in the larger provinces, following close on the heels of grain growing and stock raising. Mixed farming has been strongly advocated to Canadian farmers and they have seen its advantages. Today it is generally practised. If a crop fails, disaster is not the result, there is always plenty of grazing and fodder to insure the weekly cream check for the man with a dairy herd. The progress of the dairying industry has been very much helped by the increased cultivation in irrigated territories. Alfalfa is the greatest fodder yet discovered for dairy cattle, and is bringing wonderful prosperity to districts such as Coaldale and Brooks.

Alberta centers, such as Calgary, Edmonton, [illegible] and Medicine Hat, large [illegible] creameries or dairies. These operate collection branches or cream-receiving stations along the railway lines.

Cheese making has become a considerable industry too, but does not keep pace in growth with the butter industry, as farmers generally prefer to sell their cream and feed the milk by-product to growing stock. Eleven cheese factories are in operation in the province and turned out in 1920 a half million pounds valued at $180,000.

Dairying is fast becoming one of the big industries of the prairie provinces.

"VOTE FOR BRIDGE BY-LAW"

MAYOR M'INTYRE AND ALD. HAMILTON POINT OUT THAT UNCERTAIN ASPECTS OF CONSTRUCTION HAVE BEEN OVERCOME—APPROACHES BUILT FOR SINGLE CONCRETE ARCH—SAY CHEAPEST WAY IS TO CARRY ON.

To the Editor of The Examiner.
DearSir,

We wish, with your permission, to make some observations regarding the Bridge Debenture By-law to be voted upon on 30th July. Explanations were given in the Council when it was decided to submit the By-law, but it may not be amiss to repeat them and to add to them.

The estimate made of the amount required, after 1st July last, to complete the bridge was $150,049.00. On these figures the engineer and the contractors practically agree, for the contractors' estimate of the amount required for material and labour, with the engineering and other expenses not included in material and labour added, bring the two estimates close to the same figure. It is on this estimate that the amount of $100,000.00 placed in the By-law was arrived at.

This estimate should be, and no doubt is, a correct one. The circumstances now differ greatly from what they were when the first estimate was made at the time the contract was let. At that time the estimates were based on the borings which had been made to get the depths of the excavations for the piers and on the costs of materials and rates of wages prevailing. The borings were found to be misleading, and the cost of material and labour advanced, and these added to the cost of the structure over the estimate which had been made.

UNCERTAIN ELEMENTS OVERCOME.

But now the depths have been definitely ascertained, for the excavations for the piers have been made, most of them completed, and the concrete work partly completed in the others, and there is nothing now below the ground or not in view to prevent a correct estimate being made. And the rates of wages for this year have been fixed, so that there should be no unforseen expense on this account. Thus the two things which are so largely responsible for the cost exceeding the first estimate will not arise again, and, as we have said, the present estimate should be, and no doubt is, correct.

THE CONTRACTORS' FEES.

There has been, with some ratepayers, a misunderstanding in regard to the terms of the contract with the Russell-Townsend Co. They are not paid a percentage of the cost, but the terms made with them, whether they were wise or not, are that they receive a lump sum for their services. It is not at all in their interest that the cost of the work should be added to, for their pay was fixed from the beginning, and it is in their interest to push the work forward as speedily as possible, for the sooner it is completed the more quickly they will earn their money.

If there should be no unusual delay in the arrival of material, the Bridge, the contractors assure us, will be so far completed that it will be open for traffic by 1st December next.

A PRESENT, NOT PAST, PROBLEM.

The question of substituting a steel structure for the concrete arch over the river has again been raisgd. We do not desire, at the present time at any rate, to discuss what might have been done. That will not assist in arriving at a conclusion as to what should now be done. The matter must be considered from the present condition of the work.

APPROACHES BUILT FOR CONCRETE BRIDGE.

The approaches have been designed and constructed for a concrete arch over the river, and they are not such as would be required for a steel girder or truss bridge, for they are designed to receive the thrust of the arch, and not the downward pressure of a girder bridge. It would not be practicable to construct a steel girder bridge with the present work which has been done. A steel arch bridge over the river would be more expensive, especially because so much work has been completed for constructing the concrete arch. The piling is all in place, and most of the material for the work is on hand, and for this reason, even if for no other, a change to a steel arch would be expensive and unwise. It must be remembered, too, that the regulations for navigation had to be complied with, and required a clearance for 100 feet of the regulation height.

The amount asked for is $100,000.00 This will require an annual levy of $9668.18 to provide interest and sinking fund, and the rate for that amount will mean, on the basis of the assessment for this year, 70 cents on each $1,000.00 of assessment.

The City is committed to agreements respecting the bridge. The ratepayers authorised the agreement with the Quaker Oats Co. that the high level bridge would be built. It is costing more than was anticipated, owing to changed conditions, but the agreement stands. There is also the agreement with the contractors, and its terms, so far as they are concerned, must be carried out. It is easy to talk about throwing agreements aside, but to do so means more expense, and it is wasteful expense when nothing is saved to offset it.

WHAT IS CHEAPEST WAY TO FINISH IT?

Every reasonable person will agree that the bridge must be completed. The unfinished structure cannot be permitted to remain as it is. The only question is, what is the best and cheapest way to complete it??

For the reasons given, we believe the best and the cheapest way to complete the bridge is to carry out the work on the lines designed and to finish the concrete arch over the river. And consequently we believe that the By-law should be carried in order to enable this to be done.

Yours truly,

A. A. McINTYRE, Mayor.
JAS. HAMILTON,
Chairman Special Bridge Committee.

PASSING OF THE PICTURE POST CARD

For every ten picture post cards we used to sell we are now selling one, several of the merchants carrying cards stated to-day. This fact they laid at the door of the high rate of mailing cards, which has doubled, and brings the cost of such correspondence up to the price of mailing a letter, to many more storekeepers keeping cards when the trade lay almost entirely with the book sellers a few years ago, and to the fact tha most amateur photographers are now printing their own cards.

Time was, one business man said, when every traveller who entered the city bought up picture cards wholesale to send home and in those days as well as to-day parks were first choice, streets the second in demand, and churches last. To-day, however, a casual visitor buys one card, informs the people at home the town is "a pretty place", and trusts to letters for the balance of his correspondence The popularity of comic cards informing the receiver that if she were here the sender woul d" have the world with a fence around it" has waned almost to nothingness while those of the vulgar variety are out of date, and properly so.

At the Post Office

Inquiry at the Post Office found that the number of picture post cards coming into the city has not dropped off, but to the contrary has increased during the last few years. Of course during the period between the signing of the armistice and the return of troops from overseas the number coming into the city was unusually heavy, as Tommy had to drop a picture of every building, park and town he visited, and at all times had the photo heavily crossed, indicating the "place, he was standing this morning" or "the room in the building in which he was sleeping."

During the summer, at Christmas time, and at Easter, naturally the number of incoming and outgoing cards is very heavy, increasing from the regular 200 daily to two and three times that number. In one day this week 50 post cards were sent to the city of Victoria alone.

Dead Letters

Each day from six to ten letters and post cards are dropped into the post office minus the necessary postage, and a few of Peterboro people seem able or inclined to cultivate the very necessary habit of affixing their address to the outside of the letter, or to the post card, the mail is sent to the dead letter office to be perused by some cold-hearted office clerk in sarch of some clue to the sender in order that the letter may be returned. The mere affixing of the senders address saves much delay, embarassment and trouble. Very few unaddressed mail is sent to the post office.

Few Parcels

The number of overseas bound parcels is decreasing daily, since the close of war, and only a small fraction of the number of parcels sent two years ago leave the city for England. While no very close examination is made of the declaration on the parcels, most of the packags contain food, principally sweet stuffs and clothing.

U.S. CANNOT DISPLACE ENGLAND

Otto H. Kahn the well known New York banker, has recently returned from an extended trip through Europe and has given an interview to the New York Journal of Commerce, outlining the European financial position as he judged it to be. Mr. Kahn characterized the statement that America would replace Britain as the world's financial centre as piffle, and stated that while he was willing to admit the good position that America undoubtedly would be able to assume, he did not believe that the financial prestige of Great Britain could be wrested from her. Mr. Kahn found the people of England busy and prosperous, and expressed the opinion that the acute problems and difficulties of the post-war situation either have been dealtwith, or the assured prediction is justified that they will be overcome. He said: "They have overcome in the main in England. The spirit of wise yet daring enterprise which is traditional of England ,the experience, insight and financial skill gained in the course of centuries, her wonderful perfected machinery for international trade, her old-time prestige based upon the justly earned reputation for fair and honest trading, her resolute and clear recognition and pursuance of the facts, her governmental methods of fostering trade and co-operating with commercial interests—all these and other elements have been effective toward her recovery of her old-time position. She is prosperous, and she is going ahead apace. Throughout the world, her far flung activities are in full swing. If anything, rather too much may possibly have been attempted too quickly ,and too great a strain may have been put upon England's current resources, which may lead to a reaction. But, if so, I am convinced that it will be temporary."

Mr. Kahn in speaking of France, says that she is far harder at work than she is generally given credit for. Allowing for the tremendous losses, sacrifices and suffering which she has undergone, and the disorganization attending the war of four and a half years' duration on her soil, she has done remarkably well in reviving her industries. Speaking of taxation in France, he says: "It is not fair to expect that France, invaded, devastated, largely prevented from entering into the world's commerce during the war, and deprived of some of her best provinces, should have taxed herself while the war lasted as America and Great Britain taxed themselves. She is taxing herself now (by wiser methods than ours), to the full extent needed to meet her budget, outside, of course, of the expense of reconstructing the devastated regions, (which expense should not and could not be met by taxation."

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

SATURDAY, JULY 24TH, 1920.

STREET NAMES.

An old resident of Peterborough paying a visit here after a long absence, sees much to admire in the city and notes with approval the progress that has been made in various directions but in one respect and a very important one from the viewpoint of visitors he finds Peterborough lacking, i.e., in the matter of markers showing the names of the streets. It is difficult for strangers, especially motorists, to locate the various thoroughfares because the majority of the name signs which formerly were located at the street intersections have disappeared. It is true that the names are stamped into the pavements, but these cannot be easily read by motorists, and in the winter when the snow covers the sidewalks they are invisible to everybody. At various times the Council has considered this matter and has been unanimous in the opinion that new name plates should be erected, but it has invariably happened that the question has been allowed to drift along until eventually it has been forgotten. It is probably too late this year to accomplish anything along this line, but the Council might keep it in mind as a civic improvement that should be taken care of in next year's appropriations.

PARKING FACILITIES.

The announcement from the market clerk that beginning from to-day he intends to collect a toll from the owners of all motor cars parked on the market square, draws attention to the fact that Peterborough is very much behind the times in the matter of parking facilities. Although civic by-laws prevent cars from being left on the business streets for any considerable length of time and motorists who infringe upon this regulation are liable to be haled into court and fined, yet the city has utterly failed to provide any place in which cars can be stationed. Hitherto the market square has been available for this purpose and has been free to motorists, except on the two market days, Wednesday and Saturday. Now the clerk proposes to collect tolls on the other days of the week. Leaving to one side the legality of this action on the part of the clerk, there is no question that in a city as big as Peterborough it is an imposition that there are no parking facilities available. The Council considered this matter some months ago, but no action was taken. In view of the new developments the aldermen might do well to re-open the question and try to suggest a remedy.

FARMERS AND LABOUR.

The official bulletins promulgated by J. J. Morrison, secretary of the United Farmers of Ontario, may have some effect upon the local situation as regards the deadlock between the Farmer and Labour interests over the selection of a candidate for the coming by-election. As intimated yesterday there has not been the closest harmony between the two factions, the Farmers holding out for a farmer candidate and the Labour party just as stouty insisting that a labour standard bearer should be chosen. Secretary Morrison's memorandum suggests the holding of joint conventions in urban-rural ridings such as West Peterborough at which a candidate suitable to both bodies could be placed in the field, and doubtless this advice will be acted upon. If there is to be a joint candidate, however, one party or the other will have to back down from its present stand, and there is no indication that either the United Farmers or the Independent Labour party are in a mood to accept a compromise. However, the get-togther convention suggested by the Farmers' secretary may perhaps clear the air and result in one candidate being decided upon.

ILL-ADVISED PROPAGANDA.

If Premier Drury, J. J. Morrison, et al., wish to preserve that respect which the Farmers' Government has gained through its record in Queen's Park, they would be well advised, to place a check rein upon some of the platform speakers and organizers who are touring the country under the U.F.O. standard, says the Oshawa Reformer.

Ontario has taken quite kindly to the administration the Druy Government since its inception of office. If, however, its future programme is to be in conformity with the extravagant utterances of some of its supporters it is scarcely likely that there will be a continuance of this good feeling.

In the County of Frontenac a woman has been advising the farmers to give the preference, wherever possible, to goods of United States manufacture; in the county of Leeds there is the spectacle of a gentleman styled an organizer and a member of the U. F.O. executive, who has been declaring that it would be better if rural hoe were without children than that they should be brought into the world to become residents of urban centres.

These are instances of the dangerous gospel which is being preached (one can hardly believe with the sanction of the U.F.O. executive) by persons of the U.F.O. Acceptance of this advice could be of no possible benefit to the country at large and might, (if indeed there are those who possess so little reasoning as to act upon it) conceivably be of the utmost detriment. Without a home market Canadian industries could not hope to succeed. It seems hard to believe that the other amazing statement could have been made seriously; the fallacy of this reasoning is so apparent as to provoke amusement rather than remonstrance.

In just such utterances is the germ of mischief bred. It cannot be said that in advancing such doctrines the U.F.O. is adhering to its avowed policy of non-class or non-sectional legislation. Nor can the U.F.O. hope by such means to gain the good-will of those whose friendship will do the most to advance its interests.

BRITISH FINANCES.

Mr. Austen Chamberlain, the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, in his annual budget speech last April, promised Parliament that during the coming year he would change the national deficit of over a billion dollars to a surplus of over a billion dollars. "This is a critical budget," he declared. "We must set our house in order."

Since the day of this speech three months have passed and the official financial returns for the first quarter of the new fiscal year, which have just been received, go far to indicate that the British Chancellor is keeping his promise. So far as revenue returns may be an indication, his financial programme for 1920-21 appears to be aking satisfactory progress.

Total revenue for the first quarter of the current fiscal year, ending June 30, amounted to $1,531,000,000. The expenditures were $1,584,000,000, leaving a surplus of $147,000,000, figured in par of exchange.

The significance of current returns is apparent when contrasted with the British budget problems as summarized in a study of "English Public Finance" by the Bankers Trust Company of New York.

"The estimates for the current year to March 31, 1921," says the study, "contemplate a total expenditure of $5,754,000,000 and receipts of $6,891,000,000. The budget provides for expenses $2,341,000,000 less than than the actual expenses of last year and for an estimated increase in revenue from all sources, except borrowing, of about $383,000,000, or an improved status of the finances as compared with the past year of $2,724,000,000.

"Therefore, while the financing of the past year resulted in a deficit of $1,587,000,000, most of which had to be made by new borrowing, it is expected that in the current year there will be a surplus of about $1,137,000,000 which can be applied to a reduction of indebtedness."

Current revenue returns show that reduction of expenditure which is to do most toward providing the expected surplus for debt reduction, has been begun. In the first quarter of the present fiscal year the expenditures were cut $566,000,000 below the amount expended in the corresponding quarter of last year. This rate of reduction maintained in the succeeding quarters would practically effect the total reduction of more than 2,000,000,000 aimed at by the Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Taxation receipts, except for a full years, are not altogether adequate for purposes of comparison. However, between March 31 and June 30 for the present year the revenue from this source was $132,000,000 in excess of revenue from taxation during the corresponding period of 1919. This is well in the direction of providing the additional $383,000,000 from taxation desired by the Chancellor.

While borrowing by sales of Treasury bills and Ways and Means advances has continued during the last three months, redemptions have more than balanced the amount realized by these transactions. The net result has been a reduction of $89,500,000 in the floating debt during the quarter.

England's funded and unfunded debt on December 31, 1919, due for payment within the present year is shown by the Bankers Trust Company's study to have amounted to about $7,600,000,000.

More than $6,500,000,000 of this total was floating debt represented by Ways and Means advances and Treasury bills. A reduction of more than $272,000,00 has been made in this floating debt since the first of the present calendar year.

THE SIGNAL CORPS.

This Branch of the Service Is the Nerves of the Army.

An army must have eyes and ears as well as muscles and legs. It has a brain to direct its members in accord with the things the eyes and ears bring to the attention of the general in command. But it must also have nerves to carry the messages of the eyes and ears to the commanding brain.

The eyes and ears of an army are its scouts, its cavalry, its aeroplanes, its balloons, its spies, its photographers, its observers. The brain is the commanding general and his staff. The nerves are a hundred different activities of that branch of the service known as the signal corps.

It is the duty of the signal corps to transmit information. It performs this duty in many ways, ranging from the courier to wireless, from rockets at night to heliograph flashes by day, from permanent telephone and telegraph lines to the curious "buzzer" and its wire on the ground, on fence tops, strung among trees, anywhere it can be put. It uses the wigwag code with flags, searchlight signals, telephones, signal flares—any and all means of communication which the ingenuity of man has devised are employed by the signal corps as necessity may dictate.—Brigadier General Squier in American Boy.

NEW YORK'S DIRECTORY.

In Early Editions They Turned a Poet Loose Upon the Job.

The first New York city directory was printed in 1786 and was a scanty affair, with the "Van" descendants of the Dutch settlers of New Amsterdam taking up pretty nearly all the space.

The first attempt to compile names of New Yorkers by business or trade was made in 1806, when a classified list was appended to the directory. At the top of each classification the publishers inserted the work of a poet whose lyre was turned to commerce. This, for instance, is the bard's thoughts on hairdressers:

Ye ragged pates, your hair we'll crop
And dress it vastly pretty,
Or if your blocks are bare walk in,
I warrant we can fit ye.
With bag or queue or long pig tail
Or brushed wig or grizzled—

It was pointed out that the poet evidently had no trouble finding inspiration for each of the different businesses he was called upon to sing about until he came to the list of restaurants, which was published without verse, leading to the belief that the strain of singing of food had been too much for the bard.

Sea Water.

Sea water is a complicated mixture of a great variety of substances. Roughly speaking, it consists of 96½ per cent of fresh water plus 3½ per cent of mineral salts. Three-fourths of these salts is chloride of sodium, or common table salt, and the next largest constituent is chloride of magnesium. After these come sulphate of magnesium, sulphate of lime, sulphate of potash, bromide of magnesium and carbonate of lime. In addition to these substances, sea water contains minute quantities of quite a variety of elements, including iodine, phosphorus and arsenic. It also contains some silver, copper, zinc, nickel, cobalt, iron and gold. Copper and zinc are found in some seaweeds, and certain species of coral is three-millionths silver.

Curved Arms of Flywheels.

A great many people imagine that the arms of flywheels and pulleys are curved for the sake of beauty and graceful appearance. But this is not so. In the making of these wheels they are cast in sand from molten iron poured in. As the arms are of less thickness and body than the heavy rim and the hub, they begin to cool off quicker. By the time the arms are "set" the rim and hub are still cooling and contracting, and the effect of their shrinkage is to cause a very powerful pull on the arms. As the latter are solidly set they become severely strained, but if the arms are curved they withstand the pull that goes on during shrinkage and simply straighten out a little.

WE YEARN FOR THRILLS

So we Are Apt to Take Small Account of the Important Things.

A general thirst for thrills is one heritage from the war. For more than four years every day brought its story of battles, daring deeds, and hair-breath escapes, and now that the war is over the thirst for thrills remains and places a heavy burden upon all who furnish entertainment.

But it is sometimes difficult to tell just what the most exciting event of the day is. Had you asked a citizen of Rome in Nero's time about the latest thrill, he no doubt would have spoken of the latest gladiatorial fight as the vantage point of to-day one sees that the real news of the time was unnoticed by the vast majority then living. The shaping force of hisory was with the little groups of earnest people who met secretly and under suspicion in the Catacombs.

If one had questioned a citizen of London in the eighteenth century about the most exciting event, he no no doubt, would have replied that it was the latest meeting of Parliament stormy and defiant toward the Crown. He never dreamed that the most thrilling event of that day in England was that a tired and overworked mother was teaching her children in an Epworth rectory. It is a matter of sober history that in the quiet rectory of the Wesleys forces were shaping which would help revitalize and revolutionize England.

The noise of the street corner is never the index of things important. The real forces of any time often pass unnoticed, but underneath the surface of society they work toward the shaping of to-morrow. The unpretentious things have a surprising way of proving important.

Most of human happiness is created by the simple pleasures and acts of kindness which lighten the everyday. Life's best values often come from the interruptions, and people remember us by the little casual unimportant things unnoticed at the time. In life's morning one goes forth to conquer giants; in the evening one returns to rejoice in the little successes and the small deeds of kindness that make life's journey pleasant and rewarding.—Minneapolis Journal.

BEHIND every industry in Canada—

—from the patient truck-gardener bowed over his lettuces—

—to the young manufacturer struggling to prove the worth of Canadian skill and Canadian material in some new enterprise—

—stand the railways—the intelligence, the power and the hopes of the railways of Canada.

Not, like the Exploiter, watching to take harsh advantage of hard-times or the follies of a boom—

Not seeking by a moment's shrewdness to "clean up a million and get out!"

Not interested in the price of real estate in just ONE town, or the prosperity of just ONE province—

But, instead, employing their widely-gathered intelligence in the interests of all Canada for all time to come!

For the railways of Canada cannot be lifted up and carried away to serve any other master than Canada!

Their services cannot find any buyer but Canada!

They injure themselves if by asking too high returns To-day they damage the prosperity of the citizens of To-morrow.

SETTLE SUIT OVER CAMPBELLFORD MILL

TORONTO, July 23.—A settlement has ben reached in the action which J. J. Carrick, ex-M.P., sought to bring against the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission. Recently Mr. Carrick applied to the Attorney-General for a flat in connection with a suit to compel the Hydro Commission to fulfil the conditions which it was claimed Mr. Carrick's lawyer, Mr. A. McComber, made with the Commission for the purchase of the Campbellford Pulp Mill and the Bruton limits in Central Ontario.

Mr. Carrick, it was stated, paid $225,000 on account of the $500,000 purchase price, and it is understood that by the settlement the $225,000 will be reurned to Mr. Carrick, o-gether with an allowance.

In the last day or two of the session of the Provincial Legislature the mater was raised by Mr. H. H. Dewar, the Liberal leader, and from what transpired then, it appeared that n egotiations were pending and hat it was not opportune for the opportune for the Government to make a statement. Judging from the remarks then made by Mr. Dewart, it would seem that the agreement was made by the Hydro Commission during the absence of Sir Adam Beck in England.

FOOLISHNESS OF WORRY.

Forcefully Set Forth in the French Soldier's Philosophy.

"Everything might be worse than it is," is the cheerful conclusion of the French soldier, according to Kathleen Burke in "The White Road to Verdun." Here is the way she sums up the philosophy of the man in the ranks:

Of two things one is certain—either you're mobilized or you're not mobilized.

If you're not mobilized there's no need to worry; if you're on the front of two things one is certain—either you're behind the lines or you're on the front.

If you're behind the lines there is no need to worry; if you're on the front of two things one is certain—either you're resting in a safe place or you're exposed to danger.

If you're resting in a safe place there is no need to worry; if you're exposed to danger, of two things one is certain—either you're wounded or you're not wounded.

If you're not wounded there is no need to worry; if you are wounded of two things one is certain—either you're wounded seriously or you're wounded slightly.

If you're wounded slightly there is no need to worry; if you're wounded seriously of two things one is certain—either you recover or you die.

If you recover there is no need to worry; if you die you can't worry.

Not bad philosophy, in the trenches or out.

KILLED HIS TWENTY MEN.

An Incident of the War of the Boxer Uprising in China.

"Speaking of barbaric warfare," said an army officer who was in China at the time of the Boxer uprising, "I remember one day when the company with which I was attached in China was in a position to witness the execution of twenty rebels. The men had been caught with our assistance, and the leader of the Chinamen thought that we deserved the privilege of seeing them die.

"Our commander was particularly impressed with the looks of one of the rebels. He was a fine built fellow, about nineteen years old, and his face, even five minutes before he was scheduled to die, was wreathed in smiles. Our leader determined to save the fellow if possible and asked the commander of the executing squad to spare the young rebel.

"'I can't spare him,' the man replied. 'I have been ordered to execute the whole twenty rebels.'

"After much persuasion he agreed to allow the man to live. To follow our his orders, however, he summoned a local policeman, placed him in the squad and had his head cut off with those of the nineteen rebels. He killed twenty, followed out orders and pleased a visitor. He was well satisfied."

English Prison Pits.

Prison pits were vaults in which criminals in England were kept at night, chained together. There was one at Bristol which was in use as late as 1815. Down eighteen steps, it was only seventeen feet in diameter by nine feet high, and seventeen men were consigned to it every night. Even more typical was Warwick jail pit, which was occupied at least until 1797. It was an octagonal dungeon twenty-one feet in diameter and almost nineteen feet underground. In the middle was a cesspool, and beside it ran a stream of water which served the prisoners for drinking purposes. To this awful cell forty-two men were consigned every afternoon at 3:45, to remain there until after daylight the following morning.

Reindeer of Alaska.

The Alaska reindeer, which, curiously enough, are wards of the United States department of education, have increased from the small herd brought from Siberia in 1892 until they now number well over 70,000, that, to, in spite of the fact that about 9,000 were killed last year for meat and skins. Two-thirds of the reindeer belong to the natives, for whom they are solving the problems of food, clothing and transportation. The rest belong to the missionaries, the Lapp immigrants and the government.

TO PREVENT CREEK'S INVADING PROPERTY

MR. D. W. DUMBLE SUBMITS AGREEMENT FOR IMPROVEMENTS.

The following proposed agreement between Mr. D. W. Dumble, Mary E. V. Johnston and W. F. Johnston and the city, under which the corporation may make improvements to the Downie street creek, was in the Board of Works hands last night, and referred to City Solicitor Widdifield.

This agreement was drawn up by Mr. Dumble and reads that:

"Whereas the city desires to make a concrete water channel or aqueduct through lot 18 north of McDonnel street and lot 18, south of London street and west of George street, to carry the waters of what is known as the Downie street creek; and whereas the parties of the first part own said lots between them in various interests and have been requested by the corporation to grant to the city of Peterborough a strip of land out of said lots to carry an aqueduct or waterway lying between London street and McDonnel street, and have agreed so to do. Now this agreement witnessed as follows: That the owners will execute a conveyance of the westerly 12 feet of said lots for the purpose of constructing thereon a cement built aqueduct, and in consideration thereof the city will well and truly build and forever maintain and keep clear of incumbrance said aqueduct so that the waters of the creek may have free and uninterrupted flow and passage through this aqueduct which shall be built 12 feet wide and —— feet high as to walls, and that in building these walls the city will insert therein iron pipes 5 feet high (above the top of the sides) to which a wire fence may be fastened by the vendors and maintained there for all time by the vendors, their heirs and assigns to protect children and others from falling into the aqueduct. The vendors agree to do as little damage as possible in building said aqueduct and in maintaining same, and also consent to build the western wall of the aqeuduct wholly in lot No. 18, but with the western wall thereof right up to the boundary line between lots 18 and 19.

The city agrees that in building and maintaining and using this aqueduct they wil do as little damage as possible to the adjoining garden, trees, shrubs and vegetables and flowers. The work of construction when rommenced to be prosecuted continuously so as to be completed in one season, either in 1920 or in 1921.

All sheds necessary to be taken down for the purpose of constructing such aqueduct to be replaced over the aqueduct and to be strongly constructed over same and allowed to remain there permanently for the use of the tenants and occupants of houses occupying houses now or hereafter to be constructed on these lots, and shall be replaced and finished and left in good shape for occupancy as outhouses and for the use of the occupants of the same.

The owners of lots 18 and parts thereof or persons with or without vehicles requiring to have passage over a lane adjoining said aqueduct ten feet in width and extending from London to McDonnel street, to have at all times free and uninterrupted passage for the purpose of serving said adjoining houses and the people occupying the same said lane to be bounded on its western side by the eastern wall of said aqueduct.

The floors of said sheds now existing or hereafter built over said aqueduct to be strongly built to support the sheds or garages, if such buildings be erected on top of the aqueduct.

All the buildings now over the creek or waterway are to be placed on and supported upon the cement wall of such aqueduct and to be allowed to remain there. And in further consideration of this grant to the city the city covenants and agrees to convey to Mr. Dumble the north one-fourth of the gore lying west of lot number 19, north of Dublin street, and west of George street, constituting a part of the highway known as Donegal street, and the south three-fourths of said adjoining lot nineteen to the present owner of lot number nineteen, north of Dublin street and west of George street, namely, Bernard Navin, the owner of lot number nineteen, the gore to be by by-law closed as a highway.

Milk Has Increased in Price Less Than Any Other Food

Here is a fact for you to ponder well if you would live sanely and keep your bank account healthy—

MILK IS HIGH IN THE FOUR NECESSARY FOOD ELEMENTS, PROTEINS, CARBOHYDRATES, FATS AND MINERALS.

MILK IS EXCEEDINGLY LOW IN PRICE—JUST COMPARE THE PRICE OF A QUART OF MILK WITH THREE-QUARTERS OF A POUND OF THE BEST STEAK.

They contain the same amount of nutriment but that in milk is of the better kind.

MILK IS THE SALVATION OF THOSE WHO WOULD LIVE WELL BUT CHEAPLY

Milk can be used in innumerable ways that are beyond other food stuffs—it can be used in every portion of the meal from the soup to the dessert.

Milk-cooked vegetables are greatly enhanced in food value and milk-cooked cereals are meat-dishes in every sense of the word.

Use more milk and you'll use less meat—just figure up the difference in the prices of the two commodities—remembering that one quart of milk is equal, in food value, to three-quarters of a pound of the best steak you can buy.

Of course it should be clarified and pasteurized milk, protected by every scientific precaution that we use.

MUCH GRAIN DESTROYED BY THE HESSIAN FLY

J. H. Carroll, of Brampton, agricultural representative of Peel County, writes:

"The Hessian Fly is working very earnestly in the wheat fields of this district. Some cases 50 per cent. or more of the grain has gone down owing to this insect. Farmers having promising fields are naturally disappointed, as this pest has never been serious in the county. The weather seems to have favored rust, which is becoming prevalent on wheat.

"The improved weather has been favorable for haying and many farmers are finishing. Spring grains are looking exceptionally well, some fields of oats look like record breakers. Where corn has had a chance at all the growth of the real 'farmer's green' is very satisfactory."

FIGHT OVER GIRL.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., July 23.—A warrant was sworn out this morning by County Police Magistrate Hunt for the arrest of a young man at Port Stanley who is charged with assaulting Paul Hartshore, a Clevelander, Thursday evening, following a quarrel over a girl.

The assailant is alleged to have overtaken Hartshore on the Port Stanley bridge late last night and to have struck him on the head with a large stone. Hartshore was still insensible and in a serious condition this morning.

Getting the Most Out of the Farm

William Gilbert's Home and Farm at Stony Plain, Alberta.

As a rule a farmer in a new country does not get nearly as much as he might from his farm. Why should he? Land is cheap. If he wants to get larger returns he can easily get more land. So he reasons. He aims, therefore, rather to increase the size of his farm than to increase the output from the land he has.

But will not intensive farming pay in a new country? Is it not better for a farmer to double the production on the land he has rather than double the size of his farm to attain this end? Judging from the success of several hundreds of farmers in various parts of the prairie provinces of Canada—the last part of the North American continent to be developed—where land is no dearer as cheap as anywhere, intensive farming methods do pay, even in a newly developed country, especially if good railway transportation facilities are available. One farmer who has made a great success by farming intensively in this new country is William Gilbert. His farm at Stony Plain, Alberta, about twenty miles west of Edmonton, is being made to produce to the limit, and yet, at the same time, to be conserved to the utmost. Its main products are butter, milk, pork, mutton and wool.

Mr. Gilbert hails from England, where the farms, as a rule, are considerably smaller than those in Canada or the United States. There he spent his early life, and learned a good deal about the dairying and stock-raising businesses. He came to Canada in 1904, taking up a homestead in the west, to which he added another quarter section, so that for a long time he was farming three hundred and twenty acres. About five years ago, however, he sold this farm and bought the one he now occupies at Stony Plain, consisting of one hundred and sixty acres. The land was rough, low lying, and had more than seventy acres of meadow. In fact it was considered more or less worthless, as land is rated in Western Canada. Mr. Gilbert thought something could be done with it, however. And he was right. During the five years it has been in his possession, the proceeds from this land have enabled him to spend more than ten thousand dollars in various kinds of improvements, such as clearing the land, ditching, erecting a silo and barns. The farm is now in such a state that it will carry more stock than some farms four times as large will maintain. In addition to his work horses, he has kept as many as three hundred hogs, one hundred sheep and between twenty and fifty head of cattle at the same time on this farm. His aim has been to intensify as much as possible, raising only the best stock he can obtain.

The National records show that Mr. Gilbert has sold more pure bred Berkshire hogs than any other breeder in Canada. He is the first Alberta breeder to sell a herd boar to the United States. He says the whole secret of producing stock of this quality is to breed nothing but the best. When he started in the hog business he scoured the American continent in quest of herd boars and bought the two best ones that he could get in the United States. One is Ames Rival 148, whose half brother is grand champion of the world, and the other was the grand champion of the Kentucky state fair in 1916. The sons and daughters of Ames Rival are to be found on most of the large stock farms in Western Canada, including experimental and government farms.

While Mr. Gilbert was building up a herd of Berkshires he was also building up a herd of Holsteins and at the present time, has, including calves, a herd of about fifty head of pure breds. The outstanding cow of the herd is Mercedes Duchess 2nd.

This cow weighs about seventeen hundred pounds when in full flesh. Another good cow is Lizzy Wayne. The animal that stands third place in the herd during the month of January last year yielded 1,800 pounds of milk. Mr. Gilbert's stable is full of good cows as is evidenced by the record sheets which show that most of them yielded from 1,500 to 1,700 pounds of milk per month.

At the Sunny Brook Farm—the name by which Mr. Gilbert's farm is known—a milking machine is used. Between eighteen and twenty cows are being milked at the present time. About one-half of these cows yield over fifty pounds of milk daily. They are milked three times daily, and Mr. Gilbert finds that the milking machine is a very profitable investment. He uses a B. L. K. milker, which cost about $500 to install, and he contends the machine paid for itself the first year.

Mr. Gilbert feeds his pure breds for commercial profits. The rule that he follows is to feed one pound of grain to every three and a half pounds of milk produced, and finds it profitable to give his cows this quantity even with the present high prices of grain. From his experiences he concludes that there is no reason for the milk sheets showing a decreased yield during the winter months and he contends that if a cow is given the proper shelter, and feed and water in the right proportions, she will give as much milk when stabled as when on grass.

One of the biggest problems Mr. Gilbert has had in the past has been to secure enough roughage to properly winter his stock, but he is satisfied that he has solved the problem by the installation of a silo. Last year he built a thirty by fourteen stave silo, which, including the value of labor, cost between $600 and $700 to build; and filled it with green oats. The results so far have been highly satisfactory and he believes that it is one of the best investments that he has ever made. The other forms of roughage that he depends upon are meadow hay, green fodder, brome grass and roots. He is also trying out sweet clover.

OUGHT TO PUT AN END TO UNREST

TIME FOR LABOUR TO PITCH IN AND MAKE GOOD, SAYS LEADER.

TORONTO, July 23.—Commenting yesterday on the order by which the Pennsylvania Railroad surprised the railway employees' unions with a 10 per cent. reduction of its staffs, "to obtain greater efficiency," P. J. Flannery, General Organizer for Canada of the International Brotherhood of Freight Handlers and Station Employees, had little criticism to offer. Mr. Flannery has just returned from labor conferences in Chicago where the recent wage award affecting United States railways was discussed.

"I am broad enough to admit the point," said Mr. Flannery. "The time is past when a workman can shield himself behind a trades union. In my opinion this is an honorable compromise, and ought to put an end to unrest on the railroads. It is time for the men to pitch in and make up for lost time. Production is what we need."

Mr. Flannery said that representatives of the brotherhoods would immediately ask the Railway Association of Canada to open negotiations with them on behalf of the 200,000 railroad workers and that the award would be used as a basis of negotiations. "There is no sense in threatening a strike, nor is there any sense in forcing railroads into bankruptcy. What we will do is ask the Canadian Railway Association to open negotiations with us, using the award as the basis. We expect, however, that they will accept the award," said Mr. Flannery.

What appealed to officials of the Brotherhoods in connection with the award, he said, was that it was a joint one. The negotiations were carried on by a committee from the Brotherhoods who represented the entire railroad workers' body of the United States. Another feature of the award, according to Mr. Flannery, is that wages were uniform for different crafts throughout the United States.

"The consensus of opinion was that the award should be submitted to the rank and file. If the vote was against its acceptance another application would be made after September 1 for a hearing on our demands. Officials of the Brotherhoods realized that the railroads were anxious to have the Government bear the responsibility for further increases.

"It is not likely that anything will be done until September 1, when the railroads are returned to private ownership. The award, in the meantime, will be accepted under protest," said Mr. Flannery.

GIRLS! USE LEMONS FOR SUNBURN, TAN

Try It! Make this lemon lotion to whiten your tanned or freckled skin.

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle, sunburn and tan lotion, and complexion whitener, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of Orchard White for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands, and see how quickly the freckles, sunburn, windburn and tan disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.

EXPLAINS REASON FOR SHAMROCK'S HANDICAP

Perhaps the reason Shamrock has to give a time allowance should be explained again.

Shamrock is not a "great big boat" and Resolute a "little wee one." Shamrock's dimensions are large, but to see them side by side you might well be pardoned for saying there is "no difference" in their size. Even Shamrock's towering club topsail doesn't "tower" very noticeably above Resolute's.

Both these yachts are "rated" according to the result of a sum in arithmetic: Multiply length by sail area and divide by total weight. The higher rating allows the lower rating so many seconds a mile.

The rule is a fairly good one, as measurement rules go. A fairer contest would be to race yachts built as close to a fixed rating—say 90—as their designers could get them. No time allowance would then be given.

Shamrock's rating is high because, although practically the same size as Resolute, she has big sail area, and the way the "length" is measured makes her very "long", indeed, as compared with Resolute. The easy curves which make her fast on a 'reach,' also makes her long on the measurer's tape. Her total weight is greater than Resolute's. This, being a dividing factor, brings her rating down. But she would have to be loaded like a coal barge to reduce her rating to that of her nimble competitor.

NEEDLESS CAMOUFLAGE.

He had just hung out his shingle. That morning a stranger entered. The doctor asked to be excused as he hurried to the telephone.

Taking down the receiver, he said: "Yes, this is Dr. Woosit. Yes, I will be ready for you at 2:10 this afternoon. But please be prompt for I am very busy. Two hundred dollars? Yes, that was the estimate I gave you."

Hanging up the receiver, he turned to the stranger and, rubbing his hands, asked: "Now, sir, what can I do for you?"

"Nothing," replied the stranger, quietly. "I only came in to connect up the telephone."

DID HIS BEST.

"It is the duty of everyone to make at least one person happy during the week," said the Sunday School teacher. "Now, have you done so, Johnny?"

"Yes," said Johnny promptly.

"That's right. What did you do?"

"I went to see my aunt, and I made her happy when I went home."—Scotsman.

RED HOT JULY DAYS HARD ON THE BABY

July—The month of oppressive heat; red hot days and sweltering nights; is extremely hard on little ones. Diarrhoea, dysentry, colic and cholera infantum carry off thousands of precious little lives every summer. The mother must be constantly on her guard to prevent these troubles or if they come on suddenly to fight them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during the hot summer as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels and stomach, and an occasional dose given to the well child will prevent summer complaint, or if the troubles does come on suddenly will banish it. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

NEW SONG OF CARUSO

A new Victrola record by Enrico Caruso is always an event of the musical world. Just now he is singing an English love song in the English language entitled, "Love Me or Not"—and he sings it in a manner so different to what music lovers have been so prone to associate with Caruso as to yield an astonishing surprise to those who think they have measured in full the versatility of so great an artist. This is a 12-inch record, price $2.00, obtainable in the Victrola Parlors of Ye Olde Firme Heintzman & Co., Limited, George and Hunter streets, Peterborough.

AGITATION AGAINST THE CANING OF GIRLS

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, —Caning of girl pupils in elementary schools by their male teachers, a practice which has been general in England for many years, recently has become the subject of much criticism and the Daily Mail has started an agitation for its abandonment. Many letters have been written the newspapers, the majority of the writers advocating infliction of corporal punishment of girls when necessary, by women teachers. They protest that a sensitive girl may never fully recover from the "shame of being caned by a man."

The Lord Mayor of Bristol, who had 30 years experience as headmaster of a school, said he knew the practice of men administering corporal punishment to girls was common, but he was opposed to it.

AMERICAN CHURCH USING MOVIES FOR ADVERTISING

TOPEKA, Kans. July 21. — The moving picture theaters have been enlisted as an advertising medium by the Grace Episcopal cathedral here. A reel of pictures of the church and various activities such as those of the Girls' Friendly Society, choir processional, a May fete on the church grounds, the Men's Club, the girls' summer camp and others, has been made and are shown twice a week in local theatres.

"Why shouldn't we use the 'movies' to advertise our churches," said the Rev. James P. deB Kaye, dean of the cathedral. "Churches should get as close as possible to the people."

SURVEY EMPIRE'S TIMBER

Proposal to Join an Imperial Forestry Bureau Put Forth.

LONDON, July 23.—The Empire Forestry Commission recommends the creation of an Imperial forestry bureau, financed by the Imperial, Indian and Dominion Governments, to make a systematic survey of the timber resources of the Empire, to organize research work, and to establish here an institution for the training of forestry officers. The next conference will be held, if the Dominion approves, in Canada in 1923.

REV. SIMS TALKS ON GOLDEN AGE

QUESTION OF MONEY, POSITION AND INFLUENCE WILL FIND NO PLACE.

At the Free Methodist Church quarterly services, Rev. A. Sims, of Toronto, preaching from the text Revelation 20, 1-7, said that the words referred to the coming of the Golden Age. All Bible students, he said are aware that there is to be a very different age from any other in the world's history to come yet. It will not be a perfect age, but it will be the best probably since the fall.

No False Religions.

It will, in the first place, be an age when all false religions will have an end and one plain, pure, spiritual worship will be universal. It will be an age of impartial justice. The question of money, position and influence will make no difference in the administration of justice by a king who will rule in righteousness.

Thirdly, it will be an age when the earth will regain its fertilty. The desert will rejoice and blossom, the parched ground grow as a pool, and it is probable that the earth will be changed to become increasingly fruitful.

Nature Will Change.

The nature and instinct of wild beasts will be changed, little children will be able to play with lions, which will be docile as lambs. This is indicated in the Scripture. It will be a time when God's chosen people, the Jews, will come to their own. For years despised, and in many countries ill-treated, they will become a great nation and will become the evangelists of the world.

Wars Unknown.

It will be a day when wars will be unknown. Isiah 2, 4, tells us that. "He shall judge among the nations and shall rebuke many people and they shall beat their swords into plowshares and their speers into pruning hooks, nations shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war." Men, the speaker said, may have their peace conventions, and their peace plans, but wars shall never cease till Christ shall reign. There was great rejoicing when the armistice was signed, but it is hard to conceive the result of 1,000 years of unbroken peace which will ensure a time of great prosperity.

Then Satan will be found for 1,000 years, unable to tempt. Sighs, tears, groans, broken hearts, broken homes, ruined lives, blasted hopes, all the crimes, suicides, murders, jails, penitentiaries, asylums, all the graves multiplied by thousands of years, are his work, and by them, we may judge the peace subsequent to his being bound.

Christ is coming, the speaker continued, to reign. All his saints shall reign. Will you, Rev. Mr. Sims asked, obey the gospel which tells us, "Be ye therefore ready?"

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, health commissioner of New York, has brought into the life of a great metroplis a method of living longer that is very simple and may be acquired by everybody. He insists that a laugh is a health promoter and a grouch a health destroyer. The comedian who drives away dull care is an excellent physician.

Kitty Dalton, the pretty New York girl, who was kissed by General Pershing on his homecoming day in New York as she presented him with Knights of Columbus roses, has had hundreds of proposals, an offer of $150 a week to appear in a revue and has been sought by both stage and movie magnates. She remains a $25-a-week stenographer.

BABY CLARE.

"Doctor said He would not live."

71, Cobham Road,
Seven Kings.

My baby at three months weighed 7½ lbs. The doctor said he would not live.
He is now ten months and weighs 19½ lbs. I attribute this wonderful progress to Virol. In addition to this gain he has eight teeth and has given no trouble with them, for this also we praise Virol.

Yours truly,
(Signed) A. CLARE.

Virol is invaluable for the expectant and nursing mother herself, whilst for children it supplies those vital principles that are destroyed in the sterilising of milk; it is also a bone and tissue-building food of immense value. Virol babies have firm flesh, strong bones and good colour.

LET THERE BE LIGHT.

We see too much of crime
And cluttered wreckage on the waves of time.
We live too much with sin that hurts and mars;
Show us the stars!

Angels a-wing
Sometimes pause near us, and we hear them sing
The heavenly music dies, and dark and pain
Alone remain.

But you have fight
To find the pure, the lovely, and the right.
Why search the face of time for ugly scars?—
Show us the stars!

PENALTIES NOT SEVERE ENOUGH TO CHECK BOOTLEGGING GAME

ENFORCEMENT OF LAW INCREASED BY PROFITS OF THE TRAFFIC AND ANTIPATHY TO LIQUOR LEGISLATION BY MANY PERSONS—ARMY OF OFFICIALS NEEDED.

OTTTAWA, July 23.—As long as profits from bootlegging are what they are, and the only deterrent is a fine of $200 or so there will be big money in the bootlegging game and it will be very difficult for the authorities on either side of the international line to stamp out the traffic.

That is the summary of opinions expressed by Ottawa officials as to the situation regarding smuggling of liquor from Canada to the United States. Further, high officials of the Royal Canadian Mounted police say that while they are doing all in their power to check infractions of the federal laws in this respect, it is really for the American authorities to see that liquor does not reach the thirsty souls beyond the imaginary lines 3,000 miles long.

The situation apparently is that from three provinces in particular there is a large trade in bootlegging to the United States. These are Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia. At the same time a respectable quantity of fiery liquid is finding its way across from the Maritime Provinces and from Manitoba.

Paid Big Price.

At Windsor and in the surrounding districts the Mounted Police are carrying on a constant campaign against the illegal liquor vendors, and many have been hauled into court and condemned to pay fines from $200 up. One parched Detroit man, however, is said to have parted with $500 for three cases of Scotch whiskey, which reached him via the "underground route" a short time ago, so that the profits in the illegal trade are known to be enormous. Information from Windsor and district intimates to the authorities here that some farmers in that vicinity have found it more profitable to smuggle liquor across the border than to farm, and have let their farms run to weeds while they pursue the elusive dollar via the bootlegging route.

Quebec, it is stated, is the mecca for thirsty thousands of Americans every week-end and automobiles passing back and forth carry their loads of human and other freight, bound for the Sahara across the border. Under these conditions, Canadian police authorities admit that it is practically impossible to enforce the stringent liquor laws at present in force.

The chief reason for the difficulty of enforcement, according to an official of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who have under their jurisdiction the carrying out of all federal laws, is the fact that many people are not in sympathy with the liquor legislation, and the securing of contraband liquor is regarded in many quarters as an achievement rather than a disgrace.

However, if the carrying of liquor into the United States from Canada is to be prevented, it is intimated that it will have to be done by an army of customs inspectors and police on the American side of the line rather than in Canada.

THE MAN WHO WINS

IS ALWAYS FULL OF LIFE AND ENERGY — FAILURES ARE, WEAK AND BLOODLESS.

Some men seem to have all the luck. If there are any good things going these men seem to get them. They make other people do their will—they are leaders. If they are business men they are successful; if they are workmen they get the foreman's job. They have the power of influencing people.

The same thing is true of women. Some have the charm that makes men seek them out; others are always neglected. But this is not luck. It is due to a personal gift—vitality. Men and women of this sort are never weak, puny invalids. They may not be big, but they are full of life and energy. The whole thing is a matter of good blood, good nerves and good health. Everyone would wish to be like this and the qualities that make for vitality and energy are purely a matter of health. By building up the blood and nerves, sleeplessness, want of energy, weakness of the back, stooping shoulders, headaches and the ineffectual sort of presence which really comes from weakness can all be got rid of. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have made many weak, tired men vigorous and healthy, and many pale, dejected girls and women, plump rosy and attractive, by improving their blood and toning up their nerves. If you are weak, ailing, low-spirited or unhealthy, try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and note their speedy, beneficial effect.

You can get these Pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

VERY UNSANITARY STATE OF AFFAIRS

EAST CITY RATEPAYERS PETITION FOR IMPROVED SEWERAGE SERVICE.

Fourteen East City ratepayers petitioned the city's Board of Works last night for sewerage provision to serve Engleburn avenue.

The petition was signed by ten property owners mainly on Engleburn avenue and urged that owing to unsanitary conditions prevailing in this district, recommendation for the construction of a sewer here be laid before the proper authorities.

The sewage from houses on Engle burn avenue at present empties into the river from individual house service pipes and such menacing conditions to public health should be remedied as quickly as possible.

City Engineer Parson's explained that the only way to connect with the Ashburnhamsewerage system would be to construct an sewage injector plant and raise its connecting pipes.

On motion of Aldermen Copping and Morrison this matter was left with the city engineer to investigate and report cost of his suggested plan.

APPROACH TO C.P.R. FOOTBRIDGE COULD BE CLOSED TO THE PUBLIC

RIGHT-OF-WAY FROM ENGLEBURN ONLY HELD BY CITY UNDER RENTAL FROM BURNHAM ESTATE.

SEEKING A ROADWAY

Council's Board of Works took action last night with a view to purchasing a 66 ft. roadway from the eastern end of the C.P.R. footbridge to Engleburn avenue, East City, between Maria street and the C.P.R. The footpath now used by pedestrians after crossing the bridge from the west runs through property belonging to the Burnham estate, and for the use of which Peterborough is now paying a rental of $10 a year, an agreement which can be ended at any time on due notice to that effect being given. The acreage of this whole Burnham property is 1 85-100, for which Mr. E. A. Peck, for the owners, asked last evening $2,500. Ald. Jones and Mayor McIntyre considered this price high.

Ald. Whitehouse—"Well, something will have to be done, for we may lose this right-of-way any day."

The Mayor thought the city as a last resort might expropriate a right-of-way in the public's interests.

Ald. Whitehouse—"If we expropriate, we might as well do so for a full width road. Houses are now being erected in that neighborhood.

The Board finally concluded that Chairman Ald. Whitehouse and Mayor McIntyre inquire from Mr. Peck what a 66 ft. roadway through this Burnham prope y can be purchased for.

Board of Works' Stables.

Chairman Ald. Whitehouse reported the need of permanent stabling for the Board of Works horses, now quartered in the board's yard. Thos. Rehill, he said, was leasing from the city at a dollar a year a small plot of land on which there is a good barn, at the rear of his premises on Wolfe street. The lease has nine years to run, and he would dispose of it to the city, together with the barn, for $800. This, Ald. Whitehouse thought, would make an ideal spot for stables, being adjacent to the corporation's yard.

On motion of Aldermen Morrison and Hamilton the committee will recommend that this property be purchased at as reasonable a price as possible.

To Remove Trees.

Mrs. O'Donnel, 216 King street, complained that two trees on the highway overhang her house, and she asked ther removal as they shed water on to and rot the shingles of the verandah.

Ald. Jones reported that trees just across from the Raybestos premises on Perry street, west of Stewart, should be thinned out.

The City Engineer was authorized to remove whatever of the above trees are necessary.

Underground Conduits.

The Bell Telephone Co. asked permission to lay underground conduits on Aylmer street, from Charlotte to Townsend street, and on George from the C.P.R. to Lansdowne street.

The granting of this request will be recommended to Council, providing the company allow the fire department the same privilege in these conduits for fire alarm wires as at present enjoyed on overhead poles. Also that the company deliver all surplus material excavated to any spot within a radius of half a mile, as designated by the City Engineer. Permission to lay wire conduits at the approaches to and across the Hunter street bridge was also embodied in the resolution.

Will Sell Land.

The Board will recommend that the Council sells to the Canadian Woollens Limited that small portion of Cambridge street, north of McDonnel street (never opened up and of no use for street purposes) at the same price per foot frontage as the company paid for other property at this point. This was the motion of Aldermen Hamilton and Morrison. The land in question adjoins the company's property and they need it for extension purposes.

A Vexed Question.

The Council at last meeting sent on to the Board of Works a by-law to close that part of the road allowance between block E and lot one, north of Perry street and east of George street, south of the Alfred McDonald Lumber Co.'s mills. The by-law provides that this part of the road allowance be leased for ten years to N. T. Laplante for $25 per annum without taxes, with the privilege of purchase, providing that on the expiration of ten years that part of the road allowance to the north is vested absolutely in the Alfred McDonald Lumber Co.

The Mayor took exception to closing this road allowance.

Ald. Gainey would not object to half the street being closed.

On motion of the Mayor the Board will look over the situation before taking definite action.

This question has been a bone of contention with Council for some time now. The road allowance referred to is really a continuance of Crescent street to the Little Lake. Although never used as a highway since the McDonald mills have been established. Ald. Gordon and other aldermen hold that a right-of-way to the water front should be maintained in case of future need.

A Drainage Matter.

The Hydro-Electric Commission wrote, asking that drainage for their new street railway road bed on George street south, which has not been paved according to agreement, be taken care of.

Te City Engineer reported that this had been arranged for.

Suburban Area.

Ald. Whitehouse submitted a map of the rural roads being taken care of by the Suburban Roads Commission, of which he is chairman.

Repair to Armour Road.

Repairing of the Armour road from Smith street to the golf grounds was left with Ald. Whitehouse to take up with the Reeve of Douro on a fifty-fifty cost basis between the city and the township. This is a boundary road much used by city residents and the Council is willing to assume a share of its upkeep.

Sewer Asked For.

STUDENTS HIRING FOR HARVEST WORK

SLUMP IN DEMAND FOR DOMESTIC HELP.

Students from the Collegiate Institute and Public schools in the city are making a fairly lively response to the call of the land and the greater number of those who have been placed by the Employment Bureau have been students, older men fighting shy of prospects of four o'clock response to the alarm sounded from the barn yard.

Recently the call for domestics has been very much curtailed and of five would be female workers who applied at the Bureau this week only two were placed. The fact that a large number of the families customarily employing domestics are out at summer resorts probably accounts for this unusual condition. Most of the applicants are looking for work only by the day.

Weeks Record

During the past week 46 applicants mostly form labourers were fyled at the Bureau and 37 me were placed, four of these on the farm. Thirty-two situations were reported vacant.

BUTTER HIGHER BUT POTATOES DECLINE

RASPBERRIES AT 25 CENTS A BOX AT TO-DAY'S MARKET.

Butter took another upward jump at the market and sold at 62c and 65c a pound. The high price is accounted for by the farmers' wives by the fact that the grass has not yet recovered from the severe heat and the drought of last fall which burned up practically all the pastures.

Eggs sold at 55c and 30c a dezen; chickens at 30c a lb., and ducks at 35c a lb.

Fruit and Vegetables.

Vegetables were very plentiful and new potatoes were offered in large quantities, selling at 60c and 65c a peck.

Beets, carrots, onions, spinach and lettuce brought 5c a bunch. Green peas in the pod sold at 10c a quart, and shelled at 40c a quart.

Cabbages sold at 10c each. No tomatoes were sold.

Fruit was fairly plentiful selling at much lower prices than last week.

Raspberries sold at 25 and 27c a box; gooseberries at 18c a quart; cherries at $2 a basket. Apples sold at 50c a peck, and a large crop is anticipated by the fruit growers. Wild raspberries sold at 30c a quart, and huckleberries at $2.50 a basket.

Farmers are not Kicking.

Chats with some of the farmers prove that they are fairly well satisfied with the weather conditions generally. The large amount of rain which has fallen has made the grain a little heavy and caused the weeds to prosper, but it has resulted in a splendid root crop, and a good outlook for the larger fruits. Raspberries, the market gardeners contend, have not been affected by the heavy downfall and the high prices of this year are the result of this being the berries off year.

Hay has been slightly affected by the wet weather.

GRASSHOPPERS NOT ILL WIND TO CROPS AND WRENS MAKE LIGHT LUNCH OF THEM

ARE MORE NUMEROUS IN BACK TOWNSHIPS, BUT IN NO PART OF THE COUNTY ARE THEY A MENACE—THE PREVIOUS DRY SPELL HATCHED THEM.

That the grasshopper invasion is nothing for the farmers to get alarmed at is the opinion of Mr. F. E. McRae, Department of Agriculture representative at Norwood. In the back townships, he said, that their numbers were larger than in the south and a certain amount of damage had been done the crops, but nothing serious. The pest is as yet small, but will grow considerably larger in the next few weeks and they will be able to do the most damage. The earlier long drought, he believed, was responsible for the multitudes of them. Around Norwood, he said, that there was undoubtedly more grasshoppers than in former years or last year, but he had not yet learned of any marked depredations by them.

Asked for an antidote to destroy the winged plague, he mentioned "poison brand" the stuff that has been so effective in the west in stamping them out and said that this was the only sure method of annihilation. This is only effective when they are at the hopping stage as at present.

Wrens "Make a Killing."

Contrary to general opinion the grasshoppers are not propagated through the "spit" that is found on the grass and weeds in the spring of the year, Mr. F. J. A. Morris, of the Collegiate Institute staff, told The Examiner. This froth is also sometimes blamed upon the frog family, but neither of the "hoppers" are responsible for the production of it. A small insignificant insect forms this after it is hatched, he said, and close examination will reveal it in the centre. Grasshoppers mostly die in the fall, but a few lie dormant all winter in the ground, Mr. Morris stated. Multitudinous eggs are laid in the fall and in the spring the larvae are hatched. After a series of meetings the grasshoppers become full grown. There are many birds that find the grasshoppers a very relishing dish and Mr. Morris related how, while in the country the other day, he saw a fence literally covered with the brown-backed grasshoppers while picking them off to their hearts' content were numbers of wrens. He himself had noted the large numbers of the pests in the country and the reason for the swarms, he thought, was the warm dry spell. It would be several weeks before the grasshoppers reached their full growth either in size or numbers.

IMPROVEMENTS TO SUBURBAN ROADS

JOINT COMMISSION IS ACCOMPLISHING COMMENDABLE WORK.

The Surburban Road Commission, made up of F. Whitehouse chairman, E. M. Elliott, clerk, Wm. Brown and Ernest Deyell commissioners, have done considerable road work and effected much improvement in surburban roads during the past two or three weeks, although they have not their full operating force at work. The programme now begun will be increased.

The roads to be repaired number seven, the Lakefield, War saw, Norwood, the River Road in Otonabee, the River Road in North Monaghan, the second line road of North Monaghan and the Chemong Road. The River Road in North Monaghan is only being repaired for 1 1-2 miles, and the second line for the same distance, as North Monaghan requested that the three miles allotted them be split between these two roads. North Monaghan was only given three miles because of having the Gravel Road classed as a County Provincial road.

An example of the improvements the Commission is making, and will make to these roads is the abrupt turn cut away just above the Waterworks on the Nassau road. The Utilities Commission co-operated with the Suburban Road Commission by allowing them to cut away the corner which is on their property and by permitting them to cut down trees and bushes to give a clear view both ways. Twenty or thirty feet of the Utilities Commission property was sacrificed and the Road Commission appreciate this sacrifice. This cut is a great safety measure and danger of an accident has been greatly minimized. The Road has been graded and repaired, with a fine highway resulting.

The Commission intend also to remove the sharp turn at Nassau on the Lakefield road, and this entails even more wark and more expense than the other cut, but it will make for greater safety.

Many culverts have had to be built by the Commission two and a half miles out on the Chemong Road, and 22 foot reinforced concrete culvert has been completed at a cost of $1,000. The culvert on the Warsaw road, near Curtis' brickyard, giving Mr. Whitehouse and his colleagues no little worry. They allege that it was not built as wide or as firmly as it should have been by the Townships of Douro and Otonabee when they constructed it a year ago. They desire the townships to bear half the expense of either rebuilding his road or constructing a new one; and representatives of these townships will meet the Commissions this afternoon on the matter.

Tan, Red or Freckled Skin Is Easily Shed

To free your summer-soiled skin of its muddiness, freckless, blotches or tan, the best thing to do is to free yourself of the skin itself. This is easily accomplished by the use of ordinary mercolized wax, which of course can be had at any drug store. Use at night as you use cold cream, washing it off in the morning. Immediately the offending surface skin begins to come off in fine powder-like particles. Gradually the entire outer scarf skin is absorbed, without the least harm or inconvenience. The second layer of skin now in evidence presents a spotless whiteness and sparkling beauty obtainable in no other way. One ounce of mercolized wax usually is sufficient to completely renovate a bad complexion.

AUSTRALIAN SEAMEN VOTE AGAINST FUTURE WAR

(Canadian Press.)

SYDNEY, Australia, July 24.—The New South Wales branch of the Federated Seamen's Union, voted lately that in the future all its members shall withdraw from military and naval activities. T. Walsh, Secretary of the Union says:

"This is, we hope, the first step to a general refusal by transportation workers and ultimately all labor unionists to countenance war." Walsh is a son-in-law of Mrs. Pankhurst, the English "Suffragette" leader.

SPLENDID OUTING FOR INMATES OF PROTESTANT HOME

WERE ENTERTAINED AT SOUTH BEACH BY ROYAL ARTHUR LODGE.

A perfect day, with neither too much heat or cold, and unmarred by dust or wind, characterized the third annual excursion to South Beach given by the Royal Arthur Lodge of Masons to the inmates of the Protestant Home on Thursday afternoon.

The ladies of the Board were also guests of the Chapter.

After supper had been served at the hotel Mrs. Roger, in a brief and graceful speech, referred to the pleasure this outing had given to those who were shut in for a large part of the time, and to the happy memories with which they would recall the day. She concluded by proposing a vote of thanks to the kind hosts of the occasion.

This was ably seconded by Mrs. Robert Hall, whereupon Miss Archer proposed three cheers for the Masons.

Mr. C. E. Smith, Grand Master responded, saying that the pleasure derived by those organizing this excursion was quite equal to that experienced by their guests.

Mr. E. F. Mason was then discovered passing cigars to the men while Mr. Breyfogle circulated ice cream cones among the ladies.

The drive home was especially beautiful in the afterglow from the sunset and many were the grateful voices heard in expressions of sincerest thanks to Royal Arthur's Lodge, and good wishes for their individual and collective long life and prosperity. The gentlemen whose cars carried the guests were: Mr. C. E. Smith, Mr. Breyfogle, Mr. E. F. Mason, Mr. Bruce Fowler, Alderman Jones, Mr. Westbye, Mr. Seele, Mr. Thos. Brightman, Mr. John Brightman, Mr. John Crane, Mr. Edgar Worth.

TESTING THE DENTIST.

Ismail Pasha Didn't Want to Take Any Painful Chances.

To illustrate oriental habits of thought Lord Cromer tells in the Quarterly Review this story of Ismail Pasha, khedive of Egypt. It once happened that Ismail was suffering from toothache. He sent for a European dentist, who told him that he ought to have the tooth out. Ismail said that he was afraid it would be very painful. He was informed in reply that if he would allow the dentist to administer laughing gas to him he would feel nothing. He still doubted, but told the dentist to bring his apparatus to the palace.

The dentist complied and explained the process to the khedive. Ismail then summoned an attendant and told him to send up the sentry who was at his door.

When the man arrived the khedive ordered him to sit down in a chair and requested the dentist to take out a tooth on either side of his jaw. Ismail then asked the man whether he had felt anything, and the man told him that he had not. But Ismail was not yet satisfied. He said that the sentry was a young, strong man and that he would like to see the experiment tried on some one of weaker physique.

Accordingly he summoned a slave girl and had the dentist extract two of her teeth. Finding that she did not show evidence of extreme suffering, he then consented to have his own tooth out.

About the Puritans.

In the American Magazine William Roscoe Thayer says:

"It is the fashion of late to speak condescendingly of the Puritans as of a people of narrow views and of men of sour temperament, but no descendant of theirs and no later immigrant who now dwells in the commonwealth they founded and enjoys the blessings which it bestows upon us will fail to glory in being able to trace back to such forerunners. The story of the conditions which faced the passengers of the Mayflower when they landed at Plymouth can never be too often repeated. To have as founders of our state men and women who had the fear of God in their hearts, but feared the face of no man, ranks as the initial glory of Massachusetts."

Simplest of Coments.

Condensed milk applied to the edges of the pieces of broken china will keep the article as intact as the majority of cements on the market today, writes Edwin W. Ely in a letter to the Electrical Experimenter. Mr. Ely adds that he has mended saucers that have withstood washings in hot water and has mended a telescope lens of fairly large size with this unique cement.

MINE OF AMERICAN HISTORY.

Seville Has a Treasure House Packed With Authentic Facts.

In the historic Spanish city of Seville, near the famous cathedral and occupying a frontage of about 200 feet, stands a building that is of paramount interest to the people of practically all the American republics. Because of the contents of this building Seville is becoming the Mecca of American historians.

The structure is a veritable treasure house of authentic facts concerning the colonial period of all the Spanish-speaking countries of the new world as well as a mine of information relative to the early history of a very large part of the United States.

The house is known as the Casa Lonja, and the treasures it contains consist of the general archives of the Indies, that wonderful collection of unpublished, unedited and for the most part even unindexed original documents, reports, letters, etc., which practically embrace the administration of the colonies under the dominion of Spain in all the Americas.

The mother country kept in very close touch with her children across the sea, and these detailed reports, contracts, cedulas and legal documents of every kind, as well as thousands of letters of officials—private and confidential as well as of a public character—form an almost inexhaustible mine of historical facts.—Exchange.

INSTINCT OF THE SPIDERS.

They All Knew How to Land When Cast Adrift Upon the Waters.

I took a large spider from his web under the basement of a mill, put him on a chip and set him afloat on the quiet waters of the pond. He walked all about the sides of his bark, surveying the situation very carefully, and when the fact that he was really afloat and about a yard from shore seemed to be fully comprehended he looked out for the nearest land.

This point fairly settled upon, he immediately began to cast a web for it. He threw it as far as possible in the air and with the wind. It soon reached the shore and made fast to the spires of grass. Then he turned himself about and in true sailor fashion began to haul in hand over hand on his cable. Carefully he drew upon it until his bark began to move toward the shore. As it moved the faster he the faster drew upon it to keep his hawser taut and from touching the water. Very soon he reached the shore, and, quickly leaping to terra firma, he sped his way homeward.

Thinking that he might be a special expert and an exception in that line of boatmanship to the rest of his companions, I tried several of them. They all came to shore in like manner.

Radium Cures Cancer.

Practically all experimenters have demonstrated one basic fact—that radium does destroy cancer cells without producing any disintegrating effect upon normal tissue. The radium molecule is the only agent known to man which succeeds in doing this. Of that supremely important fact there is no longer the slightest room for doubt—that is to say, if the radium rays could be brought to bear upon every cancer cell this scourge would vanish from the world. The reasons that its use does not always succeed are many and too intricate for description in this place. But the records of so many positive cures are now available, cures of cancers usually regarded as hopeless and inoperable, that we must finally conclude that medical science has obtained a powerful weapon in its struggle with this disease.

The Rocker Rebelled.

In the early days of missions in Persia the people were naturally suspicious of the missionaries and were constantly on the lookout for something in their houses which would exert a baleful influence upon native visitors. A Persian lady, calling one day on an American missionary lady, wished to sit in a rocking chair, which was something she had never seen before. She got up into it with her feet and attempted to squat upon her heels, as she would have done upon the floor, with the result that she and the chair both took a tumble backward. Hence there went abroad a report that the missionaries kept in their houses a machine for converting people to Christianity.

Won't Need a Gun.

Mrs. Irons—So you aren't afraid of burglars? No doubt your husband has a revolver?

Mrs. Lyons—Yes, but I'm so afraid of firearms that I have hidden it.

Mrs. Irons—Then what protection would you have in case of a robbery?

Mrs. Lyons—My dear, the way that man will roar at me when he can't find that gun will scare any burglar out of his wits.—London Answers.

Human Faces.

Dreadful limits are set in nature to the powers of dissimulation. Truth tyrannizes over the unwilling members of the body. Faces never lie, it is said. No man need be deceived who will study the changes of expression.

Her Threat.

Excited Man (to druggist)—If my wife tries to buy carbolic acid here don't sell it to her; she has threatened to disinfect my meerschaum pipe with it.

Its Class.

"Mac's story sounded ridiculously improbable, didn't it?"

"Worse than that; it sounded like a movie plot."

New Term of Endearment.

It much disturbed Billy to have a friend address his baby brother as "a darling lamb." "His name is Leigh and he is not a lamb," he informed the woman, who explained that it was but an endearing term. Next day his mother heard him exclaiming over his brother as a precious little camel.

WALKING GOOD EXERCISE

Veteran Letter Carrier Travels 60,000 Miles in Service.

MIDDLETOWN, N.J., July 25.—John Adams, veteran letter carrier of this town, announces that he is going to retire. Adams has been a letter carrier thirty-three years. His associates in the postal service estimate he has covered an average of five miles a day in that period. He entered the service in 1887 and has been carrying mail ever since. He has walked altogether 60,000 miles, or more than twice the distance around the world in those thirty-five years.

Here is what Adams has to say about it: "Walking is good exercise. It has kept me in excellent health. But I am getting old and a younger man will have to take my mail bag."

Charles Dana Gibson became famous because he would not be anything else and held to his determination through sunshine and storm. He made the "Gibson Girls." These girls he found on the sidewalk, in the park and in the theatres. They were human. He has had more proposals than any other living man and finally he proposed to and was accepted by Irene Langhorne, sister of Lady Astor.

ALLADIN COMPANY EMPLOYING 45 MEN HAVE PLANS FOR NEW BUILDINGS

EXPECT TO ERECT WAREHOUSE THIS YEAR AND TO DOUBLE THE SIZE OF THEIR PLANT NEXT YEAR—TWO MILLION FEET OF LUMBER ON HAND.

A CANADIAN COMPANY.

The Canadian Alladin Company have operations in their new plant on Monaghan Road, south of the Henry Hope plant, well under way, and with a force of about 45 men, are at present turning out a "readi-cut" house every two days. The plant, which has only been in operation since May 25th, is modern in every respect and consists of a factory building 200 feet by 100 feet and a boiler room and drying house 40 feet by 60 feet.

B. G. Robinson, factory superintendent, stated, when interviewed by The Examiner, that the company expects to erect a warehouse 100 feet in length either in the fall or winter and a second factory building 200 feet by 100 feet with a connecting building 100 feet by 50 feet next year. As the business increases further additions will be made on the seven-acre lot which the company owns.

Designed to Give Maximum of Efficiency.

The present building has been carefully planned to give the maximum of efficiency and facility in handling and cutting lumber. The machines, which are the latest in efficient woodworking machinery, are well spaced and the factory is light and airy. The boiler house is equipped with modern boilers, which supply heat for the drying house and heat the factory. The waste shavings are utilized as fuel and are fed to the boiler room by an extensive suction system. The machines are operated by ten electric motors, giving a total horse power of about 150.

As soon as the plant is properly under way it is expected that a house a day will be turned out with ease.

Alladin Plan Effects Saving of 17 Per Cent.

The Alladin plan of "readi-cut" houses effects a saving of about 17 per cent. over the ordinary method of cutting lumber. Each piece of board is carefully planned by the company's engineers to be cut with a minimum of waste. Each house is constructed according to a standardized plan, of which there are about 100, and is so designed and cut that even an unskilled man might erect it. Everything necessary, even to glass and hardware, all cut to the proper sizes, is supplied.

The Canadian Alladin Company is a purely Canadian concern, though it operates in close touch with the American parent organization. The executive and sales offices of the company are located in Toronto and the local plant is merely a factory.

Output Will Be Doubled.

At present the company has 2,000,000 feet of lumber piled in the yard, and with the factory additions planned, their output will be doubled. A large part of the Alladin houses sold in Canada are being cut by other firms, due to the present lack of facilities here, but it is expected that when the additions are made the local factory will be able to handle the total output.

Asked his opinion of Peterboro conditions, Mr. Robinson stated that practically the only serious difficulty which had confronted the company here was the obtaining of the class of labour which they desired.

Enlarged Veins.

A physician says that continuous drinking of alcoholic beverages is a common cause of the distension of minute blood vessels, particularly about the face and nose. These blood vessels are influenced each time alcohol in any quantity is taken into the system, and finally the elasticity of the walls is destroyed, and the veins become permanently enlarged, and "red nose" and "red face" result.

Colony Convicts.

Virginia was the only colony which ever received convicts, and very few were sent there, and most of those sent were political prisoners. The aristocratic element predominated. In 1676 parliament forbade the transportation of convicts to English colonies in America.

President of Gray-Dort Motors Limited, Chatham, recently appointed a director of the Standard Bank of Canada.

NARROW ESCAPE ON RY. CROSSING

THRILLING EXPERIENCE WHEN ENGINE AND CAR BACKED DOWN ON AUTOMOBILE.

NEED OF PROTECTION

There have been many complaints of the danger prevailing at the C. P. R. crossing over Aylmer street, and on more than one occasion serious if not fatal accidents have been narrowly averted.

It appears that while two flagmen are kept at this crossing, no one is on duty between the hours of seven at night and six the following morning. This is an extensively travelled thoroughfare and the city's Board of Works have concluded that such protection is not sufficient. Ald. Whitehouse's attention has been drawn very strongly to this menacing crossing by citizens of late and last night he submitted a letter to the Board of Works from Mr. Oscar S. Matchett, who last June came within an inch or two of being run down by an engine and freight car at this spot.

Mr. Matchett wrote that at 8.45 one night last month he was driving in his car along Aylmer street north, and coming to the C.P.R. crossing he looked in both directions but there was nothing in sight so far as he could see. On crossing the second track, however, a freight car backed by an engine shot out from the east. No bell was rung until Matchett was right on the crossing; no person was in sight, either on the tracks or on the freight car, neither was there a tail red light on the car nor headlight on the engine.

Mr. Matchett just cleared the freight car by only about a foot, and he hoped this matter of adequate protection at the Aylmer street crossing will be looked into. He suggested that the Railway Board be requested to order a watchman kept at this point up to at least 11 o'clock at night. This should be done, he added, before some one is killed.

Chairman Ald. Whitehouse told of another incident when a citizen and his family in a car narrowly escaped disaster on this same crossing. He urged that some action be taken by the council before some person is killed.

On motion of Ald. Gainey and Morrison, the C.P.R.'s attention will be drawn to this matter, coupled with a request that the crossing be protected by flagmen up to 11 o'clock at night.

Miss Marion McCarthy, sister of the well known English actress, has opened a schoo lin London, where women with ambitions to sit in Parliament are taught the art of politics.

The combination of sheer linen or lawn with the stronger grades of lace is not only one of the most attractive, but one of the best wearing for summer frocks, and, to judge by the West End shop windows, it is also at the height of fashion, says a Lon-

ABUSING THE EYES.

Reading While Rocking Is a Mighty Harmful Habit.

A well known oculist declares that women injure their eyes, sometimes seriously, by swinging back and forth in a rocking chair while reading. This practice is especially injurious when one is reading by an artificial light or by daylight when the sway of the rocker makes shadows come and go on the printed page. Rigidly as one may think one's book is held, there is bound to be a little unsteadiness of the page as the chair goes forward and back, and the eyes must adjust themselves rapidly to the changing focus.

Every one knows the danger of reading in a fast moving railroad train, but reading in a fast moving rocking chair is qute as bad. Women who use a low rocker for sewing seldom sway back and forth much when an important bit of work is in hand. The chair stops, and interest is concentrated on the problem of stitching or hemming, but many a woman will read and rock, rock and read, through a whole evening and perhaps every time her chair comes forward the shadow of the lamp shade fringe is cast across the page of her book, this in addition to the continual change of focus made necessary for long suffering eyes.

A rocking chair is not really restful, and most women rock from nervous habit; the more nervous they are the faster they rock. Man really rests and relaxes when he sits down in a deep, rockerless armchair. Who ever saw a man rocking violently and smoking a cigar at the same time? The woman who can sit perfectly still with folded hands while she rests and spend an hour reading without rocking or swinging one foot with knees crossed will benefit in nerves and in eyes from the resting or the reading. She who rocks and reads will certainly feel eye strain from the practice sooner or later.

No Parallels In Nature.

The wise men say there are no parallels in nature, that no one thing in the wide universe exactly mates and matches any other one thing, that each cloud has differed from every other cloud form in any hour of the day and night or day or yesterday, and so on back through the forgotten centuries, and no two leaves in form, color or texture lift the same faces to the sun on any day of the millions of years; that no wave on any beach curves and falls as any wave has curved and fallen before, not since this planet cooled. And so it is with the whirls and the crystals of driving snow, with the sand and splash of rain and so, too, with the flight of birds, the dash and tumble of the restless brook and the roar of lawless thunder and the cry of birds.—F. Hopkinson Smith.

Perfect Physical Poise.

For the perfect physical poise we don't need to study pictures in the modern magazines. The ideal form is well expressed in sculpture dating back to 500 to 600 B. C., when the Spartans were masters of Greece. These ancients, says Popular Science Monthly, carried themselves in such a way that the muscles, organs, circulation and even the brain and nervous system were braced in harmonious relationship. How can we attain the same poise in walking? Briefly, by setting the shoulders back and squaring them evenly, by carrying the chest high and well arched forward, by keeping the stomach in and the neck perpendicular, like a column, and by forcing the chin in.

Right From the Heart.

A little boy in the city followed the suggestions of his father (who somehow in the midst of "the turmoil" has managed to live for the good things of life and let the banalities which take up the popular attention alone) that he keep a diary.

The little fellow found it rather difficult to make records, not understanding that the human document must be beautifully simple. But one day he struck the keynote of life with just one bold, unconscious stroke:

"This has been a fine day. Mother did not go anywhere all day."

Canes of Rhinoceros Horn.

Probably some of the most expensive canes to manufacture are those from rhinoceros horns. Such a cane, when made of one piece of horn, often costs as high as $500. The high price is due to the expert treatment which the rhinoceros horn requires immediately after the beast has been slain.

Detailed statements of the companies involved, agreements, guarantees, and leases are on file and open to inspection by purchasers of stock.

PURPOSE OF THIS ISSUE

The King Edward Construction Co., Limited, has been incorporated for the purpose of constructing an addition to the King Edward Hotel of Toronto, one of the chain of United Hotels Company of America, and has acquired the remainder of the block on King Street, Toronto, now occupied in part by the King Edward Hotel Co., Limited. When completed, the King Edward Hotel will occupy the whole block fronting on King Street. The addition will be a modern fireproof building of eighteen storeys, having light and space on each side. There will be 500 guest rooms and 500 bathrooms, or bath connections. The estimated cost of land, building and equipment is $3,500,000. Of this $1,300,000 has been arranged for by issuance of a first mortgage, the balance to be provided from the proceeds of the sale of the Company's Preferred Stock.

Toronto Needs More Hotel Accomodation

Toronto, with a population over half a million, has less than 500 rooms in fireproof hotels, 400 of which are in the King Edward. On completion of the addition there will still be only 1,000 fireproof rooms available. This is a smaller percentage than in any other city of its size in America.

LEASE

The King Edward Hotel Company has made an agreement by which it leases the new addition for a period of thirty years, at a rental sufficient—

To create a Sinking Fund to wipe out the first mortgage at the end of the lease,
To pay the interest on the mortgage,
To pay 8 per cent. dividends on the Cumulative Preferred Stock,
To pay 10 per cent. on the Common Stock,
To pay all taxes, rates, insurance, and repairs.

OPERATION

The King Edward Hotel was acquired on April 1st, 1918, by the United Hotels Company of America, since which time it has been an unsurpassed success.

EARNINGS

It is estimated that the completed hotel can be operated at 50 per cent. increase over the present cost of operation of the King Edward Hotel. The earnings, based on accomplishments to date, would justify an expectation of a surplus in excess of $400,000.00 net per annum to the King Edward Hotel Company, Limited, after making all payments under the lease.

INCOME

A summary of the estimated annual income of the King Edward Hotel Company, Limited, with the whole building completed, prepared by Mr. George H. O'Neil, Manager of the United Hotels Company system in Canada, and Charles Doherty, the General Auditor of the United Hotels Company of America, is as follows:

Income from rooms, food sales, soft drink sales, sub-rentals, and commissions	$2,829,696.77
Expense.
Interest, sinking fund, dividends, supplies, depreciation, and all other expenses	2,407,000.00
Estimated Profit	$ 422,696.77

It will be observed from the estimate of annual income that the sub-rentals, including those now available from the present hotel, together with the rentals received from the stores and offices of the new building, including commissions, amount to $325,000.00 per annum, and that the average increase in room price over that now obtaining is but seventeen cents per room, allowing 20 per cent. vacancies, and that the increase in food sales is estimated at but one-half million dollars.

Preferred Stock—Guarantees and Safeguards

The dividend on the Preferred Stock is guaranteed unconditionally and irrevocably, both by the King Edward Hotel Company, Limited, and the United Hotels Company of America, by trust agreement with the Toronto General Trusts Corporation, Trustee for stockholders. The Sinking Fund is to be applied to wipe out the outstanding mortgage in thirty years, thereby leaving the entire property as security for the Preferred Stock, and no additional mortgage or lien or issues or prior or equal Preferred Stock shall be made without obtaining the consent of 60% of the holders of the then outstanding Preferred Stock. The dividend of 10% on the Common Stock is provided for by the terms of the lease and agreement with the King Edward Hotel Company, Limited. Terms of the lease by the King Edward Hotel Company, Limited, make the dividends and Sinking Fund payments of the King Edward Construction Company, Limited, a direct obligation of the former company, and therefore payable before dividends on that Company's stock.

Parent Organization

The United Hotels Company of America, Guarantor, controls seventeen modern fireproof hotels in the United States and Canada, and the net earnings of hotels in operation for a full year (deducting interest and depreciation) for the year 1919, were $893,358.79. Three of these hotels are in the course of construction, and The Seneca, Rochester, was not acquired until 1920. It is safe to say that no company operating hotels in North America was ever better organized or equipped than the United Hotels Company of America.

All legal details, leases, and guarantees in connection with this issue have been passed upon by Messrs. Starr, Spence, Cooper & Fraser, Barristers of Toronto, Canada. For complete details concerning this issue we refer to the accompanying letter by Mr. Frank A. Dudley, President of the United Hotels Company of America.

LIGHTS OF THE NIGHT.

The Heavens Shine as Ever, While This Old World Changes.

Night is the astronomer's accepted time. He goes to his delightful labors when the busy world goes to its rest. A dark pall spreads over the resorts of active life; terrestrial objects, hill and valley, and rock and stream, and the abodes of men disappear; but the curtain is drawn up which concealed the heavenly hosts.

There they shine and there they move as they moved and shone to the eyes of Newton and Galileo, of Kepler and Copernicus, of Ptolemy and Hipparchus—yes, as they moved and shone when the morning stars sang together and all the sons of God shouted for joy.

All has changed on earth, but the glorious heavens remain unchanged. The plow passes over the site of mighty cities; the homes of powerful nations are desolate; the languages they spoke are forgotten, but the stars that shone for them are shining for us; the same eclipses run their steady circle; the same equinoxes call out the flowers of spring and send the husbandman to the harvest; the sun passes at either tropic as he did when his course began, and sun and moon, and planet and satellite, and star and constellation and galaxy, still bear witness to the power, the wisdom and the love which placed them in the heavens and upholds them there.

The Judge Silenced.

In the famous trial of the dean of St. Asaph, Mr. Erskine, the great English lawyer, put a question to the jury relative to the meaning of their verdict. Justice Buller objected to its propriety. The counsel reiterated his question and demanded an answer. The judge again interposed his authority in these emphatic words:

"Sit down, Mr. Erskine. Know your duty or I shall be obliged to make you know it."

Mr. Erskine, with equal warmth, replied: "I know my duty as well as your lordship knows your duty. I stand here as the advocate of a fellow citizen, and I will not sit down."

The judge was silent, and the advocate persisted in his questions.—London Opinion.

Human Horns.

In the anatomical museum of the Edinburgh university four horns are preserved which had grown upon human heads. One of these is about seven inches long, as thick as the little finger and crooked in shape. A label attached to it bears this inscription: "This horn was cut by Arthur Temple, chirurgeon, out of the head of Elizabeth Low, being three inches above the right ear, before witnesses, the 14th of May, 1671. It was a-growing seven yeares. Her age is fifty yeares."

The three other human horns also graced the heads of ladies.

Shakespeare and the Rose.

The rose must have been Shakespeare's favorite flower, if one with so catholic a taste can be said to have favored one above another. He speaks of it at least eighty times, using it in several cases as the symbol of perfection, as where Ophelia describes Hamlet as "the 'rose' of the fair state."

As He Golfed.

"I just now met Richson. He said he was going out to play a little golf."

"He probably told the truth. Richson can go through more motions and play less golf than any other man of my acquaintance."

LESSONS IN MILLINERY

Manitoba Government Publishes Book of Instructions.

(Canadian Press.)

WINNIPEG, Man., July 24.—The Manitoba Government has inaugurated something new for the ladies. A 32-page bulletin "Lessons in Millinery" has just ben published by the Manitoba Department of Agriculture. The bulletin, which contains illustrations, describes very carefully and clearly the various operations in connection with hat making, and is not dependent upon the present millinery styles. The matter of styles is scarcely discussed at all—it is not a book of styles, but a book of instructions as to how to perform the various fundamental millinery operations.

RESOLUTE'S SKIPPER SAILED A FAULTLESS RACE OVER TRIANGLE

WITHOUT THE TIME ALLOWANCE SHAMROCK WAS 3 MINS. 18 SEC. BEHIND RESOLUTE AT THE FINISH—RACE REPLETE WITH INCIDENT.

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, July 24.— Resolute, the trim, white Bristol sloop, creation of the famous Herressoff, slid down the finish line yesterday in front of Shamrock IV, the green, snub-nosed Gosport racer, the hope and pride of Sir Thomas Lipton, and to-day the big yachts meet for the fifth and deciding race for America's Cup. The boats are now on equal terms, with two wins each. To-day's race will be over a windward and leeward course, at which the defender is popularly supposed to excell.

Shamrock was beaten over her pet course, the tri-angle affording plenty of opportuity for her to show her superiority in reaching. The wind ranged from fitful gusts to a fresh breeze, which held the sloops down until their lee rails were awash. Conditions were such as to lead to the belief that the challenger would at least finish in front of the Resolute. But the latter won by three minutes and eighteen seconds actual time, and by nine minutes and fifty-eight seconds corrected time, which indicates that the Resolute was much better, boat for boat. Charles Francis Adams, amateur skipper of the winner, sailed a faultless race.

The contest was fraught with dramatic incidents. Sun, wind, fog, black squall and piping breeze all played their part. Resolute led throughout the race, but was stouty challenged by the Lipton candidate toward the end of the 30 mile heat.

A STORMY NIGHT

(Canadian Press)

SANDYHOOK, July 24.—Resolute and Shamrock IV to-day made ready for the final battle for America's Cup, in series of squalls which followed furious electrical storm during the night. When the sloops began making sail, wind had piped out of south west to eighteen knots, and crested waves beat upon shore. It was just such day as real sailorman loves to weigh anchor and head seaward carrying every sail his ship will bear During the storm forked lightning played incessantly thout towering spars of single stickers while a gale of wind tore through the rigging. Downpour followed the blow. The sloops tugged at their mooring buoys but deck watches reported that the yachts were unharmed and were ready for race. To-day's contest is set for thirty mile windward and lee ward course and advantage lies with Resolute which in all previous races has shown superiority in a thrash into wind.

BETTING AGAIN IN FAVOUR OF RESOLUTE

Special to The Examiner.

NEW YORK, July 24. — Wall street was betting two to one to-day that the Resolute would take to-day's yacht race and the series from Shamrock IV.

Practically no money was in sight on the British boat.

To-day's Race Postponed.

SANDY HOOK, July 24.—At noon it was officially announced that the race was postponed for to-day. Reasqn given for postponement was on account of heavy, squally weather.

HOCKEY TOURISTS WARNED

Shifts of Players Promise to be Closely Scrutinized — Pros. for Hamilton.

There is a rude shock coming to the hockey manager and to the players who are shifting residence so promiscuously. July 31 is the last day for changing residence under the O.H.A. rules, but the fact that a player is at such and such a stand on that date does not necessarily mean that he will be allowed to play there or elsewhere. A close scrutiny of residence shifters is promised, brought about largely by this Port Colborne shift of Sudbury and other players. The Northern Ontario Hockey Association Executive will co-operate with the O.H.A. in suppressing the tourists.

HAMILTON, July 23.—Percy Thompson, manager of the Arena, says there will be professional hockey here next winter, and that Hamilton will have the Quebec franchise and players. The new arena is expected to be completed before September. The seating accommodation will be 4,200, and altogether over 6,000 will be able to crowd in.

CANADA'S ATHLETES LACK DEVELOPMENT

WALTER KNOX SAYS PREPARATION SHOULD BE MADE NOW FOR NEXT OLYMPIAD.

(Toronto Telegram)

The complaints that Canada cannot hope to win many points at the Olympic games have been loud, long and unfortunately well founded Walter Knox, the coach of the team, remarked here that Canada would do better to spend its money developing athletes for the next Olympics, four years hence, than wasee it sending over men without an earthly chance of winning. Canada, it is hoped, will win some points, and only possible point winners should have been chosen. A trip to Antwerp by men beaten badly before they sail is not helping Canada much, athletically or otherwise.

Canada has athletic possibilities, but they have no been developed.

Guy Piton, a young man of 19, jumped 9 ft. 8 1-2 in a standing broad jump the other night here. This boy beat the best anybody could do in the Olympic trials, but when he went to the competition for the Olympics he found that the method he had been following was not correct or according to Olympic rules. It wasn't young Piton's fault, but it was somebody's Few at these trials knew what the rules were.

A boy, the best in his school at putting the shot, who has competed all through h.s Public school course in annual games, and has everything to make him a weight man, was recently and accidently seen putting it from the wrong foot. He had never known until told then that he was losing feet on his put, and had never been taught the proper method.

These are two cases, there are hundreds, and the country is naturally worse than the city.

Stewart beat all Canadian records throwing the javelin, but Stewart added whole yards to his throw coached properly a couple of times.

That is the sore in Canadian athletics.

MUST REMOVE WEEDS FROM PRIVATE PROPERTY

Discussion in the Board of Works last night elicited the fact that under a by-law people can be compelled to destroy obnoxious weeds on their property.

Ald. Gainey was informed that this by-law did not apply to city highway property facing one's premises and Ald. Hamilton advocated petitioning for legislation to permit of a city by-law penalizing residents for not removing weed growth on streets opposite their premises.

No definite action was taken in this matter but Chairman Ald. Whitehouse said he thought of advertising that the police had been notified to enforce the removal by citizens of weeds on their property.

NEGRO FAILS TO EVADE SCAFFOLD.

EASTON, MD., July 23. — Isaiah Fountain, negro, convicted of a statutory crime, tried twice to cheat the law before he was hung here early today. Fountain shortly after midnight tried to end his life by cutting his throat and later by hanging himself with the bed cloths. Both times the jail attaches interfered.

Fountain was arested two years ago and twice escaped the jail. Mobs had several times threatened his life.

WEST PETERBORO AS POLITICAL INDEX

MR. BURNHAM NOT STANDING FOR ANY PARTY OR CLASS, HE WRITES.

Mr. Burnham wishes The Examiner to correct the report that he is standing at the coming bye-election for any party, class or interest. He is standing with the hope that West Peterboro will help to show the people at Ottawa what the feeling in Canada is regarding an appeal to the people and the settlement by the people of what they want to be their post-war policy. It is a most dangerous and undesirable thing in Mr. Burnham's opinion to ignore the people.

MAY PUT MOTORS ON RATION OF GAS

SYSTEM DESIGNED BY REFINERS IN AN EFFORT TO CURTAIL CONSUMPTION.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—A gasoline rationing system to be applied throughout the entire United States now is being considered by big refiners.

The rationing system is designed by the refiners as a last resort to curtail consumption and to keep the price from being forced to more than 40 cents a gallon, government officials have been informed by the representatives of the refiners.

Vict-President T. A. Dines, of the Mid-Western Refining Company, is one of the officials who has conferred with the government.

Refiners say curtailing consumption is the only way to keep down prices. Before adopting the rationing system, they plan to issue a nation-wide appeal to the country to cut down joyriding.

Dole Out Quantities.

As devised by the refiners the rationing plan would be a voluntary one by dealers in which the Government would have no hand. It would mean that gasoline would be doled out to dealers under a fixed quota for each state or locality.

California now is on gas ration.

Gas now is selling from 31 to 39 cents a gallon. It is highest in New Mexico and Northern New York.

Consumption now is reported by refiners as 13,000,000 gallons a day. Production is 2,000,000 less, or 11,000,000 gallons a day. Reserve stocks therefore are drawn on at the rate of about 60000,000 gallons a month, according to producers' figures.

On 30th May, reserve stocks totalled 577,000,000 gallons, according to the Bureau of Mines. On 30th April the total was 643,552,000 gallons, a reserve which was built up during the winter and constituted one of the largest in history.

Refiners say it is impossible to increase production. They say oil now is being produced faster than ever before. In June, for instance, 11,087 oil wells were being drilled.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

NEW YIRK SPENDING $25,000,000 ON THEATRES

Has Already 650 in Metropolitan District.

NEW YORK, July 24.—Millions are being spent for new playhouses to insure New Yorkers ample amusement this winter, although flatbuilders cannot get loans for housing the masses of the metropolitan district.

This was revealed today when a survey was made of the rush of theatre constructions, which disclosed that $25,000,000 worth of new amusement houses were under way.

Many of the new playhouses are wiping out old flats and dwellings urgently needed for homes, social welfare investigators declare, and as a result the housing shortage is becoming more acute.

MIDDLETOWN, N.J., July 25.—the immense sums pouring into places of amusement are justified as the new construction guarantees them a profitable return on the investment.

Although there are 500 running theatres in the greater city and 650 in the entire metropolitan district eight new theatres costing more than $12,000,000 are planned in Long Acre Times Square district, three in Greenwich Village, four large houses and a score of smaller houses etaoin and a score of smaller theatres in the Bronx, three in Washington Heights and five in Brooklyn.

There are now 115 theatres operating in Brooklyn.

BRANTFORD PRISONER FINDS LIQUOR IN CELL

BRANTFORD, July 24.—Because of the fact that the Brantford police depot has no safe place in which to store liquor seized by the police, it came out that a prisoner incarcerated for being drunk woke up in the morning with a real parch and discovered that there were 25 cases of gin in one of the cells. He found a wire and had a knife and made good in opening one of the cases. Whe he was about to be arraigned in the morning he was in such a condition that he had to be sent to the hospital for treatment. He almos killed himself. When questioned he told the police how he had managed to get in the cell which contained all the gin.

In the early days of its history the earth grew rapidly by the addition of meteoric matter. It is still growing in the same manner though scarcely to an appreciable extent, for the mass of meteoric matter added yearly is growing less each year.

HON. BEN BOWMAN USES PRIVATE CAR

BUT ORDINARY RAILWAY COACH GOOD ENOUGH FOR PREMIER DRURY.

TORONTO, July 24.—When Hon. Beniah Bowman travels he travels in state, as befits a Cabinet Minister. No uncomfortable coach such as is good enough for the common, ordinary traveller is good enough for the Hon. Mr. Bowman. For some time past the Minister has been touring the North country in the Government private car "Whitney," and rather than have so much perfectly good space going to waste, he is taking along for a part of the trip a number of his many relatives. Just who composed the party could not be definitely learned at the Parliament Buildings yesterday, but it is said that Mr. Bowman, besides taking along his wife and young son, is acting as host to several of his brothers, and his father and mother-in-law.

The requisition for the car was signed by Premier Drury, the need for it being the absence of suitable accommodation at places where the Minister was compelled to stop on his trip. Mr. Drury smilingly stated that he did not know the personnel of Mr. Bowman's party.

The Premier and Hon. Manning Doherty are going North, but they will not travel in a private car. The purpose of their visit is to get at the facts of the disoute between the farmers of the Sudbury district and the nickel companies regarding the effect upon crops of the fumes from the nickel plants. The dispute is a long-standing one, the settlers claiming that the fumes are destroying their crops, while experts employed by the companies say that the crops are dying of disease.

BARN DESTROYED BY FIRE

During a severe electrical storm the lightning struck the barn of Mr. John McPhee, Ingoldsby, resulting in its complete destruction along with a stable attached to it. The fire commenced on the side of the barn next the lake, allowing time for most of the contents to be taken out, with the exception of a fanning mill, a plow and a quantity of hay. The buildings were insured. Though the storm was geqneral and lasted for several hours no other damage has been reported.

SUCCESS AT THE BAT.

It Is Not Acquired by Striving to Outguess the Pitcher.

The batter who tries to outguess a pitcher is making a big mistake. He should try to figure out what the hurler probably will do, but at the same time should be set and ready for anything and prepared to shift at short notice. Making up your mind in advance that you are going to hit a certain ball and then swinging at it regardless of where it may come will never get you into the .300 class.

Let me caution every young player against acquiring the bad habit of trying to "kill" the ball. Thousands of fellows who might otherwise have become good batters have been ruined because they wanted to knock a home run every time up. If you meet the ball squarely and get the right amount of snap in your swing you do not need to take a windup and lunge at it with all your might.

There is a lot of life in a baseball, and when you hit it "on the nose" you don't need all your weight behind the bat. If you take care to apply your power at the right moment, so that you will get the ball well out in front of you at the point where your swing is fastest and most powerful, the distance and speed will take care of themselves.

There never was a great hitter yet that swung with all his might all the time. You may argue that the harder you poke the ball the longer distance you will get, but the trouble is that it is practically impossible to time your blow properly and hit the ball squarely when you take a "washerwoman's swing." Once in a hundred times you might happen to do so, but the other ninety-nine times you would just be making yourself ridiculous.

And no player is of much value to his team if he gets a home run once a year and either fans or sends up easy flies or rolls feeble grounders the rest of the time.

Every man must in a way be his own trainer in baseball.

GIRL RISKS HATRED OF MAN SHE LOVES

KATHERINE MacDONALD FEIGNS SCORN IN "THE TURNING POINT" AT ALLEN.

Rather than see James Edgerton, a society youth, waste his life in mere pursuit of pleasure, Diana Tennant, played by Katherine MacDonald in "The Turning Point," which opens at the Allen Theatre, commencing Monday, holds her love in abeyance and risks his hatred to point out the way of manhood to him.

"The Turning Point," is the third and declared to be the best of the productions of "the American Beauty" following the forming of her own production unit and the negotiations with First National Exhibitors' Circuit to distribute her attractions.

The story, which is an adaptation of the Robert W. Chambers' novel of the same title, tells the story of the failure of the firm of Edgerton-Tennant Company, as a result of which Diana Tennant and James Edgerton, daughter and son of the dead partners are thrown on their own resources. By chance they meet in New York City.

A mutual love interest is checked when, in order to be constantly with Diana, Edgerton decides to assist her in her career as a professional hostess for fashionable affairs. To save the man she loves, Diana forces him to declare his love and then points out the right way for him to earn the love and admiration of a woman.

Succeeding incidents lead Diana to strongly suspect that her great love has robbed her of Edgerton forever. Meanwhile a shadow of the most unfortunate incident of her life is constantly cast before her by a disreputable Col. Curmew who seeks to frighten her into taking steps that would make her unworthy of her ideals.

The exciting moment comes when all evidence is against her. A revelation of the true Reno event has been made. And Edgerton, who has been listening at an open door, walks into the room.

CAPITAL AND LABOUR.

Subject of Rev. R. Pogue's Address on Sunday Night.

Every effort made to bring about a better understanding between capital and labour ought to have the sympathy of everyone to-day. In no place can such an understanding better be advanced than in the pulpit. The Christian solution of this, as of every other problem, is the final one. This subject is to be discussed on Sabbath evening in the union services in the George Street Church, by the Rev. R Pogue. He will speak on the "Christian as Master and Servant," and he extends an invitation to both classes to be present to hear his message.

WILLIAMS
NEW SCALE

IN providing proper musical education for the young, the use of a really good piano is essential. The growing child will be influenced for life and his or her ear formed, by early impressions. Give your children the best examples and none but the best will please them in after years. The pure, sweet, resonant tone of the Williams has earned the cordial recommendation of many great artists. And this tone quality endures because of the instrument's perfect construction in every detail.

VIRTUOUS WIVES

By OWEN JOHNSON

"And I? Haven't I been humiliated before them?" he said sternly. "'Humiliate'—that's good! What do you suppose Gregory thought when he heard that young cub lie to me!"

"Andrew, be careful!"

"Exactly. I intend to be a little more careful about many things."

Before she could protest, Gregory came in, fumbling at the buttons of the duster he had forgotten to change. The butler's agitation fanned Andrew's fury.

"They know everything. They've already been talking it over! This is what it's come to!" he thought. Aloud he said,

"Gregory, in the future, when Mr. Dawson calls here, whenever it may be, neither Mrs. Forrester nor I are at home. Do you understand?"

"Yes, sir—perfectly, sir," said Gregory, with a frightened look.

"That's all." And as the butler stood glancing from husband to wife, he cried, "Well, why do you stand there? Didn't you hear me? That's all, I said!"

Gregory backed out, bumping against the wall, seized the knob and closed the door with a crash.

"That clears the atmosphere," said Forrester deliberately.

Amy was in a confict of two emotions. The further Andrew receded from her control, the more she felt a thrill of admiration at his masterfulness. But this sentiment was immediately brushed aside by the shock to her pride. A servant had been witness of this sudden superiority, which in itself fascinated her. She had received the greatest affront she had ever experienced. In this home, where her whim had been law, suddenly the man had stepped in and shown who was master.

"This I shall never forgive!" she said in a hard voice. In her everything grew cold and rigid, and, all at once, from the weak, passionate longing for his caress of a moment before, she felt a blind, uneasy revolt, a hatred, the same hardening of all her nature that she had been amazed to see in him.

"I am not through," he said, checking her with a gesture. "I shall assume that after what has happened Dawson will not appear at your dance."

"I shall dance with Mr. Dawson," she said slowly.

"I forbid you. Understand me, I forbid you!"

"And I tell you now," she cried, facing him defiantly, "now, after what you've done, I shall dance with Tody Dawson!"

"I think, when you consider calmly," he said sternly, "when you realize what such a defiance will mean—you will do nothing of the kind. What you do outside my house, whom you see, I cannot control; but here in my home—"

"It is my house as much as yours!" she cried indignantly.

"Quite true; but there is one obligation incumbent on you," he said sternly, "to see that my dignity is respected. When any man tells me a lie as to the motives of his tete-a-tete with you—he doesn't come in here again."

"Andrew—I warn you, Andrew, I won' accept this," she said, in a choking voice.

"You must take the responsibility of your own decision then," he said coldly. He looked at her a moment and drew a clipping from his pocket. "I don't know whether you have read this pleasant reference to us. I have." And he flung on the table the unlucky number of the Tattle-tale.

"You don't accuse me—" she began indignantly, when as though the imps of ill chance were determined to overwhelm her with false testimony, for the third time, the telephone broke in. Their nerves were at the snapping tension. The metallic, shrill note was the last irritation to him.

"What—another!" he cried, with an ugly laugh. "So this is what it's come to!"

His hand went out in blind anger, struck the telephone and swept it from the table. With a crash it went rolling to the floor between them. She shrank back with a scream, throwing up her arm. He stood breathing hard, his lips working spasmodically. Then, with an effort, he turned and rushed from the room.

CHAPTER VI.

"Can this be Andrew?" Amy said to herself in amazement. Had the floor suddenly parted and Gregory appeared on extended wings, she could not have been more astonished. For two years she had never known her husband but as the most complaisant and tractable of men, unfailing in good humor, proud of her social triumphs, an inexhaustible bank to meet every caprice. Twenty times she had said to Irma:

"Andrew is the most perfect of husbands. He lets me do exactly what I want. He has absolute faith in me. Really, I think he adores it, the more men are attentive to me."

And, all at once, without warning, this outburst, this arbitrary and violent climax, of Dawson's banishment! She who had looked at other wives in superior pride had suddenly been overwhelmed with the ugly reality. The first quarrel had come, and with it the realization that here was a new man—very different from the adoring Andrew of the past—a will and a temper to be reckoned with in future, an anger that had left her cold with physical fear!

She stooped and picked up Dawson's card, now twisted into an unrecognizable shred, and the copy of the Tattle-tale which he had flung down. Then, noticing the telephone, she swept it up hastily But no sooner had she replaced the receiver, than the bell took up its shrill clamoring.

For the moment, she was seized with the same violent desire to sweep it aside which had possessed her husband.

"Well, who is it?" she demanded angrily.

It was Tody Dawson.

She covered the receiver hastily and glanced about with a frightened look.

"Mrs. Forrester is out!" she said abruptly, and set the received down with a bang. Of course, he had telephoned to warn her of his break, but the boyish imprudence of the move increased her irritation.

"The worst is, I acted as though I were guilty," she thought, as she entered her boudoir. Her cheeks were burning with a dry, feverish anger. She repeated insistently, "No; never—I'll never forgive him!"

Her husband's room adjoined hers. She marched directly to the door, threw it open, and said sharply,

"Andrew!"

The room was empty. He had left the house. She came back, frowning and uneasy, vaguely alarmed at this disappearance, which her excited imagination magnified. What could she do? There must be some explanation—matters could not be left like this. She dressed, glanced at the clock, and hurried down to the waiting car.

"Why did I act as though I were guilty?" she repeated, frowning. "I even told a lie, a foolish lie!"

Yet it was impossible to forgive such a public humiliation—quite impossible! Then her anger veered to Tody. What had possessed him to tell such a stupid lie—to call up on the telephone, when her husband might have been there? Perhaps Andrew had overheard—there was a connection in his room—perhaps that was why he had rushed away. Of course, if he was jealous, it did look terrible, with all those unfortunate telephone calls. Suddenly she sat upright.

"But Andrew himself told me to play all I wanted to—of course she did! And now he reproaches me!"

Why hadn't she thought of that at the time of their quarrel? There was her answer—to him and to all the doubts which had troubled her conscience. She had done only what he had wished her to do. If she had unwittingly offended against appearances, he was responsible. Her innocence appeared to be so radiantly clear that she settled back with a deep sigh of content. When she saw him again, she would confront him with this defence. What could he answer? Absolutely nothing! So relieved was her conscience that by the time she reached Lazare's, she was in the mood to make excuses for what she had sworn never to forgive.

It was almost two by the bulb clock hid in the palms as she hurried through the antechamber, where the first person she ran into was Mrs. Dellabarre, who had been telephoning frantically.

"Really, Amy—when we are going to a matinee—this is exaggerating it!"

"My dear, Andrew turned up unexpedly," she began glibly. "I just could not get away."

She was in the dining room, smiling to the right and to the left, making for a corner table which was always reserved for their special group. Gladys Challoner's eyes were sharp and malicious; it would never do to let her suspect the quarrel. She was composing her expression when, all at once, she was thrown off her guard. At their table, where they had drawn up chairs for a word of greeting, she saw her cousin, Fifi Nordstrum, and Monte Bracken.

She had known that he was returned from Europe. She had read of his exploits lately at Palm Beach, but in the long intervals since she had last seen him, the impression of their last intimate conversation had remained so vivid in her imagination that to happen upon him now in this odd conjecture startled her.

He arose at her approach. By the look in his eyes she saw that he did not at once recognize her, until, by Fifi's greeting, he could place her.

"Sorry to be late—husband turned up," she said lightly. "Why, Fifi dear, thought you were in Florida!"

"Just bobbed up," said Fifi, embracing her. "Go on, Monte. Monte is too delightful," she added, in explanation. "He has just been wiping up the floor with us, and Gladys and Kitty are furious."

"Monte is exceedingly personal," said Mrs. Challoner frigidly.

"Rats!" said Fifi." There are thousands like you, Gladys."

"But what's he been saying?" said Irma encouragingly.

"The most dastardly attack I could make," said Bracken, smiling. "If I had accused you of being uneducated, parasites, or immoral, that would be nothing. But I remarked that the New York woman did not know how to dress, and the row started."

"But, Monte, every one admits that we are the best dressed women in the world!" said Irma, in protest.

"There you go! What do you mean by best-dressed?"

"What do you mean?"

One day when Robert Lansing was secretary of state an old negro woman made her way into his office and asked him to use his influence to obtain a pardon for her husband, who was in jail.

"What's he in for?" asked Mr. Lansing.

"Fo' nothin' but stealin' a ham," explained his wife.

"You don't want him pardoned," argued Mr. Lansing. "If he got out again he would very likely only make trouble for you again."

"Deed I does want him out of dat place," she objected. "I need dat man."

"Why do you need him?" inquired Mr. Lansing.

"Me an' de children," she said, "needs another ham!"

There is wealth just now in old wine glass in England. Prices have been rising for the last six months—and as much as 365 pounds was paid in an auction-room last week for one Jacobean wine glass. Three dealers who are specializing in old glass wanted it, and the rest of a large audience watched the battle with wonderment that grew as the bids mounted. The "boom" in wine glasses began with the sale of a Somersetshire collection a few months ago. These glasses, purchased at 2 shillings, 6 pence apiece, in the lifetime of the vendor, fetched from 40 to 60 pounds apiece. Kensington and Knightsbridge have found something like a corner in wine glasses.

Never a corn
on millions of feet nowadays

Do you know that millions of people who use Blue-jay keep entirely free from corns?

If a corn appears it is ended by a touch. A Blue-jay plaster or a drop of liquid Blue-jay is applied.

The corn pain stops. Soon the whole corn loosens and comes out.

The method is scientific. It is gentle, easy, sure. Old-time harsh treatments are supplanted by it with everyone who knows it.

It is made by a world-famed laboratory, which every physician respects.

It is now applied to some 20 million corns a year. You can see that corn troubles are fast disappearing.

Then why pare corns and keep them? Why use methods which are out-of-date?

Try this new-day method. See what it does to one corn. You will never forget its quick and gentle action. Your druggist sells Blue-jay.

TWO CARS CLASHED.

Minor Accident at Corner of Smicoe and Water treets.

At 12.10 o'clock last night a car driven by Frank Patterson, 463 Hunter street, struck a car driven by G. W. Watson of the Empress Hotel, at the corner of Simcoe and Water streets, pushing it up on the sidewalk in front of the Bank of Montreal and smashing the left running board, the left fender, wheel and axle.

Watson was going south of Water street and Patterson west on Simcoe street. Patterson admitted that he was in the wrong, as Watson had the right of way and agreed to pay for the damage to Watson's car.

The bumper was torn from Patterson's car.

CASE DISMISSED.

Norwood Woman Charged with Assault.

Mrs. William McColl, of Norwood, appeared before Magistrate Langley in Norwood yesterday on a charge of committing an assault occasioning grievous bodily harm on the person of Nellie Bonds. The evidence was that several little girls were engaged in a street fight outside Mrs. McColl's house, and that Mrs. McColl attempted to stop them. She held a switch in her hand, and it was alleged that she attacked Nellie Bonds with the switch.

The Magistrate, however, considered that the evidence did not prove a charge of assault, as both the defendant and a witness denied that there was an assault committed, and acquitted Mrs. McColl.

CONDITION OF COLLINS, LINDSAY MAN, SERIOUS

Poisoned by Gas in Toronto. Money Had Disappeared.

LINDSAY, June 24.—Information was received in town to the effect that Mr. Terrence Collins, who was poisoned by illuminating gas in the Daly House, Toronto, Wednesday night, was still in an unconscious condition at the General Hospital.

It has also been learned that when Mr. Collins had reached the hospital it was found that all his money had disappeared except a dollar. This gives the incident a suspicious tinge as Mr. Collins was known to have carried considerable money.

STOMACH TROUBLE!

The nerves, which carry life energy to the stomach, leave the spinal cord through openings between the bony segments of the spinal column in the same manner as the nerves which supply the muscles of the thorox and abdomen. An abnormal position of certain bony segments will cause pressure upon the nerves supplying the stomach, and "stomach trouble" is the result. Chiropractic adjustments will relieve this pressure, the stomach will then receive its proper amount of life energy and is capable of performing its normal function. Why suffer with stomach trouble, when Chiropractic will get you well?

GOOD APPOINTMENT FOR CAPT. MORRISON

IS ONE OF SIXTEEN IMMIGRATION INSPECTORS AT NIAGARA FALLS.

Returning from Ottawa on Friday, where he had passed the departmental examinations very successfully, Capt. A. S. Morrison is directed to hasten to his new duties, those of one of the sixteen immigration inspectors at Niagara Falls, Ont. He leaves to-day, and the family will follow so soon as arrangements may be made.

After return from service overseas Capt. Morrison was made chief of munitions inspection in Peterboro, and held the position until the making of munitions ceased. He was the appointed as the local officer of the Information and Service Branch of the S.C.R. here, working in conjunction with the Ontario Employment Bureau. This duty he discharged until the branch of the service was formally closed, beginning of June last. His present employment at Niagara Falls follows on as a recognition of his ability and capability in the handling of such matters.

His many friends and well-wishers will be pleased at his preferment. For a time Capt. Morrison was president of the local branch of the Great War Veterans' Association going out of office owing to enlargement of duties claiming constant attention. He was concerned very closely in the distribution for this district of the Unemployment Emergency Appropriation last winter, the duty of verification in this connection falling on him for purposes outside the city. He was commended for his able handling of the duty and situation.

People from Peterboro, and who have any perplexities when coming to cross to the States at Niagara, may ask for Capt. (Inspector) Morrison and be set straight and relieved from any anxiety. It is always well to have a friend in court, as the saying goes.

Woman Knocked Down But Unhurt on George street.

A car driven by J. J. Fallon, 145 Stewart street, struck an elderly woman at the corner of Dublin and George streets last evening about 9.10 o'clock. The woman was crossing George street at the time and was watching a street car approaching from the south. She did not see Mr. Fallon's car, coming from the other direction and, blinded by the street car light, he did not see her until he was almost upon her. He slowed down quickly and when he struck her was almost at a standstill The woman was struck by the bumper at the knees and fell onto the boulevard. She suffered no injuries other than fright and was carried into a house nearby. She exonerated Mr. Fallon from all blame for the accident.

Trunk Murder Mystery Cleared Up By Police; Husband is Suspected

WOMAN'S CLOTHING LED TO IDENTIFICATION OF BODY AS THAT OF MRS. EUGENE LEROY—JEALOUSY ASCRIBED AS MOTIVE IN ANOTHER "ETERNAL TRIANGLE"—AN ARREST MADE IN CHICAGO.

DETROIT, Mich., July 25.—With the positive identification to-night of the clothing found in the trunk in which the multilated body of a young woman was shipped from Detroit to New York, the mystery was rapidly being cleared by the authorities. The murdered woman was Mrs. Eugene Leroy, and her slayer is her husband, Eugene Leroy, according to a statement to-night by Edward H. Fox, chief of detectives. The motive, according to Fox, was jealousy.

Word was received to-night that a man answering Leroy's description had been arrested in Chicago. He was living at a hotel under the name of Roy Milan and was also known as Roy Mellen. The Chicago authorities reported they would hold Milan until Detroit authorities can identify him.

Leo Trumbull of the Detroit Police force, who was acquainted with Leroy and his wife for eight months left for Chicago to-night to identify the man.

The man held by the Chicago authorities answers the description of the man wanted here, according to to Chief Fox.

The ground for the belief that the motive was jealousy in the story told to the police of Birmingham, Ala., by A. A. Tatum, a linotype operator, whose name appeared on the tag on the trunk containing the body. Tatum's name was published in newspapers all over the country, and when he discovered he was being connected with the murder mystery he went to the Birmingham police.

He told them he had returned recently from Detroit, and had reason to believe the woman whose body was found in the trunk was Katherine Jackson, of Starkesville, Miss., with whom he had been on good terms in Detroit. All efforts of the Birmginham police and local friends of the girl mentjoned by Tatum to get in touch with her have been unavailing.

Work of Jealous Man.

If th murdered woman is Katherine Jackson as Tatum suspects, the case is one of the "eternal triangle." Tatum told the police the girl had told him she was married to a man whom he knew by the name of E. Leroy, the man mentioned in the New York despatches. Tatum said the girl told him her husband was jealous, and that she permitted him to meet her only when and where she willed on that account. Chief Lyons is inclined to agree with Tatum in his contention that the murder was committed by a jealous man who later "framed" Tatum to cover his own trail.

The Detroit officals have requested that a minute description of Tatum be forwarded, but made no request for his arrest.

The Detroit detectives have established to their satisfaction that the vital organs removed from the murdered woman's body before it was placed in the trunk were cremated in a garbage incinerator in the basement of the Waldena Apartments. It was from these apartments that the trunk containing the ghastly relics was taken. This trunk, together with another, was checked by a man known to the police as "Leroy," together with another, believed to have contained the clothes of the man and the woman, who lived with him as his wife at the Waldena Apartments. The police are now trying to trace this second trunk in order to find Leroy.

An Arest at Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 25. — Roy Milan, said to answer descriptions of Eugene Leroy, alleged slayer of a woman whose body was shipped from Detroit to New York in a trunk was arrested to-night at the Bangor Hotel. A trunk, similar to the one which the Detroit authorities said was shipped to Chicago at the time the trunk containing the body was shipped to New York, was seized in Milan's room. Its contents have not as yet been examined.

The arrest was made on a tip from Detroit and Milan was questioned at the Detective Bureau. He told the authorities that he was a haberdashery salesman, and that he has made frequent trips from Detroit to Chicago in the course of his travelling in his business.

He said most of the trips were made as visits to his family at Romeo, Mich., near Detroit.

Police are seeking the key to the trunk that was seized in his room. If they fail to find one they will force itopen. The trunk is of the wardrobe type. Among the railway express labels on it, one shows it was shiped from Romeo, to Chicago on July 17. It was consigned to R. H. Milner, believed by the police to be an alias of Milan.

The Detroit police have been furnished with a description of the prisoner and have asked that he be held.

He registered at the Bangor Hotel several times. The register shows that he checked out on June 12 and returned July 19.

The prisoner is 29 years old, five feet, 11 inches tall, and weighs 160 pounds. He is smooth shaven and has chestnut hair. His features are regular, and he has one gold tooth, a small scar at the right of his nose and another over his right eye.

Greeks in Adrianople; French Take Damascus

Canadian Press)

ATHENS, Greece, July 26.—Adrianople fell to the Greeks on Saturday evening, according to an official statement issued last night.

Nationalist Retreating.

ATHENS, Greece, July 26. — Col. Jafar Tayar's bands are in full retreat. From all directions they are falling back toward Kirk-Kilise, presse dby the Greeks, who on Saturday took Lule Burgas, south of Adrianople.

Agitators Hanged.

(Associated Press)

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 26. — Since July 4 Adana in the southeast part of Asia Minor has been in a state of siege. The French have brought tanks into play and hanged many agitators publicly in an effort to restore order. The railway communication has now been re-established between Adana and Mersina, about forty miles southwest of Adana.

French in Damascus.

PARIS, July 26.—Damascus has been occupied by French troops under General Gouraud. It is believed this will be the end of the reign of Emir Feisal, king of Syria.

Attacked After Ultimatum.

BEIRUT, Syria, July 25. — The French troops have resumed their march on Damascus as a result of an attack on a French detachment between Homs and Tripoli by the troops of Prince Feisal, head of the Syrian state, after he had accepted the ultimatum of General Gouraud. French cleaned out Feisal's forces between El Beka and Damascus. The Damascus authorities later sent word that the French would not be opposed, and they expected to enter Damascus this morning.

BOY BRUTALLY BLUDGEONED ON THE GRAVEL ROAD AND WAS ROBBED OF HIS FEW CENTS

ELMER MOWRY CLUBBED BY UNKNOWN MAN IN NORTH MONAGHAN, NEAR A. M'NAB'S FARM, A FEW MILES FROM THE CITY—UNCONSCIOUS FOR HOURS—THE BOY'S STORY.

NO CLUE FOR POLICE

Elmer Mowry, 12 year old son of Chester C. Mowry, 535 Gilmour street, lies in Nicholls Hospital to-day with a minor concussion of the brain, received when brutally attacked by a man on the loop line of the gravel road about five o'clock yesterday afternoon and robbed of some small change he had in his pocket. The boy was struck by some heavy instrument believed by his father to have been a sandbag. The boy was wearing a cap which bears marks of a heavy blow. A bruise on the temple is the only mark on the boy's body, and the father thought this might have been made by a sand bag. County Constable Moore said there were no signs of a struggle on the road, and nothing was found to indicate what the boy was struck with.

Elmer Mowry had spent the latter part of the afternoon with his friend of about the same age, Roderick MacNab, son of Mr. A. McNab, local agent of the G.T.R., who lives on the former Hatherly farm on this road. His mother had left on the afternoon train for Bowmanville, where she is visiting friends and it was after three o'clock when he left home. His father was at work and the lad went out to see his friend without his father's knowledge. Another boy friend, Lloyd Bath, son of Postman James L. Bath, 597 Bolivar street, wheeled out earlier in the afternoon and the three boys spent an hour or more together on the farm.

Companions Heard Scream.

About five o'clock Elmer left Bath and MacNab playing on the lawn to do the 3 1-2 mile walk into the city. He had been gone only a few minutes and was just out of sight around the hill about 150 yards from the house when the other boys heard a scream. Mrs. MacNab, Roderick and young Bath rushed to the scene and found the lad lying on the road unconscious. They worked frantically to restore himt o consciousness and their first aid efforts were at length rewarded.

Sank Into Unconsciousness.

The lad told them that somebody hit him on the head. He came over the fence or jumped up from the side of the road. This was all the boy said before he lapsed off into unconsciousness again. A woman came along shortly in a buggy and drove him back to the house. Mr. Allan MacNab was in the city with his sister Elda, of the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal and her guest Miss Florence Boa, also a nurse of the same hospital, in ther car. He was communicated with and went home directly. The two nurses did all in their power to bring the boy out of the state of coma, but their efforts failed. They brought him to his home in an improvised stretcher in the car.

His father had just learned of the assault through Ald. Robert Morrison and was starting out with a neighbor to get him when they arrived.

Dr. W. D. Scott examined the boy later calling in Dr. A. W. McPherson. The examination revealed no bruises or injuries other than on the head. He was removed to Nicholls Hospital.

At 10.10 o'clock on Saturday night Elmer reagined consciousness but did not know his father. He rested fairly well and on Sunday he recognized him and was able to tell more of the attack.

Probably Disguised.

Emer passed a red bicycle lying on the side of the road, but did not see anyone around. Just a few feet on on a man with a red handkerchief around his neck and a gray moustache, presumably false, and a high hat, jumped up from the side of the road, and attacking him, took the change he had in his pocket, about twenty-five cents, then hit him on the head and ran away.

The man didn't pass MacNab's on his wheel but he may have gone either on the gravel road or down the back line.

Found No Clue.

It was shortly after seven o'clock when High County Constable A. R. MMoore went out on the information given him by the boy's father, but his investigation was fruitless.

Mr. Mowry when seen by the Examiner said he believed his son's assailant must be mentally deranged. He could ascribe no motive for the attack.

TIRE ABOVE WATER REVEALS TRAGEDY; FAMILY DROWNED

BUFFALO, July 25.—An automobile driven by William Newman, of Lackawanna, and containing his wife and two young children, and Miss Clara Sheck, of Buffalo, was driven into a creek between the towns of Armor and Boston, this county, some time last night, and all were drowned.

The tragedy was discovered this morning when a neighbor passing that way saw a tire of the overturned car sticking out of the deep water. He summoned help, and the bodies were extricated. The bridge over the creek had been washed away in the flood of Friday night, but the road had not been barricaded against traffic.

SUNDAY ST. CARS NOT DECIDED NOW

COUNCIL ADHERES TO ADVICE OF CITY SOLICITOR.

Ald. H. Gainey, acting Mayor this week in the absence of Mayor McIntyre, informed The Examiner this morning that the vote on Sunday Street cars would not be taken until the municipal elections in January.

The Council came to this decision upon the advice of City Solicitor Widdifield, who held that the amendment to the statute which gave the right to municipalities of 15,000 and over to vote on Sunday street cars did not alter the date of voting, which was formerly the same as that of the municipal elections.

T. Tooms, M.P.P., and the Attorney-General's Department both advised the Council that the vote would be taken now, but the Council cautiously decided to follow the City Solicitor's advice and thus avoid a possible injunction and a test case.

GASOLINE PRICE IS NOW UP TO 45 CENTS.

Local Demand Has Greatly Increased —Price is New Peak.

An increase in the price of "gas" has been expected by dealers and motorists for some time. Last year it was 37 and 37½ cents. In the winter it jumped to 40 cents, in the spring to 42 and 43 cents, and on Friday and Saturday motorists paid 45 cents.

This is believed by garagemen acquainted with the situation to be the peak price and reliable advices from the United States say that next year the price should be down to about last year's level.

The increase in price has not affected the consumption noticeably, and with the increase in new cars it has almost doubled over last year, it was learned at one of the large gas stations in town. Last year about 2,700 gallons of the "joy juice" were sold weekly. This year the figure has jumped to 4,000. On 12th July 1,100 gallons were pumped.

The Imperial Oil Company raised its price, and the stations in turn had to boost it up. One station still sells at 43 cents.

"Aviation gas," sold by a local garage, will advance to 60 cents when the present supply is used up, it was learned. It now sells at 55 cents.

BODIES FOUND ON SCENE OF FIGHT OVER CARD GAME

(Canadian Press.)

MONTREAL, July 26.—Bodies of unknown men were found in the bushes near Temiskaming, Quebec, on Saturday morning, riddled with revolver bullets. A deck of cards was found scattered around the bodies and the clothes, which were badly torn, indicated that a violent fight had taken place over a game of cards.

CHERRY SUPPLY WAS LIGHT TO-DAY

FRUIT PRICES HOLDING OUT—POTATOES ARE DOWN TO 55 CENTS.

The cold and damp weather of the past week has seriously effected the ripening tomatoes and the market gardeners have practically despaired of the crops which a few weeks ago showed every promise of being one of the biggest in years. The present price for tomatoes remains very high, wholesalers asking $3.25 and retailers $3.75 a basket.

Plums, which were promised for this week's market, have also been seriously retarded by the cold and will probably not come in before the end of this week or the beginning of next. Present indications promises a reasonable price for plums, apples and peaches if they can be repined.

Very few cherries are on the market to-day, and are selling at $1.95 and $2 a basket. Red currants are commencing to come in in large quantities, but remain fairly high in price, retailing at 18 and 20 cents a box. Black currants are selling at 30 cents a quart, huckleberries at 35 cents a quart and cuthbert raspberries at 30 cents, the large blue variety at 27 cents a box.

Promised Drop.

Potatoes have not taken so swift a drop as was promised a week ago, but are considerably lower than last week, retailing at 55 and 60 cents a peck. All farmers report the contradictory situation of very long stalks on the plants and very large tubers. The announcement of an extra large potato having been grown in the city, which appeared in The Examiner last week, has brought forth many proofs of the size of this year's crop from rival gardeners and some very fine specimens have been shown.

Lemons Cheaper.

Cold evenings have resulted in a much lower price in lemons and the wholesale men say that the use of the fruit has been decimated in the last week as few are used otherwise than in very warm weather. What few are being sold are being used mainly as a precationary measure against germs in the city water, many housewives contending that lemon juice is death to typhoid.

GENERAL BYNG IS MENTIONED AS NEXT GOVERNOR-GENERAL

LONDON, July 26.—Unofficially but on good authority, the Canadian Associated Press learns that Lord Byng's appointment as Governor-General of Canada to succeed Duke of Devonshire is exetremely likely.

THE WEATHER

While the summer generally has been unusually cool up to the present time, the nights especially have been quite chilly. On Saturday night the thermometer was down to 44 degrees, and last night down to 45. These figures are near the white frost line, and frost might easily appear when conditions were right for it; a calm, cloudless night, and with what breeze there was from the northwest or north.—W. Resolute Overtakes the Lipton Boat and Opens Long Lead in Last Race

SHAMROCK BROKE AWAY FIRST OVER THE LINE AND HAS AN EARLY LEAD OF QUARTER OF A MILE—TO-DAY'S DECIDING RACE OF SERIES.

(Canadian Press.)

SANDY HOOK, July 26.—Shamrock IV., the big green sloop with which Sir Thomas Lipton hopes to lift the America Cup, sped first across the line to-day at the start of the fifth International Yacht Race, which will decide the 1920 series.

Starting on the first 15-mile leg of her 30-mile course, a run south by west half west out to sea, Shamrock passed over the starting line at the Ambrose Channel Lightship at 12h. 30m. 29s. (official time), and her rival, Resolute, at 12h. 31m. 25s. after the starting signal had been sounded at 12.30.

At 1.40 p.m., Shamrock had 450 yards in the lead.

Resolute Takes Lead.

1.50 p.m. — Resolute passes Shamrock.

2 p.m.—Resolute was leading by 150 yards.

2.30 p.m.—Resolute was leading by half a mile.

"Eagle" Spreads Its Wings.

3.20—Resolute leading by a mile and a half.

Feared Loss of Life.

Saturday's race was called off by the Regatta Committee because of the fear that there might be loss of life among the crew. This explanation was given to Sir Thomas by Captain Burton and yachting master Duncan Neill when they were called aboard the Victoria after the challenger had been returned to her moorings.

"It was the consent of the skippers of the two yachts," sir Thomas said after he had interviewed his men from Shamrock. For their assent was asked, and they both agreed that it was a wise thing to do. The wind was blowing fully thirty knots an hour when the hour for the races to start arrived, Captain Burton told me, and seas were sweeping over the racers.

"I was naturally disappointed at first, for from my position on the shelter of the Victoria, I could not appreciate the conditions. I believed is was ideal weather for Shamrock to show what was in her. Since talking with Captain Burton and Col. Neill, however, I am quite satisfied that the right thing was done."

Odds on Resolute.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Betting this morning on the final race for America's Cup is three to one on the Resolutewith few takers. Even money is offered that the defender will finish first regardless of her time allowance. Although betting has increased with the progress of the series, comparatively little money has been wagered.

May Not Finish.

At 4.15 p.m. yachts virtually becalmed, Resolute about a mile and a half in the lead and not rounded the first turn. Little prospect that race will finish in the time limit.

BONUS OF $250 EACH FOR THE SHAMROCK CREW

NEW YORK, July 25.—Sir Thomas has informed the crew of the Shamrock that each will receive a bonus of $250 for a win to-morrow, which will mean the winning of the series. The men of the Resolute will receive $25 added pay, not only to-day but for each of the races they have won.

Sanity of Arnel Love Will Be Investigated

OWEN SOUND, July 25.—Arnel Love, who confesses that he murdered his mother in December 1912, and for which crime his father was convicted and hanged, is to be examined by a noted alienist in Toronto. The young man in the confession is said to have stated that in a fit of anger he hit his mother with a stick of wood and pulled the body down into the excavation under the house. He also is said to have stated something about a knife, but doesn't remember if he used it or not.

Wounds Too Big for Stick.

The wounds found on the body of Mrs. Love could not have been inflicted with a stick of wood alone, according to those who saw them. If young Love says he used a stick of wood only, there is a point which must be decided later, before his confession can be taken as the truth about what actually did happen.

No charge has yet been laid against the young man Arnel Love. The entire affair is in the hands of the Attorney-General's Department at Toronto. It is unlikely there will be any action until after young Love is examined as to his sanity. He is said to be considerably behind other young men of his age, but it is pointed out that this is because of lack of opportunity, and not because he isn't naturally as bright as others. His trip to Toronto with Provincial Officer Stringer is said to have been his first to the city, and his first time on street cars, elevators, etc. He is said to have displayed a childlike interest in such things.

DISARMAMENT OF POLES THE FIRST DEMAND OF SOVIET PRECAUTION AGAINST POLISH RECOVERY BY AID OF ALLIED TROOPS—MIGHT GAIN TIME.

(Canadian Press.)

VIENNA, July 21.—It is reported in apparently reliable quarters here that the first stiulation the Bolsheviki will require of the Poles before entering into peace negotiations will be that the Poles disarm completely so that negotiations might not be used to gain time or to await the arrival of French or British reinforcements.

EFFICIENCY.

If your vision is impaired, or if you see well enough but your eyes won't stand the strain of hard, constant work, you owe it to yourself or to your employer to make up the deficiency by wearing glasses. See W. H. Lacey, Optometrist, 410 George street.

MANY ENGLISH GIRLS GOING "BETTING MAD"

LONDON, July 23.—Some of the London newspapers lament that English women and girls have gone "betting mad," and that it is a common thing for girls in offices, on the stage, married women, and even school girls to lay wagers varying from six pence to a pound.

"Why shouldn't we gamble?" one pretty office girl asked. "Now the war is over we must have some harmless excitement, must'nt we?

"Some of us bet on tennis and golf, on engagements to marry, and even on what word people will open conversation with."

A business man complained his offices girls "chatter more about their bets than their work," and another declared his cook seemed "more concerned about odds than ovens.

"She has even incited my wife to making bets," he added.

VIRTUOUS WIVES

By OWEN JOHNSON

"I mean dressed in perfect taste for every occasion."

"Oh, go on and attack us!" said Kitty.

"With pleasure. You dress for the street car as you dress for a ball. There is nothing progressive in your art—everything is thrown out at once. A well-bred woman in Europe who is well-dressed is an artist. When she goes shopping, she goes shopping, and not to attract the admiration of motormen, bell boys, and shop clerks. She would be offended by such attention. So she dresses not to be noticed. If she lunches in a restaurant, she does not offer herself to the vulgar stare of a crowd as she would to her friends in the shelter of her home."

"This hits me!" said Kitty.

"Certainly. But it does not distinguish you, my dear iKtty," said Bracken laughing.

"Well; we overdress," said Gladys, shrugging her shoulders.

"Ah but it's more than that—you don't comprehend that to be a woman is an art in itself!"

"Now you interest me," said Irma, nodding in aproval, while each in turn, at this excursion into the only field which completely absorbed them, leaned forward expectantly.

"To charm always and unfailingly, a woman must understand the value of surprises. She should know how to admit a man progressively to her intimacy, and to make him feel that each approaching step is a privilege."

"Blessed if I get that!" said Kitty explosively, while Irma nodded thoughtfully.

"If you meet a woman in the morning, you do not wish to see her as she is in the afternoon. If you meet her in the afternoon in public, you ought to feel that there is a final intimacy that she reserves for you solely in her own home. The trouble here is, you make no distinction between the admiration of the crowd and the tribute from the privileged friend. You are well dressed always, but—how shall I say?—you are well dressed as—"

"Say it, Monte!" said Fifi, with her elbows on the table. "As demi-mondaines are well dressed."

"But why not?" said Irma lightly; for the topic had now run to a favourite pose of hers. "As for me, I say it frankly, I admire them! They are the only real women to-day. What they do they do well—"

"Irma!" said Kitty, closing her ears with a pretence of being scandalised.

"But I mean it! Why not be frank?" said Mrs. Dellabarre. "We do imitate them. Monte's right. You do and I do. Don't be foolish—of course we do! Don't we fall over every little dancer or actress who turns up? Don't we fight to have them at our tables, copy their dress, their hair, their slang? We do—only, we do it badly."

The conversation ran into distinctions which scandalised the ears of an out-of-town couple at the next table. For, at this time, Irma's pose was a cloak of bravado which many women of society liked to assume in the effort to startle and astound.

Amy took no part in the discussion, hearing little that was said, yet if her mind could not concentrate on Monte Bracken's argument, she had, as always, a feeling of his mental superiority. Her own perplexities, the sudden disturbance of her equanimity, the new struggle ahead which she foresaw must come with her husband if she were to regain her threatened supremacy obsessed her to the exclusion of all other thoughts.

In the air was the arrogant dominion of the New; fetish and tyrant of the sensation-craving crowd. Lazare's was the newest restaurant, with the newest orchestra and the newest dancing favourites to patronise their dance hall. A new style had made last season's dresses grotesque, a new lace-brim hat was the magnet of all feminine eyes. About them the conversation ran on the new plays, the new books, the newest pianist, and the newest scandal. Nothing could survive six months in the forcing heat of this social hothouse, where every luxury of the body was flaunted, where every sensation had to have novelty, where a brilliant, driven, pleasure-drugged society met in its search for the extraordinary, for the bizarre—for the thing that astounded. And she, Amy Forrester, had become one of them, as he had prophesied. How strange that Monte Bracken should bob up in her life at this moment. She was superstitious, as all women are in misfortune. There was something unnatural in this reminder of the past—a sign and a warning. Perhaps, after all, she was wrong—all wrong. From time to time, as he continued his bantering attack with Irma and Gladys, his glance rested on her with growing curiosity. What was he thinking? Did he remember? Once he spoke her name, slurring it—she was not sure but that he called her "Mrs. Foster." If he remembered, there must be a touch of malice behind the amusement in his eyes.

"If a woman's unhappy, she's lazy," said Fifi, closing the subject in her downright way. She rose with a glance at her watch.

"I agree, and I escape on the word," he said, laughing at Kitty's militant expression. He turned deliberately to Amy, holding out his hand.

"I see you have just remembered me," he said.

"Not quite that—readjusted my memories,' he said smiling. And then, with that assumption of intimacy which never offended in him, he added: "Are you going to ask me to call?"

"Please—soon."

She watched him as he made his adieux. He had not changed much—if any. He had gained in authority—a trifle thinner in the face and under the cheek bones. He had the same easy bearing toward life, the same tolerant amusement in his keen eyes; and yet there was a new note which arrested her atention—a note of sadness, or if not quite that, of restlessness, of being unattached to life—a seeking for some intangible help, which she detected for the first time. "What's this stuff about being lazy?" said Kitty, who had been puzzled by the intricacies of the conversation.

"Now that we are alone," said Irma, laughing, "let's tell the truth."

"What—do you mean to say a clever woman can do what she pleases—that is, of course—you know what I mean?"

The other burst out laughing.

"Flirt to your heart's content? Certainly," said Irma. "Fifi has hit it—we are just simply lazy. We take husbands for granted. If we'd give one-tenth the time to managing them that we do to playing around—if we showed just as much cleverness with our husbands as with other men—there would be no divorces."

"Irma, you're a nice one to talk!"

"My dear, when Rudy flies into a tantrum, I blame myself. Let's whisper the truth; any woman can do what she wants and keep her husband, if she isn't too lazy to try."

"Not always," said Gladys, "but even then, with a little attention—"

"My Lord, I must be the limit then—I certainly can't do it!" said Kitty naively. "I tried, but it was an awful bore. Who wants a husband around all the time, tripping over your skirts? Just because you're married, you don't have to treat all men as though they were lepers!"

At this moment, a boy approached with a telephone slip for Mrs. Challoner, who took it, glanced at it, smiled, and rose to answer.

"I suppose you call that being clever," said Kitty instantly. "Gladys gets me. The number of men she can keep going without snarling the threads beats me!"

Several younger men came in and joined their table—Laracy, Pardee, young Fortescue, and, finally, Tody Dawson, who drew up his chair at Amy's side and looked unutterably melancholy and submissive, refusing to join the chorus of raillery which always centred about Kitty Lightbody's incursions into philosophy. Amy withdrew, too, from the conversation, a prey to her thoughts. The discussion left her heavy-hearted. Was it true that she, too, was coming to this light acceptance of marriage? She felt like crying out: "Wait, let me thisk it over! Give me time—everything is rushing so. It isn't fair—everything is being thrust upon me all at once!"

SOCIETY BEAUTY TO-DAY AS HIRED HOSTESS

DIANA TENNANT, HER MONEY GONE, TURNS TO WORK SHE KNOWS BEST.

Acting as a paid professional hostess of fashionable house parties, Katherine MacDonald, in the film version of Robert W. Chambers' novel, "The Turning Point," which will be screened at the Allen Theatre, beginning to-day, shows such an uncommon occupation to be practical and well suited to the needs of a woman of gentle breeding and refinement who has been forced by adverse circumstances to make her own way.

And Miss MacDonald, as Diana Tennant, member of a prominent San Francisco family suddenly thrown into bankruptcy, seems to know how to do it to the queen's taste. Diana, with her sister Silvette and the unsolicited aid James Edgerton, partner in the ruined firm of Edgerton-Tennant Compay, make great progress in the home of H. Rivett, a millionaire socially ambitious for his children.

So great is this progress n fact that Gaylord's son falls in love with Silvette, and Diana—well, everybody loves her.

Diana is the centre of attraction at social functions arranged under her direction in the millionaire's home One of the most unique of these affairs is a Hallowe'en party, in which members of this exclusive circle dance and play in the most grotesque dignified Rivett cavorts around in overalls with a pitchfork.

The part of professional hostess proves a stepping stone to better things for the Tennant family.

Extra special added attraction, Larray Semon, the Komedy King, "In the Fly Cop," the high mark in comedies, pretty girls, a plot, thrills galore and laughs. Oh, Boy! new and, altogether different!

SLIPPED ON BANANA PEEL AND BROKE WRIST.

Mrs. C. W. Morton Suffered Painful Accident on Saturday.

Someone's carelessness in throwing a banana skin on the sidewalk resulted in Mrs. C. W. Morton, 213 Stewart Street, sustaining a broken wrist on Saturday night at 7.30. Mr. and Mrs. Morton were walking downtown. The slippery peel was lying in front of Weber's drug store. Mrs. Morton did not notice it, and she slipped before her husband could reach her, falling on her left wrist. She was taken to Dr. Morgan's, where the bone was set and the pain relieved.

Mr. Morton is much aroused over the painful acident met with by his wife through the gross stupidity and utter disregard of human life displayed by the one who dropped the peel, and declares that it is high time steps were taken to do away with this dangerous practice.

CHATHAM'S TAX RATE SET AT 31¼ MILLS

CHATHAM, July 24.—The tax rate for this city was struck to-day, and was declared to be 31¼ mills, three-fourths of a mill less than last year, which was 32 mills. Mayor Brisco declared this morning that "this has been done despite the fact that the actual expenditures this year are much greater than last year." Among the extra items are included exemptions in city taxes to war veterans amounting to $2,350. Installation of two-platoon system in fire department, $8,000 extra.

Purchase of additional fire apparatus and new battery system, etc., for fire station, $28,811. Purchase of new cemetery, $16,000. The expenditure of $17,000 for repairs to city streets, and an increase of 20 per cent. in the salaries of civic officials and employees. Mayor Brisco also stated that the city has the lowest assessment and lowest rate of any city its size in Ontario.

Voice Of The People

SUNDAY STREET CARS.

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—Surely all thoughtful men and especially all lovers of true liberty, will agree in the remark that no encroachments should be made upon the sanctity of the Lord's Day that cannot be defended by unanswerable arguments. And all loyal men will feel that just after we have been given a great victory which military men say our soldiers could not have won unaided, is a peculiarly inopportune time for us to do, anything that will have even the appearance of not showing proper respect for His day and His law.

To be satisfied with superficial or puerile arguments on such an important question does not suggest a strong or very sane mind.

Man's laws are sometimes broken, the reason assigned being that they are wrong or unjust. But a wrong position taken on this question may bring a man in direct antagonism to the Perfect Lawgiver, a position which surely no sane man will covet.

I have not noticed any arguments yet in favour of Sunday cars for Peterboroughf that can be termed unanswerable, and personally I am quite satisfied that there are no such arguments. But certainly it is up to those who favour Sunday cars to bring forward their arguments, so that we may study them carefully and ascertain if they are sound. Let there be light.

—Yours, J. C. Smith.

REPAIRING INSTRUMENTS.

Salvation Army Band Appreciates Assistance—Fund Not Quite Complete.

The Salvation Army Band instruments were sent to Toronto last week where they will be repaired by the Williams Music Co. The cost will be in the neighbourhood of $50.00. This will not replace the two cornets stolen—one from Bandsman Smith and one from Bandsman Payne. Bandsman Payne owned his instrument, but the Band have agreed to replace it. The instruments stolen were valued at $200.00 each.

The City Council voted $300.00, and the Band have received various donations, and any others desiring to assist the band are requested to do so. Their help will be greatly appreciated.

Some instruments have been secured from the Headquarters, Toronto, and with the instruments loaned to them in the city the Band has been able to carry on. Their own instruments will be repaired in a week or two.

GUIDE FOR SETTLERS.

New Map of Western Lands Available for Homesteads.

A new edition of a map of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, giving the number of quarter-sections available for homestead entry in each township with the boundaries and the offices of Government land agencies, has been issued by the Natural Resources Intelligence Branch of the Department of the Interior. This new edition clearly indicates all railways, forest reserves, parks and Indian reserves, also the land which has been reserved for soldier settlement purposes. The size of the map is 24in. by 36in., and the scale 35 miles to one inch.

The importance of the new edition at the present time is apparent to prospective settlers, officials of banks, railway companies, and land agencies, in fact, everyone interested in the development of land in the Western Provinces. A copy of this publication which is known as the "Small Land Map of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta," may be obtained free of charge by applying to the Superintendent of the Natural Resources Intelligence Branch of the Department of the Interior, at Ottawa.

SPANISH IRONMASTER HAS BEEN SHOT

BARCELONA, Spain, July 23.—Syndicalists Wednesday afternoon shot an ironmaster, Andrew Figuerola, while he was exhorting his workers to refuse to pay subscriptions which the Syndicalists demanded.

Figuerola was taken to a dispensary where he was found to be dead. Two of the alleged assassins were arrested, but another escaped.

A DANGER SIGNAL—TENDER AND BLEEDING GUMS

Healthy teeth cannot live in diseased tissue. Gums tainted with Pyorrhea are dangerously diseased. For not only the teeth are affected, but Pyorrhea germs seep into the body, lower its vitality and cause many ills.

Pyorrhea begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the poisonous germs that breed in pockets about them.

Four out of five people over forty have this disease. But you need not have it. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection. And keep Pyorrhea away by using Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For The Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums hard and healthy, the teeth white and clean. If you have tender or bleeding gums, start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

35c and 60c tubes in Canada and U. S. If your druggist cannot supply you, send price to us direct and we will mail tube postpaid.

BABE RUTH.

When one reads of nearly 40,000 people filling every corner of the huge stand at the Polo grounds in New York, lured there by the hope of seeing a baseball driven out of the park by the huge bat of that "superman" of to-day, "Babe" Ruth, one is inclined to wonder what the people two hundred years from now will think of us who inhabit this globe in this present year of grace. Will they be amazed when they realize that while a college professor, whose brains were filled with a vast store of scientific knowledge, was trying to live on $2,000 or $3,000 a year, a young man whose only claim to distinction was the fact that he could take a club and with it propel a piece of cork wrapped around with twine and horsehide, to a greater distance than any of his fellows, was paid $20,000 a season? Or will conditions be the same in 2120 and the scholar still be receiving a pittance while the man with the knock out punch or the baseball slugger wins the big reward? Who can tell?

THE HYDRO INQUIRY.

There seems to be some misunderstanding as to the extent of the powers conferred upon the Royal Commission appointed by the Ontario government to investigate the Hydro radial scheme and in some quarters the Drury government has been condemned for relegating to a commission the task of arriving at a question of policy that these critics claim should have been settled by the government itself. But that is precisely what Premier Drury and his associates propose to do The Premier has declared on several occasions recently that his government only wants the commission to give it the facts in regard to the Hydro scheme — the decision as to what shall be the policy of the government shall be decided by the government itself. The commission is expected to concern itself merely with delving closely into the details of the Hydro radial proposals, using all the sources of information available and to prepare a report that will fully cover the ground. It has nothing to do with the policy of the government and its duties will end when it has turned over the information that it has been delegated to secure. Premier Drury has evidently no intention of dodging the responsibility of deciding this vital question and the charge that he has attempted to do so by the appointment of a commission is not only unfair but untruthful.

AN INTERESTING SITUATION.

The Farmer-Labour activities continue to occupy the centre of the stage in the West Peterborough political arena. The suggestion of the Ontario secretary of the U.F.O. that in ridings such as this the two parties should hold a joint convention to select a candidate is complicated by the fact that the farmers of West Peterborough, or some of them at least, have a distinct recollection that when the support of their organization was given to the Labour party in the Provincial election last year, there was a definite understanding that when the fight came in the Federal arena that Labour woud return the compliment by supporting a Farmer candidate for the Dominion House. Whether or not there was such an understanding the Examiner is not prepared to say, but certainly many U.F.O. members have that impression and are insistent that in the coming by-election there shall be a representative of the agricultural interests in the field. Labour leaders, however, are inclined to disregard the claim and one or two of them, inspired by the somewhat surprising success of Mr. Tooms in the Provincial election, are actively canvassing for the nomination. The situation is capable of some interesting developments in the next few weeks. Meanwhile, there is considable interest in the announcement of the war veterans' intention to nominate a candidate and speculation is rife as to the identity of the standard-bearer of the returned soldiers. If Mr. Burnham's resignation has done nothing else it has at least provided West Peterborough with an entertaining political mix-up that promises to produce a record field of candidates.

FRIDAY'S BY-LAWS.

In addition to the Hunter street bridge by-law, which is attracting so much attention at the present time, the ratepayers of Peterborough will have a chance to express their opinion on several other matters on Friday, Aug. 30th, and in view of the importance of the measures that are to be submitted on that day there should be an unusually large vote registered.

Two by-laws on which there should be little besitation are those granting a loan of $10,000 to the Otonabee Mills, Ltd., and to enable the City Council to consent to a conveyance of property from the Henry Hope Company to the Canadian Raybestos Company, to continue the total exemption from taxation on the same until December 31st, 1922 and afterwards the granting of fixed assessment at $40,000 for 8 1-2 years. These measures have been investigated by the Board of Trade and are unanimously endorsed by that body. The Otonabee Mills Company is composed of local men in whom there is every reason to have confidence and it is believed that the industry which they propose to start in Peterborough There seems no risk for the city in the loan the company is asking the ratepayers to ratify. As for the Raybestos by-law, its passing will mean that the Henry Hope Company building instead of being left vacant and shut up will be kept in operation by the Canadian Raybestos Company, one of the city's newest but most promising concerns. Their request is a very modest one and the ratepayers will doubtless heartily support the by-law.

PRODUCTION—AND SOMETHING ELSE.

Nearly every important body that has discussed present conditions, local and world-wide, during the past year, has announced the same conclusion. In each case there has been given out this sound advice, that conditions cannot improve until there is increased production.

The bank president has told the shareholders, the lord bishop has tod the clergy ,the Mayor has told the aldermen, the grand master has told the brethren, the Prime Minister has told the country, the professor has told his classes, the president of the Manufacturers' Association has told the members, the editor has told his readers, and the rural stage driver has told his passengers—that there is no remedy for present conditions, local and world-wide, except increased production.

No doubt it is true. Everybody says it is true. All the authorities agree about it; it is generally conceded. All that is necessary, therefore, is for everybody to go ahead and produce increasingly. Then all will be well.

But there may be some other minor and contributory remedies required for what ails conditions. Just now, while there is a world shortage of the necessaries of life, ought to be as good a time as any to improve distribution, as well as strive to increase production.

In these days almost anything can be transported almost anywhere, by rail, boat or aeroplane. But when all that is actually done is examined closely, do we not find that this charge can be fairly made against our transportation service and our distribution system as a whole, that it has too large a hand and too clumsy fingers? It brings much from long distances and does it well, but it doesn't pick up little lots from nearby. Toronto is better served with the fruits that come by carload lots from thousands of miles away than with the fruits that grow within an hour's rail haul of the city.

So far the business of the railways is confined to transportation; they have scarcely even tackled the science of distribution, or accepted the problem as theirs. Perhaps it isn't theirs. But whose is it? The Niagara peach crop gets to market because it moves wholesale. From the strawberry belt the fruit comes in carload lots, but all over the Province fruits and vegetables are grown by isolated producers, and we have no distributive system to take care of them—and if they reach the Toronto consumer it is after so many intermediary handlings that the case is like that of the farmer who told us last year that his green corn sold in the city for 30 cents a dozen, but all he received for it was two cents a dozen.

The hands of our transportation and distribution services are too large, the fingers are too widespread to lay hold of anything but large orders. We have express companies supposed to handle light freight, but they are not hunting new business; they have become so successful that their main effort of recent years is to evade the necessity of having their delivery service expand with the growth of the city. We have a parcels post system that was meant by the designer of it to be a great public convenience, but it has been dwarfed, starved and made of little use to the general public, because the Government did not convince the postal service that it ought to be made a great public convenience, and facilities for its general and successful use have never been provided.

The Hydro radials have been looked to to do for the public what the steam railways and their express companies have been too busy to bother with, and which the Post Office declared it would do, but has never done. It is expected of the radials that they will travel close to the ground, pick up box, basket and parcel freight, and bring the crate of eggs to a place where the city family can call and get it. It is believed that there is a certain amount of direct business that the producer and the consumer ought to be able to do with each other, and, where the steam railways, express companies and the parcels post have in one way and another fallen down because their hands are too large to pick up the small business it is still hoped that the Hydro radials will serve. They can comb the country for business that the steam railways never heard of and wouldn't and couldn't stop for if they had.

There is every need for increased production. But there is need, too, for better distribution, picking up small lots everywhere and getting them to market—to the consumers, not into the huge store houses where carload lots are shunted and held and kept so that the market can be controlled.—Toronto Star Weekly.

LABOUR BUREAUX COSTLY.

British Exchanges Show Big Increase in Expenditure.

(By Canadian Press)

LONDON, July 25.—Some remarkable figures showing the growth of the work of the labor exchanges, and their cost, have just been made public before the Committee of Inquiry appointed by the Ministry of Labor.

In 1911, it was stated, the number of vaccancies filled by the department was 621,410, compared with 1,289,96 in 1919. The cost of the exchanges in 1910-11 was 157,654 pounds sterling ($709,443.00), but, in 1920 it stood at 3,615,140 pounds sterling $16,259,130.00). Thus, while vaccancies filled have only doubled, the cost has been multiplied about twenty-three times.

It was state dthat in the first half of 1910 the average number of vacancies filled daily was 1,000. In the last six months of 1918 it reached a daily average of 5,045.

Sir Charles Sykes expressed the opinion that for every girl willing to enter domestic service there were six vacancies open for her. He thought the girls were not "playing the game."

FIXED AREA FOR SUBURBAN ROADS

COMMISSION ALSO ARRANGED FOR RE-BUILDING OF BRIDGE.

The Suburban Roads Commission has assumed a suburban area of six miles in Otonabee, six miles in Smith, three miles in Douro, and three miles in North Monaghan.

On Saturday afternoon, the Commission, which is composed of Ald. Whitehouse, E. Deyell, and County Clerk E. M. Elliott, was interviewed by the Reeves of Douro and Otonabee, and the reconstruction of the bridge near Curtis' brickyard was finally settled.

The Commission is highly pleased with the attitude of the two Reeves interested in this bridge, and desire to express their appreciation of the assistance and co-operation the townships' representatives have given.

FRANZ JOSEPH SAW DANGER OF BIG WAR

(Canadian Press)

KEMPTEN, Bavaria, July 24. — England's late king, Edward VII., once tried to persuade Emperor Frantz Joseph, of Austria, to break away from Germany, says General Conrad von Hoetzendorfi, former commander-in-chief of the Austrian army. The general declared in a speech here the other day that the fidelity of Franz Joseph to the German-Austrian alliance was often questioned but, in spite of many temptations, he had remained faithful to the pact.

Tempted by Edward.

"Fifteen years ago," he went on, "when I had just become chief of the general staff, the Emperor remarked to me in his peculiar way, 'Do you know that King Edward has been visiting me at Ischl and earnestly trying to wean me away from our alliance with Germany. But I refused.'

Saw War Danger.

"The Emperor saw the war danger coming, but he kept true to the alliance, whose spirit still lives in our nations. What has existed for more than 30 years in peace and war will never die out. Such a country as Germany can never perish, and Austria will always stand by her side."

CHILD DIE SOF BROKEN HEART.

"I want to go with my brother Jack. I cannot go through life without him," exclaimed Raymond Cope, 7, son of a Guildford, Eng., footballer, to his mother just before he died of a broken heart. Two months ago his brother was run over by a motor-car and killed. The boys were inseparable, and for the last two months Raymond had been pining away.

MONAGHAN WILL BUILD SIDEWALKS

SPECIAL SESSION TOWNSHIP COUNCIL—ACCOUNTS PASSED.

Township Clerk Johnston reported to North Monaghan Council, in session at the Court House on Thursday evening, that petitions for the following concrete sidewalks had been sufficiently signed by ratepayers on the streets affected:

On north side of Chamberlain Street, west side of High Street from Chamberlain to Brown Streets, north and south sides of Frank Street, and on the north side of Brown Street.

On a motion by Councillors Rowan and Wilson, these sidewalks will be constructed.

Councillors Lilico and Dobbin moved that the Council authorise Township Engineer J. W. Fitzgerald to prepare plans and specifications for this work. Carried.

On the motion of Councillors Wilson and Rowan, the Clerk was instructed to advertise for tenders for the construction of these sidewalks. Tenderers to be requested to give prices per running foot and furnish all their own material, also the price per foot, the Township to furnish gravel and cement. Also that 15 per cent. of the contract price be held until the first of next May in guarantee of good work. The successful tenderer will be required to put on the finishing coat on each day's work so that the concrete will be properly bonded together.

RESTORING MINES.

French Production of Coal is Steadily Improving.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS.—Gradual improvement in France's coal production, shown in figures brought out in the Chamber of Deputies, is giving comfort to economists, but it is not counted upon to relieve the chilliness of homes or markedly affect factories for some time. The mines damaged by the German invasion are slowly being put in shape and it is expected that they will produce 250,000 tons monthly by the end of the year, if all goes well. This would be half of pre-war production. It was admitted the normal rate would no be reached for some years.

Difficulties in pumping out flooded mines and repairing dynamited shafts have proved the chief obstacles. Orders for machinery are accepted only for delivery in from four months to four years.

Belgian firms finally have been engaged to aid in the reconstruction work after negotiating with the Germans failed.

LIFT LOCK ROUTE TO STONEY LAKE

The Stoney Lake Navigation Co. have resumed regular trips over the Life Lock and Canal Route, which were withdrawn last year owing to the burningof their steamer "Islinda." The Canal route was a favorite trip with many, not only for the pleasurable experiences afforded in witnessing the unique operation of the hydraulic lift lock and the interesting lockages on the way up to Lakefield, but because of the advantages afforded in freighting stuff to the lakes. The company's manager has been impressed with the encouragement given this service in the past, and is confident the public will appreciate the further efforts now made to continue regular steamboat service, through this attractive route during the summer.

MR. DOBBIN'S LETTER ON BRIDGE BY-LAW

Editor, The Examiner:

Sir,—Two articles appear in Saturday's issue of your paper. Each concerns this bridge proposition.

One is a fervent appeal to all men, who handle a vote, to club together and defeat the by-law, under which if approved, the Council may borrow additional money to complete the bridge.

The second article is a statement of self-defence on the part of the Council.

Neither convince fully. Suppose we look at ths matter from the middle of the road. From the middle of the road one can see the front, rear and one side of the traffic. About as much of view as one can well get at one time.

Discussion of what has been and now is will not help much. True, there is a lesson to be learned, but we don't need teaching but action. There is a tangle to untangle. The bridge has to be completed. But recrimination, no matter how boisterous, does not help. And the statements go abroad and do harm to the enterprise, credit and reputation of the city. Can never be fully overtaken.

We are urged to vote down the by-law. What then? The work stops. There is a time that the work should stop, and that is in the winter months. Last winter's experience just showed how expensive work could be done, work that brings little of result for money expended.

If the work stops surely the piles erection now done will be wrecked if left standing. The ice and flood water are no way inclined not to do their worst. The temporary bridge, also on piles, had a hard time of it last winter to survive. By all things the centre arch should be framed and poured before winter weather sets in. And if not then not at all, until next summer.

If the by-law is carried Council can borrow additional funds. Debentures are suggested. Defeat the by-law and its hands are tied, so far as debentures are concerned. Pehaps that is a not unmixed evil.

The middle of the road view is just this. Pass the by-law. Pass it on the understanding that Council will put the amount on next year's taxes rate in one lump. Make one job of it. We have debentures enough now. Let alone what is threatening.

Now don't begin to kick. There will be in sections of the population some remonstrance. Always is. A lot of people seem to live in fear of death and taxes, by the way they talk. The taxpayer need not hold up his hands in horror at this suggestion. For two years we raised $65,000 for war purposes by placing it directly on the tax rate. Who is the worse for that now? Who remembers it? Who regrets it? There was the addition of four and one-half millions to the local rate but the job was cleaned up. The wisest thing to do.

The city can stand, for one year, the additional rate when the purpose is known and accepted. It is a disagreeable dose of medicine, possibly a purgative, but it can be taken. Assurance from Council along the above line will assist in passing the by-law. Property owners have approved. Those who will have to pay the most of the assessment.:

Now the proposition needs a little explanation. Just as we personally dilute the potion when we taken it.

Would Mean 8 Mills.

The payment of the $100,000 will call for eight mills on the dollar of assessment. For general purposes, leaving out the exemptions, the city assessment is about $ $14,000,000. Per $1,000 of assessment the increase would be $8.00. The man assessed for $2,000.00 would fork over $16.00. Assessed for $3,000.00 would pay $24.00 and so on. A little economy will even things up, for one year. We have no poverty, no hard times, no stringency. The 12th of July cost individuals, as a mass, over $40,000,000 The money spent brought satisfaction. Then why kick at something for ourselves.

Pass the by-law and Council can see about borrowing the money. It will actually cost less to the city to borrow from the bank than to issue debentures. So the cost of the funds is about even in either case.

But to be fair to the man in the middle of the road we have to tell him all the story, not keep back something that he should be told, and that is just th is. By-statute the city is limited to a rate of 25 mills on the dollar to cover in the shape of taxes, other than schools and the proportion of taxes needed for local improvements. Having increased municipal expenses some municipalities have applied to legislature to be allowed to increase the standard limit to 30 mills on the dollars. This we can do also. But that would only take care of five mills. The balance of the eight mills would have to be saved by economy. Cut off all grants, for one year. Get right down to economical knitting, and refuse. It can be done. It is the only way to get our municipal head above the water and the bridge above the ice.

We will be told that the poor man can't stand it. Friends, we haven't any poor. Never so prosperous, if people will only exercise judicious economy. Sit down on the Public Library steps, some fine evening, and count the motor cars that slide past and then get up and preach about poverty. The thing is absurd. Most of the cars, if you recognize the men, are driven by workingmen. Good thing they have the cars. Why not? It shows they can pay an additional tax.

What about the tenant, who will protest that rents will go up. Possibly for one year. The tenant can figure the tax on his house, or ask the assessor, and add eight mills on the assessment and pay the landlord. The tenant will use the bridge and should pay his share of the shot.

If legal restrictions interfere, this is a possibility. Not nice to anticipate, but possible and permissible. Ask the Townsend Co. to go ahead and finance the completion of the bridge. The company can do it. Council arrange for payment next year. The city has to pledge its credit to the bank, to debenture holders, or any other source and could make the same pledges to the Townsend company.

Now, if you do not want any one of these things to come about, pass the by-law. With the understanding that we pay it (the amount) next year. Of course a lot of us may move out of the city, by that time, but that is just what the communication in the paper of Saturday incites people to do, for it indicates that Peterborough is getting to be a place too expensive in which to live.

Respectfully,
F. H. DOBBIN.

DIVIDE BIG SUM AMONG FARMERS

SOME $35,000,000 TO BE DISTRIBUTED BY WHEAT BOARD ON CERTIFICATES.

WINNIPEG, July 24.—On or about August 1st, the farmers of Canada are to get a "gift" of more than $35,000,000 that many of them never expected to get. This is the sum that is to be distributed by the Canadian Wheat Board, as the first payment on participation certificates.

Later on another "gift," of about $9,000,000 or $10,000,000, is to be distributed. This will represent the final payment on the certificates and the final settlement of the board for the wheat crop of 1919, which it has marketed for the government.

For the 130,500,000 bushels of wheat they produced in 1919, over and above the 30,000,000 bushels required for seed, the grain growers already have received, in round numbers, $280,575,000, because the wheat board has paid $2.15, the guaranteed price, for each bushel it has bought. So when the books are finally balanced it will be found that the Canadian farmers have received in the neighborhood of $25,575,000 for ther last year's wheat, or, an average of $2.55 a bushel.

Settling Accounts.

These figures, if they err, err on the side of conservatism, because it is announced that the final payment on the participation certificates will be not less than 10 cent a bushel, and it is possible that the distribution will be at a higher rate.

The Wheat Board is bending every effort toward getting its accounts all settled and every detail of its work completed on or before October 1.

TROPHIES ALLOCATTED.

All Captured German Guns Have Been Distributed.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, July 25.—Two captured German 77 mm. field pieces were recently placed in the grounds of the grounds of Buckingham Palace, and two 10m mm. guns on the Terrace at Windsor Castle, by the command of H. M. King George V.

All the captured enemy guns suitable for issue have now been allocated, and no further applications for such trophies are being considered.

Some 100,000 articles of enemy equipment have been distributed in Great Britain, the Dominions, and India it was announced.

WAR CLOUDS ARE WORRYING BRITAIN

PUBLIC MUCH DISTURBED BY BOLSHEVIK SUCCESSES AGAINST POLAND.

DISTRUST GERMANY

LONDON, July 23.— (Associated Press.)— The British public is disturbed by the possibility confronting it that the Allies may be compelled to enter another European war to save Poland. This position was made plain by Premier Lloyd George's speech in the House of Commons Wednesday and all the newspapers are speculating upon it.

Heretofore the impression has been that Britain's part if Poland were faced with invasion by the Bolsheviki, as it now appears to be faced, would be limited to furnishing munitions. Mr. Lloyd George's statement that Great Britain is bound to give every assistance in her power to save Poland and that he may be compelled "to place the whole situation before Parliament," however is interpreted to mean much more than that.

Almost all the newspapers support the Premier, although there is much recrimination over the policies which have brought the destinies of Poland to this pass. The general argument is that an independent Poland is necessary for the safety of Europe under present conditions and that the Allies canot afford the risk of letting the Bolsheviki frontiers join those of Germany.

Virtually the only opposition to the Premier—although it is important opposition — comes from the Labor party. That party criticizes the Premier for advocating strong measures to stop the war when the Bolsheviki are winning, arguing that he should have used his power to prevent Poland from waging war against the Bolsheviki.

This new crisis is unpopular, even if, as appears, it is unescapable, judging from the tone of the newspapers, mainly because it may involve the expenditure of more lives, and because the country had come, according to general belief, about to the limit of bearable taxation, the chief political issue recently having been a growing and organized demand for the reduction of the Government's expenditures.

Keep Distrust of Germany.

Papers which have been consistently distrustful of the Germans foresee that the military party of Germany not only would find in such case an excuse for further delaying reduction of the Reichswehr and disbandment of the civil guard but would secure a direct line of communication with Russia and make itself master of the Bolshevik organization and Russia herself.

"If this plan is carried out," says the Daily Mail, "Russia would become a German colony and all her vast wealth and man power would be at Germany's disposal. The Allies would have lost the peace after winning the war."

The Daily News which is not unfriendly to the Bolsheviki, says the seriousness is not less, because of the fact that eastern Germany is full of arms and ammunition dumps to be surrendered to the Allies. "These finally will be available for Poland if she is invaded, but supposing East Prussia is invaded," asks the newspaper, "is it so certain the Bolsheviki won't get them?"

CHARGE OF STEALING AUTO ACCESSORIES

RUSSELL D. PERRIN PLEADS NOT GUILTY IN CASE POLICE HAVE BEEN WORKING ON.

James Alexander, who was remanded last Monday on two charges of forgery, appeared in this morning's Police Court, and was charged with forging two more cheques. J. A. O'Brien appearing for the defence, elected trial by jury and made a plea of not guilty on all four charges.

Alexander was committed for trial at the County Criminal Court.

Charged With Theft of Auto Accessaries.

A young man appeared on a charge of stealing seven automobile tires, 45 spark plugs, 12 inner tubes, 1 auto clock, and 25 porcelain spark slug parts, valued at $300, from Smith Nurse, of Fowler's Corners, on June 12th. He elected summary trial, pleaded not guilty, and was remanded for a week with bail fixed at $2,000.

$204.10 for Bootlegging.

Patrick Lavery, of 427 George street, south, was charged with selling liquor on Saturday last. One of his customers swore that Lavery had sold him two bottles of liquor for $12 on Saturday evening in the shed of St. James' Church. Lavery denied this but the magistrate considered the evidence against him conclusive and fined him $200 and costs of $4.10. Lavery bought the liquor at $2 a bottle and disposed of it at $6 a bottle, it was alleged.

GALLIPOLI HERO DEAD.

Commander of Majestic, who Won D.S.O. at Cape Helles.

Memories of a gallant feat are recalled by the death at Tunbridge Wells of Capt. Fitz-Roy Talbot, R. N., D.S.O., who was one of the youngest captains in the service at the outbreak of the war. He commanded in Majestic when she was sunk in the Dardanelles, and was in charge of the naval arrangements for the evacuation of Cape Helles when commanding the Swiftsure. For this service he received the D.S.O. Transferred to a ship in the North Sea, Capt. Talbot contracted pneumonia and pleurisy, from which he never fully recovered, and his continued ill-health forced him to relinquish his command of Osborne College.

ZULU NATION LOYAL TO BRITAIN'S KING

CHIEF CETEWAYO VOICES THANKS FOR ENGLISH RULE.

(Canadian Press)

DURBAN, South Africa, July 24.—The chief of the Zulu nation, his ringed headmen and many minor chiefs, recently assembled in the court house at Maritzburg and delivered speeches of affection and esteem for Lord Sidney Charles Buxton, retiring governor-general of South Africa, and Lady Buxton, who accompanied him on the farewell visit. There was an enthusiastic demonstration.

The court house was packed with the courtly, dignified Zulus, some of them in frock coats and wearing medals received for bravery in the war, but others, also wearing medals won on European battlefields, were clad only in the primitive Zulu fashion.

Son of Cetewago True.

Chief Manzolwandhli, son of Cetewayo, as a chief of the Royal Zulu blood voiced his thanks for "the beneficent British rule." Then Chief Mini spoke. He said:

"The Zulus gave assistance in the great war and if assistance is needed again they are prepared to die for their king and country."

The governor-general thanked the Zulus for their excellent behavior during the war, and for their active assistance. As he finished speaking the "bayete" salute rang out, anthem-like, in a final farewell.

UNCERTAINTIES OF STEEL DELIVERIES CLOSE FACTORIES

HENRY HOPE COMPANY DECIDE TO SELL PLANT RATHER THAN LET IT REMAIN IDLE.

Asked by The Examiner this morning the reason for the closing of the factory of Henry Hope and Sons of Canada, Limited, Mr. V. Richardson, the manager, stated, that the present condition of the steel market, both in England and the United States, rendered it almost impossible for the company to obtain deliveries of the special grade of steel required by them. The expense of letting the plant stand idle would be prohibitive and as a result the company has decided to dispose of it.

The sales office of the company will remain open, supplying the trade by imports from the English factory.

Mr. Richardson added that when the steel situation improved sufficiently to permit of regular deliveries of steel the Canadian factory would be re-opened.

Asked where this factory would be located, he stated that that was indefinite.

Has Been Unfortunate.

The company has been very unfortunate here. The local plant was opened in March, 1914, and the war broke out five months later as a result of which nearly all orders were cancelled. The company then began the manufacture of 6-inch shells which was continued throughout the war. After the signing of the armistice the company prepared to recommence the manufacture of steel sashes, but uncertain deliveries of steel prevented this.

Satisfied With ePterboro.

Mr. Richardson stated that the company had been well satisfied with Peterboro and general conditions here.

Under the by-law to be submitted to the ratepayers on Friday next the Raybestos Compan yagrees to buy the Henry Hope factory and establish an industry, the details of which they have not disclosed.

WINNIPEG OFFICER'S EXPERIENCE IN WAR

(Canadian Press.)

WINNIPEG, Man., July 24.—From lieutenant in the 184th infantry battalion, which left here in 1916, to chief of the British railway mission in Russia with the rank of lieutenant-colonel is the record of Lieut.-Col. C. C. Stibbard, D.S.O., a Winnipeg man, who returned here recently. Col. Stibbard served overseas with the Canadian forces for a year with the rank of lieutenant, after which period he was attached to the staff of Sir Eric Geddes, then director-general of transportation.

In November, 1918, he was ordered to Russia to assist in the re-organization of the railways on the Murmansk front. Following the evacuation of the North Russian front, Col. Stibbard was appointed to the railway advisory staff for South Russia, and he held the appointment of officer commanding railways in Ekatorlnodar and also for the whole of Crimea.

For his services on railway work during the war, Col. Stibbard was awarded the D.S.O., the Russian orders of St. Stanilaus and Ste. Anne, while he was also twice mentioned in desatches. He was a passenger on the Carpathia when this vessel was torpedoed by the Germans and through this experience he lost all his credentials referring to his work in France.

NOVA SCOTIA POLITICS.

HALIFAX, N.S., July 23.—The political contest in Nova Scotia is warming up. At abi g mass meeting of the Liberals last night, Hon. W. S. Fielding was the chief speaker. He reviewed the record of the Liberals and on that he said that Hon. Murray should be returned to power.

BOY BRUTALLY BLUDGEONED

Elmer Mowry is a great favourite in the Gilmour street neighbourhood and his boy friends have sent flowers and other comforts to him at the hospital.

Is Better To-day.

"Elmer Mowry is resting better to-day," Dr. W. D. Scott told The Examiner this afternoon, and he expected that the boy would be all right in a week. The lad said he felt well enough to want to get up to-day, but the doctor would not hear of this.

Later stories of the strange attack relate that one of the boys who were playing on the verandah of Mr. MacNab's house saw Elmer run a few paces down the road after he screamed, holding his hands in the air. Then he fell to the ground.

Mr. MacNab to-day explained that the scene of the attack was out of sight of his house, because of the high bank on one side of the road. The theory that was taken at first that the boy had fallen off the fence could not be applied for the fence is back some distance from the road. The boy crossed the field and climbed the fence just below where he was attacked, Mr. MacNab said.

Mr. MacNab's farm is on the 10th Line of North Monaghan. The road runs straight into Crawford's Grove, and the man may have gone in this road. The attack took place just a short distance up the loop line from where it runs into the 10th Line.

Sheep Lost Recently.

Whether the strange disappearance a short time ago of five sheep from a flock belonging to R. Colin, who lives on the same road, may be connected with this case is puzzling residents in the district. Mr. Colin found one of his sheep dead, bleeding from the nose but with no marks on it. Counting his large flock he found to his surprise and dismay four more sheep missing, and no trace has yet been found of them.

FEELS FINE NOW AFTER TWO YEARS

STOMACH TROUBLE GONE QUEBEC MAN CAN EAT ANYTHING SET BEFORE HIM NOW.

"It just feels fine to be a well man again after two years of suffering, and I'm so grateful for what Tanlac has done for me that I want to make a statement about it," said Daniel John Landry of 312 St. Philippe St., Quebec, recently.

"I guess I've got myself to blame for my illness, because it was the excessive chewing of tobacco that caused my stomach trouble and so brought on my other ailments too. It started with chronic indigesion. Always after my meals I would feel a hard, heavy lump, right here in the pit of my stomach, and I would bloat up with gas fit to burst. Later, I lost all desire for food, and even the dainty dishes that my wife would prepare for me, did not tempt me to eat enough to keep up my strength. I used to be badly constipated, and had such dizzy spells that many a time I have had to stop in the street and lean up agains the side of a house to keep from falling over. My sleep was very disturbed and I would pass the night rolling and tossing from one side of the bed to the other. At last I got thoroughly weak and run down. My complexion was a yellowish green, and I looked like a ghost of my former self.

"But Tanlac has made a wonderful change in me. I've now got an appetite like a wolf, and eat anything that is put before me. All signs of my stomach trouble are gone; for I digest my food without difficulty, and never have any sort of distress afterwards. I am no longer constipated, and never have those dizzy spells now. I get sound, restful sleep every night and get up every morning feeling full of life and energy. I've got a good healthy color into my cheeks, and I tell you, I'm as well and happy as can be. Yes, sir, Tanlac has been a wonderful benefit to me, and I strongly recommend it to all who suffer as I did."

Tanlac is sold in Peterboro by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd.; in Havelock by A. C. Denike; in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd.; in Fowler's Corners by W. A. Hunter; in Gelert by A. J. Scott; in Westwood by G. Pringle & Sons.—(Advt.)

SEVERAL KILLED IN RIOT.

ROME, July 23.—Several persons were killed in the Vittorio Emanuele Square in the course of rioting Wednesday evening when tramway men took cars from the depots and drove them through the centre of the flying red flags.

Mrs. W. Jobe of Rochester returned home after an extended visit with Walton Routley and friends.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Peterborough, Ont.
July 26th, 1920.

The Editor of The Examiner,
Peterborough, Ont.

Dear Sir,—The matter of a further grant towards the construction of the bridge at Hunter street will be before the electorate very shortly and I take the liberty of expressing very briefly my reasons for the support of the by-law now submitted.

We are all disappointed at the expense of the work, some have not been favorable to the style of bridge to be erected and criticism of the Council, the engineer and contractors is freely indulged in. But these things only tend to obscure the real issues and to affect our judgment.

A majority vote against the by-law will compel the suspension of the work. That means a delay of at least one year and the loss of thousands of dollars as the supports constructed for the concrete arch over the river will not stand the high water and ice of winter and spring, and it is doubtful if the present Otonabee bridge will last through another winter.

The work has progressed too far to talk now about a steel structure and even if it had not, months upon months would elapse before the same could be manufactured and delivered.

The city is under both a legal and moral obligation to complete the bridge without delay, and if progress is not stayed, we may expect it to be finished for traffic in four or five months. We should vote the money and suspend further criticism until the construction is completed.

Yours truly,
E. A. PECK.

Editor, The Evening Examiner.

Sir,—As one working man who accepted the invitation through the press to attend George Street Church and hear a sermon by Rev. Mr. Pogue on Capital and Labour, I wish to express my appreciation of the courageous and fearless manner in which this subject was dealt with. Until employer and employee realise that economics and Christianity are so interwoven that the successful working of each will be interfered with, unless treated as they were at George Street Church on Sunday evening. This has long been advocated by some labour leaders of Peterborough.

I have attended other church services at which a sermon was advertised to deal with Capital and Labour and social subjects. The preacher usually got to what the employee should do and live up to. But the employees' obligations were rarely reached, and then only timidly.

I sincerely hope that last night's sermon by the Rev. Mr. Pogue will be the beginning of a series of such immediate social and economic subjects to be dealt with in the same just manner.—Yours, ... T. T.

The Only Dessert of This Kind

There are numerous forms of quick gelatine desserts. But Jiffy-Jell is the only one with the real-fruit flavors sealed in glass.

They crush the fruit, condense the juice and seal it. A bottle of the liquid fruit essence comes in each package of Jiffy-Jell. In a moment's time you can prepare a delicious fruit dessert.

Sugar is used in Jiffy-Jell—not saccharine. And real-fruit flavors in place of artificial. It will give you a new conception of these delightful dainties.

Jiffy-Jell is often used in place of jam, marmalade, etc. Additional sugar may be used to suit the taste.

SHOCKING FATALITY AT CAMPBELLFORD

J. B. FERRIS DIES FROM ACCIDENTAL DISCHARGE OF GUN IN OWN HAND.

(Special to The Examiner.)

CAMPBELLFORD, July 26.—The whole community was deeply shocked last evening on learning of the sudden death of Mr. J. B. Ferris from a bullet accidentally discharged into the unfortunate man's back from his own gun. Death was almost instantaneous.

It appears that at 6.30 last evening Mr. Ferris entered the kitchen of his home and deposited on the table some radishes he had gathered from his garden for supper. Remarking to his daughter, "those cats are bothering me again," he seized his gun and left the room. A few seconds afterwards a gunshot was heard, and his daughter, rushing to the front entrance, found her father lying in a dying condition just outside the door. The wounded man was carried into the house by his family, and medical assistance speedily summoned, but to no avail. He never recovered consciousness, and passed away shortly after the accident.

Cause of the Accident.

It is thought from the position of Mr. Ferris' body and gun that he had been carrying the weapon by its barrel, when the trigger caught in a screen door, discharging the contents into deceased's back.

Prominent Business Man.

The late J. B. Ferris was a prominent business man in Campbellford, of which he had been a lifelong resident, having succeeded his father, the late I. M. Ferris, as head of J. B. Ferris & Co., general merchants. J. M. Ferris was member for East Northumberland in the Ontario Legislature for a number of years.

Deceased was highly esteemed and respected in the community and had enjoyed public confidence in several offices. At the time of his death he was clerk of Seymour Township, and was also ex-postmaster for Campbellford. He took a lively interest in agriculture, being a director of the local Agricultural Society, and at one time was very active in fraternal societies.

The late J. B. Ferris was 63 years of age, and his immediate survivors are his sorrowing wife, three daughters, and one son, all at home.

The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon.

FINDS BROTHER HE BELIEVED WAS DEAD

MONTREAL, July 25.—A remarkable re-union was consummated on Saturday afternoon, when Lieutenant Norman A. Stott, who fought with the 38th (Ottawa) Battalion during the war, discovered that his brother, Andrew H. Stott, who he believed had been killed during the retreat from Mons, not only was alive, but residing in this city.

Lieutenant Stott, who is well known in Ottawa and St. Catharines, came to Montreal on business on Saturday from St. Catharines. While visiting the Central Y.M.C.A. he was surprised to discover the name, Andrew H. Stott, among a list of newly-joined members.

Inquiry disclosed the fact that the name was actually that of his brother, who had come to Canada immediately after the Armistice, and the re-union speedily followed.

WHY PHYSICIANS ACCEPTED NO FEES

Opportunity to Study Sick Man's Disease Sufficient Recompense.

NEW YORK, July 25.—Because it has given them an opportunity to study the disease and the effect of the newly discovered serum, physicians would accept no fees from Fred Post, famous polo player, for treatment which saved his life when he contracted the dread and generally fatal anthrax. He was allowed to pay only $13.50, which was for a week's room rent at Bellevue Hospital, although he is wealthy. More than 300 physicians, at different times, went to see him to study the case.

The hospital physicians are convinced Mr. Post contracted the disease through the bite of a fly.

LOG RAFT WORTH $100,000 BREAKS UP IN SQUALL

SARNIA, Ont., July 25.—While being towed down Lake Huron late this afternoon, a raft of logs valued at $100,000, belonging to the Cleveland and Sarnia Sawmills, broke away from its two attendant tugs during a heavy squall and broke up off Sarnia Harbor. Tugs were immediately despatched and every effort is being made to gather up the logs, which have drifted into the St. Clair River. Thousands of dollars' worth are already reported salvaged, but the frequent recurrence of heavy squalls is hampering the work and a heavy loss is expected. A similar accident occurred to one of the company's big rafts about a year ago.

RAIDED HOMES OF SANDWICH FARMERS

ARMED BANDITS CARRIED OFF LIQUOR AND BEAT MAN WHO RESISTED.

WINDSOR, Ont., July 25.—Despite all efforts made to check rum-running, and the law prevailing on the border, a startling new form of violence has developed and for the second time in twenty-four hours armed bandits made a raid early Saturday morning on the home of a Sandwich township farmer and carried away liquor, after threatening death to anyone who interfered. The first attack was made at dawn on Friday morning, when five bandits in a powerful automobile, attacked the home of Albemy Meloche, but, after an exchange of shots with Meloche and his son, were driven off before the provincial police, who had been telephoned for, arrived.

On this second occasion an attack was made by seven bandits who drove up to the home of Eli Gerard in a high-powered car, just as he and two hired men were getting ready to go to market, and held them up at the point of revolvers, while they ransacked Gerard's cellar and carried away a barrel of whiskey and a case of gin. In spite of the guns Gerard attempted to defend his liquor and was badly beaten by the thugs. Later with his head swathed in bandages, Gerard came into Windsor and reported the outrage to the police, who are now working on the cases, but have no clue to guide them.

DIES FROM WAR'S EFFECTS.

Son of Former Commerce Commissioner Murdock Passes.

TORONTO, July 24.— The death occurred this morning, at the residence of his parents, of L. Basil Murdock, second son of James Murdock, former commissioner of the Dominion Board of Commerce, and Vice-President of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. The deceased was in his 23rd year, and had served overseas, where he contracted tubercular trouble. He had been home for sixteen months, fifteen of which he was confined to bed. He served three years as a despatch rider in France after his graduation from Parkdale Collegiate.

Mr. Murdock was in Chicago, and arrived home after his son's death. The funeral will be held on Monday to Mount Pleasant cemetery.

BOYS BROKE INTO CARLOAD OF CANDIES

At Least the Traces Suggest Work of Boys.

Two merchandise cars lying at the G. T. R. freight sheds were broken into sometime between Saturday night and this morning and good pilfered. The theft looks like the work of boys for the goods taken were candies. They evidently made a night of it for a pile of binding twine showed where they had slept, at intervals during the night doubtless satisfying their sweet tooth from the candy boxes.

HAND INJURED.

Hugh Ward Lost Several Fingers While at Work.

Hugh Ward, a labourer at the William Hamilton Co., had several fingers taken off Saturday morning about 10 o'clock while working in the foundry. He was removed to Nicholls Hospital, but was able to be taken home this morning.

RECOVERED CAR.

Police Return Automobile to J. Murphy of Wellington.

On Saturday night the police recovered a Ford car which was stolen from Mr. J. Muruhy, of Wellington, Ont. They received information on Saturday that a car answering the description of the stolen car had been seen in the East City garage. Acting on this they found the car, which proved to be the one stolen.

W. VIRGINIA MOB LYNCHES A MURDERER

FAYETTEVILLE, W.Va., July 15.—William Bennett, Jr., of Fayetteville, serving a life sentence here for the murder of his wife and unborn child, was taken from the jail early to-day by a mob and lynched.

The jailer had previously been summoned to the sheriff's office by telephone, and when he arrived he was confronted by the mob, who demanded his keys. He was then kept under close guard while the jail was stormed and Bennett taken out.

His captors, occupying 20 automobiles, rode to a farm, where they hanged him from a tree. Bennett pleaded guilty to the murder of his wife in court, July 22, and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

ANNUAL PILGRIMAGE TO ST. ANNIE DE BEAUPRE

QUEBEC, July 25.—Thousands of people, including many from various parts of Canada and the United States, have arrived since Saturday on their way to the shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre, where the celebration of the feast of St. Anne on Monday will be honored.

The celebration of the religious festal was begun this afternoon with the chanting of the vespers.

To-morrow morning a Pontifical Mass will be solemnized in the presence of His Eminence Cardinal Begin, and the afternoon vespers will again be chanted, and will be followed by a procession of the blessed sacrament, followed by benediction.

BIG BUSINESS AT REGENT TAILORS

FORCING DOWN THE PRICE OF SUITS BRINGS A BIG BOOK OF ORDERS.

The selling force of the Regent Tailor's shop on Saturday had its work cut out for it. The value of newspaper advertising, combined with a lucky purchase of magnificent woollen suitings, brought the harvest to this growing taloring business in Peterborough. It holds true to-day, as ever, that to educate the people is the foundation of all true progress; and the Regent people not only are firm believers in publicity, but in handing out to the public a share of the best snaps that come their way.

Regent Company picked up from a large wholseale firm who had felt the effects of the backward condition of trade, a share of the big scoop, a $100,000 stock of suitings divided up by a syndicate, and put them on sale in their Peterborough branch on Saturday at submerged figures. In order to give men a chance to save far more on their wearing apparel than they could ever hope their money would earn in the bank, they had offered this wonderful opportunity to secure a suit to order of extra fine material, such as all wood tweeds and worsteds, at the almost unbelievable price of $27.00. Most of these woollens represnted in this offer included suitings that have been regularly marked up to order all summer at from $41 to $44 the suit—the proof of which any one can have by calling at the Regent's Shop. The Regent has a reputation for doing just such things occasionally; but this is the first time Peterborough has shared so liberally in their big suiting deals. If you are on a fence as to where to buy your next suit of fine worsteds, drop into Regent Tailors and they'll show you. 1d

GREAT ACTIVITY IN DUFFUS MOTOR SALES

TWENTY-ONE NEW AUTOMOBILES DISPOSED OF DURING THE PAST WEEK.

In an interview with Mr. Duffus of the Duffus Motor Sales, it was learned that during the past week twenty-one new automobiles had been disposed of and delivered. In a number of cases the cars had been driven into the city for spot delivery. In addition to the above rather extraordinary sales record, quite an unusual number of used cars have been disposed of by this firm during the same period. 1d-21-1w 31

DIED OF MEASLES.

Epidemic However is Passing—Few Cases of Smallpox Remain

Due to the fact the public is becoming educated into caution in drinking water and adopting other sanitary precautions, typhoid is becoming more and more scarce not only in the city but all about the country. In the city to-day there is not one single case of the disease and has not been for some time.

Generally speaking, Dr. A. W. McPherson, M.O.H. said to-day, the city's health is pretty satisfactory and so far no serious illness has resulted from drinking the river water.

Death From Measles.

The measles epidemic is gradually abating however, one child died yesterday from the effects of the disease.

Small pox has not entirely disappeared one case having developed last week and two the week before. There are at present only three houses placarded.

ADDITIONAL SPORT

PROFESSIONAL BALL IS A LOCAL POSSIBILITY; PLANS UNDER WAY

If the plans of Mr. L. D. Corbett, formerly of the staff of Farm and Dairy in this city, and a well known baseball enthusiast, materialize, Peterborough will be a member of a professional baseball circuit next season. It is proposed to form a league composed of Peterborough, Oshawa, Kingston, Ottawa, Montreal and one American city. This arrangement would permit of three Sunday games, at Montreal, Ottawa and in the city across the line.

Mr. Corbett has secured the necessary financial backing in Peterborough and leaves to-day to interest enthusiasts in other cities in the proposal, which is regarded as most feasible. Peterborough is ball crazy at the present time owing to the two successful seasons of the Peterborough Central League Club and the time is believed to be ripe for the re-appearance of this city in professional ball. Kingston has always been a good ball town, while teams in Ottawa and Montreal would be fine drawing cards.

CENTRAL LEAGUERS WILL PRACTICE

The Peterborough Central League team will practice at Riverside Park to-morrow (Tuesday) night at 6 o'clock and on Friday evening at the same hour, in preparation for Saturday's game here with Lindsay. A full turnout of all players is requested for both these work-outs.

$35.00 CONTRIBUTION TO THE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION.

From Owners of Riverside Park—Share of Saturday's Game.

The treasurer of the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association is in receipt of a cheque for $35.00 from the Riverside Grounds Syndicate, being the net proceeds of their share of receipts from Saturday's benefit game.

NEW BALL BATTERY FOR LINDSAY WEDNESDAY

Lindsay baseball fans will have an opportunity of seeing a new battery in motion next Wednesday afternoon when the Peterborough Thistles play in Lindsay, says the Warder. Ross Mann will be on the slab, and George Langdon behind the bat. Both are players of no mean ability, and Mann has all kinds of "smoke," with a curve or two sandwiched in. Langon has demonstrated his ability behind the bat and will be given a try. Chambers and Starr will be on hand to back up Mann.

Opposed to this aggregation will be "Hap" Harrison and Max Swanston, a real peppery battery.

The game should be well worth seeing, and don't be surprised if the Town Leaguers take a fall out of the fast Peterborough team.

GUN CLUB NOTICE.

The Gun Club will hold their regular weekly shoot next Friday night. On 11th August Port Hope is holding a shoot open to all clubs of the district. The local club will be represented there.

DISCUSS SOVIET'S PROPOSED PARLEY

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, July 26.—Premier Lloyd George will meet Premier Millerand, of France at Boulogne to-morrow (Tuesday) to discuss a Russian proposal that the Allies hold a conference with the Russian Soviet government. Lloyd George will return to London Tuesday night.

THISTLES WILL PLAY IN LINDSAY

The Thistles will play in Lindsay on Wednesday against a picked team from the Lindsay City League, and Louis Yeotes' team is being boomed like a circus by the Lindsay management.

BASEBALL

Game at the Oval.

The pick of the Commercial League teams, under the leadership of the Westclox, challenge the William Hamilton team to a game of ball to be played on Wednesday night at six o'clock at the Oval.

CALEDONIANS PRACTICE TO-MORROW EVENING

All prospective players and signed players are requested to turn out to practice on Tuesday evening at west end of Exhibition Grounds at 6.30 prompt. All new Scots players are asked to come and have a game.

BIG PICNIC STAFF READY FOR SACRED HEART SOCIAL

The orignation for Father John O'Brien's picnic to be held at the Church of the Sacred Heart tomorrow has been as nearly perfected as possible and already two hundred and fifty workers have been secured, assuring prompt service in the dining room and at all booths. It is confidently expected the affair will be an absolute success.

Shock-Absorbers For False Teeth

CLEVELAND, March 8. — Non-Skid Shock Absorbers for false teeth are the latest thing. Heretofore the principle of shock absorbers has been limited in application but now a Cleveland chemical concern advertises a powder, which sprinkled upon "store teeth," forms a smooth cushion, holds them firmly in place, and gives a "non-skid" effect while they romp over the toughest ears of corn and chew the stickiest candy.

One who has lost his natural teeth can supply himself with this antiseptic, adhesive comfort powder—Corega—at a drug store, and proceed to laugh and sneeze, chack nuts and do other hazardous things without the risk of shaking his prized false teeth from their upper and lower berths. 50c at druggists.—Adv.

A COUNTRY NIGHT PIECE.

The darkness my footsteps were swathed in
Is drenched with a luminous spray;
For a chain's length the kerbstone is bathed in
A spindrift of silvery grey;
By the roadside is mistily glimmering
A wall phosphorescent with pearls,
All glancing and dancing and shimmering
Like star-dust that swirls.

Where the high-road dips down to the dingle,
A coppice in arabesque gleams
Whose traceries melt and commingle,
Like ghost trees in moon-fretted streams.
As the tremulous glamour sweeps o'er it
And skirts the inscrutable sky;
Then, Fairyland flitting before it,
The car flashes by.

THE DELORO TEAM EASILY BEATEEN BY THE PETES

TRENT VALLEY LEAGUE LEADERS LOST BY 10 RUNS TO 1 IN BENEFIT GAME AT RIVERSIDE PARK —REFINERS NEVER DANGEROUS AFTER THE FIRST INNINGS.

SNAPPY BALL BY PETES

The Deloro team found on Saturday afternoon at Riverside Park that leading the Trent Valley League and beating the Central League winners were two quite different propositions. The Petes won handily by 10 runs to 1 and were never in trouble. The Refiners managed to bunch two of their six hits with a stolen base for a counter in the first innings, but were not dangerous after that momentary flare-up, while on the other hand the Petes kept picking steadily away at the slants of Pitcher Scharmel, working him for twelve hits, which, with the assistance of fielding lapses on the part of the visitors and four bases on balls, all of which were converted into runs were responsible for ten counters.

Harrison and Kirn did the gunning for the Petes and both made an excellent job of it. "Hap" pitched the first six innings, allowing only four hits and one run, while Kirn blanked the Deloro crew in the last three innings. Neither of the Peterboro pitchers gave a base on balls. Incidentally all three of the local box artists are displaying great control these days. In the Cobourg game Kirn allowed only one walk. In the battle with Lindsay Lornie Rose did not issue a pass and on Saturday there was not a complimentary from either Harrison or Kirn, making but a single base on balls in three games.

The Petes fielded in snappy style on Saturday. Ray Rose covered first in a workmanlike manner, and the team was on its toes all the way. McCarney's catch of Scharmel's hard drive in the fifth and a fast double play started by Cherrett and with Tom. Holyman as the pivodal point, were features of the Peterboro defence work, while Meloche, the elongated Deloro first baseman, was in the limelight with a one handed pick-up of a torrid grass-cutter from Corrin and a fine catch of Jackson's hot liner, both of which looked like hits.

Umpire Archer, of Deloro, handled the game nicely behind the bat and Umpire E. Lebarr of Peterboro presided on the bases satisfactorily. There was a big crowd of fans present and a substantial sum was raised for the Smoke Olympic Fund.

First Innings.

Deloro—Feeney rolled to Harrison. Drennan singled to left and stole second. Meloche fanned. Brousseau singled to left centre, scoring Drennan but was out trying to go to second on the throw to the plate. One run.

Peterboro—Cherrett grounded to Scharmel. Murray walked and was caught off first but reached second safely when Drennan dropped the ball. Swanston flied to Brousseau. Harrison singled to centre, scoring Murray. Rose rolled to Drenan, a nice stop by the short-stop. One run.

Second Innings.

Deloro—Auger fanned. Harrison threw out Evans. Regan was safe on Holyman's miss, but died stealing, Swanston to Holyman.

Peterboro—Corrin beat out a hit to first, but was doubled up when Lowe bunted a fly to Regan in trying to sacrifice. Scharmel tossed out Holyman.

Third Innings.

Deloro—Scharmel flied to Cherrett. Kerr singled to left but was out stealing, Swanston to Holyman. Feeney out, Harrison to Rose.

Peterboro—McCarney walked and stole second after Cherrett had bunted a foul fly to Evans. Murray walked. Swanston singled to right, scoring McCarney and sending Murray to third. Murray scored on a double steal with Swanston. Harrison was safe on Regan's fumble and stole second. Rose singled to centre, scoring Swanston and Harrison. Rose stole second, but was doubled up when Corrin flied to Brousseau in left. Four runs.

Fourth Innings.

Deloro—Drennan grounded to Rose. Meloche fanned. Brousseau singled between short and third, but was forced at second on Auger's roller to Cherrett.

Peterboro—Lowe singled to left. Holyman hoisted to Feeney. Lowe stole second. McCarney was called out on strikes. Cherrett singled to left, scoring Lowe and going to second when Brousseau fumbled. Murray's drive to right was captured by Kerr. One run.

Fifth Innings.

Deloro—Murray tossed out Evans. Regan was easy, Harrison to Rose. McCarney made a nice catch of Scharmel's fly to right.

Peterboro—Swanston beat out a hit to third. Harrison walked. Rose forced Swanston at third, Scharmel to Regan, Corrin forced Rose at second, Feeney to Drennan. Lowe scratched a hit on a roller in front of the plate, Harrison scoring. Lowe stole second. Holyman fouled to Evans. One run.

Sixth Innings.

Deloro—Kerr rolled to Murray. Feeney died on a grounder to Rose. Harrison covering first. Drennan hoisted to Cherrett.

Peterboro—McCarney flied to Feeney. Cherrett rolled to Meloche. Murray doubled to right and went to third on Evan's throw to second, which hit the runner. Murray scored when Brousseau dropped Swanston's fly. Harrison hit to Drennan whose throw pulled Meloche off the bag. Rose fanned. One run.

Seventh Innings.

Deloro—With Kirn pitching and Ross catching for Peterboro, Meloche flied to Cherrett. Brousseau grounded out to Rose. Auger missed three, but the third one got away from Ross and the runner was safe. He stole second, Holyman dropping the ball. Evans hit to Murray on the line and Auger collided with the third baseman, knocking him out. Auger tried to score on the play, but Cherrett shot the ball to Ross and got him at the plate.

Peterboro—Meloche made a nice stop of Corrin's hard roller. Lowe singled but died stealing. Holyman fanned.

Eighth Innings.

Deloro — Regan singled to right. Scharmel hit into a fast double play, Cherrett to Holyman to Rose. Kerr fanned.

Peterboro—Jackson was robbed of a hit by a fine catch by Meloche. Cherrett doubled to right and went to third when Drennan let the throw get away from him. The squeeze play was pulled very neatly, Murray beating out a perfect bunt, while Cherrett scored. Murray stole second. Ross hit a long fly to right which Kerr dropped, Murray scoring and Ross going to third. Murray was knocked out at the plate, hurting his knee. With Kirn up, the squeeze play was tried again, but this time failed, Ross being out at the plate. Kirn fanned. Two runs.

Ninth Innings.

Deloro—The Petes line-up was shifted again owing to the accident to Murray. Jackson, who had replaced McCarney in left, moved into short, Cherret went to third and Manager Solomon got into the game for the first time this season, going to right field. Feeney struck out. Drennan rolled to Rose and Cherrett tossed out Meloche.

PETERBORO DEFEATED OSHAWA IN A FAST FOOTBALL GAME 4-3

SHARMAN SCORED IN FOUR MINUTES—RORRISON BRILLIANT—JONES SPECTACULAR SAVES—HALF-TIME PETERBORO 2, OSHAWA 0—OSHAWA SCORED TWO GOALS IN SUCCESSION—RORRISON EQUALIZED—REID SCORED THROUGH HIS OWN GOAL—PETERBORO 4, OSHAWA 3.

A very gratifying attendance of spectators witnessed the Football Game on Saturday afternoon at Nicholls Oval between the Champions of the Oshawa League and the Champions of the Peterboro League to decide the District Championship in a home and home series.

The Oshawa team were given a hearty reception when they arrived on the field and looked a far heavier team all round. In the Oshawa League the G.W.V.A. team never lost a game with 27 goals scored for and 3 goals against and had one drawn game.

Owing to sickness Bishop of the local team could not play and McMillan (Caledonians) was used as his substitute, otherwise the team was as usual.

The Teams

Oshawa:—J. King, goal; H. Wood and H. Payne backs; H. Smith, B. Reid and E. Humphrey half backs, G. Morgan, H. Brown, R. Rouse, A. Rorrison and J. McMaster forwards.

Peterboro:— W. Jones, goal; H. Gamble and P. D. Ryan backs; H. Burrows, S. McMillan and J. Peel, half backs; T. Monks, J. Cridland, H. Norman, A. Edwards and J. Sharman forwards.

Referee:—Mr. Alex. McKinley.

Goal in Four Minutes

Gamble won the toss and Rouse set the ball in motion for Rorrison to test Peterboro goal-keeper with a fast drive that brought a fruiless corner through Payne kicking past. From the goal kick to midfield Reid missicked to let Cridland pass out to the outside right who lashed the ball across the goal mouth to left winger. Woods made an attempt to get it but Sharman caught a drop ball from about 8 yards out that left his foot like a rocket and beat King although he hit the ball with his hands. A few minutes afterwards Sharman and Edwards both tested King with fast drives for Payne to kick to touch to clear. McMaster broke away on the left along with Rorrison. They kept Gamble busy but the Peterboro back checked nicely to mid-field. A throw up in front of goal gave Rouse an opportunity to score but only made Jones jump up into the goals to save. The Oshawa outside right beat McMillan on right wing on a nice tackle

Rorrison's Great Shot

He lashed the ball across to the inside left who let drive for the far corner of the goal. Everybody thought the ball was through but Jones threw himself across the goal to give a corner that was cleared up the field by Ryan. A solo run by Morgan ended with Jones saving nicely and Rouse putting over the bar. Monks carried the ball to the other end with Payne checking him in nick of time. Reid slipped the ball out to Morgan who beat along the wing like a flash and without any hesitation, he put across the goal-mouth with nobody present to kick through. Gamble cleared to Burrows who passed to Edwards and Sharman. The outside left run into the corner, and swinging the ball acaross to Norman; the goal-keeper saved nicely. Peterboro got two corners in succession that were unproductive.

Jones' Spectacular Saves.

The whole forward line of Oshawa went down in a body using dribbling tactics. They went in upon Jones who beat them for a sure goal with Morgon the leading man. Their nice combination by the Oshawa left wing was stopped by Gamble. He shot the ball forward to Cridland who made King save a rocket shot. Immediately thereafter Norman missed an open goal that gave them a corner. Monks placed a beauty for Edwards to head into the Oshawa custodian's hands. At the other end Brown kicked past

Sharman's Second Goal.

From the goal-kick Monks carried the ball down the wing; Payne tackled and put to touch. The throw-in went to McMillan's foot who lifted ball into Oshawa's area and Sharman running to accept the drop made no mistake with an unsavable shot. McMaster and Rorrison played havoc on the left wing and gave Rouse an opportunity to score but Jones picked the ball up splendidly. Sharman tested King with a low ground shot, Payne beat three men and passed up to Humphreey who playd up to the left wing that gave Peterboro defence a lot of trouble but McMaster handled. McMillan punted to Norman to get a fruitless corner. Play was confined to Oshawa area where Norman and Cridland beat the defence and with only the goal keeper to beat. King jumped upon him to save a sure goal. Oshawa made a raid just as whistle went for half-time. Peterboro 2, Oshawa 0.

Half Time.

Quick as a flash Rorrison tested Jones with a low ground shot. Ryan cleared up to Norman and Edwards. The inside left shot the ball back to Cridland who passed to Norman and letting drive from about 18 yards out, he put it out of King's reach for third goal. Oshawa retaliated on the right wing and Morgan passing back to Smith let him test Jones that deserved a goal.

Rouse Scored.

A few minutes afterwards Reid shot a low ground forward to Rouse who had a try for goal. The ball bounded off McMillan's head, in front of goal that deceived Jones for Oshawa's first goal. The whole forward line came back again to test Jones repeatedly. Edwards carried the play to the other end for Payne to punt down the wing to McMaster who made Jones look smart to clear from his 20 yard drive Peterboro retaliated through Edwards for a fruitless corner. Oshawa forwards made straight for Jones to kick back into play. McMaster placed a beautiful pass to Rouse who made an awful shot at it with nobody on him. A foul-throw against Smith looked dangerous for Oshawa but Peel put past Norman returned again to test King and Sharmon shot across again to Monk who made a good attempt to score. Oshawa goal keeper touched it for a corner.

King's Daring Saves.

Sharman placed a beauty right in King to save and returned to centre forward with Oshawa goal keeper front of goal, Norman let drive for jumping upon him to save a certainty Gamble the Peterboro full-back, was up giving a helping hand and Rorrison getting the ball in mid-field tore down the field to give Jones no chance to save for Oshawa's second goal. Just afterwards the same player missed the mark by inches. Play was transfered to the other end by Cridland. Payne kicked to touch to clear his goal and from the throw-in Sharman put past. Offsides against Rouse spoiled Oshawa's raid. From the resulting kick Sharman beat Woods on the run and swinging the ball across to Cridland the Oshawa goal-keeper saved in masterly fashion.

Rorrison's Scored Third Goal

Woods cleard to Reid who past out to McMaster. The outside left put back to Rorrison who went straight for the goal and while on the run let drive to beat Jones by hitting the inside of the far upright to go through. Even play ensued for a little while until Monks worked a corner of Payne. The outside right sent a rocket shot into mid-air.

Reid Scored Through his own Goal.

All the players made an attempt to get at it but Reid being the tallest diverted the ball past King for the winning goal. In a tackle with Cridland the Oshawa left half was slightly injured but he resumed after a little attention. On an attack led by Rouse, the Oshawa forward line went down in a body upon the Peterboro defence for Jonts to clear in nick of time. The Peterboro team repeated the same tactics upon Oshawa defence that compelled King to concede a corner that was unproductive. From this until the end the Peterboro team prsessed but the Oshawa defence put up and excellent exhibition of football that held them in check. Peterboro 4, Oshawa 3.

Analysis of the Game.

The following analysis will give an approximate idea of how the game run and decisions awarded by Referee Alex McKinley.

NOTES ON THE GAME

The G. W. V. A. team of Oshawa has a very creditable record in the Football League. Throughtout the season finished they scored 27 goals and the goal keeper has only 3 goals against him. They were a far heavier team in every position.

The two goals scared by Sharman were undoubtedly unsavable shots and Norman's goal was a beauty. The fourth goal was scored by Reid through his own goal.

In the Oshawa team the left wing and outside right are Scotsmen who have just arrived from Auld Scoia a few months ago. The combination of the left wing was something worth seeing.

For a regular "Victrola" you have got to hand it to H. Woods of Oshawa. During the game he practised the old trick "shouting for unseen decisions." The referee told him to practice something new. Along with Payne he made an excellent defence

The crowd had many a laugh when ever Reid of Oshawa, a stalwart 6 footer, would run against Lofty Edwards of 5 feet odds. The local man bounced off the centre half like a ball but he made up for it by his football tactics.

Without doubt, Jack McAdam, Trainer of Oshawa team has a fast going bunch and whenever he would shout "Gie's some dribblin' " the Scotsman of Oshawa responded to his wail. Rorrison and McMaster played havoc for a while that gave them two goals.

Both goal-keepers gave a good account of themselves. The Oshawa full backs were the better of the two although if Gamble had had Bishop playing with him on Saturday it would have made a difference. Both teams were very weak at half-back. There was nothing to choose between the forward lines.

OSHAWA PLAYERS WERE ENTERTAINED

EXCELLENT SUPPER PROVIDED BY THE COMMITTEE.

The Oshawa players were entertained on Saturday after the football game to an excellent supper provided by the committee and through the able assistance of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the G.W.V.A. Nearly 60 persons sat down at the tables in the G.W.V.A. Hall, Murray street. Throughout the proceedings a member of the Ladies' Auxiliary played a number of appropriate selections on the piano. President Muir gave the visitors a hearty welcome to the city and wished the Oshawa branch every success in the drive for funds to get a building second to none. Mr. Tom Jeyes, manager of the team, responded on behalf of the visitors, and thanked the ladies and members for the courtesy shown them. The rest of the time was spent in a free and easy manner. Arrangements were completed to play the return game in Oshawa on Saturday, August 7th.

MEMORIAL AT HALIBURTON.
After considerable delay and much discussion as to what would be built it has finally been decided to erect a monument to the memory of those who fell in the great war, at Haliburton. The municipality will complete the work commenced on the plot last yar, and a Toronto firm will supply the memorial stone. — Minden Echo.

A NERVY TRICK.

Bootleggers Pulled Off a Rather Nervy Stunt at Cobourg.

For some time past the mode of getting in a supply ample enough to fill demands has been via the fictitious name route or in the name of a friend, so that the large amounts coming in will not show when the license inspector makes his rounds of express companies. Saturday a well-known and busy bootlegger had a case come in under a fictitious name. Another man hearing of it, called for the case and got it, taking it to a house, which might be termed "bachelor's quarters." The bootlegger heard of it, and he and one of his rounders broke into the house and removed the case. Now the house owner is talking of laying a charge of housebreaking against the pair.

WEDDING BELLS

ROSEBOROUGH—BRUMWELL.

A very quiet wedding was solemnised at Winnipeg on 10th July at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. J. S. Brumwell, when Irene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Brumwell, Peterborough, was united in marriage to Arthur Edward Roseborough, of Calgary, son of the late Samuel Roseborough and Louise J. Roseborough, Peterborough. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Thomas Neville, pastor of the Norwood Methodist Church, Winnipeg.

Mr. and Mrs. Roseborough left for Banff, where they will spend some time. They will reside in Calgary, where the groom is dean of the boys' residence in Mount Royal College.

GAYTON—WHALLEY.

On Wednesday, July 21st, a quiet wedding was solemnized in the Methodist Church, Pembroke, Ont., when Miss Annetta Rosalind Whalley, M. A., only daughter of Thos. W. Whalley, proprietor of The Pembroke Standard, and former proprietor of the Peterboro Review, and Mrs. Whalley, became the bride of William Arthur Gayton, of Vibank, Sask., son of John E. Gayton and Mrs. Gayton, Manitou, Man., and nephew of the Hon. Senator Turrift, of Ottawa, and also late lieutenant of the 15th Reserve Battalion. The groom served four years overseas and while a soldier in the 28th Battalion, C.E.F., was severely wounded at the battle of Paschendale. The bride has until recently been engaged in literary work in Toronto and is a member of the Canadian Women's Press Club. The Rev. W. H. Stevens, of Pembroke, officiated, and the couple were unattended. The bride wore a gown of white georgette over lace and trimmed with pearls, with tulle veil and bandeau of pearls and orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of roses and sweet peas. The bride's mother was attired in a black sequin dress with touches of sapphire blue and carried deep red roses. Mrs. J. A. Houston, of Brooklyn, New York, aunt of the bride, wore rose French voile, trimmed with rose taffeta and carried wheite sweet peas. The bride entered the church with her father to the strains of the bridal march from Lohengrin, played by Mr. J. A. Jeffries, Mus. Bac., organist of the church. During the signing of the register Miss A. Jackson, of Toronto, gave an excellent rendering of "Alone With God," by Jane Bingham-Abbott, and sang with much feeling. The witnesses were Miss Cockburn, of Ottawa, and J. F. C. Whalley, Toronto, brother of the bride. After the ceremony a wedding luncheon was served at the home of the bride's parents, Miss G. E. Cockburn, B.A., of Ottawa, a member of Gamma Phi Beta, the bride's University sorority. Miss Isabel Stevens and Mrs. S. Bromley, of Pembroke, assisting. The large number of beautiful gifts attested the esteem in which the young couple are held. Relatives present from a distance were Mrs. J. A. Houston, New York, and J. F. C. Whalley, B.A., barrister, Toronto. After a trip through the Great Lakes and western points the happy couple will reside at Vibank, Sask.

PEACEMAKER NOW BETWEEN TWO FIRES

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, July 26.— Sir Horace Plunkett, writing to the 'Times' on the subject of Labor's Irish conference with Premier Lloyd George, says that the British people must be reminded of two reasons why the Sinn Fein peacemaker asked for by the Premier is "now on a bridge between two extremes." The first reason, says the writer, is that until recently anyone putting himself in the position of peacemaker between the government and Sinn Feiners would have been summarily jailed without charge or trial, and secondly because the Irish people have lost all faith in the promises of the British government.
Sir Horace continues: "Before the Irish tragedy is wantonly deepened by the rejection of minister's offer, it would be well for the British people to ponder these two things carefully."

JOHNSON TAKEN TO JOLIET JAIL

Ex-Champion Pugilist Says He's Glad to Be in U.S. and Will Take His Medicine.

CHICAGO, July 25.—Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion, is in jail at Joliet, Ills. to-night. He was taken off the train by officers who foiled a plan of Chicago negroes to give the pugilist a demonstration when the train pulled into hCicago. Joliet is 30 miles from here.
Johnson was brought to Chicago from Los Angeles, where he recently surrendered to Federal authorities, after a self-imposed exile from the country of more than eight years. He is wanted on a technical charge of white slavery.

BOWMANVILLE RATE 37 MILLS; EXPECTED 40 MILLS

BOWMANVILLE, July 24. — The estimates have been struck by the town council for expenditures in the various departments for 1920 and a rate of 36 mills on the dollar was decided on.
This is indeed a pleasant surprise to many of the citizens, says the Statesmen, as it was expected that the rate would be well over 40 mills. The rate has been cut very close and so that with the supplementary estimates another mill will be consumed before the end of the year.

GREEK ARMY COMPLETELY ROUTS TURK

FIVE DAYS' OPERATIONS WORKED ON SCHEDULE—COMMANDER BARELY ESCAPED.

FLED IN PANIC

(Canadian Press)

ATHENS, July 27.—The taking of Adrianople, according to an official communication, virtually ends five days' operations against Jafar Tayar's principal forces. The campaign was carried out according to schedule, armies in Thrace on Maritse and Wrodosto joining forces at the proper moment and advancing rapidly and dispersing the enemy. The Turks fled in panic, throwing away their arms and abandoning supplies of guns and ammunition. The Turkish commander escaped from Adrianople in an automobile, proceeding to Kirk Kilisse.

CUSTOMS OFFICERS ARE MULTIPLYING FOR LUXURY TAXES

W. H. Buller returned last night from an inspection trip of the Inland Revenue offices along the lake shore. Peterborough is the head office for the counties of Northumberland, Durham, Peterborough, Victoria and Haliburton and his tour covered Bowmanville, Port Hope, Cobourg, Colborne, Brighton and Campbellford. There have always been deputy officers at Port Hope and Cobourg, but since the inception of luxury and sales tax their duties have been too burdensome because of the wide territory covered and recently the government instructed the custom officers at Bowmanville, Colborne, Brighton and Campbellford to look after their immdiate territory for the Inland Revenue and relieve the Port Hope and Cobourg officers.

Mr. Buller states that the system is now in good working order and should prove satisfactory. The returns to the towns visited are coming in satisfactorily and those paying the new taxes are gradually becoming better acquainted with the formalities of making returns.

Bolshevik Forces Are Overrunning Armenia; Join Turk Freebooters

UNREST GROWING IN GEORGIA AND RED ARMIES CAN GAIN CONTROL IN CAUCASUS WHEN THEY WANT IT—TREATIES WERE DISREGARDED.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 26.—Considerable Russian Bolshevik forces, chiefly cavalry, are overrunning the Karabagan district of Armenia, known as the "Black Garden," apparently with the purpose of joining the Turkish Nationalists and the Russian Bolsheviki approaching Shuhha (the capital of Karabagh). This district is southwest of Baku and more than 900 miles from Constantinople. It is reported that Enver Pasha is accompanying the forces, which constitute a special army created for operations in Turkey.

The Armenians probably aggregate only 25,000 troops, many af whom are declared to be of Bolshevik tendencies, and Armenian resistance to a large Bolshevik movement, therefore, it is believed, will be ineffective.

Unrest is growing in Georgia. Greeks and other foreigners are leaving Batunf and Poti by hundreds daily. Agitators are fomenting quarrels between the Georgians and Tatars and Turks at Batum, where the situation is reported to be critical. The Armenians have protested to Moscow against the alleged violation of the treaty recently concluded with the Soviet Government. It is stated, however, that all treaties with the Bolsheviki in the Caucasus apparently were wholly timegaining devices, which were disregarded as soon as the fighting with Poland began.

Foreign observers here express the belief that the Bolsheviki can take over the entire control in the Caucasus whenever they see fit, including control of the railway and troop dispositions.

Mustapha Kemal Pasha, the Nationalist leader, continues to issue communications declaring that the Greek successes are unimportant. These communications declare that as the Bolsheviki are coming to the support of the Nationalists the Turks will continue to retreat eastward if necessary until they obtain satisfactory positions from which to give battle.

Says Impartial Troops Prevented Civil War

(Associated Press Despatch.)

LONDON, July 26.—Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, declared in the House of Commons to-night that the troops and the police had shown the sternest impartiality in Ireland, and that the presence of the troops and warships had saved Belfast from a possible massacre of thousands and North Ireland from a devastating civil war.

A Nationalist Protest.

In the House of Commons to-night Joseph Devlin, Nationalist member for West Belfast, moved the adjournment to call the attention to the riots in Belfast and the alleged failure of the Government to afford adequate protection to Roman Catholics, asserting that the army of occupation in Ireland should maintain order impartially.

James Sexton, seconding the adjournment, stated that unless the horrible business ended quickly he and his friends would no longer take the responsibility of keeping peace in the ranks of Labour on the other side of the Channel.

Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, in reply, repudiated the charge of partiality. All workers in Ireland would be afforded protection to the fullest extent, irrespective of creed, he said.

Adjournment was refused, and the House went into consideration of the Excess Profits Duty Bill, the proposal to limit which to the close of 1920 failed.

ROSE BRAND SIGN IS MUCH ADMIRED

WORK OF J. J. TURNER AND SONS LIMITED A BIG ADVERTISEMENT.

The large sign of the Canadian Packing Co., erected on Charlotte street across from the Charlbond Apartments has attracted much attention and no little admiration since its completion. The work reflects great credit on the firm that executed it, J. J. Turner and Sons.

The large sign 40' x 10' displays the Rose brand products of the company to great advantage and the lettering and scroll work is in keeping with the high class painting throughout. The kitchen scene is excellently done and in the cool refrigerator the Rose Brand products are temptingly displayed.

The Canadian Packing Co., have an excellent advertisement in this sign and one that will keep their Rose Brand products ever before the public

FIRE CHIEFS OPEN CONVENTION WITH RELIGIOUS TANGLE

WRANGLED OVER QUESTION AS TO WHO SHOULD INVOKE GOD'S BLESSING.

TORONTO, July 27.—The resignation of Fire Chief John Kenlon, of New York City, as President of the International Fire Chiefs' Association, marked the opening session of the convention of that body here yesterday.

Fire Chief Kenlon's resignation grew out of the dispute between himself and Fire Chief John Russell, of Toronto, as to whether Archbishop McNeil, appointed by Fire Chief Kenlon, or Canon Cody, appointed by the committee on arrangements, of which Fire Chief Russell was chairman, should pronounce the invocation.

A committee of three, appointed to investigate the matter, upheld the Toronto Chief, following which Chief Kenlon tendered his resignation as President. The resignation was accepted by a vote of 131 to 108.

Fire Chief Healy, of Denver, Colorado, vice-president, presided following the resignation of Fire Chief Kenlon.

Address of Welcome.

Mayor Church, of Toronto, in welcoming the delegates, referred to the fireman's calling as an heroic one, and referring to the American delegates, said, "You are our own people; blood is thicker than water."

It had been arranged that Chief A. A. Rosetta, of Nashville, Tennesee, should reply to the address of welcome, but he died last Friday, and Chief Boyd, of Knoxville, Tennesee, took his place. Chief Boyd thanked Toronto for the hearty welcome, and said that the visiting firemen would carry away only the most pleasant recollections of their visit.

Peterborough Represented.

Fire Chief Grange, of Peterborough is attending the convention.

VILLA HAS OFFERED TO SURRENDER

PRESIDENT HUERTA HAS ACCEPTED ON CONDITION VILLA REPAIRS RAILWAYS HE DESTROYED.

VILLA WILL COMPLY

(Special to The Examiner.)

MEXICO CITY, July 27.—Francisco Villa has telephoned President Dela Huerta offering to surrender unconditionally, it was announced at the War Ministry to-day.

Villa had captured Sabinas, in the State of Coahuila, from where he telegraphed Dela Huerta.

Villa declared that he had moved from Chihuahua because he mistrusted the officials there, and wished to surrender Coahuila.

Villa notified Dela Huerta that railway traffic in Coahuila had been interrupted, and asked to whom he should surrender.

Dela Huerta replied, stating Villa's surrender was acceptable, on condition that he repair the railroads he had destroyed. He was told to report to General Eugenio Martinez at Torreon.

It was declared to-day that Villa had already reported to Martinez, and had given assurances that his force was ready to execute the Government's orders.

CLASHED WITH HUERTANS.

(Canadian Press.)

EAGLE PASS, Texas, July 27.—The arrival of Francisco Villa, the bandit chieftain, at Sabinas yesterday was immediately followed by a sharp encounter with the Government forces, numbering about 25 men, all of whom are believed to have been killed, according to information reaching here.

It is said Villa's forces totalled between 300 and 500.

Villa, who, advices say, came to Sabinas to negotiate by telegraph with the Dela Huerta government on the terms for the surrender of himself and his men, will start on another warpath if his terms for giving himself up are not acepted.

Refugees are coming into Piedras, Texas, from the Sabinas district, fearing trouble as a result of Villa's presence, it is said.

BIG PROGRAMME FOR LABOUR DAY

COMMITTEE ARRANGING FOR FIELD DAY OF SPORTS

The Labour Day Committee of the Trades and Labour Council met last night, and the arrangements for a monster Labour Day celebration were enthusiastically outlined.

A field day will be held at the Exhibition Park. There will be a bicycle race, a five-a-side football game, for a quarter of an hour, and a good list of sports, including events open to the public.

The Grand Opera House may be engaged for the evening.

Arrangements are being made with the merchants to secure their co-operation.

BERLIN, July 27.—The Cabinet has approved a bill providing for the disarmament of the civil population, and it will be introduced in the Reichstag at once.

Th new Army Bill, which is to go before the Reichstag on Wednesday contains a clause declaring the universal compulsory military service abolished, and provisions to the contrary are rescinded.

The papers announce that the French authorities have refused travelling permits to George Iedebour, a secret member of the Reichstag, who was engaged to address a Socialist meeting in Paris on 31st July.

$750,000,000 Estimate of Tidewater Route to Lakes is Questioned

DEVELOPMENT OF ST. LAWRENCE FOR PROJECT TO PUT GREAT LAKES ON THE SEABOARD WOULD COST NOT MORE THAN $200,000,000 HYDRO-ELECTRIC OPINION.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, July 27.—The estimate that the St. Lawrence power and navigation scheme would cost $750,000,000, which was dropped like a bombshell at the Detroit convention last week by Gardiner S. Williams, a consulting engineer of Ann Arbor, Mich., is not accepted as reliable by deep waterway enthusiasts in Toronto.

"The figure is absurd," declared Mr. Gaby, the chief engineer of the Provincial Hydro, "and we have actual data upon which to base our opinion."

"We have spent large sums taking soundings and making surveys. The last figure I heard mentioned was $200,000,000," said Sir Adam Beck. "That figure would probably cover the cost of the two principal dams at Morrisburg and Lake Francis. But minor works at Cedar Rapids and elsewhere would be extra. No one at this stage pretends to know the exact cost and it will be divided evenly with the United States."

Alex Lewis, secretary of the Canadian Deep Waterways Association, also thought the Williams'. estimate was excessive. All the Toronto enthusiasts are satisfied that whatever the cost the benefits would justify the completion of the work.

Daylight Robberies in the Heart of Chicago

CHICAGO, July 26.— Two bandits and two express company paymasters were shot, one of the latter probably fatally, and $25,000 stolen in two daring payroll robberies on the West Side within 20 minutes of each other this afternoon. All the bandits escaped.

Earlier in the day two young men who have been holding up branches of a chain store grocery system perpetrated their fifteenth robbery within a month, escaping with $750.

Five bandits in a touring car fought with three express company messengers in front of the Hart, Shaffner & Marx clothing factory in the heart of the densely populated West Side, and escaped with a steel box containing $10,000 after two of their number had been wounded.

Fifty Shots Exchanged.

More than 50 shots were exchanged in the fight, while 200 pedestrians and employees of the factory looked on. George Haubrock, one of the express paymasters, was shot through the head and is not expected to live. Another messenger, Charles Gaude, was wounded in the leg.

After Haulbrock fell one of the robbers grabbed the box, but was shot down by Gaude. A second bandit snatched up the money and threw it into the car ,but was shot before he could follow and collapsed across the running board. His companions dragged the other wounded man into the car and it dashed off with one injured man clinging to the running board.

Make $15,000 Haul.

A motorcycle policeman gave chase but lost the trail after several blocks.

Shortly after the first hold-up three amed men drove up to the Peterson Machine Works, almost at the edge of the Loop district and took $15,000 from Abe Nelson, a saloonkeeper, who is a stockholder in the concern. Nelson had just reached the plant with the money, which he had drawn from a downtown bank. The men escaped.

Light Winds for Race Shamrock in the Lead

(Canadian Press)

SANDY HOOK, N. J., July 27. — Clear skies, a smooth sea and a seven knot wind from the north west. These were the conditions at 8 o'clock this morning for the fifth and final cup race, which promised to develop into another drifting race.

At 1.45 the postponing flag was hauled down and code flag "A.R.P." was set, indicating a south southwest course for the final race. This would give yachts a 15-mile beat to windward down the Jersey coast from the Ambrose Channel lightship to a point off Asbury Park with a run home. Shamrock got away first.

At 3.08 the yachts were very close together. The distance separating them could be measured in yards.

Shamrock in Lead.

At 3.30 Shamrock seemed to be increasing her lead.

The tie, which must be broken today, was brought about as follows:

Shamrock took the first race July 15 after Resolute was withdrawn because of broken halyards.

The second race, last Saturday, had to be resailed Tuesday, when Shamrock won her second victory.

Resolute won the third race on Wednesday by her time allowance, and not a second more, and,

The fourth race went to the defender on Friday, boat to boat.

Monday's race was not finished on account of a calm.

May Race After Death.

NEW YORK, July 27.—Sir Thomas Lipton has made provision in his will for the continuation of his efforts to lift America's Cup should he prove unsuccessful during his lifetime, according to a story printed by The Tribune to-day.

At 3.55 the sloops had covered 6½ miles. Shamrock was leading by several hundred yards.

At 4.06 p.m. Resolute was rapidly cutting down Shamrock's lead.

Resolute Ahead.

At 4.19 Resolute was slightly in the lead.

A REAL DINNER ON TO-NIGHT

SACRED HEART SOCIAL AND SUPPER ON CHURCH GROUNDS, GEORGE STREET SOUTH.

The excellent dinner furnished always by the ladies of the Church of the Sacred Heart no doubt has a great deal to do with the popularity of the Sacred Heart annual social and supper, which is regularly attended by thousands of citizens.

With the fine warm weather of to-day every preparation is being made for a record breaking attendance and everybody is assured of an excellent repast.

In addition, the 57th Regimental Band will be on hand in full strength and amusements will be conducted until 10.30 o'clock to-night.

Street cars run right down George street to the gate and an auto service from corner Mark and Hunter streets every 20 minutes.

LOS ANGELES SHAKEN BY AN EARTHQUAKE

(Canadian Press)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 27.—A sharp earthquake shock at 12.02 a.m. to-day rattled the windows in down town buildings and awakened prisoners in the county jail who immediately set up howls to be released Reports from various parts of the city however, show that no damage was done.

CONFERENCE OF NATIONS SOVIET IDEA

THEIR PROPOSAL INVOLVES OFFICIAL RECOGNITION BY OTHER NATIONS—SKILFUL MANOEUVRE.

FRANCE'S POSITION

(Associated Press)

LONDON, July 27.—A feature of the suggestion of George Tchitchein, Russian Minister of Foreign affairs, for a peace conference at London which fixes first attention, that it differs widely from that proposed by Earl Curzon's recent noes from Spa. The present Soviet proposal, instead of accepting discussion, under the auspices of the peace conference, with Poland and other states bordering on Russia, calls for a meeting with the leading entente powers, which in view of the commentators here involves something like two world's congress affecting the affairs of the greater parts of Europe and Asia in which it is thought likely the United States might find it desirable to take a hand.

PRETEXT FOR RECOGNITION

PARIS, July 26.— As viewed here, the Soviet Government has seized the Allied demand for an armistice with Poland as a pretext for a return to the original Soviet campaign for official recognition of the Moscow Government, and political circles in Paris regard the manoeuvre as a skilful one which has placed some of the Allies, particularly France, in a delicate position.

France Won't Recognize

France has not ceased to consider the Soviet Government as an irregular one, not supported by the free will of the people and consequently it has resisted all action with reference to Russia that might even remotely be considered as recognition.

It is pointed out that Premier Lloyd George spoke for all the Allies, however, when he communicated with the Soviet authorities, demanding that they stop the forward movement on the Polish frontier and asking them to arrange an armisice to be followed by a conference of delegates from all the countries bordering on Russia.

This, it is admitted now for the first time in political circles here that France may be forced into a position where she will be brought to recognize the Soviets, but it is declared she will do so only after due guarantees are given that the Russian foreign debt will be paid.

Will Meet on July 30.

LONDON, July 26.—The peace conference between the Russians and Poles will begin at Baranovitchi, 85 miles southwest of Minsk, on July 30, and the armistice will start the same day, The Associated Press learned to-day.

The Lloyd George boundary line will hold in the north, and the actual military line in the south on July 30 will be observed.

A wireless message from Moscow to-day asks the Polish peace plenipotentiaries to cross the lines along the Baranovitchi-Brest Litovsk highway July 30, where they will be met. The message, however, does not fix the exact location of the armistice meeting.

U.F.O. PICNIC AT EXHIBITION PARK

HON. F. C. BIGGS WILL BE HERE ON AUGUST 26.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Peterborough branch of the U.F.O. held on Friday night, it was decided to hold a monster picnic and field day on Thursday, August 26th, in the Exhibition Park. The Hon. F. C. Biggs, Minister of Public Works; Mr. R. W. E. Bumaby, president of the United Farmers of Ontario, and Mr. A. A. Powers, president of the United Farmers' Co-operative Company, are expected to be present. Besides there will be an attractive programme of sports and games, containing many novel and attractive features. Full particulars announcing the different items of the day's programme will be given later on.

It is intended to make this field day an annual event, similar to the great Farmers' picnic held on Wednesday las, at which there were 15 thousand people.

ADMONITION.

The times are grave and wise men mourn
The ancient Wisdom and her ways,
The quiet folk are overborne,
Nor simple sense has any praise;
Debt counts as wealth and pulp as gold,
Hard work is shame and thrift is greed,
Only the bad are overbold.
Take heed! Take heed!

Riot and Luxury and Strife
Go forward to their certain goal,
The angry tongue, the fevered life
Burn like a furnace in the soul.
Rolls on the torrent to the Fall,
Bearing with unarrested speed
Our own and our dear Country's all,
Take heed! Take heed!

We need our father's nobler ways,
Old virtues founded on their Faith,
Their quiet homes, their ordered days,
Their joy in work, their calm in Death.
Shall we who love them, not proclaim
Their merits for the present need,
Their censure on our modern shame.
Take heed! Take heed!

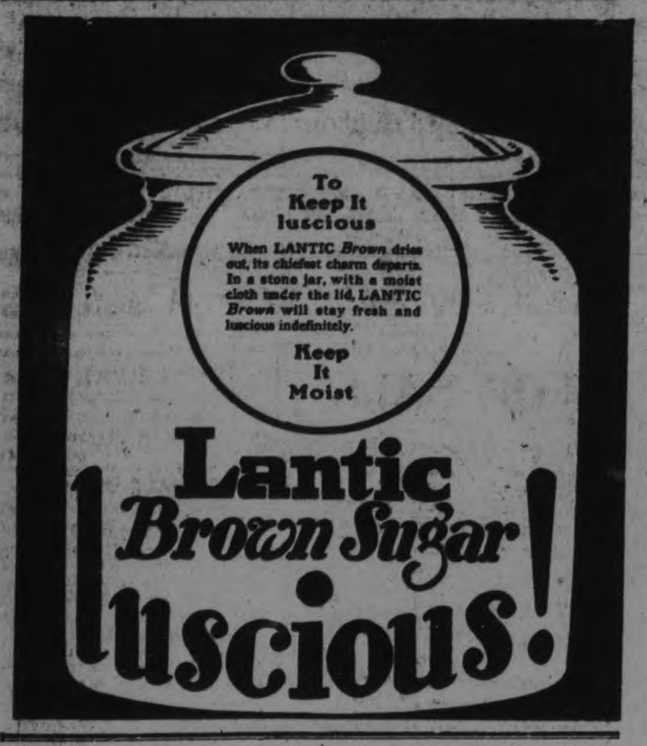
THE EXAMINER



INCITES A DESIRE FOR THE REAL THING

WORK OF ART WHICH STANDS NI PREMIER CLASS.

In the windows of Peterboro grocery stores there are displayed lithographic creations of meats and produce which irresistibly arrest and hold one's interest, and incites a keen desire for the real thing. Reference is made to a number of three-section folding cards advertising the products of the Canadiang Packing Co, Limited. On the centre section there stands forth in bold relief the figure of an alluring damsel, who, with winsome smile, invites attention to a cut of Rose Brand breakfast bacon, temptingly extended in well-shaped hands. Below is faithfully picturized cooked and smoked hams, pork sausage, butter, eggs, all of the same brand also, and "Snow-flake" shortening The right section shows an appetizing group of Rose Brand smoked bacon, boiled ham and C.P.C. pure lard, while the left section vividly portrays Rose Brand smoked breakfast and Windsor bacon, together with a package of eggs.

These advertising cards stand high, very much so, as an art production, both in coloring and drawing, and are in keeping with the premier quality of the produce represented. The poise of the girl, the faultless representations of those palatable edibles she dominates, are so illusive at first sight as to stir one's senses into imagining the odor of savory dishes, and visualizing the epicurean delight of sitting down at table with a dish of relishable Rose Brand ham, bacon or sausage.

Smaller, but equally striking cards advertising these well-known local products have also been distributed for counter use.

Rose Brand products are the Canadian Packing Company, Limited's specialty, and, like the rose, they are ever welcome to and in demand by a discriminating public.

GAVE DYING WIFE POISON, IS FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER

DETROIT, July 26.—The wife of Frank C. Roberts lay helpless on her deathbed, a victim of multiple sclerosis.

In her agony she prayed and begged for an end to her misery. Once before she had sought death by drinking carbolic acid, but had been brought back into her world of pain by medical skill. But now that skill could do nothing for her.

"Won't you mix some Paris green with water and put it beside me?" she pleaded with her husband, and Roberts did so.

She drank it and died.

The Supreme Court of Michigan yesterday ruled that Roberts is a murderer and must spend the remainder of his life in solitary confinement. The court has precedents for this action, and quotes the law as follows:

"He who kills another at his own desire or command is a murderer as much as if he had done it with his own hand; and the person killed is not a suicide."

The direct cause of Mrs. Roberts' death was learned at an autopsy. Roberts was arrested and confessed, telling how his wife, suffering and desirous of death, broke him down with her petitions.

He was tried and found guilty. His lawyer appealed on the ground that suicide was not a crime in Michigan. But the higher court ruled that his wife was not a suicide, and that he was guilty of murder in the first degree as an accessory before the fact, adding:

"The trial court could have imposed no other sentence than it did. The decision holds."

PLANES FLY FROM NEW YORK TO SASKATOON IN 15 HOURS

(Canadian Press.)

SASKATOON, Sask., July 26.—Flying all the way against a forty-mile wind, the four American army planes arived in Saskatoon at one o'clock having averaged 70 miles an hour. They will make off for Edmonton tomorrow morning about 9.30. Their total flying time out of New York is now fifteen hours, said Captain Street, commander

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, July 27.—Leading issues suffered substantial losses at the opening of the stock market to-day. The slump which started yesterday had not been stopped. Although considerable support came into the market. U. S. Steel was off 3-8 at the opening at 88 3-4. Studebaker opened at 65 off 1-2; Mexican Pet 180 unchanged; Crucible 144, off 1 3-4; Southern Pacific 91 off 3-8; Baldwin 110 off 3-4; Vanadium 75 unchanged; International Paper 78 1-4 off 1, Southern Railway 27 1-8 up 1-8; Corn Products 91 1-2 off 1-4; Pan American 95 1-2 up 1-8; Royal Dutch N.Y., 75 up 1; Bethlenem V 85 off 1-4.

Exchange Higher

New York, July 27.—Foreign Exchange quotations were higher at the opening today. Prices were: Demand Sterling $3.78 1-2, unchanged; Francs $.0779 up $.0007 under the new system of quoting; Lire $.0552 1-2, unchanged; Marks $.0245, unchanged; Canadian Dollars $.8700.

NEW YORK, July 27.—The attack upon prices continued during the first hour asd the entire list made new lows. On the decline U. S. Steel dropped to 88 5-8 a full point below the previous low of the year made in May last. Mexican oil stocks also were hard hit.

The rapid fall in prices of the Mexican oil stocks was explained by the speculative long account which has been active in these issues during the last month.

Kelly Sprinfield sold at 87 compared with last years high of 164.

AFTERNOON SALES

The market rallied sharply in the early afternoon, after the slump which carried prices to new low levels. The recovery amounted to as much as three points in the most active issues. Mexican Pet. after an early low close to 176 got up 179 Pan American rallied two points and steel common after touching 87 1-2 got up to 88 1-4.

BIG FIRE IN LADNER

LADNER, B. C., July 26.—Fire on Saturday destroyed the Curry Williams Cannery store here, including the manager's residence and forty houses occupied by Japanese employes. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

NO ARREST MADE IN TRUNK MYSTERY

POLICE ARE SPREADING WIDE NET FOR WOMAN'S HUSBAND.

NEW YORK, July 26.—The police of New York, Detroit and several other cities were bending every energy to-night toward the finding of Eugene Leroy, husband of the woman whose body was found in a trunk in an express office here, following its shipment from Detroit.

The search for the missing Leroy is being guided by Robert Speed, assistant prosecuting attorney of Detroit, who arrived here today with Lieutenant of Detectives Mitte. They have received word that the man under arrest in Chicago is not Leroy.

"We believe," said Lieut. Mitte, "that the motive for the crime was Leroy's jealousy of Tatum."

A request was made that the body of the slain woman be shipped to Detroit. The request was referred to Health Commissioner Dr. Royals Copeland. In the event of his refusing permission Mrs. Olive N. Trumbull of Detroit, and perhaps others, will be brought here to make certain the identification.

A second trunk, believed to have been sent to New York and thought to contain vital organs of the murdered woman is being sought.

Positive identification of the dead woman was established, the police say, by Patrolman and Mrs. Trumbull and others, who recognized clothing found in the trunk with the body as having belonged to Mrs. Leroy. A sweater which Mrs. Trumbull once had borrowed was among the clothing.

Police investigation to-day indicated that Mrs. Leroy had been married previous to marrying Leroy. According to information in the hands of the police, she was the divorced wife of a southern pugilist named Jackson. Her maiden name is said to have been Katherine Dixon and her home was in Starksville, Mississippi.

Leroy's description, as sent to-day to police departments in all large cities, follows: Age, 23 or 24; height, 5 feet 10½ inches; weight 145 pounds; smooth face; jet black hair, combed straight back; scar on left leg; teeth good, even.

When last seen, Leroy wore a dark green coat, green soft hat, silk shirt, bow tie and tan oxfords.

FOOBALL CUP TIE DATE CHANGED

The Football Association Cup ties commence this weeek with the C. G. E. and Machine on Thursday evening, according to the schedule drawn by the executive, at Exhibition Grounds at 6.30 prompt, but owing to unforeseen circumstances the Machine Gunners will be unable to play on said date. At present they are in communication with the secretary of the C.G.E. team so as to arrange the match for Friday evening. In all probability the change will be suitable to the C.G.E.

A CADET CAMP IN PETERBORO

LIEUT.-COL GILLESPIE, OF KINGSTON, SAYS THIS IS PRACTICALLY ASSURED,

A cadet camp in Peterborough the last week in August is practically assured. This welcome bit of news to hundreds of boys in this district was given by Lt.-Col. Gillespie of Kingston, Inspector of Cadet Corps, to the Examiner this afternoon.

Lt.-Col. Gillespie arrived in the city last night to look for a camp site and made some of the hundred and one necessary arrangements. He left again this afternoon.

The Exhibition grounds, he said, would be very suitable, and the camp would be held there. The grounds could be fittted up for about $100, he said, while Barriefield camp, if refitted, would entail an expenditure of $700 or $800. The water supply at that camp, he said, was not of the best, and here the supply of water was all that could be desired, and sanitary conditions at the camp promised to be of a high order. The buiidings here will provide a mess building and lecture hall, and buildings for other purposes desired.

The Exhibition grounds were sufficiently near the river to give the boys plenty of swimming and boating, that being an attractive feature.

The camp, with the local camp, which was held at Ottawa, will replace Barriefield and cadet corps from Campbellford, Stirling, Hastings, Cobourg, Port Hope, Newcastle, Bowmanville, Millbrook, Lakefield, Lindsay and other points will be represented. Between 500 and 600 boys will attend the camp, Lt. Col. Gillespie believed. A couple of teams of marksmen from the Kingston Cadet Corps will likely be here to meet all comers. Last year their team won the King's Cup at Toronto Exhibition, and some interesting matches will be staged.

The camp cooking will be handled by a local caterer. Eight field ranges will be on duty to supply the appetite of the boys with the best that our local caterers can concoct.

The camp is being held the last week in August in order that the boys who are now working will not have to give up their work to attend the camp, he said.

EXCURSION TRAIN POPULAR

MONCTON, N.B., July 26.—The popularity of the Sunday excursion train recently inaugurated by the C.N.R., between Moncton and Point Due Chene was emphasized yesterday. More than fourteen hundred patronized the train and spent the afternoon at the seashore.

TAX RETURNS.

Instructions from Local Collector, Mr. W. H. Buller.

In accordance with instructions received from the Department of Customs and Inland Revenue, Mr. W. H. Buller, Collector of Inland Revenue, advises all manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers that returns, accompanied by remittance of luxury and excise taxes, must be made to him as follows:

Returns of luxury tax, on the 1st and 15th day of each month; returns of jewellers' tax, manufacturers' tax, and sales tax must be made not later than the last day of each month, following the month covered by the return.

Returns for taxes in arrears must be made forthwith, otherwise the penalty provided by the law will be enforced.

Any information regarding the taxes may be obtained from Mr. W. H. Buller.

MERE TRICKLE OF LIQUOR TO THIS CITY

And Not Much Going to the Lakes, Inspector Says.

The flow of wet goods into this city has lessened in the last few months until it is now but a mere trickle of what it was not so very long ago, and but a semblance of the stream of 1917. License Inspector G. Stewart informed the Examiner to this effect this morning when questioned on the matter.

There is little liquor going up the lakes. Three weeks elapsed lately, he said, between examinations of the books of the express company at Lakefield, and in that time only one case came through. Similarly at Norwood only six cases entered the village in four weeks.

It has been remarkably quiet in Peterboro, he declared, but he expected that the referendum in October would speed up the flow into the city soon, and between now and when the leaves fly thirsty souls will stock up their cellars in anticipation of a prolonged drought.

PROPERTY OWNERS ONLY ARE TO VOTE

Only property owners are eligible to vote on the Bridge and Otonabee Mills By-law that will be submitted to the ratepayers on Friday next. All electors may vote on the Rayhestos By-law.

The polling booths will open at 9 o'clock in the morning and will remain open till five o'clock.

Removes Wrinkles and Refreshes Tired Faces

As the skin tends to expand in warm weather, causing wrinkles to form, a good astringent-tonic lotion should be used these days. Dissolve an ounce of pure powdered saxolite in a half pint of witch hazel. Bathe the face in this and see how quickly the wrinkles and furrows will disappear—and how much younger you will look! There's nothing better for sagging cheeks or double chin, or for enlarged pores.

Use this simple lotion during the heat of the day and you will find it wonderfully refreshing. You will lose that wilty, tired look. The ingredients of course are perfectly harmless. Be sure you ask the druggist for powdered saxolite.

JACK SPEILL says — USE — Gallagher's Blood Purifier

GENERAL BYNG.

The announcement that General Sir Julian Byng is likely to be successor of the Duke of Devonshire as Governor-General of Canada will be received with satisfaction throughout the country and with special pleasure by the members of the Canadian Expeditionary force. General Byng for some time commanded the Canadian Corps in France and earned the regard and respect of every member of that corps from the Tommy in the ranks right up to the divisional commanders. His success afterward when he was called upon to take command of one of the British armies is still so fresh in the public memory that it is unnecessary to refer to it, except to state that General Byng was one of the greatest of Britain's war leaders and that he answered every test that he was asked to face with distinction and success. If he should be chosen to come to Canada as Governor-General he will bring with him an earnest appreciation of the fighting qualities and the adaptability of Canadians and he will find in the war veterans of this country a host of comrades glad to welcome a gallant leader.

SUNDAY CARS.

Although there will be disappointment among many people that an opportunity is not to be given to vote on the question of Sunday cars until the January elections, there is no tendency to quarrel with the City Council for adhering to the advice of the City Solicitor and postponing the vote. Mr. Widdifield, in spite of the declaration of the Attorney-General that a vote could be taken now if the Council so desired, is of the opinion that although the statute has been amended to allow the smaller cities to vote on the question of Sunday cars, the measure was not changed in so far as the date of voting is concerned, the date of the municipal elections being stipulated as the time when this question should be submitted to the people. The intention of the Legislature undoubtedly was that the necessary by-law could be submitted immediately, but the statute was not so amended, Mr. Widdifield finds. The Council have decided to follow the advice of the solicitor, feeling that there would be little logic in employing such an official and then ignoring his opinion. It is better to wait for a few months than to rush a by-law through now and leave the city open to an injunction from some disgruntled ratepayer anxious to block Sunday cars as long as possible.

MANY WILLING CANDIDATES.

There appears to be a surprisingly large number of men in West Peterborough who are willing to offer themselves as candidates in the by-election that will have to be held here during the next six months. Already eight or ten names of those who might be persuaded to sacrifice themselves to the extent of representing West Peterborough at $4,000 a session have been mentioned and there are others who apparently would require very little coaxing to induce them to come forward. Is this eagerness to get into the contest a sign of an awakening sense of public duty on the part of those who are canvassing for nomination? It would be a splendid thing for the political life of the community were this indeed a fact. But there seems to be a healthy suspicion that to some of the may-be candidates the increased sessional indemnity has an appeal of its own, especially when considered in conjunction with the fact that the involved nature of the local situation makes the approaching contest considerable of a speculation in which the multiplicity of candidates and the absence of big issues will give an unusually good chance for a "dark horse" to slip in.

BETTER PROTECTION.

The recent hold-upon on the Gravel road and the story of the assaulting of a twelve year old boy in the same section of North Monaghan, have caused many people to reflect upon the inadequate protection that is accorded the residents of rural sections. It may not be generally known, but it is nevertheless true that there has been an epidemic of crime in many counties in Ontario, this district perhaps escaping much more lightly than some other communities. Burglaries, assault, petty thieving, motor car robberies have within the past few weeks occurred with alarming frequency in many rural sections and it is time that the county councils began to realize that the system of police protection that has been in operation should be scrapped and mode modern and effective safeguards adopted. It is impossible for a county constable to devote his whole time to his duties and live on the pittance that is doled out to him under the name of a salary. And unless he does give his police work the full benefit of his time and energy it is folly to expect of him that he can do much to grapple with the many cases that require his attention. In a county like Peterborough there should be at least one fully paid constable constantly on duty, whose services could be secured without delay. The pay given such an official should be generous enough to enable him to confine his activities solely to police work and the old system of paying fees for arrests, etc., should be done away with. Certainly with conditions as they are at present the rural sections have reason to complain that they are poorly served in the matter of police protection.

CLINGING TO POWER.

A great English newspaper aptly remarks that Sir Robert Borden resigned the Premiership of Canada because of failing health and a failing policy. The Government has exhausted its mandate, its usefulness, and its popularity. It is stale and tired, and its feeble energies are applied mainly to the limpet-like task of clinging to office. It has lost much of its strength through the retirement of members who represented a body of opinion that feels no attachment to the patched-up remnant of the Administration. Shifts and expedients have taken the place of policies and principles. The Government merely drifts or dodges, and has become as jumbled in its ideas as the party name which it has invented to try to catch all the political fish in the sea.

The Government's present position is an anti-climax, or degradation of the high purpose which brought Unionism into existence. The coalition had its birth in an imperative need, for an object which at the time transcended all others. It had its justification in one issue, which was temporary and clearly defined. The attempt to stereotype Unionism into a single party after the war was a breach of faith with the country, especially with the Liberals who rallied to the Government at the polls and consented to overlook the shortcomings of the Borden regime in response to a patriotic appeal. No one can honestly say that the Union Government would have swept Ontario and the Prairie Provinces if Liberals had been told that two years from the conclusion of the war the Parliament elected to esforce the Military Service Act would still be trying to eke out its own life, after the majority of the Liberal Ministers had dropped out and the others had openly severed connection with the Liberal party. No camouflage can hide the fact that Unionism has been swallowed by Conservatism, and that in everything but its label the so-called National party is the party that won the election of 1911 by the aid of the beneficiaries of high protection and of the Quebec Nationalists—for whom it is against angling.

Mr. Meighen's Premiership, like the Government itself, has no sanction in the country. He could do something to escape this reproach and to regularize his position if he would make the change in the leadership the occasion of an immediate appeal to the electorate, but it is plain that he has no such intention. He is bringing on a series of by-elections, and has found another delaying device in a so-called tariff inquiry, timed for the autumn. Probably next year the census will be the excuse, and after that the redistribution, which could not be affected until the session of 1922. Does anyone doubt that the tariff inquiry will be preliminary to an upward tariff revision, for which the powerful interests at the Government's back are clamoring? Was it for this that Liberal Unionists voted in 1917? Everyone knows that a general overhauling of the tariff schedules such as is now proposed was expressly ruled out by the terms of the party truce. The Government will add to the sum of its offense against constitutional ethics if it formulates a tariff policy involving radical and widespread changes and incorporates it in legislation without a warrant from the people. It will be humbug to pretend that public feeling will be tested in a string of by-elections. The five constituencies in which seats are vacant returned Conservatives in 1911. In two of them candidates are appealing as Cabinet Ministers, and can play strongly upon local sentiment and interest.

Mr. Meighen could have shown that he had grown in stature as a public man by taking the plunge at once. The prospects of his party are not enticing, but he would have emerged with a reputation for courage and statesmanship. He has chosen a course against which the political history of Canada, Federal and Provincial, is full of warnings.—Toronto Globe.

LOCK TENDER DROWNED WHEN BLOWN INTO CANAL

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., July 25.—Edward Wilkerson, aged 65, lock tender at lock 10, Welland Canal, was blown into the canal as he went to the edge of the bank to draw a pail of waer. His cap was found on this bank Saturday morning and grappling operations resulted in the recovery of his body in the evening. His home is in Virgil.

WOMEN CONVICTS OVERPOWER GUARDS

Hot Flat Irons, Cleavers and Rocks Used With Deadly Effect.

NEW YORK, July 25.—Twenty-seven negro women, inmates of the State Reformatory for women at Bedford, again crashed their way out of a cottage in which they were confined to-day, and in a pitched battle with ten State troopers set as a guard over them, injured several of the men. The women used flat irons, cleavers, knives, clubs and rocks as weapons.

It was only after a two-hour search through surrounding woods that all the negro cases had been rounded up, recaptured and placed under a heavy guard in the guard house.

Hardly one of the State troopers against whom the assault was launched escaped some sort of injury. Many of them were burned with hot flat-irons or struck on the head with clubs and bricks as they attempted to restrain the women.

Trouble at the reformatory started yesterday afternoon when two white inmates were ordered to work in the laundry, where all other workers were negroes. The two refused to work with the negroes and a race war followed, with many inmates taking part in the clash.

HEADACHE MAN'S FRIEND.

Physician Says 'Tis Danger Signal, No a Disease.

"Headaches are useful. They are only the red flags hung out as a sign that some organ is functioning abnormally. They are not diseases but always symptoms. Aheadache has virtue, because it leads you to search out the causative facor. It is not an enemy, but our firend."

This and other interesting and comforting comment on that universally hated and feared human ailment known as the headache is provided in an article by Dr. A. W. Herr of Cleveland, in the Western Medical Times.

Dr. Herr takes the position that the majority of headaches are of that class which have their genesis in wrong living and wrong habits; so that in the great preponderance of instances a mere correctian of the irregularity will relieve the headache.

"Considerable can be learned as to the source of the trouble by its relative location in the head," he writes. "For instance, the majority of people are aware that an ache in the forehead is usually due to disorder of the stomach or bowels, but if situated to one side in the region of the temples and coming on more or less periodically it indicates some error of refraction, which can be corrected by the wearing of the proper lens.

"Headache is a sign of poison. It is a sign that the body is fighting vigorously against an enemy within, the cause. It is a red light hung of headches explains why they are so frequent and varied in their causation.

"But one thought that stands out boldly and clearly is that headaches always have a meaning, that a thorough investigation should be instituted so as to discover, if possible, the cause. It is a red light hung out; it is a sign of danger inside. So a headache is one of the most useful things in the world, for it signals—danger ahead. It is not an enemy, it is our friend."

RAILWAYS, like men, have throats.

Like men they may be choked.

Here for example is Blankville Junction.

The streams of traffic rumbling through this throat are daily growing heavier.

The local official, anxious to keep up the service in his district, asks for, say, $100,000 to blast out additional yard-room and lay new classification tracks.

"Yes," admits the Head Office visitor, "you ought to have that appropriation . . . I'll consider it."

* * *

Back in Head Office he considers five hundred recommended improvements just as necessary as the extension at Blankville. They would cost ten million dollars!

The cost of living for railways has overwhelmed their income accounts.

The disappearing margin between total costs and total revenue makes the problem of far-sighted management increasingly difficult and almost impossible of solution.

The fear of choking at throat points is in danger of becoming a real night-mare to officials and a genuine menace to the prosperity of the Dominion.

This is another reason why increased freight rates are necessary.

VIRTUOUS WIVES

By OWEN JOHNSON

"Lird sakes, Amy, if you're pining for your husband as bad as that," said Kitty Lightbody suddenly, "fly to him! You're worse than a girl when she's engaged."

She roused herself hastily, defending herself with spirit against the laugh which followed.

"Speaking of engagements," said Laracy, "heard the latest? Fifi and Monte Bracken."

"Fifi?" said Gladys scornfully. "Fifi doesn't count! Men propose to her out of politeness. Fifi's collecting engagement rings."

Irma and Amy looked at each other with the same impulse, the same question in their glance, and then uneasily away.

"I don't believe it," said Mrs. Dellabarre, frowning.

"Fact?" said Laracy. "They're together all the time."

"Well, if we want to get the second act," said Kitty, springing up, "time to be moving."

Amy, who had stopped to greet an acquaintance ,was momentarily detained. When she reached the sidewalk, the others had gone; only Tody was waiting, ill at ease and dejected.

"I'm sorry. They didn't want to wait," he said contritely. "If you'd rather—I can take a taxi."

She frowned and stepped into the car, motioning him to follow.

"Now go for me," he said with a groan. "I deserve it,I know. I've called myself every name I could think of."

She was in no humour to spare him.

"Why did you do it? And before Gregory, too. What will he think?"

"I know, I know!" he said miserably. "I lost my head—like a double-barreled fool that I am!"

"But why say anything?" she said, exasperated.

"Good Lord, Amy," he said, surprised, "be reasonable! I had to say something."

"Why?"

"Well ,you see—at such an hour—" He began to flounder, bit his tongue, and said desperately, "I had to give some explanation—really."

It came to her like a shock—as though unconsciously Tody himself were pleading Andrew's cause—that he, too, had realised that there was something undignified, something demanding an explanation in his presence under the conditions. She frowned.

"I suppose you told him—the real reason?" said Dawson slowly.

"Of course—there was nothing else to do."

"Oh, Lord!"

"You have made me exceedingly uncomfortable — exceedingly unhappy," she said. She looked at him, angry that such an inconsequential element in her routine of pleasure should have the power to trouble her intimate tranquillity. But she could not let him suspect the gravity of the situation, so she said, "If Andrew wasn't perfectly wonderful, it would have been more than disagreeable."

"I'll do anything you say—I'll go to him myself."

"You'll do nothing of the kind," she said sharply. "The whole thing is ridiculous—but it's over."

Arrved at the theatre, she hastened nto the box. Despte all of Laracy's humour and the bantering of her friends, she felt too depressed to conceal her emotion. Their flippancy annoyed her; their humour was stale; their assumption of worldliness was ridiculous. She thought of Andrew as he had been in his anger—masterful, trenchant, and unbending.

"Good heavens, these are nothing but puppets" she thought. "There is not one real man among them—and we spend but time fighting over them!"

At the close of the act, she rose, pretending a headache, and went home, refusing an escort. She waited alone in her bedroom, trying to read, listening for her husband's return. At six, a message came from the office that she was not to change her plans, he would dine at the club.

"He might have called me himself," she thought, staring at the wall. Even if she had been wrong, he might have made allowances for her—every one always had. Hurt, weak, and rebellious, she dressed and went to dinner, a stiff affair, new acquaintances, where she was bored and restless. At ten o'clock she left and hurried home, hoping to find him back. Since their thing but compare him to the men quarrel of the morning, she had no she saw about her. The new Andrew impressed and awed her. And though at times she rebelled furiously against the tyranny of his uncompromising attitude, she felt little by little that this unsuspected strength dominated her. In half an hour of sudden authority, he had won more than in two years of lavish devotion.

"I will do anything for him," she said to herself, in a flood of emotion, "anything. I'll give this all up, if he really thinks I am wrong. I'll give up everything. I will go with him and lead his life, only—only, he must say he's sorry. I can't give in utterly. No, I can't do that.!"

He had not returned. She went up to her room, slipped into her negligee, and dismissed Morley for the night. It was almost eleven.

"He ought to be back soon," she thought, as she took up a magazine to tease the time along. But at the end of a moment she perceived that she did not know what she was reading.

"But he is wrong; he is wrong, too!" she said, dropping the periodical wearily.

In the house, not a sound could be heard except the ticking of the little clock on her table. Outside, the street had gone to sleep, too. At most, a distant whirr of motors or the echo of a passing train grew, swelled, and dwindled into the silence of the night. She felt alone abandoned in the emptiness, afraid as in her childhood she had been afraid of the peopled dark, with a weak, helpless feeling of playing with forces she did not understand. At midnight, she heard the heavy clang of the outer door, then his mounting steps on the marble stairway.

Would he come directly to her room? She held her breath and her pulse quickened. He passed. A moment later she heard the click of the electric switch as he entered his bedroom.

"He will knock in a moment," she thought, with her glance on the knob of the door, that, at times, seemed to turn slowly. "Perhaps he thinks I'm asleep." She rose and moved across the room, humming to herself, that he might know she was up.

"He'll come—he must come now" she said, stopping, her hands pressed over her breast to still the flurry of her breathing. Minute after minute she stood there, waiting—

Should she go in? Could she make the first overture? Her whole nature rebelled against the thought. To do so was to admit her offending the greater. To make the first advance would be to renounce her old empire over him.

"No, no; he must be the first! He must!"

She stretched out her arms, and her lips moved with his name. He must know that she was there! If he loved her, he must feel that she was calling him to her!

All at once she heard the click of the electric button, then the sudden groan of the bed.

"He won't come—he won't come!" she murmured. "He knows I am here, waiting, and he won't come!"

The room grew blurred before her eyes. She groped her way to her bed, fell on it, and buried her head in her pillow.

"He mustn't hear me. He shan't know how I suffer," she said to herself hysterically. Yet her wish was contrary to her thought. Only a door separated them. Despite all her effort he must hear her, he must know that se was sobbing her heart away—

In the morning, when she awoke heavy from a tormented night, the maid brought her this letter:

"My Dear Amy,

"I am leaving on an early train, and perhaps it is better so. It does no good to talk over an ugly situation. There are, however, several things I must say to you. On reflection, I feel that I was wrong in giving orders as to whom you might or might not receive in your house. It is your house—and, in the second place, it is impossible to live on the basis of force. I shall, therefore, leave you full liberty for your actions. You will realise, I hope, the full responsibility this entails. I shall await your decision.

"Andrew."

DEBTS AGAINST ENEMY PROPERTY

SHOULD BE REPORTED BEFORE SEPT. IST, 1920.

The following communication has been received by the Board of Trade from the Department of the Secretary of State:

"I have the honour to advise that certain returns have been made to the custodian by Canadian debtors, of enemy property, right and interests, including debts, held by them for or on behalf of a German nation to the amount of one hundred dollars and upwards.

"It has now been decided to ask all debtors in Canada to make a return before the 1st day of September, 1920, to the custodian of all property, rights and interests, including debts, below the value of one hundred dollars so held as aforesaid.

"The necessary forms to make a return of claims or admission of debts will be supplied upon application.

"I have the honour to be, sirs,

"Your obedient servant,

U. S. YIELDING BIG CROPS.

From Everywhere Reports Are Glowing, Says A. W. Douglas—Bird Law Proves Its Worth.

WASHINGTON.—The greatly increased number of song and insectivorous birds, due to the operation of the federal migratory bird law, are affording splendid protection to the country's crop against the innumerable predatory insects which would otherwise cause much destruction, according to the monthly bulletin of crop conditions issued by A. W. Douglas, chairman of the committee on statistics and standards of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

On the general crop situation, Mr. Douglas says that everywhere the landscape is glorious with growing crops. 'We shall harvest about 525,000,000 bushels of winter wheat and about 290,000,000 bushels of spring wheat, provided black rust does not get into spring wheat. There will be more oats. Also more hay —an immense yield, in fact. And this is of vital importance to all raisers of live stock.

"The corn crop looks most promising, but its yield depends on the amount if rain it receives in July. Cotton is coming back, for the plant was never a quitter."

Use Cocoanut Oil For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy, lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

NO POOL THIS YEAR FOR ALBERTA GRAIN

President Wood of United Farmers Says Organization Requires Time.

CALGARY, July 25.—No co-operative farmers' pool will be established in Alberta this year should the Dominion government not see fit to continue the Canadian wheat board for the 1920 crop. This was the statement of H. W. Wood, president of the United Farmers of Alberta, Saturday morning, upon his return to the city after addressing a number of local organizations in the Edmonton district.

"Farmers have never asked for a pool for this year's crop," he said. "They want the wheat board to be continued. If the government will not do this, then they desire to begin to make efforts to sell their wheat themselves. No one hoped that they would be able to complete a pool at once."

Mr. Wood stated that the executive of the United Farmers of Alberta had merely suggested the organization of a pool. "We still want the board," he emphasized. "There is no question about the board being the best way to market this year's crop, but if the government wil not give us the best thing then we want to try to do something ourselves."

FOUNTAIN OF MOLTEN LAVA.

(Canadian Press.)

HILO, Island of Hawaii, T. H., June 26.—Immense fountains of molten lava have been playing recently in the glowing lake of fire of Kilauea volcano near here.

The liquid area of the lake has shrunk a little of late, but still occupies a considerable portion of the pit which is about 1,200 by 1,400 feet in its two diameters.

The lava flows on the Kau desert, about seven miles from the main crater, which began in December, 1919, still are active.

"Everything set for a good trip—the car running 'smooth as velvet'—plenty of Imperial Polarine in the crank-case and more available wherever we stop. With Imperial Premier Gasoline for fuel, we'll have a most enjoyable vacation."

Imperial Polarine Available Everywhere

WHEREVER you tour, throughout the length and breadth of Canada, you can secure the grade of Imperial Polarine you now use for lubrication—exactly the same uniform grades are sold by dealers everywhere from Halifax to Vancouver.

Imperial Polarine reduces your greatest expense—depreciation, yet costs less than storage, tires, repairs or gasoline. It reduces friction to a minimum, maintains a piston-tight seal under heaviest engine heat, helps the engine extract the last ounce of power out of gasoline.

Imperial Polarine holds its body, maintains compression—keeps the motor running smoothly and quietly. The Imperial Chart of Recommendations shows the grade recommended for your car. Ask to see it when you stop for oil.

Imperial Polarine is sold by good dealers everywhere in sealed one-gallon and four-gallon cans, half-barrels and barrels, also in 12½-gallon steel kegs, the handy size for the home garage. Buy the larger sizes to save money.

MY LITTLE BOY

My heart is empty, and my house.
Silent the hours when children play;
I miss such games as "Cat and Mouse".
And all my days are workaday.
I'm lonely for a sturdy lad—
The little boy I never had.

Oft in the night I see his face—
A face in which my own prevails:
Blue eyes, and cheeks that bear the trace
Of dirt, and dreams, and untold tales.
I awake to ache for joys I've missed
And kisses that were never kissed.

I know a man who grieved for one
Whose voice is hushed, and lost his smile;
I envy him—who had a son
To cherish for a little while
My fate is harder, and more sad
I mourn the boy I never had.

IRISH POTATO CROP LIKELY TO BE FAILURE

CORK, IRELAND, July 25.—The potato crop in the west of Ireland has been a failure, owing to a very wet Spring, and the seed rotted in the ground. Only those who know the conditions in Connemara and the bleak, wild country round about know what this means.

Connemara is always on the verge of starvation, and the people who live there depend chiefly upon potatoes, dried seaweed and fish for their daily sustenance.

SUMMER RESORTS INACCESSIBLE TO MAJORITY OF THE CITIZENS

MR. R. A. BROWN, SUPERINTENDENT OF THE NASHUA PAPER COMPANY, POINTS OUT PETERBORO'S NEED OF AN AMUSEMENT PARK AT HOME—EMPLOYING 50 HANDS.

WILL EXPAND

The Canadian Nashua Paper Company are at present employing a force of about 50 men and girls and are shipping from 4 to 5 carloads of paper products a month. The plant which was formerly occupied by the Peterborough Metal Products Company, has been altered slightly, the floors repaired, and changes made in the stock room and boiler room.

Asked by the Examiner the probable extent of the company's expansion in Peterborough, R. A. Brown, general manager, stated that he could make no statement, as expansion would be controlled by the conditions of the raw paper market which at present are bad. Like all other paper users the company is confronted with the difficulty of obtaining sufficient paper to fill its orders, Mr. Brown said.

Peterborough will be the headquarters of the Canadian Nashua Paper Company and branch sales offices will be located in Toronto and Montreal. The company is a Canadian firm and only four of its staff have been transferred from the American parent organization. All machinery and raw material which it is possible to buy in Canada is being bought here.

Restricted Market Conditions.

As the raw paper situation improves several new lines of paper manufacture may be opened here. At present three lines are being produced, gummed paper for sealing packages and for box manufacture, waxed paper for the cereal and confectionery trade, and printed and lithographed papers. Considerable machinery has been installed and more is on the way.

The local plant is the sixth mill opened by the Nashua Paper Company, who have four mills in the United States and one in England. The Canadian company has taken the agency for Canada for the National Binding Machine Company of New York, manufacturers of hand and power box seal machines.

Asked his opinion of Peterborough conditions, Mr. Brown stated that he was well satisfied with Peterborough, and especially with the class of labour he had secured here. He remarked upon the lack of a foreign element here which is so noticeable to an American, especially a New Englander. He was of the opinion, however, taht one of Peterborough's greatest needs was an amusement park which would be accessible to working men. Peterborough was fortunate, he believer, in its situation near the lakes, but these are inaccessible to a large majority of the citizens. Jackson Park would make an excellent amusement park, Mr. Brown thought.

GERMANY IS NEUTRAL.

Foreign Secretary Denies Rumour of Any Inclination Toward Russia.

(Canadian Press)

BERLIN, July 27.—The suggestion that Germany had been tempted to join forces with Soviet Russia in order to escape her obligations was repudiated by Dr. Walter Simons, German foreign secretary, in his speech to the Reichstag yesterday. He also took occasion to re-assert the neutrality of Germany in Russo-Polish situation.

BOOKS FROM GERMANY FOR LOUVAIN LIBRARY.

LONDON, July 26.—A despatch to The London Times from Brussels reports the arrival in Louvain of the first consignment of ten thousand books from Germany for the library of Louvain University, in accordance with the terms of the Peace Treaty.

The despatch adds that representatives of the Reparation Commission are searching Germany for books stolen from Louvain during the war.

THIN, NERVOUS PEOPLE NEED BITRO-PHOSPHATE

Weak, thin people—men or women—are nearly always nervous wrecks; thus conclusively proving that thinness, weakness, debility and neurasthenia are almost invariably due to nerve starvation. Feed your nerves and all these symptoms due to nerve starvation will disappear.

Eminent specialists state that one of the best things for the nerves is an organic phosphate known among druggists as Bitro-Phosphate, a five-grain tablet of which should be taken with each meal. Being a genuine nerve builder and not a stimulant or habit-forming drug, Bitro-Phosphate can be safely taken by the weakest and most delicate sufferer, and the results following its use are often simply astonishing.

By strengthening the nerves, weak, tired people regain energy and vigor; thinness and angularity give way to plumpness and curves; sleep returns to the sleepless; confidence and cheerfulness replace debility and gloom; dull eyes become bright, and pale, sunken cheeks regain the pink glow of health.

CAUTION.— Bitro-Phosphate, the use of which is inexpensive, also wonderfully promotes the assimilation of food, so much so, that many people report marked gains of weight in a few weeks. Those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh, should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

C. S. CUMMER HOOKS BIG SALMON TROUT

MEAFORD, July 26.— Mr. C. S. Cummer, of Peterborough, who through the courtesy of Mr. Wm. Randle, was out trolling on Tuesday evening, landed a fine salmon trout weighing 18 lbs. and measuring 39 inches in length and 23 inches in circumference. Banker Cummer is an adept at handling oily customers and was right at home when he had to put through a "demand draft" to settle the dispute with the monster. With the same speed that he would count a few thousand, Mr. Cummer had his victim dressed and was taking his photograph. The fish was a beauty and was admired by all who viewed it.

At Bank Opening.

The Merchants' Bank have recently completed their new premises in Tara and last week held their formal opening to the public. Mr. C. S. Cummer, of Peterborough, who was instrumental when stationed in Tara in having the new offices erected, was present on Saturday evening at the opening ceremony.

A SPECIAL MEETING OF TRADES COUNCIL

FRIDAY'S BY-LAWS WILL BE DISCUSSED WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

A special meeting of the Trades and Labour Council has been called for Wednesday night to give the aldermen an opportunity to explain the by-laws that the ratepayers will vote on on Friday and reasons for supporting them. Members of the Council will be allowed to speak either for or against them and a full attendance is urged.

TOOK HER CHOICE

The burglar's wife was in the witness chair and the prosecuting counsel was conducting a vigorous and unpleasant cross-examination.

"Madam, you are the wife of this man?"

"Yes."

"You knew he was a burglar when you married him?"

"Yes."

"How did you come to contract a matrimonial alliance with such a man"

"Well, snapped the witness, "I was getting old, and had to choose between a lawyer and a burglar."—Country Gentleman.

PREMIER WELCOMES PRESS DELEGATES

THEIR CONFERENCE IN CANADA OE GREAT IMPORTANCE AND VALUE.

(Canadian Press.)

SYDNEY, N.S., July 27.—A hundred telegrams of welcome awaited the oversea delegation to the Imperial Press Conference when they set foot in Canada at Sydney this morning, for a seven weeks' tour of Canada. Premier Meighen and members of the Federal cabinet, Provincial Lieutenant-Governors and Premiers, Presidents of Boards of Trade and Mayors, Sir Arthur Currie, Sir Lomer Gouin, President Beatty of the Canadian Pacific Railway and scores of prominent men throughout the Dominion joined in extending a welcome to the delegates and an appreciation of the significance to Imperial unity of the second Imperial Press Conference.

Hon. Arthur Meighen, Premier of Canada, said: "I cordially welcome the delegates to the Imperial Press Conference to this Dominion. I invite you to make during your visit an investigation of Canadian resources and conditions as complete as the time at your disposal will permit, and I assure a hospitable greeting and warm appreciation of the high purpose you have in mind from the people of Canada. The store of information which you will acquire of this country and which you people will learn in other parts of the empire cannot fail to be of great advantage to all."

HIS DEED UNSUNG.

Officer of British Merchant Marine and His Exploit in the War.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Commander F. E. Storey, the Staff Captain of the Aquitania, is one of the officers of the British merchant marine who did big things in the war which were never known in his own country.

He was commander if the auxiliary cruiser Arlanza when she was torpedoed in the White Sea, North Russia, and 15 ofeet of her bow blown off. The Admiralty gave her up for lost, but Commander Storey did not. With his bo-sun and a few of his men he stuck by the ship for seven months while she was frozen solid in the ice, and managed to patch her up. When the thaw came in the summer, Commander Storey got the Arlanza safely through the submarine and mine zone in the North Sea to Belfast.

After he had gone, the vessel was in such a crumpled up condition that they could not get her into the dry dock without running the risk of breaking her to pieces, and finally the Admiralty had to send Commander Storey from London to do the job, which he accomplished safely, thus saving the ship, which was valued at $7,500,000 by the Government.

Another thing Commander Storey did was to jump off the stern of the Mauretania and save a fireman when the vessel was going at full speed into a seven-knot current. The transport circled round and picked the men up, and an hour later the commander was on duty on the bridge.

ONLY TABLETS MARKED "BAYER" ARE ASPIRIN

Not Aspirin at All without the "Bayer Cross"

The name "Bayer" identifies the only genuine Aspirin,—the Aspirin prescribed by physicians for over nineteen years and now made in Canada. Always buy an unbroken package of "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" which contains proper directions for Colds, Headache, Toothache, Earache, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Neuritis, Joint Pains, and Pain generally. Tin boxes of 12 tablets cost but a few cents. Larger "Bayer" packages.

There is only one Aspirin—"Bayer"—You must say "Bayer"

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

HUNGARY TO FIGHT IF THE BOLSHEVIKI COME.

Premier Declares She Will Be a Fortress for European Christian Democracy.

BUDAPEST, July 26.—"A new earthquake in the form of Bolshevist invasion is threatening Europe," said Count Paul Teleky in the National Assembly, which was convoked today to hear the statement of the new Government, of which the Count is Premier.

"The Red offensive, the boycott, and Bela Kun's escape indicate the Red's scheme to overrun Europe. We hold the Austrian Government responsible for the boycott and also for the escape of the Commissaries.

"Hungary regards herself as the fortress of the west against the Russians. If Poland is doomed to fall, the banner of Christian democracy will be defended by the Magyars. We want peace with our neighbours and are therefore accepting gratefully France's offer to act as intermediary.

"If the territorial clause of the Peace Treaty were revised," continued the Premier, "there would be a chance of economic agreements leading to the reconstruction of Eastern Europe."

PEEVED DEFENDANT CHALLENGES JUDGE

TO DEBATE BEFORE AUDIENCE CASE HE LOST IN COURT.

(Canadian Press)

WINNIPEG, July 27.—A challenge to Judge Curran to debate before a Winnipeg audience the merits of the damage which he tried in the courts of the King's bench a few days ago, was issued to-day by Jas. A. Campbell, defendant, who lost the case. In an "open letter and challenge" addressed to the Judge, Mr. Campbell who resides at Smiths Falls, Ont., suggests this novel means of deciding the case because he believes he did not get justice in court, "I will deposit five hundred dollars and challenge the Judge to meet me on any platform in Winnipeg and if the audience decides that he has given a just decision that five hundred dollars will be paid to the Children's Hospital", Campbell writes.

JOHNSON REFUSED BAIL.

Pugilist's Application was Turned Down in Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 26.—Jack Johnson's swing in his sparring for freedom was blocked here to-day. The negro pugilist's application to Federal Judge Alschuler for bail was turned down on the ground that the matter should have gone before Judge Carpenter, now in a hospital here. Carpenter originally sentenced Johnson for violation of the Mann Act.

WANTED FOR BURGLARY.

Geo. Henry Hilton, aged 29, is wanted by the Owen Sound police for burglary and escape from custody. He is 5 ft. 8 in. high, weighs 130 lbs., has fair hair and brown eyes. Left arm and hand badly crushed, and three inches shorter than right arm. Keeps his hand in his pocket when walking.

Dorwin Cousby, mulatto, is also wanted in Owen Sound for burglary.

When covered by a detachable portion of its handle a new pocket toothbrush resembles and can be carried like a fountain pen.

The GRESSMAN Company Limited

BRITAIN DEVELOPS OIL RESOURCES

ACTIVE WORK CARRYING ON IN 15 COUNTRIES.

Sir John Cadman, director of the British Government Petroleum Department, in a recent address before the Royal Society of Arts in London, outlined oil development in the British Empire. He showed that active work is being carried out in at least 15 different countries, in five of which important production has been obtained. These are Persia, India, Trinidad, Egypt, and Canada.

About 10,000,000 barrels of oil are now being produced annually in India, principally from Burmah and Assam. Prospecting is being undertaken in the Punjab, and at Attock a new oil field is said to have recently been discovered. Production of Persia is between 9,000,000 and 10,000,000 barrels annually. Oil in this country is controlled by the Anglo-Persian Oil Co., which is controlled by the British Government.

Production of Trinidad has increased from 1,500,000 barrels in 1915, to 3,000,000 in 1918, or 100 per cent., and it is expected to reach 5,000,000 barrels within a few years, according to Sir John. Egypt is yielding approximately 2,500,000 barrels a year. Canada is producing about 300,000 barrels a year. Development work is promising, although as yet unproven, territory is being pushed in all these countries. Favorable results are strongly looked for in Canada, where a large area of promising territory still remains untested.

Besides these countries, tests have been made, or are now being undertaken, in Australia, where the local government is co-operating with the British Government; Tasmania, New Zealand, Newfoundland, Jamaica, Barbadoes, British Honduras, Nigeria (Africa) Smoliland, and Sarawak. Indications of oil and gas have been encountered in several of these countries, but no important production has been obtained up to the present.

In addition, the islands of Cyprus and Malta, in the Mediterranean, are being tested, and favorable geological conditions seem to justify the testing of large areas in Mesopotamia, adjoining the Persian fields, according to Sir John.

Although no important production has been obtained in England, several tests have been made, one of which proved to be a producer yielding about ten barrels a day. Further tests will be made.

GERMAN OFFICERS MISS THE OLD DAYS

ALMOST AS HARD HIT AS THE KAISER'S CIRCLE.

(Associated Press)

BERLIN, July 26.—No one in Germany sighs more fervently for "the good old days" of the Kaiser than the former army officer. Forced off the government payroll by the reduction of the army, untrained for work other than soldiering, and so generally disliked by the population that he has difficulty in finding any kind of employment, the officer's lot in democratic Germany is a hard one. His pre-war world, in which he strutted about as the privileged pet of his emperor, has been utterly destroyed.

Many have been reduced to extreme financial straits. The middle-aged ex-officer get a pension of 3,800 marks a year but that is only about a fifth of the amount required to maintain a family. So urgent is their need that a movement has been set on foot to for man ex-officers' association for the purpose of inducing the government to provide them with land and subsidies.

A former officer dolefully discussing with the correspondent the plight of himself and his fellows remarked that the expression once current in the United States, "Ther's no good Indian but a dead Indian," applied precisely nowadays to the German public's attitude toward the officer class.

Private soldiers bear out this statement. "At the beginning of the war", one said, "the troops were fond of their officers, who ate the same food, carried their own packs, and shared the hardships of the men. But most of the regular officers were quickly killed off, and those left were sent away from the lines for staff and other duties.

"Their places were taken by reserves, who were an entirely different lot. They had to have special kitchens and milk and plenty of wine. They refused to march with the troops, always riding in automobiles, and, making the men carry their packs. They were bullies and tyrants, and the men grew to hate them. The civilian population felt the same way. I was in Belgium when the armistice was signed, and when we withdrew to Rhineland the people there were willing enough to provide lodgings for us privates, but they refused to have officers in their homes. Those fellows now are only getting what's coming to them."

In a number of cases ex-officers have found themselves inadvertently applying for work to the very privates they once commanded. These former soldiers, business men and shopkeepers, take keen delight, it is said, in turning down their old superiors. Many of the young ex-officers are taking up engineering and other technical lines, starting at the bottom of the ladder as manual workers in overalls.

After the first revolution it was a risky thing for an officer to appear on the street in uniform. They were emboldened by the Kapp coup last March and since then have been showing themselves in increasing numbers, especially student reserve officers, who are easily identified by their pale faces slashed with fresh sword cuts received in duels.

Want to Keep Your Hair Perpetually Curly?

Perpetually wavy or curly hair is now within the means of every woman to possess. One need only get a few ounces of plain liquid silmerine from the druggist and apply a little of it occasionally with a clean tooth brush before doing up the hair. When this dries the most beautiful and natural looking waves and creses imaginable are inevidence. Wind and heat do not affect the curliness as where a heated iron has been used.

Liquid silmerine is so pure tand harmless there is not the slightest danger of spotting the scalp or streaking the hair, and it leaves no sticky or greasy trace. It will also be appreciated as a beneficial dressing, as it keeps the hair so soft, silky and lustrous.

Voice Of The People

July 27, 1920.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Will you kindly allow me space to voice my opinion upon the Hunter street bridge. In the first place I think it is a disgrace the way the money has been spent and no bridge across the river. The people had confidence in the City Council and Mr. Barber and when the by-law was submitted to them they took it for granted that the amount that was asked for was sufficient to construct the bridge, and I think that had the work and the money been handled by a contractor we would have had the bridge nearly completely by this time and no more money would have been wanted. I have watched the progress of the undertaking and at the start and for a month or two the Russell Townsend Co. made great headway, but since then the work has been falling back (and still back) and the money so they tell us is all gone and the work not more than half done. I see a statement made by one of our Council that no blame can be put on the contractors. Isthink a lot of the blame is upon them. They have not handled it as if it were a contract job. They knew what their commission was. They should have had the foresight to get the most if not all the material at the start. They should have known that the market was unsettled and prices going higher. Then there were too many big paid men on the job. Who was to blame for this state of affairs? Now we will take a look at the agreement with Mr. Barber. He was employed as the chief engineer of the bridge and was to be at the job all the time, if not in person was to have a capable man to represent him, and the question arose as to who should pay his wages, and through some loophole in the agreement he was saddled upon the city's payroll. Who was to blame for this? Why the City Council for not seeing that the agreement was loophole proof. Now Mr. Barber comes along and nearly makes the statement that had he been given the power to employ a cost clerk he could have been kept in close touch with the expenditure. I think Mr. Editor, that a big share of this extra expense can rest upon Mr. Barber's shoulders. In the first place when the winter set in it was his place to close the job down until spring, which he did not, and it incurred a large amount of money to keep it open, and as citizens did not get 50 per cent. of value for the amount of money that was spent last winter. Who is to blame? Why the engineer. Another statement he made about broadening the foundation of the east pier was to the effect that the extra cost would be $1,465.00 and when Barber had an interview with the Council he said that the piers cost extra $25,000. Don't that show upon the face of these statements that Mr. Barber did not know what the bridge would cost. There is one thing certain that he did know and that he was going to make a monument for himself, and at the expense of the City of Peterborough. Our City Council should have known at the time when Engineer Barber told them that the bridge was well within the estimates that the bridge could not be finished for the amount. It seems to me thta Mr. Barber has been the Council's spiritual adviser and too much confidence has been placed in him. Now we are faced with a deficit of $100,000 to complete the bridge and no guarantee to the effect that that will finish the work. If $100,000 will finish it and the work about half done, where is the $300,000 gone to and no bridge in sight? I find by looking over the expenditues of the accountant, Mr. Elliott, that the Russell-Townsend Co. have reecived $20,100 commission. Why have they been paid their commission and the work about half done? I think the citizens of this city should appreciate the information that Mr. R. R. Hall has laid before us, and I think that every property holder should get out and show both the Council and Mr. Barber that they won't stand for such humbug. It is a disgrace to the city and worse for Mr. Barber, when we find that he has to have the foundation in before he can give an estimate of the cost. Let us get rid of Barber and place it in the hands of our own engineer, and if he is not capable of handling it any better let us get rid of the whole lot. It is time this city had a shaking up. Wake up you people, it is in your hands to do it, and now is the time. We can't afford to pay all our taxes on white elephants. We talk about a progressive city. The only thing that is progressive is the tax bill. I for one, as well as others, want to know where over $300,000 is expended which was voted for by the citizens of Peterborough, and the government, to build a bridge across the river at Hunter street.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor. Hoping that I have not taken up too much space, I remain,

Yours,

F. T. Tuggey.

BELGIAN WAR MINISTER EXPECTS ALLIANCE WITH FRANCE SOON

BRUSSELS, July 22. — Speaking at a Franco-Belgian dinner here last night the War Minister, General Janson, said a defensive military agreement between France and Belgium, was necessary.

Some such agreement respecting the completely sovereign rights of both nations would soon be adopted, he added, notwithstanding the uneasiness porduced in England which the Minister said he hoped would be dissipated finally by persuasion.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT BUILDING IS NEEDED HERE

NEW INDUSTRIES COULD SECURE ADEQUATE QUARTERS FOR THEIR FIRST STAGE OF EXPANSION—ARE FOUND IN OTHER CITIES.

THE BARRIE BUILDING

"Within the past year a number of small industries have attempted to secure quarters in Peterboro but have been unable to do so due to the lack of buildings suitable to their needs.

"As a result, Toronto and other large cities where buildings of all sizes are available have secured these small industries which, in a few years, may expand greatly.

"What Peterboro needs," it is contended, "is an industrial development building in which small industries can rent quarters until their business has grown to such an extent that they will require a larger plant. Such a building would be conducted along the same lines as the manufacturing building of the Bush organization in Brooklyn. It would be a sort of community nursery for industries still in their infancy and would mean much for the industrial future of Peterboro," stated Leonard Frazer, secretary of the Board of Trade, to The Examiner this morning.

A Feasible Scheme.

The scheme, Mr. Frazer continued, is a feasible one as the rental would give a fair return on the money invested. If a $60,000 building were erected it could be rented to three firms at $2,000 a year each, thus giving $6,000 in rentals, a return of 10 per cent. on the investment.

Barrie Building.

The Barrie building has been devoted to such a purpose in a small way through the civic patriotism of Barries, Limited. Though it meant considerable inconveniences to Barries, quarters in the building have been rented from time to time to small industries in which to get their business under way. The return has been sufficient to maintain the building.

As concrete examples, Mr. Frazer cited the cases of the Canadian Western Clock Company and the Otonabee Mills. Both rented quarters in the Barrie building and now the Western Clock Company occupies the old Canadian Chicle plant with prospects of becoming one of the city's leading industries and the Otonabee Mills are preparing to expand in a plant of their own.

The Barrie building, however, Mr. Frazer went on to say, is too small for the industrial development needs of the city and he believed that if a number of influential citizens would form a company to erect an industrial development building, it would be a paying investment, both to its promoters and the city.

Once an industry locates in a town it seldom moves, without good reason, due to the expense and inconvenience entailed, and Mr. Frazer believed that once industries were located in quarters here they would not be likely to move when they had outgrown their quarters.

Successful Elsewhere.

Winnipeg, Port Arthur and several other cities have erected industrial development buildings which have proved successful.

The Board of Trade has considered the idea, but has been confronted with the difficulty of educating the public to the need of such a building and interesting influential citizens in the scheme.

THE INDUSTRIAL BY-LAWS

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir,—On Friday, besides the bridge by-law, there are two by-laws respecting industrial propositions to be voted on:

The Raybestos By-law.

One of these by-laws refers to the Canadian Raybestos Company. This company has not only purchased the Lundy Shovel and Tool Company property, upon which it is expending money in repairing the old building and erecting new buildings, but it has arranged to purchase the plant of the Henry Hope & Sons. Since the war closed and they ceased making munitions, Henry Hope & Sons have been unable to procure material to return to and carry on their regular business. They employed a few men for a time, but the handicap under which they laboured—that of having been out of their regular business for several years and inability to get material—was so great that they could not re-establish their business on a successful basis and they decided to relinquish manufacturing in Canada. Under these circumstances it was in the interests of the city as well as of the company that another manufacturing concern should be secured to use the premises. The Manufacturers' committee interested themselves in the matter, and the result was that the Canadian Raybestos Company decided to purchase the property.

The parent Raybestos Company is established at Bridgeport, Conn., and manufacturers asbestos products, its clutch and break lining for automobiles being perhaps its best known produtc. The asbesots is largely procured in Quebec, and the company contemplates asbestos spinning here, which they do not do at the home plant. It is an important industry in Bridgeport, and the progress it has made in fitting up and installing machinery in the Lundy property shows that it will be a live and progressive Peterborough industry.

The by-law to be voted upon on Friday continues the present exemption on the property given to Henry Hope & Son until it expires at the end of 1922 and fixes the assessment at $40,000.00, except for school taxes and local improvement rates, for the following eight and one-half years. The company agrees to employ in the Hope plant at least fifty employees not later than eighteen months after the passing of the by-law and to continue to employ that number for ten years from the time they commence manufacturing operations.

This is moderate encouragement for a good industry and the by-law should be heartily endorsed.

As this is not what is defined as "a money by-law" all electors have a vote upon it, and I would like to urge all electors to take the time to cast their votes in its favour.

The Otonabee Mills.

The other industrial by-law is to assist the Otonabee Mills, Limited. The company has purchased the building on Hunter street east, known as the Lubricator Company building and is installing machinery in it. But that building has been found too small for the business they intend to carry on, and they wish to erect another building of brick or concrete 60 x 100 feet. The building will be erected in the rear of the present buildings and partly upon land purchased, in addition to the Lubricator Company property. They agree to employ twenty employees within two months and thirty within six months after the passing of the by-law. The by-law authorized a loan to the company of money to pay for the new building, not to exceed $10,000.00, and the fixing of the assessment of the property for ten years at $8,000.00, except for school taxes and local improvement rates. The company will pay interest on the loan and will repay it in ten instalments of $1,000.00 each.

This industry is being estibalished by Messrs. W. G. Worth and J. L. Hopwood. Mr. Worth, who is a brother of the Messrs. Worth, of the Canadian Woollens, Limited, enlisted in the 93rd Battalion and was severely wounded in France. He is familiar with the woollen business and after his recovery from his wound represented the Canadian Wool Commission in England. Mr. Hopwood has at present a very good business, employing a dozen hands. They are young men of capacity and industry and should make a success of the new enterprise. They have machinery of the value of about $15,000.00 and have purchased the property on Hunter street east, and are willing to pay interest on the loan from the city. The real estate security for the loan will be the new building in which the money will be inevested and in addition the present building and the land.

This is an opportunity to assist in establishing an industry with good prospects of future growth and with practically no expense and very little risk on the part of the city. Any other town or city would be delighted to secure the industry on these terms, or to give even greater encouragement, but Mr. Hopwood and Mr. Worth are Peterborough young men with a pride in ther city and prefer to establish and build up their factory here.

This by-law should also be heartily endorsed. As it authorizes the borrowing of money it is a "money by-law" and the vote is a free-hold one. All owners of property should make a point of casting a ballot for this by-law.

Yours truly,
G. N. Gordon,
Chairman Manufacturers' Committee.

SUGAR SCARCITY MAY AFFECT THE PRICE OF FRUITS

HOME SUPPLIES RUNNING LOW AND HOUSEHOLDERS WILL BE DETERRED BY THE 25 CENT PRICE.

Only the enormous demand for potatoes due to the fact that all consumers were practically out of them during the last few months, has kept the price up, and the dealers have an active time in making the supply meet the lack demand, to-day asking 60 and 70 cents a peck. If the demand were, one greengrocer stated, the same as that of years past, potatoes would retail at about 25 cents a peck, as the majority of the farmers planted about fifty per cent. larger crops this spring than ordinarily. Added to this the weather has been particularly favorable for rapid root crop growth. If the rain does not fall to freely and the weather becomes slightly warmer this week, potatoes will doubtless take a further drop. If, the other hand, much more rain falls, the tubers will rot before they have a chance to mature sufficiently to be dug. Potato bugs are not so thick this year as usual in most districts.

The Root Crops.

All root crops have prospered with the weather of late and some record sized beets, turnips, onions and carrots have been displayed in the green grocers' windows. These are selling at the usual price of 5 cents a large bunch and in some stores three for ten. Celery has grown rapidly, but has not been brought in very freely as yet. What there is is selling at 15 and 20 cents a bunch. Beans have prospered to such an extent the supply is really heavier than the demand, and are selling at 5 cents a pound and 7 cents retail. Large quantities are being canned by housekeepers for winter use. Cucumbers are selling at 5 and 10 cents each.

The Fruit Market.

Berries have not reached the height of the season as the ripening has been delayed by the cold weather and while they are selling at 28 and 30 cents a box for Cuthberts and 24 for the dark red variety, the wholesalers have advised the retailers that they will come in such more freely towards the end of the week and the beginning of next. Prices will probably drop in accordance with the increased supply. Red currants are at their best to-day, selling at 20 and 25 cents a box. Black currants are practically finished, the few remaining selling at 28 and 30 cents a box. Cherries still drag on, a large amount of Montmorenceys having been received locally this week selling at $1.85 and $2 a basket. Green apples are on the local market, retailing at 50 and 60 cents a peck. The orchards in the immediate district are not showing any extraordinary promise, but those in the fruit districts are quoted as better than in years.

Wild raspberries are not offered on the local market but are very plentiful. Sunday brought large numbers of city people to the neighboring raspberry patches and large quantities were brought in. What few are being offered at the doors are selling at 30 cents a quart, the high price the farmers wives maintain is due to city persons having autos cleaning out the patches which the country folk had considered theirs.

Beginning to Feel Situation.

Not until this week has the sugar situation had any material effect upon the fruit demand, but simultaneously, apparently, all the stores the housekeepers had on hand have run out and a drug in the fruit market is apparently inevitable presently. As most of the fruit requires from three quarters to a pound of sugar to a pound of fruit, and sugar is now retailing at 25 cents a pound, preserving has gone out of bounds for the average housekeeper. Large quantities of sugar are now being shipped over the line at Windsor. The wholesale canneries are competing with a difficult problem in making up their usual output of canned goods owing to the high price of sugar.

The Grain Crops.

Even the farmers are bound to admit the prospects for the grain harvest are most satisfactory. Fall wheat, of which a much increased average was planted, will be about 75 per cent. of full crop, oats practically a full crop, and hay about 70 per cent. The hay about the county has practically all been cut and the farmers are busy at present at the fall wheat.

HALF MILLION DOLLAR LOSS TO NIAGARA FRUIT CROP

Is Conservative Estimate From Last Week's Storm—Peaches, Apples and Grapes Suffer.

HAMILTON, Ont., July 26.—Half a million dollars is the conservative estimate of the loss of fruit in the Niagara belt as a result of last week's big storm. The greatest damage was done to the peach and apple crops. Many plum trees were also blown to the ground and the grape crop was badly injured by hail.

STADIUM FOR OLYMPIC GAMES READY; CONCRETE GRAND STAND TO SEAT 30,000

FRENCH ATHLETES TO LEAD THE TRIUMPHAL MARCH THIS YEAR—GAMES TO BE HELD IN A SUBURB—TOURISTS ALREADY FLOCKING TO SEE THE GAMES—SPECIAL BOX FOR ROYALTY.

ANTWERP.—It has not been officially noted that the Olympic games which will be solemnly inaugurated next month by the King of the Belgians, are to be held at Hoboken. But such is the fact. Hoboken, Belgium, is the Antwerp suburb where the stadium has been built for the great friendly battle of nations — barring Germany and Austria—to be known as the seventh Olympic since Marathon. In reality it will be only the sixth owing to the fact that the games scheduled four years ago for Berlin failed to take place.

This Hoboken bears the same geographic relation to Antwerp as the American Hoboken does to Jersey City. One travels through a similar, unsightly, manufacturing, gas house district to get there. But once there the choice of location may be considered good and one forges the scenery en route.

Yesterday your correspondent was invited to visit the stadium by the Belgian committee in charge of the Olympiad. It now is entirely finished and ready except for the final trimmings, for the triumphal march of the three thousand athletes and gladiators now entered for the contests. Eight years ago at the last Olympiad in Stockholm this impressive opening march was led by the Americans as being the largest team there and at the head of the Americans, bearing a huge banner of the Stars and Stripes, marched the late Ralph Rose. This time the triumphal march will be headed by the Frenchmen, for France will have the largest contingent at the Belgian Olympiad and America, for the first time since the revival of the Olympiads, takes second place in this regard. The French team at Antwerp will number 350 against 320 from the United States.

Stadium to Seat 30,000.

The stadium is quite as fine as the scenes of the previous Olympic, resembles very much the Stockholm arena, and will hold the same number of spectators, about 30,000. It is of concrete with handsome approaches and gangways and set in a grove of trees that completely isolates it from the unsightly suburb to which it belongs. The Stockholm Olympiad, which set the standard for smoothness and perfection with which the programme was carried out, is being frankly imitated by the Belgians. The stadium is well equipped with restaurants and railway stations have been installed two minutes from the main gates with constant train service from Antwerp and Brussels. The latter city, only forty minutes distant, is already getting overflow demands for rooms. It is estimated that 40,000 reservations already have been made in Antwerp alone.

The king and the press have the best grand stand—almost sharing it side by side. The only difference is that the royal box, elevated slightly over the press stand, has the usual royal red carpet and palms. Arrangements for reporting the events to a waiting world would seem to be perfect. Three hundred seats with desks have been allotted to the regular correspondents who will cover the games from start to finish. Each seat and desk is marked with the correspondent's name and paper and each line of half a dozen desks will be served by a boy scout to take messages to the telegraph office adjoining the stadium. Here the telegraph, telephone and cable services have been so installed as to supply every nation with operators speaking the languages of all the nations represented in the games.

Rush of Tourists Begins.

Already the tourist rush has started toward Belgium, and the chances of the various teams is the leading subject of conversation. The team in which the greatest interest centrers is the American. However, your correspondent is advised from many quarters that the biggest surprise at Antwerp will come from the Swedes, who have been training religiously ever since the Stockholm games to take the next Olympic honors. Because physical culture is compulsory in Sweden and she has lost no athletes in the war, Sweden will put a team in the arena that is largely American-trained and in top-notch condition. France, while having the largest team is not expected to do better than third in the final, owing to the fact that she lost so many of her best athletes in the war.

Belgium, as the host of the Olympiad, will naturally make a strong showing and may take fourth honors. The best place conceded England by the Olympiad wiseacres already gathered in Belgium is number five. There is general dissatisfaction expressed over the British attitude toward the game and the fact tha scarcely enough money has been appropriated to send over a team that would be a proper Olympic contender. England, having lost so consistently to America in the sports in which she previously was considered to rank foremost, is not considered to be showing a good sporting spirit in the declarations recently made by some of her leading athletic directors to the effect that her athletes are all lying on the field of Ypres and that this is likely to be the last time she ever will participate.

It is pointed out that the Olympic contests are supposedly friendly contests for the development of physique and endurance the world over, therefore, the fact that the war made much havoc in the ranks of the athletes is all the more reason why every nation should do its best to keep up the Olympic standards and records.

CHURCH YOUTHS ARRESTED.

HAMILTON, Ont., July 23.—At a Methodist Church picnic from Toronto, held in Wabasso Park here yesterday, eleven youths were arrested on charges of engaging in crap games.

LINDSAY HERE SATURDAY IN LAST SCHEDULED HOME CENTRAL LEAGUE FIXTURE

The last scheduled home Central League fixture of the season will be played at Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when the Lindsay Greybirds will do battle with the Petes. Although Lindsay are out of the running the old rivalry between the two teams will make the visitors fight as if the championship would be theirs if they win. They expect to have Logan, their good catcher, back in the game on Saturday, and are out to beat the Petes if at all possible.

Lefty McElroy is being carefully groomed for the occasion, and his southpaw slants are expected to provide the Solomon crew with all kinds of trouble.

The Petes cannot afford to lose, for the Central League race is so close that one defeat is liable to spill the local crew out of the running. It should be a hard fought game.

MERRY OLD FINISH IN CENTRAL LEAGUE RACE; HOME STRETCH REACHED

With the end of the schedule less than two weeks away the Central League race is more exciting in the home stretch than at any other period this season. Belleville and Peterboro are very much in the running and the result will be in doubt until the Petes play in Oshawa a week from Saturday. Belleville and Peterboro have each won 7 games and lost 1, while Oshawa, through their defeat at Belleville yesterday, are 2 games behind with 5 wins and 3 losses. Each of the three have two games to play. Belleville and Peterboro having to meet Lindsay in a home game and Oshawa away from home, while Oshawa's two remaining games are at home with Belleville next Saturday and Peterboro on the following Saturday. Belleville and Peterboro should both win their game with Lindsay, which will leave the league title dependent upon the results of the Oshawa-Belleville and Oshawa-Peterboro battles.

Both Belleville and Peterboro teams have a chance to win and without a tie. If Belleville were to lose in Oshawa on Saturday and the Petes won on August 7 the pennant would be annexed by the Solomon crew. And if the results of the two games were exactly reversed Belleville would win out without a play off. Still another possibility is that both Belleville and Peterboro will win in Oshawa, in which case the two teams would be tied just as they were last season.

Here is the way the different possibilities work out conceeding victories for Belleville and Peterboro in their home game with Lindsay.

If Oshawa beats both Belleville and Peterboro the standing would be:

	Won	Lost
Peterboro	8	2
Belleville	8	2
Oshawa	7	3

If Oshawa beats Belleville and loses to Peterboro the result will be:

	Won	Lost
Peterboro	9	1
Belleville	8	2
Oshawa	6	4

If Oshawa loses to Belleville and beats Peterboro we would have this wind-up:

	Won	Lost
Belleville	9	1
Peterboro	8	2
Oshawa	6	4

If Oshawa loses to both Belleville and Peterboro the final standing will be:

	Won	Lost
Peterboro	9	1
Belleville	9	1
Oshawa	5	5

So there is a chance for either Belleville or Peterboro to win outright, or for a tie between Belleville and Peterboro.

It is a great old finish to a merry race.

OSHAWA OUT OF THE RUNNING

DEFEAT AT THE HANDS OF COBOURG CREW A SURPRISE FOR AUTOMOBILE TOWN TEAM.

Cobourg put a crimp in Oshawa's championship chances on Saturday afternoon when they defeated George Peacock's braves by 7 to 6. It was one of the best exhibitions of the season, and the result was always in doubt, the winning run being scored in the last half of the ninth innings. This makes two losses for Oshawa, and according to the baseball dope they should rop another at Belleville this afternoon.—Port Hope Guide.

OSHAWA LOST TO BELLEVILLE

CHAMPS AND PETES ARE NOW TIED FOR FIRST PLACE—GOYER FANS SIXTEEN.

BELLEVILLE, July 26.—A Central Ontario baseball game was played here this afternoon and was witnessed by a record crowd of spectators. Oshawa was the opposing team to the G.T.R. team of this city. The result was a win for Belleville by a score of 4 to 2. It was a game replete with good plays by members of both teams.

Oshawa in the second inning secured their only runs. The G.T.R. team scored one run in the first inning, one in the third inning and two in the sixth. Goyer struck out sixteen men.

As a result of the game Belleville and Peterborough are tied for first place in the league, both having seven wins and one loss. J. Rosevear, of Port Hope, was umpire on balls and strikes, and Stark, of Lindsay, on bases.

The line-up of the teams are as follows:

Oshawa—Gifford, 2b.; Rowden, 1b.; Jacobs, l.f.; Fair, b.; Roddick, c.f.; Dobson, r.f.; Wilson, 1b.; Hall, c., and Patton, p.

Belleville— Ross, c.f.; Casey, r.f.; Weir, s.s.; W. Mills, c.; Simons, l.f.; Kelleher, 3b.; H. Mills, 1b.; Frank Goyer, 2b.; Fred Goyer, p.

YESTERDAY'S RACE WASN'T FINISHED

SANDY HOOK, N. J., July 26.—The 25-mile Sandy Hook gale that drove defender Resolute and her British challenger Shamrock IV. back to shelter last Saturday, went into retirement today, taking all the little Sandy Hook zephyrs with it, and the fifth and decisive race for the America's Cup was called off after the contenders had wallowed along for four and a half hours in a virtually breezeless sea.

Although their favorite failed to win today, Resolute's supporters took great comfort in the fact that she was leading the challenger by about two miles when the match was declared off. Measured in actual progress toward the far-away stake in the prevailing wind, this meant about an hour's sailing, for the defender had consumed a trifle more than four and a half hours in covering nine miles of the course.

Both yachts, however, had covered considerably more actual distance than miles, for immediately after the start, Capt. Charles Francis Adams II, of Resolute and Capt. William P. Burton of Shamrock IV. got into a luffing match that took them far off the course and well in toward the Jersey shore.

When they finally came about after an hour and 20 minutes of sailing that had carried them only a short distance nearer the mark than they were at the start, Resolute had picked up the 56-second lead Shamrock IV. took at the start, and soon passed the green challenger.

But the breath of wind that had given the committee sufficient hope to start the race had died out by this time and the sloops fairly drifted, until the match was declared off.

LOCAL FOOTBALL GOSSIP

WAR VETS PLAY OSHAWA AUG. 7TH—OTHER ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The Caledonians will practice tonight at 6.30 prompt at the Exhibition Grounds. The football executive and prospective players please attend.

Jack Cridland reports that he has signed on E. Bell and R. G. McLeish of Machine Gunners for Canadian Woollens team of next season.

The Comrades Football Team claims that C. Griffine, late of the Vets, has signed for them and still the C. G. E. say that he has promised them his assistance. Who is going to get him?

The Machine Gunners will require to notify the C.G.E. team 48 hours before Thursday evening's game if they wish to forfeit the cup-tie.

The Great War Veterans team will travel to Oshawa on Saturday, August 7th. to play the return game with the Champions of the Football League. The Vet's Captain expects to win dow in the Lakeshore town.

Outside News.

Owing to dilatory methods of Provincial Secretary regarding affiliation of Alberta with the D.F.A. and consequent delay in the Connaught Cup competition, Alberta will not have a team at Toronto for the finals this year after all, as the Calgary team has been unable to complete the necessary financial arrangements to permit the trip.

Arrangements are now in progress between Clgary and British Columbia representatives for an exhibition game between Calgary finalists and the B. C. team next week when the B. C. team passes through Calgary en route to Toronto. Resulting from the delay in affiliation of Alberta being afficially completed, only four teams were entered from this Province in the Connaught Cup competition this year, all these being from Calgary.

Showing form that augured well for the Dominion championship series with the C. P. R. team of Montreal this week, Westinghouse beat Homeside on Saturlay by 4 to 2, the game being an H. and D. League fixture. In the early stages the Ontario champions had a commanding lead, the score after thirty minutes' play being 3 to 0. The east end team showed a reversal of form in the second period and with the score of 3 to 2, worked desperately to even the score. Pilkington, however, made victory sure for Westinghouse when he scored the fourth goal twelve minutes before full time.

The Ontario Cup winners left Monday night by the 7.30 C. P. R. train for Montreal, where they meet the Quebec champions to-day. The local team is confident it can give a good account of itself in the Royal City. Local fans in Hamilton are raising objections because the return game is to be played in Toronto. They claim it should be played here.

Including Saturday's game, this makes the second victory Westinghouse have won this week. On Wednesday they defeated Harvesters in the final for the Nelson Cup. The locals have been strengthened since they won the Ontario Cup from Willys-Overland. They have signed Sinclair, who last year played for the War Veterans, and Adair, who starred for Thistles, junior champions of Ontario.

The Ontario junior district final between Rovers and Thistles scheduled for Saturday was postponed. The winners meet the Toronto district champions in home-and-home games for the Provincial championship. The game will likely be played some evening this week.

"BOHUNK'S" LOOKING FOR NEW VICTIMS

The "Bohunks" Peterboro's lively and promising nine having cleaned up all the small fry of the district are looking for bigger game and have made a fixture with the Port Hope Central Ontario outfit for Thursday afternoon.

GREAT RACE IN THE AMERICAN LEAGUE

REVIEW OF LAST WEEK IN THE MAJOR CIRCUITS.

NEW YORK, July 26. — Brooklyn continues to lead the race in the National League despite a little slump last week—that is a slump as compared with the way the team has been playing since the last week in June. The Robins' lead, however, was not cut down to any extent because Cincinnati, the runner-up team, lost three games during the week. The relative positions of the two teams was not changed yesterday as both were defeated.

Giants Going Up.

The New York Giants had a successful week in the west and for a day, occupied fourth place. The Giants, with Chicago and St. Louis, are having a nip and tuck race for the honor of bringing up the rear of the first division, all three being within striking distance of Pttsburg, which occupies third place. Boston fell behind during the week, and Philadelphia, although having a tight hold on last place improved its percentage. The close race in the National League may be noted from the fact that only about 100 points separate the first six clubs.

American Battle.

New York and Cleveland are furnishing plenty of excitement in their battle for the leadership of the American League. The Indians took the lead early in May and were displaced for a day by the Yankees the week of July 4, and again for a similar period last week. They regained first place by defeating Huggins' men Saturday. Both teams won their games yesterday.

The Reasons Why.

Speaker's team is still in bad shape for lack of good pitching while New York is winning games consistently by heavy batting. Chicago maintains its place behind the leaders. A similar situation to that in the National League exists with three clubs—Washington, St. Louis and Boston—fighting for fourth place. Detroit and Philadelphia have little chance to improve their positions, although the Mackmen last week won a majority of their games for the second time this season.

THISTLES LINE-UP FOR LINDSAY GAME

The Thistles will journey to Lindsay to-morrow to meet a picked team from the Lindsay City League. The following players are requested to be at Yeates Brothers' store at 1 o'clock: Swanston, Harrison, Kirn, Murray, Shaughnessy, Wilgar, Coursey, Soden, Lowe, Turner, and Sheehy.

AT THE ALLEN

Who invented the first Doughnut? Did you ever stop to answer that question— and answer it? We never did until Goldwyn advised us that Madge Kennedy was a Doughnut Queen in "Dollars and Sense" at the Allen, Wednesday and Thursday. Think of it! She starts out to be a chorus girl. She winds up as a baker's wife! But oh, what a baker lad he was! What a heart! What a soul! What a vision! What charity! We want you to see Madge Kennedy's latest picture "Dollar's and Sense". You'll laugh. You'll be thrilled. You'll chuckle. Maybe a wee tear will creep up and sit on the corner of each eye. Undoubtedly you'll come away from this picture a happier person.

ANOTHER SHAMROCK IF IT'S NECESSARY

Lipton Means to Get That Cup — He's Still Confident.

ON BOARD STEAM YACHT VICTORIA, July 26.—Sir Thomas Lipton to-day definitely announced that he would challenge again for the America's Cup in 1922 should he fail to lift it with his present entry.
"I will not do so for a year," he said, "as it would only be sportsmanlike to wait that long in order to give someone else a chance should they so desire."
In making this announcement the British sportsman by no means admitted or even intimated that his present effort would not be successful.
"I am sorry there was no race today," he said. "I honestly believe that when the contest was called off the Shamrock had by far the better position had a breeze come up in time to have finished."
Sir Thomas also intimated that the name Shamrock would be retained to go with any possible future challenger.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE FOR ALEXANDER JAMES

RESTITUTION MADE, JUDGE HUYCKE EXERCISES CLEMENCY.

This morning, in the County Court, in the county criminal cases, Walter Alexander James came up for trial on six charges of forgery.
Mr. J. A. O'Brien appeared on behalf of the accused, and pleaded guilty to all six. Mr. O'Brien stated that the accused was a returned soldier, who had served four and a half years, part of which had been spent as a prisoner in Germany, and sufficient restitution had been made.
His Honour Judge Huycke, in view of these facts, and in view of the fact that the accused expressed his desire for another chance, and promised faithfully to walk the straight and narrow path, allowed the accused to go on suspended sentence.

THE WEATHER FOR NOVA SCOTIA VOTING

(Canadian Press.)
HALIFAX, N.S., July 27.—Exceptionally beautiful weather throughout the province to-day is expected to aid in bringing out a large vote in the general provincial elections.
Indications in Halifax were that a large woman's vote would be polled. At many polling booths many women are reported to be waiting for the polls to open at ten o'clock.

TRIUMVIRATE WILL DEVELOP PALESTINE

LONDON, July 26.—The development of Palestine will be placed in the hands of a Franco-British Triumvirate consisting of Lord Reading, Alfred Mond, British Minister of Public Works, and James Rothschild, son of Baron Edmond Rothschild, formerly the head of the great French banking family. These three men who will be builders of the Jewish Homeland, are expected to form an economic council for the World-Wide Zionist Organization, and will be responsible for financing the project and completing the proposed great public works in Palestine.
Mond, who is one of the most prominent Jews in Britain, has already accepted the trusteeship and commemorated his appointment by a donation of $125,000 to the National Palestine Fund.
Baron Reading has not yet signified his acceptance, but it is understood Justice Brandeis is exerting his influence to induce him to do so. Reading is not a Zionist but is extremely sympathetic toward the movement. He is reluctant to accept the honor because of his work and position as British Lord Chief Justice.
Rothschild is chosen because of the immense possibilities of his financial connections. He is a major in the British Jewsh Legion that fought with Allenby's army in Palestine. He gave the Rothschild Hospital in Jerusalem to the United States-Jewish Medical Unit, there.

BYE-ELECTIONS DUE IN SHORT TIME NOW

(Canadian Press.)
OTTAWA, July 27.—The printing of the numerous forms and other documents necessitated by the new Franchise Act, is now practically complete, and the writs for bye-elections may be expected shortly.
It is the intention of the Government to hold the elections as early as possible.
About six weeks, it is now estimated, will of necessity elapse after the issue of the writ before elections can actually be held.
Delay is required for the preparation of the lists appointment of deputy returning officers location of the polling stations and giving of the requisite days of notice as required under the Act.

CHRISTIANS AND MOSLEMS SURROUNDED

TURK NATIONALISTS THREATEN CITY OF ADANA—FOOD SUPPLY FOR ONLY A FEW DAYS.

IS IN FRENCH ZONE

LONDON, July 28.—Adana in Asia Minor, with a population of seventy thousand Christians and ten thousand Moslems, is entirely cut off from the outside world by the Turkish Nationalists, and is on the verge of starvation, according to an official despatch from Cyprus.

The despatch also says the city has food for only a few days, and appeals for military assistance.

In the House of Commons to-day, Bonar Law pointed out that the city was in the French zone, and that the French were alive to the situation. There was a limit to the possibility of British intervention, he said.

BRUCE WOOD DIED FROM EFFECTS OF ACCIDENT ON FARM

HIS CASE CONSIDERED HOPELESS FROM THE OUTSET—LEAVES WIFE AND TWO CHILDREN.

After almost constant attendance by Dr. Sutton, who had begun to hope for a recovery, Bruce Wood, the Otonabee farmer who was impaled on a hayfork in an accident while harvesting a short time ago, died at the Nicholls Hospital rather suddenly yesterday afternoon of internal hemmorrhage. The injury was so grave and difficult to treat that from the outset there was but little expectation that Mr. Wood could survive.

On Friday, July 16, Mr. Wood was helping unload hay in his father's barn. A ladder, on which he was standing, began to slip, and jumping into the mow he alighted on a hay fork hidden by the hay. The wooden handle pierced a vital part. He was at once removed to Nicholls Hospital where the doctors, headed by Dr. Sutton, have carried on the fight to save his life. Infection from the nature of the wound was inevitable, and after the first operation, it spread and necessitated a second operation on the 20th.

Encouraging improvement had been noticed, but death came swiftly yesterday afternoon from hemorrhage resulting from a gangrenous affection set up in a vein that had been bruised by the hay fork. Dr. Sutton's overseas experienced proved of value in handling this delicate case and he felt keenly the loss of the life he had begun to hope might be saved.

Bruce Wood leaves a wife and two small children, a girl of two and a half years, and a baby boy, one year old. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Wood, survive, residing on the farm on the 13th line of Otonabee, seven miles from the city. The deceased was born in Otonabee 33 years ago. Five years ago he married Mildred Devell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Deyell, Otonabee. His parents survive and one brother, Alton, of North Monaghan. One brother and one sister predeceased him.

He was a member of the Methodist Church, Zion, and a regular attendant. He was a member of the Canadian Order of Foresters.

His tragic accident followed by his death 12 days later has deeply affected the entire community in Otonabee. His courage and faith through had been marvellous and he never gave up hope of recovery.

The funeral of Bruce Woods will be held to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock from the family residence, Otonabee, to Little Lake Cemetery. Rev. Mr. Honey, of Keene, will officiate.

FARM PROPERTIES DESTROYED AND FAMILIES IN HOSPITAL

Robert Lang, Brother of Mr. Jas. T. C. Lang, One of a Number of Farmers Related Here Who Suffered in Recent Storm

Suffering from the effects of injuries received in the cyclone which devastated the district about Alameda, Saskatchewan, Mr. Robert Lang and family are seriously ill in the hospital. Mr. Lang is a brother of Mr. J. T. C. Lang, of the Customs House, and a former well-known resident of this city. As yet Mr. Lang has not been in direct communication with his brother, but learned of his injuries and the total destruction of his entire property and house to-day. His losses are reported as having been the most severe sustained in the catastrophe.

Many former residents of Millbrook and owners of property in Alameda, residing in the district about Millbrook, were seriously affected by the cyclone. A farm owned by Mr. Willie Deyell, of Centreville, and valued at $40,000.00, was totally demolished, and the occupants, Mrs. Guy Holmes, her infant child and nurse killed. Mr. Holmes is in a serious condition, and his life is despaired of.

The residence of Mr. Samuel McKnight, late of Millbrook, was shaken, and all outbuildings destroyed. Mr. William Wood, also an old Millbrook boy, had his home reduced to matchwood and all outbuildings were swept away.

Will Hold Conference With Soviet if Ready For Peace With Poles

LLOYD GEORGE AND MILERAND AGREE ON REPLY TO BOLSHEVIKI —SOVIET ARRANGES MEETING WITH POLES FOR ARMISTICE TO BE HELD IN TWILIGHT ON FRIDAY EVENING.

BOULOGNE, July 27.—Premiers Lloyd-George and Millerand determined, at their conference here this afternoon, to stand by the original plan for a peace conference with the Russian Soviet. They also outlined the execution of the financial parts of the coal arrangement with Germany.

Mr. Lloyd-George accepted in the main M. Millerand's views, and it was decided Great Britain should reply to the Soviet demand for an international conference, that it could not take place unless the Bolsheviki reversed their present attitude and agreed to discuss thereat peace with Poland, and that all qualified representatives of Russia and the border states shoul dattend.

Should Moscow accept these conditions, then M. Millerand will be consulted by Great Britain, and he will lay down the conditions necessary for recognition of the Soviet. This attitude is taken to ensure Poland not being overwhelmed by facing the Bolsheviki alone in the negotiations.

MEET POLES ON FRIDAY.

PARIS, July 28.—The Supreme Command of the Russian Soviet army has instructed the commander-in-chief in the Polish Army to send Parliamentarians under the white flag toward the Bolshevist advance posts on the road from Baronovitchi to Brest-Litovsk at eight o'clock on Friday evening.

News to this effect is contained in an official radio message sent out from Moscow to-day, picked up by the wireless stations.

The armistice "appointment" was conveyed to the Polish commander in a radio message sent to his headquarters.

Thus the Polish eagle and the shaggy "white bear" will meet in the twilight not far from the place where the Germans dictated peace to the very same bear who is now coming back with a red coat.

With the exception of a brief truce that followed Soviet Russia's acceptance of the Polish plea for permission to send an armistice commission, fighting appears to have been going on fiercely and continuously on the Russo-Polish line.

Latest communiques from Warsaw show the Polish armies are continuing to retire under the steady pressure of the Red Legions. Desperate fighting rages in many sectors.

U.F.O. AND LABOUR FAILED TO AGREE ON A CANDIDATE

WILL HOLD ANOTHER MEETING IN NEAR FUTURE—REFER QUESTION TO PROVINCIAL GROUPS.

No decision as to the nomination of a U.F.O. or Labour candidate in this riding was reached at the meeting of the executives of the West Peterboro U.F.O. and Independent Labour Party in the Labour Hall last evening and it was decided to adjourn until August 10th the two parties in the meantime to get in touch with their respective provincial executives regarding the matter.

Labour's Stand.

T. Tooms, M.L.A., in explaining the Labour Party's stand to the Examiner this afternoon, stated that Peterboro is the only city between Toronto and Ottawa which is strongly enough organized to elect a labour representative. Consequently, Mr. Tooms said, should the U.F.O. in West Peterboro refuse to support a labour candidate and thus weaken labour's chances, all industrial workers between Toronto and Ottawa would be unrepresented and literally disfranchised. The U.F.O. Mr. Tooms, believed, could elect representatives in all constituencies between Toronto and Ottawa and should allow Labour an opportunity of representation here. The U.F.O. could easily elect a representative in East Peterboro and allow labour a representative here, Mr. Tooms said, thus dividing the county equally.

Mr. Tooms contended that the West Peterboro, U.F.O. was not strong enough to elect a member unaided, In support of this contention he pointed out that the Provincial elections in this riding last fall the rural vote was only 2,049 whereas the urban vote was 8,455 or almost one quarter of the urban vote.

CANADA TO-DAY IS AHEAD OF EUROPE

LORD BURNHAM, FOR OVERSEAS IMPERIAL PRESS DELEGATES, LAUDS THE DOMINION.

(Canadian Press.)

HALIFAX, July 28. — "We have come to recognize that not only is Canada thinking and speaking to-day ahead of Europe, but she is thinking and speaking ahead of herself," said Lord Burnham to-day in acknowledging the welcome by Halifax and the Province of Nova Scotia, tendered the overseas delegates to the Imperial Press Conference. "It is because we believe that you will continue to think and speak ahead of yourself that we are so glad to be here to-day," concluded the chairman of the Conference.

Mayor Parker spoke for the city at a formal reception, Hon. W. S. Fielding and Hon. F. B. McCurdy made short speeches, and the Nova Scotia government was represented by Hon. R. E. Finn.

Leave For Capital To-morrow.

The Imperial Press Confeernce delegates arrived here this morning on special trains and were welcomed by Mayor Parker and other civic officials. They will spend the day here, commencing their journey to Ottawa by way of Truro ,to-morrow.

A civic luncheon was tendered the delegates this afternoon. Robert Donald ,one of the foremost newspapermen in Great Britain, said that the failure of the U. S. to assume some of the resonsibilities which the triumphant entry into the war imposed upon that country, was largely responsible for the continued unsettled conditions throughout the world.

BEARS ROUT TRADERS ON WHEAT MART

COLLAPSE OF PRICES IN CHICAGO DUE TO TIGHTENED CREDIT AND INDUSTRIAL CLOUDS.

CHEERS FROM CONSUMERS

CHICAGO, July 27.—Price breaks doubled in violence in the wheat market to-day those of the day before An extreme loss at one time of 16 cents a bushel was the record of today as compared with eight cents loss yesterday. Financial strain was again the chief reason ascribed.

Although from the outset, depression was evident among holders of wheat, hope for a rally kept values within something like normal bounds until the final half-hour of trading. No relief was then in sight, however, from the necessity for additional funds to meet heavy margin calls and to prevent sacrifice selling. A stampede to unload followed and the close was wild, only two cents up from the undermost figures reached. December delivery finishing $2.35 to $2.35 1-2 and March $2.37.

All the developments of the day had been bearish, especially the crop reports from the North-Western States, the piling up of stocks of wheat in the South-Western States, further lowering of bids by export interests and increased tension in regard to coal to prevent possible shutdown to big industrial plants.

Corn and oats shared more or less the collapse of wheat, but in contrast with grain, the provision market scored a general advance. Packers came to the rescue with buying orders, and quotations of lard, pork and ribs, that there had a sharp setback in the big market, as well as in the whole lis tof cereals.

Flour Prices Driop.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 27.—The Northwestern Millers' weekly review of the flour trade says flour prices dropped sharply on Monday and Tuesday after a week of little change, spring patents falling fifty cents per barrel to an average of about fourteen dollars and winters droping twenty-five cents. Feed is also down with bran one dollar per ton below a week ago. The decline is due to lower cash wheat and the marked weakness of the December option. Little buying is reported even at reduced levels as buyers evidently expect still lower prices soon. The output shows slight improvement, with spring wheat mills reporting an output fifty per cent. of the capacity Kansas Oklahoma hard winter wheat mills fifty, and Ohio valley soft winter wheat mills, twenty-five.

REV. J. O. L. SPRACKLIN MAY TAKE ACTION

(Canadian Press)

WINDSOR, July 28.—Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin when asked this morning regarding his attitude regarding the probe which is to be opened tomorrow morning by the police committee of Sandwich into his charges regarding liquor traffic in the border counties, stated that he was seriously considering the advisability of laying information against Chief Constable Masters under a sub-section of Ontario Temperance Act. This section rules that any inspector, policeman or constable, not carrying out the O.T.A. shall incur a penalty of ten dollars and may be summarily dismissed Mr. Spracklin is still emphatic in his refusal to take witnesses before a tribunal.

HAS NO HOPE OF CHEAP HEATING BY ELECTRICITY.

TORONTO, July 28.—Sir Adam Beck is not very optimistic about heating houses by electricity at a cost of nine dollars a month, as Professor J. W. Dorsay, of Winnipeg, claims it is possible.

The chief of the Provincial Hydro Commission declares that the cost would be greater than that of coal, according to known heating devices of an electric nature.

Liberal Government in Nova Scotia Holds Confidence of People

PREMIER MURRAY RETURNED TO POWER IN YESTERDAY'S ELECTIONS WITH WIDE MAJORITY OVER CONSERVATIVES, FARMERS AND LABOUR—FARMERS ELECTED SEVEN CANDIDATES.

(Canadian Press.)

HALIFAX, July 28.—The defeat of the Hon. R. E. McGregor, of New Glasgow, member of the Murray Government in the Provincial election yesterday, was announced to-day. He ran in Pictou County and was beaten by a Labour candidate.

Standing: Liberals 29, Farmers 7, Labour 6, Conservatives 1.

HALIFAX, July 28.—Winning thirty seats in the House out of forty-three, Liberal Government, under Premier George H. Murray, was returned to power with a clear majority of seventeen over Farmers, Labor and Conservatives in the election held yesterday. Farmers elected seven candidates, Labor five and Conservatives one. Last House was composed of thirty-two Liberals and eleven Conservatives.

HALIFAX, N.S., July 27.—As a result of the general provincial election held in Nova Scotia to-day the Liberal government which has been continuously in power for the past thirty-eight years, and headed by George H. Murray since 1896, was returned with a majority of seventeen in a house of forty-three members, substantially the same as it receved as a result of the election in June, 1916.

The campaign leading up to the elections was unusually quiet. No great public question was involved in the contest, but owing to the entry of the Farmers and Labor parties, together with the introduction of the women's vote, the result was generally regarded as uncertain until the returns began to come in to-night.

The election summary follows:

Liberals, 30; Conservatives, 1; Labor, 5; Farmers 7—total, 43 seats.

The election of June 20, 1916, resulted in 32 Liberals and 11 Conservatives being elected.

The Liberals gained one seat each in Halifax, King's, Lunenburg, Richmond and Queen's and lost three seats in Cape Breton ,two in Cumberland, one in Antigonish, and one in Yarmouth, making their net loss two seats. Included in the seats was that of Hon. E. H. Armstrong, commissioner of public works and mines, who was the only member of the government to go down to defeat, although at a late hour Hon. R. McGregor's seat in Pictou was still placed in the uncertain list.

A Lone Survivor.

The Conservatives, with a membership of eleven in the late house, under the leadership of W. L. Hall, defeated in Queen's county, returned a single representative, Dr. J. A. MacDonald, in Richmond. They lost five seats to the Liberals, one each in Queen's, Halifax, King's, Lunenburg, and Richmond; three to the farmers, two in Colchester and one in Hants; and two to Labor, one in Cape Breton and one in Cumberland, a total of ten seats.

The Farmers took seven of the 15 seats for which they contended, and Labor took five out of 13 candidates. Neither of the two women candidates, one on the Conservative ticket in Cumberland and one on the Labour ticket in Pictou made a serious showing.

OTTAWA NOT SUDPRISED BY NOVA SCOTIA'S ELECTION

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, July 28. — Election returns from Nova Scotia have not occasioned much surprise at the Dominion capital. The return to power of the Murray Government was expected by practically all political prophets but the results in some of the constituencies occasioned surprise. These include the defeat of Public Works Commissioner Hon. E. H. Armstrong, Hon. H. H. Wickwire, Minister of Highways, and W. L. Hall, the Conservative leader. The election of two Farmers in Colchester County was unexpected, and the news was received with considerable interest because Hon. F. B. McCurdy, new Public Works Minister, will run in this constituency within the next six weeks. It is believed, however, that Mr. McCurdy will be successful in securing the endorsation of a majority of voters.

The Bridge By-Law

The discussion regarding the bridge by-law makes it clearer that the by-law should be carried and that the work should proceed.

If the contractors at present carrying on the work have to leave it, they will take with them their machinery and plant and it will be expensive to get another plant on the ground. Besides, as they have their organization and everything running they can finish it at least as cheaply, and no doubt more cheaply, than anyone else.

The defeat of the by-law would mean a year's delay. The piles are now in place for the main arch, and it is doubtful if they would be standing in place after the floods and ice of the spring. The temporary bridge, which is on piles, was damaged last spring and would scarcely stand through another. Then there is also the question of possible damage to the arches and other work that has been completed.

Against these dangers and losses nothing would be gained by delay. No change can be made in the design of the bridge to lessen the cost. A change would mean throwing away the work that has been done towards the construction of the main arch, and with no advantage to offset this heavy loss.

The defeat of the by-law, and the consequent delay, will not only mean trouble, but also expense that will have to be added to the cost of the bridge.

The cheapest way to finish the bridge is to proceed with the work.

The only sensible thing to do is to carry the by-law.

I would urge the voters to protect their interests by going to the polls on Friday and voting for the by-law.

Yours truly,
JAS. HAMILTON,
Chairman Special Bridge Committee.

Bank Accounts Would Reveal "Bootleggers"

(Special to The Examiner.)

DETROIT, July 28—"We're knocking the bootleggers down as fast as we can, but what is the Government at Ottawa doing to help us?" was the strong statement by Chief Federal Prohibition Agent J. W. Jordan, in charge of Detroit yesterday.

"As I understand it," he said, "liquor can be ordered in Canada only for home consumption or medical purposes. What I can't understand, then, is why the Canadian Federal Government allows such large shipments. We allow our doctors only 300 permits a year. A case of whisky would last a doctor here for a whole year, and yet it was only this afternoon that we got 514 bottles down at Ecorse. They want us to stop the traffic, and act as illogically as this."

The logical opinion in Windsor, which an inquirer has dinned into his ear every day says: "Let the Ontario Government appoint a grand jury to investigate the bank accounts here, and see who are behind the scenes in this city. That will stop the bootlegging quicker than any move."

SCHOOL TEXT BOOKS DELAYED IN PRINTING

SCARCITY OF BOOKPRINT THE CAUSE—MAY USE OLD BOOKS.

The scarcity of bookprint will probably result in a number of Ontario school text books being delayed in publication. The delay, however, will not cause any serious inconvenience in the schools. Where the new text books specified by the departmental regulations are not available in time for the opening of the schools, the local boards have full authority to continue the use of the old text books.

NO PLEDGE REQUIRED FOR BONDS

PREMIER MEIGHEN WILLING TO MAKE EASY CONDITIONS FOR SALE OF PARTS OF C.N.R. TO THE HYDRO.

BECK IS DOUBTFUL

(Special to The Examiner)

TORONTO, July 28.—It is stated here that Premier Meighen has given assurances that the Dominion Government will not insist that the Province of Onario must guarantee the bonds to be given in payment of a portion of the Canadian National Railways System, which Sir Adam Beck proposes to acquire as part of the Hydro-radial System for Ontario. Sir Adam, with this assurance, could provide a partial answer to one of the arguments advanced by the Drury Government in that the Provincial Government's credit position as the result of guaranteeing these bonds will not be affected.

It means, also, that the three Canadian national lines—The Toronto and Eastern, The Niagara, St. Catharines and Toronto, and the Toronto suburban—may be taken over by the Hydro-electric Commission without the consent of the Drury Government under legislation already enacted. But the question as to whether the Drury Cabinet would first be required to ratify any purchases by the Hydro Commission by order-in-Council is a matter of doubt.

It appears that the law, as it stands, permits the Hydro to build but not to purchase radials. Sir Adam Beck, when asked if Premier Meighen had agreed to take Hydro bonds without the Provincial guarantee, said: "I don't think so. Mr. Hannigan has received two letters from Ottawa acknowledging requests for such action, but I think only consideration was promised."

ADDRESSED JEWS ON ZIONIST SCHEME

SERGT. A. C. SOLOMON, OF THE JEWISH LEGION, WAS WITH ALLENBY.

Of interest not only to Jews but to all Canadians who are interested in seeing the Jewish nation become a reality, to have Palestine populated and governed once again by the Jewish people, was the address of Sergt. A. C. Solomon, of the Jewish Legion, 40th Battalion, Royal Fusiliers to the Zionists of this city in Gospel Hall last evening.

Sergt. Solomon was with General Allenby at Mount Carmel, Damascus, Beirut and many other engagements. The Jewish battalion acted as his headquarter battalion for three months. He was in action at Essalo on the Jericho road where they held the brigade position suffering heavy casualties. Following this they were in action in the Jordon Valley and through all the engagements until the signing of the armistice.

He described this visits at Jaffa the centre of the great orange district, Jerusalem, the Holy City, Haifa, the seaport to the Holy City, and the key to the Near East. He was at Tiberias, famous the world over for its mineral bath. In Jerusalem among the wonderful old historic and beautiful structures, he mentioned the Tomb of Rachel, the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, the Mosque of Omar.

He dwelt on the great ambition of the Jews and said that they were coming into their own. Every Jew should support the reconstruction work in Palestine. The sergent spoke at great length on the mandate and he commended Great Britain's promise to the Jews as an example of how she had ever protected the smaller nations. Sir Alfred Mond, Lord Reading, the Lord Chief Justice of Great Britain, and Sir Henry Rothschild, the great financier, are on the commission looking after the initial work in having the way for the entry of the Jewish nation.

It has been proven that although the Jews all over the world have contributed millions to relief work persecution has gone on just the same, and the only solution to the Jewish problem is the cultivation, and nationalization of Palestine by the Jewish people.

A mass meeting will be held in the near future when prominent speakers as well as Sergt. Solomon will speak to the Zionists.

It Is Iron In The Blood That Makes Iron Muscles Like These---

Physician Explains a Secret of the Great Power and Endurance of Athletes--Tells How Organic Iron--Nuxated Iron Helps Build Rich, Red Blood That Gives Physical Strength and Energy

To touch the arm of a strong, sturdy man—to feel the steel-like firmness of those muscular sinews—to think of the tremendous force and power that must lie behind such strength—these are thrills that come to the thin-blooded men and women whose own bodies are weak and physically unfit.

It takes men of red-blooded force and power to hit the sledge-hammer blows that count—and whether you are a pile-driver or a bank president you cannot expect to win out against odds forever unless you are a man of iron—constantly able to strike—and strike hard.

"There are countless numbers of men today who at 40 are broken in health and steadily going downward to physical and mental decay," says Dr. John J. Van Horne, formerly Medical Inspector and Clinical Physician on the Board of Health of New York City. "Yet there are thousands of such men who undergo a most remarkable transformation the moment they get plenty of the right kind of iron into their blood to give increased energy and endurance. To help build stronger, healthier men and women, better able physically to meet the problems of everyday life, I believe that physicians should, at every opportunity prescribe organic iron—Nuxated Iron—for in my experience it is one of the best tonic and red blood builders known to medical science."

If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See many another has gone down to ingloriously defeat simply for lack of iron. how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day, after meals, for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. Many an athlete or prize fighter has won the day simply because he knew the secret of great strength and endurance, which comes from having plenty of iron in the blood, while

Manufacturers' Note: Nuxated Iron, which is prescribed and recommended above by physicians, is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated and does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed by all good druggists.

TAKEN OUT OF WHIRLPOOL.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., July 26—The body of a man believed to be Fred Lehman, an American, who jumped into the Niagara River from the Upper bridge a week ago and then regretted his action and tried to reach shore, was taken out of the Whirlpool Rapids by Reid Hill, the veteran riverman. The body was taken to the Morse Morgue pending identification.

SOME CREDIT, OTHERS DOUBT LOVE'S STORY

DR. MURRAY THINKS CONFESSION BONA FIDE—BOY'S EMPLOYER HAS CONFIDENCE IN HIM.

FLESHERTON, Ont., July 26.—Opinion in the neighborhood of Flesherton varies greatly as regards the story of confession told by Arnel Love to the evangelist, G. N. Sharpe on the night of July 6th in Salem church. Nearly every person interviewed has his own private idea, and nearly all differ. As regards the present whereabouts of the lad in question none could or would say. It might be Owen Sound or Toronto, with the latter a little in favor.

Dr. E. Murray, a well-known citizen of Flesherton, who took a prominent part in the Gospel services which Mr. Sharpe held in Salem church, believes the lad's story. He says that Sharpe's meetings were never of the drum-beating variety, but were straight-forward talks, followed by an exhoration to come forward. "I want any of you who are not Christians and who want to be Christians to come forward," he was wont to say. He was accustomed to stretch forth his hand, and some would come forward, knel down and pray.

No Excitement.

On July 6th., the night of the confession, Mr. Sharpe was holding the usual meeting. He was in the hall with some 25 opeople for about two hours before he was approached by Love, with a hint that he wished to confess. "And during that time," said Dr. Murray, "there was nothing of an exciting nature."

"'I struck the blow that killed my mother and my father hanged for it. I want to make a full confession.' Love had said. "My father was the only one at his trial who told the truth. There were a lot of lies told at my father's trial. He had been killing pigs. They said the blood on his clothes was not pigs' blood,' were some of his statements.

"'My mother was a good Christian woman. She was always trying to point me to Jesus. I used to get mad about that,' he said.

Case to Lawyer.

"A confession was made to Sharpe that night. Then Sharpe and Dr. Murray, the latter not having heard the lad confess, saw Mr. J. Burney, a lawyer of Collingwood. They put a parallel case up to him, mentioning no names. His legal opinion was, the right man can suffer, no matter how many have been punished. Dr. Murray and Sharpe met Love at Currie's barn several days after the original confession. They told the boy that he could be punished for his alleged crime, and asked him if he were still anxious to confess, clear his name and pay the penalty.

The boy confessed, stated that on the day of the tragedy, after he struck his mother, he was afraid she would come to again, and that he would be punished, probably put in goal. He then stated that he made use of the knife, but that she was not dead after he struck her with the piece of wood.

Did Not Escape.

"I thought I had escaped the goal, but I did not escape punishment," he said.

He also stated, according to Dr. Murray, that the father knew nothing about the boy's guilt, but there are some who, believing this new confession maintain the father died to save the son.

After this confession in the barn an appointment was made with Mr. Raney in Toronto. The latter did not want any names mentioned, otherwise, he said, he would have to take action immediately in the case. A parallel case was then set before the Attorney-General, who advised them to see Chief of Police J. Rogers. The latter was not found and it was decided to secure a lawyer to take the case. "Love," said Dr. Murray, "was taken before Dr. Jukes Johnson for examination, who had examined the father. What the result of that examination was I cannot say."

Dramatic Moment.

Prominence is given among those who believe the boy's story to the moment in the father's trial where he stood up in the dock and asked the boy:

"Did you not tell me you saw your mother after breakfast that morning?" The boy answered "No," and the father sat down.

"Putting the Arnel Love confession beside the story of the trial, stated Dr. Murray, "it seems to fit in. In other words, where there was uncertainly in the trial the story of the boy appears to supply the missing facts of the case."

Archie Currie, owner of the farm where Love has worked for the past five years years, was visited.

Doesn't Believe Boy.

"I do not believe the boy committed the crime," he said. "I believe that the Evangelist meetings have set him queer, and he has, by thinking of the tragedy, been moved in some way to create this story". Mr. Currie is a bronzed Canadian farmer and he looked on young Love as if he were his own child. "He has been absolutely faithful to me," he said. "He has never disobeyed in one single instance. He was a hard worker and did his work up to date. He came to me and I hired him from year to year, and he is the only one I have except my little boy Tom, who is only fourteen years old, to help me with the crops.

Not an Epileptic.

"The lad Love never ha dany epileptic fits, and to my knowledge was of sound mind. Some times when he weld cut himself, for instance, he would be faint, but that is all."

Mrs. Currie feels very deeply the absence of the boy and broke into tears at the thought of the whole business. The boy had gone to four meetings, the first at the instance of Mrs. Currie, and drove over with the Dingal boys, who lived on the farm nearby. To the Curries, Love had never once hinted in word or action his story of the crime. It had apparently been dropped altogether.

Rev. Mr. McCarton, Methodist minister, who has charge of the Flesherton district, and who was with Love on the night of his confession stated that he and Constable Stringer had taken the boy to Toronto, that they returned to Owen Sound on Thursday, and then, on account of some other decision Love was taken back to Toronto again.

Mr. McCarton was asked, "Do you think, considering the character of the meeting, that Love could have been moved to such a degree that he could come out with the story if it were not true?"

Mr. McCarton stated that the meetings were not those of an ordinary travelling evangelist. Mr. Sharpe was known in the neighborhood, and had been invited by the Owen Sound district Methodists. He would not pass an opinion on the boy's confession, but knew he was of good character and was anxious to do all possible for him.

Was Big Boy.

Touching on the practical side of the confession, it is stated by the neighbors that Love was quite a big boy and well developed for his age when he was 14. The mother, on the other hand, was a small woman, about 100 pounds in weight. It would, these people think, have been possible for him to throw the stick of wood and then haul the body to the cellar. Others, knowing the boy all his life, and taking into consideration his steadfast character, especially, since the tragedy, believe it would have been impossible. Mr. Sharpe, it was stated by Rev. Mr. McCarten, asked the boy when in Toronto: "Did you reall do it?"

This would show that even Mr. Sharpe could not fully realize that the boy was guilty. Some residents state that the boy, and, in fact, his people, were rather peculiar, not that there was any characteristic which could be especially pointed out, but simply peculiar in ways. There are others who say the boy was not abnormal; that outside of the effects of his environment and lack of travel he does not differ from other boys. All admit it is strange, none knows what is absolutely the truth.

MATINEE IDOL IS SHOT BY HIS WIFE

WINFIELD, Kansas, July 26.—Homer S. Wilson, matinee idol of the Wild West Shows, who killed two men on the main street at Tahlequah, Oklahoma, a year and a half ago, to avenge his wife's honour, himself was shot and killed on a lonely country road near here late yesterday by Mrs. Wilson.

In Wilson perished the fourth man connected with the woman, who is in the county jail here. Charles West, first husband of Mrs. Wilson, was shot and killed from ambush near Tahlequah half a dozen years ago. Then Frank Anthony and his father, William, fell at Wilson's hands because, so Wilson charged, young Anthony, foreman of Mrs. Wilson's ranch at Tahlequah, had been intimate with Mrs. Wilson while her husband was in the army.

Wilson was shot yesterday by Mrs. Wilson as they were returning from a cattle-purchasing trip to Dexter, Okla., 22 miles east of here. Charles Ridgeway and Ed. Glass, who have ranches near Dexter, were returning with the Wilsons. According to their story, Wilson had been driving very fast.

When a stop was made for tire trouble and Wilson left the car, Mrs. Wilson slid into the driver's seat, insisting that she would drive. An argument followed, and Mrs. Wilson suddenly shot twice with an automatic pistol she had taken from the lap of one of the seats.

Wilson was acquitted in the Anthony case on the "unwritten law" plea by the jury after forty-five minutes' deliberation.

Wilson, who was 35 years old, gained considerable fame in the cattle country for his ability as a lariat thrower. He was with the 101 Ranch Wild West Shows several years as chief of its cowboys, touring Europe and South America with that circus.

According to friends, Mrs. Wilson is of Indian blood.

FINED FOR WHISKEY SMUGGLING

BRANTFORD, Ont., July 26.—George Bixel was convicted in the police court here on Saturday of having brought liquor into the city illegally, and was fined $2,000. He had received fifteen barrels of whiskey, each containing twenty-five gallons, and seventy-five cases assorted wet goods, and had immediately shipped them West by automobile.

A LUX Shampoo is a real luxury

Perfect cleanliness and a refreshing stimulant for the scalp are the best of all means for ensuring hair health. In other words—try a LUX shampoo.

Dissolve a tablespoonful of LUX in a gallon of very hot water, whip into a creamy lather, and then temper with cool water. Rub well into the scalp—you'll enjoy the invigorating, cleansing sensation. Then rinse thoroughly in fresh tepid water and dry the hair, in the sun if possible, never with strong heat.

Lux is sold at all grocers, department stores, etc.

THE CUP RACES.

There will be the keenest regret throughout Canada as in all parts of the Briisht Empire, at the failure of Shamrock IV to lift the America's Cup, and general sympathy will be extended to Sir Thomas Lipton, who has been deprived of victory at a time when it seemed that his many years of gallant endeavour were to be at last rewarded. The fact that the fourth Shamrock came much closer to final triumph than her predecessors only makes the disappointment more acute, and the man on the street seems as much concerned over the result as does Sir Thomas himself The latter, although he has been destined to see his fourth attempt fail, has won fresh laurels for himself as a sportsman. His bearing throughout the most exciting series of races for the America's Cup has been beyond reproach and has won the heartiest admiration of the public. It is to be imagined that even among American enthusiasts there is a feeling of regret that the hopes of the gallant Lipton, have once more been wrecked after the challenger had come within one race of winning the blue ribbon of the seas.

THE HYDRO SITUATION.

The Examiner, in common with many other newspapers throughout the province, has approved of Premier Drury's action in having the whole subject of Hydro radials thoroughly investigated by a commission before any definite policy is decided upon by the Government. That seemed like good business and the Premier's plan was commended. However, the statement made by Mr. George Halcrow, Labour member for East Hamilton, that Hon. Mr. Drury's object in holding up the radial scheme was to secure a flat rate for power, light and transportation in all parts of the province seems to call for an explanation from the Premier. Mr. Halcrow is a member of one of the wings of the Government. Is he speaking by the book when he declares that the cities of Ontario would be called upon to pay more for Hydro service in order that the rural sections of the province shall be provided with the benefits of the Hydro system? This charge places a different construction on the intentions of the Government, and in justice to those who have hitherto supported his stand on the Hydro question the Premier cannot let Mr. Halcrow's statement go unchecked. Endorsing a business-like investigation of Hydro radials and supporting a movement for the establishment of a flat rate in Ontario are two quite different things and while the Examiner has not hesitated to do the former, it hastens to disassociate itself with any attempt to render the second effective. The Premier should tell the people whether or not Mr. Halcrow's statement is an accurate summary of the situation.

CIVIC INDIFFERENCE.

A by-law submitted to the ratepayers of Niagara Falls, Ont., authorizing the expenditure of $28,000 upon a civic system of parks and playgrounds has been decisively defeated. Tha tin itself is a surprise, but the very small vote that was recorded on such an important question as this furnishes even more cause for amazement. There are in Niagara Falls approximately 2,500 people who were entitled to express their opinion of the measure, but fewer than one-tenth of these qualified voters took advantage of the opportunity. The actual number who voted totalled only 226, of whom 157 were opposed to the by-law. The defeat of the measure under the circumstances is not hard to explain. It is nonsense to suppose that only sixty-nine people in Niagara Falls want more parks and more recreation facilities. There must be hundreds of other citizens who approve of such things as essential to the proper development of a community, but they were so indifferent to their own interests and to those of their home city that they would not take the trouble to visit the polling booth and register their opinion. And the result is that the non-progressive element, the citizens who oppose every money by-law on principle, and who never fail to exercise the franchise on such occasions, have easily killed a measure that was designed to make Niagara Falls a better and more advanced city.

There is a lesson for every community in this remarkable example of lack of civic spirit and enterprise. It is that the progressive forces in any centre cannot afford to neglect their duties at the polls if they want their city to advance. A failure to vote upon important questions is an invitation to the stand-patters to crush every measure that tends to civic betterment and improvement

THE INDUSTRIAL BY-LAWS.

After the lucid explanation given by Ald. Gordon, chairman of the Manufacturers' committee of the City Council in his letter to the Examiner last night of the two industrial by-laws to be voted upon on Friday, there should be little hesitation in endorsing these measures. The by-law involving the conveyance of the Henry Hope property to the Canadian Raybestos Company and including the completion of the present agreement as regards exemption and the granting of a fixed assessment at $40,000 for eight and a half years afterward is, as Ald. Gordon puts it, "moderate encouragement for a good industry." The situation is that the Henry Hope Company intend to discontinue manufacturing in Canada, and it is fortunate indeed that the Canadian Raybestos company, which is locating in the Lundy Shovel and Tool Company plant has agreed to take over the Hope building. The company agrees to have at least fifty employees at work in the latter factory within eighteen months after the pasing of the by-law in return for the minor concessions the city is asked to make. It is a good bargain fr Peterborough and there should be a large vote in favour of this measure.

The Otonabee Mills by-law is to authorize the City Council to assist a new Peterborough firm composed of Messrs. Walter G. Worth and J. L. Hopwood to erect a plant which will employ twenty hands within two months of the passing of the by-law and at least thirty within six months after that date. The city is asked to loan the company $10,000, for which the new building to be erected and the present building and land will furnish ample security. In addition the company asks for a fixed assessment at $8,000 for ten years. The industry which the company is establishing has every prospect of steady growth and success and the by-law is endorsed as a sound business proposition by the Board of Trade.

It should be understood that all electors have a vote on the Canadian Raybestos by-law, but as the Hunter street bridge by-law and the Otonabee Mills by-law are "money by-laws," only property owners may cast a ballot in their case.

TWO THINGS MORE.

By the substantial increase in pensions authorized at the last session of parliament; by the soldiers' insurance scheme; by the extension to dependents of the fallen, of the gratuity paid to Canadian soldiers; by the extension of the gratuity also to Canadians who served in Imperial battalions and by the stabilizing of the widows' pension so that she is not handicapped by having a small income other than her pension ,the government has undoubtedly removed most of the causes for the dissatisfaction existent among returned men. It may be that there are flaws in the insurance scheme which impair its benefits so extensively that it will have to be radically altered in order to be of use, but now that the scheme is on the statute book it should be an easy matter to have it improved at the next session. It is also probable that, although the pension provisions are adequate in the main, there are some cases in which hardship will exist and these will have to be attended to. There is still one argument put forward by soldiers in all parts of the Dominion in supporting a demand for further aid and that is, that while provision has been made to give considerable financial assistance to the man who goes on the land, nothing of the kind has ben provided for the man who cannot go on the land or who does not want to go on the land. Of course, the land settlement scheme in the first place was as much a colonization and greater-production scheme as it was a soldier-benefit scheme, but the cry still exists, and with considerable justice, that those who do not want to go farming should have an opportunity to benefit by government aid. No sound scheme of making business loans has been advanced. The demand for a fairly large gratuity might just as well be abandoned, for there is no hope of any government being elected in Canada which would consider such a scheme or which could finance it if they did consider it. It is a supposition so strong that it may be taken for fact that if anything like a gratuity of two thousand dollars were given to every Canadian soldier who served overseas, there would be an exodus of men and money from Canada which would be alarming, and it is hard to imagine a government which would make the plunge. The only way out of the difficulty seems to be for the government to make a serious effort to extend the provisions of the housing scheme so that they could be taken advantage of by every soldier who desired to become a permanent resident in any locality in Canada. The soldier would then be in the same position as his fellow veteran who was assisted to go on the land. It would insure that all money loaned by the government would be used in a manner which would be of value to the country, for there is no denying the fact that housing is one of the greatest needs at the present moment. With the installation of an adequate housing scheme, it is almost certain that all unrest among returned men, with the exception of the unquenchable unrest which is carefully nurtured by a few of the returned men, would be eliminated. There is one other necessary provision. The difference in the pensions as between officers and men, should be eliminated. — Turner's Weekly.

$24,000,000 VALUE CANADA'S APPLES

OTTAWA, July 26.—That 3,314,660 barrels of applies valued at $24,396,210 were produced and sold in Canada during the year 1919, is stated in preliminary bulletin on last season's Canadian apple crop issued today by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, and based upon information gathered by the fruit branch of the Department of Agriculture

Nova Scotia, Ontario and British Columbia in the order named are the great apple-producing Provinces of the Dominion. Nova Scotia at $9,089,680; Ontario 878,860 barrels, valued at $7,003,880, while British Columbia's production was 2,436,000 boxes equivalent to 745,300 barrels, and valued at $6,540,000. The Quebec apple crop amounted to 70,500 barrels valued at $527,040, while New Brunswick produced for sale 40,000 barrels worth $307,400.

These figures represent averages value per barrel of $6.24 for Nova Scotia, $7.68 for New Brunswick $7.50 for Quebec, $5 for Ontario, $8.78 for British Columbia and slightly over seven dollars per barrel for all Canada. The values represent wholesale prices. In case of apples exported to the United Kingdom the value includes ocean freight rates, which varied from $2.50 to $3 per barrel. For the Province of Ontario the total production of 878,860 barrels consisted of 24,432 barrels of early apples, 124,201 barrels of fall apples and 730,227 barrels of winter apples.

The bulletin gives detailed information covering the quantities and varieties of nursery stock sold in Canada during the year 1919. Total figures show the value of nursery fruit stock sold to be $227,613. Of apple trees 249,626,(to the value of $72,255 were disposed of by the nurseries to apple growers.

ALD. GORDON'S REASONS WHY BRIDGE BY-LAW SHOULD CARRY

In answer to Mr. R. R. Hall's statements in the press I wish to say, as a member of the Council for this year, that there are reasons why the bridge should be completed at once, and what has already been constructed should not be left to be injured and destroyed:

1.—The Council has not been mesmerised any more than the public was mesmerised into building the Grand Trunk Pacific, which cost four times more than the original estimates. The Council of two years ago and last year carried out the enterprize after it had been voted on by the ratepayers to help improve the condition of Hunter street to Ashburnham and remove danger to lif end limb cused by five sidings into the Quaker Oats plant.

2.—Engineer Barber did give estimates much too low, but costs were increased by many reasons, such as labour at fifty cents per hour, cement nearly double in price, increased spread of abutments caused by the engineer of the Ontario Railway Board requiring increased spread, and lumber increasing to double it's former prices.

3.—Some of this increased cost might have been anticipated by the former Council to some extent, but not entirely, and neither last year's nor this year's Council is to blame for that.

4.—The City Council has not authorized, and will not authorize, I am satisfied, any increased expenditures beyond the amounts actually appropriated for the bridge construction, and no member of the Council, as far as I can learn, ever authorized any payments to be made which have not been within the appropriation.

5.—Engineer Barber made a contract with the Council of 1918, and he is not compelled to guarantee the cost, and it is idle to put up as a reason why the bridge hould not be built. We cannot make him do it now.

6.—The Russell-Townsend Company have done a million and a half dollars worth of work for the Toronto Harbour Commission, have a million dollars worth of work for the Dominion Ship Building Company, and are large contractors, and the chief complaint I have is that the bridge was let on the cost plus plan, rather than for a definite amount compelling the contractor to build within that amount.

7.—If Mr. Barber is discharged it will take weeks to prepare plans and start another scheme, and the approaches and abutments of the bridge are now constructed to carry the central span of a weight originally planned, and steel construction is impossible at this stage.

8.—If any delay takes place winter will set in and ice will destroy the piles built to construct the central span, and will take out the temporary bridge, causing injury to the extent of some $25,000.00 it is said, which will be saved if construction can be continued now.

9.—Closing down the bridge will mean throwing out of employment a large number of carpenters, and labourers who are local men, as local men were engaged rather than bring in outside labour.

10.—Many of our factories are none too busy now, and if these men are cut off from work, many will be walking the streets without positions.

11.—This expenditure will be extended over a period of twenty years, and if an aggressive campaign for new factories is put up by the City Council during these twenty years the city should then be more than double it's present size, and the burden of taxation will very much be reduced.

12.—The construction of this bridge should make Ashburnham as a Danforth avenue, in Toronto, a busy building section as Ashburnham is only about half built up and has first-class locations for factories as well as homes for the people, and it will improve Ashburnham within the next few years by increased assessment of probably $250,000.00.

13.—As a member of the City Council I wish to say that I have no particular interest in the matter except as a citizen. I was not in the Council when the contract was let or when Mr. Barber was employed, but now that the bridge is constructed, except the central span, I feel it is in the interest of the ratepayers that it should be finished without delay and thus prevent possible injury that will take place to the bridge and it's pilings and the temporary bridge by allowing frost and ice to carry them away this winter.

NOW USING THE MOTOR FOR "RUSTLING" CATTLE

(Canadian Press.)

REGINA, Sask., July 26.—The motor car, it seems, has achieved another success by winning its advent into the cattle rustling business The old and well-known practice of cattle rustlers when they used to drive their stolen herds before them, is now a thing of the past. A few days ago three calves were stolen from herds near Bengough and spirited across the international border in two motor cars. Three of the rustlers were arrested on this side of the line and two others in Montana, and are now awaiting trial.

VIRTUOUS WIVES

VII.

The express was running into the outskirts of Buffalo on the last lap of its journey to New York. Andrew Forrester, in a private stateroom, surrounded by magazines half read, three novels yet to be opened, and a drifting mass of newspapers which littered the floor, waited eagerly the moment when he could descend for a long, nervous tramping of the platform. He was returning home for a brief twelve hours, for which he would have come a few thousand miles, that his presence might be remarked at the Versailles fete of his brilliant young wife. A dozen times he vowed to remain away, but, in the end, he had come. He had come grimly, because his pride was in question, and whatever his private misery, his vanity insisted on concealing it before the world.

A crisis had arrived in his married life, which had to be met. In response to his letter, Amy had written defying his authority, announcing her intention of dancing the minuet with Tody Dawson. He did not believe that she would go so far as this, but if she did, he would meet the situation as it must be met.

"Everything all right, Mr. Forrester" asked Perkins, the conductor, an old friend?, who never failed to stop in for a chat.

"Thanks, yes. Running on time?"

"To the minute. When are you coming out again?"

"Just up for over night, Perkins; back with you the day after."

"Up for that costume ball, eh "

"Yes," he said, surprised. "How do you know about that?"

"My missis showed me something about it in the paper," said Perkins. "She keeps an eye on the doings of the Four Hundred."

"I see. Well, drop in after dinner and smoke a cigar with me."

"Thank you, Mr. Forrester."

He tipped his hat and went his mechanical way, a thin, chop-whiskered, feeble-voiced man of forty, with a sweeping nose and the Yankee's prominent Adam's apple. Forrester rang for the porter.

"Sam, get all the papers and any new magazines, and clear out this truck."

"Yassir, yassir, I sure will," said the porter, grinning from ear to ear with the certainty of fancy tips. He went out, hugging the discarded newspapers, which filled his arms and hid his shining black face.

"If she does what she wrote," said Andrew Forrester to himself, staring out at the squatter settlements which heralded the approach of the city; "if she does that, it means only one thing." He laughed an ugly laugh. "Andrew B. Forrester, what's the use of fooling yourself? It's all over long ago, and you know it. You might as well readjust things now—face things as they are." Their estrangement was not of an accident; it had crept gradually in, during the long months of his absence, tatuously devoted to his dream of putting her on an equal footing with the great ones of America. "Suppose you've only yourself to blame — but then, that doesn't help matters. Good God, can't a woman have even gratitude—if nothing else?"

It is a popular belief that an American husband is the most indulgent in the world. In great measure this is true, but it is also true that he is the most susceptible to brusque rebellion. So long as his faith continues, his self-sacrifice is fabulous; but once convinced of ingratitude, and the revulsion in his nature has the force of dynamite. Andrew Forrester, in the direct obstinacy of his outlook on life, knew whether subtleties nor compromise. Black was black and white was white, and he comprehended no diluting shades. Out of the ardent impulse of his nature, he had consecrated his life to seek for her the precious gifts of pleasure. That was a fact. She had suddenly revealed herself as unable to consider his point of view, his business interests, or his dignity. Then she had announced her intention of flatly disobeying him. There were more facts. There could be no extenuation and no explanation. If the old attitude could be restored, it could only be by an unqualified recognition of the justice of his grievance. That there could be the slightest hesitation on her part in acknowledging this, once the question clearly put, had astounded him. There could be but one answer. She did not love him.

All this was clear and logical as a business proposition, but once arrived at the inevitable conclusion, he found himself wandering back into mazes of puzzled conjecture.

"But what have I done to deserve such treatment?" he thought wearily, going over the past. "What is it she can't see? Why won't she realize that I am the important one, that what I do count, that if I am hindered, if I fail, she fails—but, oh, Lord, what's the use of hashing that over? We've gone beyond that. It's a question ofauthority now— order or anarchy. If she's brought back that young cub, Dawson, if she intends to sacrifice me rather than him—well, then's only one thing to be done!" He fidgeted in his seat, retreating before an ultimatum. "Of course there's nothing wrong—she's not that kind. Yes; I know that—God, but once I wasn't sure!" His blood leaped up hotly at the thought. For days he had ben shaken with the hot insomnia of jealousy, ready to believe anything. Youth sought youth and the rapid gaiety of its own generation. He himself had willed it. The next moment he frowned, passed his hand over his forehead. "No, no; that's ridiculous. I mustn't let my imagination run away. I'm making myself suffer for nothing. Whoa there, Andrew B. Forrester!"

He sprang up searched in his bag for a cigar, and, the train running into the evening, and in the scurrying, flower-laden crowds was the scent of the full spring. He caught a newsboy rushing past by the shoulders and bought a newspaper, opening it to the day's reports of the stock market. Osaba Refining and Smelting had again receded a fraction on unfavorable news from Mexico. He crumpled up the paper and flung it on a bench, thought it had visualized no more than he knew.

"Why the deuce should I be bothered with debts now, when I'm making twice what I did?" he said savagely. "Then, nothing bothered me from morning to night. I was in the pink of condition, could eat like a schoolboy, and work twenty hours at a stretch."

In two years he had trebled his debts. Since his marriage, luck had run persistently against him. He had played for the gambler's maximum, sold his holdings, accumulation of years, to plunge into the new venture. Confident of golden horizons, he had taken large blocks of stock an margins. To-day, Osaha Refining and Smelting was fifteen points lower, despite the miracle of organization and development he had worked, despite the net earnings and the prospects ahead. By one of those tricks of fate which the American financier never foresees in his confident manipulations of destiny, a subordinate officer in Tampico had affronted the dignity of the American nation, and forty-eighe hours later war hung on the horizon. Consequently, though his income was fifty thousand a year, he spent seventy and faced the possibility of borrowing a large sum in order not to sacrifice part of his holdings.

FAM-LY-ADE
Cool and Delicious

THE hot, thirsty weather is here. Try a cooling drink of FAM-LY-ADE.

Enjoy its true fruit flavor. Give your family this surprisingly inexpensive treat every day. Only 35c a tube at your grocer's or druggist's. 32 glasses to a tube. Made in Canada by Power-Keachie, Limited, Toronto.

LEMON JUICE FOR FRECKLES

Girls! Make beauty lotion for a few cents—Try It!

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan lotion and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and rosy-white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless and never irritates.

EMERGENCY RATIONS.

Food the Soldier Eats When His Regular Supply Fails.

Of the emergency rations of the armies of the world the most ostentatious is Uncle Sam's ration of compressed maize meal with meat, farina and three chocolate bars. This ration is deficient in fats for the very good reason that, even though hermetically sealed, it would become rancid if it carried any more fat. It is not therefore a balanced ration, but the container holds enough actual food to keep a soldier from starving for twenty-four hours.

The British troops as well as the Dutch have a sausage made of ground peas highly salted, reported to have been originated by the Scotch and which is put up in regular sausage skins. It is said to be the most sustaining emergency ration known.

The Italian butter ball is interesting because of the perfect preservation of the unsalted butter within the dry cheese envelope. The compressed tablets of tea make it possible for one to eat his tea if water is not available, the Russians getting what they call a dry cup of tea by slipping a tablet of compressed tea into the mouth and allowing it to dissolve slowly. All sorts of meat and fish are dried in sheets and strips and hunks by the various armies.

These are not the foods, however, upon which armies live, but the emergency rations upon which the soldier depends when the regular rations fail.

Checking a Skid.

When you are driving an automobile and it begins to skid the skidding will be checked if you will immediately turn the steering wheel in the direction you are skidding. A car skids when there is a momentum tending to turn it about the center of gravity. When the forces about the center of gravity are balanced the car will not skid.

Lead Filled Inscriptions.

In Job xix, 24, is an allusion to the use of lead to fill carved inscriptions upon stone by pouring the molten lead into the cavities of the letters to render them legible and at the same time to preserve them from the action of the weather.

Domestic Joys.

Mrs. Crabshaw—I might have married that man who became a millionaire. Crabshaw—Forget it, my dear. If he'd married you he would be as poor as I am."

YOUR MENTAL MACHINE.

Shut Off Its Power at Night After a Day's Hard Work.

It is a great thing to learn—to shut off the mental steam when you quit work. What would you think of a factory manager who would leave all of his power turned on after the operators had left the factory, the delicate machinery running everywhere, pounding itself to pieces, grinding out its delicate bearings without producing anything?

Many of us do not turn off our mental power after we are through producing or creating for the day. We carry our business home, take it to bed with us, think, plan, worry and waste precious energy in all sorts of ways, in superfluous thinking, foolish worrying that produces nothing, but grinds out the exquisite mental machinery and unfits it for the next day's work.

It is a great art to learn to shut off power when through our day's work, so that we can oil our mental machinery, refresh our minds and recuperate ourselves, so that we can go to the next day's work completely reinvigorated.

Many men seem to think that they are accomplishing something if they keep their minds on business even when not at work, but they really accomplish less than nothing because they are wasting precious mental energy, the power for concentration, the vigor, the focusing of the mind, which is imperative for creating purposes.—Orison Sweet Marden.

THE DRY WALL.

A Beautiful Art In Stone Work That Is Passing Away.

In the American Magazine David Grayson says:

"In dry walls I think the old stonemason takes the greatest pride of all, for it is in the dry wall—I mean by that a wall laid without mortar—that the sheer art of the mason comes most into play.

"Any one can throw a wall together if he has mortar to make it stick, but a dry wall must stand out for what it is, built solid from the bottom up, each stone resting securely upon the one below it and braced and nested in by the sheer skill of the mason.

"The art of the dry wall is the ancient heritage of New England and speaks not only of the sincerity and the conscientiousness of the old Puritan spirit, but strikes the higher note of beauty.

"Many of the older walls I know are worth going far to see, for they exhibit a rare sense of form and proportion and are sometimes set in the landscape with a skill that only the master artist himself could exceed. Those old, hard wrought stone fences of the Burnham hills and Crewsbury, the best of them, were honestly built and built to last a thousand years.

"A beautiful art—and one that is passing away! It is the dry wall that stands of itself that the old stonemason loves best of all."

Crawling For Penance.

A Buddhist priest who has been eight years on the way to Lassa expects to arrive there eight years hence. He started from the northeast of Peking, and when met by an English missionary he had completed over 2,000 miles, about half his journey. He does not walk, he crawls, or, rather, he combines both methods. On his hands he wears boards; on his knees he wears pads. He lies full length upon the ground; then, getting up, walks to where his fingers had reached, then prostrates himself and measures afresh. He is under a self imposed vow and believes that if he crawls in this manner to the Tibetan holy city his sins will be forgiven and honors bestowed upon him by Buddha.

Hot Air as a Polisher.

Hot air is used for polishing. The articles to be treated are placed in a basket in a centrifugal machine driven at a very high speed and heated air is blown from a pipe through the basket. A high polish is thus produced very rapidly. Nickel plated articles that have become tarnished are made bright in a few minutes. Wet metal, fresh from the bath, needs no preliminary drying, for the current of air dries and polishes it at the same moment.

Best Time For Black Bass.

Early morning is the best for black bass on smaller streams, later part of the day till sundown very good. Cloudy days midday good, especially if cool. For fly fishing for bass early morning hours and an hour before dark best time. If full moon even later gets the big ones.

Effort to Enlighten.

"Father," said the small boy, "what is an overt act?"

"My son, an overt act is something that either compels you to be so rude as to fight or to be so polite as to pretend that you didn't notice it."

Dr. Henderson's Herb Tablets

Assists Nature.

No medicine will effect a permanent cure of any disease, unless that cure is made by aiding nature to perform its functions regularly and properly. Dr. Henderson's Herb Tablets is truly nature's remedy. It works hand in hand with nature in restoring the diseased organs to their natural condition and then keeping them regulated until they are able to take care of themselves. It is not remarkable, therefore, that the most troublesome diseases yield to the powerful influence exerted over the various organs by this most potent of all remedial agencies. Dr. Henderson's Herb Tablets does not "build up the system," but it gives nature a chance to perform that work as it should be done.

Dr. Henderson's Herb Tablets are put up in three sizes—25c, 50c, $1.00 per box—for sale at Warne's Drug Store, Peterborough.

HORSE KILLED AND BUGGY SHATTERED WHEN HIT BY CAR

MR. AND MRS. WALTER CROWLEY, OF ENNISMORE, NARROWLY ESCAPED SERIOUS INJURY ON CHEMONG ROAD.

Last night about 11.45 o'clock a car, driven by Joseph Fontaine, struck a horse and buggy in which were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crowley, of Ennismore, killing the horse and slightly injurying Mr. and Mrs. Crowley. The accident occurred on the Chemong Road about 300 yards north of the city limits.

Fontaine claims that the glare of the lights of his own car and those of a car behind prevented him from seeing the buggy until he was almost upon it. He swerved suddenly but could not avoid hitting it.

A car, driven by Robert Neill, with whom were Gordon Matthews and another young man, arrived on the scene almost immediately and took Mr. Crowley, whose head was cut, into the city and Mrs. Crowley was taken into a nearby house. The horse was killed and the buggy badly damaged.

Fontaine did not stop but continued on into town to notify the police. He ran out of gasoline on Simcoe street, opposite the Knights of Columbus Club rooms. Here P.C. Boyd found him, and his suspicions aroused by the badly battered car, questioned him. Fontaine admitted the accident and P.C. Boyd took him into custody.

P.C. Young was sent to the scene of the accident immediately it was reported.

Charged With Criminal Negligence.

Fontaine was charged with criminal negligence and appeared in this morning's police court J. F. Strickland his solicitor, refused to elect trial and entered a plea of not guilty. Mr. Strickland's request for an enlargement of the case of eight days until August 5th was granted.

Bail was fixed at $2,000, which Fontaine secured.

OTONABEE MILLS EMPLOYING NOW STAFF OF SIXTEEN

SEEK LOAN FROM CITY TO ASSIST IN PROPOSED EXPANSION.

A local company, backed by local capital, and employing local labour, the Otonabee Mills are preparing to move to new quarters in East City.

They are at present employing a staff of 16 and turning out mending and hand knitting yarns in their factory in the Barrie building.

In their new plant they will employ a force of 20 this year and 30 next and will cater largely to the knitting trade. Their new plant is 30 by 60 feet.

W. J. Hopwood is president of the company, Walter Worth is secretary-treasurer, and Harold Pilling is managing director.

Offers of capital from England have been refused.

On Friday the by-law providing for a loan of $10,000 to the company by the city will be presented to the ratepayers for their approval.

BROKE BONE IN HIP.

Elderly Woman Fell on Floor in Act of Sitting on Bed.

Mrs. Louisa Stephens, who resides with Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Johnston, 19 Dennistoun avenue, met with a serious accident last night. Mrs. Stephens is about 85 years of age. While dressing she went to sit on the bed but fell on the floor, breaking a small bone in the hip. Dr. Moir was called and this morning she was removed to Nicholls Hospital. She will probably be seriously incapacitated.

VILLA'S VISION OF QUIET LIFE SOON

IS EXPECTED IN MEXICO CITY TO SURRENDER.

(Special to The Examiner.)

MEXICO CITY, July 28.—Arrangements for his surrender having been completed, Francisco Villa, the bandit, is expected to come to Mexico City soon, and later to settle down to a quiet life as a rancher.

General Eugenio Martinez, commander of the northern forces, has arrived at Sabinas to superintend the surrender of the Villistas.

The arrangements for this proceeding were agreed to by Villa, Martinez, and the provisional President, De La Huerta, after a telegraphic conference.

It is understood that the Villistas, said to number not more than 600, will lay down their arms under immunity, the details of which will be decided on by Villa and Martinez.

THE SERBIAN RELIEF FUND

Let us not relax in the last lap. We're doing our best to give Peterborough the place and putting forth every effort to give you the glory in this our best per capita campaign.

Yes, it has cost more than usual, but our workers' expenses are met in many ways. I have not personally received one cent from any source other than my own since this campaign commenced. I've paid my own way.

Some receive from private sources, others are paid by the Brotherhood Federation, still others are spending their private fortunes in addition to giving their entire time to this most novel and commendable form of philanthropy—making good men and women, good workers and citizens and noble patriots out of starving orphans.

Respectfully, your servant,
R. J. CAMPBELL.

Mr. McCrae, of Norwood, was in the vicinity culling poultry to-day

Most of the hay is in a good deal of fall wheat is cut.

Every person who possibly could get away to pick berries last week did so. Some report good picking, others poor.

Another business change is reported to take place soon. Mr. Charles James is selling out to Mr. Wm. Armstrong.

Mrs. Joseph Nixon of Norwood, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. George Brown.

Mrs. Ellen Brown and Miss Myrtle Brown are visiting in the village.

Dr. Archibald held services in the Anglican church. He will be here during August also.

There were the regular Sabbath school and preaching services in the Methodist church.

The Baptists held their regular services on Sunday.

Rev. Gerard Graham took charge of the Presyterian services for the first time as minister of Warsaw and Cotessloe congregations on Sunday. He attended the Sabbath school and took the Bible class part of the time. He alsoaddressed the whole school later and urged upon the children the need and good of attending Sunday school. The subject for the morning was "Love," and the text, John 6-16, 'God So Loved the World. The choir sang the anthem, "Praise the Lord All Ye People." In the evening the text was "Put on the White Armour of God." The choir sang "The Golden Key."

Milk Has Increased in Price Less Than Any Other Food

Here is a fact for you to ponder well if you would live sanely and keep your bank account healthy—

MILK IS HIGH IN THE FOUR NECESSARY FOOD ELEMENTS, PROTEINS, CARBOHYDRATES, FATS AND MINERALS.

MILK IS EXCEEDINGLY LOW IN PRICE—JUST COMPARE THE PRICE OF A QUART OF MILK WITH THREE-QUARTERS OF A POUND OF THE BEST STEAK.

They contain the same amount of nutriment but that in milk is of the better kind.

MILK IS THE SALVATION OF THOSE WHO WOULD LIVE WELL BUT CHEAPLY

Milk can be used in innumerable ways that are beyond other food stuffs—it can be used in every portion of the meal from the soup to the dessert.

Milk-cooked vegetables are greatly enhanced in food value and milk-cooked cereals are meat-dishes in every sense of the word.

Use more milk and you'll use less meat—just figure up the difference in the prices of the two commodities—remembering that one quart of milk is equal, in food value, to three-quarters of a pound of the best steak you can buy.

Of course it should be clarified and pasteurized milk, protected by every scientific precaution that we use.

AMUSDEN BACK FROM THE ARCTIC

STILL SUFFERING FROM WOUNDS IN FIGHT WITH POLAR BEAR.

(Canadian Press)

NOME, Alaska, July 28.—Raould Amundsen, the Norwegian explorer, arrived in Nome last night from the Arctic region. He reported all well with his expedition. He was taken in a motor car to a hotel where friends had gathered to meet him. He said it was the first time in two years when he had been in a place where he could "clean up." Amundsen told of an encounter which he had with a polar bear, in which his clothing was torn from his back, one of his arms broken and his back and legs severely lacerated. He is still suffering from effects of the encounter.

An Englishman has invented a smokeless furnace, in which coal is coked, producing gas that is mixed with air and burned with the coke.

CHERRIES CHEAPER AS DEMAND SLUMPS

PRICES OF FRUIT AND SUGAR TOO HIGH FOR MOST HOUSEHOLDERS.

Cherries have taken a slump in the local fruit market to-day. Red ones are now selling at $1.60 and $1.65 and a further drop is expected. The house holders have apparently purchased all their canning requirements and the demand is not very brisk. The crop is nearly over but will probably stretch over into next week with lower prices prevailing. Seven quart baskets could be had for $1.00 in one store. Black cherries are no cheaper. By the quart they sell at 40 cents.

The berry crop must be a poor one in the opinion of dealers for the high price is hitting their business they say. They held an indignation over the exorbitant prices asked them and they declared to the growers that they wouldn't pay more than 21 cents The growers only laughed and peddled them themselves at 25 cents. The dealers were up against a stone wall and had to come around a little with 22 and 2 3cents. Berries are to-day selling at 25 and 27 cents. At that price considering what they pay the growers there is no money in them they say. There is no use importing berries at 28 and 30 cents from Niagara which they say is the wholesale price being asked. People won't buy imported berries at any rate is another reason against importing. Twenty boxes for $1.00 was the price one wholesaler said he got a number of years ago. It seems amazing now This is 5 cents a box and sugar was then 5 cents a pound. Now both berries and sugar are up to nearly 30 cents. What can we hope for next year—50 cents?

Huckleberries are $3.00 a basket in the stores or 35 cents a quart. Gooseberries are 20 cents a quart but some are selling them at 2 for 25 cents. Tomatoes should be lower next week for they are ripening up in the local gardens pretty fast. The price is still 30 cents whether local or imported. The local ones are much better in quality than the imported ones which are picked before they are ripe.

Cabbages are being sold wholesale at 80 cents and $1.00 a dozen. They are big ones too and at 10 cents retail are the best value offered the public for years. New potatoes are selling at $3.00 a bag. The crop is apparently good. One farmer was in the city yesterday from near Bethany. He has 40 acres of tubers, all he grows and he is looking for a big crop. The high price of sed potatoes in the spring will rob him of a very large net profit though.

The apple crop is pretty much of a puzzle. Some growers claim to have a good crop and some a poor one, so what can we say about it?

MANY CREWS FOR HENLEY REGATTA

ENTRY LIST EXCEEDS THAT OF ANY PREVIOUS YEAR.

Canadian Press)

ST. CATHERINES, July 28. — Crews are already arriving for the Royal Canadian Henley regatta, which opens on Friday. Detroit fours and eights were the first to put in appearance and had a trial spin on the course today. The Argonauts, of Toronto University of Toronto, arrived last night and Lincoln Park Boat Club, of Chicago, arrived to-day. Ottawa Lachine and Brockville Rowing Clubs are expected to-day and to-morrow. With fifty-one crews rowing the entry list this year far exceeds any previous entry.

450-LB. SHARK KILLED WITH OAR

Screaming Bathers Summoned Life Guard to the Scene.

EDGEMERE, N.Y., July 26.—A shark weighing 450 pounds, was captured and killed on the bathing beach here today by George Weiss, a lifeguard.

Attracted by the screams of bathers who fled from the water, Weiss saw the shark plunging over the breakers. He jumped into a small boat, drove the shark into shallow water, and clubbed it to death with an oar.

ENGINEER DECLARES "IT HAS NO EQUAL"

Joseph Legare Had Begun to Think He Would Never Regain His Health—Now Well and Strong.

Still another well-known Quebec man comes forward and adds his voice to the thousands who have already given their endorsement to the remarkable merits of Tanlac. This time it is Joseph Legare, electrical engineer, who holds the responsible position of foreman of all electricians with the Bell Telephone Co., in whose employ he has been for the past twenty-three years. Mr. Legare, who resides at 109 Boisseau St., Quebec, is a well-known and highly respected citizen, and has one of the largest and most interesting families in Quebec, being the father of twenty-seven children. In relating his experience with the medicine, he said:

"About seven years ago my liver and stomach got out of order, and I've been in a bad of health ever since; not ill enough to have to give up my work, but never feeling up to the mark, and in a general run-down condition. I felt weak and tired all the time, and my work seeemd too much for me. I was continually constipated and always had to be taking pills of some sort, and as a result my whole system got upset. I had frequent spells of dizziness and my nerves were "on edge" all the time. I had begun to take a gloomy view of the outlook and to get very despondent.

"When I saw so many well-known people coming forward with statements in the papers about the benefits they had derived from Tanlac, I decided to try it. The first bottle did me so much good that I continued with it, and I found it doing me good right along. It regulated my liver and put my stomach in good shape so that I am not bothered with indiegstion any more. I soon had an appetite like a bear and am no longer troubled with constipation. I am now full of strength and energy and my work is a pleasure instead of a drudgery. I consider Tanlac the best of all medicines to build up the whole system and I am glad to tell of my experience for the benefit of others."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Waine Drug Co., Ltd.; in Havelock by A. C. Denike; in Lakefield by the Tanner Drug Co., Ltd.; in Fowler's Corners, by W. A. Hunter; in Gelert by A. J. Scott; in Westwood, by G. Pringle & Son.—(Advt.)

Our Weekly Merry Half-Day Sale

To-Morrow Morning Witnesses a Slump in Prices On Many Lines

$8.50 White Wash Skirts $6.19

The material is a fine quality gabardine fashioned into four different styles that have been approved by the present season. The sizes are 25 to 36 waist measurement with corresponding lengths.

We will Sell $2.25 Blouses for $1.59

They are made of White Voile and garnished with fine tucks at either side of an embroidered Vest. The collars and cuffs are edged with Lace.

Smart Smocks $2.98 Regular $4.75 Value

They are made of Linene, Middy Cloths, etc. and can be had in Pink, Green, Blue, or White. Some are trimmed with Silk Embroidery and others with Wool. This is the balance of our stock, so we have placed a clearance price on them.

Children's $1.98 White Wash Hats 98c

These Hats are those delightfully cool affairs of White Pique, with button hole edge and ribbon trimming. They have much to recommend them—light on the head and easy to launder.

$47.50 Jersey Suits are Going To-Morrow Morning at $35.00

You have delightful shades of Brown, Purple, and Sand to select from. Every garment is well and modishly made of All-Wool Jersey of a surprisingly fine quality. Tuxedo collars, cross-over belts, and pockets are much in evidence.

Some Remnants of Piece Goods from Our Millinery Dept.

The materials are Georgette Crepe, Taffeta, and Corded Silk, etc. The lengths range from ½ yard to 2 yards. They will be sold at exactly Half-price To-morrow Morning.

Untrimmed Shapes and Trimmed Toyo Panamas 98c

This is the balance of our Untrimmed Shapes, and included in the lot is a quantity of Trimmed Panamas and Children's Straw Hats. The regular prices range from $2.00 to $7.00.

Trimmed Millinery at $4.95

All our better, dark coloured Trimmed Hats are included in this lot. The original prices were anywhere from $8.00 to $20.00—and they are worth it.

$1.25 Art Silk Hose 89c pair

2 Pairs $1.70

We bought these good quality Silk Hose early last Fall for our regular $1.25 Spring line. As they have arrived at this late date, we now class them as overstock, and have priced them for rush selling. They have from a 16-inch to an 18-inch Silk leg, and have elastic garter tops. You have choice of Black, White, Sand, Grey, Champagne, Brown, Navy, and Castor.

Sixty Cases of Sunlight Laundry Soap to be Sold at 6 Bars for 55c

This is the regular "Sunlight" Soap in the usual large size bar. So that there will be enough to go around it is necessary that we limit each buyer to four lots and accept no phone orders. To-morrow morning only.

Our August Sale Of Furniture

The first advertisement for this great Annual Sale of Furniture is nearly complete and will be published on Saturday. The Sale itself commences on Monday, and people who appreciate fine furniture, and know good values will be enthusiastic about the comprehensive assortment on our fourth floor.

The August Sale of Furniture is as old as the Department.

Half-Day Glove Sale of "Kayser" and "Queen Quality" Silk Gloves 83c pair

You have choice of any one dollar silk glove in our store, on Thursday Morning and the price you pay is 83c. There are no restrictions. Every pair has double tipped fingers. Nine o'clock buyers will have choice of all-white, white with black backs, silver grey, palm beach, steel gray, pongee and black. THURSDAY MORNING ONLY.

One Thousand Yards of 28c Factory Cotton at 19c yard

THIS IS LESS THAN MANUFACTURER'S COST.

Only a very old contract makes this price possible. It is "Bengal" Factory Cotton and is 34 inches wide, and our everyday price is 28c yard. There is a limit of 10 Yards to one buyer, and no 'phone orders.

(Street Floor, Arcade Entrance)

Regular 65c Colored Bath Towels at 49c pair

They are Grey with White Stripes and have fringed ends, and measure 15in. x 34in. We could not possibly buy these Towels to-day from the makers for less than 65c pair. Worth buying in six pair lots To-morrow.

60c "Gold Seal" Underwear Cambric 39c yard

Eight Pieces only of especially fine quality Underwear, Bridal Cloth, with a Cambric finish. It is a full yard wide and is absolutely pure. The everyday price is 60c yard.

(Street Floor, Rear Arcade Entrance.)

45c Yard Wide Percales 26c yd.

(THREE HUNDRED YARDS)

This is a price remarkable for a nine o'clock rush sale. They are a full yard wide and can be had in light grounds, and mostly polka dot patterns. They are suitable for Children's Wash Dresses, Ladies' Aprons, etc. To-morrow's rush sale price is much less than to-day's factory price for the same qualities.

Three Specials That Make Our REDFERN STORE An Interesting Place for Economical Buyers

$15 and $18 Voile Dresses $9.50

(ELEVEN ONLY)

The reason for this reduction is that the season is advancing. The garments are just as good as ever and well worth their original price. Everyone is this season's style and the quality of the Voile is extra good and the patterns are splendid.

A Silk Dress for $8.95

(TWO ONLY)

It is unfortunate that we have not more of these Dresses at this price. But maybe if we had more, we would not care to sell them at this figure, for the reason for their reduction is that they are the last of their kind.

One is of Black Taffeta, and the size is 38—and the other is of Green Silk Poplin, and the size is 16.

$2.50 & $3.50 White Voile Blouses $1.89

In addition to the voile being a good quality, they are lace-trimmed and made with square necks and novelty collars. There are also a few raw silk blouses in the lot.

The Semi-Annual Lonely Sale Of Men's Clothing IS NOW IN PROGRESS

Few men who read of these Reductions on Men's Clothing will fail to answer the impulse to see these suits and try them on, and view the many other reductions on hose, shirts, straw hats, caps, waterproof coats, etc.

HELD AS A VAGRANT.

Police Will Investigate Recent Past of Stranger.

Constantine Rebeevicz was remanded for a week in police court this morning on a charge of vagrancy in order that his record might be investigated.

Rebeevicz was taken into custody yesterday after the police had received reports of his annoying residents on west Charlotte street.

His movements of late will be traced, as the police in view of the assault on Elmer Mowry on the Gravel road on Saturday afternoon, are investigating the records of all suspicious characters.

Rebeevicz is of medium height, swarthy complexion, thick black hir and eyebrows, grey eyes, large mouth an dan extremely low forehead. He is rather unkempt and shabby and wears a dark suit and dark gray raincoat.

"WHAT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST WAY TO COMPLETE IT?"

Peterborough, 27th July, 1920.

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—In their address to the ratepayers in your edition of the 24th inst. His Worship Mayor McIntyre and Alderman Hamilton, chairman of the Special Bridge Committee, sum up their arguments in favour of the Bridge By-law by saying, "The only question is what is the best and cheapest way to complete it." This is exactly the information the ratepayers want before they vote yes on the question. Our worthy Mayor and aldermen must remember, that this single arch concrete bridge was originally designed to rest on two abutments built on solid rock. I have statutory declrations from George H. Duncan, Esq., late Mayor of the city, and the late Harry Phelan, who was then chairman of the Board of Works, that Mr. Barber did on several occasions state clearly, positively and distinctly to them that he would not build the abutments for the single arch bridge on any other than a solid bed rock foundation. And I am of the opinion that the eastern abutment, at least, which is built on clay very probably resting on a bed of quicksand, will have ample work in sustaining a light, graceful double arch steel bridge capped with concrete. The ratepayers should also remember that when our worthy Mayor and aldermen discovered last spring that the eastern river pier had to be built on clay instead of solid rock, and Engineer Barber was called to explain his mistakes, he estimated the extra expenditure of spreading the foundation on clay at one thousand and seventy-five dollars ($1,075.00).

The chairman of the Special Bridge Committee, in explaining the extra expenditures, which appeared in The Examiner a few days ago, gives the actual cost of this item as twenty-five thousand dollars $25,000.00), if they estimate the cost of an item at one thousand and seventy-five dollars ($1,075.00) which actually costs twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) what will it actually cost to do work which they estimate at one hundred thousand dollars (100,000.00)? Answer—Two million three hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars ($2,325,000.00).

It is quite interesting indeed to read of the impracticability, at this date, of building a steel bridge from such engineering experts as my good friends G. N. Gordon and E. A. Peck. Take the cities of Quebec, Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa, or any of the large cities in Canada where the best engineering experts in the world have been retained in connection with bridge construction. Where do you find an experimental freak of this kind with a two hundred and thirty-five foot concrete span foisted on the people? If the ratepayers of this city sanction the expenditure of another hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) which is no doubt like the case I have cited, a mere bagatelle of what the actual cost of this freak will be, they are committing a most colossal mistake.

The ratepayers, when voting on this question, should remember that we are now paying thirty-five (35) mills on a very high assessment. We are committed to an expenditure of about two hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($250,000.00) for a sewage disposal plant. We are just now receiving a very thorough education on the effects of hypo-chlorite of lime in the water supply, prior to being gently touched up for another two hundred thousand dollars (200,000.00) for a filtration plant. We have spent practically three hundred thousand dollars (300,000.00) in building two approaches to this bridge. What can we afford to spend on the bridge itself, or as our worthy Mayor and Alderman Hamilton put it: "What is the best and cheapest way to complete it?"

In this connection I would respectfully suggest to our worthy Mayor and Aldermen that they follow the wise and statesmanlike action of the present Ontario Government in connection with Hydro radials, and submit the question propounded by the Mayor and Alderman Hamilton to a commission composed of two competent and disinterested engineers and two competent and disinterested business men, with His Honour Judge Huycke as chairman, said commission to go thoroughly into the cost and stability of the proposed one-span concrete arch, and also the cost of a two-span light, graceful steel structure capped with concrete, the stability of which is established by experience. The appointment of such a commission would mean no breach of trust with the Quaker Oats Company.

It might cause a delay of four or five weeks and an expenditure of eight or ten thousand dollars, which would be the best time and money this city ever spent. The ratepayers would then have a very good idea of "what is the best and cheapest way to complete it."

Thanking you much for the space,—I am respectfully yours,

J. W. FitzGerald.

START HARVESTING ABOUT AUGUST 10

Reports Comes From Virden in Manitoba Districts in Manitoba.

WINNIPEG July 26.—Virden and Manitou districts in the southern and south eastern portion of the province, report that harvesting will commence there about August 10, according to the official crop report of the provincial government issued today.

The rains of last week saved the day for the 1920 harvest and districts in the south and north of Winnipeg will have good yields, the report indicates. Rain came too late in many places to save all the crops, but conditions even here are much brighter than before.

Damage from grasshoppers is negligible, despite the ominous reports this spring. There are no other insect plagues this year and no injury from hail.

MOWRY BOY BETTER BACK HOME AGAIN

DR. SCOTT HAS ORDERED CONTINUED QUIET FOR HIM.

Elmer Mowry, 12 year old son of Chester C. Mowry, who has been in Nicholls Hospital since Saturday night suffering from a minor concussion of the brain, received, he says, when he was struck on the head by the man who robbed him on the road to Springville last Saturday afternoon, was taken to his home, 555 Gilmour street, last night. Dr. Scott has ordered that he remain in bed for some time.

To the Examiner last night Elmer said the pain had gone from his head except when he touched his temple, which still showed the bruise the blow had raised.

Describing his assailant the boy said he was short and stout and had a white beard, which seemed to be false. A red handkerchief was tied about his neck.

The unidentified man came up behind the boy who doesn't know what he was hit with. He recalled that the elbows of the man's coat were worn through and tattered.

Mr. Mowry and friends of the family have no doubts of the truth of Elmer's story of the attack on him, and they have now little hope that the authorities will succeed in clearing up this case, because of the fact that there have been no assisting clues from persons living along the gravel road.

"There is no hoax about it," said one of Mr. Mowry's neighbors. "Elmer is too good a boy to make up a yarn like that."

This neighborhood has been so free of serious crime and has been so safe to the public heretofore that strangers passing along the country roads seldom attracted attention.

GUNMEN ROUTED BY FRUIT VOLLEY

NEW YORK, July 26.—Three men were arraigned to-day charged with alleged assault and attempted hold-up, which was frustrated by a heavy barrage of fruit and vegetables laid down by the fruit dealer victim and by the wit shown by three boys.

James Marro conducts a fruit and vegetable stand at 317 East 48th street. He was preparing to close late last night when three men entered. Marrow says one of them began shooting at him. Two shots were fired, but when the third jammed the revolver it was thrown aside and the three made a concerted rush upon the dealer.

Invaders Flee.

Marrow took refuge behind his counter and for several minutes potatoes, pears and watermelons flew through the air, wrecking the shop and smashing the plate glass window. After two of the invaders had been badly cut by flying glass the three were put to rout.

One man ran to 49th street and Second Avenue, where Detective Burns of the pickpocket squad arrested him. The others, with a crowd at their heels, ran to Madison avenue.

There three boys — Bobby Dean, 13; James McGinnis, 12, and Matthew Geraghty, 12—caught up with them.

Boy Does Trick.

Bobby, wearing a junior naval reserve uniform, unbuckled his cartridge belt while running and threw it about the ankles of one of the fugitives, tripping him. The third man was caught later.

The revolver, the police say was found buried in a piece of watermelon outside the shop.

"Flu" Makes the Hair Come Out

Specialist Offers Simple Home Recipe to Stop Loss of Hair and Make It Grow Again.

People who had the "Flu" this past Winter and who now find their hair comingout badly, will be interested in the suggestion of a well known Hair Specialist who say: "Anyone can easily and inexpensively make at home a recipe which, in my opinion, is unequalled for stopping loss of hair and making hair grow out again thick, glossy and luxuriant.

You get from any druggist 6 oz. of Bay Rum, 2 oz. of Lavona (de Composee) and one-half drachm of Menthol Crystals. Mix together and allow to stand over night before using. Rub thoroughly into the scalp with the finger tips or a stiff brush.

This prescription is perfectly harmless, acts quickly and neither dries out the hair nor makes it greasy. But ladies using it should be careful not to get it on the face or where hair is not desired.

HOW IT SEEMED TO FREDDY

Little Frances returned home the other day with a dog she had gathered in.

"Why, Frances," said her mother, "that dogdoesn't belong to you! You know that you have no right to bring him home."

"Well, mother," explained Frances, "he was just not belonging to anybody, like the flowers! I can pick flowers and kep them—wild ones—and the doggy was just like that, and so I came along and just sort of picked him."

At this juncture the dog turned round and displayed a noticeable lack of tail, a bobbed-off, rabbit-like stump. Frances' brother, Freddy, at once seeing this, spoke up:

"You didn't pick one with a very long stem, sis."—Country Gentleman.

FED MULTITUDE AT LAWN SOCIAL

SACRED HEART CHURCH GROUNDS THRONGED LAST NIGHT.

At sundown last evening 4125 persons had assembled on the grounds about the Sacred Heart Church to help in making the annual picnic given by the parish a record success, and previous to this 4950 persons had sat down to the splendid supper provided by the ladies of the parish.

The grounds presented a particularly gay and festive appearance with the prettily decorated booths, the gay dresses of the ladies and the pennants and to all this the electricians had lent their skill. The latter touch transformed the whole scene into a delightfully coloured picture after the sun went down.

Perfect Organization.

It would hardly sem possible that the crowd was so great as actual count showed them to be so perfect was the organization in directing and attending to the wants of everyone

So dense was the dinner crowd that a casual observer gasped at the idea of feeding so many; not one went hungry and no one had a very long time to wait for the excellent repast provided which included cold meats, salads and endless pies and cakes.

The Booths.

Every booth from the ice cream to the fancy goods table was sold out early in the evening and fresh supplies were sent for several times. The lottery booth was a most attractive department and the enterprising manager of this kept the audience in hilarious spirits with his witty and endless sallies.

Each of the numbers rendered by the 57th Band received recognition which encouraged the musicians to generous encores.

The draws will be held on Friday evening.

SPECIAL LICENSE FOR SIDE SHOWS

Provincial Police Will Thereby Supervise Fall Fair Attractions.

Sideshows and similar attractions operating at fall fairs thruout this province will have to obtain special licenses when the exhibition season opens this year. Inspector of Provincial Police J.E. Rogers said that this was an innovation which would be rigorously carried out. All proprietors of amusements rankins in this category will be compelled to obtain a special license for this purpose from the license department at the parliament buildings before their attractions can operate at Ontario fall fairs.

"The purpose of this new ruling," explained Chief Rogers, "is simply to safeguard against that type of side show which might be described as questionable. If we are of the opinion that a certain attraction is not a suitable one, we can refuse to grant a license. Thus we may have complete control of the matter, and hope that we can assure the public of a better class of entertainment."

ON THE TRAIL OF CHAMPLAIN THROUGH THE TRENT WATERS

INTERESTING IMPRESSIONS OF P.O'D. (PERCY O'DONNELL) IN "TORONTO SATURDAY NIGHT."

The following is the seventh and evidently the concluding chapter from the "log" of "P.O.D.," humorist and special writer for the Toronto "Saturday Night," who, under the title of "On the Trail of Champlain," has recorded some of the incidents of his trip through the Trent Canal waters in June from Lake Simcoe to Trenton and has given wide and deserved publicity to the scenic beauties of this new water route.

This instalment takes the reader through the Kawartha Lakes, Peterboro and the Trent River with incidental sketches that are of special local interest.

It is not stated in any of the ponderous histories I have consulted for the purpose of this historical investigation, just how long Champlain stayed at Bobcaygeon. Even the oldest inhabitants of the town are a little vague on that point and display a distressing indifference to Champlain as an advertising lure for American tourists—but then tourists are probably more interested in the fishing. That he was there, however, is certain, and it is likely that he and his party took advantage of the opportunity to catch some bass and lunge.

From Bobcaygeon Champlain paddled down into Pigeon Lake. Undeterred by the lapse of three centuries we took up his trial in the "Bessie Butler." It led southward on Pigeon to where the narrows turn into Buckhorn. Why they should have called this lovely lake Buckhorn is another of those mysteries of northern nomenclature—perhaps one of the early explorers got shot for a buck there by some careless nimrod. As a matter of fact, Parkman records that one of the French members of Champlain's expedition did take aim at a bounding buck and brought down a buck Indian, which caused no end of pow-wowing and made necessary a lot of presents to the wounded man and his relatives—even in those days Indians were great on indemnities.

On the north shore of Lake Buckhorn one sees evidences of granite again. There are the big red rocks and pines so familiar in the Muskoka region, and the little islands all look like boulders that were tossed there by the hand of a giant in the early days of the world.

As we turned north into the chain of little lakes between Buckhorn and Stony, the superintendent pointed off to the south.

"Champlain is supposed to have turned down there into Lake Chemong," he said, "and then to have portaged across to the Otonabee River in the neighborhood of Peterborough. From there down into Rice Lake he would have had easy going, but the upper part of the river from Stony Lake is full of falls and rapids. That's why we had to build so many dams and locks there."

So that elusive Frenchman was giving us the slip once more! It was very discouraging, but naturally we had to go around by the canal—a steamboat is an awkward thing to carry across a portage. Later on, however, it was quite a relief to my mind to know that Champlain had taken the route he did. It prevented the painful suspicions I might otherwise have been forced to entertain.

How Lovesick Lake Was Named.

You see, about midway between Buckhorn and Stony there is a pretty little lake called Lovesick. And there used to be a falls at the entrance to it, known as Lovesick Falls.

"How did it get that name?" I asked the superintendent, who knows everything.

"So far as I have been able to find out," he said solemnly, giving the impression that he had spent many weary weeks looking the matter up, "an Indian maiden was deserted there by her lover—one account states that the gentleman tumbled into the falls and was drowned. Anyway, the young lady stayed right there by the falls and mourned till she died—though it is also said that she ended her troubles by jumping into the falls herself."

Now you can understand how relieved I was to know that Champlain had nothing to do with this case. One always likes to think that one's heroes were good moral men, but if you find broken hearts strewn all along their line of march, even a guileless investigator like myself might well become suspicious. But, of course, there may not be anything at all in the story of the Indian maiden. You know how quickly these romantic fictions spring up. It may really have been a Scotch lumberman who dropped a dollar in the falls and couldn't be dragged away from the spot, or an Irishman who saw a bottle floating and plunged in after it, or—or anything, in fact.

From Lovesick one goes into Stony—is there any special significance in this combination of names?—by way of Burleigh Falls. This is a very beautiful district indeed, and Stony Lake is far more attractive than its somewhat bleak and repellant name might suggest. It is true that there are lots of rocks in it and about it, but almost every rock is an island all by itself—a safe and sanitary little island of red granite, with a few pines standing about in a Japanesy style, a bungalow, and a boat-house tucked away at the water's edge.

Stony Lake, of course, is quite a summer resort, and there are few islands which are not occupied by at least one house. As a matter of fact, some people with a taste for the real wilderness might think Stony Lake rather crowded, but it certainly is very nice when you feel a bit lonesome to be able to jump into your motor-boat and crank it for an hour or so and then go off to join the other wild lads and girls at a bridge-party or a dance—if you have gasoline enough to get that far.

The southern end of Stony Lake is a great bay which has been given the name of Clear Lake—obviously because it isn't all cluttered up with islands. It is a beautiful sheet of water, and down at the end of it is the little village of Young's Point, where the Otonabee River starts. There is a lock there, the controlling lock of the Trent Valley System, inasmuch as it is the shortest lock and therefore controls the size of boat which can go through the canal. The lock is 117 feet long, which means that 115 feet is about the greatest length of boat that can go through—naturally one must allow a little leeway.

There is a sort of lake between Young's Point and Lakefield, but it is really only a widening of the stream. We said good-bye to the "Bessie Butler" for a while here. There are several locks between Lakefield and Peterborough, all fairly close together. As we could motor down the river and see it all in very much less time it was decided that we should go on ahead in a car and let the "Bessie" follow at her own sweet will and that of the various lock-masters. And if the reader should wonder why we were in such a hurry, I may as well explain that it was Saturday afternoon, that we had just had lunch, that the superintendent who lives at Peterboriugh naturally wanted to get home, and that—well, he had rashly informed me there was a golf-course there.

Coming Nearer Home.

The Otonabee River is a very picturesque stream, and in the old days, before the canal was built and the rapids all tamed, it must have been a terror for speed and ferocity. It is no longer dangerous, but it is still very beautiful with the water tumbling over the dams, and the locks showing white in the green valley.

Peterborough is the metropolis of the canal. The head offices are there, and so is the famous Peterborough lift lock, the largest in the world. We visited the lock and gazed down from the top of it into the dizzy depths below—from the lock gates it is a sheer drop of sixty-five feet and the control station towers away above that. It is a tremendous sructure, and a motor boat in one of those huge basins must feel like a French pea being lifted in a wrecking crane.

Peterborough itself is a very attractive city, with a number of large industrial plants to keep it busy, but not so busy that it can't take time off to enjoy itself. The Peterborough Golf and Country Club is evidence of that, and a very pretty nine-hole course it is, too—or rather it was a pretty course before I tore it all up with a borrowed niblick. That's the worst of spending so much time sitting around on the deck of the "Bessie Butler," breathing the finest air in the world and eating the sort of meals the Government puts up—a fellow becomes too strong for a gentle pastime like golf.

After my experience at Peterborough on Sunday morning, I have come to the conclusion that the ideal way to spend that very pleasant part of the week is in a comfortable house-boat moored to the bank of a canal—preferably the Trent. Of course, one should arrange to have it a nice, sunny morning, when one can moon about on deck or repose under the trees along the bank, I read and I smoked, and I listened to the church bells and reflected, with a certain relief, that travellers are not really expected to attend service. It was a lazy way of spending a fine Sunday morning, no doubt, but if the reader can think of a better way—well, the reader is welcome to try it.

In the afternoon the superintendent came on board again—this time with three or four representative citizens of Peterborough, who were to accompany us down the river. The lines were taken in and we were soon slipping around the bends of the Otonabee, between groves of willow, where picnickers were making holiday. The river is very quiet and lovely from Peterborough right down to Rice Lake. It meanders about more like an English stream than one of our own Canadian rivers. There are no rapids, no swift currents and it is a paradise for those who love paddling or motor boating.

Rice Lake is a large open lake, lying almost due east and west. It is a fine body of water, with shores running back to quite respectable hills, whose slopes are covered with prosperous farms. There are a few big islands, all of which are well wooded. The lake gets its name from the great beds of wild rice on its northern shore, which used to be very famous for the excellent duck hunting they afforded.

At Hastings is the beginning of the Trent River—this was the last stage of our trip. The Trent, like the Otonabee above Peterborough, used to be full of falls and rapids, and is now full of dams and locks. It is a beautiful stream, romantic in fact, with a constant succession of superb views. The banks are high and bold, and there is an endless variety to the landscape.

The End of the Trail.

Sunday night we spent at Healey Falls, which is still very beautiful, though the falls now go over an immense dam instead of down the rocks as in the old days. Then, in the morning, we started again down the river, past Campbellford, Glen Ross, Frankfort, and all the lovely little towns which cling to the steep banks of the river. This journey down the Trent was one of the most interesting and impressive bits of the whole trip, and I was certainly sorry when the chimneys of Trenton finally came into view and the voyage was over.

If I were a serious historian, I suppose I would have a lot of learned guesses to make about Champlain's experiences on the same route—the dear old boy must have had a dickens of a time getting around all the falls and rapids on the Trent. I would also tell the reader about the commercial aspects of the canal, and the tremendous water powers that are developed along it. But my mind does not submit easily to such a strain—possibly the reader would find it a bit of a strain, too. I must confess that my chief interest in the canal and in the trip over it lay in the beautiful scenery and the wonderful prospects of the region as a tourists' paradise. One can find any kind of country one's heart desires along the way, whether to build a bungalow in or merely journey through. And if the reader can buy, borrow or burglarize a motor boat—well, I know what I'd do in his place. It is the best inland water trip on the contingent.

SPORTING NEWS, VIEWS AND GOSSIP

OLD RIVALS WILL MEET AT RIVERSIDE SATURDAY

The old rivals, Lindsay and Peterborough ,clash at Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock—the last scheduled home Central League fixture of the season. It should be an interesting battle all the way, for Lindsay always work their heads off to beat the Petes.

The Scugog team have a smooth-working southpaw pitcher in Lefty McElroy, and a number of smart ball-players, including Art Carew, who is one of the best hitters in the League. Carew got three hits out of four times up against the Petes in Lindsay, and in the game with Port Hope smashed out the longest home ever seen on the Port Hope grounds.

The Petes cannot afford to drop this game, and they will have their best line-up in action against McElroy, Coombs, and Company. It is expected that Alex Kay, of Peterborough, and Dick Butler, of Lindsay, will be the officials.

RESOLUTE FINISHED MILE AHEAD OF SHAMROCK IN DECIDING RACE

WITHOUT TIME ALLOWANCE THE AMERICAN SLOOP WAS HOME THIRTEEN MINUTES AND FIVE SECONDS BEFORE LIPTON YACHT —SIR THOMAS A GOOD LOSER, SAYS BEST BOAT WON

SANDY HOOK, N.J. July 27.—Defender Resolute gave the challenger, Shamrock IV., the worst drubbing of the 1920 regatta in the final race of the series to-day, winning, boat for boat, by 13 minutes and 45 seconds—and the America's famous yachting cup remains in the United States.

Overcoming a 40-second lead and the advantage of a windward berth, which Shamrock had taken at the start, the defender held a lead of four minutes and eight seconds at the half-way stake of the 30-mile course, and crossed the finish line 13 minutes and five seconds ahead. Including her handicap of six minutes and 40 seconds, Resolute won by 19 minutes and 45 seconds.

In capturing the series and retaining possession of the America's trophy, Resolute came from behind after Shamrock had taken two races, and won out by registering three straight victories. Shamrock IV. won the initial race whe nthe defender was forced out by an accident to her rigging, and captured the second in a fickle wind that left Resolute becalmed most of the way. Resolute won the third by her time allowance of seven minutes and one second, running a dead heat with her challenger. Her other two victories were won, boat for boat.

Sir Thomas Lipton, owner of the green challenger, voiced what appeared to be the unanimous verdict of yachtsmen who had seen the five races, when he declared to-night, "that the best boat won."

Nature provided a rare setting for to-day's historic finish. The sun was fast dropping over the point of Sandy Hook, when Resolute, clipping swiftly through the deep green water, with billowy sails silhouetted against the haze, bore down on the mark.

A moment later she flashed across the golden finish line that the setting sun had laid down on the rippling water between squat Ambrose Channel lighthouse and the committee boat, Barryton.

A mile or more behind, her own great sails bellying broadly, Shamrock was coming about for the run to the mark after a reach out from the Jersey coast, when the white signal ball of the Barryton dropped and the shrieking of whistles and sirens from the little fleet of spectator craft proclaimed Resolute's victory.

Cheered the Victor.

The beaten challenger swept quickly down the course, striving to shorten the intervening gap and salve as much as she could the bitterness of her defeat. As the challenger crossed the mark her British crew let out three ringing British cheers for the victor, and the conquerors responded with lusty cheers for Shamrock and her crew.

Sir Thomas Lipton, who built the challenger in his fourth effort to lift the bottomless old pewter mug that is the America's Cup, and take it back to its original home in England, turned away from his humble sailing beauty, and sent his steam yacht Victoria full speed ahead to overtake and congratulate Resolute's crew. He returned just in time to see Shamrock cross the line.

The aged sportsman's gameness as he drew away from his own sloop to congratulate the winner elicited a salvo of cheers from those on board the spectator craft. And Sir Thomas responded as jauntily as if he had not seeen his own fondest hope once more baffled.

Sir Thomas announced immediately after the race that he would build a new challenger and come across again in 1922 to have another try at lifting the America's Cup, provided some other yachtsman did not challenge and win the cup sooner.

'I was beaten by a better boat," he said. "I have no complaint to make, but I am greatly disappointed."

Will Try Again.

On Board Steam Yacht Victoria, July 27.—"I am very sorry, but the best boat won," was Sir Thomas Lipton's remark as he watched Resolute cros sthe line. "We all did our damnedest, skipper, designer and crew, and we were beaten fair and square. I have been treated throughout with the greatest fairness and sportsmanship by the people of the United States and I am taking home the very best memories of the contest. I shall wait until next year to give some one else a chance to challenge. Then I shall rechallenge myself.

"I can truly say that I can find no fault in any shape or form in the way the race has been run or handled," Sir Thomas added. "Like in all the races I have taken part in the United States, I have been treated fair and square by my opponents. I can only hope that I will have better luck next time."

There was no disputing that Sir Thomas was disappointed. He showed it in voice and demeanor. He made no attempt to disguise his feelings.

Sir Thomas announced that he would remain in New York for a short while and then go to Canada. From there his movements are uncertain.

Using waste vegetable fibres as a basis, an Australian has invented a composition that can be used where thin wood or stone usually is employed.

ORGANIZE FOR ATHLETIC GAMES

EMPLOYEES OF WM. HAMILTON COMPANY FORM ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the employees of the Wm. Hamilton Co., Ltd., was held last evening for the purpose of forming an Athletic Association. An executive committee was elected with the following personnel:

Hon. President—Mr. P. P. Westbye.

Hon. Vice-Pres.—Messr, C. Baker, F. Browne, R. Brunton, G. G. Gladman, H. C. Norley, L. A. Potvin, F. Roberts.

President—Mr. J. A. Sharp.

Vice-Pres.—Mr. Geo. Paxman.

Sec.-Treas.—Mr. R. C. Flitton.

Committee—Messrs. J. Condon, H. Frost, E. Lebar, N. Moore, J. Murphy, J. Robertson.

The meeting was well attended and the suggestion of forming an association was enthusiastically received. As its name implies, the object of the organization will be to promote and encourage sport among the employees. If thought desirable, the association may in the future extend its activities along other lines.

BASEBALL NOTES

At 5.45 p.m. last night the Quaker Oats baseball team played Cressmans (Commercial League champions.)

The game was called in the first half of the eight with two men down and the score 9-4 in favour of the Quakers.

Here is the summary for the 7 innings.

Team—	R.	H.	E.
Quaker Oats	4	4	3
Cressmans	4	8	1

Batteries—Quaker Oats: Gilchrist and Theobald: Cressmans: Bartley and Cobb, DeGraw.

Cobb received a bad split finger in 2nd innings and was replaced by DeGraw.

The Quakers regret very much this accident.

Says Grantland Rice:

The National League has settled down to a two-club dash, and unless some bizarre turn comes Brooklyn and Cincinnati are going to fight it out—Brooklyn with the stronger pitching staff and Cincinnati with a trifle better club outside the box.

While the White Sox were in New York one of Kid Gleason's careful observers offered this tip:

"Every one figures it will be Cleveland or New York. But here's dope: Cleveland can hold New York, we can beat Cleveland and New York can beat us. But we've got a much better club than we had last year. In 1919 we had to get along with two winning pitchers in Cicotte and Williams. Kerr was then only a beginner. Now the youngster's seasoned and Red Faber is winning a lot of games. We are not out of it by a whole lot. It will be one of the greatest three-cornered races through August and September any league ever knew."

A harrow attachment for gang plows to enable a farmer to do his plowing and harrowing at the same time has been patented by an Illinois inventor.

PROTEST OVER COBOURG GAME

OSHAWA CLAIMS THAT PITCHER CLARKE IS NOT ELIGIBLE UNDER RESIDENCE RULE.

Oshawa has protested the game played in Cobourg last Saturday on the grounds that Clarke, the Cobourg pitcher, is not eligible under the residence rule. The protest will be dealt with by the Executive at a meeting to be held in Oshawa on Saturday evening.

GUNNERS FORFEIT CUP TIE GAME

The first cup tie game between the Machine Gunners and C. G. E. football teams scheduled for Thursday evening has been forfeited to the Electric boys by the Gunners. Owing to unforeseen circumstances the Gunners were unable to play on selected date, but tried to arrange the game for Friday evening. The C.G.E. executive decided to abide by the date fixed by the Association Executive and selected their team as follows:—C. Griffine, goal; J. Davis and J. McDonald, backs; A. Parkins, H. Turner and J. Williamson, halfbacks; A. Gash, C. Hotston, J. Manders, T. Bartley and T. Hotston, forwards. Reserves—J. Williams and J. Mann.

All players associated with Canadian Woollens are requested to attend the practice game to-night at the Oval at 6.30 prompt.

C.P.R. team defeated the Westinghouse team (Hamilton) 2 goals to 1. Goals count in the two games in the Connaught Cup series. The return game will be played in Toronto on Friday evening.

COST LIPTON ONE MILLION FOR HIS PRESENT EFFORT

SANDY HOOK, N.J., July 26. — Charles E. Nicholson ,designer of Shamrock, said to-day that he had learned much about wind and wave conditions that obtain about the America's Cup course that would be invaluable to him in the designing of sloops for racing in these waters.

Mr. Nicholson still insists that the present race have been little more than trial races for Snamrock. He thinks that in all future America's Cup races the contenders should be manned entirely by a crew from the public they represent. Resolute's crew is said to be made up largely of Scandinavian sailors.

Sir Thomas is said to have spent, approximately, $1,000,000 in the latest attempt to lift the cup, and yachting experts assert Shamrock IV. in the interest of yacht designing, should have further tests in competition with Resolute and other sloops of United States design. As a member of the New York Yacht Club, Sir Thomas can enter Shamrock in the club's races.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, July 28.—Prices were generally higher at the stock market opening to-day. Most of the steel issues showed further declines, but industrials and few of the oils registered small advances.

U.S. steel opened at 88 1-4 off 3-4; Crucible, 146 off 2; Central leather, 58 off 1; Reading, 87 1-4 off 1-4; Texas Co., 44 5-8 up 1-4; Baldwin, 110 1-8 off 1-4; Pan-American, 95 (unchanged); Houston oil, 106 up 1 1-4; Southern Railway, 27 off 1-8; General Motors, 22 up 1-2; Bethlehem B., 84 1-2 (unchanged); Royal Dutch, 74 3-8 off 1-8; Vanadium, 78 up 1; Mexican pet, 178 off 1-4; American Woollen, 84 up 5-8; Sinclair, 27 3-8 up 1-8; Union Pac., 113 5-8 up 1-8; U.S. Rubber, 89 7-8 off 5-8; Studebaker, 64 3-4 off 1.

Traders met with little success in efforts to force lower prices during early trading. Central leather, an exception, was driven down to 56 1-4. After the unsuccessful early drive nearly all issues rebounded. Mexican pet touched 181, Pan-American picking up 3 points, Stromberg over 6 points and U.S. steel, after an early low at 87 7-8, recovered a full point.

EXCHANGE LOWER.

NEW YORK, July 28.—Foreign exchange was slightly lower at the opening to-day. Demand sterling opened at $3.78 off 1, francs demand $.0780 off $.0002, lire demand $.0546 off $.0006, marks $.0243 (unchanged).

STONEY LAKE

KAWARTHA PARK, July 28.—Mrs. Stewart, of Toronto, who has been the guest of Mrs. Rayson, returned home on Monday.

Mrs. Ellis and family, of Detroit, are guests of Mrs. Ellis, Sr., at the Park.

The Roy family, of Toronto, have purchased the Fitzgerald cottage near Sandy Point.

Mr. and Mrs. McKeen, of Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. McGill, of Galt, are visiting Mrs. Gleeson.

Mr. and Mrs. Blackwood, of Detroit, are visiting Mr. Blackwood, Sr.

Mr. Arthur Frye, of Toronto, spent the week-end at Shingle Shanty with Mr. and Mrs. Ivor Brock.

Rev. J. H. Edmison, of Toronto, has erected a gospel tent and held a service on Sunday, which was well attended.

Mrs. Stubbs and Mr. Edgar Stubbs, of Toronto, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. Walter Green.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McLaughlin, of Toronto, are guests of Mrs. Robert Neill.

Miss Katie Builder, a missionary to India, and her brother, Mr. Bob Builder, of Toronto, are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Husband. Miss Builder leaves this week to return to India.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Williamson and daughter Margaret, of Edmonton, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Williamson.

Miss Yellowlees, of Scotland, is a guest of Mrs. Williamson.

The Kawartha Colony.

The summer colony at Kawartha Park is growing each year and no place on the Lake shows a greater percentage of building. A new cottage always seems to be going up at the Park. It is decidedly a family resort, and the colony are like one happy family, which adds to the other attractions. From the steamer it resembles a street of houses, extending from Sandy Point to Sandy Bay.

A dancing pavilion, which could also be used for a concert hall, is one of the needs of the Park, but no doubt another season will see the timbers laid for it.

THE OLD TALE.

(A variation on a theme of Beranger's.)

Children that carry the distaff lightly down
Beside the fountain for Nausicaa grown
So oid, plead for that tale they know by heart—ah, well!
'Tis but for age at last, life's wonder tales to tell.

Hear then o' that silvery morn
When I with maidens three
Ran down where wakening fields
Were wet with spray o' the sea.
High heaped our baskets,
Yet lighter than winds that blow
Through yonder willow, we sped
On errands to and fro.

And we tossed the dallying ball,
When now our task was done,
The fair white linen spread
To wait the noonday sun;
For still the morn was young
And fain to weave her spell,
When, lo! Odysseus stood
Where now the fishermen dwell . .

My wheel falls slack beneath its flock of wool
Awind from the deep sea stirs the fountain pool.
A little while let dreams stray hither and yon
Until the children bid the tale go on.

My sire used tell o' the fauns
In Tempe's Vale that drove
The straying Centaur far
Into a dark sea grove—
Of him whose winged steed
Fled high in the light o' the moon.
'Twas a more marvellous tale
Was told us that forenoon!

Odysseus greeted me.
Spake of his good ship drowned
That sailed a hundred seas,
Enchanted cities bound.
Odysseus that had fled
Witch gardens, fey and chill—
Well may you, wondering, ask,
How came he to our meadows so still?

And as I tell, the fountain's pale blue waters change
To blazoned seas of journeys passing strange
That children know — as I at dusk hear ever again
The deep sea tell of thee, Odysseus, Lord of Men!

—Anne W. Young, in New York Times.

Madge Kennedy is accepted by press and public alike as America's leading exponent of light comedy, both of screen and stage. The secret of her success lies in a personality that is wholesome and unaffected—she is the embodiment of American girlhood, with the added charm of a comedienne who is blessed with a keen and unfailing sense of the ridiculous.

"Dollars and Sense" presents Madge Kennedy with the kind of part she has made famous. To add to the picture's appeal, there is a charming touch of pathos in the story of the hungry little chorus girl who learned the lesson of real humanity from a humble baker. The demure Madge was never seen to better advantage. She mixes chuckles and heart-throbs with exquisite skill, and makes laughter tremble on the brink of tears. It is a picture that will satisfy your most fastidious patron and leave everybody with the comfortable glow of enjoyment that is the product of real entertainment.

"THE BROTHERHOOD" IN SIBERIA WITH ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS
By H. J. C.

The Brotherhood Federation is simply a federation of the many organizations of men (of whatever or no denomination) banded together for Christian service, by whatever name known, but preferably "The Brotherhood" for fellowship's sake and standardization.

Our objects are (1) The Evangelization of the World, and we help any organization in conducting special meetings as far as men and money will allow. (2) We aim at interpreting Religion in terms of Life, and the ordinary avocations thereof in terms of Religion. We centre upon the highest type of Citizenship and actively interest men in problems of primary, practical, and paramount importance—personal and public, moral and spiritual. In application of this Principle, we seized upon the opportunity presented by the Great World War of demonstrating the possibility, practicability, and reality of Universal Brotherhood. Our energies were well directed toward relieving the sufferers in France and Flanders, and our war work was so eminently successful and universally approved that the Serbian Government sent for our officials to see Serbia for themselves. Mr. Ward and Mr. Heal, two English gentlemen, who made their competence by hard work, and are now spending it in this work, went over, at their own expense, and were so impressed with such loyalty to the Allies, such efficiency and bravery in warfare, and such slaughter and suffering as was experienced on no other war area, that our energies are now mainly directed to—

Serbia.

The Fall of '14 found the care-free, poetic, patriotic people of poor little Serbia just six months out of a 2-year war staggering under a heavy load, without even medical supplies for her wounded, diseased and dying soldiers and civilians. Nevertheless, at the word of command "Stand to till the Allies Come" this little band of braves donned again their armour and literally moving mountains in a day, although outnumbered ten to one, they held up the united armies of Bulgaria, Austria and Germany, (not as did brave little Belgium for a few days) but for 15 months (1 1-4 years), until they saved India to the British Empire. They fought fiercely contesting every inch of ground until backed against the Mountains of Albania.

AS HE WAS.

"No surrender" was written in the Serbian constitution. When flight seemed the better part of valor they fled—butchered like bullocks — into the sea, over to Italy, on to France, and up into the mountains where famished, faint and frozen they fell flecking the untrodden snow-fields like fly-specks upon the whited walls with their dead bodies.

Through exposure, starvation, the sword and disease contracted from enemy camps, death claimed fully one-fifth of the entire population.

The Austrian army of occupation, on retiring took all it could carry and the infamous Turks stole what they failed to destroy—cattle, implements of agriculture, etc., etc.

The suffering refugees who succeeded in returning found 500,000 hungry, homeless, helpless, innocent children, or as many as all the men, women, and children in Toronto put together, lamenting the loss of their loved ones.

The poor orphans, the innocent victims of war are the only asset left to this ally of ours, which in addition to losing her possessions, has been bereft of revenue for the last seven years. Shall we, who never missed a meal, who never knew the pinch of poverty or saw the ravages of war, allow these little ones to lack for any necessary of life? Far be it from us!

These are the children of the men who made the supreme sacrifice in snatching victory from defeat and saving self-determination to the weaker nations, civilization to the world and the religion of Jesus Christ to the human family.

The children of the men who conquered the vandals who were dismantling Cathedrals, and the very altars of God, carrying off the sacred vessels of His holy house, robbing the world of its religious relics, razing art galleries to the ground, stealing earth's antiquities and other treasures of art—despoiling the house of God and man;

The children of the men who met and mastered the fiends who were firing oil fields and fuel mines, cutting down forests, plugging and poisoning wells and running waters, scuttling and sinking ships and sending to the bottom of the sea vast stores of precious food stuffs destined for the firing lines and famine stricken fields, and sacrificing men immortalized in war and peace, in literature, and art, in science and in social circles— immortalized for faith and for good works;

These are the children of the men who fought and fell in our defence by land and sea, and saved the liberties of the world. Shall we save them to their country? By all that is fair in war and in peace?

Here's How.

The World Brotherhood Federation has just completed negotiations with the Serbian Government, and entered into a compact duly signed by both contracting parties, whereby on its part agrees (1) to rehabilitate the abandoned Austrian, Turkish and other estates occupied by officials of such powers as have in turn overrun and ruined this rocky residence of the Serbian since the second century and kept the poor peasant with his nose to the grindstone striving for a living and fighting for his farm, his fireside and his family; (2) to reconstruct the castles and other residences as ordinary officers' residences and dormitories and to furnish with every necessary of life; (3) to equip the domains with implements of agriculture, cattle, horses, etc., and, (4) to furnish a proportion of teachers satisfactory and agreeable to the Brotherhood. Whereas on its part has undertaken (1) to transfer the boys without father, friend, or food, who are now wandering around aimlessly, from pillar to post, in search of food or occupation, and pulling in at night under shelter of an old barn or hay stack, to these Dormitories; (2) to feed; (3) to clothe; (4) to educate; (5) to give medical attention to, and (6) to train them to work until such time as they are able to care for themselves. Then the Government, which owns the soil in Serbia and gives to every citizen a slice, will present to each efficient son of Serbia a Farm! The girls will also be trained in many arts, and make efficient farmerettes and worthy wives and mothers.

The Serbian Government,

One Hundred Dollars

has heretofore supported a Serbian youth for one year. Hereafter it will care for him for 10 years by reason of the arrangement whereby the boy cooperates with The Brotherhood and the Government, and becomes partially self-supporting. So that $100.00 is as good to-day as $1,000.00 a few weeks ago.

lege, factory, firm, or other organization, will be presented with the photograph, name and number of one of these war orphans in our Farm Schools for every $100.00 contributed. The Benefactor will also possess the privilege of free correspondence and be entitled to the honour of "naming" the Farm when your Beneficiary comes to his inheritance.

An Unparallelled Opportunity.

is this for you to introduce by correspondence, tract, and book a higher standard of civilization and religion in that country.

We do not discount or disparage the smaller sums at greater sacrifice, which are thankfully received and duly credited, but we do encourage the plan of Adoption, because of the entire satisfaction it affords (a) of knowing exactly where your money is going and what it is accomplishing, and (b) of coming in closer contact by correspondence with the object of your benevolence, and (c) for Evangelistic Effort, the results of which on generations to come God alone can compute.

Results: A prominent lawyer said, after a service one Sabbath: "I'd like to give $100.00 in the name of my little girl, Pat (ricia), whom I'm training to give, but I've been giving so liberally lately I could not lay my hand on $100.00 at the moment." "Pay when you please," said the writer, "only the sooner it's in the sooner you get in touch with your youth."

Next morning (Monday) a messenger announced that said lawyer would like to see me at earliest convenience. I called Wednesday morning. Said he: "You remember what I said Sabbath morning. Well, a peculiar providence occurred. When I entered this office Monday morning, a letter was on my desk containing a check for $198 and some odd cents from a source I never expected to get a dollar. Now I'm going to give you that $100.00." And before the cheque was dry the manager of a near-by bank entered and asked him if he'd "care for" a bunch of papers he handed him. He replied: "I guess so," and turning to me he said: "Mr. C., no man could convince me that the Lord does not recompense the man or woman who conscientiously tithes (gives his tenth to God). I'm endeavouring to do so and that little effort of faith has already been abundantly rewarded. There's $100.00 worth of work there (pointing to the papers). As you see the hundred dollars has already been returned to me three times over in these three days."

The employers of one firm subscribed $100.00 in a few minutes and claimed the privilege of naming their ward's farm after their firm, "The Albion."

Another firm, manager and employees, contributed $300.00, and have the privilege of calling their Proteges' Ranches after their brand of cream, "The Meadowvale."

This plan so appealed to a lady recently, who before hearing it had said "I'll give you $20 and no more" that she exclaimed "that is a good business proposition—helping the unfortunate to help themselves and their Country. I'll gladly give you $100.00," and she did. Wont you?

Voice Of The People

RE THE $100,000 BY-LAW.

Mr. R. R. Hall in strong words says, "Vote it down." Mr. Peck says, "Make the best of it, 'vote for it'."

We are in for it. We have an elephant of home manufacture on our hands. It is an ugly brute, but there it is, and we can't get rid of it. We made it ourselves. The people backed up the Council in creating the debt. Both city papers whooped it up. To vote against the by-law means inaction—nothing doing—but the elephant all the time is eating up interest on $300,000 already sunk and no progress is being made.

When the bridge is built, if it has not fallen into the river, what then is wanted to finish the bridge to put things into tidy shape? Pay all damages. Fix up the elegance of the new park, never observed until required to cover up the claims for damages? What then? Why, just about $100,000 more. Dear people, get ready for it. The milk is spilled, it can't be gathered up. Abusing the Council, the newspapers, the Quaker Oats or the Labor Council won't put the milk in the jug. We made our own trouble. It will be with us for all time. The bridge problem was too big for us. The old Quaker Oat man laughs. The clever consulting engineer, Mr. Barber, laughs. With him it is, "Head I win, tails you loose." I hear him in the night laughing.

The eminent citizens, known as the "Labor Element," laugh—laugh loud out. They got what they wanted. They got what they wanted. They said, "To H—l with the steel bridge; give us what will give us the most labor. The question of cost is not our business. We want work at —— cents per hour, and not too many hours in a day—and easy bosses." Whoop her up fellows! "Heads I win, tails you loose."

And the new school! Twenty rooms, twenty teachers, furniture and janitors, and stokers for all—another elephant!

And the sewerage; what about it? The bridge experience should give us an experience that should make us more cautious in entering into big ventures, for they are coming. The $100,000 you are asked for now will not complete the work now in hand. More will be required and you may as well face it. You are facing a big problem. If there was any money coming out of it there would be some encouragement, but there is no money in sight, no dividends—nothing to be gained but a clear railway yard to accommode the Quaker Oats, the G.T.R. and the C.P.R. No profit in it for Peterboro, and we are the $400,000 cat's paw.

Poor Peterboro! But don't loose heart. There is more coming. When you get the bridge that does not pay dividends. The new $300,000 school, the fancy ball and fair ground, and the sewage plant, what more will you want?

Go and vote for this $100,000 and get wisdom and don't do it again. Some silly people and our newspaper are advocating Sunday cars. Pay no attention to them. There are not enough silly Sabbath breaken in Peterboro to make it pay greese for the wheels.

D. W. DUMBLE.

Editor, The Examiner:

Dear Sir,—There have been a number of letters written and published in the Examiner for and against the by-law of $100,000 to finish the Hunter street bridge. The Council and Mr. Barber, and in fact everyone that had anything to do with the bridge contract or construction of it has been criticized. I wonder if these critics would have done any better had they been been on the job as councillors, engineer or contractors. We always find a lot of smart and intelligent people who can tell us what should have been done after a mistake is made. Now I would like to ask is there any one of those that have so much fault to find with everyone that had anything to do in this matter, that has any knowledge whatever of the construction of the bridge. Would any one of them have undertaken the job I have been contracting for forty years and yet I have had them come along and dictate to me and try to show me how things ought to be done. It is wonderful the knowledge of some people. They seem to know everything without having any experience. They just think they know. I have had quite a number of apprentices to learn the trade in my time and I found that as a rule when the boy was about six months at the trade he thought he know more than I did. In fact he thought he knew it all, but when he was three years at the trade he didn't think he knew so very much. So it is with many people. They jump at a conclusion and give vent to their feelings. Now, I think the Council used their best judgment, at least they thought they did. They certainly did not jump at a conclusion for they spent several months wrangling over which was the best way to let the contract. I feel sure that they thought Mr. Barber was a good engineer, in fact one of the best, when they employed him. If he has not come up to their expectations I don't think they are to blame. The bridge, like most all public works, has run over the estimate—it is nothing unusual. If a mistake has been made we must just put up with it. To vote down the by-law, to my mind would be a mistake. What would be gained by doing so? The bridge must be finished and we might just as well put up the money now as later on. The sooner the work is finished the better. Peterborough has a good name. Let us maintain it. Vote for the by-law and continue the work till the bridge is finished.

Yours, etc.,
J. J. HARTLEY.

INFANT BLOWN HALF MILE IN SASKATCHEWAN CYCLONE

(Canadian Press.)

FROBISHER, Sask., July 26.—The body of the Holmes infant, lost in Thursday's cyclone disaster, was found last night more than a half a mile from where the house stood. It was placed in the vault at Frobisher, awaiting inquest and burial. Mr. Holmes is still living, but in a precarious condition.

MASHAM FARMER COMMITS SUICIDE

Attached String to One of His Toes and to Trigger of Rifle—Jerked Foot.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, July 26.—Temporarily deranged, through brooding over the death of his wife, which occurred last November, George Shouldice, Masham Township, Quebec, aged 53 years, ended his own life by shooting yesterday.

The unfortunate man, in the absence of members of his family, secured a rifle, and taking off one of his boots, attached a string to one of his toes and to the trigger of the rifle. Sitting in a chair, he jerked his foot and was found lifeless.

A trail of tragedy marks the history of this unfortunate family. A son had ended his life about twenty years ago, while another and a daughter are in an asylum.

REJUVENATED BY "VITAL" TABLETS

People are to-day trying every means to keep young. Some are being fed on monkey glands, and others are having glands of other people injected into their system. We claim the method of injecting glands into the system is unnecessary. The revival of youth can be brought about by taking the French rejuvenator, VITAL Tablets. A person of sixty can feel like a person of twenty. We do not claim VITAL Tablets will do all this instantly, but by taking them regularly for a time, and the time will depend upon the person, but one will gradually feel younger, and eventually you will come back to the land of youth and pep. Diseases of every description will gradually disappear, men and women will be healthy and strong, doctors' bills will be reduced to a minimum. If you are not feeling yourself, go to your drug store and procure a box of these celebrated French Tablets, and you will experience such a change for the good, that you will forever bless the inventor of this wonderful rejuvenating tonic. VITAL Tablets are sold at all good drug stores, at Fifty cents per box. Start taking them today. To-morrow you will feel better.

UNIONIST KIDNAPPERS FIND FIRST VICTIM

(Associated Press Despatch.)

BELFAST, July 26.—The first case of kidnapping by Unionists was reported to-day from Banbridge, where an engine driver who it is alleged had strong Sinn Fein tendencies, was taken from a train by armed men to an unknown destination. He was released on giving an understanding that he would not return to Banbridge.

THE PASSING OF MARY ANN

(A True Episode)

She cannot work—she cannot cook—
she's built upon a plan
Of monumental uselessness — her name is Mary Ann.
She came from—Heaven alone can tell—she goes to Heaven knows where—
For out of this to-morrow morn goes
Mary Ann Adare.

'Twas not her thirst for music nor her unmelodious strains—
'Twas not her disregard of truth, her utter lack of brains;
Nor yet her ardent longing to be
vessed in our affairs,
That has closed the golden tenure of her reign below the stairs.

She's been deaf to sagest counsels and impervious to hints—
She's left her dirty finger-marks on costly books and prints.
But these are merest trifles, empty bubbles on the vat,
Compared with the atrocity she's levelled at our cat.

Poor Tom, who oft took refuge in the stove on winter nights,
Survives a dread calamity, the worst of woeful sights;
No more he seeks its friendly wormth
or to its shelter flies,
For in that cosy nook, he knows, an awful danger lies.

Time was when Tom could boast a coat of sleek and glossy silk—
He roamed the woodland region round, the finest of his ilk—
Now, shorn of all his ancient pride, he slinks from hour to hour,
Bedraggled as the rose that droops in autumn's icy shower.

But lately—'twas a bitter night—Tom walked with stealthy tread
To where the oven doors wide-ope'd, proclaimed a warmer bed.
And Mary Ann, the feckless girl, had seen that cat walk in,
Curl up and sleep — poor, harmless
Tom—at peace with kith and kin.

What fiend possessed your vacant mind next morning, Mary Ann,
To make you close those oven doors and use the coal oil can,
And while, unmindful of it all, Tom lay in slumber deep,
To plod your weary way upstairs and start a second sleep?

The kettle sang a soothing song, the sausages were frying,
And gaily, gaily leaped the flames beyond all sane decrying.
Ah, Thomas, well can I believe that freely you'd perspire
When all the pots and pans above were dancing on the fire.

The damsel did not slumber long—for soon a curdling yell
Beyond imagination's reach — and therefore mine to tell—
Burst on the circumambient air—it failed to rouse that sloven;
"Go down," I roared, "you've killed the cat—he's baking in the oven."

With slothful ease she sauntered down, and I in frenzied haste—
My thoughts were quite unspeakable, my language was not chaste—
One bound—I flung apart the doors—
one thrust—I grabbed his tail—
Down, down, his hot and smoking frame went sizzling in the pail.

* * * * * * * *

Perchance, in days to come, friend
Time the damage will repair,
And Tom will boast another coat of sleek and glossy hair.
But Mary Ann another path of daily
toil must tread,
Equipped with purer principles or less forgetful head.

OLYMPIC WILL SAVE $1,300,000 A YEAR WITH OIL BURNERS

BOILER ROOM STAFF REDUCED AND CONDITIONS IMPROVED—HAS 159 FURNACES.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Conversion of the s.s. Olympic from coal to an oil-burner should result in a saving of almost $1,30,000 a year in the operation of that vessel, figuring 21 trips in a year. This estimate disregards entirely any saving in the cost of oil as compared with coal, which at present is considerable. The s.s. Olympic on coal could make 20 trips a year, but the extra knot an hour on oil will enable her to make an extra trip in twelve months.

The items of saving which have been calculated follow:

1,000 tons of extra cargo at $25 a ton for 21 trips.....	$525,000
300 extra passengers, owing to 153 firemen not required, at $78, for 21 trips.....	491,400
Wages of 153 firemen not required with oil, at $90 a month	165,240
Subsistence for 153 men, at $45 a month	82,260
133 extra men bunkering coal for 3½ days each voyage, at $3 a day	89,327
Total	$1,203,587

This total takes no account of time saved in bunkering in port, cost of repeated paintings, added life of boilers, renewal of grate bars, coal and ash handling tools and machinery, corrosion of fire-plates, wear and tear on coal barge equipment and machinery, and one or two other items, all of which amount to a large sum during a single year.

A similar saving should be effected in the operation of the s.s. Aquitania, which has also made her first trip on oil, and arrived in New York a few days ago. The Aquitania, as well as the Olympic, was bunkered with Mexican Petroleum Co.'s fuel oil by the British Mexican Petroleum Co., Ltd., 50 per cent of whose stock is owned by the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Co. For many years it had been claimed that Mexican fuel oil could not be handled satisfactorily in the merchant marine without heating, but on the Olympic's first voyage on oil both the installation and fuel gave the highest satisfaction, and no heating of oil in her storage tanks was required.

Overhauled After the War.

After her war work, in which she established a record of steaming 184,000 miles and carrying more than 200,000 passengers, it required the efforts of thousands of men employed for nine months in Harland & Wolff's shipyard at Belfast to overhaul, refurnish, and re-upholster her. The most important change in her new equipment was the installation of the White patent low-pressure oil-burning system. On her first trip the Olympic maintained an average speed of 21.5 knots an hour against 20.5 with coal.

Her Engine Room.

Her engine room is equipped with two four-cylinder triple-expansion reciprocating engines of 26,000 horse-power each. In addition to the two main engines she has a 17,000 horse-power directly-connected turbine which drives the main shaft. Steam for this turbine is taken from the exhaust of the low-pressure cylinders of the main engine. The fire room has 159 furnaces, consisting of five single-end and 24 double-end boilers, each having three 2,000 horse-power furnaces three-tenths of an inch draught to give perfect and smokeless combustion. There is an ingenious electrical indicator in the boiler room which shows the number of fires the engineer requires at any time.

Her Oil Bunkers.

The Olympic has bunker space for 5,200 tons of oil, a major portion of which is stored in three cross-bunkers and the rest in skin tanks. To bunker her with coal 140 men were required, working from three to four days. With oil, two men are needed in each section, of which there are three, and one man on the oil barge, a total of seven. With fuel oil it requires only six hours to deliver her entire bunkers, and there is an absence of dirt. When burning coal one whole day was spent on the ship, with all deck hands to wash down and clean up, and on every alternate trip it was necessary to repaint her.

Clean Boiler Rooms.

The oil pumping system in the vessel is so arranged that the oil can be transferred from one tank to another through large transfer pumps having a capacity of 1,050 barrels an hour. The boiler rooms of the Olympic are now clean and cool and the number of firemen has been reduced by 153 men. The reduction of the boiler room force enables the company to carry 300 extra passengers, and the storage of part of the bunkers in skin tanks provides for 1,000 extra tons cargo.

Great Saving of Space.

When coal was used it required 1.4 pounds to develop one indicated horse-power an hour. On the Olympic's first trip it required only .83 pounds of oil per indicated horse-power an hour, or a saving of 41 per cent. by weight in fuel. In addition, coal occupies 43 cubic feet per ton and oil 37 cubic feet, and in a steamer built for oil-burning all this space could be saved, as the oil would be carried in double bottoms.

RUSSIA'S RED "NAPOLEON."

Lenin Said to Fear Power of Young Leader of Bolshevist Armies.

PARIS.—The success of the Russian Soviet armies has turned attention to their leader who, according to Moscow, is Michael Touchachewski, 27 years old. But more interest attaches to this youthful leader because of a report current in Paris that Lenin fears that if he enters Warsaw at the head of his forces, he will win such popularity among the sentimental Russians that he will be more powerful than his Government—in other words, that he may become Dictator.

Touchachewski, as his photograph shows, has a forehead and eyes not unlike those of Napolean Bonaparte and this adds to his reputation, as the Russian Napoleon. He was a lieutenant in the old Russian army and in fighting against Germans showed such ability that he rose to the rank of brigadier general, which he held when captured. He spent two years in a German prison camp. There he became known for his patriotism mixed with Communism, for his love of checkers and for his hatred of the Germans and English.

"Little was heard of his work in the Red army until he took charge of the forces against Kolchack. Following his success against that admiral he turned his attention to Denkin and whipped him. He is quoted as having often said that he would lead an army into Warsaw and rumor has it that just before the start of the present Bolshevist offensive he sent word to General Wrangel that after he had entered Warsaw on Aug. 1 he would turn his attention to the anti-Soviet master of the Crimea.

As soon as General Weygand gets a grip on the Polish army his young "Russian Napoleon," will, if hostilities are continued or resumed, be in reality matched against Marshal Foch, conqueror of the Germans.

DREAM-SHIPS.

If every night at six o'clock,
As punctual as the postman's knock,
Our dream-ships from the dreamland seas
Sailed back upon a homeward breeze,
Bearing piled high in every hold
The treasures that our dreams foretold,
Books and soldiers, dolls and guns,
And chocolates and currant buns!
How happy would be every face!
This world would seem a different place!
And yet, if, laden stern to stem,
They never failed at six p.m.
To wander back to me and you,
And each and every wish came true,
And ne'er a vessel came to harm,
The thing in time would lose its charm.
And wonder light and glad surprise
Would fade away from children's eyes,
And we might even sit and long
For something awful to go wrong,
If every night at six o'clock
Those dream-ships all sailed back to dock.

DOWN TO WORK IN BELGIUM.

Belgium is free from strikes and labor troubles, according to American Consul-General Henry H. Morgan, who attributes this condition to the success of the national committees of employers and employes.

A QUEER HOSPITAL.

The word "hospital" calls to mind a vision of doctors and nurses, sick and injured people. Along with the churches and the schools, these are the best dividend-paying institutions of civilisation. Progressive farmers have discovered that an institution that will repair the ravages of the enemies of wheat also pays big dividends. Often wheat comes to market too damp to grind and in danger of spoiling. Sometimes chess, cockle and alien seeds mix in and injute it. Such wheat is unfit to perform its function of feeding mankind. Some bright individual conceived the idea of a hospital for this grain that otherwise must be turned out like human derelicts before the day of hospitals. They are being built now, with wards for drying that which is damp, others for cleaning the weed infested, and other departments for the ills of wheat. Seven years ago one was built in Saskatchewan at a cost of $1,250,000. Already it has saved wheat worth three times that sum. A hospital for wheat may sound queer but the institutions are worth while.

PITY THE POOR SHOPKEEPER.

It happened in the financial district. A man entered a store to purchase a very small pocket memorandum book. "Isn't this rather high?" he asked, when told the price.

"No," replied the proprietor. "At 40 cents we only make a very small profit on the transaction. Wait a moment and I will show you a cheaper quality."

While he was in the rear of the store the customer happened to pick up the box containing the memorandum books and read, under the signature of the manufacturer, with mingled feelings of surprise and indignation: "These books are made to retail at 25 cents each."—Wall Street Journal.

WOMAN IS MADE SANE BY REMOVAL OF TEETH

Mrs. Blake, who Drowned Son, Expected to be Freed From New Jersey Asylum.

ATLANTIC CITY, July 24.—Esther Miller Blake, wife of James M. Blake, a Philadelphia real estate operator, who was sent to the New Jersey State Hospital for the Insane, at Trenton, last December, after she had drowned her young son, Buddy, by throwing him from the Ventnor pier, is said virtually to have been cured of her mental disorders. It is expected that she soon will be discharged.

A noted alienist, according to the reports from Trenton, extracted all of Mrs. Blake's front teeth in a scientific test to restore her mind. This operation, together with the injection of a special serum, has been followed by what friends describe as a complete restoration of Mrs. Blake's mental faculties. Those who have visited her recently say it is impossible to detect any marks of insanity. Physicians at the state hospital are confident a permanent cure will be effected.

FUR ROYALTIES FOLLOW TH EDECLINE IN PRICES

(Canadian Press)

WINNIPEG, Man., July 28.—Weakness of the American fur market, with its reflex action upon the sale of furs in Manitoba, has resulted in the provincial government readjusting the scale of royalties, taken on furs originating in Manitoba. A new schedule of royalties, reduced to approximately 50 per cent. of the tax as imposed at inception of the act last spring, has been made effective by an order-in-council.

HOW FARMERS WILL GET WHEAT MONEY

CERTIFICATES WILL BE REDEEMED AFTER AUGUST 2ND.

The Peterboro Cereal Co. have now received all information with regard to the payment of 30c per bus. now being made, and this payment can be obtained after August 2nd, in either of the two following ways:

First—By the holder of each certificate sending the participation certificate, properly endorsed, to the Canadian Wheat Board at 206 Royal Bank building, Toronto, under registered mail. Cheque will then be sent for 30c per bus. and this payment will be endorsed on the certificate, which will then be returned to the holder.

Second—By producing the participation certificate to a local bank, payment of 30c per bus. will be made, and the holder will be required to sign a form sent to the bank by the Canadian Wheat Board.

To reduce the chance of loss through the mails, the Wheat Board suggests that wherever possible, the certificates be presented through the banks. This, however, is optional.

RE PEAT FUEL

To the Public:

Several persons have been inquiring about peat and the prospect of obtaining some for use.

I am in a position to say, that if a sufficient number will leave their orders with Mr. J. E. A. Fitzgerald to warrant it, I can arrange to procure a car for Peterborough.

The freight here will make the price delivered at your residence about $11 per ton.

Yours truly
D. H. MOORE.

WEDDING BELLS

FOLEY—YOUNG.

St. Mary's Church, Young's Point, was thronged with friends of the contracting parties this morning at ten o'clock, when Miss Mollie Young, daughter of Mr. P. P. Young, of Young's Point, was united in marriage to Mr. J. P. Foley, of Toronto. The bride, who was given away by her father, entered the prettily decorated church to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Nell McAuley, and looked very sweet in her wedding gown of white taffeta and georgette. She wore the conventional veil and orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of roses. Miss Irene Young, the bride's sister, who acted as bridesmaid, was very prettily gowned in pink georgette and taffeta, and carried a huge shower bouquet of pink roses. Mr. Pat Young supported the groom. Mrs. P. P. Young, the bride's mother, wore a handsome gown of grey satin and georgette and a corsage bouquet of mauve sweet peas. High nuptial Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Meagher, of Lakefield, assisted by Rev. Dr. Tracey, of Toronto, and the visiting clergy present at the service were Father Miller and Father Gleanor, of Rochester, Father McAuley, of Ennismore, Father Peter Maguire and Father Phelan of Peterborough. During the signing of the register, Miss Molly Young, of Peterborough, sang "Ave Maria."

After the service about forty guests assembled at the home of the bride's parents, where in the dining-room, prettily decorated with roses, sweet peas, and ferns, wedding breakfast was served and the customary toasts given to the happy couple's future prosperity. Later Mr. and Mrs. Foley drove to Peterborough to catch the 3.20 train for Toronto, Mrs. Foley travelling in a smart suit of navy blue and black hat. The bride and groom were given a rousing send-off from the station by the occupants of several motors who drove to the city from Young's Point, to wish them God-speed on their honeymoon, which will be spent on a lake trip to Detroit, Buffalo, and Cleveland. Out-of-town guests included Mrs. J. Foley, of Toronto, the groom's mother, Miss Nell McAuley, of Peterborough, Mr. Con and Mr. Leo and Miss Mollie Young, of Peterborough, Miss Ruth Murphy and Mr. Bert Herbert, of Rochester. Practically every resident of Young's Point was also present, the bride having been one of the most popular young ladies in the district.

OBITUARY

JAS. W. LATIMER.

James Wellington Latimer was born on August 28th, 1857, and died at his home on lot 4, concession 6, of the Township of South Monaghan, on July 23rd, 1920. He was a hard working, honest, faithful farmer who by his candid and kindly manner won many friends who cherish the memory of his life. On April 7th, 1895, he was united in marriage to M. Matilda Cooney, who, with their only daughter, Mrytle V. W., fourteen years of age, is left to mourn his early departure. For the last few years there has been evidence of physical weakness, occasioned by stomach trouble and anemia, but during the last six weeks he was bed-fast and finally entered into rest on Friday last. The funeral service was conducted by his pastor, Rev. M. W. Leigh, B.A., of Fraserville, on Sunday afternoon, July 25th, and after the impressive service at the house the body was laid to rest in the Fraserville Cemetery. The pallbearers were Joseph Madill, George Moncrief, John A. Jones, Matthew Clarke, Harry Clarke and G. B. Cooney.

In addition to the wife and daughter there are left two brothers, Richard C., at home, and William A., in Minnesota, and one sister, Mrs. John A. Jones, of Fenelon Falls.

"LOG" OF THE ROAD LINDSAY-PETERBORO'

To reach the famous Kawartha Lakes by automobile, a convenient route is to travel to Lindsay or Peterboro'. From either of these points various roads radiate to sections of country that are ideal for camping, fishing, boating and bathing. The route directions from Toronto to Lindsay (76.5 miles) were published in the automobile section of The Globe July 10. The following is the "log" of the road from Lindsay to Peterboro':

BRAZIL TAKING CENSUS.

Population is Expected to Exceed 23,000,000.

RIO DE JANEIRO.—Thousands of workers are now engaged in taking what is said will be the most complete census Brazil has ever had. Official statistics at the present time give the population of Brazil as approximately 23,000,000, but Dr. Carvalho, the director general of statistics, told The Associated Press that these figures are much too low. Rio de Janeiro, although credited with 900,000 population, really has more than 1,000,000, he says.

British Mission Advises Military Aid for Poland

SUPPLIES OF MUNITIONS NEEDED AND ALLIED OFFICERS TO TRAIN THE POLES—SOVIET FORCES CLAIM GAINS ON ALL FRONTS AGAINST FIERCE RESISTANCE.

FRENCH OFFICERS ARRIVE

(Canadian Press.)

PRIS, July 29.—The Franco-British mission to Poland has made a report on the military situation in that country, which it declares is not so desperate but that it can be retrieved without great difficulty if the mission there remain. The mission recommends the immediate sending of munitions to Poland and the employment of six hundred French and two hundred British officers. Thirdly a regrouping of the Polish army, notably the moving if troops frm the Galician to the northern front.

OPEN OFFICERS' SCHOOL.

WARSAW, July 29. — Additional French officers attached to the military mission have arrived. All of them will be assigned to various Polish units as technical advisers. A large school for officers under the supervision of French officers; was opened to-day at Rambertoff, a suburb of Warsaw.

Newspapers continue to express their contention that the Soviets do not want peace but desire to invade Poland. They say it is clear from what is developing in the north-east that the Bolsheviki are aiming directly at Warsaw, and that in the south they are marching upon Lemberg.

The Bolshevik drive from the north-east along Bielystok railroad and the thrust in Galicia in the direction of Lemberg are developing rapidly despite Polish resistance on both wings. In the centre the Poles hold Pinsk, but if the Red advance continues the Poles will be compelled to evacuate the Pripet country. The Pinsk-Brest Litovsk railroad already is threatened. In Galicia fighting has reached a point 70 kilometres east of Lemberg, with the Bolsheviki bearing down upon the city from three directions.

LUDENDORFF'S PRICE TO FIGHT SOVIET

LUDENDORFF

PARIS, July 29.—General Ludendorff is reported, in a Berlin despatch to the Journal, to have made an offer to the British Charge d'Affaires at Berlin to "raise an army of a million and a half men to fight the Bolsheviki in Russia, in exchange for the return to Germany of Posen and the annulment of certain clauses in the Versailles Treaty, among them those dealing with Dantzic and the Polish corridor."

BRIDGE COST NOT GUARANTEED

MR. BARBER DOESN'T EVEN STAKE HIS PROFESSIONAL REPUTATION THAT $100,000 WILL BE ENOUGH TO COMPLETE THE WORK. MR. R. R. HALL EMPHASIZES—RATEPAYERS HAVE HAD FACTS SET BEFORE THEM.

Engineer Barber does not even stake his professional reputation by publicly declaring in writing that the bridge can be completed for $100,000, in accordance with his plans and specifications.

Smith Street Bridge, designed by the late City Engineer Thomas A. Hay, cost only $35,000 to build and complete.

The approaches to the Hunter Street Bridge alone down to date have cost the taxpayers about $300,000. What will the bridge itself cost?

The east side abutment is not built on rock, but is built on a clay foundation. Can this abutment withstand the enormous pressure of a concrete arch weighing thousands of tons?

The west side abutment is now being built, and the enormous mass of concrete, according to skilled engineers, would take nearly a year to properly set. Are the ratepayers willing to risk their money in the construction of a concrete arch that will, owing to its enormous weight, sink into the raw, green concrete quicker than the taxpayer can vote away his money?

Remember the Hunter Street Bridge has a history. It was once built of cast-iron. No allowance was made for contraction and expansion by heat and cold, and one cold night it gave way and fell into the river. A concrete arch is also subjected to contraction and expansion about the same as cast-iron.

The great autocrat is caged in Holland, but the little Autocrat is still at large. He says if the taxpayers do not vote for this by-law that a rate will be imposed this year by a special assessment to pay the cost of the completion of the bridge. It is sufficient to say the Municipal Act gives the Council no such power. It cannot be done.

The property owners only are qualified to vote. Those who are opposed to the by-law and remain at home and do not vote will thereby let someone else vote away their money.

Everyone who is opposed to the by-law should come out and vote against it.

There will be no material delay in the completion of the bridge by voting against the by-law. The concrete approaches would have to have time to harden before even a steel structure could be erected upon them, and in the meantime City Engineer Parsons could prepare his plans for the completion of the bridge by a flat construction steel bridge, and then the ratepayers will know what the bridge will actually cost to complete.

City Engineer Parsons is under salary. Hence the city would not be put to any extra expense on account of engineer's fees.

The City Council must have known months ago that the bridge could not be built for $260,000. Why did they not then take the taxpayers into their confidence and tell them so, before thrusting this white elephant upon them?

Even if the by-law is not defeated, the larger the vote against it on this coming Friday the better will be the lesson to future Councils.

In any event, if the ratepayers vote for the by-law and carry it, no one will have any cause to complain if another $100,000 is required to complete the bridge, because the taxpayer will know full well that he has voted for the by-law with his mouth open and his eyes shut.

RUM FORCES OVERAWE THE INSPECTORS

ARTIE EDMUNDS, FORMER WRESTLING CHAMPION, QUITS JOB WITH DIARY OF CHARGES AGAINST LICENSE DEPARTMENT.

HAD TWO HETIC WEEKS

(Special to the Examiner.)

WINDSOR, July 29.—"Artie" Edmunds, former light weight champion wrestler of the world, the last provincial license officer to be appointed here, is done with the job and left for Toronto early this morning with a diary that contains serious charges against the methods of the License Department. In brief his claim is that so undermanned is the Windsor Provincial license squadron that they have been afraid time and time again to make an adequate search—that, time and again authorative clues that would have led to the conviction of the most notorious roadhouses have been neglected owing to lack of force He complains that he was repeatedly sent into most dangerous positions without the reasonable protection of a gun. A perfect system of espionage is maintained he believes from the very door of the license offices, and so he is leaving the bootlegger's country after fifteen packed days and nights that he will dream of till his last hour.

THE BYLAWS AND THOSE ENTITLED TO VOTE

Only property owners are eligible to vote on the Bridge and Otonabee Mills bylaws to-morrow because of the direct outlay of money involved. All electors may vote on the Raybestos bylaw. The polling bootns will open at 9 o'clock in the morning and remain open till 5 o'clock.

HYDRO ACTS WITHOUT GOVERNMENT'S CONSENT

HAS MADE RADIAL COMMITMENTS DESPITE STAYINGORDER.

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, July 29.—That there promises to be an interesting state of affairs within the next few days as a result of the Hydro-Electric Commissoin making commitments on radial matters after the Drury government had ordered all action in this matter to be stayed pending the report of its Royal Commission is the opinion expressed in local circles to-day. It is pointed out by legal authorities that the Hydro Commission cannot go ahead without the government's consent to every transaction under section four of the Hydro-Electric Railway Act no agreement between Hydro and any municipality may be submitted to electors nor any by-law for that purpose be proceeded with by a municipality until the terms of agreement have received sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council.

Irish Nationalists Now Favour Dominion Home Rule Measure

SENTIMENT VEERING WITH SUPPORT OF FREEMAN'S JOURNAL AND WOULD ACCEPT COUNTY OPTION FOR ULSTER—SINN FEIN INFLUENCE STRONGEST FORCE.

DUBLIN, July 28.—Renewed activity is apparent in Irish political circles favoring dominion home rule as a satisfactory settlement. In addition to Sir Horace Plunkett's Dominion League, which makes a new appeal for funds, many Irishmen of all parties are prompted by Mr. Lloyd George's recent announcements to press forward a plan different from the Dominion League's plan for agreeing to allow the Ulster counties to vote themselves out.

Nationalists hitherto violently opposed to this course, as being a partition of Ireland, have come round to favor it and have the support of The Freeman's Journal, which in recent months under a new proprietorship could not be distinguished from the Sinn Fein organs.

In agreeing to waive the republican claim and to accept county option for Ulster, important groups have met both of the premier's indispensable conditions.

The crux of the whole situation is the attitude of the Sinn Fein leaders who in the press and on the platform continue to repudiate all compromises.

But the story circulated privately that Eamonn de Valera has sent word that a dominion settlement should be accepted and that several leading Sinn Feiners at home believe this to be the best policy, though not generally credited, has affected many minds and is responsible to some extent for the more sanguine outlook.

In circles in touch with official opinion it is believed that the government will insist on passing the present home rule bill at the autumn session, though indicating willingness, in response to representations of influential Irishmen under Lord Dunraven's leadership, to improve its financial terms and extend the power conferred under it.

To all these activities the Sinn Fein leaders oppose changing indifference and disdain. The only terms on which they are willing to meet the premier, it is declared, embrace the recognition of Ireland as an independent nation. This conceded, they would be willing to meet him to negotiate a treaty of peace between England and Ireland.

Powerful influence on the Sinn Fein policy is exerrised by the republican army, which numbers more than 200,000, and has been described as occupying towards the Dail Eireann the same relations as Cromwell's Ironsides did to the Commonwealth parliament.

The Bridge By-Law

The discussion regarding the Bridge Bylaw makes it clearer that the Bylaw should be carried and that the work should proceed.

If the contractors at present carrying on the work have to leave it, they will take with them their machinery and plant, and it will be expensive to get another plant on the ground. Besides as they have their organization and everything running they can finish it at least as cheaply, and no doubt more cheaply, than anyone else.

The defeat of the Bylaw would mean a year's delay. The piles are now in place for the main arch, and it is doubtful if they would be standing in place after the floods and ice of the Spring. The temporary bridge, which is on piles, was damaged last spring, and would scarcely stand through another. Then there is also the question of possible damage to the arches and other work that has been completed.

Against these dangers and losses nothing would be gained by delay. No change can be made in the design of the bridge to lessen the cost. A change would mean throwing away the work that has been done towards the construction of the main arch, and with no advantage to offset this heavy loss.

The defeat of the bylaw and the consequent delay, will not only mean trouble, but also expense that will have to be added to the cost of the bridge.

The cheapest way to finish the bridge is to proceed with the work.

The only sensible thing to do is to carry the Bylaw.

I would urge the voters to protect their interests by going to the polls on Friday and voting for the Bylaw.

Yours truly,

JAMES HAMILTON,

2d25 174 5 Chairman Special Bridge Committee.

GREEK WAR SWIFT AND BLOODLESS

JAFAR TAYAR AND HIS STAFF CAPTURED—TURK RESISTANCE HAS ENDED—100 CASUALTIES.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 28. — Col. Jafar Tayar, Turkish Nationalist commander at Adrianople, and his entire staff were captured by the Greeks when the latter entered Adrianople. Consequently Nationalist resistance in Thrace virtually has ended, as there is no other important Turkish leader there.

Sweeping Trace clean of Nationalist bands is considered easy for the Greeks, who control all the strategic railway points, having taken Kirk-Kilisseh yesterday. It is expected regular operation of trains will be resumed within a week.

King Alexander of Greece was given a great demonstration on entering Adrianople yesterday. The city was slightly damaged by shell fire.

Run Like Chickens.

ATHENS, July 28.—Greek military operations have been relatively bloodless, but successful, because of the rapidity of the Greek movements. They seem to appear at the right time and place with overwhelming forces, causing the morale of the Turks to break both in the Asia Minor and Thracian campaigns.

"When the Greeks debarked at Rodosto a week ago, the soldiers throwing themselves into the sea, the quicker to get ashore, the Turkish commander of the fifty-fifth division is reported to have telephoned the Nationalist commander at Adrianople, Colonel Jafar Tayar:

"I cannot hold out; my soldiers are running away like chickens."

Greek troops operating in Trace total 50,000; those in the Asia Minor campaign, 90,000. They are well equipped and experienced soldiers.

It is estimated there were as few as 100 casualties among the Turks and Greeks in Thrace; but a few thousand have been reported in the Asia Minor campaign.

Before the Greeks entered Adrianople Sunday they completely surrounded the city. Sustained attacks resulted in the capture of the city within twenty-four hours. The resistence offered by the defenders was slight and proved ineffective.

Colonel Jafar Tayar, commander of the Turkish Nationalist forces holding the city, attempted to get a twenty-four hour cessation of hostilities on Saturday, promising to evacuate the city. The Greeks, however, refused this offer and continued the encircling movement, which practically cut off the Turks and made possible the canture of many prisoners and quantities of munitions.

LONDON, July 25.—Great Britain France and Italy are in complete agreement regarding the negotiations with the Russian Soviet Government, despite statements to contrary made by sensational and inaccurate newspapers, declared Lloyd George to-day in the House of Commons in replying to questions concerning the Boulogne Conference.

MONUMENT TO EVANGELINE.

UNVEILED AT GRANDPRE BY LADY BURNHAM TO-DAY.

(Canadian Press.)

HALIFAX, N.S., July 29.—To-day, beneath the shadows of the willow trees that adorn the little park at the village of Grandpre, in Nova Scotia, which marks the site of the old Acadian village where the gentle Evangeline, immortalised in Canadian romance by Longfellow's magic pen, lived and loved—a monument to the memory of that ill-fated maiden was unveiled by Lady Burnham, wife of Lord Burnham, the leader of the Imperial Press delegates, now visiting this Dominion.

A LITTLE SYMPATHY, PLEASE.

Open Cut-outs on Hunter Street East Disturb Sick Person.

Automobilists on Hunter Street E. are attempting to assuage their ennui by opening their "cut-outs" and amusing themselves with more noise than an ordinary gang of small boys could make, despite the fact that a woman on the hill on Hunter Street East lies at the point of death. Unless this is stopped, it is proposed to take legal action and prosecute the offenders.

THERE WILL BE A SPECIAL MEETING OF THE EXECUTIVE OF THE PETERBORO BRANCH, G.W.V.A., ON FRIDAY EVENING, 30TH JULY. EVERY MEMBER IS EXPECTED TO ATTEND.

EXTINGUISH FIRES BY THROWING ROCKS

TEXAN CHIEF WHO EXTINGUISHES FIRES IN OIL DISTRICT.

TORONTO, July 29.—"Throwing rocks" was the novel means of fire-fighting recommended by Chief Charles E. Buttommer, of Ranger, Texas, at a round-table discussion at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the convention of Fire Engineers at the Exhibition Grounds. The suggestion caused a rippler of laughter, which turned to serious attention when Chief Buttommer, a young man, received the endorsation of one of the older members, Chief Esprey, of Elmira, N.Y. The discussion had turned to the fighting of oil fires, when the Ranger chief rose to speak. He explained that in the neighborhood of his town, the drain oil accumulated on sloughs and creeks. "When that oil starts to burn," he declared, "you have got to get yourself some rocks and throw them at the fire." When his fellow members laughed, he remarked, "If you don't think that puts a fire out, just come to Ranger and I'll show you." He also informed the gathering, "You need plenty of rocks, and when you start to drive the fire back, keep it going."

Chief Esprey amplified the explanation of the process by stating that he used his steamer for much the same purpose, throwing the stream into the air so that the water came down in a spray, which blanketted the fire and put it out. The rocks, he said, acted in much the same way, causing a spray and cutting a channel through the burning film of oil on the water.

GOMPERS CONDEMNS CLOSING OF SHOPS AND DISMISSALS

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Mentioning the suspension of operations by the American Woollen Co., and the announced intention of the Pennsylvania railway to reduce its working force, Samuel Gompers, President of American Federation of Labor, in a statement last night declared that "the action of corporations which today lay off thousands of men is nothing less than a tremendous indictment of the management and a heinous offence against the people in need of every possible ounce of production".

"The Federation of Labor," Mr. Gompers further asserted, "at all hazards will resist wage reductions." Organized labor," he added, "would not tolerate pay roll cuts." Discussing the Woolen Company's action further, Mr. Gompers said it had increased its net income in 1919 three-hundred and sixteen per cent. over 1914 and its common stock earnings five hundred and thirty one per cent. The Pennsylvania he added plans to lay off twelve thousand men.

$100,000 DAMAGE TO ST. THOMAS FACTORIES

FIRE IN CANADA IRON FOUNDR AND DOMINION BREAK SHOE CO.

(Special to The Examiner.)

ST. THOMAS, Ont., July 29.—Fire, originating from an unknown source, completely destroyed the pattern storage department, pattern room, and a portion of the roof of the casting foundry of the Canada Iron Foundries, Ltd., and the material sheds and shipping building of the Dominion Brake Shoe Co., Ltd., early this morning.

The total damage is estimated at $100,000, partly covered by insurance.

FIRE CHIEFS WILL GO TO ATLANTA, GA., IN 1921

(Canadian Press)

TORONTO, July 29.—Fire Chief John J. Healy, of Denver, Col., was this morning unanimously elected president of the International Association of Fire Chiefs at the concluding session of the convention here. Chief Frank Reynolds, of Augusta, Ga., was moved up from second to first vice-presidency. The city of Atlanta, Ga., was unimously selected as the meeting place for next year's convention.

BANDITS RAID BANK; GET AWAY WITH $10,000

(Canadian Press)

JACKSON, Mich., July 29.—Three armed bandits to-day entered the Farmers' State Bank at Grace Lake, seven miles east of here, locked the cashier and his assistant in the cage and escaped in a motor car after looting the bank. Officials of bank said loss might reach ten thousand dollars.

FIND ELEVATOR OPERATOR CRIMINALLY NEGLIGENT

TORONTO, July 29.—The coroner's jury that enquired into the death of Marie B. Bennett on July 22nd returned a verdict stating that John Johnston operator of the elevator in the premises of the Canadian General Electric Company on King street west, was guilty of criminal negligence. The evidence offered showed that the deceased was in the basement and went to enter the elevator but the operator did not stop and she was crushed between the floor of the elevator and the ground floor of the building. The company is censured for not having a competent operator for the elevator, and a recommendation was made that a by-law be passed making the act of starting an elevator without first closing the door criminally negligent.

DRUG RESTRICTIONS IN FORCE SEPT. 1ST

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, July 29.— The opium evil is fast being overcome, according to Dr. J. A. Amyot, Assistant Director of Health, who is back from an extensive trip across the Dominion. The Act further to regulate the drug traffic is to come into force on Sept. 1st next. This Act concerns every person dealing in any way with preparations containing opium and compels dealers to make entry of shipments of drugs both to and from Canada. It also limits the places of entry to and export from Canada.

A PROVINCIAL HIGHWAY.

Mr. Tooms Informed That Port Hope Road Will be Assumed Soon.

Mr. T. Tooms has been notified by W. A. McLean, Deputy-Minister of Highways, that the road from Port Hope to Peterborough will be taken oer as a provincial highway on Wednesday, August 11th. The preliminary route plans have already been prepared and are being filed with the registrar of this county. Public notice will be given at once of the province's intention of assuming the road as a provincial highway.

BLACK GRANITE LATEST MINERAL FIND IN HASTINGS

BANCROFT, July 28.—Black granite, a comparatively new mineral, was recently added to the list to be found in the northern part of Hastings county, and experts claim to have found a prominent showing in several localities, and that the sample shown is as good as can be found elsewhere in the Dominion. This may result in a plant being erected which will be worked to full capacity.

Tackle which enables one man to load hogs on a motor truck with the aid of its power has been patented by an Arkansas inventor.

J. P. FINED $200 FOR HAVING LIQUOR

Prosecution Claimed That There Were More Than Three Roomers in House.

KINGSTON, Ont., July 27.—Frederick Foxton, Justice of the Peace, Sydenham was this morning fined $200 and costs or three months by Justices of the Peace Hunter and Rattan for having liquor in a place other than his private dwelling. License Inspector William McCammon who laid the charge, told of the receipt by the defendant of a five-gallon keg of liquor on June 2nd, another five-gallon keg on June 23. The prosecution claimed the accused had the liquor as lawfully as there were more than boarders and roomers in the house. On July 13th the license inspector searched his house and found an empty keg and another keg containing two gallons of liquor. A. B. Cunninghaam, solicitor for Foxton, will enter an appeal on the grounds that the liquor was not found in the house while the boarders and roomers were there.

PREDICTS TIE-UP OF AMERICAN INDUSTRIES

Unauthorized Strikes of Coal Miners Spread Through Middle-West.

CHICAGO, July 28.—Starving for coal, the nation's industries will lapse into unconsciousness before another ten days of unauthorized strikes of coal miners, E. C. Searles, president of the United States Coal Operators' Association, predicted to-day.

Coal authorities throughout the Middle West to-day concurred in the opinion that Illinois, Indiana and Kansas miner's strike threatens "the most serious situation the country has faced industrially."

Reports to-day indicated the strike was spreading. Further defections in Indiana and Kansas mines were reported. Iowa miners prepared to confer to-morrow with operators, in hopes of securing wage advances and forestalling a strike. Authorities declaring the strike stream sweeping eastward, anticipated it would break into flood volume before the week-end.

POLES ARE RESISTING FIERCELY SOVIET REPORT

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, July 29.—Continued advances along virtually the whole front against the Poles are reported in Wednesday's official communique from Moscow, received by wireless to-day. The statement reads: "Southwest of Grodno we are driving back the enemy, who is resisting fiercely in some places. In the Polesia region our advance is continuing; in the Tarnopol region our advance is developing successfully and we have driven the Poles to the right bank of the Sereth. In the Crimean sector fierce fighting continues in Alexandrovsk-Oriekhoff region."

VIRTUOUS WIVES

By OWEN JOHNSON

The thought of bills, large or small, had always annoyed him, and now, confronted with the specter of Amy's extravagance, he had begun to age. As he moved up and down, immersed in gloomy thoughts, his stride had lost its alacrity. Deprived of his morning gallop, he had grown soft and a slight embonpoint had arrived. Lines had gathered about the eyes and temples. His lips had a trick of twitching when his mind was perplexed, and day or night he found it increasingly difficult to relax.

"Well, if the cub's there—that'll settle it!" he thought again, his mind reverting to the approaching crisis. "Anyhow, in a few hours I'll know were I stand."

During the long isolation in Mexico, he had felt, with an increased heaviness of heart, the change in her letters. It had been not only their increasing rarity, but the growing note of complete self-absorption which had warned him of the widening chasm between them. The only result of his self-abnegation had been to give wings to a butterfly, with which to escape from him.

Like most American men, he had married without the slightest contemplation of marriage. He had had no conception either of the new duties he should assume or what share of responsibility in this new attitude of life he would eventually demand from his wife. He had plunged in, without chart or compass. No religious training had prepared him, no home standards existed for the necessary background. The second period had now arrived, when he was to examine logically what he had done on impulse.

"But what have I done that was wrong?" he asked himself, as he had a hundred times. "Where have I failed? Given without asking anything in return? Perhaps." That was the tragedy of America, and the result was the same, whether it was the husband in his chivalry, sacrificing himself to the youth of his wife, or the parents, educating their children beyond them in the passionate American longing to raise those they loved above them. "I should have made her follow me. I suppose now it is too late," he said abruptly.

The incoming crowds surged about him, whistles shrieking in his ear, great volumes of heavy vapor blowing under the resounding roof. It recalled the first parting in the Grand Central Station, when, by some impulse of her deeper self, some omnious shrinking before the future, she had clung as his side and begged to go with him.

"How queer—how queer life is!" he thought, with a laugh of mockery. "There was one moment when everything might have been different—a moment when I would have let her—if we had been alone—just us two—if the others hadn't been there. And if she had asked the next time—" He shrugged his shoulders. There had been no next time!

The whistle gave a shrill blast. Sam called to him in warning. He swung up the steps and returned to his seat.

"Well, here I am, and what am I going to do about it?" he said, sorting the new pile of periodicals and newspapers. "Face the music, of course. Other men have, and life goes on just the same."

Perkins came in after dinner, and he welcomed the interruption with a feeling of relief.

"Come in, come in, Perkins; here's your cigar—and it's a pretty good one," he said, extending the box. "Take a couple away for a good dinner when you get home. Well, what's your opinion on this little world of ours?"

The thin conductor seected the cigars with an air of veneration, pocketed two and bith a third, after pinching the end, in order to save the precious fraction.

"Thank you, Mr. Forrester; that will help a lot," he said beaming with a feeling of good humor. Forrester communicated to those who approached him. He brought forward a newspaper. "Notice this?"

"No, what is it?"

"Picture of your missus."

Forrester took the paper, drawing back and nodding gravely. Before him was the exquisite profile of his wife and underneath

MRS. ANDREW B. FORRESTER
Whose Versailles Fete to-night is an Event of the Season.

"Yes; she is extraordinarily pretty," he said to himself, examining it critically. "Quite different from anyone else." A thrill of pride went through him. "Is it possible that I am in love with her?" he asked himself anxiously. "That I can still be in love with her?"

"Quite a story about the ball," said Perkins admiringly. "Description of the costumes and all that. Guess every one worth while will be there, won't they?"

"You seem quite interested," said Forrester. He laid down the paper, pushing it a little away from him. This was a new side of Perkins—whose salary, whose struggles, and perplexities and hopes he knew, as he liked to know the inner mechanism of all lives.

"My missus thinks a lot about such things". Perkins said apologetically. "You see, knowing that I know you, she's been specially interested in this. She says it's the most elegant thing this year."

A fantastic idea came to Forrester. What if he gave Mrs. Perkins the chance to gaze upon this paradise of her imagination? It could easily be arranged —all she would need to do would be to help upstairs. But immediately, looking at Perkins, he said to himself angrily:

"I must be crazy! Do him such an injustice? Not by a long shot!"

Out loud he said:

"So Mrs. Perkins reads the social column, eh?"

Perkins nodded gloomily.

"She's daffy on it." He blew out a fragrant cloud of smoke, and looked at Forrester inquiringly. "Mr. Forrester, what's a gotten into the women folks these days?"

"Well, what do you think is wrong?" he answered defensively, startled at a question which came so close to his own perplexities.

"Search me," said Perkins, shaking his head. He started to continue the subject, hesitated awkwardly, and switched. "What kind of openings re there down in Mexico for a feilow like myself?"

"For you, Perkins?"

"Yes, for me. I've ben wanting to make a shift," he said, looking at the end of his cigar with the gravity that one assumes with brass buttons. He tugged at his chopped whiskers. "Yes Mr. Forrester, for a long time." He looked up quickly, deciding to plunge in. "You couldn't use me somwhere could you Mr. Forrester?"

"Mexico's a long way off," he answered, studying him in surprise, "and just at present it's no place for women."

"I wasn't thinking of taking the missus."

"Oh!" A silence rested between them. "Trouble of some sort?" said Forrester finally.

"Yes."

"Not in the family?"

Perkins began to play with the brass buttons on his uniform clearing his throat nervously.

"Well, that's about it. I want to get away."

"Sorry to hear that," said Forrester, startled at the conjunction of circumstances.

"Mr. Forrester, what's got into the women folks these days?" the conductor repeated all at once, and Forrester, at a loss for an answer, replied again:

"Well, who do you think's the matter?"

"You can search me!" Perkins said staring out of the window. "It was all right the first years, until I got a couple of raises—until we settled in the city. Mr. Forrester, I think it's the dance craze, got a lot to do with it. It does turn their heads, particularly if they're young and pretty." He stopped, opened a pocketbook, and brought out a photograph. "Never showed you this, did I? Quite smart looking girl, isn't she?"

"Very," said Forrester, glancing in wonder at Perkins' wife, who might have walked out of his own drawing-room.

"Some style," said the conductor, with a touch of pride.

Forrester nodded, pursed his lips, and handed back the photograph.

"You have to pay for what goes on that back, Perkins."

"Exactly—that's the point," he said slowly. "That's where we differ—one of the points. You see, I'm thinking ahead—there's a good ways to go still, and it takes a powerful store of nuts."

"Saved anything?"

"Six hundred in the bank—six hundred, that's all," he said wearily. He drew aside and nodded; then he sat up with a jerk.

KANSAS HARVESTS GREAT WHEAT CROP

SECOND LARGEST IN HISTORY OF STATE SURPASSED ONLY BY THAT OF 1914.

Kansas has harvested the second largest crop of winter wheat in its history, amounting to 147,035,665 bushels. The record crop was 180,000,000 bushels in 1914. The crop last year was 145,795,455 bushels.

Average yield this year is 16.46 bushels an acre. Quality of grain is extra good, and will grade mostly 1 and 2, with a smaller quantity No. 3. The area harvested was 8,943,008 acres. Ideal weather during June, when the grain was filling and heading, acounts for a considerable increase in the yield per acre. The State Secretary of Agriculture says, in part:

"Contrary to last year's experience when unfavourable weather just preceding harvest reduced yield far below pre-harvest estimates, this year the weather was well-nigh ideal for the filling and maturing of the grain and yields are turning out better than the growers anticipated throughout the main portion of principal wheat-growing territory. This fact, along with the larger acreage as shown by sworn assessors' returns received in the past month, acounts for the very material increase in aggregate yield as now reported, compared to the indicated output of 110,000,000 bushels as suggested in the Board's report of 15th June.

"The 50 counties comprising the northern half of the state report an average yield per acre of 19.4 bushels, and 87,577,420 bushels of the total yield, while the 55 counties of the southern half average 13.3 bushels an acre, with 59,458,236 bushels of the aggregate output."

FORD INCREASES OUTPUT.

To Produce 4,000 Cars a Day for the Fiscal Year Beginning August.—More Steel Wanted.

That the Ford Motor Car Co. does not look for a falling off in the demand for its product is indicated in the fact that it is planning to produce 4,000 cars a day for the fiscal year beginning 1st August. The company has notified the steel mills with which it does business that an increased allotment of steel is required.

Ford has been turning out about 3,500 cars a day for the last few months, this having been increased from an average production of 3,000 cars a day last year.

To what extent the Ford Company's action can be taken as a criterion of the automotive industry in general can be judged from the fact that since 1916 Ford has produced about 50 per cent. of the passenger automobiles turned out each year in the United States.

AUTOMOBILE VEHICLE MAKERS DENY CLOSING.

Charge that Reports are Circulated to Create Bear Market in Motor Stock.

DETROIT, July 28.—Automotive vehicle manufacturers of Detroit are incensed at reports being circulated in various sections of the country to the effect that their factories are being closed because of wholesale cancellations of orders.

Unscrupulous individuals, it is thought, are circulating these reports as a means of creating a "bear" market in motor stocks for the benefit of short interests.

"Detroit industries are operating within 5 per cent. of normal," said the secretary of Commerce Board. "It is true that one factory let out 750 men, but another took on exactly 750 and has since been adding to this number. Motor car and truck factories here have more business than they can handle. On top of this there is a great foreign demand that these companies have been unable to take advantage of."

—where babies do their growing

That's the kind of a baby to have—drops right off without any fuss, as soon as his meal is finished.

The baby nourished on Eagle Brand is a comfort to the whole household. For as every nurse and mother knows, sound sleep depends on proper feeding, especially in hot weather.

Borden's Eagle Brand is the safe and reliable infant food when Nature's supply is insufficient. It is prepared from rich cow's milk, and even in the withering heat of midsummer it is uniformly pure with no possibility of contamination. It is easily digestible, wholesome and economical with a 63 year record as the standard infant food.

OATS FULLY FIVE FEET HIGH IN OXFORD COUNTY.

WOODSTOCK, July 29.—The Oxford County oat crop this year will be the best in many years, reports say. The yield will be a record-breaker. The stalks are fully five feet high, and entirely free from blight of any description. The berry is large and plump and the yield is expected to run about 55 bushels to the acre or more. If the weather continues fine the earlier varieties of oats and mixed grain will be in readiness by the first week in August. The Oxford wheat crop is also expected to be a record-breaker, and the county's oat and mixed grain crop this year will aggregate close to five million bushels.

GREENWICH OBSERVATORY.

New Inventions That Keep Pace with Latest Scientific Knowledge.

Once every year a rather quaint ceremony is observed at Greenwich Observatory. An inspection of the Observatory is made by a "Board of Visitors," to whom the Astronomer-Royal presents a report of the work of the preceding twelve months. The latest report shows that although the Observatory was founded centuries ago, at the very dawn of scientific navigation, it keeps in line with the latest developments.

A new aerial has been erected to extend the range over which wireless time signals can be received. These signals are now received regularly from the Eiffel Tower, Nauen, and Annapolis. The Observatory also controls the operation of time-balls in different parts of the country. These time-balls are hoisted on a prominent mast and released at specific hours by an electric signal from the Observatory. The accuracy of the operation is checked by a return signal from the distant time-ball.

Greenwich also controls "Big Ben," the famous clock of the Houses of Parliament.

TWELFTH EDITION OF ENCYCLOPAEDIA BRITANNICA

Mr. Hugh Chisholm, who has been editor of The Encyclopaedia Britannica since 1904, is at work upon the preparation of New Volumes to be added to the present 11th Edition and has a large staff at work, both in London and New York. The Editor estimates that almost 70 per cent. of the new matter will be devoted to questions connected with the War, for, although every subject needing fresh treatment will be brught up to date, there are not many miscellaneous developments which call for extended additional space apart from such special activities as aviation, automobiles, moving pictures and a few other among the industrial, economic and social advances reflected in the opportune census of the United States for 1920. The Supplement will consist of three volumes, each of the same size, and containing about the same amount of matter, as the volumes now in use; and these three, in combination with the existing 29 of the 11th Edition, will constitute the 12th Edition, completely providing for the needs of the English speaking world during a great many years to come.

The Editor expects to have the new volumes completed for delivery to the public next year.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

THURSDAY, JULY 29TH, 1920.

SHOULD BE PASSED.

The by-laws aiding the Otonabee Mills Company and authorizing the conveyance of the Henry Hope property to the Canadian Raybestos Company should receive the hearty support of the citizens to-morrow, for both measures represent an industrial gain for Peterborough. The Board of Trade at a meeting last week unanimously endorsed both of these by-laws and urged their adoption, and at the meeting of the Trades and Labour Council last night, at which the by-laws were discussed, the measures were approved. These representative bodies having expressed their opinion on the matter, the electors need have little doubt as to the wisdom of passing the two industrial by-laws. It should be understood, however, that while all electors have a vote on the Canadian Raybestos by-law, only property holders are entitled to a ballot on the Otonabee Mills by-law.

THE NOVA SCOTIA RESULT.

Evidently the slogan, "It's time for a change" has no appeal for electors of Nova Scotia, for the Murray government after being in office continuously for the past thirty-eight years, was on Tuesday returned to power again by a majority of seventeen seats in a House of forty-three members. The result in these days of of political turmoil and unrest is a tribute to Premier G. H. Murray, who has been at the head of the government for the past twenty-four years, and to his associates. It is evident that the Murray administration still firmly holds the confidence of the people and that the electors realize that the government has not allowed its long stay in office to induce stagnation and lethargy.

The chief feature of the results, aside from the confidence shown in the Murray government has been the almost complete disappearance of the old opposition, which has succeeded in returning only one member as against eleven in the election of 1916. The new forces which have caused such havoc in political fights in other parts of Canada, the United Farmers and the Labour Party, made their appearance in the Nova Scotia election and as a result the new Legislature will have seven Farmer and five Labour members, the new parties being successful chiefly against the old opposition.

STILL DEADLOCKED.

The United Farmers and the Labour interests in West Peterborough are having as much difficulty in endeavouring to reach an understanding as to a candidate for the by-election in this riding as Sir Thomas Lipton has had in trying to lift the America's Cup. Local efforts have failed and the next move is to consult the big guns of the respective parties. The provincial executives of the U. F. O. and the Independent Labour Party are to be called upon to settle the issue. A rather peculiar conception of democracy, this attempt to have Provincial headquarters dictate to the electors in the riding as to what candidate they shall select, but it is apparent the local forces are thoroughly deadlocked. The meeting on Tuesday night utterly failed to bring the two factions together. The U.F.O. forces want a farmer candidate; the Labour interests are just as insistent that a labour representative shall be chosen, and there you are. And a funny feature of the situation is that the Farmers themselves are divided as to a candidate. Unless J. J Morrison and other Provincial leaders succeed in pouring oil on the troubled waters, both Farmers and Labour will have candidates in the fight and it would not be surprising if there were two farmer aspirants. West Peterborough never had such an interesting political tangle as exists at present, and the contest promises to be one of the most complicated on record.

CLEANING UP THE BORDER.

The announcement of the steps taken by Attorney-General Raney to put an end to the unbearable conditions that exist in the Windsor and Essex district as a result of illicit traffic in liquir will be welcomed by the law-abiding people of Ontario, and there will be general hope that the instructions issued by the Attorney-General and the appointment of new officials will have the effect of causing a much-needed improvement. The lawlessness that has been in existence along the border in the past few months has been enough to shame Ontario. Whiskey runners, thugs and crooks have flocked into the Windsor district from all parts of the continent, many of them from the United States. There has been a carnival of crime and debauchery; road houses where scenes of depravity and vice have been nightly affairs have been allowed to control their activities unchecked. The police officials, it is charged, have not attempted to do their duty and there has been a laxity on the part of the local authorities that gave the law breakers practically a free hand.

Hon. Mr. Raney has declared war on these conditions, and among the steps he has taken is the appointment as a Provincial License Inspector of Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin, the Sandwich minister who has been carrying on a splendid fight in the face of strong opposition for cleaner conditions. Rev. Mr. Spracklin has the backbone necessary for the position, as he has already shown by his stand before the Sandwich Council when he protested against the lax enforcement of the law and the intolerable conditions generally.

THE TREND OF PRICES.

The outlook for the general trend of commodity prices to-day seems to be a recession of more or less sharpness between now and the end of 1920, followed by a rise to even higher levels in 1921. The recession will of course be of different extent in different classes of articles, but it is likely to be fairly widespread because it is the result of curtailment of credit forcing upon the market a large part of the stocks ordinarily constituting the reserve of wholesale supplies and the matrial "in process" of manufacture.

The main original cause of the rise of prices is now at an end. It was, as everybody knows, the creation of vast quantities of additional currency and bank credit (the two are much the same thing in their economic effects) by the suspension of gold payments and the sale of national bonds. But while the cause itself is at an end, its effects are not yet completed. Certain classes of prices are slow to be affected, and go on moving long after the general impulse has been withdrawn. We have an example of this to-day in the railway rate situation. Railway rates under government control are among the slowest things to move upwards, but when they do move they necessarily precipitate a further move in every price in which they form a part—that is, of the price of practically every article of human consumption.

The first increase in the supply of money is not immediately followed by an increase in prices. There is a brief interval during which the result takes the form merely of a superfluity of credit. We saw this on several occasions throughout the war, and we should have seen it more clearly, but for the rapidity with which governments employed and expended the credits which they created. We are now at the stage of a precisely corresponding hiatus at the other end of the economic process. We see the amount of money and credit becoming stationary, while the increase of prices continues, causing a backwash of precisely the opposite chaarcter. The amount of credit becomes inadequate for the volume of business at the last-reached level of prices, and business is constricted at one of its most sensitive points— its range of bank accommodation. There is only one possible result from this, namely forced sales, a curtailment of manufacture, a temporary lowering of prices and a subsequent upward reaction when the shortage of production makes itself felt.

The public is as little to be congratulated upon any reduction of prices (outside the range of undoubted luxuries) which may occur this summer and autumn, as upon the freight tie-up in the States, the adverse exchange situation or the coal uncertainty. Each and every one of these things is a deterrent and an hindrance to business—and business is nothing in the world but the production and distribution of the things the world needs. A price reaction this summer, or even a credit restriction without price reaction if that were possible, will simply put forth further limitations upon the output of needed articles and enable their producers to put one grand final addition to their cost in 1921. The struggle to settle the question, who is to get the benefit of the last and crowning increment in the price level will be keen and determined. At present it looks as though the organized workers in certain "key" industries, notably transportation, would be the winners of the last hand in the game. If so, they will establish themselves in an immensely strong position, for the period of delivering prices. He who gets his remuneration fixed on the basis of the very highest level of the rising period will be able to keep it well down above the declining levels of subsequent years.

It is impossible to foresee an ending reduction of prices in Canada in the next few months, unless other nations haev large supplies of goods to sell us, and are willing to give us credit for them. We cannot possibly buy more than we are doing from the United States without putting the exchange rate further against us—unless the Americans will sell to us and leave the purchase money in Canada. Great Britain might sell to us and charge our purchases against the foodstuffs, which she buys from us; but lack of shipping and the need for keeping up her relations with other markets are against any heavy increase in our purchases from her.

As for the supply of goods in Canada itself, the available stock now on hand is not large in proportion to needs although it is large (at present prices) in proposition to the volume of credit available for financing it. The cost of replacing it will almost certainly be higher than it has been at any stage of the present rise, owing to the new freight rates and the increasing burden of taxes. Liquidation of the wage level is the only hope for reducing costs in 1920-21, and will anybody affirm that the time is ripe yet for that?

Meanwhile bankers assert that the emigration of European workers who grew rich here during the war is beginning to have a serious effect upon bank deposits. It will not be wholly offset by the funds brought in by immigrants from impoverished Europe. —Journal of Commerce.

STORY OF WOMAN WHOSE BODY WAS FOUND IN TRUNK

A LITTLE COURTESY LED TO MARRIAGE AND SEPARATION SOON AFTER—HUSBAND IS SUSPECTED.

DETROIT, Mich.—After an angry outburst by her alleged husband when she accidentally stumbled upon him and an actress dining secretly in a downtown restaurant, Mrs. Eugene Le Roy, now thought to be the victim of Detroit's murder trunk mystery, tried to end her life by inhaling chloroform.

The day before the trunk was shipped Mrs. Le Roy telephoned Mrs. Marie Trumbull, who on Sunday identified the clothes in the trunk as belonging to the Le Roys, and asked her if she would join her on a shopping trip. They went about the stores together and Mrs. Le Roy told of her domestic worries.

"I'm going home and tell him now that I'm going back to Birmingham," she was quoted as saying. "He'll be mad and make a rumpus ,but I'm determined to go."

The information on the domestic troubles of the Le Roys was supplied to-day by Mrs. Trumbull. She said Mrs. Le Roy told her Le Roy once used a dagger to make her change her decision to leave him.

Le Roy's courtship of Katherine Jackson began in the writing room of the Interurban Hotel with a bit of courteousness, according to Mrs. Trumbull's story. The man known as Le Roy was at a neighboring desk in the hotel one day when Katherine Jackson sat down to write a letter. The pen scratched and Le Roy noticed her difficulty. He offered her another pen, with the remark that she probably would get better results with it. Conversation, dinner and a theatre party followed. Two weeks later they informed Mrs. Trumbull they had gone to Toledo and got married. Two weeks later the Le Roys and Trumbulls rented an apartment at 238 Lysander street. Six weeks later they separated, the Le Roys to go to 93 Trumbull avenue and the Trumbulls to live at the Sheridan Apartments, 361 Lafayette Boulevard.

Mrs. Le Roy found her husband dining a few weeks later in a downtown cafe with a woman appearing at a Detroit theatre. Mrs. Le Roy went home in hysterics, purchased a bottle of chloroform, locked herself in her room and inhaled the drug, Mrs. Trumbull said.

"I wrote to Allan Tatum to-day, asking him to come up from Birmingham and take me home," she told Mrs. Trumbull a few days later.

And Tatum came. He took the two women to dinner and to the theatre the night of his arrival. At the theatre Mrs. Trumbull noiced Le Roy sitting in the back of the house and she told the wife.

"She slipped back to see her husband without telling us where she was going," Mrs. Trumbull said. "A little while after she came back Le Roy disappeared. The next day Mrs. Le Roy came to my house and told me Le Roy was in a frightful temper and that she had seen him take a knife from his pocket and hide it in the house."

"I would leave him to-morrow, only I'm afraid he'd kill me," Mrs. Le Roy said, according to Mrs. Trumbull. She says Mrs. Le Roy packed up and was ready to go but was deterred by the thought that Le Roy might use violence.

LAKEFIELD NEWS

LAKEFIELD, July 29.—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Lawless have returned from a two months trip to the West.

Mr. R. G. Cotton of Niagara Falls, N. Y., is visiting friends in the village

Mrs. Graham Bromley and children of Welland who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Webster on Reid street returned home last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Fitzgerald of Corinne, Sask., were guests of Mrs. Thos. Fitzgerald last week.

Mrs. Ada Nicholls, Mrs. Braden, and Misses Edna Braden and Irene Madill took in the Lindsay excursion on Monday.

Duignan's Mill Under Way.

Work has been commenced at the Duignan Lumber Company's Mill on the site of the old Tate and Lillecrap mill. This is another step along the highway of progress for Lakefield.

Messrs, Charles Hunter and La Verne Walton were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Hendren at Stoney Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. James Mahood, Miss May Mahood and Mr. George Balsdon were in Lindsay on Monday.

Mrs. S. Hunter, Misses Marjorie Laing and Marion Hunter, and Mrs. W. A. Nixon took in the Lindsay excursion on Monday.

Miss Mona Fortier spent Sunday at Young's Point.

Mrs. E. Bickell spent a day or two in Peterboro last week.

Miss Edna Braden was in Norwood on Sunday.

Miss Eva Gordon of Toronto, is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. E. Gillman.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Tamer and Miss Ruth Benson of Toronto, are in the village with friends.

Miss Edna Stubbs of Peterboro spent a few days in the village last week with friends.

Mr. George Balsdon of, Kenora, Ontario is visiting his sister, Mrs. Mahood.

Miss Emma Vincent of Peterboro was in the village last week.

Miss Mae Hales of Burleigh, spent a few days with Miss Hales Ingram, last week.

Miss Ida Webster left last week to visit Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Bromley at Welland.

Mrs. James Leighton of Winnipeg, is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Smith.

Mr. J. Duncan of Saginaw, Mich., is visiting his aunt, Mrs. W. Simpson.

Mrs. Hagerman of Peterboro, was the guest of Mrs. J. W. Ridpath last week.

Mr. John McGrath of Bridgeport, Conn., was in the village last week renewing acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Brown of Toronto motored to the village with their family last week and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Simpson.

Mrs. McGill and Miss Tate of Millbrook, were visiting Mrs. J. A. Porter last week.

Mr. Wm. Hagerman of Thorold, was in the village last week with friends.

Miss Oliver of Chicago is visiting Mr. and Mrs. D. Miller in Smith.

CEMENT PLANT

The Cement Co., are preparing to start their plant again if the village will pass the required by-law which is now being prepared and will be submitted in the near future. The re-opening of the cement plant would bring a decided boon to Lakefield who gained nothing from the war prosperity which came to other small towns.

TOWN HALL CONTRACT

Mr. John Bottrell has been awarded the contract to finish the Town Hall by the Reeve and Council and work will proceed at once. This will be welcome news to the majority of the citizens of the village as it was a disadvantage to the village to have the half finished hall standing indefinitey.

TRADES COUNCIL ENDORSED ALL BY-LAWS; VOTE WAS UNANIMOUS

ESPECIALLY EMPHATIC THAT HUNTER STREET SHOULD BE FINISHED WITH CONCRETE SPAN AS DESIGNED.

FRANK BARBER EXPLAINS

The Trades and Labour Council endorsed the bridge, Raybestos and Otonabee Mills by-laws at the special meeting called last night to determine the feeling and stand of the Trades Council on them. The endorsation of all three was not brought about by any persuasive appeals by the city fathers. The salient features of the by-laws and the reasons for the citizens voting for them were advanced as simply as possible and the matter left to the Council for open discussion. There were differences on all issues, but when the three votes were taken they were practically unanimous.

Thos. Lane.

President T. Lane presided. He urged that the by-laws should be viewed from all sides. He personally favoured the passing of the bridge by-law for he could see only one thing to do. "Making another mistake isn't going to rectify any that have been made," he said. The upward trend of labour and materials was largely responsible for the increased cost and he cited the Quaker Oats as having been faced with the same problem in the construction of their plant, the cost of which finally doubled the estimates.

He advanced the main points why the by-law should be voted for—the falsework being nearly completed now wouldn't stand next winter's water nor would the temporary bridge—everything is now on the job ready to finish it. He denied there were any of the exorbitant alleged wages paid.

"Its got to be completed. It will cost twice as much if left to stand as i is," he declared.

Ald. H. Gainey.

Ald. Gainey, acing mayor in the absence of Mayor McIntyre, recalled how he had been asked by Labour organizations to get the bridge under way and he pointed out the work it had provided.

The work had been carried on fairly, be believed, and the men were giving a fair day's work for a fair day's pay.

"I can't see why any sensible ratepayer could see why they would gain anything by letting the bridge stand as it is to-day," he said after asking for their endorsation.

Ald. J. Crowe Praises Barber.

Ald. G. Crowe was next heard. It was three-quarters built, he said, and there was only the remaining quarter to finish. Ald. Crowe had many reasons why it had cost more. For one excavation, he said, the estimate was 87 cubic yards, 415 cubic yards were eventually taken out. Ald. Crowe did not feel that all the blame for exceeding the estimates should be thrust on Engineer Barber. In fact, he said, they should feel indebted to Engineer Barber for taking a step forward in engineering. He had gone out of the regular grooves. The cement bridge will be the forerunner of many more, he prophesied.

"The Labour men asked union wages and an 8-hour day and they must pay for it," he said. While the Council, he declared, was blamed for allowing the work to go on last winter, it provided work for many men who would otherwise have been out of employment. He pointed out that the arch was guaranteed for one year.

The president followed up this and claimed that if the contract to complete it was re-let the contractor would not give any such guarantee on the first contractor's work.

Ald. G. N. Gordon.

Ald. Gordon, chairman of the Manufacturer's Committee, spoke briefly on the Raybestos and Otonabee Mills by-laws. He told of the strong position and bright future in view for the Raybestos Co. and how they were ready to take over the plant of the Henry Hope Co., who have been driven out of business by the steel shortage, if they are given a fixed assessment of $40,000 after the present fixed assessment of the plant has run its limit, 18 months hence. They promise to employ 50 men within this time.

The other company has also bright prospects and should expand considerably, he said. They ask a loan of $10,000, for which they will give a mortgage on their present property and buildings erected with the money. Interest at 6 per cent. will be paid and the loan paid off in yearly payments of $1,000. A fixed assessment of $8,000 is asked. Personally, he was not in favour of bonuses and fixed assessments, but Peterboro has to complete with other cities for industries, he stated.

Against Bonuses, Fixed Assessments and Mergers.

Ex-Alderman Alex. Murray attacked fixed assessments, which, he said, made for Kaiserism in Peterboro. President T. Lane agreed with him and in the Otonabee Mills agreement he felt there should be a clause preventing a merger with the Canadian Woollens. "Mergers are what are killing us," he said.

Replying to Mr. Murray, Ald. Gordon explained that they did not want any huge moneyed, blood-sucking concerns in Peterboro, but ones of diversified operations where men and employers can deal on common ground.

Ald. Phelan.

Ald. N. Phelan contended that the only safe and sane thing to do was to finish the bridge. He favoured a debenture issue instead of a lump sum tacked on next year's taxes.

Barber Gives Explanation.

Engineer Frank Barber addressed the Council. "I thought perhaps it would be worth while to come here and if there's any poser or any question you (the president) or any gentlemen want to put to me, go to it. I'm not an orator—I'm an engineer," he declared before answering any questions.

Questioned on the reasons for building a single span, he stated that it would be practically impossible to build a two-span structure there and J. Wilson, a government engineer, was personally in favour of one span. "There is no doubt in the world—none whatever—that the single span is the most economical." We didn't do it as a monument," he added. "I am in intimate touch with the details of the bridge," he said, "but as to the local feeling on it I admit ignorance."

Steel Bridge Dearer.

"As to what Mr. Guise-Bagley or Mr. Hall say of two spans, the thing can't be done. I was asked to design it as a concrete bridge. I don't think you would ever have gained or saved anything by a steel bridge. On the other hand it would be dearer. Gravel materials have not gone up much but steel has."

"Its been a revolution, gentleman," he declared, referring to the increased number of concrete bridges constructed, and in another decade, he prophecied, the almost total replacement by concrete for steel in bridge construction.

"I think the Council were right in picking a cement bridge. Now, that centre span can't be replaced by a steel span," the engineer said. Continuing, he gave the engineering reasons: "I would have far sooner designed a steel arch. I would have made more money on a steel bridge, but I wasn't asked to."

He pointed out how much better a cement bridge was for Labour than a steel one. In 1915 steel cost 5 cents a pound, now it is 11.4 and 12 cents with the situation most uncertain.

"It was estimated by me in the first place at something less than $200,000," Mr. Barber said. "Lump sum contracts submitted the following spring," he said, "proved that he was about right or a little over, if anything."

Not a Prophet.

"Everything increased. How could I, who am not a prophet, say that Council were to give the labourers a 33 1-3 per cent. increase?" the speaker said. "I don't think the rise of cost greater than anything else in the same period. Why should there be any astonishment or complaint"

Engineer Barber denied that he ever said the bridge would have to be founded on rock and declared that he had the proof of it in a newspaper report. He admitted the expert he got to test the rock made a mistake. The expert admitted it, but the blue clay and hard pan was sufficiently strong with the widened piers for all needs.

Mr. Barber said he expected that the Council would have required him to do the work done by Alex. Elliott and find the distribution cost, something he did not know now, but they did not.

This greatly surprised Ald. Crowe, who asked: "Doesn't Mr. Christie do that?"

"No; he hasn't time. I didn't want to put in a cost clerk. I admit I would have liked to have done it but I didn't have to," the engineer said.

Engineer Barber went on to show how he only had to see that the contractors carried out the specifications. He had nothing to do with the money end of it. "I am really defending myself against something I'm not up against," he said. "The Russell-Townsend are the proper people to go to when cost is concerned."

One Hundred Thousand Dollars Over the Mark.

In reply to a question by Ald. Phelan as to whether $100,000 would complete the bridge, he said he thought it would be over the mark.

Mr. T. McMurray urged them to endorse the by-law. What the cost was, he said, could not be determined till the bridge was built. The bridge work has helped Labour here, he claimed.

Mr. Christie assured them that they need not fear that the bridge would fall down.

Delegate McMurray moved endorsing the by-law and it carried unanimously.

The Bonus Question.

The other by-laws were endorsed after considerable discussion and opposition. The only way to cut out the fixed assessment and bonusing, they declare, is to get men at Ottawa who will make it illegal. The president pointed out how municipalities were driven to it in competition.

A twenty-five per cent. lowering of the improvement rate would finish the fixed assessment asserted a delegate and the sooner this came about the better. Nevertheless he could see how it would not benefit the city to turn away the company and their taxes and he moved the endorsation of both by-laws. This carried.

BRIDGE NOT AN EXPERIMENT

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir: Permit me to point out that the concrete bridge being constructed on Hunter street is not an experiment. In America and Europe there are concrete arch bridges with as long and longer spans. In old Rome, over the Tiber, there is a single concrete arch bridge with a span of 328 feet. The Walnut Lane Bridge, Philadelphia, has also a concrete arch 233 feet, the Rocky River Bridge, Cleveland, 280 feet, and a bridge at Pittsburgh 300 feet. A concrete bridge at Minneapolis is under construction and will have a single arch with 400 feet span, and the climate is at least as severe and varies more in Minneapolis than it does in Peterborough. The concrete arch in the Hunter street bridge will be 235 feet long.

The concrete arch bridge is not an experiment. It is a tried method of construction.

The contractors, the Russell-Townsend Company, feel no doubt about the arch, for without hesitation they guaranteed it, and that guarantee is part of their contract.

Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald has misunderstood part of the explanation made in the council. I know that he would not knowingly misrepresent what I said and that he will be pleased to receive a correction.

I did not say that the extra spread of the foundation of the eastern river pier cost $25,00.00. What I said was that the extra spread and the extra depths of all the piers cost $25,000.00. This includes the extra depth of both river piers and other piers as well as the extra width.

Of course, the result of Mr. Fitzgerald's little sum in proportion is spoiled by the fact that his premises were not correct.

Again let me urge the property owners to protect their interests and not to fail to vote to-morrow, and to vote for the Bylaw.

Yours truly,
JAMES HAMILTON,
Chairman Special Bridge Committee.

INCREASED FREIGHT RATES ARE EXPECTED

CONSEQUENT UPON NEW WAGE AWARD, IS OTTAWA REPORT.

OTTAWA, July 28.—That the railway companies of Canada are very likely to secure an increase of freight rates, though the percentage is uncertain, is the opinion expressed in official circles here. The statement of the Minister of Railways in Vancouver yesterday to the effect that by accepting the new wage award the C.P.R. will not be able to pay dividends "until conditions are adjusted," is a reflection of the views of many of the Cabinet.

Lost Ten Millions.

When the last raise of 25 per cent. was granted to meet the McAdoo award, it was calculated that the extra revenue would be 52 millions, while the award totalled 50 millions. The extra two millions was allowed to meet amendments to the award, but the companies now claim that instead of two it was twelve millions, and they contend that as to wages alone they are ten millions worse off than before. To meet the new award and place them in the same position as before it is held that an increase to produce 80 millions will be necessary.

Will Injure Trade.

There will be strong opposition, however, on the part of the manufacturing and shipping interests, who maintain that increased freight rates will injuriously affect trade, particularly the export trade.

SIMPLE METHOD OF SEWAGE DISPOSAL

GERMAN SYSTEM MAY BE ADOPTED IN MILWAUKEE AND CHICAGO.

Theodore Barth, engineer, who has ben working abroad in the Chemical Welfare Service of the United States Army, arriving on the Manchuria of the American Line, said:

"I have been in Germany for quite a while, and have spent considerable time investigating the apparatus employed in that country for sewage disposal. The Germans are masters in that line, but not until recently were we able to get any definite information relative to the construction and operation of these plants. The sewage disposal plants in Germany have been used for dehydrating and drying of foods. I have studied their methods of prevention of pollution of streams, with the idea of applying them in America. The data which I have collected will be presented to the city officials of Milwaukee and Chicago, which cities contemplate the use of the foreign methods.

"The use of the sewage disposal plants now used in Germany will prove the salvation of inland cities, especially those which are obliged to empty sewage into lakes where the water supply is obtained. A city of 300,000 inhabitants can dispose of its sewage by the use of one machine about the size of an ordinary heater used in the home, and operated by one man. The separation of waste matter is obtained by centrifugal action, and the waste is valuable as a fertilising agent.

"Chicago and Milwaukee will be the first two cities to adopt this new system of sewage disposal. Plants used thus far have proved inadequate for the needs of a large city."—Wall Street Journal.

HON. BIGGS TO VISIT LINDSAY RE GOOD ROADS

The Victoria County Council are expecting at any time to receive a visit from the Hon. Mr. Biggs, Minister of Highways, when a special meeting of the Council will be called to hear this good roads expert, says the Lindsay Post. Mr. Biggs is making a personal tour of the province and inspecting all highways, county and provincial, as well as giving splendid advice on the roads under construction. On the occasion of Hon. Mr. Biggs' visit here, the Council will take the opportunity of presenting to him the advisability of taking over the Lindsay-Peterboro road, via Omemee as a Provincial highway.

ANGLO ALLIANCE IS TO MAINTAIN PEACE

JAPANESE DISAVOW ULTERIOR INTERESTS IN THE EAST.

TOKIO, June 27.—The Anglo-Japanese alliance does not run counter to the League of Nations, wrote Premier Hara, favoring a renewal of the pact, in the course of a contribution to the current issue of the Japanese Diplomatic Review.

Mr. Hara declared that the English alliance is intended for the preservation of peace and order in the Far East, with no particular country its objective.

The Japanese were determined to improve the relations with China and to develop the rich natural resources of China. It was a good thing, he thought, that the United States was taking an economic interest in China. But while the interest of the United States was economical, to Japan the relations with China was really a question of life and death for the nation. He hoped this fact would be appreciated in a sympathetic way by the American people.

Concerning Siberia the Premier wrote:

"The original object of Japan's expedition to Siberia was to aid the Czecho-Slovaks. In the meantime, however, Siberia has undergone serious upheavals, endangering the life and property of Japanese residents and disturbing peace and order in Manchuria and Monoglia. This is the reason why Japan cannot evacuate the country as soon as she expected. However, when peace and order have been restored in Siberia, safeguarding the life and property of Japanese residents, and ensuring freedom of communication, the Japanese troops will be withdrawn, with the repatriation of the Czecho-Slovaks."

THE SERBIAN RELIEF FUND

Peterboro presses toward the mark, $5,000.00, for the famishing 500,000 suffering Serbian children. Not for the fathers who fell in our defence, nor the mothers they mourn, but for the innocent victims of war. These saw such horrible sights and suffered such racking tortures that to go suddenly insane between 10 and 15 years of age, (which is the age we handle) is quite common unless they have medical attention which is scarcely available.

The Brotherhood sent the most eminent child expert in Canada, who is giving his entire time and strength in developing our work, outlined in yesterday's Examiner, free of cost.

Another column reports $3,300 already raised. Who'll help raise the remaining $700 to-day and to-morrow. We must close this week. Peterborough has performed splendidly. We are simply your servants thanklessly raising your standard. You set your own mark. Don't let it drag. We're doing our very best.

Read yesterday's Examiner for a full statement of the Brotherhood and Peterboro's part in this splendid campaign for our ally's war orphans.

LOCAL TOMATOES RIPENING FAST; PRICE WEAKENING

ONLY RIPEST CHERRIES SOLD AT SACRIFICE TO AVOID LOSS—BERRY PRICES STEADY.

That raspberries won't be much cheaper around Peterborough is the opinion of the majority of fruit dealers. There are not enough berries grown here to make any surplus crop and the price remains and will remain high—25 or 27 cents a box. At Hastings and other small villages in this district the price is much lower, 20 and 21 cents a box.

Red cherries are selling at $1.65 an 11 quart basket or 20 cents a quart. The dealers declare that it is not the cherries that have fallen in price but the over-ripe ones that have to be sold. Some baskets were selling at $1.40 and $1.50, but $1.65 is the prevailing price. Black cherries are still $1.75 a basket.

Huckleberries are 35 cents a quart and $2.75 and $3.00 a basket. There have not been any great quantities from the lakes this week and most of those in the stores are from Toronto. Gooseberries are still 20 cents a quart.

Cantelopes are 25 and 30 cents each. Imported eating apples come rather exensive, 30 and 40 cents a dozen. The hardier home-grown varieties of cooking apples are selling at 40 and 50 cents a peck.

Tomatoes are offered at 25 and 30 cents. The local gardeners' crop is just coming in and next week it is expected the price will fall. Cabbages are 10 and 15 cents and cauliflower 15 and 20 cents. Carrots and beets 10 and 15 cents. Onions are selling at 10 cents a lb. The peas are nearly done, but there are still some at 2 quarts for 25c. and wax beans at the same price.

The vegetables are coming along nicely, reports from the country indicate. The stuff has grown very fast the last few days and they are well satisfied.

The Field Crops.

That the crops are better than they have in years appears to be the unanimous opinion of the farmers. A farmer the other day told the Examiner he was expecting his fall wheat to run 40 bushels to the acre. Another placed his estimated oat crop at 75 bushels to the acre. The fall wheat, some farmers maintain, is a good crop, others take just the opposite view, but they both agree that it is a fair crop albeit a little thin. The straw is good and the heads are well filled out at any rate, they say. Considerable fall wheat has been cut and is now in the barns. Next week or the week after they will begin cutting the spring wheat, barley, peas and perhaps the oats.

The haying is about over, they state, and it was a nice crop considering all things. A farmer related this morning how before cutting all his red clover he examined the heads to find very much to his surprise that they were full of seed. He let it ripen and cut it for the seed which, as is well known, brings a high price. This cutting of the clover hay for seed has been a most unusual proceeding in the past but this year many farmers did it, securing a fair yield.

Much of the alsike is in the barns they declare and it was a good crop. The corn is coming along as well as could be expected. Lots of sunshine won't hurt it.

Considering all the crops, oats and barley can be called the bumper crops it was learned.

Naturally, with the bright prospects for a good financial return, the farmers are apprehensive about the weather and hope and pray that hail storms or other crop destroyers will keep away until the mows are full.

COAL IMPORTED BY WATER COSTS MORE THAN BY RAILWAY

ROBT. HICKS SAYS SUPPLIES ARE COMING ACROSS LAKE ONTARIO TO COBOURG.

"I wond advise the people of Peterborough to buy all the coal possible now," stated Robert Hicks when interviewed by The Examiner regarding the coal situation this morning.

Mr. Hicks stated that at present the local supply is fair, but that what might develop within the next few weeks is uncertain.

The big factor in the likelihood of a coal shortage is the scarcity of cars, Mr. Hicks continued. This shortage is at present abnormal, and the heavy grain shipments which will begin soon will greatly increase this scarcity.

The big coal jobbers are overcoming the car shortage to a certain extent by lake shipments, despite the added cost of the extra handling which lake shipments entail.

Peterborough Well Situated.

Mr. Hicks was of the opinion that there is less likelihood of a coal shortage in Peterborough than in any other city between Montreal and Toronto. His own firm has sufficient coal in stock for customers, and has had to stop taking orders for a week in order to catch up on deliveries. How long this situation would continue he did not know. The increased car shortage which the grain shipments will bring about may cause a hold-up in shipments.

Ominous Already.

The winter, Mr. Hicks believed, will be the deciding factor in the coal situation. A mild winter such as last will not be likely to bring about a serious coal shortage, but a winter such as that of three years ago may bring about a serious situation.

Considering the fact that at present coal is comparatively easy to get and that the future is so uncertain, Mr. Hicks stated that he would advise the public to buy as much coal as possible now.

Lake Shipments Increase Price.

Standard grade coal is now selling at $18.00 a ton, an increase of $4.00 a ton in the last three months. The chief factor in the present high price of standard coal is the fact that the big companies who have the facilities are using lake shipments to overcome the car shortage and assure more prompt and certain deliveries. Lake shipments cost about $1.05 more a ton than rail shipments. This is made up of the following charges: $1.75 a ton towing charges, 75 cents a ton loading and unloading charge, and $1.20 freight charge from Cobourg to Peterborough. The rail shipment charge from Buffalo is $1.80. Thus the difference between the lake and rail charges is $1.05.

Mr. Hicks believed, however, that the coming increase in rail rates would absorb a large part of the $1.05 difference.

Little Likelihood of Discrimination.

Asked if he thought it probable that the United States would later cut down on coal shipments to Canada, Mr. Hicks stated that he believed that there would be no discrimination shown.

Regarding the complaint of some citizens that what they had ordered as nut coal was almost pea coal, Mr. Hicks stated that this was due to the depreciation in size caused by the extra handling, when shoped by water.

IS TOLD OF JOAHIM'S DEATH

Ex-Kaiserin Bears the News of His Suicide with Resignation.

THE HAGUE.—The former German Empress has been told of the death of her youngest son, Prince Joachim, who recently committed suicide. She took the blow with more courage than had been expected. She had gradually been prepared for the news, and when definitely informed bore up well.

Her health apparently was not affected by the news, and she displayed resignation, only occasionally giving way to grief.

INCREASE WEIGHT AND VITALITY WITH PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

The average person is beginning to realize more and more that the lack of physical strength and nerve exhaustion (frequently evidenced by excessive thinness are the direct cause not only of the failure to succeed in struggle for the necessities of existence, but also the big handicap in one's social aspirations. Compare the thin, sickly angular frame with the well rounded form which is usually accompanied by the bloom of health and attractiveness.

At the seaside too, the plump well-rounded figure is most admired.

That millions of people are conscious of this handicap is evident from the continued appearance in newspapers and magazines of many suggestions proposing various remedies in food or medicine or exercises, either of which might or might not be appropriate for a given case.

Authorities, however, agree that healthy nerve tissue is absolutely essential to a strong robust body and mind. Weak nerves, while indicated by a multitude of different symptoms more immediately and generally result in lack of energy, sleeplessness, irritability, depression, etc., which conditions gradually consume the healthy flesh, leaving ugly hollows, a flat chest, bony neck and scrawny arms and legs.

One bodies need more phosphate than most of them are able to extract from the foods we eat nowadays and many opinions affirm that there is nothing which may be taken into the human system that so effectively supplies this efficiency as the pure organic phosphate known as bitro-phosphate and sold by good druggists everywhere.

The essential phosphoric food elements in bitro-phosphate assimilated by the nerve cells should soon produce a pleasing change in nerve energy and hence increased vitality and strength. With the burdens of nervousness, sleeplessness, lack of energy, etc., lifted, normal weight with its attractive fullness and ruddy glow of health replaces the former picture of skin and bones.

CAUTION:—Although Bitro-Phosphate is unexcelled for the relief of nervousness and attendant disorders owing to its tendency to increase weight, one should watch the scales while taking it unless it is the desire to put on flesh.

OMEMEE MAN OBJECTED TO SISTER'S SWEETHEART

A somewhat interesting case was heard by Police Magistrate Moore at Omemee yesterday, when a young man was fined $10 and costs ($21.00 in all) for an assault on another young resident of the village.

It appears that the accused objected to the company his sister was keeping and took the above means of showing his dislike and objection.

280 BUSHELS OF POTATOES PRODUCED BY ONE ACRE YIELDED FARMER $980

WEEKLY CROP REPORT DECIDEDLY FAVORABLE—FALL WHEAT HARVESTING IS GENERAL THROUGHOUT ONTARIO—SPRING GRAINS PROMISING.

SCOTLAND BUYING HORSES

The following is the summary of the weekly reports made by the agricultural representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:

Fall wheat harvesting is general in most parts of the Province. The new grain is described as being a fairly good sample. Norfolk, Brant, Wentworth, and Peel report the Hessian fly as having done injury to the fields. Kent, which has cut the major portion of its fall wheat acreage, fears that if wet weather continues some of the grain may start in the shock.

Many summer fallows and meadows have been already ploughed for the new fall wheat. Welland predicts that the next acreage of that crop will be fully ten per cent. more than that put in last fall. Lambton states that many acres of clover land just cut have been turned under and worked for a seed bed for fall wheat, largely owing to the use of the tractor.

Spring grains, taking the Province over, are regarded as looking promising. In some counties both barley and oats are beginning to turn, and are giving indications of good heading. Some fears are expressed that owing to rank growth much of the straw is rather too soft to stand up well against rough weather. Victoria complains of injury to spring wheat by the Hessian fly, and Lennox and Addington speak of smut in oats. Referring to serious injury to the standing crops by Friday night's heavy rainstorm, Welland states that some grain fields were practically flattened to the ground as though a land roller had been run over them.

Some of the hay crop is still out, owing to catchy weather. New hay has been selling at prices ranging from $22.00 to $30.00. The second crop of clover has received a good start.

Much of the corn has lacked cultivation during the last three or four weeks owing to frequent rains and the rush of other work on finer days. This, with the comparatively cool weather prevailing, has made the fields to look somewhat backward. The crop, however, has a good deal of growing time before it yet.

Big Returns from Potatoes.

The Lennox and Addington representative tells of a farmer in that county who has disposed of 280 bushels of potatoes (Early Wiseman) —the product of one acre—at $3.50 a bushel, or $980.00 for the lot. The Port Arthur representative anticipates a comparatively light yield, and says that blackleg is showing up badly in places.

The raspberry cane-borer is reported to be doing injury as far east as the County of Victoria.

Grasshoppers are said to be very numerous in the County of Grey, and a number of farmers there are using the Kansas grasshopper mixture.

Welland and Lambton speak of less cattle being on hand, but all reports are to the effect that excellent pastures are keeping both beef and dairy cattle in fine condition, and that the milk supply is generous for the season. Good vealing calves are selling around 13 cents a pound.

Hogs are in strong demand, prices going as high as $20.25 a cwt.

Exporting Horses.

Horse buyers are in the County of Grey looking for heavy specimens to send to Scotland. One carload has gone, and more are needed. Good animals have brought $200.00.

REV. J. O. L. SPRACKLIN OF FIGHTING FAMILY

NEW LICENSF INSPECTOR KNOWS THE WINDSOR DISTRICT—A BOXER.

Bootleggers, liquor runners, and those of the underground methods in the border cities have met a Wellington in the appointment of Rev. J. O. Leslie Spracklin as provincial license inspector. According to those who know the Methodist minster well, the 'outlaws" may now prepare for their Waterloo.

"Shorty" Spracklin, as he was known for years around Windsor, where he attended Public school, is a "fighting parson" in more ways than one. Toronto friends were much amused when, a week or so ago, he was backed to the wall in the Sandwich town hall, and, for a time, it looked as if he were to have had a pugilistic encounter. Spracklin could have taken care of himself.

Trained by Tommy Burns.

The Methodist minister comes from a fighting family, and a family who know the conditions in Windsor and Sandwich from away back. There were three boys in the family, William, Leslie and Arthur. In their young days they resided on the Detroit river front, half way between Windsor and Sandwich. Under the careful guidance of Noah Brusso, (Tommy Burns — champion heavyweight prize fighter), who had a gymnasium on Michigan ave., Detroit, "Bill" became a well known and successful pugilist. Arthur and Leslie also became handy with their fists. They used a room in their house, established a ring, and the boys of Windsor saw some good bouts.

Tragedy Turned Course.

Whilst duck hunting down the Detroit river, Bill was accidentally shot through the head from a shortgun in the hands of a companion. Following this misfortune, both Leslie and Arthur turned to the ministry, studied, passed their matriculation, and attended college.

Leslie was graduated from Victoria College, and was ordained in 1911.

Rev. Leslie Spracklin knows the local conditions well, and is a fearless man. An interesting time is, no doubt, scheddled for the undergrounders of the border cities.

Chief License Inspector Ayearst, it may be noted, is a former minister.

SHOULD HANDPICK ALL EVANGELISTS

Bad Results Sometimes Follow Visit of Professional Revivalist.

Rev. Dr. A. C. Crews, editor of several of the official publications of the Methodist church, has issued a warning against the employment of "professional evangelists" by Canadian Methodist churches. In his warning Dr. Crews quotes examples of churches which increase their membership steadily without revivals or evangelists. "Sometimes," Dr. Crews declares, "a church will work itself into a perfect fever of earnestness during two or three weeks that special services are in progress, then relapse into a condition of absolute indifference for the remainder of the year. Such a church can never command the respect of the thinking people of the community.

"While it would perhaps not be fair to rule out the professional evangelist altogether, every congregation should aim at doing its own evangelistic work."

SCIENCE PROVES THE DANGER OF BLEEDING GUMS

Medical science proves that unhealthy gums cause serious ailments. People suffering from Pyorrhea (a disease of the gums) often suffer from other ills, such as rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders, or weakened vital organs. These ills have been traced in many cases to the Pyorrhea germs which breed in pockets about the teeth.

Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea. It begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhea germs.

Guard your health and your teeth. Keep Pyorrhea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and make daily use of Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time, and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the teeth firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean.

SOLDIERS SETTLE ON BIG MEXICAN ESTATE.

Three Battalions of Britishers with Four Air Squadrons Assisted by the British Government.

(Canadian Press.)

CALGARY, Alta., July 28. — That General Critchley, well known in Canadian military circles, has recruited and taken into Mexico three battalions of British troops and settled them on a 1,000,000 acre estate; and that he has four fully equipped air squadrons under his command, is the news that has reached here from an authoritative source.

These troops, who are primarily British settlers, were recruited by the general and his staff in different parts of the British Isles and Canada, and are under the command of the general and his brother, Major H. C. Critchley both of Calgary.

To cover the recruiting and transportation expenses of these troops, the British Government provided £300,000. Several local officers were asked to acompany the expedition as officers.

TIRELESS DURING WAR HASTINGS CHAPTER I.O.D.E. STILL CARRY ON

TRENT VILLAGE LADIES ESTABLISHED AN ENVIABLE RECORD IN THEIR UNFLAGGING WORK FOR THE RED CROSS AND OTHER PATRIOTIC ORGANIZATIONS.

SENT 6,000 PAIR OF SOCKS

Carrying out their patriotic purpose of working indefinitely to raise funds to be used towards the betterment of the Empire, the Hastings Chapter, I.O.D.E., yesterday afternoon entertained at a garden party and dance in the Hastings Town Hall, which netted a very substantial sum which will be devoted tt some patriotic project.

While it was the original intention of the Chapter to hold the garden party on the lawn about the Town Hall, the inclement weather forbade this, and the tables were transferred into the Town Hall, where with their pretty appointments of summer flowers they presented a very attractive appearance. Each of the ladies and assistants proved most efficient in making everyone enjoy themselves to the utmost and in waiting upon the tables.

In the evening, with music provided by Miss Ryan, a dance was held, which was atended by a very large gathering of young people from the town and vicinity.

The Hastings Band added greatly to the general success of the affair by a splendid musical programme.

Those Present.

A few of those present at the garden party were Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Knight, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Kerr, Mrs. Mayham of West Virginia, Miss Baker of Warkworth, Mr. and Mrs. W. Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Plant, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Fowlds, Miss Maggie Fowlds, Mr. and Mrs. Miller of Rochester, Miss Lucy Shorter, Mrs. R. Walsh, Miss Laura Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. W. Gould, Mr. and Mrs. V. German, Mr. and Mrs. J. McGrail, Miss Jocelyn Berry, Toronto, Misses P. and G. Foylds, Mrs. P. M. Howard, Mrs. Hill, Miss Plant, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fowlds, Miss Houston of Chatham, Mrs. Stickle, Miss Gertrude Hill of Toronto, Miss Queenie Runnels, Master Howard Hill of Pittsburg, Miss Mary and Kathleen Lambert, Mrs. Ed. Lynch, Miss Beryl Hill, Miss Olive Keogan, Miss Jessie Wilcox, Mrs. A. B. Spelman, Dr. Bruce Marshall, Mrs. Alex. Smith, Mrs. Burkholder, Mrs. Spooner, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Doxee, Mrs. Cooney, and Miss Mary Spooner, and many others.

Retrospective Glance.

A retrospective glance at the Chapter proves almost incredible accomplishments by the body of ladies who "carried on" during the war. Formed in pre-war days in April, 1914, the organisation was in good working order when Hastings' sons hastened overseas. To each of these the ladies sent a parcel containing two pairs of socks, chocolates, etc., each month of their service. Two wheel stretchers were sent to the Front and supported by the members. Money was sent at regular intervals to Moore Barracks Hospital for the purchase of drugs and hospital supplies. Later an operating table and whole surgical outfit was sent to a hospital in Quebec for wounded soldiers.

Throughout the war the younger members of the Chapter worked ceaselessly in sending dressings, wipes, and other necessities for Red Cross work. Two quilts and a large consignment of towels and pillow cases were also despatched by the workers. The knitting done by the ladies amounted, outside of scarfs, sweaters, etc., to 6,000 pairs of socks during the war.

At the Conclusion.

At the conclusion of the war, instead of resting upon their laurels the ladies immediately commenced to engage in very necessary after-war activities. The socks still on hand were sent to Kingston, Davisville, and Cobourg Hospitals, and the funds on hand were apportioned to different patriotic objects. A lasting tribute to Hastings' heroes was paid in the donation of $50.00 to memorials to be erected in St. George's Anglican Church, Our Lady of Mount Carmel Catholic Church, St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, and the Hastings Methodist Church. Fifty dollars was also given toward the building of a town war memorial for Hastings. This, however has not been commenced yet. The present object for which the Chanter is working is the Daughters of the Empire War Memorial.

Present Organisation.

The present organisation is composed of thirty-five regular members who meet each month. The officers are: Mrs. P. M. Howard, Regent; Mrs. Wm. Hill, 1st Vice-Regent; Miss D. Plant, 2nd Vice-Regent; Mrs. Walter Fowlds, secretary, Mrs. B. F. Doxee, treasurer; Mrs. W. H. Chapman, echoes secretary; Mrs. G. F. Hall, standard-bearer.

During the war and at the inauguration of the Chapter, 60 members were on the roll.

LARGE COLLIE DOG ATTACKED BABY

TORONTO CHILD'S FOREHEAD RIPPED OPEN BY UGLY-TEMPERED ANIMAL.

OSHAWA, July 28.—A large collie dog belonging to Hiram Drew, lot 15, concession 2, East Whitby, rinned open part of the forehead of little Unice Conde of Toronto.

The little child, who is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Conde, 234 Helland avenue, Toronto, with her parents, motored down from Toronto to spend the week-end at Caesarea Beach, on Lake Scugog. They were returning to Toronto, and had stopped at Mr. Drew's place.

The dog had a piece of bread in its mouth, and the baby, who is but two and a half years old, snatched at it.

The dog, which was never known to be ugly-tempered, retaliated by biting the child's forehead and taking a piece of flesh as large as the circle formed by a man's thumb and forefinger from her head. The skull of the child was laid bare. She was brought to the Oshawa Hospital, where Dr. Rundle attended her and closed the wound.

Mr. and Mrs. Conde are staying in town. Dr. Rundle states that it will be five days or maybe a week before the child can be moved safely to her home. The dog just missed her eye and nose. It is not known yet whether or not the child will be scarred for life.

Last Scheduled Home Central League Game

Lindsay vs. Peterboro C.P.C.

Riverside Park, Saturday, July 31

SPORTING NEWS, VIEWS AND GOSSIP

LINDSAY TOWN LEAGUERS NO MATCH FOR THISTLES

Louis Yeotes' Thistles journeyed to Lindsay yesterday and had little trouble in beating a picked team of Lindsay Town Leaguers by 16 runs to 4. None of the Lindsay Central League team are permitted to play in the Town League, so that that organization is far from being as fast as the Peterborough City League.

The Thistles started out Harrison on the rubber and Swanston catching, but when they got a big lead in the early stages, a shift was made. Mike Sheehy went in to pitch and "Hap" Wilgar did the receiving. Jake Solomon replaced Kirn on first base, Max Swanston went to second, and "Hap" Harrison cavorted around short stop. It was some infield, and a double play, Harrison to Swanston to Solomon, was pulled off like the famous Tinker to Evers to Chance by a great catch in centre field from Cannonball Scott's bat. It looked good for a triple at least.

Dick Butler umpired the game satisfactorily. The Thistles lined up as follows: Swanston c, 2b, Harrison p, ss, Kirn 1b, Solomon 1b, Wilgar 2b, c, Sheehy ss, p, Murray 3b, Lowe, Saugnessy, Coursey, Turner, outfield.

LINDSAY'S BEST TEAM IS READY FOR SATURDAY'S GAME

The Lindsay Central League team took no chances on using up Lefty McElroy in an exhibition game yesterday, so he was not sent to the rubber for the game with the Thistles.

None of the other Central League players were in action either, and the team is right on edge for Saturday's League game here with the Petes. It is the Greybirds' greatest ambition to beat Peterborough, and they will be down on Saturday with the best lineup available. McElroy will, of course, do the pitching, while either Logan or Coombs will be behind the bat.

Manager Solomon of the Petes won't say whether Rose or Harrison will work for the Petes. All three are ready and in good shape, and any one of the three should go the route in effective style.

The game, which is the last scheduled home fixture of the season, is called for 3 o'clock sharp. Dick Butler, of Lindsay, will be umpire-in-chief, while Alex. Kay will give the decisions on the bases.

SAILING RACES WILL FEATURE THE REGATTA

The sailing races will be a special feature of this year's regatta at Stoney Lake on Monday, August 9th, Peterboro's civic holiday.

Cottagers at the lakes have presented silver silver cups for the open sailing, dingy, canoe sailing and canoe paddling races. The events this year are expected to bring out more entries than in any year since before the war. The Giddon orchestra has been engaged for the dance at Juniper in the evening. Mr. W. Fletcher of Juniper Island is the regatta secretary, and communications should be addressed to him.

QUEEN MARY'S WON ON POINTS

ANOTHER BIG INTER-PLAYGROUND EVENT YESTERDAY—CENTRALS SCORED SECOND.

Yesterday was another big Inter-Playground day. At Central eight events were run off, despite the drizzle of rain. Central captured 45 1-2 points, while King Edward had to be satisfied with 34 1-2 points. At Queen Mary it was only possible to finish a few of the events and the remainder of the points were divided equally between the two grounds. Queen Mary gets 43 points and Queen Alexandra 37. This makes the totals: Queen Mary 173, Central 164 1-2, King Edward 51 1-2, Queen Alexandra 139.

Central school boys took the baseball game by a score of 7-2. King Edward fellows were all small though, and played a good game. King Edward girls won from Central, 9-3. In the potato races, throw and catch, chariot race and shoe race, Central won first place.

Next week Queen Mary meets King Edward and Central visits Queen Alexandra.

SLICK THIEF OPERATING IN BRAMPTON DISTRICT

BRAMPTON, Ont., July 29.—Twice this week the town has had a visit from a thief. The car belonging to the Department of Agriculture was taken from the street where District Representative J. A. Carroll was calling. The thief bought a can of white paint in the town, painted out the license number in the lane off Maxwell Thornton's farm on the Third line east, and cleared out the books and papers from the car. He also emptied the case which held the surveying instruments and dropped the case with the rest in the lane. So far no further trace of the robber has been found. The Brampton Garage was entered early on Tuesday morning and several tires as well as the contents of the cash register, amounting to nearly $20, were taken. The burglars used a side window, but were extremely careful to leave no traces behind.

TOM MIX IS COMING IN A NEW THRILLER

Tom Mix is coming to town again—this time in a riproaring, two-fisted, swift-moving love story that tops all others of the same class. It is "Desert Love," which William Fox will present on Friday at the Allen Theatre for a run of two days. Those who have seen the picture describe it as a "skyrocket of action," sweeping without pause to a finale of hair-raising quality.

If the "daredevil of the screen" proves true to his record—and there can be small doubt as to this—then there is a treat in store for the big audiences that crowd the theatre whenever Mix appears. The fascination of danger is no better illustrated than in the character of this daring cowboy-actor, who stops at nothing to secure blood-stirring effects.

Mix is seconded by a cast of superior ability, including Francelia Lillington, Eva Novak, Lester Cuneo, Charles K. French and Jack Curtis. The direction is by Jacques Jacard.

Of English invention is a slot machine that prints the fact that postage has been paid on letters instead of affixing stamps.

Voice Of The People

ROBERT HICKS URGES SUPPORT OF BY-LAW

Mr. Editor,—I have read with some interest the advice given to the ratepayers by Mr. R. R. Hall in connection with the Hunter street bridge by-law, which is to be voted on to-morrow.

In one of Mr. Hall's first letters on the Hunter street bridge, I believe he asked the citizens of the good and reputable city of Peterborough to vindicate and trample upon the principles which are the very foundation upon which all business enterprises and commercial undertakings are based—that is the principle of discharging a moral obligation, without seeking some legal term or "short corner" method of evading the same.

Why does Mr. Hall advise defeating the by-law and refusing payment of advances made for material and labor on this (too large an undertaking) which has already gone too far to stop? Is it from any personal interest he takes in the welfare of the public for whom he has generated a lot of sympathy since the time of the city's negotiations for the purchase of the Otonabee Power Co., when he, in control of the Otonabee Co., side-tracked the city and threw his company and his personal energy with the Peterborough Light & Power in an effort to prevent this same public from serving themselves and owning this utility, which is to-day saving them approximately $35,000 per annum.

Until Mr. Hall has something to his credit in the matter of public-spiritedness, vote against his suggestion and vote for the by-law to grant the additional money necessary on account of the abnormal times which we are passing through.

ROBERT HICKS.

SAYS COUNCIL IS TOO GOOD.

To The Editor of The Examiner:

Use common sense and complete the Hunter street bridge. From a man who takes a long distance view of the situation, and not having any interviews with the Council men or contractors, it is much easier to criticize the article after it is finished than to construct it. I have noticed some suggestions made for the completion of the bridge, in altering it to a steel bridge, also other suggestions to engage other engineers and get their opinions as to what steps to be taken. Let us consider this matter on some other angle, also let us start right from the bottom. When we elected the present Mayor and Council we used our best judgment and certainly succeeded in doing so. In fact, too good in my estimation. They are trying to please every ratepayer, from the business man to the labourer and are wasting their valuable time for the welfare of the city, regardless of their private loss through it. Tell me is there a man in the world who can please everyone? Impossible! as there will always be some one to find fault no matter how good they are. When the bridge question arose a year ago there were a good many days and nights spent in working out a way how and what to build and after a long struggle between the Council, when one suggested to let the contract for a lump sum, others thought the present way of building was the best, as at the time the contract was let things did not look very rosy as labour looked as if it were going down, as was material, and the Council came to the conclusion this was possibly the best and cheapest way to have the bridge built, so the contract was let. But unfortunately the times have changed against the contract, as we all know in our own business how labour and material have soared sky high to prices never heard of before during this short period. This caused a lot of people to get stung good and heavy by miscalculation in their own business, which could not have been protected as there is not a living soul who could have prophesied before. Besides this, some of our Council men were scrapping for weeks to have set a price on labourers and carpenters. Finally it was granted. As I have stated before our Council is trying to please everyone. Now tell me how could they have protected the excess cost of the bridge under these conditions. As to the east end of the bridge not being built on solid rock, which was objected to by some of the ratepayers, I might say this question came up some time ago and was settled after interviews with engineers and University men and decided it was perfectly safe to carry the bridge. Had the new by-law not been put before the people this question would not have come up again. Now as I have outlined in this letter, our Council is trying their very best for the welfare of the city. Why not back them up and believe they are trying to use the best judgment they know how and will complete the bridge satisfactorily by voting the other $100,000 by-law.

LOUIS FLORENCE.

WHO WAS CITY SOLICITOR?

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

With reference to the overhead bridge I notice a letter from Mr. G. N. Gordon, claiming no responsibility as to the contract for the said bridge. I would ask Mr. Gordon who the city solicitor was at the time the contract was let and what is the duty of a city solicitor, with reference to such a contract. Did the Council take his advice or did they refuse it and let the contract on their own responsibility? If not was it not the duty of the city solicitor to advise with reference to said contract as he says there is no binding contract and no person can be bound in any way, what is a city solicitor paid for?

My experience is civic affairs of twelve years proved that the council is advised by the City Solicitor only with reference to contracts. When it is needful to spend the corporation money with caution even more than if it belonged to one's self. I would like the public to consider this question.

Now with reference to the drilling for the piers or abutments for the said bridge I noticed in the press a statement made by Mr. Frank Barber to the Council that he could not very well tell the difference between hardpan and rock as his excuse for extra expenditure and failure to find a foundation for said pier and abutment. Is that what his experience has actually given him in that respect? If so we have all a grea deal to learn especially from those paid for such an investigation. Was there a contract for said bridge or not. One says there was, one there was not. If there was not then it is up to us to pay for a poor deal and the people of Peterboro' want to consider this. As to future elections, the taxes in the city at present are a disgrace. At the present time we see the streets washed not sprayed with oil with as much oil on a mile as should do five. We drive on streets outside of the paved area which are a disgrace to any city of our size. We have better streets, in the north country beyond Buckhorn. Where are our taxes spent and what return do we get for them.

The tax rate to-day prevents the holding of property in Peterboro, compelling people to sell the property and get out of the city as we are all tired of such management. Now let all consider this not only in voting for the Bridge By-law but in the elections which will take place at the end of the year. If we do not we must be satisfied with present conditions and say no more about the question.

J. S. DEYELL, V.S.

The Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir,—If the central span of the Hunter street bridge is not constructed under the authority of the ratepayers' vote to-morrow, there is almost certain danger that the main river piers will be so seriously damaged that the work will require to be done over again. In addition to that the false work and piles in the river will certainly go out with the frost, according to the best engineering opinion we have been able to get. The temporary bridge nearly went out last winter, and great efforts are being made to hold this until this fall, and this will not stand the ice of another winter.

Unless the by-law is carried to-morrow the men will not be able to go back to work to complete the bridge, and when the ice and frost comes the people of Ashburnham will be cut off from the rest of the city, and will be able to reach the city only around by the Smith street bridge.

It is estimated the loss which is likely to be entailed by the false work and piers, the temporary bridge at Simcoe street, and the probable injury to the river piers will be from $25,000.00 to $40,000.00, and this will certainly require to be met by the ratepayers some day, in addition to what is required to erect the central span. I think it is in the interest of the ratepayers to authorize the expenditure set forth in the by-law to protect the stake they have already in this matter. I would urge each voter to exercise his franchise early in order to prevent loss and injury to the city's property, and to carry out this undertaking.

Yours truly,
R. V. COPPING.

T. TOOMS NOT ONLY PEBBLE ON BEACH WRITES EX-WARDEN

ROBT. N. SCOTT SAYS FARMERS WERE PROMISED FEDERAL SUPPORT BY L.L.P.

Editor, The Examiner:

Sir,—In reading Mr. Tooms' report of the meeting Tuesday night I noticed that he stated that the U.F.O. and his party failed to agree. No wonder, when Mr. Tooms and some of his party wished to run the whole show. While the farmers have been quite agreeable (to date) in allowing Mr. Tooms to look after their interests at Toronto. He and some of his party do not think a farmer capable of looking after their interests at Ottawa. Rather a strange state of affairs.

While I was a strong supporter of Mr. Tooms at the last election and am still a supporter of the man who works hard, I am not a supporter of selfish motives.

Mr. Tooms should not allow the large majority which he received last fall to carry him away with the idea that he is the only pebble on the beach. They even went so far as to deny the truth of an agreement to support a farmer for the Dominion elections, which farmers from Smith and Ennismore fully understood them to make. As the representative of the farmers, Mr. Tooms used very poor judgment in having so much to say. And the stand which he took at the meeting has left a very poor opinion of himself and some of his party with the farmers. I am afraid that he has shot his bolt.

R. N. SCOTT, Smith.

DOUBLE MURDER IN TIMISKAMING BUSH

Russian Poles Shot As They Lay on the Ground.

OTTAWA, July 28. — A double murder, in which the victims, two Russian Poles, were shot as they lay prone on the ground after being beaten into a state of insensibility, has been brought to light at Timiskaming, Que., following an investigation by provincial detectives and an inquiry conducted by Dr. T. B. Davies, coroner of Hull district, at the request of the Quebec attorney-general's department. The victims, A. Kustman, 24 years, and T. Kolodricy, 30 years, were done to death last Friday afternoon in the woods near Timiskaming village and a short distance from the pulp and paper plant of the Riordon Company.

When last seen by his brother, Kustman was talking to two strangers on the outskirts of the village. After meeting Kolodoricky, all engaged in a game of cards. The supposition is that the murder followed disputes over the game.

JUDGE ORDERS PROPRIETOR TO CLOSE "SHORE ACRES."

WINDSOR, July 29.—In line with the general movement to close up undesirable resorts throughout the district, County Judge Smith, in Chambers to-day, issued a formal order against George McIntosh, well-known sporting man and proprietor of the "Shore Acres," a popular roadhouse on the river front between Windsor and Sandwich, notifying him to vacate the hotel and close down the premises by 15th October.

Counsel for B. Siegel, of Detroit, owner of the property, made application for the closing order on the ground that the place was being depreciated in value because of charges of breaches of the O.T.A. registered against it.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ward, of Oshawa, and Miss Muda Tabb, of Bowmanville, have been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Ashby, 200 Rubidge street. Mr. Ward was very favorably impressed with Peterboro, particularly the well kept streets and lawns. Mr. Ashby is a cousin of Mr. Ward's.

CROQUET

We do not propose to question golf's enormous superiority to croquet. The best conditions for playing the homely game may be obtained almost anywhere at an outlay of, say, fifty dollars. Naturally, then, the best people will not play it: for to do so might raise an intolerable suspicion that they could not afford to lay out more than fifty dollars for an outdoor amusement. They will stick to the golf course, which obviously involves an investment of at least a hundred thousand dollars, and so advertises their ability to spend freely.

Being cheap, croquet will always be unfashionable; for if the best people eschew it the imitation best, who cannot afford golf but might afford croquet, will certainly have nothing to do with it.

Golf also certifies one's financial respectability—to borrow Professor Veblen's happy phrase—by requiring a free expenditure of time. One cannot devote a mere beggarly half hour before luncheon or dinner to golf, as he can to croquet. He must have considerable leisure: and having leisure is the very sterling mark of financial respectability—except, of course, in the case of tramps. Golf has its special costume, also, which again advertises one's ability to spend.

With none of these advantages, croquet is a frankly disreputable game. It in no way stamps one as having money. A person might attain a high degree of proficiency in it and still be a mere mechanic or book-keeper. But there are probably eighty-odd million persons in the United States whose financial status is frankly disreputable. Fifty dollars in money and half an hour of time twice a day would probably be the limit of what they could afford for outdoor amusement. Many of these disreputable persons live in towns and villages where the absence of any popular outdoor exercise results in a shocking degree of physical stagnation. Remote and secure from the offended eye of Fashion, they might turn to croquet, which, with all its admitted drawbacks, would be better for them than sitting on a dry-goods box if male, or on a neighbor's front porch if female.—Saturday Evening Post.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, July 29.—Prices were irregular at the opening of the New York stock exchange to-day. Opening prices were: U. S. steel, 87 3-4 up 1-2; Reading, 87 3-4 up 5-8; Pan-American pet., 94 1-2 off 1-8; Crucible, 146 off 1 1-2; Studebaker, 64 1-4 off 1-2; Baldwin, 110 up 3-4; American Loco., 91 5-8 up 1-8; Southern Railway, 27 up 1-8; Republic Iron and Steel, 85 3-4 up 5-8; U. S. Rubber, 89 1-2 (unchanged); Central Leather, 57 1-4 up 1 1-8; Chandler, 87 off 1 1-2; Sinclair, 26 1-4 off 3-4; Kelly Springfield, 85 off 2 1-8.

Traders were generally on the short side of the market, but bear attacks failed to affect the prices a great deal during the first hour. Steel held around 88, and other leaders were a point more above yesterday's close. Replogle advanced 2 1-4 to 76 1-2.

Factors affecting the market favourably were that the interstate Commerce Commission would grant a substantial increase in both freight and passenger rates this week, and the optimistic statement of Governor Harding of the Federal Reserve Board.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Foreign exchange was lower at the opening to-day. Demand sterling opened at $3.74 1-4 off 1 1-4, francs demand $.0763 off $.0010, demand lire $.0531 off $.0010, marks demand were $.0230 off $.0006, Canadian demand was $.8815.

OBITUARY

JEAN COURSEY.

Jean Coursey, infant daughter of Mr. Patrick Coursey, 565 Romaine street, died yesterday at the family residence, aged seven and a half months. The funeral to St. Peter's Cemetery took place this morning at 10 o'clock.

TIMOTHY DONOVAN

A very sad death was that of Mr. Timothy Donovan which occurred at his late residence Longford, Ont., on July 12. The late Mr. Donovan had been in failing health for some time but it was not thought that his illness was of a serious character until the day of his death. Deceased was in his fifty-fifth year. He is survived by his wife, two daughter, Mae and Helen, and one son, Percy, all at home, also one sister, Mrs. Wm. Guy, of Toronto, and three brothers, Bernard H., of Longford, James of North Bay and J. M. Donovan of Duluth.

The funeral took place from his late residence to St. Columbskill's church Uptergrove, on Wednesday, July 14, where Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Harrison. The pall-bearers were members of the Knights of Columbus, Messrs. Geo. Overend, Thos. Hart, J. A. Cuthbert, James Doyle, Daniel Mulvihill and George O'Connell to which order the deceased belonged.

AGAINST BONUSES BY MUNICIPALITIES

(Canadian Press.)

QUEBEC, July 29.—Arthur Roberts K. C. of Bridgewater, N.S., was to-day elected president of Union of Canadian Municipalities which concluded its annual convention here.

Controller Ramsden Toronto and C. W. Rondeau, Westmount, were contestants for the first vice presidency latter being declared elected after vote had been taken. Mr. Ramsden was elected second vice-president and A. A. Pearson, Point Grey, B.C., third vice president. The Association placed itself on record as opposing bonuses by municipalities as an inducement to industries to establish planes.

C.N.R. TO OPERATE PASSENGER FLEET

UNITED STATES IS WATCHING JAPAN

WASHINGTON, July 28.—The United States Government is understood to be giving close attention to Japanese relations and Japan's general policy in the Far East because of the effect on the questions involved of the recent withdrawal of United States troops from Siberia, the signing of the consortium relative to Chinese financial aid, the assumption of control of the Chinese Eastern Railroad by the Japanese, and the Japanese occupation of Northern Saghalien and the greater portion of the maritime provinces of Siberia.

British interests in China and Japan are regarded here as paralleling to some extent those of the United States because of the large business transactions between those countries and the British Dominions of Canada and Australia, as well as the common desire of the Dominion Governments and California and other Pacific coast States to find some solution of the problem of Oriental labor. The solution of this problem by the British Government, in the opinion here, is made more complex by reason of the existence of the Anglo-Japanese Treaty, which recently was renewed for one year.

WILL FORCE FEISAL TO LEAVE SYRIA

PARIS, July 28.—France, who is enforcing her mandae over Syria, today made the following terms:

1. Deposition of Emir King Feisel, who, with his entire family, will be forced to leave the country.
2. A ten-million franc war indemnity.
3. Immediate general disarmament—abolition of the army, with only a police force allowed.
4. All war materials to be given up to France.
5. The leaders of opposition to the French mandate to be court-martialed
6. Syria to feed the French army within its borders.

RECAPTURED BY THE POLICE AFTER WEEK IN HIDING.

OWEN SOUND, July 29.—George E. Hutton, who escaped from the custody of Deputy Chief John Thompson, after being remanded on a charge of theft, was recaptured last night. Hutton spent the week the police were searching for him, in a gully near his home.

Yesterday morning he ventured down to his home for something to eat, and was caught by the police before he left.

In the Police Court yesterday afternoon he was sent to Kingston Penitentiary for thirty months on four charges of theft and the charge of escaping from custody. An accomplice in the robbery of the hardware store of Creeper & Griffin, Darwin Cosby, was sentenced to a term not exceeding two years in the Ontario Reformatory.

AUTUMN HATS ARE RICH IN COLOR

Color, which has played so prominent a part in the summer clothes, is being used again and in a greater degree than usual for winter. We find it in a dark velvet hat with feathers of vivid salmon pink; again on a Leontine model, ribbon in vivid color used abundantly to suggest a feather in the bright American Beauty shade.

In shape we find tremendous variety. The turbans are worn if any a little lower, while the brimmed hats have somewhat higher crowns, perhaps. Hats are still worn well down on the head, so the eyebrow is just visibe.

In materials, duvetyn, velvet, some taffeta for the "demisaison"—all play their part, as well as a rather rough beaver cloth whic his sometimes om lined with duvetyn or satin.—July-August Good Housekeeping.

TOOK IN MILLIONS, NOW PAYING BACK

BOSTON MAN OFFERED FIFTY PER CENT. INTEREST AND GOVERNMENT STEPS IN.

BOSTON, July 28.—The accounts of Charles Ponzi, the dealer in international postal coupons, who has obtained several million dollars from the New England public on his promise to pay 50 per cent. profits, will be audited by both the county and federal authorities. United States Attorned Gallagher announced to-day that he would place an auditor on Ponzi's books with a view not only to learning whether his business was solvent, but also to determine whether his juggling of international stamps involved any violation of federal laws.

The rush of people to withdraw their money from Ponzi's hands, begun after he had concurred in a suggestion by District Attorney Pelletier that he take no more money in, continued to-day.

"Pi Alley," where he established temporary quarters to accommodate the crowds, was the scene of a day-long line of people, who wound from the former tap room where the quarters were located, into City Hall avenue. Ponzi ordered sandwiches and coffee served those who forsook luncheon to get their money back, or to collect on notes matured with the 50 per cent. interest paid by Ponzi.

All those who applied for their money, and who conformed with the simle conditions laid down by Ponzi, were paid. He said he had paid out several hundred thousand dollars yesterday and thought the run would cross the million dollar mark to-day.

He has estimated his total liabilities at $3,000,000 and says he has $13,000,000 in this country and abroad to meet them. With the publicity recently given his operations, it has developed that Ponzi came to this country from Italy a few years ago with only $2.50 and until late last year was a low-salaried clerk in an exporting house.

GRAPE CROP HEAVIER THAN EVER BEFORE.

Hundreds of Tons More This Year Than Any Previous Season.

ST. CATHARINES, July 28.—The grape crop of the Niagara grape belt this year will be hundreds of tons greater than any previous year's yield, the vineyards being fairly loaded with fruit, still green, but soon to ripen.

Enormous quantities of grapes will be used up by the grape juice concerns in Canada and the United States and the grape growers here report ready sale at big prices for all the grapes they can harvest this year.

The price will run around $100.00 a ton, and this year a great many Canadian grapes will cross the line into the United States. In fact, American buyers have been here ready to carry off practically any kind of Canadian fruit.

This forced the local canning factories to pay big prices for strawberries, raspberries, etc., because the local growers had a ready market in the United States.

So pleased are the members of the Niagara Grape Growers' Association with the prospects that they held a jubilation banquet the other night in this city.

MECKENZIE KING SENDS GREETINGS TO MURRAY.

Federal Liberal Leader Wires: "An Utter Rout of Toryism."

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, July 28.—Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Leader of the Opposition, to-day telegraphed his congratulations to Premier Murray of Nova Scotia in these terms.

"Please accept for yourself and colleagues my heartiest congratulations on the splendid victory of your Government and the unparalleled expression of continued public confidence in yourself and your Administration. Kindly also extend my congratulations to the Liberals of Nova Scotia on the utter rout of Toryism and splendid triumph of Liberal principles in your Province. I feel confident that just as soon as opportunity is afforded them the Liberal forces in Nova Scotia will be not less successful in demonstrating in the Federal arena the complete distrust with which the entire country has come to view an arbitrary and reactionary Toryism in its usurpation of the fundamental rights of the people in matters of Government."

VOL. XVLII. NO. 25 PETERBOROUGH, FRIDAY, JULY 30, 1920 PRICE THREE CENTS

Three Arrests Made By Police in Clean Up of Local Thefts

WILLIAM AND HARVEY BROOKS ARE CHARGED WITH HAVING STOLEN AUTOMOBILE ACCESSORIES—RUSSELL PERRIN WAS TAKEN LAST WEEK, FOURTH SUSPECT IS ELMER BROOKS.

TORONTO, July 30.—The local detective department acting with Detective Newhall, of the Peterboro Police Force, last night made two arrest that will assist materially in cleaning up the series of robberies that have been prevalent in the country districts surrounding Peterboro for the last few months. William and Harvey Brooks, brothers, were arrested by Detective Sergeants Wickett and Newhall, resepctively. William on Dupont Street and his brother on Brock Avenue. They are charged with receiving stolen gods, automobiles tires and accessories. Russell D. Perrin another member of the outfit was arrested last Thursday by Detective-Sergeants Newhall and Elliott on a charge of theft. The fourth member of this gang, Elmer Brooks a brother of the two who were arrester last night, is still a liberty, but he is being watched for on charge of burglary.

According to the Peterboro officer there has been a number of robberies in the district about Peterboro this summer and finally the police of that city were asked to take charge of the cases in order that a stop be put to the crimes. Early in June the garage of Smith and Nurse, at Fowler's Corners, 7 miles north of Peterboro, was broken into and tires and other accessories valued at $300 were taken. The police worked on this case for a long time, as it was thought that the same men were responcible for a number of other burglaries in the vicinity.

Hid in Woods.

Last week Detective-Sergeant Newhall came to Toronto and since then he has been actively working on the case. According to the story given out by the police Elmer Brooks and Perrin drove from Toronto to the scene of the burglary in an automobile and stole the goods. Instead of bringing them back to this city with them they hid the proceeds of the burglaries in the woods for several weeks and when the search had apparently ben abandoned they returned to the scene and brought the tires to Toronto. These were then handed over to William and Harvey Brooks, who disposed of them. Already a large quantity of the goods stolen has been recovered.

Detective-Sergeant Newhall stated last night that in all probability other charges will be preferred against the prisoners. The Brooks brothers live at 826 Dupont Street but according to the information in the hands of the police they formerly lived in Lindsay.

The prisoners are being brought to Peterboro this afternoon by motor.

Perrin appeared in Police Court in Peterboro last Monday on a charge of theft and was remanded for a week.

SEES WINDSOR PLOT TO ABSORB BORDER TOWNS BY CHARGES AGAINST SANDWICH

(Special to The Examiner.)

SANDWICH, July 30.—Accusations against the Sandwich police force are, according to Beverly Trumble, of the Chappel Road House, "a part of a deep-seated plot of the people of Windsor and the Border Cities Star to amalgamate the other urban communities."

"We have a common street railway and education system, and now Windsor wants a common police force as a step toward ultimate amalgamation," continued Mr. Trumble. He denied that he was "in" with the police, or that liquor was sold in his house, blaming its ill-repute upon the negro waiters who had previously been employed there. He declared that he had offered to provide police protection for Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin if the latter had wished to visit the house. "When we clean up the ministers, there'll be a decent country," declared Mr. Trumble.

CANADA IS DEVELOPING NEW SPIRIT

VISITING JOURNALIST SEES A DEEPER NATIONAL SENTIMENT —SOUTH AFRICA WANTS CANADIAN PAPER.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO SMUTS

(Special to the Examiner.)

TORONTO, July 30.—"What impresses me most is that Canada is developing a national spirit which I did not se in the past," said George H. Kingswell of Johannesburg, South Africa, who has reached Toronto, as a delegate of the Imperial Press Conference. Mr. Kingswell is a veteran Journalist, who has worked in Australia, should be supplied with Canadian Newsprint before the United States.

"We are willing to pay", he declared. "Just give us a chance. We can't supply our own paper in South Africa and for three reasons, lack of material, skilled labour, and demand of the product when finished. I hope that the conference will take this up." Mr. Kingwell is not worrying about South Africa's future, It's all right", he said. "Botha's death was lamented, but Smus is able and conscientious and he has shown that he can carry on the country's government. Immigration to my counry, speaking generally, is no for the white working man. They can't compete with the colored races but we want agriculturists with some money, killed farmers to raise sheep, horses and cattle."

TURKS IN PARIS TO SIGN TREATY

Arrived a Day Late for Formality at Scores.

(Sanadian Press.)

PARIS, July 30.—The Turkish delegation which is to sign the peace treaty arrived in Paris this morning. It was the intention to sign the peace treaty on Thursday at Sevres, four miles northeast of Versailles, but Turkish delegates were delayed on the journey from Constantinople and the ceremony had to be postponed.

SYNDICALISTS TRY INTIMIDATION BY SHOOTING WORKERS

OUTRAGES IN STREETS OF BARCELONA BY SPANISH "RED" ORGANIZATION AGAINST MEMBERS FALLING AWAY.

(Canadian Press.)

MADRID, July 30.—Non-syndicalist workers of Barcelona have been suffering a reign of terror during the past ten days at the hands of syndicalists who within that period have assassinated or attempted to assassinate thirty persons. Outrages occur at any time in the open streets. Even in the most crowded centres of traffic an outburst of shooting happens and then stops suddenly. Then the perforated body of some man is seen lying on the ground, but the assailants have generally disappeared without molestation. The victims without exception are factory workers who have refused to continue to pay dues to the Syndicates and thereupon are condemned to punishment by a secret band of revolutionary syndicates which declares that the victims are guilty of treason towards their fellows.

PREMIER TO SPEAK AT STERLING

WILL ATTEND GUS PORTER'S PICNIC IN HASTINGS COUNTY— EXPOUND NEW POLICY.

HIS FIRST ADDRESS

OTTAWA, July 29. — Hon. Arthur Meighen will deliver his first political address at a big picnic which is to be held near Belelville, in Hastings County, on August 11th. The constituency selected is that which is represented by E. Gus Porter, M.P. The new Premier is choosing for his first political pronouncement the province which heretofore has been the strongest in its attachment to the Conservative party and to the principles which the present alliance reaffirms. While no arrangements have yet been made it is the intention that the Hastings county meeting will be the first of several in different parts of the country in which the achievements of the Union Government will be related and, more particularly the new policy adopted will be expounded. Incidentally, attention will be devoted to the development of party organization.

The Premier goes West to-morrow to address on Monday a meeting in his constituency of Portage la Prairie but it is under the auspices of the local Board of Trade and largely in the nature of a home-coming reception, so his remarks will not be on political lines.

Allies Set Limit On Concessions Poland May Make to Soviet

TERMS OF ARMISTICE MUST EXCLUDE TERRITORIAL AND POLITICAL CHANGES AND ALSO DISARMAMENT OF THE POLES— TRANSFER DENIKINE'S MUNITIONS TO WARSAW.

(Sanadian Press.)

PARIS, July 30.— The limitations which Great Britain and France would put upon the Soviet demands on Poland in arranging an armistice, are set forth in a note sent to the Bolshevik government it was stated here today. The two Allied governments have notified Poland that they will not permit her to accept possible armistice demands involving whole or partial disarmament of the country, any change in the Polish government system brought about by the Soviets, the acceptance by Poland of boundaries less favorable than that provisionally drawn by Lloyd George, and the use of Poland as a bridgehead between Germany and Austria.

RUSHING BIG SUPPLIES OF MUNITIONS TO POLAND

As bearing on the military situation, it develops that vast stocks of ammunition from the Allies are moving towards Warsaw to-day from Danzig on the Baltic Sea and from Roumania and Czecho-Slovakia. These munitions were for the most part originally despatched for the army of General Denikine, but were delayed until too late. The munitions being sent from Danzig, however, were shipped recently for the especial use of Poland. Other munitions are expected to be shipped from Great Britain and France within a few days.

HUNGARY WANTS TO FIGHT BOLSHEVIKI.

PARIS, July 30.—Hungary has asked permission of Great Britain and France to attack the Soviet army.

Such an attack would involve permission likewise to reorganise the Hungarian army, the demobilisation of which was provided for by the Hungarian Peace Treaty.

The Allies are hesitating over Hungary's request, it is said, because they fear Hungary will expect too many concessions in the Treaty terms.

SAYS STREETS AREN'T GIVEN OIL BATHS

CITY ENGINEER EXPLAINS THAE APPLICATION IS LIGHT.

To allege that the city is washing the streets with oil is absurd, states City Engineer Parsons. The real facts of the case, if parties would ascertain them before making such statements are that the streets do not get enough oil on account of the economically policy the workers department have to pursue.

They have been using one fifth of a gallon per square yard whereas the proper amount to secure best results would be one quarter to one half a gallon for the same area. In other words instead of the 40,000 gallons used to date this year some 60,000 would have been used with a corresponding expenditure.

More oil would without question give a better roadbed.

Asked if the product used had proved a satisfactory wearing surface, he said it had on a good road but unless the road was in good condition it did not make for a much better surface.

The appearance of a freshly oiled road with plenty of stone in it and crevices for the oil to collect in left people with a false impression that the oil is being poured on extravagantly while on a sandy or ditry road it quickly dries up with the citizens drawing an opposite conclusion. In reality the coating is the same.

ATTEMPTED TO HOLD UP MAIL DRIVER

A daring attempt was made by two young men to hold up Mail Driver Beavis of Hastings yesterday afternoon at 4 o'colck while he was making his usual trip from Hastings to Norwood along the Hastings road.

While the affair was too sudden for Mr. Wilson to have any clear idea of what occurred, apparently two men in shirt sleeves stepped into the road and made an attempt to stop him. Beavis however quickly whipped up the horses and made the trip into Norwood in safety.

No fire arms were used and as yet no clue has been discovered as to the men's identiy. Had the men been successful in their evident intention of robbing the mail bags a quantity of valuable mail would have been secured by them.

LUCAS HAS ESCAPED FROM SINN FEINERS

LONDON, July 30. — Brigadier General Lucas, commander of the former military area, who was kidnapped late in June by the Sinn Feiners, has escaped. He reached the Tipperary military barracks to-day, it is announced in Irish advices. The military lorry by which he was picked up was later ambushed by the Sinn Feiners, two soldiers being killed and three others injured.

KITCHENER PROTESTS OMISSION FROM TOUR

IS NOT ON ITINERARIES OF TWO VISITING ASSOCIATIONS.

(Special to the Examiner.)

KITCHENER, July 30.—Characterizing as "discriminatory and an injustice to Kitchener and also to the delegates" the omission of this city from the route of the British Imperial Chamber of Commerce tour of Canada, the City Council and Board of Trade have forwarded a protest to D. O. Wood, traffic manager of the anadian National Rialways. Reference is also made to the fact that Kitchener has been eliminated from the tour of the Imperial Press Conference.

A. E. F. DESERTERS IN PARIS.

1,500 Criminal Characters Are Being Gradually Rounded Up.

PARIS, July 30.—Deserters from the American Army that came to France still number 1,500 in the Paris district alone, according to reports made by the Paris police to Captain J. A. Warden, who is supervising the apprehension of the deserters in addition to investigating bills still being presented against the American Expeditionary Forces.

As these deserters all have the reputation with the French police of carrying arms and being "bad men" generally, the police simply notify the American authorities from time to time of their presence in some particular place, but do not attempt to arrest them.

In some weeks the arrests of deserters have averaged as high as ten The men not only carried arms, but remarkable sets of personal papers, including forged army discharges and forged army orders. With these papers it was simple to obtain necessary French identity cards. The deserters are often American citizens of foreign birth.

Dwelling Places Underground.

The lairs of the deserters are mostly in Montmartre, in secret underground passages in which the Apaches of Paris have managed in the past to hide their trails from the police. Their communications are so well established that as soon as a raid is carried out by Americal military police from Coblenz the alarm is given in every quarter.

The deserters are virtually penned up in Paris, not daring to stir outside the city. If they leave Paris it means leaving an income often derived from the illicit sale of drugs, being separated from the communication system which is their safety and being investigated by the French police again.

The number of deserters in Paris is steadily decreasing, however. As soon as all alarms have died down the military police swoop down again on suspected places and usually the next day a convoy starts for Coblenz, where court-martials sit almost continuously. Sentences of less than six months are served there and greater sentences in America.

OPERATION OF SOLDIERS INSURANCE

OTTAWA, July 29.—The operation of the Soldiers' Insurance Act will be administered by the Pensions' Board The necessary order was passed by the Cabinet Council this week. It is felt this step will make for smoother operation as much of the Pension Board machinery can be used.

TWO KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

ST. JOHN SUBURBAN CRASHED INTO FREIGHT—NARROW ESCAPE NEAR LONDON.

(Canadian Press)

ST. JOHN, N.B., July 30.—At least two men are dead and several others injured as a result of a collision this morning when the suburban train on the Canadian National from Hampton crashed into a freight just outside the city. William McGarrity, driver of the suburban, was instantly killed, crushed between the engine and the tender, while the baggage master on the same train was so badly injured that death followed immediately.

Rail Turned Under Engine.

ST. MARY'S, July 30.—The Grand Trunk train from London to Toronto left the track about two miles from here early this morning and two hundred passengers had a close call. A rail turned under the engine while the train was running twenty-five miles an hour and six coaches ran off the track. The broad roadway just at this point prevented the cars from going into deep ditch. Passengers were transferred to a special train sent here from Stratford. The line is not expected to be opened until late to-night.

CHANCE FOR YOUNG MEN

Mr. Paton's Railway School in Lindsay, qualifies young men in railway agent's work in six months. The course includes Telegraphy and Freight and Passenger Instruction. A common school education or better is sufficient. The new term begins on September 1st and intending pupils should forward their names now. Graduates have gone direct from this school this season to positions paying $155.00 per month.

Terms are reasonable and promotion rapid and sure to all young men deserving of it. Write A. M. Paton, Principal National Railway School, Lindsay for all particulars.

All young men should have a business and this is the best Canada affords. 1d26 1w1781

THREE KILLED IN FIGHT

CARBON HILL, Alabama, July 29.—Two men were killed, a third fatally wounded, and a boy seriously shot here last night in a fight resulting from a controversy Deputy Sheriff Ben Barrett had with a negro yesterday afternoon.

FOOTBALL BADGES IN CLARKE'S WINDOW

ARE NOW ON DISPLAY IN LOCAL JEWELLER'S STORE WINDOW.

The Football Badges awarded by the Peterborough City Football Association to the winners (G.W.V.A.) and runners-up (C.G.E.) in the Local Football League are now on display in Mr. Clarke, Jeweller's window on Charlotte Street.

The large badge measures about 1¼ inches with a gold centre and depicted upon it is a football player kicking the ball. Outer circuit is Oxydised Sterling Silver with raised maple leaves springing up from the bottom and along the top and sides is a raised ribbon effect. On the back is inscribed G.W.V.A. winners of Peterborough Footgall League, 1920.

Runners-up Badges are the very same except that they are a miniature size and inscribed up the back is C.G.E. Runners-up of Peterborough Football League, 1920.

In all probability they will be handed over to their respective representatives at the meeting of the Association on Tuesday Evening next. There are 27 Badges in the hands of the Jeweller, 24 of them purchased by the Football Executive and 3 more ordered by the G.W.V.A. Executive to present to some players who played throughout the season.

BAND CONCERT IN PARK TO-NIGHT

The G.W.V. Band promises another musical treat for the public in Victoria Park to-night (weather permitting). The following program will be rendered:

March—"Light of Foot."
Overture—"La Diademe."
Waltz—"Loveland."
Selection—"Maid of the Mountains."
Saxaphone Solo (fox-trots)—(a) "When a Peach in Georgia Weds a Rose from Alabam," (b) "Pip, Pip, Toot, Toot, Good-Bye-ee"—Soloist, Mr. Fred. Miller.
Cornet Duet—"Mountain Echoes"—Messrs. Peryer and Robinson.
Selection—"Tipperaryland."
March—"3 D.G.'s."
God Save the King.

English radio experts have perfected a bell to summon an operator when a message is to be received instead of requiring him to keep his receiving telephones at his ears at all times.

OLD MAN'S BODY FOUND IN BUSH

LORNE HELMER ARRESTED ON SUSSUSPICION OF MURDER NEAR SIMCOE.

SIMCOE, July 30. — Lorne Helmer, a young married man of the great war, in which he served in the Norfolk County battalion, has been placed under arrest, and is now in the jail here, following the finding of the body of James Learn under a pile of leaves near his farm in North Walsingham.

Learne has been missing for two weeks.

Helmer's younger brother is under the surveillance of the police as a witness in the present case.

SIMCOE, July 29. — The body of James A. Learne, who disappeared a fortnight ago, was found under a covering of leaves and brush, hastily buried in the woods at the mouth of a box-burrow on his farm, in North Walsingham, this morning.

The Coroner, Dr. McGilvery, went out with Crown Attorney Slaght this afternoon, and the jury viewed the remains and then adjourned till next Friday.

It appears that the Provincial detective drew a confession from a young man named Hellmer working out near Sparta which gave a clue to where the body would be found, and the search party following his instructions had no difficulty in locating it.

His elder brother, Lorne Hellmer, it is said, is suspected, and a warrant is now out for his arrest.

It is reported that the victim of the supposed tragedy, who is 70 years of age, was deeding his farm to the mother of the two boys on the condition that she joined him in wedlock and that some dispute arose between him and the elder brother.

The tragedy appears to have taken place within one mile of the Shoup murder of May, 1916, for which Emerson Shelley was hanged here during the same year.

2,000 AT GARDEN PARTY.

Gilmour Memorial Church Social a Big Success.

So large was the attendance at the annual raspberry festival held last evening at Gilmour Memorial Church that the tea tables on the lawns about the church had to be re-set four turns and all of the two thousand persons present had a most enjoyable time. After supper an attractive programme was given and speeches made by prominen clergy from the district .The attendance included Rev. Mr. Morrow from Peterboro, Colonel J. W. Miller, Mr. Joseph Wearing and Rev. J. L. Craw.

CITY ENGINEER IS DUBIOUS OF REPORT

BARTH STORY OF SIMPLE SEWAGT DISPOSAL SYSTEM MAY REFER TO IMHOFF UNIT.

That the reporter who saw Theodore Barth, the American engineer, who it is stated claims that by the German methods of sewage disposal a city of 300,000 can dispose of its sewage by a machine no bigger than ordinary heater and operated by one man misinterpreted Barth's statements is the City Engineers' opinion after reading it. The machine referred to is but one part of the Imhoff system practically in universal use in that country. He believes it is the centrifuge of a small piece of machinery used to separate the sludge and water much the same as a cream separator. It would not be much bigger than a churn and in some way or other the writer of the story ha misunderstood the engineer. Mr. Parsons states he never heard of Barthfl

Mr. Parsons admitted that the Germans had good systems which they have improved year by year. Design for an Imhoff system invented by a famous German, Dr. Imhoff was first submitted by Mr. Parons to the council but as the first cost of such a plan even if is maintainance is lower, is considerably more than an activated sludge plant the council threw it out. The Imhoff plan is costly because it gives an effluent that has to he put through filters and this necessitates much additional apparatus. On the other hand the effluent of the activated sludge is much safer and needs no treatment.

City Engineer Parsons believes that a plant of this kind will satisfy the need of Peterboro for many years even if it is out of date as he has declared before, it will surely be with the progress being made year by year in this line of engineering.

EFFICIENCY.

PICNIC TO SHORES OF CLEAR LAKE

KNOX CHURCH CHOIR HAD A PLEASANT OUTING.

The members of Knox Church choir held their annual picnic yesterday afternoon to South Beach. The owners of cars in the congregation very kindly motored the members, to the number of about 50, with friends, to the grounds of the South Beach hotel shortly after one o'clock, with the exception of two cars to bring the late comers about five o'clock.

Arrived at their destination, the party scattered and took part in the several modes of recreation—swinging, quoits, and bathing. Several of the party took to the water like ducks (and, tell it not in Gath, the ladies had their select spot for a splash).

John Penrose was there with his regular swinging arm for the quoits, along with George Hall, who usually gives everyone who frequents his parlours a "trimming" (he can do so either at curling or quoits. Then Herb McCannan and Bill Smith and Squire Heather were around this section of the grounds swinging the quoits and chattering betimes. In another line was George Roy, the president, and Brother Hobson, hopping around and looking after the inner man. They made a smart pair when it came to setting the table—ay, and cleaning the table, too! There was Trucy Pearse with the shoe box filled with ice-cream, Fred Walden with the Order of the Urn attached to his long and trusty arm, and also noted among the party at the splendid lunch prepared was Mesdames Roy and Hobson, who looked like the majestic and broad-minded chaperones they are. Who was the madamoiselle with the box of chees wafers and ice-cream? Looked like Nina Reynolds, with a friend who was overheard to say she was a little squeamish after the trip from the city, and ate a sour pickle, which, she said, "was just what I needed." Then Jim Turnbull was busy with the pickle bottle for his tea, with Bobby Haddow holding like grim death to a huckleberry pie, and shouting for more! And his partners were not far behind, anxious to sample all the good things he had. Then there was quiet Helen Wedlock, with her back modestly to the main table, with Bill Turnbull adoringly piling her plate, and Helen was putting the rations out of sight, too. Ethel Williamson could only have one helping of ice-cream—she should be more careful in future to take it inwardly, instead of dropping it into her lap. It looked suspicious—pretending she had had none before. Mrs. Byers, too, seems to be a bit pious. Edna Allin seems to be very fond of milk in preference to tea, and also enjoyed the huckleberry pie—not to mention the youth at her side, who seemed to be watching everything that went on, lest he should not taste of the spoil. The others cannot be judged otherwise than that they did their best to demolish the pile of eats. It was a much-enjoyed feast of good things. And after all things had been cleared away, and baskets taken unto the cars, and there deposited, the brethren departed to the pavilion. And there after the manner of so many who dance, Bobby Haddow was sent unto the piano, the dancers assembled, and from henceforth they did trip the light fantastic to the gladsome melody brought forth by the pianist. Until a later hour did they enjoy themselves, and when thus satisfied, the people went forth unto the waiting chariots, whose charioteers made to speed on the way to the abodes of the gathering, when at a late hour Peterborough was nigh, they were glad, and in a mighty voice gave thanks unto the charioteers, for so did they marvellously well unto the band of choristers. The day was a happy one for all concerned.

OPPOSE SUMMARY METHOD OF ACTING ON FREIGHT RATES

COMMERCIAL BODIES WANT TIME TO STUDY THE RAILWAY DEMAND.

OTTAWA, July 29.—The Dominion Board of Railway Commissioners has fixed August the 10th as the date on which it will deal with the application of the Canadian National Railways and the Can. Pacific Railway Co. for an increase in freight rates of 30 per cent. Advices received from various sections of the country are to the effect that there will be a strong opposition to the Board's dealing as proposed, with the application in one session without the commercial, manufacturing and commercial interests having an opportunity to scrutinize the claims of the railways and prepare a brief setting forth the views of the public.

Toronto manufacturers and members of the Board of Trade, who are apparently acting together in the matter, have been among the first to voice their opposition to the sudden-death method which it is proposed to adopt in connection with the freight rates which Mr. D. B. Hanna, manager of the Canadian National Railways, says will mean an addition to the revenue of the railways of $50,000,000 a year. A letter has been received by the Railway Commission from Mr. A. C. McMaster, K.C., representing the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and the Toronto Board of Trade, who says that it is assumed that the railway companies are working on detailed statements showing their actual position and which they propose filing with the commission on August 10th. This, he pointed out, would not allow the public an opportunity of studying these statements and he requests that copies should be supplied to the interested parties at least a week in advance of the hearing.

"Within an Inch of Death"

A well known lady in Freshwater, Quebec, found herself in this predicament last winter. Even doctors from the Hospital despaired of her life, but Mrs. Daniel R—is to-day alive and in better health than for years past.

She decided as a last resource (like hundreds of other successful users from coast to coast had done) to give "Marlatt's Specific" a trial, and imagine her joy in being completely restored to health in a very short time feeling years younger.

You can't regain your health without removing causes of your ailment. Many people induce themselves to believe they have no gall stones or appendix trouble. If you have indigestion pain in the back or stomach, these are sure warnings. Beware of serious trouble if neglected. But don't let it go on. Just try one dose of Marlatt's Specific and see how much better you feel. For sale at all druggists throughout Canada. If your dealer cannot supply you write for free booklet to J. W. UNION MOVEMENT IN CHURCH GROWING

THERE ARE NOW 300 IN CANADA, WITH MOST IN THE WEST.

There are approximately three hundred union churches in Canada. Annual statistics being compiled in the church offices here reveal this relation between the Presbyterian and Methodist Churches, with many other congregations in the process of amalgamation, and districts in the west being divided, where it has been mutually arranged that only one church or the other will establish a centre, with building and minister.

An analysis of the figures and conditions show that Northern Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, British Columbia, and Alberta are the furthest advanced in organic church union consummation. The older sections of the country, particularly Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, and western Ontario are only slightly affected so far. North of Toronto there are many union congregations, while in the Montreal district, or north of there in Quebec, there are four united churches.

The Methodist figures show that over 126 churches of their denomination are either co-operative, united, or at present under the charge of a Presbyterian minister. The exact figures are not yet available for the Presbyterian Church.

United Churches.

In many of the newer districts in the west, where they have had several denominations, each struggling for existence and creating rivalry, it has been decided to unite, and have one Protestant Church. The result has been a smooth-working arrangement with an income equal to the cost. In Alberta the Presbyterian and Methodist officials have worked out a co-operative scheme whereby certain sections will be ministered to by one denomination only.

AUSTRIA AT LAST HAS A BOOM THAT MAY BE VALUABLE

VIENNA, July 31.—Austria is booming. It is a limited, qualified boom, but one must not expect too much. At least starving, hopeless, mendicant Austria is beginning to disappear, and a healthy, optimistic, not impossibly hungry Austria is taking its place. The foreign exchanges are a register of Austria's plight. In February last the Austrian crown sold in London at 100 to the pound of sterling; at the end of May it sold at 200. This rise has not been prevented by the fact that Austria is still financing itself with the printing press and has brought the note circulation of the Austro-Hungarian bank up to 62,000,000 crowns. But Austria is working. Six months ago her government drastically ordered all factories and workshops with more than fifteen employees to increase their staffs by 20 per cent. and to find work for the extra men. Though the manufacturers grumbled that this meant ruin, the plan succeeded. Work was found. To-day the number of industrial unemployed in all German-Austria is only 54,000 which is a third of the 170,000 unemployed in May, 1919, and is less than the average unemployment in the same area in the years before the war.

The improvement is largely due to foreigners. Austria cannot set herself on her legs. But Englishmen, Frenchmen, Italians, and few Americans have been rushing to put money into Viennese and other enterprises, and so make work. Three billion Austrian crowns, estimates the Neue Freie Presse, is the amount of foreign money brought in during the last six months. Some Austrians grumble at this, and these have invented the word Ueberfremdung, which means swamping by foreigners, to express their discontent. But wiser heads, including Prime Minister Renner, reason that this is the sole solution. The foreigners are after profit, but they will make profits and save their money from loss if they help upward Austrian production, and that means work, food, clothing and comfort for Austrians. And the shrewd Austrian reasons that when the grim Saint Germain peace treaty comes to be revised, the multitude of foreigners interested in Austria's recovery will insist on having their say.

And so there is a rush to get into Austria. It is led by the big French gun and metal firm, Schneider-Creusots.

SUGAR BEET CROP.

Increased In Ontario During Last Year.

Shortage of sugar and high prices are said to have turned the attention of Canadian farmers to sugar beet production. Ontario has produced the bulk of Canada's sugar beet in the past, but agricultural conditions are favorable for cultivation in many parts of Western Canada, and considerable acreage is reported to have been planted to beets both in the Prairie and British Columbia.

Beet sugar acreage in Canada n 1919 was 24,500 and the average yield an acre 9.80 tons, compared with 18,000 acres and an average yield of more than 11 tons in 1918. The 1918 crop of 204,117 tons sold at the factories for $2,693,715, or $12.22 a ton.

MRS. M. E. SMITH, prominent Tampa, Florida, woman, who says, thanks to Tanlac, she is now able to walk around without the help of a cane after eight long years of suffering. Says friends are all astonished at her improvement.

"I am so glad my health is being restored after suffering for over eight years with indigestion and rheumatism that I feel like telling everybody about Tanlac," was the enthusiastic statement made recently by Mrs. M. E. Smith, one of the best-known and most highly respected women of Tampa, Fla., residing at 906 Morgan St., in that city. Mrs. Smith's statement is a most remarkable one and will be read with interest by a host of devoted friends.

In referring to her recovery, Mrs. Smith said: "The rehumatism from which I had suffered for years even before I had stomach trouble, pained me worse than ever and until recently I was not only unable to walk without the use of a cane, but I was so weak at times I could hardly get out of bed. I tried many medicines but nothing helped me and I almost despaired of ever getting any better.

'Then Tanlac came along and it was helping so many people here in Tampa, my son brought me a bottle and it had such a wonderful effect on me that I immediately sent for five more bottles. In just a few days after I began taking this grand medicine, my appetite began to improve and in only a short time I was able to enjoy my meals and everything seemed to agree with me perfectly.

"My rheumatism is much better and I have so much more strength I am now able to walk all about the house and up and down the stairs without my cane. Friends who have become so accustomed to seeing me walk with my cane are astonished when they see me now walking around without it.

"I will always praise Tanlac for what it has done for me and I am only too glad to have an opportunity to recommend it to my friends."

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

FRIDAY, JULY 30TH, 1920.

A QUESTION OF PLATFORM.

In considering the entrance of their organization into the political field by the nomination of a candidate, the Peterborough branch of the Great War Veterans' Association might at the same time draft and announce the platform upon which they intend to appeal for support. Dissatisfaction with the present Government is not sufficient, for practically every candidate who will enter the fight will have that justification for his presence in the field, and while anger at the Government's action in refusing cash gratuities for the soldiers and then increasing their own sessional indemnities may be a reason for the appearance in the fight of a soldiers' candidate, it is not in itself a reason why that candidate should be elected. Nor will the Veteran candidate be justified in expecting that a policy of indiscriminate cash gratuities will be considered sufficient to return him to power. The people will naturally want to know what they may expect of the candidate if he should be elected. And so a definite platform of some kind should be formulated and issued at the same time that a standard bearer is placed in the running.

BY-ELECTIONS TO DECIDE.

According to newspaper advices from Ottawa the result of the five by-elections to be held this year will decide whether the Dominion Government will remain in power as long as possible or resign and go to the country before another session. If that conjecture is correct the country may as well get ready for a general election, for the Government's chances in the by-elections can certainly not be described as of the brightest. The Nova Scotia results have shown nothing to inspire confidence in the ranks of the Government, the progress made by the Farmers and Labour being particularly ominous from the viewpoint of the powers that be. The story goes that the cabinet has decided that the by-elections shall be made the test. If the Government scores a complete or even a partial success in the five ridings in which elections will have to be held, the result will be accepted as a fresh mandate from the people to remain in office. On the other hand if the Government is routed then it might just as well go to the country at once in the hope of saving a section of the party—a task that would be impossible if the appeal is long delayed, for daily the administration is forfeiting the confidence of the electors, and the longer it defies popular opinion and clings to power the more complete will be its annihilation when the day of reckoning comes.

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

The Farmers' Sun, the official organ of the United Farmers, declares that the Ontario Government in connection with the Hydro radial question should remember that the real voice of the people is found in the country weeklies and not in the great city dailies. While agreeing with the Sun to the extent of saying that the views of the city dailies are not necessarily the views of all the pepole, the Farmers' organ is going far afield in claiming that only the residents of the rural sections are "the people," which is the effect of the statement quoted above. The citizens of all parts of Ontario have a right to express their opinion on this most important question of Hydro radials. The city dwellers have their own views on the matter just as have their brothers in the country and both should have a fair chance to put these views forward. And the Sun is not any more justified in declaring that the real voice of the people is expressed by the country weeklies than would be the Globe for instance in stating that the views of Toronto are necessarily the views of Ontario. The Sun, of course, is a class paper. It is published for the purpose of assisting the various enterprises, political and otherwise, of the farmers of the province, and naturally tries to say things that will please its customers. It must have been for rural consumption alone that the paragraph referred to was written.

THE FUR IS FLYING.

Judging by the tone of Mr. R. N. Scott's letter in regard to the Farmer-Labour deadlock which appeared in the Examiner last evening, the Ontario heads of the U.F.O. and the Independent Labour party are going to have their hands full in attempting to unite the two interests in support of a joint candidate in the West Peterborough by-election. Mr. Scott, well known as a farmer and as a politician, was one of Mr. Toomis' lieutenants in the last provincial fight, and is admitted to have done good work in the rural sections of the riding on behalf of the Labour candidate. He declares that the farmers of Ennismore and Smith were given to understand that in return for their support for a Labour candidate for the Provincial House, the Labour forces would help in the election of a farmer in the Federal arena. That there was such an agreement is denied by the Labour leaders, but undoubtedly many of the farmers are convinced that last October the Labour party agreed to support a Farmer candidate for the Dominion House and, satisified that such was the case, they look upon the present stand of Labour as a breach of confidence. Under the circumstances a reconciliation of the two forces appears to be out of the question. Neither party is willing to back water, and unless J. J. Morrison and his associates are magicians there will be both Farmer and Labour candidates in the field instead of a single standard-bearer for the two interests.

There is every indication of a warm time politically during the next few weeks.

GIVING AWAY OUR BIRTHRIGHT.

In our column, "Twenty Years Ago," which is filled with editorial extracts and news items taken from the "Weekly Sun" of two decades ago, a news item recently appeared showing that the Government of that day had given away 2,500,000 acres of pulp wood land to a company who were supposed to build a pulp mill in the neighborhood. These explointers also secured a money grant from the Dominion of $410,000 to enable them to build a railway to carry out their pulp. This announcement, coupled with the present revelations regarding irregularities in the administration of the Lads and Forests Department, all goes to show that this department has long been a political football. It has always been a fruitful source of campaign funds, timber limits being given away to party heelers, who in turn financed the Governments at election time.

The Drury Government deserves praise for having courageously gone about the cleansing of this festering sore. The Province, however, will expect more than the mere publishing of facts regarding the stealing and exploiting which has been going on for years. The people are getting tired of this grafting and profiteering—jail should be the final chapter of this timber investigation. If a few of these chief grafters were incarcerated in the Provincial penitentiary it would prove a most salutary lesson to other would-be grafters.

Another lesson which should be learned from the exposure is that our forestry policy is as out of date and archaic as it is possible to be. In many parts of continental Europe, notably in France, Belgium and Germany, forests have become sources of revenue. There are cities in these countries which own forests adjacent to their borders which are so profitable as to altogether eliminate the necessity of paying any civic taxes. If a progressive forestry policy had been adopted 20 years ago, and those two and a half million acres properly utilized by the Government there would have been sufficient revenue today from that one source to pay for the entire charges of Government. Paper manufacturers are making fortunes from the output of pulp and paper. In the past our Governments scorned to conserve our forest lands, water powers and other natural resources, preferring to give them away to party hacks and grafters. It is about time that an exposure of our handling of the lands and forests department was made, and a new and more public-spirited policy adopted.—Farmers' Sun.

OIL RESOURCES ARE ALMOST UNLIMITED

BUT DEMAND IS OVERTAKING PRODUCTION AND RESERVES ARE RUNNING LOW.

NEW YORK, July 30.—T. A. O'Donnell, president of the American Petroleum Institute, in an address at the organization meeting of the International Chamber of Commerce in Paris recently, pointed out the necessity for free development of oil resources outside the United States, in order to meet the increasing demand for petroleum. He said, in part:

"There seems to be a general impression that the petroleum resources of the United States have been pracically exhausted, and that the apparent shortage which has grown rather acute in the last few months has ben caused by the exhaustion of sources of supply. This is not correct. It has been brought about by increased demands rather than by decreased produciton. We are producing in the United States to-day more crude oil than we ever have in the history of our country, but we are drawing heavily every month from stocks, which are already low.

"Notwithstanding the necessity for increased production, nearly all Governments seem to be adopting a destructive policy of restrictive legislation, which canno but curtail the necessary prospecting and production of petroleum. Personally, I am not pessimistic as to the future supply, as I believe there are many parts of the world in which petroleum exists in sufficient quantities to supply the requirements of humanity, no matter how extensive they might be. I believe that if all Governments would establish the policy of open and free opportunity for everybody from everywhere to prospect and develop the petroleum resources of the world, the result would be gratifying and sufficient to meet the requirements.

"At present, the increased demands have become so enormous that it is generally believed by those in the petroleum industry in America that increased activity of the wild-catter will not take care of the world's requirements. It will therefore be necessary for the same kind of activity to be brought about in other parts of the world, and this can only be accomplished by the removal of Government restrictions, and the giving of free opportunity to the prospector."

ROGER BLAMES BORDEN.

For Defeat of Conservatives in Nova Scotia—Trust Betrayed.

WINNIPEG, July 29.—Hon. Robert Rogers was asked what he thought of the result of the elections in Nova Scotia.

"It would be difficult to imagine how the Conservatives could have succeeded. Conservatives in Nova Scotia for many years had not only signally honored Sir Robert Borden as their leader, but they had implicit trust in his loyalty to the Conservative party. This election, coming on at a time when it was clear that their implicit trust in Sir Robert's party loyalty had not only been misplaced, but betrayed, accounts for the result. The surprise is that in face of such a condition the Conservatives were able to poll the heavy vote they did."

THAT SON-IN-LAW OF PA'S — Pa's Suprised into Making a Birthday Present — By Wellington

VIRTUOUS WIVES

By OWEN JOHNSON

"Only six hundred—at your age! said Forrester, astonished. "Things ben going pretty badly then?"

"Pretty bad, sir, yes. Oh, there's nothing wrong, you know with Nellie. You understand what I mean."

"I understand," said Forrester, gazing out of the window.

"But her life and mine don't jibe. It's society's turned her head—all these political picnics and balls, the 'movies', the friend with a car—and dancing every afternoon. I've tried to get her out of it. But you can't budge her from New York—no, sir; not an inch! I'd a fine opening out in St. Louis with my uncle, in a wholesale grocery. But she wouldn't go."

"Perkins, why don't you divorce?" said Forrester abruptly. Then he drew back and stared again into the flitting hills, shocked at the echoes of what he had himself pronounced.

"Well, you see, there's a couple of kiddies," Perkins said gently. "And they're fond of her. So am I—in a way. You see what she looks like. She's bright, always full of spirits. No, I wouldn't want to do anything to hurt her. But some one's got to think about—and that's me. I want to get away, Mr. Forrester, or I'll be losing my grip."

Forrester straightened up, drew out a memorandum pad and pencil.

"Write down your name and address."

"You mean—you'll find a place for me?"

"You bet I will!" he said emphatically. He spoke with decision. "You're a first-class, cooking man, and I'm going to use you. Now, a few plain words. What's important—her life or yours? Who's the worker? Who feeding the family? These things are hard—hard—especially coming to a decision. But make your decision, stick to it, and you'll feel like another man. She won't follow you? Make her an allowance and get out. You come to me to-morrow, when you've told her, and I'll take care of you, Perkins—and you won't lose by it, either. Is it a go?"

He held out his hand. Perkins took it slowly, swallowing hard.

"It's a miracle, sir, that's what it is —no use trying to thank—"

"Don't. I guess I can understand."

When Perkins presently departed, Forrester craned forward, arms on the table, hands drawn under the chin holds for hours in his own thoughts. Before, he had felt isolated by his own private unhappiness, now, a certain kinship in misery descended on him and eased the ache.

"Whatever happens, Andrew B. Forrester's not going to be wrecked either," he said stubbornly. "I've gambled like a fool, I've gotten in beyond my depth, I've lived like a spendthrift. Now enough— she can go her way, and I'll go mine, but her way isn't going to sink the ship!"

He was still in this belligerent mood as the train plunged into the long tunnel below Harlem. He rose and went out on the platform. A gigantic transformation was being worked; an immense system was growing around the shell of the old, layers of tracks being built beneath their roadbed, houses shored up, caverns opened, new supports replacing the crumbling rock, and all this myriad activity going on night and day, without a single minute's disturbance to the multitudes which flowed in and out.

"By George, that is great!" he said in awe. He would have liked to have lifted his hat in token of respect before the genius of his race, which stopped before no impossibility. "If I had a son, I'd like him to do big things like that."

But he had no son. He was alone.

In the station, that great underground sky-scraper, where crowds swarmed up from delving stories, the same joyful reverence filled him. It was all so immense, on a scale so much bigger than any human consideration. It was like a great purposeful tempest washing away little ugliness.

"This is America!" he said to himself, at the sight of world-crowds that rushed about him. The electricity of the moment, the swaying towards the future, the regeneration of the old, tired strain, with the joy of great horizons held him in its grip. A throng of emigrants went past from south-eastern Europe, huddled together, gaping, ticketed for the west. "Out of these staring oxen," he thought, "a maser of men may come. By George this is America!"

He stood a moment, a long moment breasting the human flood, a growing light in his eyes.

"Good Lord, what does my private grief amount to before this?" he said to himself. "I've married, not as I thought I did, as a free agent, but because nature, I suppose, sent me blindly out to seek a mate! Whether I'm happy or unhappy, what does it matter? This is what counts. Big days—and it's good to live in them. This is my life—my man's life—my part in the fight."

VIII

When Andrew Forrester reached his rented home, it was late afternoon The sidewalk was crowded with supplies arriving from the caterers—cases of wine, tins of ices; box-trees and potted plants, wreaths of greens from the florist's; carpenters were carrying in scaffolding; others were erecting the awning, rolling down the carpet. When he picked his way up the steps through this straggling confusion, a heavy-set man in dark clothes barred the door to him.

"What business, please?"

"Just the husband," he said, with a snap of his jaw.

"I beg your pardon, sir. I'm from the agency. We have to be careful who comes in," said the detective, who continued, however, to watch him doubtfully.

"I see—and it's up to me to prove my identity," said Forrester, so brusquely that the detective retreated a step. "Well, there is a certain element of humor in the situation.

"I'm only doing my duty, sir."

At this moment, Laracy, hatless and coatless, plotting a barricade of palms which moved like Birnam Wood, perceived him and came up puffing:

"Won't shake hands, Mr. Forrester I'm covered with grime. Lord, I don't know how we're ever going to be ready, but it's going to be a smasher!"

"Kindly recognize me as the master of the house to this model watchdog," said Forrester grimly.

"What! Oh, I say, that's a good one!" said Laracy, bursting into laughter. "It's all right, Jim," he added, with a wave of his hand which satisfied the detective. "Excuse me, won't you? I'm overseeing the decorations."

"Thanks for the service," said Forrester with an irony which was lost.

He entered the antechamber and thrust his way up through the bedlam to the salons and the ballroom, which swarmed with decorators and carpenters, tracking and purposeful stage-hands, under whose industry the scene was growing from chaos. Half a dozen young fellows whose names he did not know, commandeered by his wife, were rushing in and out under the direction of Steingall, the artist, a short, electric man of enthusiastic rages, who was everywhere, drumming up laggards, rearranging, and directing. And the first person he saw, nonchalant, at home, thoroughly self-possessed, was Tody Dawson. The young fellow perceived him, wheeled, ad came up with and appearance of casualness.

"How do, Mr. Forrester? It's going to be marvelous. Be back in a minute. I've got to telephone for more box-trees."

Forrester bowed without shaking hands. His jaw shut with a snap. The answer had come. He, the husband, was to be sacrificed. It struck him as sublimely ludicrous that he, Forrester should be beaten thus by a youngster who wasn't worth a clerk's salary.

"For she's beaten me," he said grimly. "I am the intruder."

GUELPH LABOURITES STRONGLY PROTEST

AGAINST GOVERNMENT INTERFERING WITH HYDRO AND RADIAL TRANSFER.

GUELPH, July 28.—Governmental interference with Hydro and with the transfer of the Guelph Radial Railway to the Hydro-electric Power Commission as trustees for the municipality in the Guelph, Galt, Elmbira and Hamilton districts, drew a strongly-worded resolution of protest from the Independent Labor party of this city at its meeting last nigh. In summing up it was pointed out that the people of Guelph voted for the project, would have to foot the bill, and that no responsibility attached to the Royal Commission appointed to investigate Hydro-radial projects.

Protest on Three Grounds.

The resolution of protest covers three main points. In the first reference is made to Government interference in the agreement between Gulph and the Hydro, and declares this as being against the principles of public ownership and the rights of municipalities. In the second clause, the Government is scored for leaving to a Royal Commission a task which ought to be performed by itself if anything could be charged against Hydro. It also points out that the Government betrays a lack of confidence in Hydro and its staff.

Thirdly, indignation is expressed at the refusal of the Government to allow municipalities to vote upon the acquiring of Dominion Government radials, "which is, in our opinion, the exercising of the power of veto, which is a violation of the rights of municipalities and directly opposed to the Hydro-electric Railway Act."

UP THE TRAIL

Far up the trail there stands a hut:
It has the look of housing sin,
With two high windows boarded shut

And there the silence seems aware
Of its own hush: the fir trees lean
Away, as though they might see there
Evil they once had seen.

What signs of life were left within
Wild things and winds cleaned long ago.
But what they were and what the sin,
No one will ever know.

LITVINOFF MAKES PROFESSION OF PEACE

COPENHAGEN, July 29.—Maxim Litvinoff, the Bolshevik Assistant Foreign Minister, is an interview today insisted that Poland, boving in previous negotiations with Russia "shown herself crafty and unfaithful," the Soviet Government must see to it that any armistice with Poland is not used to strengthen Poland's forces for further aggression against Russia. "Moreover," Litvinoff added, "in face of the lessons already learned, we cannot rely upon mere assurances, even of the great powers. We are firmly resolved not to impose harsh terms on Poland and do not intend to abandon the cherished principles of the self-determination of peoples because the fortune of war has favored us."

Litvinoff claimed that Russia had given generous and honorable terms to Esthonia, Georgia, and Lithuania when she stood victoriously over those states, "thereby showing ourselves the true friend of small nations."

"Poland," Litvinoff continued, "has nothing to fear from us as long as she is prepared to live in peaceful and neighborly relations. Our peace conditions with Poland will shown an absence of aggressiveness and on essentially peaceful aspirations. There is not a single man influential in Soviet circles but desires immediate peace to rest with the world."

BLACK JACK IS ON ICE CREAM SPREE

Former Champion Getting Too Many Liberties to Suit Authorities.

CHICAGO, July 29.—Much to his disgust, Jackson Johnson, the boxer, was removed from the County Jail at Joliet, Ill., to less comfortable quarters in the jail at Geneva. Johnson's removal is one result of his reported ice cream soda sprees and automobile trips yesterday through Joliet and its environs in company entered and $137 stolen. There has District Attorney Cline said that he wanted Johnson "treated like a prisoner; not a hotel "guest."

The jail at Geneva is under the iron rule of Sheriff Claude Poole, said to be a very determined sheriff, who has no interest in boxing whatever. If Poole cannot keep Johnson inside the jail and "treat him like other prisoners" no man can do it, it was agreed at the office of the United States Marshal here to-day.

Three deputy marshals — Gerald Clancy, Henry Dye and Ben Stern—were despatched with all haste to remove Johnson from the Joliet jail to-day after Mr. Cline had been informed that the boxer, since his arrival in Joliet, had been having a pretty good time. He warned the sheriff that future laxity of prison rules in behalf of Johnson would not be tolerated. Then, on second thought, he ordered Johnson's removal.

RE-ESTABLISHMENT OF PEACE IN EUROPE THE FIRST CONSIDERATION

LLOYD GEORGE INFORMS COMMONS OF NEGOTIATIONS WITH RUSSIAN SOVIET—BOLSHEVIK ADVANCE LESS VIGOROUS, HE REPORTED

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, July 29. — Speaking in the House of Commons on the Russion situation and the Boulogne Conference to-day, Lloyd George said that, owing to the urgency of sending an answer to the Soviet Government concerning the proposed peace conference, it was impossible to secure the attendance of an Italian representative at Boulogne, but Italy was kept fully informed and entirely agreed with the allies.

The Premier read the message despatched to the Soviet Government by Great Britain on behalf of the allies. The message called attention to the fact that the Soviet Government had sent two messages which conflicted concerning participation of the allies in the proposed London peace conference.

The first Russian message, the British communication pointed ut, seemed to reject such participation, while the last message appeared to agree to it.

Great Britain's message continued: "The British Government considers that if the allied Governments are to meet the delegates of the Soviet Government with any chance of success, delegates of the Polish Government and of the other border States concerned must also be present. The conference must have as its essential object re-establishment of the peace of Europe and in the first place between Poland and Russia on conditions which will secure the independence of Poland and the legitimate interests of both countries.

"The conference should also consider questions which are still outstanding between Soviet Russia and the border States which have not yet signed definite peace with Russia. After the settlement of these questions the conference will deal with matters in dispute between the Governments of Soviet Russia and the allies, and the re-establishment of normal relations between them."

Questioned as to whether the Bolshevik advance against Poland had ceased, Mr. Lloyd George stated he had just received a message from the British military mission saying the Bolshevik advance in the north had slowed down and it did not appear it was being pushed with great vigor.

Mr. Lloyd George said he was not sure about the situation in Galicia.

EPIDEMIC OF THIEVING.

ST. CATHARINES, July 28. There seeems to be an epidemic of thievery in the district. Quite a number of cases of burglary are reported. To-day James Nicholls, a Grantham farmer, reported to the local police that his house had been entered and $37 stolen. There has been quite a lot of chicken-roost robbing in various sections.

DYSPEPTICS QUIT STOMACH DRUGGING

A physician says that in most cases of stomach trouble there is really no disease of the stomach at all, but just too much acid. Excessive acid prevents natural digestion, causes sour stomach, fermentation of food, and this upsets the liver and intestines and causes nervousness, weakness, sleeplessness, and "blues."

Quit stomach drugs and artificial digestents. Simply take a teaspoonful or four tablets of ordinary Bisurated Magnesia in a glass of hot water after meals to neutralize the excessive acidity and you will be all right.

It works fine. You can eat what you want and sleep all night—no more walking the floor at three and four o'clock in the morning and suffering from extreme weakness and nervousness all the next day. Bisurated Magnesia is for sale by all druggists in powder or tablet form. Try this plan for three weeks.

RE-ARRANGING MACHINERY.

Changes at the De Laval Plant for Increased Efficiency.

C. H. Hapgood, of New York City, special engineer of the De Laval Company, is in the city on a month's visit to the local plant of the De Laval Company. Mr. Hapgood is planning the plant to give a more efficient arrangement of machinery and increased production.

Meridith K. Leitch, of Poughkeepsie, N.Y., chief mechanical engineer, will be in the cit yon Monday, it is expected.

Biliousness and Liver Diseases

May be the result of Constipation or may exist when the bowels are regular. The Liver is congested often, giving rise to pain under the right shoulder, the complexion is yellow, headache, nausea, loss of appetite, slight fever, distress after eating, sometimes vomiting. Bile does not enter the bowels to digest the fats which decompose, forming gas, irritating the intestinal tract, often producing diarrhoea. A natural Liver Stimulant is required and DR. HENDERSON'S HERB TABLETS taken according to directions not only stimulates, but tones that organ.

Go to Warne's Drug Store, and secure a box, and then watch results. Price 25c, 50c, and $1.00 per box. Each Dollar box contains a Guarantee.

We wish to impress upon the men of Peterboro that Tip Top Clothes are made-to-measure and are sold at $27—no more—no less.

You simply come here, select your cloth, choose your style and have your suit made to your measure as you want it. If it does not fit and satisfy you in every respect you do not need to take it. SATISFACTION GUARANTEED OR MONEY BACK is a part of every order.

Tip Top Tailors are the largest ONE PRICE tailors in the world. There are other tailors who feature a price in their advertisements and in their windows but they have several prices when you get inside their stores.

With a chain of stores from coast to coast, and backed by a large wholesale woollen warehouse and tailoring plant, Tip Top Tailors can make you a suit for $27 that you cannot duplicate elsewhere unless you pay $10 more.

Come to-morrow or Saturday and inspect our value. Representatives from the Tailoring Shops will be here on these two days to take orders and give special attention to customers.

Concerning the August Sale of Furniture which Commences on Monday

There are hundreds of ways of putting on a sale and there are hundreds of reasons, but there is just one way and one reason so far as this store is concerned.

The way we do it is to mark our stocks down—not up and then down. The latter method is sharp business and is not tolerated by this establishment.

The reason for this sale is, that it was started years ago when we first took furniture under our roof and many people look forward to it with enthusiasm. Now it is one of our annual events.

The first advertisement will appear on Saturday and the sale commences on Monday.

The CRESSMAN Company Limited

STUDENTS' SCANDAL PARTY ENDED WITH SOME EXPULSIONS

FRATERNITY DANCE IN SAN FRANCISCO BROUGHT OUT SEPTEMBER MORN.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 29.—The alleged "scandalous party," held recently at the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity houses in Berkeley, participated in by semi-nude men and women students of the University of California, may be the direct cause for revolutionary changes in the housing plans of the University, says the San Francisco Examiner. University officials admit that the Delta Kappa Epsilon incident was the climax to a series of incidents which have placed the University in a precarious position and have been the cause of a huge amount of undesirable publicity.

It is said that with the return of President David P. Barrows from his European trip some radical changes will be made in housing conditions.

Every effort is being made at the University to shield those who participated in the Delta Kappa Epsilon party. Members of the fraternity still in Berkeley say no official action has been taken; that no complaint has been formally made to the fraternity.

According to neighbours who were disturbed by the "party," six men and six women participated. Neighbours say that notwithstanding the fact that the window blinds were open, they could not see all that transpired. One version of the affair was that it was a "strip" poker party.

The stakes of each player comprised the clothing he or she wore, and a run of bad luck meant the player was quickly divested of covering.

A Bacchanalian Riot.

Another version of the affair paints it is a midnight party that ended in a bacchannalian riot of September Morns and semi-nude Dianas in rare interpretations of the esthetic and classical dancing and posing, both solo and en chorus. All are certain, however, that whether it was a "poker party" or a "super dance," the popping of codks was frequent and wine flowed freely.

There is much speculation about the campus as to the participants. It is known that two fraternity men and two sorority women have been asked by President Barrows not to return to the campus.

Why the other eight were not likewise dealt with is a mystery. Four of the women are said to have been cafe entertainers.

Any number of names of the participants may be gleaned, but whether any of them were actually included in the party is a deep secret. University officials declare that President Barrows personally conducted his own investigation, wrote all correspondence in connection with the affair in longhand, and left for the East without making any record.

Plans for a radical change in the housing conditions of the university have been under way for some time. It was first taken into serious consideration at the opening of the fall semester last year, when students were unable to find suitable living quarters in Berkeley because of crowded conditions. During the school year, however, the moral aspect slowly crept into consideration. Various complaints to the Police Department about the activities of the students were made.

Escapades of Students.

Various students were arrested for violating traffic rules. One university girl was sent to the County Jail to serve three days for speeding in an automobile. A sorority girl, married secretly before returning to the university last semester, by her actions caused her husband to attempt to end his life. Various secret marriages of fraternity men and sorority women were made known.

Recently a free love pact between two students was made known. All of which, it is said, has had such a bearing upon the future housing plans at the university that, with the return of President Barrows in August some unexpected changes may be made.

EXPECT 500 CADETS AT PETERBORO CAMP

ALL ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETED FOR THE MUSTER ON AUGUST 23RD.

(Special to The Examiner)

KINGSTON, July 29.—Lieut.-Col. G. H. Gillespie, in command of the cadet corps in Military District No. 3, returned from Peterboro this afternoon and announced that he had made all the necessary arrangements for the holding of a cadet camp at Peterboro. The reports coming in from the school instructors within areas of forty miles of Peterboro are very encouraging, and it is possible that the camp will open August 23rd with 500 lads under canvas.

Haying will then be over and the opportunity for an outing will be much appreciated by many boys. The situation in Kingston is unchanged and there is no prospect of a camp at Barriefield this year. By an agreement with the city the Exhibition Grounds at Peterboro have been secured and all he facilities available will be utilized.

THE CHINK'S LOGIC

Near Shanghai an English sailor on his way to foreigners' burial ground to lay a wreath on the grave of a comrade met a native with a pot of rice.

"Hello, John!" he hailed. "Where are you going with that?"

"I takee put on glave—glave of my flien," said the Chinaman.

"Ho, ho!" laughed the sailor. "And when do you expect your friend to come up and eat it?"

"All time samee your flien come up and smellee your flowers," replied John.—London Opinion.

HOUSEKEEPERS BUY CANNED INSTEAD OF FRESH GREENS

VEGETABLES PLENTY BUT MANY WOMEN PREFER THE EASIEST WAY.

FRUITS ARE STEADY

If the housekeepers would keep out of cans and use fresh vegetables during the summer the prices would come down, a green grocer stated today as he ruefully spread his choice cauliflower on view remarking at the same time that they would probably not sell even at the low price, 15 and 20 cents each. He further pointed out that the canned goods habit was turning the profit into the canners hands and keeping retail prices out of bounds. Time and time again he said housekeepers refuse fresh peas and beans to take a short cut towards preparing a meal by investing in the ready canned vegetables while the fresh, besides being more healthy, plus the cost of cooking, are considerably cheaper. Peas are to-day selling at 10 cents a quart, beans at 3 pounds for 25 cents but even this low price fails to tempt the majority of housekeepers.

Potatoes at 60 Cents.
